To The Wholesale Grocer And Jobbing Trade

As you have doubtless noticed, we have been packing our Matches lately in a very ingeniously constructed Paper Box. If you examine this Box, which is known as a knock down Box, you will find that it is made, cover and all, out of a single piece of paper. It is the invention of our Mr. Millen, and is covered by Canadian Letters Patent, of the 12th of May, 1882, No. 38,938, of which we are the proprietors. The value of this Box for packing matches was recognized as soon as we adopted it, and since then, some of our competitors in business, desiring to profit by our labor and experience, have seen fit to sell their matches packed in boxes of the same construction substantially as those of ours, which are protected by the above Letters Patent. This clearly is an infringement of our Patent Rights, and, if continued, will be stopped. As a word of advice to our friends, and as a warning to our competitors, who are thus infringing upon our Patent Rights, we have decided to give this notice to The Trade.

In Good Shape

We direct the attention of intending purchasers of teas to the present condition of the market. Throughout the season advancing prices have been the rule on all grades, particularly on Japans, Ceylons and Indians. Both foreign and home markets are lightly stocked with desirable lines, and retailers who have delayed making their purchases may find difficulty in getting in at advantageous prices. Devoting, as we do, special attention to teas, and endeavoring always to keep thoroughly posted as to the requirements of the trade, we are fortunate in being well supplied with a complete range, bought at the low points of the market, and are therefore in good shape to offer exceptional value in this commodity. Indications point to a strong and advancing market. Our genial travelers will be pleased to show you samples, and will thoroughly appreciate your kind interest in and attention to the values we offer. Wishing that success may attend your efforts for 1895, and thanking our good friends for our largely increased trade of 1894, we are, yours truly,

NEW YEAR TRADE PROSPECTS.

AS we enter upon the new year we instinctively ask the question : What are its trade prospects ?

This year the question is freighted with more than usual interest. The world has been passing through a financial crisis, and, although Canada has suffered less from this cause than any other country, yet she has suffered.

Nations are, in the concrete, no more independent of each other than are individuals ; and with her foreign customers depressed as they were, Canada could not possibly altogether escape the deleterious influences that emanated from them.

But, in one sense, Canada has really been the gainer by the depression which has affected the world in general and the United States in particular. Her banking institutions and her system of currency have demonstrated their superiority to at least anything on this continent. Capitalists in Europe, as well as those in America, have recognized this fact, and, as far as our banking system is concerned, there is a disposition on the part of the United States to emulate us.

But to return to the question of trade prospects for 1895 : With the conditions as they are to-day THE GROCER can come to no other conclusion than that the outlook augurs a better year than that which has just passed away. And we base our conclusions upon these grounds :

1. We are not likely to pass through a period of tariff torture, neither is the United States.

2. Manufacturers, wholesalers, and retailers are lopping off expense accounts where possible.

3. Manufacturers and wholesalers are deciding upon closer scrutiny of accounts, while retailers are everywhere adopting the cash system.

4. Retailers' liabilities are less than a year ago.

5. The price of grain appears to have touched bottom and is now tending upward.

6. Capitalists are awakening to a realization of the richness of Canada's mining resources, and an era of mining development has set in.

7. New life is being given the lumber trade by the reopening of old mills and the starting of new mills at different points in the Province of Ontario. The lumber industry on the Coast is also improving.

8. The salmon canning industry on the Coast has been fairly good, as far as volume is concerned, and most satisfactory from a value point of view.

To the above may be added cheap money. Money makes the mare go ; and with the needful procurable at a low rate of interest, when good security is offered, the wheels of industry ought to be made go.

THE GROCER does not anticipate a brisk revival of trade during 1895. But it does look for a healthier trade ; and where there is health there will soon be vigor.

REGARDING CUSTOMS DECISIONS.

The United States Customs Department issues a weekly report of rulings in Customs matters. The same ruling therefore prevails at every port in the different States. No importer has an advantage over another.

When Hon. Mr. Wallace took this department in Canada he recognized the importance of uniform rates for all the ports, and gave instructions that copies of all rulings should be sent to every collector of Customs.

This was quickly abandoned, for it became necessary to reverse many of these rulings ; in fact, the department ruled one day and reversed it the next.

This, it has now been learned, is because the acting commissioner is incapable of giving an intelligent decision, and Mr. Wallace has been constantly appealed to for a correct interpretation.

In nearly every case he has reversed the commissioner's decision.

Mr. Wallace's decisions are generally recognized by the trade as right, and are never changed. There is, therefore, no reason why these should not be sent out from time to time so as to secure some uniformity in ratings.

IT WAS AN UNTRUTH.

It was stated in a Toronto paper that John Macdonald & Co., wholesale dry goods, had reduced their employes' wages 25 per cent. There is no truth whatever in the remark. They have not even reduced their staff. Their policy has always been to pay a man all he is worth. When he fails to earn it they replace him with a better man. That perfect confidence exists between the firm and its staff is shown by the fact that if two or three employes are chatting together in a department when a member of the firm comes on the floor, they do not at once separate and hurry off to their work, but they continue their gossip, and are often joined by the member of the firm.

AMERICAN LUMBER IN ONTARIO.

A PECULIAR phase has developed in the lumber trade in Western Ontario lately. The peculiarity in question has been nothing less than the presence on the market of sawn pine from the United States. This lumber was sawn in Michigan from logs originally towed across the lake from Canada.

The lumber in question is understood to have come as far west as London, and to have sold at figures some fifty cents per thousand feet below the price at which it would cost the dealers, say in Toronto, to lay it down there, leaving altogether out of the question the matter of profits.

The quantity of lumber in the mills in the northern part of the Province of Ontario is large. THE GROCER knows of two firms alone that between them are reputed to hold some 38 million feet; but, in view of the improved outlook, they are holding for higher prices. That is one of the reasons why ordinary dealers are being undersold in the Western Ontario market by Michigan mill men.

Those who have been advocates of a re-imposition of an export duty on logs are now saying, "I told you so."

At the same time, it is questionable whether we would see as many mills being started up in Canada by American capital as we now do if the export duty had been re-imposed. But whether we would or not, one thing is certain: there would have been considerable international friction, even if the mills had started up, and that is of all things to be deplored.

RE CUTTING DOWN EXPENSES.

There is a general disposition on the part of business men to begin the New Year by cutting expenses down.

This as far as it goes is all right, but there is a danger of lopping off too many branches.

Every branch that bears fruit should be strengthened and encouraged, and not cut off.

No one would, of course, willingly sever a branch that was productive; but merchants in cutting down expenses have ere this used the pruning knife too freely.

Care is needful in decreasing expenses as well as increasing them.

In cutting down expenses the manufacturer or merchant who proposes to do so, should know the earning power of every man in his employ or piece of machinery in his establishment; also the profitableness or otherwise of every line of goods carried in stock. Unless these things are known the work of cutting down expenses will be more or less haphazard, and it is not wise for a business man to be haphazard, particularly in these days.

Cut down expenses, but be careful. Do not be "penny wise and pound foolish."

THE TRAVELERS' MEETING.

AT the 22nd annual meeting of the Commercial Travelers' Association of Canada, held in Shaftesbury Hall, Toronto, on Friday, Dec. 28th, President C. C. VanNorman occupied the chair. He was supported on the platform by these ex-presidents of the association: Mayor Kennedy, Hugh Blain, James C. Black, A. A. Allan, James Patterson, and John Burns.

The first important matter dealt with by the association was a motion by James C. Black, seconded by C. E. Kyle, to strike out the reference to the beneficiaries in the annual renewal of the life insurance policies. The effect of this is to prevent a member of the association, when he once assigns his policy to one person, from superseding that person by another, except by his will. Previously a member could change his beneficiary every year when he renewed his policy. After a brief discussion, the motion carried.

The old by-law requiring every member to sign the constitution and by-laws when admitted was repealed. Instead of signing the constitution, the members will be sent certificates of membership by the secretary.

An encouraging report for the year was presented by the Board of Directors. According to it the membership of the association is 3,764, an increase in one year of 166. The association was also shown to be flourishing financially. In spite of the heavy payments on account of mortuary and accident claims, the balance carried from profit and loss to permanent reserve amounted to $15,344.36. From the relief fund payments amounting to $540.20 were made to indigent members or families during the year. The sum of $25,806 had been paid over during the year to the families of twenty-nine members who had died, and the sum of $2,556.40 had been paid under the provisions of the accident bonus by-law. The maximum mortuary benefit for 1895 has been continued at $1,200.

The present mortuary certificate form has been changed, so as to do away with the possibility of a member assigning his certificate to his creditors, and subsequently on renewal to his family, thus rendering the association liable for the double amount. At this point of the report some discussion arose. Mr. W. McCabe, with whose assistance the new form was drawn up, explained the system. Instead of the certificate being issued annually it will be superseded by a new form, permanent in its character.

In referring to the death of T. P. Hays, the directors reported that a suitable address of condolence had been sent to his family, expressing the sympathy of the members of the association. The seat at the board thus rendered vacant was filled by the election of Mr. H. Goodman.

After an adjournment for luncheon, Mayor Kennedy addressed the association. He traced its history from its inception to the present time, noting that the Board of Trade and the Toronto Industrial Exhibition Association fully recognized its importance. He commented upon the financial position of the society, and prophesied that the report of 1895 would show a reserve fund of a quarter of a million dollars. In conclusion His Worship moved a resolution of condolence with the families of the twenty-nine members of the association who have died during the past year.

Mr. Spence, a brother of J. D. Spence, who was killed near Newmarket, stated that the insurance company had refused to pay his brother's claim, and consequently he wished the association to guarantee the amount. The directors promised to attend to the matter.

With reference to the statement in the directors' report that "the transportation companies and the association continue to work in accord in affording facilities for increased development of the trade resources of the Dominion," Mr. Hopwood said that the railway companies should give better rates and more attention to the travelers. The matter was dropped at this point.

Allan, Graham and VanNorman were appointed representatives on the Industrial Exhibition Board, and Wm. Anderson and Wm. Badenach were re-elected auditors.

C. C. VanNorman, the retiring president, was requested to sit for an oil portrait, to be hung in the rooms of the association, and the Board of Management were instructed to procure a suitable testimonial to be presented to him for the services he had rendered.

Messrs. Allan & Patterson addressed the meeting, urging the adoption of some scheme for the relief of aged and worn out travelers.

A resolution of sympathy with the widow and family of the late Premier was passed.

At the evening session Mr. Bedlington, the recording secretary, moved, seconded by H. Lamont, "that the Board of Management during the coming year make enquiries and conduct negotiations with a view to federating with all sister benefit associations." The Montreal association was the one chiefly aimed at in the resolution, Mr. Bedlington holding that union with that association would add great weight to this association in its negotiations with the railway authorities. The motion carried.

Mr. Haywood moved that at the meeting for nomination of officers and directors for 1896 all candidates must either be present and personally accept nomination, or have in the hands of the secretary a written consent to accept such nomination. The motion carried.

The retirement of E. A. Dal'ey, of Hamilton, after nineteen years' service on the Board of Management, was greatly regretted, and the directors were instructed to present to Mr. Dalley an address, suitably engrossed, expressing the feeling of the association.

A. A. Allan, T. M. Bayne, Joseph Bonnick, Warring Kennedy, James C. Black, C. C. VanNorman, Hugh Blain, William McCabe, C. H. Murdock, and Joseph Taylor were appointed a committee to associate with a committee from the board to formulate some scheme of relief for old and indigent members of the association. Mr. McCabe thought that it would be difficult to successfully carry out such a scheme without a substantial contribution from the association.

The report of the scrutineers was as follows: R. H. Gray, president; R. J. Orr, first vice-president; C. E. Kyle, second vice-president.

Directors of the Toronto Board—Joseph Taylor, John Burns, R. H. Cosby, E. E. Starr, John Muldrew, H. Goodman, J. H. Devaney, C. H. Murdock and Alex. Hart.

Directors of the Hamilton Board—W. Bremner, W. E. La Chance, James Hooper, J. H. Herring, G. A. Black and W. G. Reid.

The session adjourned after singing the National Anthem.

WILL SUGAR GO LOWER?

"I THINK sugar is about as near bottom as it will go at present," said a Montreal sugar broker to THE GROCER on Monday last.

The remark was occasioned by some conversation over last Wednesday's decline in refiners' prices. Many in the trade in Montreal express the wish that the remark will come true, and on the face of it a decline of almost $\frac{3}{4}$ c. in less than three months would lead any one to infer that the above assumption was sound enough.

It is difficult, however, under present conditions, for any prediction to be made about the sugar market. The domestic manufacturers have expressed their determination to fight the competition of German sugar, so that whether prices will go lower or not depends entirely on the action that salesmen of the latter will take.

One would ordinarily suppose that, allowing for cost of manufacture, etc., and duty charges, the prices they are offering it at must be pretty near bed rock. It is evident, however, that any opinion formed in this connection is pure conjecture, for, after the frequent declines that have taken place this fall, no one but the German makers themselves can definitely settle the problem.

At their present price, domestic refiners state that there is little or no margin for them, but, all the same, that they are in the game to the end. Under these circumstances, irregularity in sugar is not only natural, but to be expected.

WITH THE RETAILERS.

Mrs. B. W. Nicklin, of Acton, has decided to retire from business and has disposed of her stock of groceries and crockery, and leased her store to A. L. Hemstreet, of Trafalgar. Mr. Hemstreet takes possession about the 15th January. His previous residence of several years in Acton, says The Free Press, won him many friends, who will be glad to welcome him again as a citizen.

H. Wilson & Son, of Markham, carry an immense stock of fancy goods, and their store has become known as the "Santa Claus House." Their business last year increased in spite of the general trade quietude, and during Christmas week their store was crowded from morning till night, while their cash sales exceeded all previous years. In addition to a full line of groceries, the firm also carries large stocks of millinery, dry goods, men's hats, furnishings, wall paper, etc.

James E. Powell, who for years has kept a grocery, boot and shoe store at Blenheim, Ont., has been arrested on a charge of arson. He is suspected of having set fire to his store on Saturday, Dec. 29, and again on Sunday, Dec. 30. His brother-in-law, Joseph Crompton, is also under arrest. The authorities are now looking for James Francis Powell, the 19 year old son of the storekeeper, who is said to have left his home suddenly about the time of the fires. The store was not much damaged.

UNDELIVERED POSTAL PARCELS.

A circular has been issued to Customs collectors in the Dominion stating that by the postal union treaty the post-office authorities of the Dominion are bound to return to the sending country all parcels which they are unable to deliver in Canada. The Customs Department has, therefore, been requested to cause the return of such packages through the post-offices from which they are received by the various collectors. Collectors have accordingly been instructed to return to the postmasters at their several ports all postal parcels not called for within 30 days from the date of the receipt at the collector's office.

MONEY AND STOCKS.

BUSINESS on the Toronto stock market continues to be interfered with by the holiday season. Ontario Bank is still the stock most talked about, even if it is not the strongest on the list. In fact, it is still the weakest among bank stocks, further declines having taken place. Saturday last it was quoted at 92 asked and 86 $\frac{1}{4}$ bid, while the week before 94 and 92 represented the respective figures. Quite a drop, isn't it?

As already intimated, one of the causes of the weakness in Ontario Bank stock was ascribed to the fact that the bank was likely to be a loser by the liquidation of a certain firm, one of whose members was a high official on the Ontario's directorate. The firm in question has gone into liquidation, and I have been assured that the Ontario Bank's interest is comparatively small, most of the firm's business being transacted with two other banks, and who, whatever the firm's liabilities to the banks may be, bear the greater portion of them. "Ontario Bank is all right," said an official to me, whom I ran against on the street. "Why, take the earnings to the capital and rest, and they are equally as good as some of the banks whose stock is strong on the market. Of course, our directors' liabilities are large, but this will be reduced; they will have to do it." "Oh, part of the trouble seems to be dissatisfaction with the management," remarked a leading broker, whom I queried.

Toronto Street Railway shares continue to attract traders. There has been a further increase in strength—and demand is a little better. Monday last there were sales at 60 $\frac{1}{2}$, while two weeks ago sellers were quoted at 58 and buyers at 55. The stock is now back to within 4 $\frac{1}{2}$ points of where it was before the boodle enquiry caused it to slump.

Insurance stocks are still the most active stocks on the Toronto market, and some of them have advanced materially. By-the-by, is it not a good sign of the times to see insurance companies' losses growing less and their shares in consequence appreciating? I take it to be, at any rate, for is it not an axiom that hard times and increasing fire losses go hand in hand?

There is a good demand for investment stocks, except those of loan companies, on the Toronto Stock Exchange. The exceptions, it is scarcely necessary to note, have not been in favor for some time.

The money market is quiet. Call loans on demand are quoted at 4 per cent, and commercial discounts at 6 to 7 per cent, according to nature of security.

"If Ontario Bank stock is going down Cockburn is buying up all he can," said a friend of mine. The Cockburn in question is the member for Centre Toronto in the House of Commons, and is prominently connected with the bank. ARGUROS.

OUR LEADING RETAILERS.

J. W. MOORE.

J. W. MOORE is one of the successful business men of Peterborough, and enjoys a good trade, his customers being drawn from both town and country. He began business in 1891, and, being widely and favorably known, at once had the satisfaction of seeing his store well patronized. His energy and ability, combined with good management, have made him successful. His motto is the old one, so seldom lived up to: "The best goods at reasonable prices." Besides this, he gave unceasing attention to details. Mr. Moore believes thoroughly in the maxim, to trust nothing to others that he can do himself; and the application of this is seen in his success. As regular as the sun rises, he is at his store, and his genial manner has won the confidence of the consuming public of Peterborough and a goodly share of its patronage.

While Mr. Moore is well known as a successful grocer, it is in other lines that he has done some of his best work. In 1877 he foresaw that the manufacture of cheese would increase, and eventually become one of the principal industries. Accordingly, in the year mentioned he organized the North Smith cheese factory. At that time there were only three cheese factories in the country. He carried on operations for two years, and then sold out his interest, moving to the adjoining village of Lakefield, where he started the Lakefield factory. This was at once a success, and Mr. Moore handled it until he removed to Peterborough. Ten years ago he was the means of organizing the Cheesemakers' Association of the counties of Peterborough and Victoria, and was president of the association for seven years. Of course, with his wide experience in dairying, Mr. Moore has become an authority on cheese matters. He carries in his store a fine stock of dairying supplies, and is quick to introduce the latest improvements in appliances as they are brought out.

In 1893 Mr. Moore admitted as a partner in his grocery business Mr. C. H. Moore, a relative, who brought additional experience in the grocery line and the support of a wide circle of friends to advance the business. In all respects he makes, in the race track parlance, a good running mate.

MUST BE A GENTLEMAN.

At the supper given by the Traveling Men's Association, says The Hub, a number of speeches were delivered by well-known manufacturers, and much advice—good, bad and indifferent—was given to the traveling salesmen. We say good, bad and indifferent, because of the fact that in some cases there was an attempt to lay down some law of action which is impossible, and therefore bad, if attempted.

The keynote was sounded by one speaker when he said the salesman "must be a gentleman," while others spoke of the importance of persistent hard work and honest dealings; but none of the speakers, who are all well-known manufacturers, touched upon the buyer; he, more than any other man, is the cause of discontent and loss to the traveler. Like the latter, he is in most cases a salaried employe, and too often he is a man who feels the importance of his situation, and when the proprietor turns over the traveler to him, he indulges in freaks of power quite pleasing to himself, but most decidedly disagreeable, and too often unprofitable, to the salesman. The proprietor may be a gentleman, and he may honestly turn the salesman over to his buyer with the feeling that the man of the road will be well attended to. In some cases he is, but in far too many the buyer is overbearing in his manner, unjust in his remarks, and careless as to the salesman's time. The buyer is an autocrat; he has the ear of the head of the house, and his statements must be believed. The salesman, on the other hand, has his employer to look to, and to him he can report his experiences; but complaints from him travel a long way before they reach the goal, and when they do, the salesman is at a disadvantage.

J. W. MOORE.

If it is important that the traveler be a gentleman, it is equally important that the buyer be one also, and the house that em-plays a buyer should not be above listening to complaints regarding him. A gentlemanly buyer will always be respected by the traveler, and there will be no wasted time on either side; but, if the salesman knows that the buyer will put him off to a more convenient time, or will neglect to respect the latter's situation, he is not likely to be in the best of humor after a long and unnecessary wait. Let the buyer, whether one of the firm or a salaried man, show by his example that he is considerate of the man who travels miles to see him, and who must work quickly that he may do justice to him. If and his employer, and he will find little cause for complaining regarding the man of the road. When complaints arise, the man who acts as buyer, as well as he who acts as seller, should be heard, and both be put upon the same level as to conduct and responsibility. Don't refuse to believe that your buyer can be ungentlemanly, or that he will strive to drive a sharp bargain simply because he is capable. You may rest assured that if a man has an unsavory reputation among traveling salesmen, there is a cause, and he, not they, is to blame. Be just as exacting regarding the character of the buyer as you are of the man on the road, and you will find the latter ever ready to treat him gentlemanly and to deal honestly.

GOING INTO LIQUIDATION.

The long-established grain firm of W. P. Howland & Co., of which Sir W. P. Howland, K.C.M.G., is the senior partner, is to be wound up. The firm has always been regarded as the leading grain house in Toronto, and some time ago showed a surplus to the good of $180,000. Two years ago the late W. H. Howland began the winding-up proceedings; but his death put a stop to them. The father, now well up in years, is left to complete the work of liquidation. A good surplus is looked for after payment of all debts.

A. E. Kemp, oyster expert for the Fisheries Department, has just completed his season's work in the Maritime Provinces.

In the early part of the season Mr. Kemp was busily engaged in completing the beds at Shediac, N.B. At this point thousands of young oysters have been planted. From July onward until a few days ago Mr. Kemp was at work on a new oyster bed at Tracadie, in Antigonish county.

The annual dinner of the Hamilton Commercial Travelers' Association, which takes the place of the usual ball, at the Royal Hotel, on Friday night, was largely attended. Mr. Harry Wright presided, and Ald. W. G. Reid and Mr. J. H. Herring were in the vice-chairs. The toast list was brightened by an excellent musical programme. Regrets were received from a number of Toronto travelers who were unable to be present.

Judge Edward Elliot, of London, has made an important decision affecting the assessment of insurance companies. The companies interested in this case were the Sun Life, the Standard Life, and the London and Lancashire Life. They were assessed on a total income of $12,500, but contended before the Court of Revision that they should only pay taxes on the balance of receipts over expenditures, which amounted only to $2,393.63. Their claim was disallowed, and they appealed to Judge Elliot, who decided against them and in favor of the city. The insurance companies will make a test case of it in a higher court.

A HANDSOME POULTRY DISPLAY.

Probably the best display of poultry in the city of Toronto during the holiday season was that of Robert Barron, the well-known retail grocer of Yonge street. But whether it was the best or not, it was an excellent display, as will be gathered from the accompanying illustration. Judging from Mr. Barron's attitude as he stands at the door, he is not ashamed of the magnitude or the arrangement of the exhibit.

GUELPH SOAP WORKS.

These works were established in 1883, and under efficient management its trade has grown and developed, until its goods are now sold over the best part of western On-known brands are "Silver Star," "Royal City," and "Genuine Electric." They also do a considerable business in toilet soaps. Mr. A. Linton, the proprietor, recognises the fact that merit will always win, and upon this well-known maxim all business is conducted.

FOUR MONTHS OF THE NEW TARIFF.

The first six months of the current fiscal year, four months of which have come under the operation of the new United States tariff law, give some indications of what may reasonably be expected in the months to come after the tariff law has become effective in all its multitudinous details.

A Washington despatch says that the receipts for the six months have aggregated $159,500,000, and the expenditures in the same time have been $185,000,000, an excess of expenditures over receipts of $28,- receipts. Nothing, of course, has been received from the income tax, which did not go into effect until January 1, 1895. An annual revenue of $55,000,000 or more, it is anticipated, will eventually be derived from these two sources, which will bring the receipts for the balance of the fiscal year up to Secretary Carlisle's estimate, as submitted to Congress. The December receipts show an increase over November of $2,000,000, and November showed a slight increase over October, indicating that business is adjusting itself to settled tariff rates.

Of the receipts for December, $11,250,000 came from Customs duties, an increase of $1,000,000 over the November receipts from this source. The expenditures for December were $5,000,000 less than for November.

Against this gratifying exhibit, says the despatch in question, is to be set off the fact that the gold reserve continues to de-tario. The premises occupied comprise two floors, each 30 x 70 feet, situated on Waterloo street, and are well adapted for the business. The range of production comprises soaps in which no deleterious or harmful ingredients are allowed to enter. The best 500,000. For the corresponding period of the last fiscal year the excess of expenditures over receipts was $38,000,000. Less than $2,500,000 has been received from the newly imposed duty on sugar, which first appears in any appreciable amount in this month's cline. At the close of business in the Treasury to-day it stood at $86,319,528, implying a loss of $500,000 for the day, and a total loss since the gold reserve was recouped by the last issue of bonds of nearly $26,000,000.

TORONTO - - ONTARIO

DAMAGE TO THE ORANGE CROP.

REPORTS reached New York on Monday that the Florida orange and pineapple crops had suffered severe damage from the excessive cold weather during the past three days. Telegrams from the various producing districts vary to some extent, but the import of all is that the crop now in the state has suffered considerably.

One of the largest receivers spoke as follows to The Journal of Commerce: "Reports from Florida bring the news that the recent severe cold weather certainly did serious injury to the crop of oranges remaining on the trees. The total crop this year was estimated at fully 5,000,000 boxes, of which up to this time probably 2,000,000 boxes had been shipped out of that state, so 3,000,000 boxes have been more or less damaged.

"Telegrams to prominent receivers fully confirm the first reports received in this market, but it will be several days before any definite news can be obtained. Still, as the temperature on Saturday morning was 14 degrees above zero, and a hundred miles to the south right in the heart of the principal producing district it was only 18 degrees above zero, no one can doubt for a moment but what the fruit has suffered.

"The first effect undoubtedly will be heavy receipts here. Many growers will rush fruit to market on the principle of something obtained is better than nothing. Such a course is a positive calamity to everyone interested in this extensive trade, but naturally to none as much as to the growers themselves.

"Transportation companies, receivers here, auctioneers and every one connected with the business will feel the effects of this serious loss.

"It will undoubtedly aid the growers of oranges in California, where some 2,000,000 boxes will be produced this season. It also will help the Mediterranean oranges, because the consumption of this fruit is something enormous, and if it cannot be obtained in Florida it must be supplied from other parts of the world.

"The Florida orange stands at the head, because it commands a higher price than any other orange produced in other parts of the world, and our people will be deprived of this extra fine fruit.

"The temperature on Sunday was above the freezing point all over Florida, and on Monday ranged from 42 degrees upward, but the damage was done between Friday night and Sunday morning; a period quite long enough to do immense damage, not only to the fruit on the trees but to all the young trees as well.

"The effect has been at once felt here in the higher prices demanded by holders, and numerous telegrams from Florida instruct agents to hold the fruit."

MARKETS AND MARKET NOTES

TORONTO MARKETS.

TORONTO, Jan. 3, 1895.

GROCERIES.

TRADE during the past week has been as near a standstill as it well could be. The travelers, most of whom had been in the houses the best part of two weeks, took their respective routes on Wednesday, and a better movement will, of course, be the result. There have been no changes in prices during the week. Sugar is still weak, with tea and foreign dried fruits, such as currants, raisins and prunes, firm. For the little Malaga fruit that is still to be found on the market, the trade is willing to take lower prices now that the holiday trade is over. The wholesale houses are busy giving the last finishes to stock-taking.

CANNED GOODS.

Business in canned goods remains much as before, both in regard to prices and volume of business. We quote: Tomatoes and corn, 85 to 90c.; peas, 80 to 85c.; peaches, $2.75 to $3 for 3's, $1.75 to $1.90 for 2's; raspberries, $1.65 to $1.80; strawberries, $1 to $2.10; apples, 3's, $1 to $1.10, gallons $2.20 to $2.65, and preserved fancy quarters at $1.35 to $1.40; salmon, $1.30 to $1.35 for good red fish in tall tins, and $1.50 to $1.60 in flat tins; do., second quality, $1.20 to $1.25; canned mackerel, $1 to $1.10; lobsters, $1.70 to $2 for tall tins, and $2.25 to $2.75 for flat tins.

COFFEES.

Market remains quiet and unchanged. We quote green, in bags, as follows: Rio, 20 to 21½c.; East Indian, 27 to 30c.; South American, 21 to 23c.; Santos, 21½ to 22½c.; Java, 30 to 32c.; Mocha, 27 to 28c.; Maracaibo, 21 to 23c.; Jamaica, 21 to 22c.

RICE.

There is nothing new to note, business being just of the ordinary character. We quote: "B," 3½ to 3¾c.; extra Japan, 5¼ to 5¾c.; imported Japan, 5¼ to 6¼c.; tapioca, pearl, 4½ to 5c.

SPICES.

Business is quiet and featureless. We quote: Pure black pepper, 10 to 12c.; pure white, 18 to 25c.; pure Jamaica ginger, 25 to 27c.; cloves, 25 to 30c.; pure mixed spice, 25 to 30c.; cream of tartar, 20 to 25c. per lb.

NUTS.

There are only a few odd small lots going out. Most of the houses are cleaned out of walnuts except the Bordeaux kind. We quote as follows: Brazil nuts, 11 to 11½c.; Sicily shelled almonds, 25 to 26c.; Tarragona almonds, 14 to 14½c.; peanuts, 10 to 12c. for roasted and 7 to 10c. for green; cocoanuts, $4.50 to $5 persack; Grenoble walnuts, 15 to 16c.; Marbot walnuts, 12½ to 14c.; Bordeaux walnuts, 12 to 13c.; Sicily filberts, 9 to 10c. for sacks and 10½ to 11c. for small lots; pecans, 10½ to 11c.

SUGAR.

The market is dull and weak, with last week's quotations nominally unchanged. We quote as follows: Granulated—Canadian, 3½ to 4c.; German, 3¾ to 3¾c.; yellows, 3¾ to 3¾c. Raws—Muscavado, 3c.; Demerara, 2½ to 3c. for dark; 3½ to 3½c. for bright, and 3½ to 3¾c. for light.

SYRUPS.

Business remains quiet at unchanged prices. We quote: Dark, 25c.; medium, 28 to 30c.; bright, 35 to 40c.; very bright, 45 to 50c.

MOLASSES.

There are no changes to report. We quote as follows: New Orleans, barrels, 26 to 28c.; half-barrels, 30½ to 32c.; Barbadoes, barrels, 28 to 32c.; half-barrels, 30 to 34c.

TEAS.

The feature of the past week has been the presence on the market of American buyers in search of Japan tea, the scarcity of which in New York has already been noted in THE GROCER. They wanted all grades; but we have heard of no transactions taking place. We quote ruling prices on the Toronto market as follows: Young Hysons, 12 to 18c. for low grade; 24 to 27c. for mediums, and 30 to 45c. for high grades; China Cougous, 14 to 18c. for mediums and 35 to 55c. for high grades; Japans, 16 to 20c. for mediums; 28 to 35c. for high grades; Indians and Ceylons, 18 to 22c. for mediums and 30 to 45c. for high grades.

DRIED FRUITS.

Valencia raisins are in steady demand at unchanged prices. We quote good fruit: Off-stalk, 4 to 4¼c.; fine off-stalk, 4½ to 5c.; selected, 5½ to 6c.; layers, 6 to 6½c. We quote California loose muscatels at 5½ to 6½c.

The season is now about over for Malaga raisins, and for the few that are still on the market we quote lower prices. We quote: London layers, $2 to $2.25; black baskets, $2.90 to $3; blue baskets, $4 to $4.75; extra dessert clusters, $4; connoisseur clusters, $2.65 to $2.90; quarter flat connoisseur clusters, 90c. to $1.15; Royal Buckingham, $4.50 to $5.

Sultana raisins are in fair demand at unchanged prices. Quotations are: Ordinary, $4\frac{3}{4}$ to $5\frac{1}{4}$ c.; good, $5\frac{1}{2}$ to 6c.; fine, $6\frac{1}{2}$ to 7c.; finest, 8 to 9c.

At the time of writing nothing had been seen of the first direct shipment of new Bosnia prunes which was expected to reach this market the first week in January. Turkish prunes to arrive are still being quoted as follows: Sphinx, B., $6\frac{3}{4}$ to $7\frac{1}{2}$ c.; U., $5\frac{1}{2}$ to 6c.; Atlas, B., $5\frac{3}{4}$ to $6\frac{1}{2}$ c.; D., $5\frac{1}{2}$ to $5\frac{3}{4}$ c. French prunes on spot we quote as follows: E., $4\frac{1}{2}$ c.; D., 5c.; C., 6c.; B., 7c.

Currants are quiet and firm. A letter to George Stanway & Co. from Patras, under date of Dec. 13, states that the Greek Chamber has accepted, in principle, a scheme for the State to withdraw from consumption the surplus currants of the production of 1894. Quotations on the Toronto market are still as follows: Filiatras, half barrels, 4 to $4\frac{1}{2}$ c., barrels, $4\frac{1}{8}$ c.; fine Filiatras, half barrels, $4\frac{3}{4}$ c., barrels $4\frac{3}{8}$ c.; Patras, $5\frac{1}{2}$ in cases; Casalinas, $5\frac{1}{2}$ to 6c.; Vostizzas, $6\frac{1}{2}$ to $7\frac{1}{2}$ c. in cases and half cases; Panartes, 8 to $8\frac{1}{2}$ c.

Figs are in moderate demand, for the season, at prices much as before. We quote: 14 oz., 8 to 9c.; 10 lb., 8 to 10c.; 18 lb., 12c.; 28 lb., 15c.; taps, $4\frac{1}{4}$ to $4\frac{1}{2}$ c.; naturals, 6 to 7c.

BUTTER AND CHEESE.

Summer tub butter is practically unsalable. We hear of one lot offered at 8c. which was not taken. One dealer ventured the opinion that 5 to 6c. is about the price at which it will ultimately sell. Deliveries of large roll butter are free, and demand is now principally for this article. All other kinds are neglected, for even the bakers are drawing their supplies mainly from the large rolls that are not suitable for table use. There is a good demand for dairy pound rolls, but the quality does not run uniform. Summer made creamery tub butter is selling down as low as 10c., but the winter made article is steady at fair prices. We quote jobbing prices: Dairy—Choice tubs, selections, $15\frac{1}{2}$ to 16c.; low grade, 10 to 12c.;

fresh pound rolls, 16 to 18c.; large rolls, 14 to 15c. Creamery—Tubs, summer makes, 10 to 15c.; winter makes, 21 to 22c.; pound prints, 21 to 23c.

Cheese is quiet and steady. We still quote in small lots: August and September makes, $10\frac{1}{2}$ to 11c., and half sizes at 11 to $11\frac{1}{2}$ c. Small Stiltons are quoted at 12 to $12\frac{1}{2}$ c.

GREEN FRUIT.

Stocks have been cleaned out by the holiday trade, and the demand is now less. Lemons are much weaker, demand not having been as good as anticipated, although an improvement is looked for with the cold weather. The cranberry market has been brisk, with stocks light. Apples have been in good demand on account of the lower prices. We quote: Lemons—Floridas, 150's to 176's, \$3 to \$3.50 per box; Messinas, \$3 to \$3.50. Oranges—Floridas, \$2.50 to \$3; Valencias, \$4.25 to \$4.50; mandarins, \$2.75 to \$3 per half box; tangerines, \$2.25 to \$2.50 per half box; grape fruit, \$4 to \$4.50 per box. Bananas, \$1.25 to \$1.75 for firsts and seconds. Apples, winter fruit, \$2.50 to \$3 per bbl.; fall fruit, \$1.75 to \$2. Grapes—Malagas, \$5.50 to \$6.50 per keg. Cranberries, Jerseys, \$12.50 to \$13 per bbl. and \$4 per box. California dried fruit—Apricots, $12\frac{1}{2}$ c.; peaches, $12\frac{1}{2}$ to 13c.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

BEANS—Business continues quiet at $1.40 to $1.50 for choice hand-picked and $1.20 to $1.35 for medium.

DRIED APPLES—There is not much doing, and prices are much as before, jobbers getting 5 to $5\frac{1}{2}$ c.

EVAPORATED APPLES—Are quoted at $7\frac{1}{8}$ c.

ONIONS—Unchanged. We quote: Domestic, 70 to 80c. per bag, and 70 to 75c. per crate; Spanish, 80 to 90c. per small crate, $2 per large crate; Valencia, $2.50 to $2.75 per case.

HONEY—Quiet. We quote: Strained, in bulk, 9c.; comb, 14c.

POTATOES—Are much as before, 45c. being quoted on track and 53 to 55 out of store.

POULTRY—Very little on the market. Prices given for small amount of stock obtainable: Turkeys, 9 to 10c.; geese, 6 to $7\frac{1}{2}$ c.; chickens, 25 to 65c. per pair; ducks, 35 to 70c.

EGGS—Prices show some appreciation in pickled eggs, stocks having been pretty well cleaned up. Cold storage eggs are still selling at low prices, while strictly new laid are steady and in demand. We quote: Held and cold stored, 10 to 15c., according to quality; pickled, 14c.; new laid, 18 to 20c.; limed, 14 to 15c.

FISH AND OYSTERS.

Trout, whitefish, and sea fish are coming in nicely, but the demand is light. Oysters are in good demand and steady, and there are indications that they will be higher. We quote: Salmon trout, $6\frac{1}{2}$ to 7c.; white fish, $6\frac{1}{2}$ to 7c.; skinned and boned cod fish, $6\frac{1}{2}$ c.; boneless fish, $3\frac{1}{2}$ to 4c.; market cod, 4 to 5c.; tommy cod, \$1.50; steak cod, 5 to 7c.; haddock, 4 to 5c.; Labrador herring, \$2.50 per half keg and \$5.50 to \$5.75 per barrel; ditto, split, \$2.75; fresh water salt herring, \$3.25 per bbl.; blue-back herring, 4c.; blue pickerel, 4 to 5c. lb.; yellow ditto, 6 to 7c. per lb.; mackerel, 13c. each; pike, 5c. lb.; cod, 6c. per lb.; finnan haddies, $5\frac{1}{2}$ to $6\frac{1}{2}$ c.; Digby herring, in bundles of 5 boxes, 13c.; ditto, lengthwise, 12c.; large halibut, 10 to 13c.; ciscoes, \$1.35 to \$1.40. Oysters, \$1.20 to \$1.25 per gallon; select, \$1.60.

PROVISIONS AND DRESSED HOGS.

There is still a good deal of long clear and barrel pork going out to the lumber camps, but business in smoked meats is quiet. Receipts of dressed hogs are light and prices steady at $5.10.

BACON—Long clear, 7c. for carload lots, $7\frac{1}{4}$ c. for ton lots and $7\frac{1}{2}$ c. for small lots; breakfast bacon, 10 to $10\frac{1}{2}$ c.; rolls, 8 to $8\frac{1}{4}$ c.

HAMS—Large, 22 lbs. and over, 9c.; medium, 15 to 20 lbs., 10c.; small hams, $10\frac{1}{2}$ c.; pickled, 9 to $9\frac{1}{2}$ c.

LARD—Pure Canadian, tierces, 8c.; tubs, $8\frac{1}{2}$ c.; pails, $8\frac{3}{4}$ c.

BARREL PORK—Canadian heavy mess, $15 to $15.50; Canadian short-cut, $15.25 to $15.75; shoulder mess, $12.50 to $13; clear mess, $13 to $13.25.

SALT.

Business in job lots has been a little better the past week, while large lots are moving slowly. We quote: Barrels, 90c.; coarse sacks, 56c. fine sacks, 60c.; dairy, $1.50; rock, $9.

SEEDS.

HIDES—There is a demand for hides and the market is steady. Local dealers quote 4½ to 4¾c. for cured and 4c. for green.

SHEEPSKINS—Are in good demand and 5c. higher. Local dealers are paying 65 to 70c. for choice skins. Calfskins are dull and prices nominal at 6c. for No. 1 and 4c. for No. 2.

TALLOW—There is a large quantity offering, and the market is easy. Local dealers are paying 5½c. and selling at 5¾c.

WOOL—There is none offering, and prices are nominal. Local dealers are paying 18 to 18½c. for the little brought in by the farmers, and selling at from 19 to 21c. In pulled wools the market is dull. Supers are quoted at 18 to 19c., and extras at 20 to 21c. There is no demand in foreign wools.

PETROLEUM.

There is still a fair volume of business doing at unchanged prices. We quote, in 5 to 10 bbl. lots, imperial gallon Toronto : Canadian, 11½ to 12c.; carbon safety, 16c.; Canadian water white, 16c.; American water white, 17½c.; photogene, 19c.

MARKET NOTES.

Another shipment of syrup in three gallon packages is to hand with Davidson & Hay.

Clemes Bros. have received a shipment of shelled walnuts. These are scarce goods on this market.

Lucas, Steele & Bristol are said to have choice value in Ceylon teas, 18 to 20c., and again at 30 to 35c.

D. Gunn, Flavell & Co. report that their receipts of large roll butter have been very large during the past week or so.

The holiday number of The Grocery World, Philadelphia, is one of the most complete and interesting of the season.

Clemes Bros. have received this direct advice from Florida: "Entire Florida orange crop frozen; none en route and none to offer."

The Christmas number of The Maritime Grocer, just to hand, is a handsome issue. It is nicely illustrated and contains some interesting news notes.

The Eby, Blain Co. report that they are offering special value in fresh water herring and trout. The firm has to hand a consignment of finnan haddies in flat tins. "They are heavier and finer fish than any that have been seen on this market," said a member of the firm, "and will be guaranteed." For further information the attention of the trade is directed to the firm's advertisement.

The Eby, Blain Co. has received another consignment of Orient tea in all sizes, namely, ½-lb., 1-lb., and 5-lb. caddies.

James A. Skinner & Co are showing great value in a cheap dinner set, the "Aberdeen."

Take a look at W. H. Gillard & Co.'s advertisement if you think your tea stock is low.

Cutting's silver prunes are said to be beautiful goods, and James Turner & Co. are selling them.

New prunes are offered by W. H. Gillard & Co. at what are said to be tempting prices.

Wm. Paterson & Son intend placing two new lines of biscuits on the market about the middle of January. Ad. will appear later.

"In syrups and molasses we have a big stock well bought, and will sell cheap," write Lucas, Steele & Bristol. "See our samples before buying."

For the first time this year Wm. Paterson & Son draw the attention of the trade to their cough drops, put up in decorated tins, bottles, or sealed packages.

In Japan teas, Lucas, Steele & Bristol claim to have extra values. Their stock is large, and consists of early teas, which they are selling at old figures.

The strongest line in the grocery trade today is tea, and with higher prices certain in the near future the early buyer will do the best. W. H. Gillard & Co. are said to be offering fine value.

"Our stock of China teas at 16 to 18c., and again at 25 to 30c., was never so attractive," say Lucas, Steele & Bristol. "Always pleased to mail samples."

"We have the largest and best assorted stock of teas we ever had," write T. B. Escott & Co., "and have inaugurated for January a special sale to reduce stock."

Davidson & Hay are receiving many highly complimentary reports from those who have used Kurma tea, which this firm has recently put on the market in new and attractive packages.

Rose & Laflamme invite the special attention of the trade to the "Ostrich" brand of prunes which they are advertising on page 3, this issue. This prune is claimed to be the cleanest, sweetest and blackest on the market.

"Our travelers are going out happy, having spent the holidays most enjoyably," write James Turner & Co; "further, they feel good, knowing the splendid values they have to show the boys in Cutting's brand of California dried fruits; also special value in Labrador herrings and Lake Superior salmon trout."

Walker & Son, Guelph, last week shipped 3 cars Florida oranges. When THE GROCER'S representative called on them they were so busy that they had to put one hand in the till to pay their subscription while the other hand held the hammer ready to tack addresses on orange boxes, etc., for their customers.

"A number of orders have been placed in Liverpool to-day," said Mr. Watt, of J. L. Watt & Scott, on Monday, "for Valencia oranges, as the market there is rather favorable to importation, but the buying was principally influenced by the telegraphic reports received there to the effect that the entire Florida crop of oranges had been frozen on the trees."

The British Tea and Trading Association, 118 Southwark street, London, Eng., desires us to say: That if every retailer will send a list of his customers and his own address to the London house, or to THE CANADIAN GROCER, they will forward in his name a sample of Blue Cross teas to every customer, and regularly forward the retailer every month direct from London a book from the extensive Blue Cross library. Take advantage of this.

Reports by mail from New Orleans report the sugar market quiet, though receipts found buyers. Molasses firm for both open kettle and centrifugal goods, but not much demand. Receipts fell off somewhat. There was an improvement in the tone of the rice market toward the end of the week. The movement of clean is not large, and only moderate transactions are reported in rough rice. The receipts are large, but prices are well maintained.—Planter.

MONTREAL MARKETS.

MONTREAL, Jan. 3, 1895.
GROCERIES.

THE wholesale grocery trade is devoid of any striking feature. The only important occurrence since last writing was the decline of ¼c. on Wednesday last in the refiners' price of granulated and yellow sugars, and prices from refiners are now in accordance with the above decline. In other lines dulness has been the rule, and as a result there is little or nothing to report. Tea continues without feature. Canned goods are the same, and though there has been some jobbing enquiry for dried fruit for actual wants, the movement is of no great account. Coffee, spices and nuts are governed by much the same conditions, except that there is the usual holiday enquiry for the latter.

SUGAR.

The sugar market in a large sense is an exceedingly quiet one, there being little or no demand from jobbers. On Wednesday last refiners advised their patrons of another decline of ¼c. in granulated, and this was followed on Thursday by a similar decline in yellows. Refiners' prices on granulated are therefore 3¼c. and yellows 2½ to 3¼c., as to quality, at the factory. The jobbing demand is of moderate volume, but wholesalers at present are doing some business at ¼c. advance on the above basis.

SYRUPS.

The tone of the syrup market is firm, as already noted. In fact, sales of some good sized lots have been made at a rather higher range. We now quote at the factory: 2 to 2¼c. on bright grades and 1¼ to 1½c. on darker descriptions. American syrup has met some demand in wholesale parcels at 20 to 21c.

MOLASSES.

The firm tone that we noted last week on Barbadoes molasses is, if anything, accentuated. Sales of 25 bbl. lots have occurred at 27½c., and we quote a range of 29 to 30c. for smaller purchases, according to quality.

RICE.

The rice market continues steady and unchanged. We quote: Japan standard, $4.25 to $4.40; crystal Japan, $4.75 to $5; standard B, $3.45; English style, $3.30; Patna; $4.25 to $5, and Carolina at $6.50 to $7.50.

SPICES.

The market continues firm and unchanged. We quote as follows: Penang black pepper, 6½ to 7½c., white pepper, 10 to 12½c.; cloves, 7½ to 9c.; cassia, 9 to 10c.; nutmegs, 60 to 90c.; Jamaica ginger, 15 to 22c.

COFFEES.

There has been some business done in a wholesale way in Maracaibo at 20c., but little else is to note. The tone, however, is firmly maintained at last week's range. We quote: Maracaibo, 20½ to 22c.; Rio, 20½ to 22c.; Java, 26 to 30c.; Mocha, 28 to 31c., and Jamaica, 18 to 25c.

TEA.

This market is extremely quiet, there being no business of importance to note. The movement from jobbing hands also is small, but the tone is very firm, and grades of Japans from mediums down are said to be getting remarkably scarce. In a wholesale way we quote: Japans, low grades, 12 to 13c.; medium, 14 to 17c.; fine 18½ to 32c., and choice, 24 to 31c.

DRIED FRUIT.

Business in dried fruit since our last has been confined to a moderate demand in a distributive way on holiday account, and there are few changes to note. Prices, on the whole, are steady all round. In raisins we quote: Off-stalk Valencias, ordinary, 4 to 4½c.; selected, 5 to 5½c.; layers, 5½ to 6c.; sultanas, 5½ to 7½c.; California, 3-crown loose muscatels, 5½ to 6c.; 4-crown ditto, 7½c. Second crop Californias ½c. less than first crop.

Currants have ruled quiet and unchanged at the following quotations: Filistras and Provincials, 3 to 3¼c. in bbls., and 3½ to 4c. in cases; Patras, 4½ to 5c., and Vostizas 7c.

Demand for prunes has been of a quiet jobbing character at a range of 4½ to 5½c., as to quality.

In figs there has been no change, and we quote: Basket stock, 4 to 5c.; boxed, 8 to 9c. for ordinary, and 12 to 16c. for higher grades.

The date market rules steady under a moderate demand and light supplies at 6½ to 7c.

NUTS.

There has been the usual brisk holiday jobbing demand for nuts at unchanged prices. We quote as follows: Tarragona almonds, 13½ to 14c.; filberts, 8 to 9c.; Brazil nuts, 11c.; pecans, small, 10c.; medium, 13c., and extra, 15c.; Grenoble walnuts, 14 to 15c., and Naples do., 13½c.; peanuts, 7 to 9c. for roasted and 6 to 8c. for raw.

CANNED GOODS.

This line is entirely without new feature. Business is of moderate dimensions; in fact, there is hardly any, and prices all round are as last quoted. We quote as follows: Lobsters, per case, $6.50; sardines $8.50 to $9.50; salmon, $1.35 to $1.40 per doz; tomatoes, 90 to 95c. per doz.; peaches, $2 to $2.10 per doz.; corn, 95c. to $1 per doz., and marrowfat peas, 85 to 90c. per doz.; strawberries, $2.75 per doz., and raspberries, $1.80 to $2.50; 1-gallon can apples, $2.10; Australian canned meats: 1-lb. can boiled mutton, $1.80 to $1.90; 2-lb. can do., $3.10 to $3.15; 1 lb. can roast mutton, $2.05 to $2.10; 2-lb. can do., $3.35 to $3.40; 1-lb. can corned mutton, $2.05 to $2.20; 2 lb. can do., $3.35 to $3.40.

MONTREAL MARKETS—Continued

prices have been fairly well maintained. There have been sales of No. 1 Nova Scotia herrings at \$4 to \$4.50 in a small way. Green cod have changed hands at \$4 to \$4.25 for No. 1; \$3 for No. 2. No. 1 green haddock are held at \$3 to \$3.25. The stock of Labrador salmon on spot is very small, and prices are firmly held at \$14 per bbl. There is a fair supply of B.C. salmon, and small lots have sold at \$11.50 to \$12. Sea trout are selling at \$10 to \$11 per bbl. The receipts of fresh fish have been liberal, which is generally the case at this time of year, and supplies are large, but prices do not show much change. Haddock and cod have sold in round lots at $3\frac{1}{2}$ to 4c., and steak cod at $4\frac{1}{2}$ c. per lb. Tommy cods are plentiful and lower at \$1 to \$1.25 per bbl.

GREEN FRUIT.

APPLES—There is no change in apples, which are in a slow demand at $2 to $2.50 per bbl.

ORANGES—The holiday demand for these has been well maintained, cleaning up all the remaining Jamaicas on the market. Floridas are also scarce, and, as a result, very firmly held at a rather higher range than last week, viz., $2 to $3.25.

LEMONS—There has been a steady sale for lemons also, but their price is unchanged at $2.50 to $3.50 per box.

PINEAPPLES—Supplies of pineapples are very light, and they have sold as high as 25 to 30c. each.

PEARS—Pears are in fair demand at $2 to $2.25 for good to choice California stock.

CRANBERRIES—These are a very scarce article, and we quote $10 to $13 per bbl.

GRAPES—The stock of Almeria grapes on this market is very light, and prices are firmer at $5.50 to $6.50 per bbl.

SPANISH ONIONS—There are very few Spanish onions here, and they are selling at $1 per crate.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

EGGS—The demand for eggs is good, and the market active and steady at 16 to 20c. for held fresh, 13 to 14c. for limed, and 10 to 12c. for culls per doz.

POULTRY—The poultry market is quiet, with no new features to note. Turkeys sell at $8\frac{1}{2}$ to $9\frac{1}{2}$ c., chickens at 6 to 7c., geese at 5 to 6c., and ducks at $7\frac{1}{2}$ to 8c. per lb.

GAME—The demand for partridge is limited, and prices steady at 55c. per brace for No. 1 and 30c. for No. 2. Venison sold at 9 to 10c. by the haunch.

DRESSED HOGS—The market for dressed hogs is quiet under a slow demand, at $5.25 to $5.50 per 100 lbs.

HONEY—The market is quiet; extracted, $4\frac{1}{2}$ to 5c. for old, and 7 to 9c. for new, and comb honey, 10 to 13c.

BEANS—Good to choice hand-picked beans are selling at $1.30 to $1.45 per bush., and medium, $1.20.

HOPS—The market is dull, at $6\frac{1}{2}$ to 8c., as to quality.

POTATOES—Meet a slow demand at 53 to 54c., in car lots on the track, and 65 to 70c. per single bag.

ONIONS—There is a good demand for onions, at $1.75 to $2 per bbl.

PROVISIONS.

There is no important change in the local provision market. The demand is slow, and the market quiet and steady. We quote: Canadian short cut, heavy, \$15.50 to \$16; Canadian short cut, light, \$14.50 to \$15; hams, city cured, per lb., 9 to $11\frac{1}{2}$ c.; lard, Canadian, in pails, $9\frac{1}{2}$ to $10\frac{1}{2}$ c.; bacon, per lb., 9 to $11\frac{1}{2}$ c.; lard, com. refined, per lb., 7 to 8c.

BUTTER AND CHEESE.

There is little change in the cheese market, and the encouragement afforded by advances to holders of high-priced cheese is very scant, indeed. In fact, quotations are difficult to give on anything but lots of stock that can be picked up here and there at a concession. Buyers' ideas, as expressed on these, range from $9\frac{1}{2}$ to 10c., but it is questionable if any holder of strictly finest goods is a seller at this range as yet. The public cable is unchanged at 50s. 6d.

There is only a small jobbing trade in butter, and so far as present indications go, little prospect of anything else in the near future. Indeed, the present outlook for holders of butter is even more depressing than on cheese. For what small jobbing demand there is at present prices are fairly well held on fine prime flavored stock. Creamery of this description sells at $20\frac{1}{2}$ to $21\frac{1}{2}$ c. from first hands. In dairy stock western roads furnish the principal trade at present. Anything nice fetches 16 to $16\frac{1}{2}$ c.

ASIIES.

There is little change in the ashes market. We quote: First pots, $4.05; seconds, $3.45 to $3.60, and pearls at about $6.50 per 100 lbs.

MONTREAL TRADE NOTES.

There is a decided scarcity of Jamaica coffee in first hands here just at present.

The stock of Japan teas on spot, from medium grades down, is pretty near its bottom level, and the stock remaining is mostly held over goods from last year.

Laporte, Martin & Co. have some fine California raisins to select from just suitable to the holiday demand.

Most of the firms here are engaged in sizing up their stocks, so that no great activity can be looked for.

The demand on holiday account cleaned up all the Jamaica oranges on the market, and now Floridas are 25 to 50c. firmer.

Estimates on the European crop of raw beet stock place it at 175,000 tons, making the total 4,975,000 tons, or 1,080 tons greater than last year.

Round lots of domestic syrup have been sold on the market since our last at an advance of $\frac{1}{4}$ c.

There is little or no Labrador salmon on the market, and prices on this fish are somewhat higher than they were a week ago.

NEW BRUNSWICK MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE CANADIAN GROCER,

ST. JOHN, N.B., Jan. 3, 1895.

THE New Year is here, and with those who are not stock-taking, it means getting things ready to close the books and take stock on February 1st. There is very little business moving, but our merchants are, in most cases, better pleased with 1894 than they expected, while they are hopeful of better things in 1895. This is the quietest season of the year, and it is almost impossible to get merchants to buy goods, as demand will not begin until February or March. Only special prices will lead to business, except in a few lines, for which there is always a demand, as sugar and flour. In tea, though prices have not changed, a rather better demand is noticed at higher prices, and a firmer feeling is looked for. In starch, the price is rather lower, the low price of the English article having a noticeable effect in increased sales. While flour continues to strengthen, sugar is getting weaker.

SALT—Merritt Bros. & Co. landed a cargo of 1,800 sacks this week. It arrived

FLOUR AND FEED

ANOTHER of our cherished ideas has been ruthlessly destroyed, and at the hands of bacilli breeders, remarks American Miller. It has generally been believed that warm or hot bread was unwholesome, but here comes Dr. Troitzki, a Russian, who says the heat required to bake it kills all the pestiferous bacteria, so it is innocuous, while bread that is cold or has been cut is the home of myriads of these wrigglers with unpronounceable names. What will these scientists leave us?

Breakfast hominy of to-day, says an exchange, is a very different food from the southern hominy traditionally associated with hog. The earlier hominy was true "cracked corn," hence doubtless "corn cracker" and "cracker." It was cooked gently all night, enriched with butter, seasoned with salt, and served smoking and snow-white. As thus prepared, the true southern hominy is a delicious dish, not especially for breakfast, but "as a vegetable," so the phrase goes, for dinner it is sweet, rich, beautiful and wholesome.

The Minneapolis Journal has collected the opinions of leading dealers on the wheat question. The following report was sent from Toronto: "In the province of Ontario our last crop was 21,000,000 bush. This does not vary much from the past five years' average. Prices have ruled low for all kinds of grain, and farmers have been free sellers. At present price paid to farmers is 55 to 57c. Stocks held by millers and dealers are one-third to one-half less than a year ago. There is nothing in sight to cause higher prices."

THE MARKETS.

TORONTO.

WHEAT—The market is firm and quiet on a small volume of business. We quote: White, 62 to 63c.; red, 61½c.; goose, 58 to 59½c.

FLOUR—Business is still confined to odd lots at unchanged prices. We quote: Ontario straight roller, $2.65 to $2.70; Manitoba bakers', $3.60 to $3.65; patents, $3.75 to $3.90.

BREAKFAST FOODS—Demand is fair, with the price of oatmeal firm. We quote: Standard and granulated oatmeal, $3.85; rolled oats, $3.75 to $3.85; rolled wheat, $2.10 in 100 lb. barrels; cornmeal, $3.50; split peas and pot barley, $3.75 per barrel.

OATS—Firmer, enquiry fair; offerings light at 33 to 34c.

BARLEY—Good enquiry, but buyers are not satisfied with the prices asked, which range from 46 to 47½c.

MONTREAL.

Business in grain on spot was dull, and the market was of a holiday character. We quote: Barley, feed, 45 to 46c.; barley, malting, 50 to 53c.; rye, 48 to 51c.; buckwheat, per 48 lbs., 46 to 46½c.

The tone of the flour market was firm and prices were well maintained. The demand was fair for small lots and a moderate amount of business was transacted. We quote: Winter wheat, $3.50 to $3.75; spring wheat, patents, $3.50 to $3.65; straight roller, $2.85 to $3; extra, $2.65 to $2.70; superfine, $2.50 to $2.60; Manitoba strong bakers', $3.40 to $3.75.

The demand for feed was slow and the market rules quiet and steady. We quote: Ontario bran, $15 to $15.50; Manitoba bran, $16; shorts, $17; mouillie, $20 to $22.

There was no change in the situation of the oatmeal market. The demand was limited and trade quiet. We quote: Standard, bbls., $3.70 to $3.75; granulated, bbls., $3.80 to $3.85; rolled oats, bbls., $3.90 to $3.95.

ST. JOHN, N.B.

There is really no change to report in markets here just at this season. No one will buy except for actual wants. Advices from the west tend to make prices firm, wheat being reported in very small supply. Feed is rather higher, but demand is light. In oats stocks are about equal to demand, and dealers will only buy at 'cut prices. Some Ontario oats offered here this week at 39½c. delivered could not be sold, 30½c. being best offer obtainable. Oatmeal and cornmeal show no change. Hay continues unsatisfactory. We quote: Manitoba, flour, $4.20 to $4.25; best Ontario, $3.50 to $3.60; medium, $3.35 to $3.40; oatmeal, $3.90 to $4; cornmeal, $3 to $3.10; granulated, $3.50 to $3.60; middlings, $20 to $20.50; bran $18 to $18.50; oats, local, 36 to 37c.; Ontario, 40 to 42c. All above prices on track. Beans, $1.40 to $1.50 split peas, $3.65 to $3.85; round, $3.65 to $3.75; pot barley, $4; hay, on track, $9.50 to $10.50.

via Eastport, where the vessel discharged some 600 bags. There are about 2,200 more sacks expected to arrive at any time. Demand at this season of the year is not large, and most of that arriving has to be stored. Price from vessel, 49 to 50c. Demand for Canadian salt in small bags and boxes is good. We quote: Coarse, 56 to 58c.; fine factory filled, 90c. to $1; bbls., 5-lb. bags, $3 to $3.10; 10-lb. bags, per bbl., $2.80 to $2.90; wood boxes, 20 lb. each, 20c.; 10 lb. each, 12c.

CANNED GOODS—Demand is quiet, with prices firm. The decrease in the sale of gallon apples is very noticeable, though prices are firm. Salmon are beginning to be in demand, and, as before noticed in these reports, prices will be higher. As season advances a better demand for canned fruit is expected. We quote: Corn, 95c.; peas, 90c.; tomatoes, $1 to $1.05; new gallon apples, $2.40; peaches, 3's, $2.65 to $2.75; 2's, $2; oysters, $2.15 to $2.20; 1's, $1.50 to $1.60; salmon, $1.35 to $1.40; lobsters, $1.75 to $2; haddies, $1.40; clams, $5.50 per 4 doz.; case scallops, $5.50 per 4 doz. case; chowder, $3.50 per 2 doz. case.

DRIED FRUIT—Demand is light, and those who were unfortunate enough to have Christmas goods arrive too late, as was the case with a number, do not feel happy. This, perhaps, is particularly true in regard to the direct importation of nuts, which were to arrive December 1. California loose muscatels continue low, and can now be landed lower than at any time this season. Quality good. As these are offered from New York, it will not be enjoyed by those who have bought car lots for direct shipment from the Coast. Dates are low, the change in the duty affecting the price to quite an extent. There is a report that the California London layers received here did not run even. Where there are different packers this is apt to be the case. We quote: Valencia raisins, $4\frac{1}{4}$ to $4\frac{1}{2}$ c.; layers, $5\frac{1}{4}$ to $5\frac{1}{2}$ c.; London layers, \$2.10 to \$2.25; California loose muscatels, $5\frac{1}{2}$ to 6c.; currants, $3\frac{1}{4}$ to $3\frac{1}{2}$ c. per bbl., and $3\frac{3}{4}$ to 4c. in half cases; evaporated apples, $8\frac{1}{2}$ to 9c.; dried, $5\frac{3}{4}$ to $6\frac{1}{4}$ c.; dates, $4\frac{1}{4}$ to $4\frac{1}{2}$ c.; prunes, 5 to $5\frac{1}{2}$ c.; figs, 11 to 18c., cartoons, cleaned currants, $6\frac{3}{4}$ to 7c.

GREEN FRUIT—As the soft apples get cleaned up both better demand and better prices are the result. The number of Bishop pippins offered in this market, like the crop, is the largest for years. But as they are not keeping well, there will soon be a call for the harder fruit. Malaga grapes are about out of this market. Very fine oranges—Valencia, West India and Florida—are being offered. Lemons are rather easier. We quote: Florida oranges, $2.75 to $3.25; Valencias, $4.50 per case; West India, repacked, $4 to $4.25 per bbl.; apples, soft fruit, $1 to $2; hard, $2 to $2.75; Malaga grapes, $5 to $6 per keg. Nuts show no change.

DAIRY PRODUCE—Cheese remains quiet but, stocks being light, it is expected when demand, which is practically nil at present, begins to improve, as it must in a few weeks, there will be a good enquiry at firm prices. In butter, while extra dairy will bring fair prices, demand is quiet. Stocks of fair are large. It is very hard to get a price for creamery, though some extra qualities are offered. Eggs are also in small demand, and though supply is not large, it is enough. We quote: Cheese, $10\frac{1}{2}$ to 11c.; dairy butter, 18 to 20c.; creamery, $21\frac{1}{2}$ to 22c.; eggs, 17 to 18c.

MOLASSES—Demand is at present quiet. Stocks are light, and holders do not push sales, as there is every reason to believe prices will be much higher. Some small lots of Barbadoes, Porto Rico and Antiqua from New York are being offered. There is quite a stock of fancy Porto Rico still held in this market. We quote: Barbadoes, 32 to 33c.; Porto Rico, 32 to 35c.; fancy, 43 to 44c.; syrup, 30 to 35c.

SUGAR—Lower than ever before. Refiners are now offering at $3\frac{1}{2}$ c. delivered, late January and February shipments, best quality granulated sugar. This is owing to the prospect of large importation of German sugars, though raw sugars are very low as well. It would look as if our refiners were bound not to allow the imported article to get a footing in this market. Some beautiful West India sugar has been offered in this market during the past week at the low figures of $3\frac{1}{4}$ c. It just passed under the standard at which the extra duty is charged. We quote: Granulated, \$3.80 to \$3.90; yellows, $3\frac{1}{4}$ to $3\frac{1}{2}$ c.; German granulated, $3\frac{1}{4}$ c.; powdered sugar, 6c.; Paris lump, 6c.

FISH—Medium codfish are scarce and higher, with a further advance looked for. Pollock and hake in good supply. Boneless fish are reported quiet. Pickled herring are considered by holders to be good stock. In frozen fish, demand for this season is rather light. Receipts are large. We quote: Large codfish, \$4; medium, \$3.75 to \$4; small, \$3.25 to \$3.50; bay herring, half-barrels, \$1.50 to \$1.55; barrels, \$3.75 to \$3.80; Shelburne, No. 1, barrels, \$4 to \$4.25; half-barrels, \$2.25; Canso, bbls., \$5 to \$5.25; Shelburne, No. 2, bbls., \$3 to \$3.25; half-barrels, \$1.75; Canso, half-barrels, \$2.75; smoked herring, $7\frac{1}{2}$ to 8c.; frozen cod, $2\frac{1}{2}$ c.; herring, 60 to 65c.

PROVISIONS—Demand continues light, there being more call for lard than for other lines. Smoked meats are particularly dull.

BETTER PROFITS are made by selling our fish. We are fishermen and ship direct from boat or curing house to your place. Two or three middlemen's profits are thus saved. We have every kind of fish. WRITE US.

ST. JOHN MARKETS—Continued.

Local curers get much higher prices than can be got for the Ontario goods, and they supply in almost every case the city retailers. The demand for compound lard is growing less from year to year. We quote: Clear pork, $18.25 to $18.50; mess, $16.50 to $17; plate beef, $12.75 to $13; pure lard, 10 to 10½c.; compound, 9 to 9½c.; ham, 11 to 12c.; bacon, 9 to 10c.; cottolene, 9¾ to 10¼c.

ST. JOHN MARKET NOTES.

E. T. Sturdee, one of the leading brokers of this city, is visiting friends in England.

C. & E. Macmichael give their customers the choice of two handsome hangers with calendars attached.

On Sunday last McAllister's flour and oatmeal mills at Pakenham, Ont., were destroyed by fire.

THE GROCER is pleased to see Mr. Hall, of Hall & Fairweather, again at his desk after a short illness.

A car load molasses and syrup passed through here from New York for Moncton during the past week.

John See'y received a consignment of Demerara sugar by the last West India steamer, which he is said to be offering very low.

The customers of John Seely are presented this year, as in the past, with a calendar, which is not only useful but ornamental.

THE GROCER has to acknowledge, with thanks, a very handy pocket memorandum book from Theodore H. Estabrooks, direct tea importer.

THE GROCER regrets to report George L. Slipp away from business through sickness, and joins with his many friends in wishing him a speedy return to health.

The fall apples and Bishop pippins are spoiling so fast that attention is being turned to the hardier fruit, of which Northrup & Co. have just received a fine lot.

Northrup & Co. are in receipt of a large shipment of smoked haddies in 30 lb. boxes. They receive shipments weekly, so that buyers are sure of fresh stock.

John Seely shipped this week a car of smoked herring to St. Paul's. He does a very large trade with the west. Buying his fish right, he is always able to insure satisfaction.

Theodore H. Estabrooks is handling the output of Connor Bros' canning factory. For their clam chowder and scollops he finds not only a good local demand, but during the past week had a large order from Toronto.

J. Hunter White, who represents a large number of the best cheese factories in this province, has on hand a quantity of late made cheese, and he reports that only a few are held at the factories. He sells to the wholesale trade, and reports an increasing demand from year to year for local cheese, the quantity of the Upper Canadian brought into this market during this season being small.

Smith & Tilton handed to THE GROCER one of the handsome pocket diaries given with the compliments of the Sunlight Soap people. Though this soap is rather high for this market, the sales, it is understood, have exceeded anticipations.

COOKING CEREALS.

In the December issue of Good House-keeping, Mrs. Emma P. Ewing gives the following directions as to the time and preparation for cooking cereals: The main secret in the preparation of cereals is thorough cooking, and this necessitates cooking them slowly, in the proper quantity of liquid, for a considerable length of time. A great deal has been written about preparing mushes for the table in from two to twenty minutes, and many cooks serve them prepared in that length of time; but all cereals are more digestible and much finer flavored when thoroughly cooked.

The amount of liquid necessary, and the length of time required, for cooking cereals properly, depends greatly on the nature of the cereal and the method in which it has been ground or milled. The table given below will be found approximately accurate as regards the proportions of grain and liquid to be used, and the length of time required to perfectly cook the following grains and grain products:

Peeled Wheat—Five measures of liquid to each measure of wheat. Cook from four to six hours.

Pearled Barley—Five measures of liquid to each measure of barley. Cook from four to six hours.

Coarse Hominy—Five measures of liquid to each measure of hominy. Cook from six to ten hours.

Fine Hominy—Four measures of liquid to each measure of hominy. Cook from four to six hours.

Coarse Oatmeal—Four measures of liquid to each measure of oatmeal. Cook from four to six hours.

Rolled Wheat—Three measures of liquid to each measure of wheat. Cook two hours.

Rolled Barley—Three measures of liquid to each measure of barley. Cook two hours.

Rolled Oats (Avena)—Three measures of liquid to each measure of oats. Cook an hour.

Rice—Three measures of liquid to each measure of rice. Cook an hour.

Farina—Six measures of liquid to each measure of farina. Cook half an hour to an hour.

Cerealine Flakes—One measure of liquid to each measure of cerealine. Cook half an hour.

A CHARTERED ASSOCIATION.

The Retail Grocers' Association, of Wheeling, W. Va., is a chartered corporation, and every member is required to strictly observe the following rules:

1. That he will not, under a penalty of a fine, or expulsion, knowingly, directly or indirectly, open an account of credit with any person or persons whose names have or may hereafter appear on the printed delinquent list.

2. That he will not take on a new customer who desires to open a new account with him, without first demanding and receiving of said party a printed receipt issued by the association of his or her grocer.

3. That he will close his place of business promptly at 7 o'clock p.m. each day during the week, except Friday and Saturday.

4. That he will not wrong, betray or defraud the association, or any member thereof.

5. That he will continue the practical and satisfactory system of giving no Christmas presents to customers.

6. That he will endeavor to abolish the old-time pass book and induce his customers to adopt the cash or the cash coupon system for the future.

Any member disregarding any of these obligations shall be held accountable therefor, as provided in the by-laws.

STRIKING A BALANCE.

She was young and good looking, but very rural, and the drummer in the seat back of her did want to move over and talk to her, but she didn't give him any chance. Finally he offered to put the window up for her.

"No," she said. "I don't want it up."

"I beg your pardon," he responded.

"You don't have to," she chirruped, "but if you want to set in this seat with me, why don't you? I promised my husband this morning that I wouldn't talk to any man that wasn't homelier than he was, and he said if I would keep that promise he was willing to let me go clean around the world by myself. You never seen my husband, did you?" and she moved over to make room for him, but he heard several people laugh, and he backed out and went into another car.—Detroit Free Press.

TABLETS OF WINE.

According to Industries and Iron, London, November 10, trials are being made in France with a view to concentrate wine in tablets for transport. The ripe grapes are pressed as in the manufacture of white wine. By means of a pump the juice is transferred into apparatus where it is evaporated in vacuo; the boiling plant is between 30 and 45 degrees C. The vapor is drawn off by a pump and condensed. As soon as the mass has the consistency of a syrup it is mixed with the pulp. Thus a sort of marmalade is produced containing 80 per cent. of grape sugar. In order to make wine this is dissolved in water to a strength of 8 to 9 degrees, and then flavored.

A RETAILER'S ADVICE.

A successful grocer in the Quaker city, while abroad on the Atlantic, took occasion, according to an exchange, to write to Secretary Smedley, of the Philadelphia Retail Grocers' Association, and give to young grocers and aspirants for independence some good advice as follows:

"A word of counsel to young grocers—First, study your adaptations; if you are adapted to the business and like it, then make everything bend to accomplishing success, but remember this can never be done unless you have in the first good moral habits; this is the first qualification; to my mind there is no such a thing as what some would call luck. To my mind, based on experience, pluck is luck, the old adage holds good, 'Keep your store, and your store will keep you;' let this be a motto, and depend upon it you must succeed.

"Again, never buy more goods than you can pay for when the bills become due; never make a promise without you first see your way clear to fulfil it. Always try and discount your bill; it will pay you!

"Do not allow salesmen to persuade you to buy what you do not see your way clear to sell before the discount season arrives. You will find this an excellent plan—first, because it makes more money for you and all merchants hunt up the men that discount, with the bargains they have to offer.

"If you want to enlarge your business never do it by keeping your wholesaler waiting for his money; if you find it needful go to some friend and borrow what you require and pay interest. By this means it enables you to be always independent and respected. This is the plan I adopted in business life and I recommend it to any young man; it is bound to succeed if these suggestions are adopted. Last, but not least, never lose faith in yourself, and aim high, and you will 'get there.' I will close with the word of Solomon: 'See'st thou a man diligent in business he shall stand before kings, and not before mean men.'"

PRESENTATION TO MRS. MOYER.

The employes of S. K. Moyer, fruit and poultry dealer, Colborne street, Toronto, spent a delightful evening at the residence of their employer on New Year's night. Mrs. Moyer prepared an excellent dinner, and after the boys had demonstrated that they can eat as well as sell poultry, their estimable hostess was made the recipient of a handsome clock.

An address accompanying the presentation conveyed the esteem and affection of the employes for Mr. and Mrs. Moyer, and concluded by wishing them health, happiness, and prosperity. Mrs. Moyer made a pleasing response, after which the guests participated in various games, subsequently returning to their homes feeling the first day of '95 would long be kept green in their memories.

WAGES AND HOURS OF LABOR.

BY the kind assistance of a multitude of employers of labor, Dun's Review is enabled to place before the public an analysis of the condition of industries for the past three years which, it is safe to say, has never been surpassed in extent of field covered, in thoroughness, or in interest. Returns of wages paid and hands employed in the month of November, 1894, 1893 and 1892, with details regarding nine of the more important industries, were given December 15, but it was not then possible to determine how far the changes in wages paid were commensurate with changes in time of employment or in production. A large portion of the returns failed to state the hours' work done during the month, while part stated hours per day, part hours per week, part hours for each hand per month, part only the rate of wages paid per day or per week, so that much labor was required to analyse the returns then and others since received. Those available for complete comparison, as to time employed, cover 153,065 hands in 1892, and while fewer than those which gave wages only, cover all parts of the country, a multitude of small establishments as well as many of the largest, and are presumably more reliable as evidence of the general condition of industries than the returns which failed to give important details. The following shows the total number of hands employed in November of each year, the total amount of wages paid, and the number of hours' work reported by the establishments making complete returns:

Hands employed.....	134,672	125,099	153,065
Wages paid.....	$4,201,210	$3,620,728	$5,370,070
Hours at work.....	31,839,834	27,119,599	37,234,021

Nearly $600,000 more was distributed to the hands last month than in the same month of 1893, but over $1,100,000 less than in November, 1892. The greater part of the change is in number of hands employed, 8.53 per cent. more than last year, but 12.02 per cent. less than in 1892. The wages paid per hand have increased 6.91 per cent. since last year, but are still 11.63 per cent. smaller than in 1892. The explanation given in the statement of hours is of the highest interest. There it appears that the hours' work done increased more than the hands employed, and the following shows the hours' work per hand in each month for the three years, the wages paid per hour, and wages paid per hand, with percentages, in comparison with 1892:

	1894.	1893.	1892.	- Percentages -
Hours per hand.	236.4	218.4	243.2	97.20	89.80	100.00
Wages per hour, cents.....	13.19	13.35	14.43	91.41	92.52	100.00
Wages per hand, month.....	$31.19	$29.17	$35.18	88.37	82.92	100.00
Wages, total	78.33	67.43	100.00
Hands, total	87.98	81.67	100.00
Hours, total.....	85.51	72.08	100.00

This statement shows that the decrease in wages paid per hour since last year has been small, while there has been an increase of 8.53 per cent. in hours' work per hand; resulting in a gain in wages paid per hand. In the following the three years are compared in each important item:

	1894-92.	1894-93.	1893-92.
Wages.....	-21.77	+16.33	-32.57
Hands.....	-12.02	+8.53	-18.93
Hours per hand.	-2.80	+8.24	-10.20
Wages per hour.	-8.59	-1.20	-7.48
Wages per hand	-11.63	+6.91	-17.08

These figures so well represent the course of manufacturing and mechanical industries throughout the country, that it is not unreasonable to infer that about 330,000 more hands are now employed than were a year ago, but 565,000 less than were employed two years ago; that the amount distributed in wages is at the rate of $162,000,000 a year more than in 1893, but $502,000,000 a year less than in 1892, and that the product, if of the same value per hours of labor in the three years, would be at the rate of about $1,254,000,000 a year more than in 1893, but $1,369,000,000 a year less than in 1892. —Dun's Review.

THE LAW OF PERSISTENCE.

The law of persistence, says a recent writer in an exchange, is as inevitable and as unalterable as the law of gravitation.

But persistence is like genius—it is the character, in the temperament, in the mind, or it is not a quality of the individual at all. Persistence is a phase of will; still a great deal of will power may exist that is not persistence at all. Persistence is not mere blind or negative force. It has an element in it of intelligence, almost of clairvoyance. It insists because it sees. It discerns a reason for adhering to its purpose. It persists because it perceives, and, in the expressive colloquialism of the day, persistence always "gets there."

But let no one imagine that persistence is a quality on which he can take advice, or which he may be able to discuss with himself and decide as to whether he will persist or not. It is not debatable ground, or, at least, the instant it becomes possible for him to debate it and weigh the reasons one way or the other, it becomes impossible for him to hold true to the original purpose. Persistence is destiny. If one knows that he can do a certain thing, the fact of the whole world's doubting it could not in the least affect his conviction, because conviction is from within, and it can no more be altered by the impressions of an onlooker than could the color of the eyes.

PURE GOLD MFG. CO.

PAY AS YOU GO.

AMONG the encouraging movements of the times must be included the effort to establish the system of selling groceries for cash, says Pennsylvania Grocer. It is gaining headway, and promises to be generally adopted at no distant time. Scores of country stores are adopting the system as fast as possible.

The credit system is a relic of early days, when the country was sparsely settled and money scarce. Farmers paid once a year, when they sold their crops. It is unnecessary to say that they paid well for the privilege of running long-time bills. Dealers made money by the operation.

But times have changed. Farmers have ready markets and can sell their produce for cash whenever they wish. Wage-workers in the cities are paid at short intervals, the majority of them weekly. There is no longer an excuse for running bills. Occasionally it may be necessary to obtain credit, as in case of sickness; but as a rule the necessity is more imaginary than real.

The working man should pay cash as he goes, as a matter of economy. It would save him many dollars in the course of a year. He would avoid many unnecessary expenditures, for he would be apt to think twice before parting with hard cash for something he could do without. Besides, by paying as he went, he could buy where he could do the best.

All things considered, the cash system is more advantageous to the buyer than the seller. He could buy cheaper because the dealer would not be compelled to make good customers pay for the delinquencies of others. Its general introduction will mark a forward step in the conduct of business.

PRIVATE POST CARDS.

Instructions have been issued by the Post-office Department to the effect that private cards, prepaid by a 1c. postage stamp affixed thereon, may be sent by mail within the Dominion, under the following regulations:

The cards must be composed of ordinary cardboard, not thicker than the material used for the official post card.

The maximum size, having regard to the variety of form, must correspond as nearly as possible to the size of the ordinary Canada post card now in use.

The minimum size must not be less than $3\frac{1}{4}$ inches by $2\frac{1}{4}$ inches.

The cards must not be folded.

On the address side, upon which the postage stamp used in prepayment must be affixed, nothing may be written, printed or otherwise impressed, except the name and address of the person to whom the card is to be delivered, and the name and address of the sender of the card, and the words "private post card." Nothing may be written, printed or otherwise impressed across the postage stamp.

Vat Ve Vant is Orters

The order of the song of numberless firms at the present time is this. Yes, what they want is "orters." While not hungering with a most voracious hunger for orders, still we would not let one get by—if we could help it. We sell advertising—and good advertising. THE CANADIAN GROCER is the brand—every page is right—so is the price. The best people use our pages—have for years—and will for years—just as long as we furnish the present good service. Are you going to sleep in 1895, or are you going to advertise? Here's a motto for the new year: "Blow your own horn and ride over someone, or someone will blow his horn and ride over you." Advertise!

Write us. "Vat ve vant is orters."

WON'T SELL CANADIAN GROCERS.

We wish to say right here that we don't want to farm it in Canada, and if we did we should fight shy of a certain grocer over there who goes by the name of Barron. It seems that the farmer sold some apples to the grocer, and in packing them of course did it after the manner of farmers, with the big ones on top. Along in the middle of the barrel something took his attention, and somehow he forgot and put in a lot of apples that he intended to make cider of. Well, what did this Barron man do but prosecute the farmer for the mistake; yes, sir, tucked the law right tew 'em, and so far as we can judge that poor, hard-working man had to fork over. No wonder that the farmers think they don't have half a chance. That isn't all. To show what sympathy the man got, here's THE CANADIAN GROCER with an article headed in big, black type, "Well done, Mr. Barron;" and then the paper proceeds to tighten the grocer's hatband with such remarks as this:

"This practice is all too common, but seldom, for various reasons, are the culprits brought to justice. Sometimes their victims refrain from prosecuting because of the demands, etc., which such a process would make upon their time. Others, again, as Mr. Barron might have done, are satisfied with getting back their money and allowing the dishonest seller to take away his apples. Obviously this latter way is the worst of the two, for practically it is compounding a fel-lony. The only right thing to do is to do as Mr. Barron did—call in the police. If for no other reason it should be done in justice to the trade, in justice to society."

All of which, no doubt, tickled Mr. Barron; but which at the same time deepens our conviction not to farm it in Canada, and, above all things, not to sell apples to that Canadian grocer.—Tri-State Grocer.

RUINING PROFITS.

Ignorance and inexperience, says American Grocer, are largely responsible for much of the cutting in prices, which is a growing evil. Many of the men in charge of department stores belong to the class of inexperienced. Few of them have the ability to judge and grade tea, coffee, foreign goods, etc. The result is a needless sacrifice of profit. For instance, take citron, of which a small quantity is used in any home. It is a luxury, a holiday delicacy, and is one of the articles which legitimately should pay a handsome profit and be used to bring up the grocer's average. It costs at wholesale from 8 to 12½ cents, as to grade and style of package. It should retail from 20 to 30 cents per pound, but department stores are selling it from 10 to 13 cents per pound.

Such competition is terrible on the small retailers in the large cities. They are forced to sell heavy articles and handle butter, molasses, lard, mackerel and other staples at the actual cost of their handling, and rely upon general goods, and particularly luxuries, to make up a fair average return. If the present system develops, it means that the grocers must get a larger profit on staples; stop selling flour, sugar and other articles at cost.

A story, says an exchange, is told of a country clergyman whose finances did not apparently extend to banking operations and experience. Going to a bank with a cheque, the clerk handed it back with a request that he would endorse it, and it would then be cashed. After much deliberation the reverend gentleman came to the conclusion that he could, without violation of his conscience, accede to the request. So he took the treasured piece of paper and wrote across the back of it, "I heartily endorse this cheque."

Merchant—Do you think advertising pays?

Book Agent—No, I don't.

Merchant—Why not?

Book Agent—Why not? Because it takes all the people to your store to buy goods, and I can't find anybody at home to sell a book to; that's why not.—New York Recorder.

A GOOD KIND OF FOOD.

No sort of food is better for the complexion than oatmeal and oranges, says an exchange. The finest complexions in the world are those of the Spanish and Italian ladies, who live largely on coarse-grained food and fruit like the orange and banana. It is said that many ladies are living almost entirely on oranges. Half a dozen for breakfast with a cup of coffee, a dozen for lunch with a glass of milk and a saucer of oatmeal, and a dozen more for supper with a crust of bread and a sip of tea, may not be high living in the proper sense of the word, but such a course of diet will bring a complexion which will drive almost any belle out of her head with envy. Grocers might with profit point these things out to their customers.

THE MODEL CLERK.

To be a good order clerk in Colorado, says a Denver paper, requires great tact and a good student of human nature. The fresh man of blustering propensities may succeed a few times, but he is ultimately a dead failure. A good order man must be one who can command his feelings, exercise the greatest patience, and always let a smile of joy play upon his face when he learns that the lady of the house does not care for anything to-day, and he must close the gate as carefully as if he had a fifty-dollar order to fill. He must be religious and well versed on all church news. He has also occasionally to be a liberal thinker; he must be poetic, and know how to recite sentimental snatches to the servant girl who dotes on poetry and trashy novels; he must play with the children, admire and flatter the old grandmother, know how to fix a clock, set a hen, pull a tooth or prescribe for the sick dog. In fact, he must be a walking encyclopedia of useful knowledge, all of which he must be able to bring into play at one and the same time. Show us a model order clerk and we will show you a man who can cope with the diplomatic powers of Europe.

WANTED.

A boy for office work; no whistler need apply;
I've had as much of that thing as ever I mean to try.
I've had my fill of "Comrades," and also in its day,
Have sunk beneath an onslaught of "Tarara-boom-de-aye."
I've listened to the "Bow'ry" till I thought my head would split,
To "Huckleberry Do" —and I've had enough of it.
I've had a dose of "Bow-wow," of "Little Girls in Blue,"
"After the Ball," "The Cat Came Back," and "A Bicycle Built for Two."
And, as I say, I've had enough; and now, whatever the rage is,
The boy round here who picks it up can whistle for his wages.

DEATH'S HARVEST.

A. H. Brown, of Brockville, Ont., died very suddenly on the last night of the old year. He started down town from his residence to attend the watch night service at the Methodist church. He got as far as the opera house, when he became very ill. He was at once taken home, where he died in a few minutes. Heart disease was the cause. He was seventy years of age, and leaves a widow and four children. One of his sons is Dr. Fred. Brown, of Oshkosh, Wis., and the other, Frank, is traveler for a Toronto wholesale house. Deceased had been in the tea business for many years.

Yeoman Gibson, one of the oldest residents of Whitby, and a prominent man in the county of Ontario for the last 30 years, died Friday. He came to Whitby in 1845, starting in business as a grocer and grain broker in 1865, filling every position in the Town Council in turn, being mayor in 1876 and warden of the county in 1877. The immediate cause of death was heart disease. He was interred at Salem cemetery, Pickering, on Sunday, with Masonic honors.

The grocers of Nos. 1 and 4 wards should lend their influence to secure the election of Ald. Peter Macdonald and A. R. Williamson in their respective wards. We want more business men in the Council, and especially those who have made a success, as have the two gentlemen named.

THE FLORIDA ORANGE CROP.

OF late the receipts of Florida oranges have fallen off materially. Receivers can assign no reason for the decrease, except that the recent warm weather in Florida has retarded the movement and injured the fruit to a considerable extent. With the return of cold weather it is thought the fruit will improve, and that shipments will increase. One of the largest receivers, when conversed with yesterday, said: "The receipts of Florida oranges in this city the week before last were 70,000 boxes, and last week 68,000 boxes; but the receipts this week are decidedly below either, as the steamships of the Ocean and Clyde companies are coming in with cargoes of from eight to ten thousand boxes, where lately they have brought from twenty to twenty-six thousand boxes at one time.

"The market for Florida oranges was on the rise all last week, and the upward tendency continues, the fine weather having induced an enormous local consumption.

"Yesterday afternoon Messrs. Scobel & Day sold on the Clyde Line dock 2,000 boxes at prices ranging from $1.25 to $2.30 per box, with an average on all of about $1.70. This fruit was not positively sound, although shipments are coming in now in better condition than was the case a week ago. This is attributed to cold weather lately experienced in Florida. The weather down there during November and December was very warm, damp, and muggy, which injured the keeping qualities of the fruit. Some cold weather would toughen the skin and the fruit would carry better.

"Shortly the receipts from the Mediterranean will increase; in fact, there are now on the ocean, bound to this market, some 28,000 boxes, but most of this fruit will run to small sizes, or from 300 to 360 to the box, while a large share of the Florida oranges are running from 125 to 150 to the box.

"The export trade is very quiet just now, owing to the poor condition in which the oranges are received. The Florida Fruit Exchange has not shipped a box of fruit to Europe in the past ten days, although some few boxes may have been consigned in other quarters. The market on the other side at present for Mediterranean fruit ranges from $1.60 to $1.80 per box.

"Within the past week vast quantities of Florida oranges have been bought and delivered to the consumer by the street vendors, and it is surprising to know the large volume of trade which this special trade has added to the aggregate of sales."—N.Y. Journal of Commerce.

CURRANTS IN GREECE.

Mail advice from Patras, December 6: "Total shipments of currants from Greece to 6th inst., 98,500 tons, against about 100,000 tons last year. The inquiry for Russia, which has continued without intermission, has caused our market to advance, but the fall simultaneously in the rate of exchange has counteracted the rise which would otherwise have taken place in the sterling prices. Shipments to Russia will shortly amount to 10,000 tons, or more than she took the whole of last season. In spite of this increase in the consumption, the stocks in Russia are said to be extremely small, the fruit being used as fast as it arrives for wine-making. Russia may therefore be looked upon as a regular customer, and as certain to absorb further considerable quantities. Another reason for the firm state of our market is the reduction law. Numerous deputations from the Greek provinces have gone to Athens to press the Government to introduce this law, and the Prime Minister has declared that if it is the will of the people he will do so."

MAZAWATTEE TEA MEN DINE.

The annual dinner of the Mazawattee Tea Co. was recently held at the Champion Hotel, Aldersgate, London, Eng. Chief Cashier C. Moss presided, and A. Jackson, head of the sales department, occupied the vice-chair.

The toasts, "The Firm," and "The Visitors," were proposed respectively by Mr. Jackson and Mr. A. Mann, Mr. C. Bullen responding to the latter.

Mr. A. C. Oswald proposed the health of the chairman, referring to him as a man whom all loved and esteemed. In replying, Mr. Moss addressed especially the younger members of the staff. Some of them might think their duties were so humble and insignificant as scarcely to come within the notice of their principals, but he could assure them that such was not by any means the case. Each one of them, no matter how lowly the post he was called upon to fill, was watched by observant eyes, and, sooner or later, would be rewarded, if by diligent attention to work he showed himself worthy of promotion.

A further toast was proposed by Mr. C. Ballard, to those who were absent from the gathering that evening, through various causes, more especially Mr. Sidney and Mr. Geo. Densham, who had gone to Canada to open out new fields for the Mazawattee Co. He expressed the hope that they would be successful in the venture which they had undertaken, and that they would return in twelve months' time in good health, and with the satisfaction of knowing that their endeavors had been crowned with abundant success.

"The Travelers," proposed by Mr. Sidney Wells, and spoken to by Mr. Taylor, concluded the toast list. Vocal and instrumental music selections were rendered by members of the staff, and the singing of "Auld Lang Syne" wound up the evening.

GOOD AND BAD TIMES.

If all the times was good times,
An' all the skies was bright ;
There wouldn't be for you an' me
Quite so much joy in sight—
If every day the world was May,
An' all the skies was bright.

If all the times was good times,
We'd all get tired—shore,
An' shift about, an' wish 'em out,
An' show 'em to the door—
If all the times was good times,
An' not a soul was poor !

If all the times was good times,
An' nothin' went to seed ;
With nothin' left to hope for,
We couldn't live, dear brethren,
With all the 'possums treed !

Another Firm in Ontario are imitating our Menthol Cough Drops.

WHILE we are aware that imitation is the most sincere flattery, still we do not want the reputation of our Menthol Cough Drops damaged without warning the trade that we are the only manufacturers in Canada of the real Menthol Cough Drop. Do not be misled by being told they are as good as ours, etc. The only ones that are as good are those made and sold by us. Put up in glass bottles. See that our name is on the package.

Infringement of Patent Notice.

HULL, Canada, Jan. 2nd, 1895.

To the WHOLESALE GROCERY
AND JOBBING TRADE:

As the public are doubtless aware, we have been packing our Matches lately in very ingeniously constructed Paper Boxes, the invention of our Mr. Millen, and covered by Canadian Letters Patent of the 12th of May, 1892 (No. 38,938), and of 29th July, 1892 (No. 39,528), of which we are the sole proprietors. The value of these Boxes for packing matches was recognized as soon as we adopted them. Since then, some of our competitors in Canada, desiring to profit by our labor and experience, have seen fit to sell other than our matches packed in boxes of the same construction substantially as those of ours, which are protected by the above Letters Patent.

This clearly is an infringement of our Patent Rights, and, if continued, will be stopped by process of law. As a word of advice to our friends, and as a warning to our competitors, who are thus infringing upon our Patent Rights, we have decided to give this notice to all parties not to buy, sell, handle, trade in or barter with any goods that infringe the rights of

THE TIDE IS TURNING.

ONE of the best evidences of returning trade prosperity is the concurrent efforts that are being made to bring the desideratum about.

The depression which has hung over the commercial world during the past two seasons is not the result of famine, pestilence or war.

It is the result of reckless speculation, reckless credits, reckless living; in a word, bad business methods.

The first turn of the screw which began to bring men to their senses was given when the Baring failure startled the world; and the tightening up process has been going on ever since, until manufacturers, merchants and financiers are perforce compelled to reform their business methods.

They are doing what the mariner does when he is in a storm—taking in sail.

The smallness of profits demands that expenses shall be brought down to meet them, that credits shall be for shorter terms, and that greater care shall be exercised in granting them. With all these demands business men are now complying.

When the cause of a patient's sickness is removed convalescence begins. And now that the cause of the past few years' sickness in trade is being removed business is more healthy, and before a great while it will be strong and vigorous again.

Canada is no exception to the rule. Confidence is being restored, foreign capitalists are more inclined than ever before to turn their attention to the development of our amazingly rich natural resources, and already our mining and our lumbering industries are taking on new life.

One of the things we now want most of all is increased population. This is even of more importance to us than the question of tariff.

SITUATION IN CURRANTS.

IT was stated in last week's GROCER that, according to advices received by a Toronto broker, the Greek Chamber had adopted in principle a scheme for the state to withdraw from consumption the surplus currants of the production of 1894.

This week's advices, however, show that it was merely the first reading of the bill that was adopted. When it came to a second reading the bill was snowed under by 63 to 44 votes.

The object of the bill was the same as that proposed by a similar measure last year, namely, the detention and destruction of a portion of the currant crop.

The bills in question were designed for the benefit of the currant growers of the country, but it seems to have been the general opinion that the means by which it was aimed to secure the desired end would benefit the buyer more than the grower, and to this is probably attributed, in part at least, the unpopularity of the measures.

The condition of the currant grower is deplorable. In some instances the returns received by him have not been more than sufficient to re-imburse him for the labor employed in harvesting the crop, and the question with many of them has been seriously discussed whether it would not be better to turn the vineyards into wheatfields.

For the indirect cause of the present condition of the Grecian currant growers it will be necessary to look back some fifteen years. About that time the vineyards in France were devastated by the phylloxera, and the wine manufacturers turned to the currants of Greece for a substitute. For a time their demands upon this source continued to increase, until the importation of these currants touched the enormous total of 68,000 tons in one year. This, it will be remembered, is nearly equal to one half of last year's total crop. As the demands of France increased, the growers in Greece enlarged their vineyards and increased their production.

By-and-by, of course, the vineyards of France began to recover from the effects of the phylloxera, and the wine manufacturers of France turned their attention more and more to the home-grown grape and less and less to the Grecian currant. Then it was that the troubles of the growers in Greece really began. Now comparatively few currants go to France.

But while France is not at present a factor in the currant market, Russia is. If our memory serves us right, it was only last year that that country first appeared as a customer for Grecian currants, and this fact has steadied the market when it might otherwise have fallen.

The action of the Greek Chamber, in allowing the recent bill to be read a first time, stiffened prices a little, while the rejection of the second reading has naturally had a reactionary effect. The advices, however, received this week in Toronto state that the easiness in question is thought to be only temporary. The foundation upon which this supposition is based is the fact that scarcely 40,000 tons of currants are left in Greece, while Russia, on the other hand, will require a considerable quantity of the fruit.

SUGAR STILL LOWER.

THE irregularity of the sugar market continues one of the leading features in the grocery business in Montreal, for there has been a further decline of $\frac{1}{4}$ c. per lb. on granulated and $\frac{1}{8}$ to $\frac{1}{4}$ c. per lb. on yellows at the refineries, making the total decline since the competition of German sugar first commenced to be felt a full $\frac{3}{4}$ c. Indeed, it is a question with many shrewd traders whether prices will not go still lower, as the matter has evidently resolved itself into a regular fight between the domestic refiners and their German competitors for the control of the market.

During the past week or so there have been large offerings of German beet refined sugar to the wholesale trade in Montreal at a very low figure; in fact, at a cost which will permit some of the lots being jobbed out as low as $3\frac{1}{4}$ c. per lb.

An inspection of this sugar reveals the fact that it does not grade anywhere near the domestic granulated, but the Montreal refiners are naturally afraid of the low price tempting custom.

It is understood, also, from advices to Montreal brokers, that the competition of German sugar is being felt just as keenly in the Maritime Provinces by the Halifax refiners, and that refiners' prices down there have sagged off to the same extent as those in Montreal.

The natural outcome of this unsettled feeling is very careful buying, not only by the jobbers, but by the latter's customers also, who only take what they may want in the immediate future so that they will be in a position to take advantage of any further decline if it does come.

IT IS NOT CANADA'S BUSINESS.

CERTAIN English journals suggest as a remedy for Newfoundland's woes that she join herself to the Dominion of Canada.

These journals are doubtless actuated by the best of motives, but to applaud the wisdom of them is another thing.

Canada, although the bigger and elder sister, has repeatedly since 1867 knocked at Newfoundland's door and invited her to come into the Confederation, but these invitations were rejected as often as they were made.

Newfoundland's right to do so no one will gainsay. But there is not the same opinion in regard to her right to come in now and ask the Dominion to share her woes financial and her woes political.

No, Canada does not want Newfoundland just now. Canadians sympathise with her. We always have done. Our sympathies went out to her—and our money, too—when fire devastated her capital. Our sympathies went out to her, and our indignation blended with hers in the humility she had to bear because of the French fishery question. And we are heart and soul with her now.

But we must, first of all, be just to ourselves. We have our own problems to solve. Although there is not much fear and trembling about it, we have our national salvation to work out. If we took over our sister colony down by the sea, with her bag and baggage of troubles, we would not be just to ourselves—nor to Newfoundland herself, for that matter.

The hole which she is now in is of her own digging, and the more she is made to depend upon her own energies for getting out the better will it be for herself.

True, Newfoundland has not yet asked the Dominion to take her in. But leading English papers are suggesting such union; and a sentiment tending toward a consummation of this idea is, we are told, developing in Newfoundland itself.

If it is anybody's duty to come to the rescue of the financially swamped colony, it is Great Britain herself, not Canada. She is the mother, and has the means; Canada is but the sister, and has only the means for the supplying of her own needs.

A MATTER OF ETHICS.

Some time ago the Montreal Retail Grocers' Association appointed a delegation to wait on the wholesale men for the purpose of conferring with them in regard to handling the goods of a well-known packing company in Montreal.

The ground of the retailers' complaint was that the company in question had established and were running a number of retail stores in Montreal, and that this was unfair to the retail trade as a whole.

Since then nothing has been heard of the matter, but THE GROCER learns that the reason thereof is that it would be difficult for the wholesalers to take any rigid course as a body in the premises.

To the lay mind the remedy is simple, and lies with the retailers themselves.

Though the action of the company in question is in a sense unfair, it must be admitted that they know their own business best.

If the retailers are dissatisfied they need not handle the goods in question, and in this event the wholesalers will find, with this demand from the retailers lacking, that it will not pay them to carry them either.

DEPARTMENT STORE EVOLUTION.

WHETHER it be long-lived or short-lived, the department store era does not yet show signs of waning.

Look in whatever large city we may, the department stores are increasing rather than decreasing.

In Chicago, the home of the department store on this continent, this fact is clearly demonstrated, and in a striking manner, too.

One is frequently led to wonder whether there is a limit to the evolution of the department store; and there is a proposition on foot in Chicago which makes the answering of this question all the more difficult.

A store, we are told, is to be built in that city which is to surpass anything else in the world of its kind. Its frontage, will be 400 feet. But its uniqueness does not lie so much in its size as in the peculiarity of some of its departments.

This particular store, in addition to the general departments, will have a bank, restaurant, barbershop, swimming baths, photograph gallery, intelligence office, daily paper, etc.

This idea of a swimming bath is particularly unique. We have department stores in Toronto that serve up refreshments and one that issues a periodical. But a swimming bath in a department store is something that probably none but those who originated the idea in Chicago ever thought of.

Let us see. These department stores now sell groceries, hardware, boots and shoes, furniture, dry goods, books, confectionery, publish newspapers, dispense refreshments, shave chins and crop heads.

Where is this thing going to stop, anyhow? The competition is getting blessed near to each one of us. Even upon us newspaper men this gourmand of a department store seems to have got its eye.

By-and-by, those of us afflicted will be numerous enough and strong enough to rise up and wipe our tormentor from off the face of the earth. And what then? Why, like Banquo's ghost, it would bob up again next day.

The best thing we can do is to fight a good fight, and exercise all the push and enterprise we can command. Better results will be obtained in this way than by trying to sit on something that will not down.

HAMILTON GROCERS' OFFICERS.

The monthly meeting of the Retail Grocers' Association of Hamilton was held Wednesday night, 2nd inst. President Adam Ballentine was in the chair, and the others present were: W. R. Harvey, A. Hayes, C. Bremner, William Smye, C. Holt, C. H. Peebles, J. H. Horning, G. Powell, J. Pryke, F. R. Close, A. Bain, J. C. Bolligan, J. Ronan and J. O. Carpenter.

J. Peebles, corner Cannon street and West avenue, was admitted to membership.

The reports of the secretary and treasurer showed the association to be flourishing, numerically and financially. These officers were elected:

A. Ballentine, president.

J. O. Carpenter, first vice-president.

J. C. Bolligan, second vice-president.

W. R. Harvey, secretary.

C. Bremner, treasurer.

C. H. Peebles, J. H. Horning, J. Ronan, F. R. Close and A. Hayes, executive committee.

C. Holt and G. Powell, auditors.

J. H. Horning, who closes his store at 9 o'clock on Saturday evenings, reported the results very satisfactory, and advised others to follow his example.

A committee was appointed to purchase glass jars for the season.

A letter from the London Association relative to the fees for the inspection of weights and measures was laid over for further consideration

FAILURES IN 1894.

R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade has the following to say regarding failures for the past year:

"Failures for 1894 are fully reported this week, being 13,885 in the United States and 1,856 in the Dominion of Canada. Liabilities in the United States were $172,992,856, and in Canada $17,616,215. Neither the decrease of over half in this country, nor the increase of over 40 per cent. in Canada is surprising, but the statement shows that most of the decrease in the United States is in manufacturing liabilities, while the entire increase in Canada is in liabilities of trading concerns. A few states, including New York and Pennsylvania, show more failures than in 1893, and in a few southern states the amount of liabilities is larger, but in central and western states very much smaller. In eleven of the last thirty-eight years, reported liabilities have been larger than in 1894, though for this year and 1893 the statement is confined to commercial failures, as it was not in former years. The failures have been 12.5 in every thousand firms doing business; the liabilities have averaged $132.77 to each firm in trade, and in proportion to the volume of solvent business represented by all Clearing House exchanges, $2.63 for every $1,000."

Bradstreet's reports 373 failures in the United States during the past week, against 480 for the corresponding week in 1894, and 313, 339 and 391 in 1893, 1892 and 1891. The Middle States had 77, New England 39, Southern 100, Western 80, Northwestern 45, Pacific 23, Territories 9. Canada had 39 and Newfoundland 2. About 83 per cent. of the failures reported had $5,000 or less capital, and 11 per cent. had from $5,000 to $20,000 capital.

MONEY AND STOCKS.

THE feature of note on the Toronto Stock Exchange during the week is the recovery in Ontario Bank stock. The direct cause of this is the assurance that a large account, in which the bank was supposed to be interested, is under $15,000 instead of being $200,000, as it was at first reported. Ontario's stock is now 100 asked and 92 bid. This is 8 and 5/8 points respectively higher than about ten days ago. It is almost needless to say that there is joy in the hearts of those who bought freely of the stock in the days of its weakness.

Next to Ontario Bank stock the place of interest on the Stock Exchange has been the weakening tendency in insurance stock, in consequence of the heavy losses incurred by some of the companies in Sunday morning's fire.

There has been a little more demand for call loans, and it is thought there may be a stiffening of rates in consequence. At the moment, however, 4 to 4 1/2 is still the idea.

The dividends for loan and insurance companies are being paid, and the amounts being received from this source I understand, either have been or are being largely reinvested in small lots.

Toronto Street Railway stocks continue to gather strength, 63 1/2 now being asked and 63 bid. There have been a few transactions around 63, but on the whole business is quiet in this stock.

There is about the usual amount of commercial paper being discounted. The range is still 6 to 7 per cent., with 6 per cent. as the ruling figure. In New York rates on commercial paper were 2 3/4 to 3 per cent. for for sixty to ninety-day endorsed bills receivable, 3 to 3 1/2 per cent. for four months' commission house and prime four months' single names, 3 1/2 to 4 per cent. for prime six months, and, 4 1/2 to 7 per cent. for good four to six months' single names. Larger offerings are expected.

The aggregate returns of the clearing houses of the United States for the year 1894 were $45,615,280,187, compared with $54,309,562,775 for 1893, a decrease of 16 per cent. The decrease in New York alone was 22 per cent. Among the large cities the only one to show an increase was Cincinnati, its clearing being 0.2 per cent. larger than in 1893. In fact, generally speaking, the southern cities make a better showing than do the northern.

Exports of gold from New York last week aggregated $4,500,000. This is the largest in any week since August, and brings the Treasury's actual gold balance down to nearly $82,000,000. ARGUROS.

THE INDUSTRY WAS NATURAL.

MR. PAGE, of Page & Desrosiers, Sandwich, was in Toronto this week. Page & Desrosiers are one of the most enterprising firms in Sandwich. They conduct two general stores in the town, one being started last year whose special object is to supply vessels plying on the Detroit river. In addition to the general stores they are extensive manufacturers of hand-made wool mits, turning out over 1,200 pairs weekly.

"We started the manufacture of wool mits about four years ago," said Mr. Page, in reply to a question, "and our output has steadily increased. Our business has heretofore been principally with Montreal and Winnipeg. One house alone in Montreal takes about 5,000 pairs from us. We have not done much in Toronto yet, because we have made no special effort to do so. Now, however, we are making a push in this direction, and that is why I am here. Up to the present our business has all been done through correspondence, but we have decided to try what we could do by personal contact with the trade. This is my first trip out with that end in view, and after I get through here I shall go on to Montreal."

"How did you find business last year?" I queried.

"It was good. The only difference we found was that we had to get out and hustle a little harder for the dollars. Of course, trade generally has been quiet in western Ontario. There is, however, an improvement in business in Detroit, and we on our side of the river are feeling the benefit of it."

The experience of Page & Desrosiers in the manufacture of hand-made wool mits points a moral: They started an industry which was natural to that part of the country, and they have been successful. If the business men of the different cities, towns, etc., of the country would give their attention more to the stimulating of industries that are native to their localities, many places would be better off than they are today.

THE FLORIDA ORANGE SEASON.

THE N. Y. Journal of Commerce of Monday last had this further to say regarding the recent damage to the Florida orange crop by frost:

"Some conservative idea of the destruction to the orange crop in Florida by the cold weather last week can now be formed by the fruit trade through the medium of telegrams and letters from the orange-growing districts.

"There appears to be doubt but what the destruction has not been materially exaggerated. What may be termed an average estimate places the stock of good sound fruit at 500,000 boxes, out of a total of 3,000,000 boxes remaining in Florida. One of the largest receivers said on Saturday: 'The question now is whether the fruit will arrive here sound or nearly so. Experience has taught us during previous cold seasons that the fruit has landed in virtually sound shape, although very light and without juice. It is also a question whether the freeze has been severe enough to ruin any keeping qualities which the fruit might have left, and if the fruit is going to arrive here in a rotten condition, it would certainly be better for all parties concerned if the season should be closed at once, and none of this badly frozen fruit shipped out of the state of Florida.

"On Monday (to-day) there are several carloads due here, over the Pennsylvania railroad, of oranges taken from the interior of the trees after the freeze. An examination of this fruit may be the means of guiding the fruit trade as to what is best to be done for the future.

"There are in port and on the way from the Mediterranean about 40,000 boxes of Sicily oranges to arrive during the current month, but this is a very light supply if Floridas are shut off, in fact, it figures only a little over the usual weekly Florida receipts in this market. Prices on oranges must continue high through January, and all good Florida fruit is firmly held here at $4.50 per box on desirable sizes. The last auction sale of Mediterranean fruit held on Thursday last show a range of prices from $2.25 to $2.65 per box, an advance of almost $1 per box over previous sales of similar fruit.

"Reports are to the effect that receipts will necessarily be very light from the fact that nearly one-half of the crop had been shipped before the freeze and the other half is undeniably and positively injured to such an extent as to prompt its being shipped.

"As a rule, after a heavy freeze in Florida this market is inundated with frozen fruit, but I feel safe in saying that this case will be an exception, because the fruit has been too badly injured.

"It was reported that the transportation companies were demanding freight payments in advance, but agents interviewed by Jacksonville papers deny this allegation, but they said this course would be pursued where the quality of the fruit was so poor as not to escape detection before it left the state. And the whole sum total of the matter is that the Florida season is practically at an end.

"The situation affects thousands of men who deal in fruit, but none so much as the small grower in Florida—it is, indeed, a serious matter to them. It is true many of them have marketed or sold their crops, but they are just as badly off if they sold f.o.b. cars, owing to the clause in the contract reading 'merchantable fruit in good order,' as frosted fruit is not merchantable."

"Edward Ruhlman says that the 'freeze out' was the most disastrous he can remember. No warning was given of the fall in the temperature, and from latest advices very little was saved. Vegetables are beyond recovery. Oranges, grape fruit, tangerines, etc., froze solid on the trees. The pinneries of the state are destroyed root and branch.

"Both the Clyde and Ocean steamship companies have announced an emergency rate of just half of the rate ruling previous to the freezing, but accompany the same with a stipulation that the freight must be paid in advance. The trade says of the reduction that it is certainly an evidence on the part of the transportation companies to do what they can to relieve the Florida shippers, and their action is appreciated. The rate now from Jacksonville to New York is 17½c. per box.

"The railroads, it is claimed, will lose about $500,000, while the loss to the grower is estimated at $2,000,000. This does not cover the loss of young orchards. As one receiver said, it is all right to reduce the steamship rates, in fact, is an act which should not be forgotten by the fruit trade, but the cartage from the groves is just the same, and in many cases that is the most potent factor in the situation.

"A well-known importer received a cablegram from Sicily on Friday stating that the fruit growers there refuse to sell their fruit this season to shippers, preferring to ship on their own account. This move on the part of the growers is due to the loss sustained by Florida by the recent blizzard. Several weeks ago, it is said, the market for oranges in Sicily opened quite low. As Florida expected to yield a crop of about 5,000,000 boxes, the importers of Mediterranean fruit here were timid about negotiating, preferring to wait until the greater part of the Floridas were marketed. When the report reached this city from Florida that the orange belt had been visited by frost, cables were sent to Sicily accepting previous offers, but the growers there, learning of the loss of Florida crop, refused to fill these orders."

DRY GOODS.TORONTO MARKET.

TRADER during the last two weeks in December was quite pleasing to the wholesalers generally. Orders were numerous, and the semblance of a lively movement was kept up, even if there was no great breadth in trade.

Since January 1st, however, the orders have perceptibly dwindled, so far as present shipments are concerned. Letter orders are very sparse and sparing. A few sorting orders, for small lots of blankets and heavy woollens are being received and are somewhat gratifying. But the demand is not general.

On spring account, the orders are coming in somewhat slowly and sparingly. It is perhaps too early to judge, as many of the travelers did not go out until this week, last week being given up mostly to municipal politics.

MONTREAL MARKET.

The travelers will go out this week on their regular placing trip, and already, if the letter orders that have been received are any indication, they have reasonably fair prospects. These letter orders have comprised both spring goods and sorting supplies.

There have been quite a good sized lot of American colored cottons received since the end of the year, so that it seems that we have not heard the last of American competition in this respect.

Payments are rather better than they were, a large amount of the December arrears being wiped off, and it is expected that the 4th of February will show better returns. The city retail trade also has picked up considerably during the past fortnight.

THE PRICE OF OYSTERS.

The cold weather of the past two weeks has served to bring out the annual Baltimore prophecy of higher prices ere long for canned oysters. The cost of raw stock, it is pointed out, has advanced considerably, and the supply, it is claimed, has fallen off enough to force greater or less curtailment of canning operations. One authority presents data showing that canners of Cove oysters in Baltimore packed only 543,000 bushels of the bivalve during the first eleven months of 1894, against 666,000 bushels during the corresponding period in 1893. The pack since then has been moderate and the record for 1894 is said to show the smallest output that the canneries have made in ten years. As to the amount of stock carried over from last year no particulars are given, but that it was considerable is an open secret, and it would seem safe to venture the statement that there will be enough canned oysters to supply the wants of the trade during the next twelve months. —N.Y. Journal of Commerce.

SHREDDED CODFISH AT THE FAIR.

Beardsley shredded codfish needs no introduction to the trade. It is known, and known favorably. But readers of THE GROCER will no doubt be interested in learning what the Denver papers had to say, not only about the shredded codfish but the other lines of goods manufactured by J. W. Beardsley's Sons, New York, that were shown at the Pure Food Exposition in that city.

From a trade paper we take the following: "Beardsley's Sons' booth is the favorite of all visitors, and those who have tried their goods for the first time were delighted as well as astonished at their excellence; in fact, they could hardly realize such a class of goods could be put up. The shredded codfish is the natural salt codfish, picked up by machinery that disintegrates the fibre without affecting the flavor. It is odorless and requires no soaking or boiling, and one pound will go further than two pounds of any other codfish.

"The Acme sliced smoked beef put up by the same firm cannot be equalled in the world. It is not chipped in rough, thick, wedge-like pieces, but is sliced by machinery and every particle in the can is eatable. It will keep any length of time, in any climate, and every can sold is guaranteed to give satisfaction or the money is refunded. Their boneless Scotch herring put up in cans is the choicest relish in the market."

TRADE CHAT.

JOHN Whitchelo, a prominent merchant of Moosomin, dropped dead in the Baptist church the other night. He had just entered the church, and was walking up the aisle to his pew, when he fell to the floor and was picked up dead. Heart disease was the case.

A new boot factory, to be called the Standard Boot Co., is to be established at Levis, with a capital of $25,000.

Over 400 wagon load of dressed hogs were delivered in Chatham in one day last week. There were 10 to 12 hogs averaging 200 lbs. apiece to each wagon.

Mr. Na'rn, of the Winnipeg oatmeal mills, has put in machinery for the manufacture of pot and pearl barley. The product made at home from Manitoba barley is said to be superior to the imported goods.

Brantford, Jan. 7.—The white mill, owned for many years by D. Watts, was purchased to-day by W. B. Wood, M.P.P., and his brother, for $7,000. They will put entirely new machinery in the structure, and expect to employ additional men.

The business heretofore carried on under the name of Hislop, Meldrum & Co., Montreal, wholesale dealers in country produce, have dissolved by mutual consent. Mr. Hislop has taken over the Commissioner street business and Mr. Meldrum the Brennan street business.

At the annual meeting of the Calgary Board of Trade, held recently, the attendance was good. The following officers were elected for 1895: President, James Bannerman; vice-president, A. McBride; treasurer, A. Allan; secretary, I. S. G. Van Wart.

A Stratford despatch says: "Most of the cheese factories of this important dairying district have been recently holding their annual meetings. The reports show that on the whole the results of the year's operations have been very satisfactory to the patrons. Mr. Chas. Fry, a patron of the Avondale Cheese Factory, received for six months $599.18, or an average of $38 per cow. He did no extra feeding throughout the season, although the fall pasture was very scant."

One of the prettiest weddings in Stratford for some time was on Wednesday week, when Miss Frances Graham, sister-in-law of Ald. W. Hepburn, was married to Mr. John S. Chambers, one of the leading business men of Birtle, Man. Miss Mader, of Atwood, assisted the bride, while Mr. Alex. Ballantyne supported the groom. Rev. E. W. Panton of St. Andrew's Church conducted the ceremony.

W. J. G. Dickson, commission merchant, South Edmonton, who has been shipping oats to Brackman & Ker, of British Columbia, for milling purposes, has received word that his shipments have been very satisfactory, and that an unlimited quantity is wanted. Mr. Dickson has also made a shipment of malting barley, and is making arrangements to ship dressed beef, pork, mutton, game and butter to British Columbia.

TRADE IN MARKHAM.

Mr. E. H. Wilson, one of Markham's leading merchants, was in Toronto Tuesday. "In spite of the hard times," said he, "we had a fairly good holiday trade." All the local manufacturing industries he reported to be well employed, with the exception of the wagon works, which has been shut down the past three weeks. The woolen mill, which employs 60 hands and pays out $120,000 annually in wages, has orders enough on hand to keep it running for the next six months.

"Are you shortening credits out that way?" I ventured.

"Yes, we are," he answered with emphasis. "I would, if I could have my way, do nothing but a strictly cash business. As it is now, we do not give much credit, while for the comparatively little we do, we render accounts monthly, where at one time it was once a year or once every two years."

Mr. Wilson was one of the successful candidates for a seat at the School Board at Monday's municipal elections.

ANOTHER CUSTOMS ORDER.

A NEW Customs order has been received at Halifax, signed by Mr. Watters, "acting commissioner of Customs."

It provides that outward manifests shall only be available to the particular exporters concerned in the case, and that the Customs are to furnish the press with a summary of the exports, description and quality, but nothing more.

Hitherto, the outward reports have been available to the press and the merchants generally, and they copied the lists of various articles shipped, with the name of the exporter.

The collector at Halifax, on being asked to interpret the order, said that heretofore the press, when requesting a list of the exports, could not see the outward reports, but the officials would supply them with the total amount of each article shipped, and the value, but not the name of the shipper.

It is needless to say the order gives general dissatisfaction, especially with the fish exporters.

What brought about the order has not as yet transpired, but it is thought that one or two small dealers who did not wish to see their names in print made a complaint.

A small manufacturer of Halifax stated recently that the publishing of his name with his exports gave Montreal people in the same business a chance to locate his markets. He had a good business in Newfoundland at one time, but Montreal took it from him, and he blames the publishing of the exports for it. Keener business methods were, doubtless, the true cause.

HE NEVER CAME BACK.

DEAR GROCER,—Enclosed please find cheque for $4, which pays my subscription to July 1, 1895. I did not forget—how could I?—when I have the weekly reminder as regular as clockwork. I was expecting Mr. Cameron along—in fact, I have been looking longingly for his genial countenance dropping in—but, to the best of my knowledge, he has not favored the Classic City with a call in about two years.

Wishing you the compliments of the season, I remain, respectfully yours,

TO INSPECT FRUIT IN SICILY.

A movement of interest to the fruit trade is on foot in New York to introduce a system of inspection of oranges and lemons in Sicily before shipment, in order to protect the merchant and banker here. The present system in forwarding consignments from Sicily is unsatisfactory. Importers are informed, according to N. Y. Journal of Commerce, that they must do the same as others in regard to advances or the trade will go to someone else. For the past twelve years a number of movements have been attempted to fight against the "advance" system, but the movements have not become general and have proven unsuccessful.

The disastrous season experienced by the importers last season is attributed to the rivalry between the steamship companies to get the fruit and the large amount of trash shipped. A fruit inspection system will, it is argued, do away with this evil, and will be a great protection to bankers. The present banking system is as follows: A letter of credit is obtained from a local banker, through whom bills of exchange on the most convenient foreign city are obtained. When these bills are accepted the importer receives the bills of lading and invoices of the goods through the banks, for which he gives in return a trust receipt. The terms of the agreement do not restrain the importer from selling the goods, but the property or the proceeds of their sale must be held in trust for the banker until such time as the acceptance, or indebtedness, has been liquidated. This procedure, it is claimed, is usually followed when an advance is obtained on goods in transit and payment is made to the shipper.

The proposed plan of inspecting green fruit before shipment will, it is believed, prevent exporters from fraudulently increasing their invoice values when the quality of the fruit is inferior. The banker's foreign correspondent goes entirely by the marks, but regarding the quality of the fruit he does not know, as he must rely on the truthfulness of the exporter.

THE FAVORITE SALESMAN.

It makes no difference whether the store is large or small, people prefer to make purchases of their favorite salesman, says Ohio Merchant. He may be the proprietor, or he may be a clerk, but there is always hesitancy when a customer is called upon to buy of any but the favorite salesman. In the large city retail stores the ladies generally have a clerk in each department with whom they become familiar, and in whose statements they learn to have confidence. The same is true of the country store; the favorite salesman is found there also. It is not uncommon for death to remove from a familiar place a favorite salesman, and then the regrets are heard from those who sincerely miss the one who attended to their wants for years maybe. The ambition to please the patrons of the store is very laudable, and it is a position that every clerk can aspire to. The eulogies spoken by the plain country people when the favorite salesman steps from the ranks are often more eloquent in their homeliness than the polished sentences of the memorial service.

The writer's attention was once called to this by an incident that came within his observation. A merchant died suddenly, and a few days after the burial an old woman and her daughter called at the residence of the widow to express their sympathy in the hour of bereavement. There was the usual greeting, when the visitor said, "Bein's I was down I thought I would come in." Though ungrammatically expressed there was never a more sincere tender of sympathy made. It lacked polish, but it was honest, and as she spoke of the death of the man with whom she had transacted a good deal of business in the years that had passed, it was clearly apparent that he had left honest friends behind.

The heartfelt eulogy is the one that speaks the loudest. It may be ever so homely, but there is a ring to it that is a voucher for its sincerity. There is many a hard-working clerk in the land to-day who will some time have it said of him, "I shall miss him." That may be a simple statement, but it will be the guarantee to those who hear it that the work of some salesman was well done.

MARKETS AND MARKET NOTES

TORONTO MARKETS.

TORONTO, Jan. 10, 1895.

GROCERIES.

TRADE is again returning to its wonted channels. Travelers' orders are beginning to come in, and more local dealers are to be seen around the warehouses. The buying, however, is in small sorting-up lots, but business, on the whole, seems to be recovering from the holiday quietude in a more satisfactory manner than was anticipated it would. The unsettled condition of the sugar market is the predominating feature in trade, prices being practically without a basis. The long expected new season's Bosnia prunes are arriving this week. Foreign dried fruits are quiet at much about the same prices as previously quoted. Teas are beginning to attract a little more attention from the wholesale trade, but retailers' wants are still limited in this respect. Payments are fair.

CANNED GOODS.

Business is still only of a moderate character, and prices remain as before. There is no special feature to note. We quote: Tomatoes and corn, 85 to 90c.; peas, 80 to 85c.; peaches, $2.75 to $3 for 3's, $1.75 to $1.90 for 2's; raspberries, $1.65 to $1.80; strawberries, $1 to $2.10; apples, 3's, $1 to $1.10, gallons $2.20 to $2.65, and preserved fancy quarters at $1.35 to $1.40; salmon, $1.30 to $1.35 for good red fish in tall tins, and $1.50 to $1.60 in flat tins; do., second quality, $1.20 to $1.25; canned mackerel, $1 to $1.10; lobsters, $1.70 to $2 for tall tins, and $2.25 to $2.75 for flat tins.

COFFEES.

Fresh shipments of green Rio coffee have arrived on the market during the week, but stocks are nevertheless still light. Invoices are costing higher, and we quote slightly higher on the local market. We quote green, in bags, as follows: Rio, 21½c.; East Indian, 27 to 30c.; South American, 21 to 23c.; Santos, 21½ to 22½c.; Java, 30 to 32c.; Mocha, 27 to 28c.; Maracaibo, 21 to 23c.; Jamaica, 21 to 22c.

RICE.

Business is still of a moderate character with prices as before. We quote: "B," 3½ to 3¾c.; extra Japan, 5¼ to 5¾c.; imported Japan, 5¼ to 6¼c.; tapioca, pearl, 4½ to 5c.

SPICES.

Business continues quiet and featureless. We quote: Pure black pepper, 10 to 12c.; pure white, 18 to 25c.; pure Jamaica ginger, 25 to 27c.; cloves, 25 to 30c.; pure mixed spice, 25 to 30c.; cream of tartar, 20 to 25c. per lb.

NUTS.

Demand is almost nil. We quote as before: Brazil nuts, 11 to 11½c.; Sicily shelled almonds, 25 to 26c.; Tarragona almonds, 14 to 14½c.; peanuts, 10 to 12c. for roasted and 7 to 10c. for green; cocoanuts, $4.50 to $5 per sack; Grenoble walnuts, 15 to 16c.; Marbot walnuts, 12½ to 14c.; Bordeaux walnuts, 12 to 13c.; Sicily filberts, 9 to 10c. for sacks and 10½ to 11c. for small lots; pecans, 10½ to 11c.

SUGAR.

The condition of prices was probably never worse than it is to-day. Prices are lower, and still tending downwards. The primary cause of the decline is, of course, the determination of the refiners to try and keep out the German granulated article. One refinery, the St. Lawrence, is placing an off-grade granulated on the market for the special purpose of meeting the latter. There is a difference of opinion regarding the relative qualities of it and the German granulated. The agent of an opposition refinery expressed his opinion that it was superior, and a sample that THE GROCER saw was certainly not so tinged with blue as is the German granulated. As to its saccharine matter, we know nothing. Jobbers are quoting this off-grade sugar at 3¾c., while ordinary domestic granulated is quoted at 3¼ to 3½c. Yet sales are being made, it is asserted, at even lower figures than these. Yellow sugars have not declined to the same extent as granulated, and prices range from 3¼c. up. Further shipments of German granulated sugar are arriving this week. This sugar was ordered some six weeks ago, and as delivery has not been made as soon as anticipated, considerable dissatisfaction is heard, particularly as prices have since then declined materially, and jobbers will lose money on this shipment. Not much interest is being taken in Demerara raw sugars, and some of the wholesale houses express themselves against taking hold of them again. The idea for Demerara raw sugar is 2½ to 3c., and Muscavado 3c.

SYRUPS.

There is not much doing in syrups, and the little that is going out seems to be principally in the cheaper grades, at 23 to 28c. We quote: Dark, 25c.; medium, 28 to 30c.; bright, 35 to 40c.; very bright, 45 to 50c.

MOLASSES.

Dull and unchanged. We quote as follows: New Orleans, barrels, 26 to 28c.; half-barrels, 30½ to 32c.; Barbadoes, barrels, 28 to 32c.; half-barrels, 30 to 34c.

TEAS.

There is a little better movement in teas. The strength of Japan teas is the principal feature to note. While no change has taken place here, prices are higher in the United States. One New York house that usually has about 65,000 packages about this time is now holding but 15,000 packages. We quote ruling prices on the Toronto market as follows: Young Hysons, 12 to 18c. for low grade; 24 to 27c. for mediums, and 30 to 45c. for high grades; China Congous, 14 to 18c. for mediums and 35 to 55c. for high grades; Japans, 16 to 20c. for mediums; 28 to 35c. for high grades; Indians and Ceylons, 18 to 22c. for mediums and 30 to 45c. for high grades.

DRIED FRUITS.

Valencias are only in light demand. Selected fruit is still scarce. We quote good fruit as before: Off-stalk, 4 to 4¼c.; fine off-stalk, 4½ to 5c.; selected, 5½ to 6c.; layers, 6 to 6½c. We quote California loose muscatels at 5½ to 6½c.

Malaga raisins are dull and nominally unchanged. We quote: London layers, $2 to $2.25; black baskets, $2.90 to $3; blue baskets, $4 to $4.75; extra dessert clusters, $4; connoisseur clusters, $2.65 to $2.90; quarter flat connoisseur clusters, 90c. to $1.15; Royal Buckingham, $4.50 to $5.

Sultana raisins are 1s. higher in Smyrna, but there is no change here. Business is of the usual character. Quotations are: Ordinary, 4¾ to 5¼c.; good, 5½ to 6c.; fine, 6½ to 7c.; finest, 8 to 9c.

New season's Bosnia prunes are arriving this week, but they were not in time to enable us to get quotations. French prunes we quote as follows: E., 4¼c.; D., 5c.; C., 6c.; B., 7c.

There is not much doing in currants, and the little demand there is, is chiefly for the better grades. Quotations on the Toronto market are still as follows: Filiatras, half barrels, 4 to 4¼c., barrels, 4¼c.;

fine Filiatras, half barrels, 4¾c., barrels 4¾c.; Patras, 5½ in cases; Casalinas, 5½ to 6c.; Vostizzas, 6½ to 7½c. in cases and half cases; Panartes, 8 to 8½c.

Figs are dull at nominally unchanged prices. We quote: 14 oz., 8 to 9c.; 10 lb., 8 to 10c.; 18 lb., 12c.; 28 lb., 15c.; taps, 4¼ to 4½c.; naturals, 6 to 7c.

BUTTER AND CHEESE.

Low grade and medium butter is still plentiful, but choice butter is scarce. Large rolls are in liberal supply and demand is chiefly for them, but the majority of them are off flavor. Creamery butter is in fair demand only. Prices are much as before. We quote jobbing prices: Dairy—Choice tubs, selections, 16 to 17c.; low grade, 10 to 12c.; fresh pound rolls, 16 to 17c.; large rolls, 13 to 14c. Creamery—Tubs, summer makes, 17 to 19c.; winter makes, 21 to 22c.; pound prints, 21 to 23c.

GREEN FRUIT.

Since the close of the holiday season business has been very dull. The feature of the market is the high price of oranges, consequent on the destruction of the Florida crop by the recent heavy frosts. Both Floridas and Valencias will probably go higher still. We quote: Lemons—Floridas, 150's to 176's, $3 to $3.50 per box; Messinas, $3 to $3.50. Oranges—Floridas, $3.50 to $4; Valencias, $4.25 to $4.50; mandarins, $2.75 to $3 per half box; tangerines, $2.25 to $2.50 per half box; grape fruit, $4 to $4.50 per box. Bananas, $1.25 to $1.75 for firsts and seconds. Apples, winter fruit, $2.50 to $3 per bbl.; fall fruit, $1.75 to $2. Grapes—Malagas, $5.50 to $6.50 per keg. Cranberries, Jerseys, $12.50 to $13 per bbl. and $4 per box. California dried fruit—Apricots, 12¼c.; peaches, 12½ to 13c.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

BEANS—Business continues quiet at $1.40 for choice hand-picked and $1.20 to $1.35 for medium.

DRIED APPLES—The market is very dull and prices are much as before, jobbers getting 5 to 5¼c.

EVAPORATED APPLES—Are quoted at 7½c.

ONIONS—No sales of any extent. We quote: Domestic, 70 to 80c. per bag, and 70 to 75c. per crate; Spanish, 80 to 90c. per small crate, $2 per large crate; Valencia, $2.50 to $2.75 per case.

HONEY—Dull. We quote: Strained, in bulk, 9c.; comb, 14c. for clover and 10c. for buckwheat.

POTATOES—Are improving, 47c. being quoted on track and 53 to 55 out of store.

POULTRY—Very scarce and not much demand. Prices a little higher because of cold snap. We quote: Turkeys, 9 to 10c.; geese, 6 to 7c.; chickens, 35 to 50c. per pair; ducks, 40 to 70c.

EGGS—There is a fair demand at medium prices. We quote fresh at 16 to 17c. and limed at 12½ to 13c.

OATS—Steady. Offerings light at 34 to 34½c.

BARLEY—A little more animation in the market. We quote: 47 to 48½c.

FISH AND OYSTERS.

The demand for trout, whitefish, and sea fish is increasing. As foreshadowed by THE CANADIAN GROCER last week, oysters have taken a jump, owing to cold and stormy weather affecting the fishing on the coast. The probability is that they will be higher yet. We quote: Salmon trout, 7c.; white fish, 6½ to 7c.; skinned and boned cod fish, 6½c.; boneless fish, 3½ to 4c.; market cod, 4 to 5c.; tommy cod, $1.50; steak cod, 6 to 7c.; haddock, 4 to 5c.; Labrador herring, $2.25 to $2.50 per half keg and $5.50 to $5.75 per barrel; ditto, split, $2.75; fresh water salt herring, $3.25 per bbl.; blue-back herring, 4c.; blue pickerel, 4 to 5c. lb.; yellow ditto, 6 to 7c. per lb.; mackerel, 14c. each; pike, 5c. lb.; cod, 6c. per lb.; finnan haddies, 5½ to 7c.; Digby herring, in bundles of 5 boxes, 13c.; ditto, lengthwise, 12c.; large halibut, 10 to 13c.; ciscoes, $1.35 to $1.40. Oysters, $1.35 to $1.50 per gallon for standards and $1.70 to $1.80 for selects.

FLOUR AND FEED.

WHEAT—Business quiet and prices steady. We quote: White, 63c.; red, 62½c.; goose, 60½c.

FLOUR—Unchanged; market dull; prices firm. We quote: Ontario straight roller, $2.65 to $2.70; Manitoba, $3.60 to $3.65; patents, $3.75 to $3.90.

BREAKFAST FOODS—The oat market outside is strong, and as a result the price of oatmeal is firm. We quote: Standard oatmeal, $3.80, and granulated, $3.85; rolled oats, $3.75 to $3.80; rolled wheat, $2.10 in 100 lb. barrels; cornmeal, $3.50; split peas and pot barley, $3.75 per barrel.

The selected Valencias of Arguimbau brand, now in store with Lucas, Steele & Bristol, are said to be in first-class condition. The firm's stock of currants is reported to be a complete one, comprising half-cases, cases, half barrels, and barrels.

The Pure Gold Manufacturing Co. are placing "Golden Age" soap powder on the market in 5 and 10c. packages, as well as in 3-lb. packages.

"Lion Digestive Coffee," write T. B. Escott & Co., "is fast becoming a staple commodity amongst the leading storekeepers in the country."

The Toronto Salt Works sold during the past week: Three cars coarse, in bulk; one car Windsor, fine, in sacks; one car Windsor, in barrels; one assorted car of Windsor.

Clark Bros., of Glencoe, Ont., have ordered a number of large and improved grain scales from C. Wilson & Son, Toronto. They contemplate ordering more scales when warehouse is completed.

"We are getting some nice orders for Japan and Ceylon teas," write Lucas, Steele & Bristol. "At the moment we have a complete assortment, including a lot of early picked Japs—now unobtainable."

James A. Skinner & Co., 54 and 56 Wellington street west, have originated a new idea in advice cards for their travelers, showing the cuts of different patterns of important new goods as they arrive.

The Aylmer Canning Co. is putting its chicken soup on the market this season with a new and attractive label. The Eby, Blain Co. has a shipment of this soup to hand, and reports a good demand for the same.

J. S. Mitchell & Co., of Sherbrooke, Que., have just placed an extensive order with C. Wilson & Son, Toronto, for their Improved Sausage and Packing House machinery. This is the second order placed with the same firm.

The Pure Gold Mfg. Co. has decided to change the style of package of its baking powder. Hereafter it will only be put up in tins, the paper package being discontinued. "This," said a member of the firm, "is done to ensure us against the very close imitation, which has lately come upon the market, of our packages. We are making no advance in price, notwithstanding the extra cost entailed in the package."

The Florida agent for Clemes Bros., Toronto, writes his principals as follows: "The freeze was simply complete. There may be a few cars of light weight oranges sent to market, which the railways have agreed to carry at half rates. But 99 per cent. of the fruit was so badly frozen that it is now dropping from the trees in showers and covers the ground two or three feet deep with mushy rotten oranges."

Stewart Munn & Co., Montreal, have issued a very attractive calendar for 1895. The upper half shows a splendid view of one of their sailing vessels in Newfoundland waters, while the lower half has the usual monthly sheets affixed. The "fish days" for the year are marked with a fish in red ink, and as there are 365 of these markings, the users of the calendar will have a daily reminder of what their diet should be.

The importations of Valencia raisins from the opening of the crop year to date have been in round figures 400,000 boxes, of which quantity about 25 per cent. was transhipped across the border for consumption in Canada. Of the remainder about 200,000 boxes were distributed throughout our own country, as best estimates of the available stock in this market to-day do not exceed 100,000 boxes. Of the estimated stock of 100,000 boxes held in this market to-day, it is stated by those in a position to know that fully 60 per cent. consists of sound, good merchantable quality, the remaining 40 per cent. being classed as rain-damaged or inferior.—N. Y. Journal of Commerce.

Below are a few of the names of the wholesale houses who are carrying a full stock of Marshall & Co.'s Scotch fish delicacies: Toronto—Eby, Blain & Co., Ltd., Smith & Keighley, T. Kinnear & Co., Jas. Lumbers, F. W. Humphery. Hamilton—Balfour & Co., Jas. Turner & Co., Macpherson, Glassco & Co., Lucas, Steele & Bristol. London—Masuret & Co., Elliott, Marr & Co., A. M. Smith & Co., Ed. Adams & Co. MONTREAL MARKETS.

MONTREAL, Jan. 10, 1895.

GROCERIES.

BUSINESS in groceries has not as yet got out of its holiday dulness, but the movement of trade this week shows symptoms of widening, especially on Wednesday of last week, when several houses got in quite a lot of letter and travelers' orders. The travelers started out last week, and these orders that we refer to have been the first encouraging sign, so that the snow-storm must have done some good. Few changes are to note during the week, most of the leading staples remaining as they were. Sugar is the single exception, ruling unsettled, and it is just possible that refiners' prices may go still lower before the close of the week. Molasses and syrups maintain their firm tone, and the same is to remark about coffee and spices, while there has been more enquiry for tea from first hands during the past week, though the jobbing movement in this line continues quiet. Dried fruits are quiet, and the same can be said of canned goods, fish, etc. Provisions exhibit a firmer tone, and so do some lines of green fruit, especially oranges, which are scarce.

SUGAR.

The unsettled feeling in sugar leads to cautious buying all round, for both jobbers and retail dealers want to take advantage of any further decline if there is to be any. As noted elsewhere, there has been another decline of $\frac{1}{8}$ c. in refiners' prices, and values are firm, first hands ruling very easy. In fact, it would not be at all surprising if a further shading in prices did transpire before the end of the week. At present, local refiners are offering granulated at $3\frac{3}{8}$ to $3\frac{3}{4}$ c. as to quantity, and yellows $2\frac{3}{4}$ to $3\frac{3}{8}$ c. In some cases the decline has been conceded by jobbers, but the majority of the latter still hold to the old price of 4c. for granulated, though they are selling domestic yellows at or near the cost price—viz., $2\frac{3}{4}$ to $3\frac{3}{8}$ c. as to quality. In beet sugar the German article is being jobbed out from second hands at $3\frac{3}{4}$ c. for extra granulated and $3\frac{1}{2}$ c. for lower grades, and the same prices apply to Berthier stock.

SYRUPS.

There is not much activity to note in the syrup market, demand being quiet on the whole. The market, however, is very scantily supplied, and prices, as a result, are very firmly held. Very little business in a large way has been put through since our last, but in a round way from the factory we quote 2 to $2\frac{1}{4}$ c. on bright goods and $1\frac{3}{4}$ to $1\frac{1}{8}$ c. on darker descriptions. There is very little to note in American syrup, which we quote nominally unchanged at 20 to 21c.

MOLASSES.

The firm tone that has characterized the molasses market for over a month past is well maintained, though the market has ruled quiet this week. We quote 29 to 30c. for ordinary transactions, and do not hear of any large lots changing hands since our last. One of the largest holders states, however, that he could not shade much on the inside figure mentioned above, even if the order was for a large quantity, for the very good reason that his stock is not a heavy one.

RICE.

There has been no special line to note in the rice market, which continues quiet and steady as before. We quote: Japan standard, $4.25 to $4.40; crystal Japan, $4.75 to $5; standard B, $3.45; English style, $3.30; Patna, $4.25 to $5, and Carolina at $6.50 to $7.50.

SPICES.

There has been no special development in the spice market, which continues quiet, as last noted. We quote: Penang black pepper, $6\frac{1}{2}$ to $7\frac{1}{2}$ c., white pepper, 10 to $12\frac{1}{2}$ c.; cloves, $7\frac{1}{2}$ to 9c.; cassia, 9 to 10c.; nutmegs, 60 to 90c.; Jamaica ginger, 15 to 22c.

COFFEES.

Though there has been no actual change as yet, more enquiry has been noted, and sellers expect the demand to open out again in wider proportions. Prices are steady and unchanged. We quote: Maracaibo, 20½ to 22.; Rio, 20½ to 22c.; Java, 26 to 30c.; Mocha, 28 to 31c., and Jamaica, 18 to 25c.

TEA.

The tea market has shown some life during the past week, though it is not of a very pronounced character. Further enquiry from New York resulted in sales of some 1,500 packages; low grade Japan teas at 12½c., and there has been some enquiry from local jobbers for goods that would average about 15 to 16c. Some demand is also to note for both Congous and Gunpowders from first hands. The distributing trade from second hands has been very small during the week; indeed, there has been hardly any business doing in this connection. We quote: Japans, low grades, 12 to 13c.; medium, 14 to 17c.; fine, 18½ to 32c., and choice, 24 to 31c.

DRIED FRUIT.

There has been a very quiet trade in this line since the holiday demand was satisfied, and there is little to report. In Valencia raisins prices are unchanged, and jobbers no doubt can replace supplies at former rates if they find that any is wanted when they have got through with their stock taking. The same remarks apply to California fruit. We quote: Off-stalk Valencias, ordinary, 4 to 4½c.; selected, 5 to 5½c.; layers, 5½ to 6c.; sultanas, 5½ to 7½c.; California, 3-crown loose muscatels, 5½ to 6c.; 4-crown ditto, 7½c. Second crop Californias ½c. less than first crop.

There is little or no change in currants, which continue steady, meeting a very quiet demand. We quote: Filiatras and Provincials, 3 to 3¾c. in bbls., and 3½ to 4c. in cases; Patras, 4½ to 5c., and Vostizas 7c.

There is a rather easier feeling in prunes, Bordeaux being available at 4c., while Bosnia are quoted at 4½c.

Figs are steady and quiet under a moderate jobbing enquiry. Bag figs sell at a range of 5 to 6c., and box figs all the way from 8 to 16c., according to quality.

Dates are rather easier, and the range of values is lower, at 4½ to 5c. in wholesale lots.

NUTS.

This market has assumed the quiet aspect that always follows the holiday demand. Prices, in some cases, are rather easier in tone. We quote as follows: Tarragona almonds, 12½ to 13c.; filberts, 7½ to 8c.; Brazil nuts, 11c.; pecans, small, 10c.; medium, 13c., and extra, 15c.; Grenoble walnuts, 13½ to 14c., and Naples do., 13½c.; peanuts, 7 to 9c. for roasted and 6 to 8c. for raw.

CANNED GOODS.

There has been little doing in canned goods, the enquiry both from jobbers and from retailers being small. No change in price is to note, values generally ruling steady, as follows: Lobsters, per case, $6.50; sardines, $8.50 to $9.50; salmon, $1.35 to $1.40 per doz; tomatoes, 90 to 95c. per doz.; peaches, $2 to $2.10 per doz.; corn, 95c. to $1 per doz., and marrowfat peas, 85 to 90c. per doz.; strawberries, $2.75 per doz., and raspberries, $1.80 to $2.50; 1-gallon can apples, $2.10; Australian canned meats: 1-lb. can boiled mutton, $1.80 to $1.90; 2-lb. can do., $3.10 to $3.15; 1-lb. can roast mutton, $2.05 to $2.10; 2-lb. can do., $3.35 to $3.40; 1-lb. can corned mutton, $2.05 to $2.20; 2-lb. can do., $3.35 to $3.40.

FISH.

The fish market has ruled fairly active during the week, which, considering the season of the year, is regarded as satisfactory. Orders both on city and country account have kept coming in, and it is a good thing, for never was the stock of fish larger at this season than it is at present. In fact, prices are greatly nominal, for holders hardly care to refuse any reasonable offer that is made to them. This applies to all lines of fish, with the single exception of Labrador salmon, which continue very scarce and firmly held. In a large way the volume of business has been small, and the only sales reported are one lot of 175 barrels of No. 2 Nova Scotia herrings at $3.15, and 25 barrels of Labrador salmon at $13.50. In a jobbing way No. 1 Nova Scotia herrings continue to sell at $4 to $4.50, No. 1 green cod at $4 to $4.25, No. 2 at $3, and No. 1 green haddock at $3 to $3.15, No. 1 Labrador salmon at $14, B.C. salmon at $11.50, and sea trout at $10 per barrel. Choice fresh herrings, medium size, are moving freely at $1 per 100, and large at $1.25. Tommy cods are plentiful and selling at $1 to $1.25 per barrel. Fresh haddock are lower at 3½c. per lb., cod at 3 to 3½c., and steak cod at 4½c. Smelts are also cheaper at 3 to 4½c., mackerel at 10c., halibut at 11c., white fish at 6c., and pike at 4 to 4½c. per lb. The demand for smoked fish is limited, and finnan haddies are easier at 6½ to 7c. per lb.

GREEN FRUIT.

APPLES—The dull feeling in these continues without any symptoms of improvement. We quote $2 to $2.50 per barrel.

ORANGES—This fruit exhibits a very firm disposition, and advices both on Florida stock and Mediterranean fruit are firm in their tenor. Floridas sold higher this week, and are now quoted firm at a range of $4 to $4.50, while Valencias are held for $4.50 and Messinas $2 to $3. Jamaica stock is offering at $6 to $7 per bbl.

LEMONS—The lemon market continues steady, with values maintained, and we quote $2.50 to $3.50.

PINEAPPLES—Only a few offering, and they sell at 25c. each.

CRANBERRIES—The market is almost bare of these, except some damaged goods, and prices are firmly held at $13 to $14 per bbl., while frozen are offered at $8 per bbl.

GRAPES—The supply of Almeria grapes is very light, and prices are firmly held at a range of $5.50 to $6.50.

SPANISH ONIONS—Supplies of Spanish onions are down to a few odd crates here, and these are held at $1 per crate.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

EGGS—Demand for eggs is slow, and the market quiet and easy at 17 to 19c. for held fresh and 12 to 14c. for limed per doz.

POULTRY—Business is quiet, as supplies generally are ample. The tone, however, is fairly steady, and we quote: Turkeys sold at 8 to 9c., chickens at 6 to 7c., geese at 5 to 6c., and ducks at 8c. per lb.

GAME—Continues quiet and steady. Offerings are fair, but the demand is limited. Partridges sell at 50c. for No. 1, and 30c. for No. 2 per brace, and venison at 9 to 10c., by the saddle.

DRESSED HOGS—The market remains much the same, the feeling being firm, while prices are unchanged at $5.35 to $5.50 per 100 lbs. for car lots, and $5.60 to $5.75 in a small way.

POTATOES—Meet a slow sale, at 53c. on the track, and 60c. by the load. In a jobbing way the demand is quiet, at 65c. per bag.

ONIONS—Demand for onions is dull, but prices are steady at $1.75 to $2 per bbl.

HONEY—Market unchanged at 4½ to 5½c. per lb. for old, and 7 to 9c. for new extracted. Comb honey steady, at 10 to 13c.

BEANS—This market is the same, hand-picked stock fetching $1.30 to $1.45 per bush, and poor to medium $1.10 to $1.20.

HOPS—Dull and unchanged, at 6½ to 8c., as to quality.

PROVISIONS.

The provision market is rather firmer in tone, though no actual change has as yet taken place in jobbing quotations. One of the leading packers has notified jobbers, however, of an advance of 50c. on certain grades of porks. We quote: Canadian short cut, heavy, $15.50 to $16; Canadian short cut, light, $14.50 to $15; hams, city cured, per lb., 9 to 11½c.; lard, Canadian, in pails, 9½ to 10½c.; bacon, per lb., 9 to 11½c.; lard, com. refined, per lb., 7 to 8c.

CHEESE AND BUTTER.

The cheese market continues as dull as ever. There is no change in the tenor of advices from the other side, and, unless the demand soon improves, it looks as though holders would have to submit to a still further modification in their prices. At present we repeat our range of 9¼ to 10¼c., the outside being an extreme.

The butter market remains dull, with business narrow and the tone easy. For fine parcels of fall creamery 20½c. is about as high as buyers will concede, and business has been done for less. In dairy stock, western rolls change hands from 15 to 16c., and the small lots of Townships that arrive meet a quiet demand at about 18c.

FLOUR AND MEAL.

The feature of the flour market is the improved demand from abroad for Manitoba patent, and large sales are reported on Glasgow account for shipment via New York. Cables are firm and full prices realized. There was also a good enquiry from local buyers, and a fair amount of business. We quote: Winter wheat, $3.50 to $3.75; spring wheat, patents, $3.50 to $3.65; straight roller, $2.85 to $3; extra, $2.65 to $2.70; superfine, $2.50 to $2.60; Manitoba strong bakers', $3.40 to $3.75.

In feed business was quiet, the demand being only for small lots at steady prices. We quote: Ontario bran, $15 to $15.50; Manitoba bran, $16; shorts, $17; mouillie, $20 to $22.

The demand for oatmeal in small lots was fair, and a moderately active business was done at about quotations. We quote : Standard, bbls., $3.70 to $3.75; granulated, bbls., $3.80 to $3.85; rolled oats, bbls., $3.90 to $3.95.

ASHES.

Receipts of ashes are light, and the market quiet but rather firmer. We quote : First pots at $4.10; seconds at $3.70 to $3.75, and pearls at about $6.50 per 100 lbs.

MONTREAL TRADE NOTES.

The light stock of both domestic and American svrup here is attracting some attention.

Caverhill, Hughes & Co. have just to hand this week a large and choice assortment of "Unicorn" prunes.

The Laing Packing Company have notified the jobbing trade here of an advance of 50c. on their brands of pork, etc.

Travelers started out at the close of last week, and the first good returns from them came to hand on Tuesday and Wednesday last.

New York buyers took away from this market about 1,500 packages of low grade Japan teas during the past week on the basis of 12½c.

Canadian refiners have been purchasing cargo lots of raw cane sugars lately, but they are now holding off in the expectation of lower prices.

California advices to fruit dealers here state that over three million boxes of oranges have been frozen on the trees in the Californian orange groves.

A. P. Tippet & Co. note the arrival of the first consignment of new season Silver Pan marmalade, for which they have been receiving a large enquiry.

A sample of the Berthier beetroot granulated sugar was shown THE GROCER this week, which certainly bears comparison with the German sugar. Its jobbing price is 3¾c.

The stock of Almeria grapes on this market is very light, and there are no fresh supplies near at hand on the way. A couple of McGill street firms are the principal holders of what there is.

NEW BRUNSWICK MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE CANADIAN GROCER,

ST. JOHN, N.B., Jan. 10, 1895.

PERHAPS no week is more quiet than the first after New Year's day. But better things are expected in the second week, though the improvement is not as great as we would want to see. It is splendid weather for frozen fish business, and gives a look of animation to the wharves where these goods are handled. There is a great difference between the appearance of the market slip; now and in the summer; then they are full of schooners, but now they are bare, except for a few small vessels unloading frozen fish. The chief interest in the market centres around sugar, which is being offered at prices never before thought of. In flour the market continues to be strong, particularly in Manitoba grades.

SALT—Demand is light. Another vessel discharged this week. She had on board about 2,200 bags. She came via Boston. This is the second vessel unloading in the past few weeks, making the arrivals about 4,000 bags. This is, however, a small stock, as they came to a bare market. The bulk of this cargo has been put in store awaiting the spring demand. We quote: Liverpool coarse, 58 to 60c.; fine factory filled, 90c. to $1; 5-lb. bags $3 per bbl.; 10-lb. bags, $2 80 per bbl.; wood boxes, 20 lb. each, 20c.; 10 lb. each, 12c.

CANNED GOODS—In common with other goods, these show light demand, but prices continue firmer for the season. The demand for vegetables is fair and a rather better inquiry is being made for fruits. Stocks are not large in many lines; further purchases will have to be made to meet the demand. The sale of canned oysters during the past season has not been so good as in the previous one. We quote: Peas, 90c.; corn, 95c.; tomatoes, $1 to $1.05; new gallon apples, $2.40; peaches, 3's, $2.65 to $2.75; 2's, $2; oysters, 2's, $2.15 to $2.20; 1's, $1.50 to $1.60; salmon, $1.35 to $1.40; lobsters, $1.75 to $2; haddies, $1.40; clams, $5 50 per 4 doz. case; scallops, $5.50 per 4 doz. case; chowder, $3.50 per 2 doz. case.

DRIED FRUIT—Now that the holidays are over there is little demand, particularly in raisins. Stocks are, however, light, particularly London layers, except those in small boxes. A large number of these ordered for the Christmas trade arrived late, and, therefore, stocks of that class are larger than wished for by the holders. In dates the feeling is rather stronger, though no advance has been made in prices here. Prunes show no change. Dried and evaporated apples are dull. The trade in nuts is now quiet. Peanuts are offered rather lower. The crop this year is a fair one, and although the nuts are small the quality is good. We quote: Valencia raisins, 4¼ to 4½c.; Valencia layers, 5¼ to 5½c.; London layers, $2.25; California loose muscatels, 5½ to 6c.; currants, 3¼ to 3½c. in bbls., and 3¼ to 4c. in half cases; evaporated apples, 8½ to 9c.; dried apples, 5¼ to 6¼c.; dates, 4¼ to 4½c.; prunes, 5 to 5½c.; figs, 11 to 18c.; cleaned currants, 1-lb. cartoons, 6¼ to 7c.

GREEN FRUIT—The demand for apples continues light. Bishop pippins are keeping so poorly that every fine day some are offered by auction, but they only bring about 80c. The retailers report that the continued auctions have very much hurt their trade. A better price and demand are expected for hard fruit. Florida oranges, owing to the large numbers reported damaged by frost, have taken a sudden jump of about $1, and just now the prospects are for higher prices. Other goods remain the same. Malaga grapes are about out of the market. Prices are as follows: Florida oranges, $4 to $4 15; Valencias, $4.50 per case; West India, repacked, $4 to $4.25 per bbl.; apples, soft fruit, $1 to $1.75; hard, $2 to $2.75; lemons, $4.50 to $5; Malaga grapes, $5 to $6 per keg; cider, 25c. per gal.

DAIRY PRODUCE—Some Canadian butter is being offered in this market, but owing to the low price and large quantity to hand of our own province make very little business is being done. Demand for all grades of butter is slow. Quite a large quantity of Prince Edward's Island creamery, pound prints, is being sold here, and gives good satisfaction. Cheese continues quiet, but outlook is fair. Eggs are in light demand. Creamery, prints, 24 to 25c.; creamery, tubs, 21 to 22c.; dairy, tubs, 18 to 20c.; cheese, 10½ to 11c.; eggs, 18 to 19c.

MOLASSES—Stocks are light, with rather better demand. Prices are firm, and a further advance is looked for. Were it not for a few goods offering here from the States, prices would have to go much higher. The demand for syrup is much lighter than last year. We quote: Barbadoes, 32c.; Porto Rico, casks or barrels, 32c.; Antigua, 30c.; fancy Porto Rico, 43 to 44c.; syrup, 30 to 35c.

SUGAR—Prices continue at the low quotations of last week. Very little German granulated is yet in this market, though quite a quantity is bought to arrive this month. The low price of our own, and the fact that most people consider it much the best sugar, is affecting the sale of the foreign article. Yellows are rather lower than last week. Very little money has been made in this market by buying sugars ahead. It is believed that quite a quantity of sugar is bought for future delivery in this market, at a fair profit, above the price now asked. We quote: Granulated, $3.80 to $3.90; German granulated, 3¼c.; yellows, 3¼ to 3½c.; powdered, 6c.; Paris lump, 6c.

FISH—The tone of the market is strong, particularly in dry cod. The principal demand is for mediums, the price of which, it is expected, will take another advance during the week. There is also expected to be a much better demand for frozen fish during the coming week. Few of these goods have so far come forward, but should there be the demand the feeling here is that there would soon be the supply. The fishermen report good catches. We quote: Large cod, $3.90; medium, $3.75; small, $3.25; pollock, $1.65 to $1.75; hake, $1.75; shad, $5 to $5.50; Shelburne, No. 1, bbls., $4; half-bbls., $2.25; Shelburne, No. 2, bbls., $3; half-bbls., $1.75; bay herring, $1.50 in half-bbls.; Grand Manan, bbls., $3; smoked haddies, 30c.; boxes, 47 to 54c.; frozen cod, 2½c.; pollock, 2c.; herring, 60 to 65c. per 100; smoked herring, 7½c.

PROVISIONS—Demand quiet and prices easy. We quote: Clear pork, $18.50 to $19; P.E.I. mess, $16.50 to $17; P.E.I.

BETTER PROFITS are made by selling our fish. We are fishermen and ship direct from boat or curing house to your place. Two or three middlemen's profits are thus saved. We have every kind of fish. WRITE US.

prime mess, $13 to $13.50; plate beef, $13 to $13.50; pure lard, 9¼ to 10; compound lard, 8½ to 9c.; cottolene, 9¼ to 10¼c.

FLOUR AND FEED.

Everything is very quiet. Manitoba is firm at higher prices. The tone of Ontario was rather easier during the past week, though there was no change in prices. The demand for middlings continues good, with prices rather higher. Bran is also firm, having advanced slightly in the west. Cornmeal and oatmeal continue quiet. Oats are rather easy, buyers here not caring to pay the price asked by Ontario sellers. We quote: Manitoba, flour, $4.30 to $4.50; best Ontario, $3.50 to $3.60; medium, $3.35 to $3.40; oatmeal, $3.90 to $4; cornmeal, $3 to $3.10; granulated, $3.50 to $3.60; middlings, $2.1; bran $17.50 to $18; oats, on track, 37 to 38c.; local, Ontario, 41 to 42c. Beans, $1.45 to $1.55; split peas, $3.65 to $3.85; round, $3.65 to $3.75; pot barley, $4; hay, on track, $9.50 to $10.50.

ST. JOHN MARKET NOTES.

Northrup & Co. have secured a lot of canned blueberries, 2-lb., which they offer at very low prices.

Merritt Bros. & Co. received a large number of small boxes London layers this week. They were intended for holiday trade.

THE GROCER is pleased to report Mr. G. W. L. Slipp, though still unable to attend to business, is much better than last week.

The fruit stores of Law & Co. and Mr. Welsh were damaged by fire during the past week. The loss was covered by insurance.

Theo. H. Estabrooks, tea importer, talking to THE GROCER this week, said that demand was improving, and that though no change had taken place in price the market was firm, and that as spring advanced he thought higher prices would rule.

The St. John importers who have goods in the steamer Boston City are feeling blue, as she is reported to have made considerable water on account of extra rough passage. She has for this port a large quantity of cement, tea, dates, cream of tartar, etc.

Some molasses arriving here from the States has been held by the Customs for some two weeks. First it was held that certain affidavits were necessary before entry could be passed. When these were produced the question was raised that West India molasses could not be imported from New York under the 1½c. duty, and for that reason they would not pass the goods without further information from Ottawa. It is strange these things cannot be made plain in the tariff, or at least prompt decision come from Ottawa. There is no doubt the importers have been unfairly treated in this matter. They should not have to wait two weeks to know what the law is.

NOVA SCOTIA MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE CANADIAN GROCER,

HALIFAX, Jan. 10, 1895.

BUSINESS in the city is very good, considering the season. Travelers have started out, but no reports have been received from the provincial trade since the holiday trade closed. New Year's collections are reported fairly good. Merchants are wondering when sugar will touch rock bottom. It continues to go down, down, and the past week saw a further decline of ¼c. The tea trade remains about the same as during the past three weeks, as far as Chinas are concerned, although cheap grades are quoted a fraction higher. There is good call for Ceylons and Indias. English advices report the London market much stiffer. No decline is anticipated in this market before the new crop comes in, as stocks are very low. Blended brands have advanced slightly, in sympathy with Ceylons and Indias.

The reports of the entire destruction of the Florida orange crop are not believed here by dealers. They say that they have heard reports of that nature before which never panned out. Telegrams were received from Montreal yesterday, asking for quotations for Florida fruit. No big advance is looked for here, as the people are noted for doing without fruit rather than pay tall prices. Present stocks are low.

GREEN FRUIT—The quotations are: Oranges—Floridas, $3 to $3.50; Valencias, $4.50; Jamaicas, $5.50 to $6. Some extra new Messina lemons sold at $3.50 and $4 to-day.

APPLES—Are very plentiful, and there is no demand. For some reason or other they are proving very poor keepers.

BREADSTUFFS—Naturally at this season of the year the trade in breadstuffs is quiet. The trade of the city depends on outport movement, and the weather is against the movement of vessels. The prices of Manitoba flours are very firm, and although two advances of 25c. each have taken place during the past six weeks, a further advance is reported under consideration. Ontarios are very quiet and slightly easier, on account of a miller here and there wishing to realize, making a small cut in current rates. Oatmeal and cornmeal are steady; oats firm, with but little trade in any one of these articles. Mill feeds are steady and quiet. Manitoba patents are held by the millers at $4.30; Ontario patents, $3.25 to $3.40, according to grade; straight grades, $3.10 to $3.20; middlings, $2.0 to $2.1, including sacks; bran, $18.75 to $19; oatmeal and rolled oats, $3.80; cornmeal, $3 to $3.05. Jobbers' prices are considerably higher in all lines. Trade is expected to look up after the middle of the month, if the weather is favorable.

FISH STUFFS—The fish trade is anything but brisk. Mackerel, what small stocks there are in the market, are bringing high prices. There is a good demand for large grocery cod, also Cape Breton July herring and large fat eastern do. Frozen herring are away down—lower than ever before known. They are only bringing 45 and 50c., whereas last year their lowest touch was 90c. The supply is not large, but there is no demand. There is rather an unsettled feeling in the dry fish market on account of the possibility of Newfoundland fish being thrown upon the market. No. 1 salmon are being sold at $19, the highest notch reached for years. General quotations, tol quol, are: Newfoundland and hard shore cod, $3.75; bay and bank cod, small, $3 to $3.25; do. large, $4 to $4.25; large grocery cod, $5; fall split herring, $2.50; alewives, $2.75.

PROVISIONS—There is quite an advance in beef, caused mainly by the small stocks of poultry. The supply, however, is ample. Best quality beef is worth $7.50 to $8.50. Canadian can be landed here for $6 and $6.50 for medium and $7 for choice. Lambs are scarce at 7c. Some frozen stock is expected. Mutton is worth $6, sinking pelts. Hams are worth 12c. and bacon 13c.

POULTRY—Poultry is scarce, especially chickens. Turkeys are quoted at 12c. and 13c. per lb.; chickens, 60 and 70c. per pair; geese, 70 and 80c. each.

BUTTER—The market in butter is weak. Some Canadian rolls are offered at the factory at 15c. The temporary loss of the Newfoundland market is being much felt in this line. Quotations are: Dairy, 17c.; choice do., 19c.; creamery in tubs, 22c.; do. prints, 25c.

CHEESE—The trade in cheese is quiet. September is quoted at 11¼c. and early at 11c.

EGGS—Eggs are moving slowly. Good fresh stocks are quoted at 25c., held stocks at 17c., and cured stocks at 15c.

POTATOES—There is little or nothing doing in potatoes. Blues are quoted at 32 to 35c. Reports from Boston are not encouraging.

DRIED FRUITS AND NUTS—There is absolutely nothing doing in nuts, and very little in dried fruits. Raisins are quoted at: Valencias, fine in stock, 4½ to 4¾c.; Valencias, layers, 5½ to 6c. There is no enquiry for Malagas.

HALIFAX MARKET NOTES.

P. M. Jenkins, produce dealer, goes to Newfoundland to look after his interests there. He sent down several cargoes before the crash, and expects to be a heavy loser.

The Yarmouth Creamery Company will hold a meeting to consider the advisability of putting in a cheese-making plant.

Contracts for supplies for the Insane Asylum and Provincial Hospital have been awarded as follows: Groceries, Dillon Bros; butter, Proctor & Smith. T. Pentiles, Jr., Dartmouth, has the contract for supplying the county poor farm with groceries.

TO REGULATE PEDLARS.

The Quebec Government bill to amend the license law relating to pedlars was adopted by the Legislature on Monday last. This new bill empowers municipalities to levy taxes upon wandering pedlars in any sum up to $100. In connection with its passage in the House, Hon. Mr. Taillon said that, should the bill have the desired effect of putting an end to pedlars carrying on a business in the province, it would mean a loss of $12,000 to the Provincial treasury. Mr. Fitzpatrick stated that a Mr. Vineberg, in Quebec city, pays as much as $3,000 for licenses.

PERSONAL MENTION.

John T. James, merchant, International Bridge, Ont., was elected reeve of that municipality on Monday last. Mr. James is a man with brains, and the people of International Bridge, as well as the successful candidate, are to be congratulated.

Edward Bowes, of the firm of Hagaman & Jull, Ridgetown, spent the New Year with friends in St. Thomas.

G. L. Davis, who is well-known to the trade on the old T. G. & B. branch of the C. P. R., is going out on that route for J. W. Lang & Co. with samples of groceries. Owen Sound, Teeswater, and other important towns on the line of railway are included in his territory.

CHEESE EXPORTS AND STOCK.

The exports of cheese to date from Montreal since the close of navigation aggregate 50,340 boxes to London, 57,902 to Liverpool, and 12,593 boxes to Bristol, making a total of 120,835 boxes. There is considerable speculation regarding the stock in Canada on the first of the year. Of course, no absolutely accurate data is available, but the stock in Montreal is approximated at 120,000 boxes, 30,000 between Montreal and Toronto, and 100,000 odd in the district west of Toronto, or 250,000 boxes in Canada altogether. Last year the stock in Canada was placed at 150,000 to 180,000 boxes, or 30,000 boxes less. The stock in Liverpool also on the first of the year is 39,000 boxes in excess of that on January 1, 1894, being 122,000 boxes against 83,000 in 1894.

HE DISCUSSED SUGAR.

At the meeting of the Colonial Bank in London, England, last week, the chairman, Mr. Harry Hankey Dobree, referred to the condition of the sugar market, saying that the price per ton was £6 below the normal standard, and that this was the lowest price ever touched. This fall in price, he added, will mean an actual loss on the beet crop of Germany, which is estimated at 2,000,000 tons, of £5,000,000, which showed conclusively, said Mr. Dobree, that the action of foreign governments in giving bounties had not been of benefit to the sugar industry generally. Prices, he continued, had not reached a point at which sugar could be grown at a profit, so there should be an early advance in prices. With the exception of the sugar industry, Mr. Dobree also said the position of the West Indies was generally flourishing.

CALIFORNIA ORANGE CROP.

It is said that from present indications the yield of oranges in California this season will run from 6,000 to 6,250 car loads, which means from 1,800,000 to nearly 2,000,000 boxes. This size crop is 300,000 boxes shorter than last year, and it is said the shortage will be confined principally to the seedling variety. Navels run heavier in yield than last season.

STORE RULES.

AN army is exactly what its leader is, says American Grocer. If a strict disciplinarian, a devotee of tactics, a thorough drill master, it will be a perfect human machine like the German Army. If the commander lacks military effectiveness, disregards details, is lax in enforcement of orders, the rank and file will be sleeping on their posts, neglecting duty, and inattentive to the care of arms, etc. It is just so with a store. If the proprietor has at heart the interests of his business, is enthusiastic, on hand early, late and all the time, is master of his calling, takes a pride in store service, his clerks will be like him or else they are good for nothing.

Written rules may be necessary; certainly are in establishments having a large number of men, but whether it is best to have printed rules in a store employing a few men, is a matter of controversy. The general opinion is to enforce unwritten rules by example and precept. A firm of enterprising grocers issues a cardboard folder to its employees which reads as follows:

RULES FOR BUSINESS CONDUCT.

1. All inside employees, except cashier, required to be on hand at 7 o'clock a.m. sharp, and immediately proceed to business at their respective places. Cashier to report at 8 o'clock sharp. Store opens at 7 o'clock a.m. and closes at 6 p.m., with the exception of Saturday, which night store remains open until 10 o'clock. During holiday season or on exceptional occasions all employees are expected to report for duty after regular business hours, if necessary.

2. One hour only allowed for meals. No employee will receive pay for services not rendered. Each one must stand his own loss of time.

3. No smoking or expectorating tobacco juice by employees permitted in our building.

4. Loud talking, laughing or whistling in the salesroom by employees is strictly forbidden. When clerks are conversing together, they must not do so loud enough to attract attention.

5. Arguments between clerks and customers or between employees will not be allowed. Arguing strike questions and political discussions are unnecessary in the salesroom, and often serve to create a bad feeling. Therefore, all are requested to refrain from such argument.

6. There is always something to be done in a store; no time should be wasted. Business now is concentrated into the hours between 7 a.m. and 7 p.m., and every moment needs to be improved. Therefore, we cannot allow visiting with companions who may come in, reading, or anything that will divert from business.

7. "Be methodical if you would succeed in business, or in anything." "A man for every place, and every man in his place."

The duties of each employee will be distinctly stated, and each employee will be held responsible for the performance of those duties.

8. Customers must be served in their regular turn. No deviation from this rule will be permitted unless you have a sufficiently good reason, and then only after having received permission from the other customer. All, whether rich or poor, must alike have the right kind of attention and treatment.

9. Employees purchasing goods must fill out a regular order blank (or have one filled out), and have the goods put up and checked by the order clerk, the same as any other customer, whether the goods are to be delivered by wagon or not. Five per cent. discount allowed from regular retail prices.

10. No employee allowed to pay out money from the cash drawer for any purpose whatever, except they be authorized by one of the proprietors.

11. If through carelessness of employees in store, or delivery clerks, goods or any other articles belonging to the business are lost, destroyed, broken or damaged, the loss must be borne by the employee. No merchant ought to stand losses through carelessness of all his employees. (This does not include unavoidable accidents).

12. Employees are not allowed to make a practice of eating confectionery, chewing gum, fruits, and other expensive goods out of stock. The aggregate amount consumed by a large number of employees during a year would astonish one, and is more of a loss than the business can stand in these days of keen competition.

13. Delivery clerks are not allowed to take persons on the wagons for a ride while delivering goods. The only exception to this rule would be in the case of a customer or his children going to or from our store. Neither do we allow companions to occupy your time while at the stables.

14. Once each week on Wednesday night, between the hours of six and seven o'clock, our store floor must be cleared of all goods and scrubbed or mopped. All inside employees (except lady cashiers) who have been on duty that day are required to help. No excuse will be accepted.

15. Each salesman shall have certain stated shelf and counter space to arrange and keep clean at odd moments. Every shelf must be dusted and faced up full each morning.

16. Employees must exercise great care in weighing goods; neither short nor over weight will be allowed. Scales must be cleaned and balanced every morning. No guessing at measures, such as scooping up a quart measure half full for a pint, or shovelling a bushel basket half full for a half bushel. Your time is paid for and we want you to take time enough to do everything right.

17. Delivery clerks must examine wagons carefully every morning to see if any repairs are needed, so that delay shall not occur while on the routes. Horses must be shod before 8 a.m., if needed that day.

18. In taking orders, see that the carbon paper is straight and even between order-sheets. Write each article plainly. Use abbreviations only when necessary, and then so that it will surely be understood. Use sharp pencil and bear down sufficiently hard to get a plain duplicate. Every order must have date, initials or name of customer in full, street and number, and salesman's letter; otherwise you will be required to re-write it. Make no promises to customers that you do not know the house can keep. Each one is held accountable for any trouble arising through his failing to observe any of the above points. Order-sheets and cash checks must be perfectly separated along perforated lines.

19. Every employee in the house is expected to do his utmost in the way of saving. Use only the right sized sacks and paper. Use enough twine to make the package secure, but no more. Turn gas low in cellar after using. Be careful not to leave "odds and ends" when cutting cheese, bacon, butter, etc. Keep potatoes shoveled up clean in bins. Save nails and cord when practicable. Pick up all sacks and paper which may drop on the floor, before they become soiled. See that goods do not get out of place, and so neglected and spoiled.

20. We must all improve in our manner of wrapping up packages and having them securely tied. Nothing evidences more the character and tone of a merchant and the store than the style of packages sent out.

21. Much depends on the treatment that customers get at the hands of clerks as well as proprietors, whether we please or hold their trade. Each one is required to treat politely each one, young or old, rich or poor, under all circumstances, who enters our store. No impatience or incivility toward any one will be allowed. This rule will apply also among employees.

NEW YORK'S COFFEE SALES.

The year's sales on the Coffee Exchange were 4,615,750 bags, as compared with 5,880,250 in 1893, showing a decrease of 1,261,500 bags. The highest price for futures during the year was in January, when the current month sold at 17.15c, and the lowest in October, when May delivery sold at 10.75c. Margins to the extent of $11,649,760 were deposited, seventeen new members were elected, and four deaths occurred. The year was a conspicuous one, as no failures were reported. There were forty meetings of the Board of Managers and five meetings of the exchange. The exchange expects to move into its new building on Pearl and Beaver streets, and which is rapidly approaching completion, about March 1, 1895. The financial condition of the exchange has improved during the year.

A GOOD NEW YEAR TO ALL

SUCCESS AND TUTTI FRUTTI.

SUCCESS frequently depends on small things. Without exception, the testimony of every successful man is that success really hinges often on the most trivial of circumstances. When Mr. Gladstone was a young man he suffered to some extent from indigestion, and, on investigating the cause of it, concluded that it resulted from eating hurriedly. He then decided that every bite of food he took would receive thirty-two chews before being swallowed. He carried this resolution out, and it established with him the habit of eating his meals slowly. To-day he ascribes his long life and robust health very largely to this excellent habit, formed when a young man. Every one, who exercises the same determination, could no doubt accomplish the same result, and banish indigestion for ever from the system. To all those who inadvertently at times eat too heartily or quickly we would say, try Adams' Tutti Frutti. It is no doubt, without exception, the most efficient stomach corrective known to the medical faculty. The most eminent physicians and scientific men have endorsed it as something that will ensure perfect digestion. Among those may be mentioned R. Ogden Doremus, M.D., LL.D., professor of chemistry, toxicology and medical jurisprudence; Cyrus Edson, M.D., Health Commissioner of New York city and president of the Board of Pharmacy of New York city and county; Egbert Guernsey, M.D., and P. E. Doolittle, M.D. These men have been eminently successful in their calling in life, and have found out the great virtues of Tutti Frutti, and have made them known to the public. Tutti Frutti is a small thing, being put up in five-cent packages; but it must not be judged by the smallness of its cost, but by its immense value to any one suffering from indigestion. Many thousands who have had indigestion gnawing at their vitals have been cured by it, and thereby enabled to win success in life.

"ICE-HOUSE" EGGS.

The proposition of a member of the Retail Grocers' Association of Philadelphia to petition the legislature to enact a law requiring every dealer in eggs to mark them as "fresh laid," or "ice-house" eggs, has led, according to American Grocer, to a large gathering of the grocers, to test whether the difference between the two sorts of eggs could readily be told.

A lot of "ice-house" eggs, that had been in cold storage since July, were placed alongside of fresh laid eggs and the committee challenged to tell which was which. There was not the least trouble in selecting the fresh laid eggs when broken or after having been cooked.

An egg loses its good qualities from the time it is laid. If ice-house stock is as good as fresh laid, the champions of that sort ought not to object to a law compelling dealers to sell them for exactly what they are. If there is any prejudice in the minds of the consumers, it would disappear if they discovered ice-house eggs were as good as fresh laid and a few cents per dozen cheaper.

DARK STORES.

A dark store seems to imply the merchant's lack of confidence in his wares. It subtly suggests dingy, shop-worn merchandise which will not bear morning sunshine—old stock which ought to have been replaced by several generations of fresh merchandise.

A dark store not only suggests uncleanness, but actually fosters it. The most conscientious sweeper cannot see into dim corners, and no one feels a moral responsibility for dust which must be sought for with a lighted lantern.

A dark store means increased expense for artificial light, and danger of fire from matches struck to find things in a hurry.

A dark store depresses the spirits of every one who works in it, from the proprietor to the errand boy. It means cross words, endless mistakes and probable incivility to patrons.

A customer never sees anything new in a dark store. He buys only what he had in mind before he came in, transacting his business as quickly as possible so that he may get into the light and sunshine again. This means a decrease of many per cent. in a day's total of sales.—"But."

A DISASTROUS FIRE.

EARLY last Sunday morning Toronto was visited by the most disastrous conflagration in the history of the city. Shortly before 3 a.m. fire broke out in the boiler room of The Globe building, at the corner of Yonge and Melinda streets, and before it was got under control this structure, S. F. McKinnon's new seven-storey warehouse, Harry Webb's restaurant, Nicholas Rooney's millinery establishment, and a number of other business places were in ruins. The total losses amounted to about $750,000, covered by insurance to the extent of $450,000. The chief losses were: The Globe, $150,000, insured for $94,000; Toronto Lithograph Co., $150,000, insured for $65,000; S. F. McKinnon, $150,000, insured for $130,000; Nicholas Rooney, $65,000, insured for $55,000; Harry Webb, $20,000, fully covered by insurance; Michie & Co., groceries and liquors, $1,000, covered by insurance; Williamson Rubber Co., $4,000, fully insured; Brough Printing Co., $20,000, insured for $12,500; Alexander Manning's loss on Webb building, $10,000, fully insured. One fireman was killed and several injured by the fall of the walls of The Gobe building while the fire was at its height. Chief Ardagh, of the Fire Department, and Fireman Smedley escaped with their lives by jumping into Jordan street from a third storey window. The strong wind which prevailed carried great pieces of burning material all over the western part of the city, and had it not been for the heavy fall of snow that occurred during the fire, Toronto would have undoubtedly suffered much more heavily even than she did. The disaster proved that Toronto is in need of steam fire-engines.

HE TALKED ABOUT JAPAN TEA.

MR. DALLAS, representing the Japan tea house of Mourilyan, Heimann & Co., New York, is in Toronto, looking up business. As the trade is well aware the strength of Japan tea has been a feature of the New York market for the past few weeks. Naturally the conversation turned on this subject when I ran against Mr. Dallas.

"We are indeed in a most peculiar shape over there," he said, in reply to a query. "In fact, I never saw stocks tied up as they are. I mean, of course, Japs and Pingsueys. These teas are nearly all held by one or two parties. The cheapest Japan tea we have to-day in New York cannot be got for less than 13c. Pingsueys are higher than I have seen them for years; and all sorts of Oolongs are in the same position.

"Of course, it simply means one thing: Prices must go higher, with us at any rate. How it will affect Canada, I cannot say. I don't see how it can be otherwise than higher values. Owing to the war labor is scarcer and dearer. Then in Japan they are trying to change their financial system from silver to gold, which will mean, if carried out, that everything will have to be paid for in gold. You can readily understand what that would mean on prices. Stocks of Japan and China teas are light all over. Why, in Canada to-day there are no teas whatever in first hands. As you doubtless are aware, even stuff that had been lying in Montreal the past four years was eagerly picked up. The American buyers who were on the Toronto market did not make any purchases simply because there was no tea for them to get. Everything is very uncertain indeed," concluded Mr. Dallas. "The market usually opens May 1, and this year we do not know when it will, owing to the war."

A SALT COMBINE.

The salt manufacturers of Ontario met in London on Saturday last. All the firms in the province were represented, and it seems likely that the price of salt will shortly take a jump. "The price at which salt has wholesaled for a considerable time has been ruinous to us," said one of the delegates. Steps are being taken to form an association to look after the interests of salt manufacturers and to maintain better prices. Mr. Gray, of Seaforth, presided, and Mr. J. H. Carter, of Courtright, acted as secretary.

A NEW PRICE LIST ON SOAP.

D. Richards, proprietor of the Oxford Soap Works, Woodstock, Ont., has issued to the trade a revised price list of laundry soaps for 1895. In a circular accompanying the list, Mr. Richards, in noting certain changes, says: "In toilet soaps you will find that I have added Nos. 26, 28 and 32; these are the finest French milled soaps, elegantly and delicately perfumed, and put up in a neat and attractive style. The latest and most improved machinery are used in their manufacture, and the shapes of the most modern pattern used in France. These, together with the new Nos. 17 and 18 French Castile soap, elegantly put up in cartooned boxes, and my range of cocoa and transparent soaps make an assortment of toilet soaps that will fill the bill with any grocery or general store in the country. This assortment, in neat sample boxes, will be sent to you for your sample room on application. You will also note that for an order amounting to $20 of any or one of these goods, at list prices, I will send free a show case."

EDUCATION FOR CLERKS.

AFTER an all too brief period of schooling, in which the rudiments of an education are usually acquired, and a course of clerking in a store, or a year or two spent in an office or in a workshop, the average young man (we refer, of course, to that class whose parents' means will not allow them to send their sons to college) usually considers his education as about completed, says Merchants' Review. If he has been so fortunate as to secure a college education, owing to the possession of ample means by his parents, he will almost certainly look upon his education as finished for all time. Indeed, the superciliousness and conceit of the college graduate have become proverbial, and yet so utter is the ignorance of most young men of all that comes to one from practical experience, that both college graduate and the farm graduate, also the workshop graduate, should be regarded as immersed in equal depths of darkness. It actually requires a certain degree of maturity for the individual to understand his own ignorance. Having, however, once learned his deficiencies, there is hope of his enlightenment, but the process of education never ceases; it must go on from the cradle to the grave.

All this is trite enough, but if so, how can we account for the, we won't say, ignorance, but inefficiency of so many employees in mercantile establishments. If they are already aware of these oft-told truths, why don't they set about the work of correcting their deficiencies and improving their minds.

It takes a mighty big brain, a superhuman will and a tremendous energy to make a shining success in the world without a proper education or training. When Napoleon, as a victorious general, burst upon the vision of astonished Europe, it probably was not known that his education had been very careful and more than ordinarily practical in its nature, hence the surprise and admiration at the notable feats of arms by which he became master of the continent grew to a wonderful height, but the early history of the great Corsican has been revealed and it is known that in his boyhood he received the kind of training that could perhaps best prepare such a youth for his after career of conquest.

No young man can afford to dispense with education, and the more practical it is, the better for him in after life. The business training that a young man receives in the store or office is even more important to him than the instruction received at school, and we urge our younger readers to take advantage of every opportunity to learn all the details of the business in which they are employed. In after years, when they have become employers, such knowledge as they have acquired will be appreciated at its full value. Be certain that it will be worth far more to them than it cost.

As the public are doubtless aware, we have been packing our Matches lately in very ingeniously constructed Paper Boxes, the invention of our Mr. Millen, and covered by Canadian Letters Patent of the 12th of May, 1892 (No. 38,938), and of 29th July, 1892 (No. 39,528), of which we are the sole proprietors. The value of these Boxes for packing matches was recognized as soon as we adopted them. Since then, some of our competitors in Canada, desiring to profit by our labor and experience, have seen fit to sell other than our matches packed in boxes of the same construction substantially as those of ours, which are protected by the above Letters Patent.

This clearly is an infringement of our Patent Rights, and, if continued, will be stopped by process of law. As a word of advice to our friends, and as a warning to our competitors, who are thus infringing upon our Patent Rights, we have decided to give this notice to all parties not to buy, sell, handle, trade in or barter with any goods that infringe the rights of

BRITISH TEA IN THE STATES.

NOT long since the representative of a New York tea house asserted to THE GROCER that Indian and Ceylon teas would never supplant China and Japan teas on the United States market.

Never is a long time. The champions of China tea in Great Britain would probably have said practically the same thing thirty years ago in regard to Indian and Ceylon tea supplanting China tea on that market.

Even 25 years ago, out of a total of 111,815,000 pounds of tea consumed in Great Britain only 10,716,000 pounds were from India and Ceylon, all the rest being of China growth, while last year of a total of 215,000,000 pounds consumed there only 26,000,000 pounds were from China, the balance, 189,000,000 pounds, being the Indian and Ceylon kinds.

The percentages of tea consumed on the British market last year were : Indian, 55 ; Ceylon, 33 ; China, 11 ; other kinds, 1. This, compared with 1893, is a gain of 3 per cent. for Indian tea, 2 per cent. for Ceylon, and a decrease of 5 per cent for China tea.

Not even the most enthusiastic growers or dealers in Indian and Ceylon teas would even dream of such a transformation in the United States. The fact that these teas are British grown is sufficient to condemn them in the minds of certain people there. Others again assert that Indian and Ceylon teas will not assimilate with the water that is in the United States as well as the Japan and China kinds will. The trade press, however, in discussing the matter a year or more ago, asserted that the question as to whether Indian and Ceylon teas would take in the United States depended largely on the price.

At any rate, the imports of British-grown teas into the United States are on the increase at present, whatever may be in store for the future. This is demonstrated by the figures we have before us, and although they only deal with the years 1892-3, they serve the purpose. The imports, in pounds, from bonded warehouses, and under transhipment bonds from London, were :

	1892.	1893.
Indian tea.....	722,174	1,171,317
Ceylon tea.....	758,339	918,355

In view of the special efforts that were made last year to push these teas in the United States, the figures of 1894, when adduced, may be expected to show a substantial gain over those of 1893.

The United States does not constitute itself a tea-drinking country. Beer is its favorite beverage, of which its per capita consumption is 16.08 gallons. Coffee comes next with 14 gallons, and tea is third on the list, at 10.56 gallons.

It may be interesting to note that the United States stands seventh in the quantity of tea per capita consumed. Here is the order : Australia, 7.66 pounds ; New Zealand, 7.23 ; Tasmania, 5.35 ; Great Britain, 4.70 ; Newfoundland, 4.38 ; Canada, 3.69 ; United States, 1.20. Spain is the smallest tea drinker, her per capita consumption being but .01.

But the two million and odd pounds of Indian and Ceylon teas imported into the United States in 1893, via London, were but a little more than 2 per cent. of her total imports of all kinds of tea for that year, they being 89,061,287 pounds, of which 45,653,172 pounds of tea came from China, and 39,602,519 pounds from Japan. In 1892 the aggregate imports of British grown tea was less than 1,500,000 pounds, so that if the increase of even half a million pounds is maintained annually, the figures will soon tell a different tale. An American trade paper, not long since, remarked that "if good, sweet, choice Indian tea can be sold at auction from 15 to 30 cents per pound, it will in time cause a change in the character of the imports, approximating the change brought about in England."

THE SALT COMBINE REVIVED.

The old defunct combination among the salt manufacturers of the Dominion has been revived. It is the outcome of the meeting held in London on the 5th inst.

The object of the combination is to restrict the output and advance prices. What these advances will be THE GROCER has not at the time of writing been able to ascertain. Whatever they may be, it is said that all manufacturers in the country will stand by them. The higher prices will be confined to barrel and sack salts, fairly good profits having been obtained all along on table salt.

It is asserted that of late years there has been an over production of salt. Under the new order of things an effort will be made to overcome this difficulty by allotting a proportion to each well, according to its capacity. The average output of salt in the Dominion is understood to be about 300,000 barrels annually, although the capacity is much larger, one well alone being equal to the task of turning out the number in question.

COST OF SELLING GOODS.

WHEN estimating the cost price of an article one important matter is often overlooked. We refer to the cost of selling it.

It does not suffice that the cost of handling the different lines be grouped at a certain percentage, yet this is what a good many do. We are not speaking from mere supposition. We know it to be a fact.

Every manufacturer, every merchant, knows that there are some lines which he makes or sells that demand more time and attention to pack or deliver than others. But some how this fact is at times overlooked.

Then when stock is taken—sometimes even before—it is found that there has somewhere been an unexpected and unexplained leakage.

Stock-taking is over with some people, while with others it soon will be. Then will come the period of stocking new goods. Opportune is it, therefore, for all classes of business men, whether manufacturers or merchants, to inaugurate a well-defined system of computing the cost of selling an article as well as the cost of buying it.

LACKED ESPRIT DE CORPS.

HUMAN nature is made up of a lot of opposite conditions. If a bank collapses its fellow banks come to the rescue with money and moral support. If a mercantile house is bereft of its premises its fellow business houses will come forward with various offers of assistance. If a newspaper is burned out its contemporaries fall over each other in their haste to place premises, presses, plant, and even the much discussed subscription lists at the disposal of the crippled journal.

But while much esprit de corps is shown on great occasions or in sudden calamities in the little affairs of every day business life they are too often marked by their absence.

An instance of this was brought to the attention of THE GROCER the other day. There is a large manufacturing firm whose head offices are in Toronto. For some years the firm in question has been losing money. At one time it had a line of credit to the extent of $200,000 with a local bank. Although the head of the firm was president of the bank, or if not president at the time, had been up to a short time previously, the bank became alarmed and refused further accommodation.

One would have thought that this fact alone would have been sufficient to have deterred other banks from according what the firm's old banking house had refused to do, not to say anything about the unsatisfactory condition of the business of the firm itself.

But not so. And not only one bank, but at least two banks, were willing to do what their contemporary had refused to do. Competition was keen and they chose to run the risk entailed in securing another big customer, an insolvent one though it might be.

One of these banks is now a creditor to the extent of $75,000, and the other to $50,000 or $60,000, while THE GROCER is assured on pretty good authority that the paper held against these respective claims will not yield more than 60 to 65c. on the dollar.

Bankers, in their annual reports, frequently lecture merchants upon the evil of careless credits and the absence of esprit de corps in the competition for business; but it is evident that at last some of them require to apply their admonitions to their own hearts.

TORONTO'S PRIDE HUMBLLED.

THE two disastrous fires that last week visited the business centre of Toronto have awakened her citizens to a realization of the fact that they have for some time been suffering, to use a slang term, from "swelled head," in regard to the efficiency of the fire brigade.

No city in the world has probably a braver or a better body of men than has Toronto. And in pluming themselves over this fact they have neglected to place in the hands of these men appliances proper for fighting fire in a modern big city.

Most people are at the moment throwing the onus for this state of affairs upon the parsimoniousness of an inefficient City Council.

True, the chief of the brigade has, time and again, during the last three or four years, memorialized the City Council to supplement his present appliances with one or more powerful fire engines and a couple of aerial trucks; and equally true is it that the Council has invariably turned a deaf ear to his requests.

But the members of the City Council are the representatives of the people, and had the people been alive to their duty their will would soon have found expression in action by the aldermen. The people were passive; so were the aldermen. Like begets like.

When three and four storeys was the maximum height of the buildings being erected, it did not seem unreasonable to depend upon the force of water in the mains. But buildings of three and four storeys are no longer the maximum. Notwithstanding this, however, beyond getting one aerial truck, the Toronto Fire Brigade has been equipped with no better fire appliances than it had ten or twenty years ago. In reality, it is not so well equipped. Then the brigade could throw a stream to the top of a four-storey structure; but while the height of buildings in the business portion of the city has increased, the power to raise a stream of water has not, as was demonstrated last week, when fire in the fifth and sixth storeys could not be reached.

Now that Toronto's pride in the fire brigade has been humbled, we may expect to see it open its purse and provide the brave fire laddies with the necessary and more modern appliances.

AN IMPORTANT DECISION.

A conviction for selling liquor after hours was recently appealed before Judge Muir at Hamilton, Ont. The evidence had shown that the offence was committed at 7.20 or 7.25 on a Saturday evening, and the defendant's lawyer contended that as 7.20 by standard time was only 7 o'clock by solar time, no offence was committed, as solar, not standard, time should govern in such cases. Last week Judge Muir gave judgment quashing the conviction on the point raised, and holding that solar time is the statute time and should govern. He cited English cases on the subject, affirming Greenwich time as the legal time there, and also the North Bruce election case, where a petition filed too late, according to standard time, was declared to be regular by solar time. Under this decision, if upheld, all liquor sellers can keep open until 7.19 or 7.20 on Saturday evenings.

A DAY IN AN OAT MILL.

BY BYSTANDER.

I AM not a Scotchman or the son of a Scotchman, but I do like my porridge. True, I was born near the border line, but I cannot say whether this fact is responsible or not for the partiality of my palate for porridge. All I know is that I have the weakness for the health giving article, and that to me breakfast without porridge would be like the play of Hamlet with Hamlet left out. Whether the porridge be oaten or wheaten, I am at home with a good mess of it.

It was with pleasure, then, that I the other day seized the opportunity that was presented to me of going through one of the largest porridge-producing establishments troubled not by the cold raw wind or falling snow. His years, I understand, are hovering very close around the allotted three score and ten, but, judging from his vigorous step, bright eye, and ruddy cheek, it will be a long time yet ere wintry winds do bother him.

"Well, Mr. Tillson," I ventured, "I see you are able to do a little railroading as well as run mills."

"Yes, I am," he said, pleasantly. Then he added, with an air of pardonable pride, as he pointed up the tortuous railroad track, as it wound its way along the steep river bank, "And do you know, I was sole engineer on this road, did all the engineering, running the curves and taking all its levels, and did all the grading. I feel particularly proud of my successful railway engineering. It was no easy matter either, I can tell lack of technical knowledge—to tell all I saw of Tillson's oat mill. All I can give is a general idea of what I saw during the two hours Mr. Hogan, who has charge of the mill, was piloting me through the building. He first took me to the elevator, a white brick building, 40 feet square and 100 feet high, and separated from the mill by massive double iron doors. Grain, on coming to the elevator, is discharged into a hopper on the ground floor, and, after being weighed, is allowed to run into bins beneath, from whence it is conveyed to bins above by a carrier whose capacity is from 500 to 600 bushels per hour, according to the character of the grain. There are nine bins, and each is 73 feet 6 inches, and hold 130 bushels to the foot. From the top of the bins to the roof is 20 feet, and occa-in the Dominion; or rather, to be more explicit, one of the largest oatmeal mills. The mill in question was that of E. D. Tillson, of Tillsonburg, Ont.

It was the Saturday after Christmas that I plowed my way, in a gently falling snow storm, along the broad and business-like thoroughfare known as Broadway, to the Tillson Mills, which nestle under the hillside in the valley of what is by courtesy called the Otter River.

Just the day before I arrived there the Tillsons had run their first freight train over their new private railway. But there were still some finishing touches to be done to the road bed. And who should I find superintending the work but Mr. E. D. Tillson himself, the honored founder of the mills. With a plaid wrapped around his shoulders, and his fur cap set firmly upon his head, he was you, for we had to cross eight streets on the level, and do it in a manner to satisfy both the Town Council and the Dominion Government."

"You are a bit of an engineer, too, then?" I added.

"Yes," he replied. "My father laid out the streets of this town and I graded them."

The railway in question is three-fourths of a mile in length, connects with the main line of the Michigan Central Railway Co., and is operated by this company. The cost of putting down the line was borne entirely by the Tillsons. The rails diverge to the different mills around and operated by Mr. Tillson, and by a series of switches cars can be shunted to the flour mill, the oat mill, or the pea mill, just as the requirements demand.

Tongue or pen would fail me—let alone sionally this space has to be filled up with false bins.

THE OAT MILL.

Then I was escorted back to the oat mill, which has a capacity of 200 barrels per day, where was shown to me the mysterious processes through which oats are put before they are finally ready for the porridge pot.

One of the things that astonished me most was the variety and number of machines that are used to clean the oats of foreign matter. "Well, well," I thought, "if any foreign matter gets into Tillson's oatmeal it must have a harder job than would a camel to go through the eye of a needle."

For instance, first the oats are forced into what is termed a cleaning machine. Then into a large hexagon reel that takes away the foreign matter. And such foreign matter! It passes man's understanding to know where it comes from. It seems to contain samples of nearly everything in the vegetable kingdom, not to mention an occasional representative from the mineral and animal kingdoms. Tons upon tons of this stuff are accumulated monthly, and after going through a certain process is eventually sold in part as feed.

From the hexagon reel the oats pass on through sieves, double cylinder cockle machines, smutters, etc., to the drying kilns. The drying kilns opened my eyes. They are situated in the basement, and they are, I am told, the pride of the firm's heart, being accounted about the most perfect and finest in the Dominion. If the reader has never seen a modern kiln room in connection with an oat mill, let him imagine, if he can, ten mammoth circular pans resting on as many brick furnaces, like giant frying pans, several inches in depth, each capable of holding from 35 to 40 bushels of oats, and he has a fair idea of what the pans in question are like. The oats come in to the pans from overhead spouts, and, after being dried, are shoved out through a slide in the side of the pans into a conveyor. The drying process occupies about four hours. While this is going on, they are being kept turned over and over by an iron sweep revolving from a centre, which looks like two enormous reaping-hooks. There is a sweep to each pan. Thirty tons of coal are, on an average, consumed by the drying kilns monthly. The smoke from the kilns is conveyed by underground flues to the chimney.

The difference between the modern drying pan, as seen in the Tillson mill, and the old-fashioned pan, as still used a good deal in some mills, is vast. The latter is square, with perforated bottoms, which as a rule let the fumes of fire and smoke into the oats, thus imparting an unpleasant flavor, which is retained after the oats have been transformed into porridge. Oats dried by the modern process have, on the other hand, a pleasant "nutty" flavor.

After coming from the drying pans the oats are passed through machines which grade them into three sizes. Then they go on to cockle machines, where they pass through an additional cleaning process. Next they go in turn to the shelling stones, the hexagon reels to remove the dust, and the brush machines to remove the hulls, and so on, ad infinitum it seems to me. After being put through the granulating stones, the oatmeal is passed over shaking sieves and there, besides being further cleaned, is separated into standard and granulated meal.

There are eight run of stones in the mill, six being for shelling purposes and two for grinding. A machine that interested me a good deal was that whose office is to make the granulated meal. It is a small and unpretentious looking piece of mechanism, but it does big and good work. It has four sets of cutters with three movable and three stationary plates.

"To make good granulated oats," explained Mr. Hogan, "it is necessary to have the grain cut sharp. Some mills use stones, but stones make a ragged-looking meal."

"You will remember that it was because we had these cutters that we were enabled to get that big order from Mr. So-and-So," interjected Mr. Edwin Tillson, who came upon us at the moment.

Before I entered Tillson's mill I fancied I had a general idea of how rolled oats were made. Before I came away I learned that my idea was superficial indeed. But what showed me my ignorance in the matter also imparted to me some light. The machinery for doing the work in Tillson's mill is, if I am not mistaken, of the most improved type. The machine has two sets of rollers. But what interested me most was the steam box, or, in trade vernacular, the steamer. To those who are not conversant with the matter I might explain that the steamer is an oval-shaped iron box set over the rolls. It is double cased. The inside case is perforated and receives the grain. The outside case is the steam department, and from which the steam is forced through the perforated partition into the grain, moistening and softening it as it passes on its way to the rolls. "We have had several steamers," ventured Mr. Hogan, as he laid his hand on the box, "but this has given us by far the best results. It gives us steam more regularly, and we do not now get one spot steamed and the other not."

IN THE PEA MILL.

After going through the oat mill, Mr. Hogan kindly invited me to take a run through the pea mill, and with pleasure I accepted. It is nice to know how peas are prepared and split, but I am not anxious to make many more trips through a pea mill. A flour mill is dusty. An oat mill is dusty. But a pea mill is doubly-doubly dusty. If the dust is not strong enough to bear one up, it is dense enough to cover one gloriously. This I learned, although my inspection at the mill was little more than cursory.

The mill is five stories high with basement. The peas, after being received into the bins, are elevated to the top flat, where they are run through a hexagon reel first, and then over a shaking sieve. From there they are run into a drying kiln on the next floor, constructed something after the fashion of the old kilns that were formerly used in oat mills. There are five of these kilns, one on each floor. Each has a bottom of steel slats, which are opened at will to allow the peas to drop through to the next kiln. For instance, the peas—some twenty bushels—after being run into the next kiln, are allowed to stay there twenty minutes; then, by manipulating a handle much in appearance like that seen in a railway switch house, the bottom of the kiln is opened and down drop the peas to the next kiln, and so on down to each successive kiln, as the peas in the one above are ready to be lowered a stage. After passing through the five kilns the peas are elevated to the grading machine, where the small are separated from the large, a necessary proceeding, for the machinery that would split the small peas would crush the large. As a finishing touch the peas are passed through the "elephant," not a live elephant, but a long pipe-like machine, whose duty is to polish them.

Noticing a pile of pea hulls lying on the floor, I remarked, "Are these of any use?"

"Indeed they are," came the quick reply. "We ship the most of them to New York, where they cost about $23 per ton, laid down."

"What are they used for?"

"I don't know. I have been told that they are used for adulterating spices; but I can't say how true it is. One thing is certain: no one could afford to pay $23 per ton for pea hulls for feed."

The machine for turning out pot barley is also situated in the pea mill. It is like a ponderous grindstone enclosed in a wire screen which revolves very slowly while the stone revolves very rapidly. "It is a slow process, making pot barley," remarked Mr. Hogan. "We can easily make twelve barrels of split peas while we are making one of pot barley. The making of pot barley is simply a scouring process."

FLOUR AND CORN MILL.

I must be brief indeed in my reference to the flour mill. It has five floors, and is fitted up with all the appurtenances necessary to a first-class modern roller mill. The sets of rolls number seventeen. Then there are purifiers, elevators, reels, sieves, scalpers, etc., without number. The capacity of the mill is 250 barrels per day, and about 1,000 bushels of wheat are disposed of per day.

For some years, how many I do not know, the firm has had a corn mill in connection with the flour mill, but now it proposes to go into the manufacture of gold dust. When I was in the mill the other day the place was strewn with machinery, and workmen were employed getting it into position. When completed, the capacity of the corn mill will be 100 barrels per day.

THE BARREL FACTORY.

The Tillsons make their own barrels, turning out between seventy-five and eighty thousand barrels per annum. They also make all their own staves and barrel heads; in fact, the only thing in connection with a barrel they do not make is the hoops. Besides the regulation barrel, they also make three sizes of half-barrels—the largest for rolled oats, the smallest for peas, and the middle-sized for flour. An experimental shipment of two carloads of flour in 25-lb. kegs was recently made to the West Indies. "I suppose, as we have received our money, that it turned out all right," said Mr. Edwin Tillson to me. "We have also sent consignments of flour and peas to the Canary Islands and Cape Colony, Africa. Practically all our output of sp'it peas, which is about 22,000 barrels annually, is shipped to the West Indies and South America. With our flour and oatmeal we cover Ontario and the Maritime Provinces."

A peculiarity about the Tillson business which is worthy of mention is the systematic way in which everything is done; and the firm probably prides itself as much upon this as it does on the quality of the products of its mills. It shows itself in the bookkeeping, it shows itself in the shipping of orders, it shows itself in the management. The offices and mills are connected one with another by telephones and electric gongs. The honored head of the firm is what may be termed grand supervisor of all the outside work, including the care of his famous 300-acre farm. The management of the uptown offices and the financial part generally devolves upon Mr. Edwin Tillson, while the management of the mills belongs to Mr. George Tillson.

I shall always look back upon my visit to the Tillson mills as being a profitable as well as a pleasant one.

INSURANCE RATES GO UP.

ONE of the most important results of Toronto's two great fires is the action taken by a joint meeting of the Toronto and Canadian Boards of Fire Underwriters held last Monday. It was decided to raise the Toronto insurance tariff all along the line.

The rates on retail stores will be slightly raised to conform with the tariffs in effect in Hamilton, Ottawa, Buffalo and other cities. On wholesale stores and warehouses the rates will stand as they are. On this class of risks, however, rates will, it is said, be raised 10 cents per $100 on a four-storey, 20 cents per $100 on a five-storey, and 40 cents per $100 on a six-storey structure.

To secure the most favorable terms wholesalers will have to insure up to 75 per cent. in value. Merchants, carrying only small lines on their stocks, on which, in case of fire the loss would be nearly total, will be called upon to pay increased rates. Manufacturers will find their rates of insurance augmented on a sliding scale, according to the class of risk.

The new tariff will go into force for a year until the city can provide what the companies consider proper fire protection. At the end of this period the situation will be again looked into, and if the conditions warrant it, the rates may be reduced to the old schedule.

It is announced that as a result of these fires, three of the smaller British companies have retired from the Canadian field.

In view of the fact that Toronto has already practically decided to forthwith purchase two powerful fire engines and build a water tower to protect the business quarter of the city, many wholesale and retail men look upon this action of the companies as too hasty.

They must reflect, however, that they are now paying the penalty of negligence on the part of the city fathers, and console themselves, as far as possible, with the promise of the companies to return to the old rates as soon as conditions warrant such action.

The companies, however, should not go too far, or they may drive the city to the adoption of the civic insurance bureau scheme already much discussed. Such action would entirely drive the insurance men from the city.

DEPRESSED BUTTER MARKET.

DURING 1894 Canada's exports of butter to Great Britain fell away to practically nothing, and it looks as if our butter makers were taking the wrong course with the British butter consumer.

The day has gone by when held butter readily finds consumption; and this is not only the case in England, but all over the world.

Eight or ten years ago there were few or no creameries in operation; and we put up with butter on our tables that would be consigned to the cooking department now. In fact, the tendency more and more is for fresh butter, and if our farmers want to get into the English market it is fresh butter and nothing else that they must send across the water.

The reason is obvious. In the old days the only competitor of Canadian butter was Irish, but now it has to meet the competition of Finnish, Danish, and other continental dairies, whose output is landed fresh, or nearly so, at the great centres of consumption in England. Being so landed, this butter gets the preference, and will always do so, while our Canadian producers hold on to their stocks with the foolish idea of obtaining a higher price.

It is quite true that the season before last speculators bought up the June creamery in Canada and made money out of the transaction, but, even allowing that they did, is such a method calculated to educate the British consumer into a taste for fine Canadian creamery? Decidedly not; and this year the speculators are reaping a bitter experience.

They bid fancy prices during the summer, encouraged the farmers and factorymen to hold, and the result is that the cold storage establishments in Canada are loaded up with a stock of butter that cannot find a buyer.

This butter, which comprises the make of the summer months, was stored in the expectation of higher prices from abroad. This expectation has not been realized, for there has been no demand at all from Great Britain, and prices have steadily sagged off, until they are now from 1 to 1½c. per lb. below the original cost price of the butter.

This is the result of holding butter, and not selling it at market prices; and, in view of it, it is difficult to understand on what basis Professor Robertson is agitating for the Government to provide means for the farmers to store and carry their butter.

If they had done so this year, for instance, instead of the middleman being the sufferer, it would have been the farmer. Perhaps the professor's advice would not have been so palatable then.

There is no doubt that the professor has done a good deal in instructing our farming class how to make good cheese and butter; but, so far, his advice regarding methods of sale, and his own experiments in that connection, have not been shining successes.

No, if our export butter trade is to assume the old proportions that it had in the early eighties when prices were profitable and the shipments large, we will have to devise some method of getting our butter into the English market as fresh as possible, sell it for what it will fetch, and trust that after the Britishers have found that we can give them fresh butter, their taste for it will increase so that it will become as remunerative as cheese.

With regard to the large stock held in Canada, at present the outlook for it is very poor indeed. The local demand is all for fresh made stock, and there appears to be just sufficient winter dairying going on to supply this want. As a result, there is no outlet at all for the held stock, and it looks as if we were going to have a repetition of the spring of 1890 when creamery butter that cost all the way from 18 to 19c. went begging at 8 to 12c. per pound.

This will mean some heavy losses and may lead to annoying occurrences in other ways.

NO PROHIBITION IN ONTARIO.

The Supreme Court of Canada on Tuesday gave judgment in the celebrated "power to prohibit" cases. A majority of the judges held that the Provincial Legislatures have no jurisdiction to prohibit either the manufacture, importation, or sale of intoxicating liquors. This lets Sir Oliver Mowat out, but the case will be carried to the Privy Council by the prohibitionists.

A NEW TEA FIRM.

"J. F. Ramsay & Co., Tea Importers and General Agents for Direct Importations"—such is the style and calling of the new firm just established with offices and warehouse at 14 and 16 Mincing Lane, Toronto.

Mr. Ramsay, the head of the new firm, for some time past has been representing foreign tea houses as a broker. He was formerly manager of the Pure Gold Manufacturing Co. for two years, and was also with the Eby, Blain Co. three years. He served his apprenticeship with Dymock & Guthrie, grocers and tea merchants, Edinburgh, Scotland, where Mr. Robert Jaffray also served his apprenticeship. He is a son of William Ramsay, of the late wholesale grocery and tea firm of William Ramsay & Co.

Mr. Ramsay is a member of the Board of Trade, Toronto, and captain in the 48th Highlanders.

The firm will be represented in Ontario, north and west, and Manitoba and British Columbia by Mr. T. H. Cairns, who for many years represented the old firm of Morgan Davies & Co., over these districts.

J. F. Ramsay & Co. will undoubtedly soon establish themselves as leading direct importers of Ceylon, China and Japan teas.

The second annual meeting of the Ontario Good Roads Association will be held in the Y. M. C. A. building, Yonge St. Toronto, on the afternoon and evening of Feb. 7th, and the forenoon of Feb. 8th. Among those expected to address the convention are: His Hon. Lieutenant-Governor Kirkpatrick, Hon. Thomas Ballantyne, His Honor Judge Woods, of Chatham, and A. F. Wood, ex-M. P. P. Delegates have been invited from the boards of trade, the municipal bodies, and the various agricultural associations and societies of the province. The meeting should be largely attended.

MONEY AND STOCKS.

NOTHING new has developed in the Toronto money market during the week, call loans still being quiet at 4 to 4½ per cent.

"Insurance stocks," said a broker to me, "are keeping fairly steady, when we consider the downward tendency that would naturally be imparted by the losses entailed by the big fires in Toronto. The fact of the matter is, the men who are holding insurance stocks are big men. Therefore it is to their interest to keep in the bids for them, and thus keep them strong."

Commercial Cable stock is occupying a great deal of attention just now, and on the Toronto Exchange on Tuesday it sold up to 146¼. This stock, it is the general opinion, is a good purchase at the moment. Commercial Cable is one of the best managed concerns on the continent; and the people have confidence in it. It is also one of the best paying. On a capital of $10,000,000 its earning power is between 9½ and 10 per cent., and the company owes nothing. From the day it started it paid off $600,000 annually on its bonded indebtedness, until this indebtedness was wiped out. So conservative is it that no work is undertaken until there is the money in the bank to pay for doing it. This was done even in regard to the last cable that the company laid across the Atlantic. It is thought that there will, before the year is out, be an amalgamation of the Commercial Cable and Postal Telegraph companies. These companies, though practically owned by one man, Millionaire Mackay, are under separate control. The probability of this amalgamation is one of the influences, if not the influence, that is causing the present appreciation of Commercial Cable's stock. The capital of the Postal Telegraph is the same as that of the Commercial, so that the combined capital of the two will be $20,000,000 should the proposed amalgamation be consummated.

There is a steady demand for investment stocks, such as Gas and Dominion Telegraph and municipal debentures of all kinds. "Some of the county and city bonds are selling as low as 3¾c per cent.," said a broker. There seems to be a tendency on the part of capitalists to keep their money in as safe places as possible.

Toronto Street Railway stock is active and higher at 66c. bid, and 66¼c asked, but it is a good deal the result of manipulation.

ARGUROS.

GOOD NEWS FROM ALBERTA.

Johnson & Co., general merchants, Cochrane, Alberta, N.W.T., write as follows under date of Dec. 31: "The weather so far this winter has been most favorable to stock on the ranges. They will pull through all right unless severe weather is in store for us. Still we look for a short winter. Give us fair and reasonable freights and fares, with a 17 per cent. tariff, and this country will flourish."

NEW TEA SORTING MACHINE.

A tea-sorting machine has been invented in India. It consists of two angular steel frames, measuring 8 feet long at the top and 9½ feet at the base, standing 2½ feet high, placed opposite each other, and stayed together two feet apart. Between these reciprocate two long, light steel frames, which act as sifters, placed one above the other. These work on four oscillating levers, securely fastened to the angle steel frame inside, at four points, by strong case-hardened pins, upon which they work from the centre. The upper sifter is firmly secured by trunnion brackets on the side to the levers at the top, and the lower one in the same way underneath. Both sifters have an independent action, and work in opposite directions at 100 to 140 revolutions per minute. The upper sifter inclines towards the crank, and the lower one from the crank; these are fitted with four sizes of meshes, the trays being interchangeable sliding trays and underneath. This machine, it is stated, can assort fine classes of tea without handling.

MARKETS AND MARKET NOTES

TORONTO MARKETS.

TORONTO, Jan. 17, 1895.
GROCERIES.

CONTINUED slight improvement in business is to be noted. There is of course no real activity, but business is better. Sugars are showing more steadiness, and a little better demand is to be noted. Syrups are beginning to attract more attention. In canned goods the feature is an improved enquiry for gallon apples. A fairly good local demand has been reported for teas and prices continue firm. Most of the houses have now their new season's Bosnia prunes in stocks. Another advance is announced in Sultana raisins, which are now 2s. 6d. to 3s. higher than at the opening of the year. Currants are 1s. higher. Payments are much as before.

CANNED GOODS.

Gallon apples are beginning to move out freely, and there is a better demand for canned fruits generally. Quite a brisk demand has been experienced by some houses during the week for chicken soup. There is not much doing in salmon at present, but stocks, particularly in the best brands, are not heavy; prices are steady at quotations. We quote: Tomatoes and corn, 85 to 90c.; peas, 80 to 85c.; peaches, $2.75 to $3 for 3's, $1.75 to $1.90 for 2's; raspberries, $1.65 to $1.80; strawberries, $1 to $2.10; apples, 3's, $1 to $1.10, gallons $2.10 to $2.25, and preserved fancy quarters at $1.35 to $1.40; salmon, $1.30 to $1.35 for good red fish in tall tins, and $1.50 to $1.60 in flat tins; do., second quality, $1.10 to $1.25; canned mackerel, $1 to $1.10; lobsters, $1.70 to $2 for tall tins, and $2.25 to $2.75 for flat tins. Australian mutton, boiled, 2 lb. cans, $3.40; ditto, corned and roast, $3.75.

COFFEES.

There are very few good Rio coffees on the market; in fact, there are but few good coffees of any kind. There is a brisk demand for coffees. We quote green, in bags, as follows: Rio, 20½ to 22c.; East Indian, 27 to 30c.; South American, 21 to 23c.; Santos, 21½ to 22½c.; Java, 30 to 32c.; Mocha, 27 to 28c.; Maracaibo, 21 to 23c.; Jamaica, 21 to 22c.

RICE.

There is just the ordinary business doing, at unchanged prices. We quote: "B," 3½ to 3¾c.; extra Japan, 5¼ to 5½c.; imported Japan, 5¼ to 6¼c.; tapioca, pearl, 4½ to 5c.

SPICES.

Trade is seasonably quiet. We quote: Pure black pepper, 10 to 12c.; pure white, 18 to 25c.; pure Jamaica ginger, 25 to 27c.; cloves, 25 to 30c.; pure mixed spice, 25 to 30c.; cream of tartar, 20 to 25c. per lb.

NUTS.

There is nothing of interest to note, the demand being light. We quote as before: Brazil nuts, 11 to 11½c.; Sicily shelled almonds, 25 to 26c.; Tarragona almonds, 14 to 14½c.; peanuts, 10 to 12c. for roasted and 7 to 10c. for green; cocoanuts, $4.50 to $5 per sack; Grenoble walnuts, 15 to 16c.; Marbot walnuts, 12½ to 14c.; Bordeaux walnuts, 12 to 13c.; Sicily filberts, 9 to 10 for sacks and 10½ to 11c. for small lots; pecans, 10½ to 11c.

SUGAR.

The market is steady, inasmuch as the refineries have brought prices down to where they seem likely to keep the German granulated article out of the market. The market is in such a condition at the moment that sharp fluctuations do not seem likely in any direction. Stocks of Muscavado raw sugar in 115-lb. bags are getting pretty well cleaned out. We quote: Granulated, domestic, $3.70 to $3.75; do., No. 2 grade, $3.50; yellows, 2½ to 3½c. Raws—Demerara, 2½ to 3¼c.; Muscavado, in 115-lb. bags, 3c.

N. Y. Journal of Commerce, Jan. 15: "Holders of raws are noticeably free from talk of a character that can be called bullish; yet many of them appear inclined to throw off the disheartened sort of tone with which they opened the year and take a more cheerful view of the chances. Recent business disclosed an apparent steady basis reached, and it is thought that on natural features that can be retained. A new disquieting feature has arisen to-day in form of report that the Treasury will exact an additional 1-10 per cent. on sugars from Spain and her colonies, and until this is fully settled it may disturb negotiations."

SYRUPS.

Quite a few dark syrups are being taken this week by the wholesale houses, and the latter report a moderately fair demand for bright at about 2½c., of which kind there is a scarcity. We quote: Dark, 25c.; medium, 28 to 30c.; bright, 35 to 40c.; very bright, 45 to 50c.

MOLASSES.

There is a fair movement for the season in New Orleans molasses at 28 to 32c. We quote as follows: New Orleans, barrels, 26 to 28c.; half-barrels, 30½ to 32c.; Bar-

CEYLON TEA ?

Ask yourself how it could possibly, without EXTRAORDINARY QUALITY, in four years, become the tea of one of every four persons in the city of Toronto ?

Many men's curse is blind, unreasoning prejudice.

Yet the world moves.

Will you stand still ?

badoes, barrels, 28 to 32c.; half-barrels, 30 to 34c.

TEAS.

One local wholesale house last week sold two large lots of Japan tea on Chicago account, and it has received enquiries for more. There is a fair local demand for Japan teas, those selling at about 18c. being mostly in demand. Low grade Japans are getting scarce, and anything in this market at about 12c. is very strong. There is a fair demand for China Congous. The higher price of the better grades of Ceylon tea is turning the demand to low grade China blacks, at from 12 to 15c. No new Ceylons costing under 16 to 17c. can be imported. China green teas are quiet. We quote ruling prices on the Toronto market as follows: Young Hyson, 12 to 18c. for low grades; 24 to 27c. for mediums, and 30 to 45c. for high grades; China Congous, 14 to 18c. for mediums, and 35 to 55c. for high grades; Japans, 16 to 20c. for mediums, 28 to 35c. for high grades; Indians and Ceylons, 18 to 22c. for mediums, and 30 to 45c. for high grades.

DRIED FRUIT.

Demand for Valencia raisins is light. Selected fruit is a little scarce, but there is a sufficiency of other kinds. There is a great deal of cheap fruit being offered, off-stalk of this quality selling as low as 3¼c., but really first-class is worth more. We quote good fruit as before: Off-stalk, 4 to 4¼c.; fine off-stalk, 4½ to 5c.; selected, 5½ to 6c.; layers, 6 to 6½c. We quote California loose muscatels at 5½ to 6½c.

Sultana raisins show a further advance of 6d. this week, making a total gain of 2s. 6d. to 3s. since Jan. 1. The cause is a scarcity in the fruit. Business on the spot is quiet. Quotations are: Ordinary, 4¾ to 5¼c.; good, 5½ to 6c.; fine, 6½ to 7c.; finest, 6 to 9c.

There is nothing new to note in Malaga raisins, trade being quiet. We quote: London layers, $2 to $2.25; black baskets, $2.90 to $3; blue baskets, $4 to $4.75; extra dessert clusters, $4; connoisseur clusters, $2.65 to $2.90; quarter flat connoisseur clusters, 90c. to $1.15; Royal Buckingham, $4.50 to $5.

The market is now fairly well supplied with new season's Bosnia prunes, and the demand for them is fair. We quote Sphinx brand as follows: "U," $1.10 to $1.15 per half kilo, 5 to 5½c. per lb.; "C," 85 to 90c. per half kilo, 6½c.; "B," 80 to 85c. per half kilo, 7 to 7½c. The demand is principally for "U's" and "C's."

Currants are quiet, but the market is stronger, another advance of 1s. per 100 weight being recorded on Tuesday in Patras. This makes an aggregate advance of 1s. 6d. since the beginning of the year. Quotations on the Toronto market are still as follows: Filiatras, half-barrels, 4 to 4½c., barrels, 4½c.; fine Filiatras, half-barrels, 4¾c., barrels, 4¾c.; Patras, 5½c., in cases; Casalinas, 5½ to 6c.; Vostizzas, 6½ to 7c. in cases and half cases; Panartes, 8 to 8½c.

Figs continue dull at nominally unchanged prices. We quote: 14 oz., 8 to 9c.; 10 lb., 8 to 10c.; 18 lb., 12c.; 28 lb., 15c.; taps, 4¼ to 4½c.; naturals, 6 to 7c.

BUTTER AND CHEESE.

Choice butter is hardly as scarce as last week, and low grade and medium lots are plentiful. Large rolls are chiefly in demand, and creamery in fair demand. Prices are a little lower. We quote jobbing prices: Dairy—Choice tubs, selections, 15 to 16c.; low grade, 8 to 12c.; fresh pound rolls, 15 to 16c.; large rolls, 13 to 14c. Creamery—Tubs, summer makes, nominally 14 to 15c.; winter makes, 21 to 22c.; pound prints, 21 to 23c.

August and September makes of cheese are quoted at 10½ to 10¾c., and half sizes at 11 to 11¼c. Small Stiltons are quoted at 12 to 12½c.

GREEN FRUIT.

Since the last snowfall the market has picked up considerably from the dull period which followed the holiday season. The receipts of lemons have been large, and a few carload lots of Florida oranges, slightly touched by the frost, have reached the city. These are selling a little cheaper than the high-class Floridas, which remain at the high figure quoted last week, and are likely to go higher yet. We quote: Lemons—Floridas, 150's to 176's, $3 to $3.50 per box; Messinas, $3 to $3.50. Oranges—Floridas, $3 to $4; Valencias, $4.25 to $4.50; mandarins, $2.50 to $2.75 per half box; tangerines, $2.25 to $2.50 per half box; grape fruit, $4 to $4.50 per box. Bananas, $1 to $1.50 for firsts and seconds. Apples, winter fruit, $2.50 to $3.50 per bbl.; fall fruit, $1.75 to $2. Grapes—Malagas, $5.50 to $6.50 per keg. Cranberries, Jerseys, $12.50 to $13 per bbl. and $4 per box. California dried fruit—Apricots, 12½c.; peaches, 12½ to 13c.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

BEANS—Business continues quiet at $1.40 for choice hand-picked and $1.20 to $1.35 for medium.

DRIED APPLES—The market is very dull and prices are much as before, jobbers getting 5 to 5¼c.

EVAPORATED APPLES—Are quoted at 7½c.

ONIONS—No sales of any extent. We quote: Domestic, 70 to 80c. per bag, and 70 to 75c. per crate; Spanish, 80 to 90c. per small crate, $2 per large crate; Valencia, $2.50 to $2.75 per case.

HONEY—Dull. We quote: Strained, in bulk, 7 to 9c.; comb, 14c. for clover and 10c. for buckwheat.

POTATOES—Are improving, 47c. being quoted on track and 53 to 55c. out of store.

POULTRY—Since the last fall of snow poultry has come in rapidly from the country. There is now a very plentiful supply of fowl, but very little demand. Prices are consequently lower. We quote: Turkeys, 8c.; geese, 6 to 6½c.; chickens, 35 to 50c.; ducks, 40 to 70c.

EGGS—The supply of held and cold storage eggs is getting pretty well cleared up, and dealers are looking for an advance in pickled eggs. Held and cold storage stock is quoted as low as 10 to 12 cents; strictly fresh new-laid at 20 to 22 cents, and pickled at 14 cents.

FISH AND OYSTERS.

Trade is pretty fair. Owing to the prevalence of better weather on the fishing grounds, oysters are somewhat cheaper than a week ago. We quote: Salmon trout (frozen), 6½ to 7c.; white fish (frozen), 5 to 7c.; skinned and boned codfish, 6½c.; boneless fish, 3½ to 4c.; market cod, 4 to 5c.; tommy cod, $1.50; steak cod, 5 to 6c.; haddock, 4 to 5c.; Labrador herring, $2.50 per half keg and $5.50 to $5.75 per barrel; ditto, split, $2.75; fresh water salt herring, $3 per bbl.; blue-back herring, 4c.; sea herring (frozen), $1 to $1.40 per 100 fish; blue pickerel, 4 to 5c. lb.; yellow ditto, 6 to 7c. per lb.; mackerel, 14c. each; pike, 5c. lb.; cod, 6c. per lb.; finnan haddies, 5½ to 6½c.; Digby herring, in bundles of 5 boxes, 12½c.;

SEEDS.

The market for red clover seed remains steady and firm, although the markets in the United States have receded during the past few days. Alsike continues to come forward in very large volumes, and exporters are finding considerable difficulty in finding a market for it. If receipts hold out as at present for any length of time, it looks as though lower prices will have to be faced almost immediately. Timothy is in good demand, and prices are well maintained. We quote: Red clover, $5.75 to $6.25; per bushel; alsike, for fair to prime qualities, $4 to $5, while choice to fancy lots command somewhat better prices; timothy covers a range of from $2 to $2.75, with fancy lots slightly higher.

T. B. Escott & Co. announce that the attractive little samples of "Grand Mogul" tea are meeting with general favor. "Since the 40 cent line has been placed on the market, the trade has increased greatly for 'Grand Mogul' tea," writes the firm.

MONTREAL MARKETS.

MONTREAL, Jan. 17, 1895.
GROCERIES.

THERE is rather more life to the grocery market this week in many ways, which is but natural. In a strictly wholesale sense, the leading feature of the week is the activity of the tea market, the demand from Western Canada and the United States leading to the turnover of quite a round quantity of low and medium grade Japans, and firming-up holders' ideas on such teas fully $\frac{1}{2}$ c. per lb. over what was asked a week ago. In sugar prices have ruled steady at the recent decline, and the refiners, to meet the competition of German beet root, are offering a No. 2 granulated at $\frac{1}{8}$ c. lower than the standard article. There is no change in syrup, which rules steady, but molasses is firmer. Spices and coffees are steady. In dried fruit business is quiet and there are few changes to note, except that primary advices from Patras quote an excited market on currants, with a firmer tendency as to values. Canned goods are featureless, and the same can be said of most other lines, except fish, which rule rather easy in tone, though the demand is fair under ample supplies.

SUGAR.

The sugar market is without important change this week, but a rather steadier feeling is noticeable so far as large whole-sale business is concerned. Demand also has improved to a certain extent, it being worthy of mention that one of the refineries was completely sold out of yellow sugar one day during the week. A new feature has been the offer by one of the refineries of a second quality of granulated, which is sold at 3½c. from first hands. The stand-ard granulated is maintained at 3½c. In yellows prices range as before, 2¾ to 3¾c., as to quality. Jobbers since our last have modified their price on granulated sugar, and we now quote the jobbing range as follows: Granulated No. 1, 3¾c.; No. 2, 3¾c.; yellows, 3 to 3¾c., as to quality. In German beet sugar there is stock selling as low as 3¼c., but we quote 3½c. for extra granulated and 3¾c. for lower grades, with prices on Berthier stock the same.

SYRUPS.

The syrup market has ruled quiet but firm, with sales of Canadian at 1¾ to 2c. in a round way, according to quality, and American 19 to 20c. We quote for ordinary business 2¼c. for bright grades and 1¾ to 1¾c. for dark domestics, and American 20 to 21c.

MOLASSES.

The firm feeling in molasses that has pre-vailed for some weeks back is well maintain- ed, but the market does not expand much. Still a fairly good demand is to note and holders have realized higher prices. Round lots of Barbadoes changed hands this week at 30c., an advance of 1½c., and we quote the range firm at 30 to 32c. ex-store, accord- ing to quality, on which basis a fair local and country movement is to note. Trinidad stock is also firmer in tone, being quoted at 24c., and Porto Rico at 26c.

RICE.

There are no new features of importance to note in the rice market. Since the turn of the year trade has ruled quiet and prices steady. We quote: Japan standard, $4.25 to $4.40; crystal Japan, $4.75 to $5; stand-

SPICES.

There has been a good demand experienced for spices during the week, especially for white and black pepper, in which quite a good turnover has transpired. Prices remain much as they were. We quote: Penang black pepper, $6\frac{1}{2}$ to $7\frac{1}{2}$ c.; white pepper, 10 to $12\frac{1}{2}$ c.; cloves, $7\frac{1}{2}$ to 9c.; cassia, 9 to 10c.; nutmegs, 60 to 90c.; Jamaica ginger, 15 to 22c.

COFFEES.

The coffee market remains much as it was a week ago. Some transactions have occurred from first to second hands, but, otherwise, the market is quiet. Among the sales that have transpired have been several lots of Jamaica at 19c., and Maracaibo at a range of 20 to 22c., according to the size of the parcel. We quote: Maracaibo, $20\frac{1}{2}$ to 22c.; Rio, 20 to 22c.; Java, 24 to 30c.; Mocha, 28 to 30c., and Jamaica, 19 to 24c.

TEA.

There has been a decided improvement in the demand for tea, and a more active business has been accomplished. It may be remarked, however, that the business has been confined to trade between dealers, and that the distributive demand has not exhibited much change. These large dealings in a wholesale way, however, are apt to spur buyers up to a great extent. The demand mostly has been from the States and Western Canada, and mainly for Japan goods, sales aggregating 3,000 to 4,000 packages having taken place. In consequence of this activity, prices are firmer, and orders to be filled this week call for $\frac{1}{2}$ c. advance on low grade and medium Japans, which have been the goods most affected. Some enquiries have also been experienced for gunpowders, sales of which have been made at $20\frac{1}{2}$ to 21c. We quote: Japans, low grades, $12\frac{1}{2}$ to 14c.; medium, $15\frac{1}{2}$ to 17c.; fine, $18\frac{1}{2}$ to 24c.; and choice, 25 to 31c.

DRIED FRUIT.

The market for raisins continues very quiet, both for California and Valencia, and prices rule steady and unchanged. We quote: Off-stalk Valencias, ordinary, 4 to $4\frac{1}{2}$ c.; selected, 5 to $5\frac{1}{2}$ c.; layers, $5\frac{1}{2}$ to 6c.; sultanas, $5\frac{1}{2}$ to $7\frac{1}{2}$ c.; California, 3-crown loose muscatels, $5\frac{1}{2}$ to 6c.; 4-crown ditto, $7\frac{1}{2}$ c. Second crop Californias $\frac{1}{2}$ c. less than first crop.

The currant market on spot is quiet, with only a small jobbing movement to note, but advices from Patras report an excited market, and the very best offers made to sales agents here do not permit of any fresh supplies being laid down in Montreal under $4\frac{1}{2}$ c. On spot, prices are firmer as to range, as the low grade offerings of Filiatras, Provincials and Patras stock have been pretty well absorbed. Accordingly, we now quote for jobbing business: Filiatras and Provincials, $3\frac{1}{2}$ to $3\frac{3}{4}$ c. in barrels, and 4 to $4\frac{1}{2}$ c. in cases; Patras, 5 to $5\frac{1}{2}$ c., and Vostizzas, 7 to $7\frac{1}{2}$ c.

The prune market is quiet and steady, with nothing special to report except a firmer tendency on Bosnia stock, which we quote at $4\frac{1}{2}$ to 5c., and Bordeaux prunes are unchanged at 4c.

The fig market is steady, practically the stock on spot being in the hands of jobbers. Bag figs sell at 5 to 6c., and box figs all the way from 8 to 16c., as to quality.

Dates are quiet at the recent decline, and we quote $4\frac{1}{2}$ to 5c., according to the size of the lot.

NUTS.

The nut market is unchanged, the only special feature being a comparative scarcity of pecan nuts. Prices, however, are unchanged, except on filberts, which are firmer. We quote as follows: Tarragona almonds, $12\frac{1}{2}$ to 13c.; filberts, 8 to $8\frac{1}{2}$ c.; Brazil nuts, 11c.; pecans, small, 10c.; medium, 13c., and extra, 15c.; Grenoble walnuts, $13\frac{1}{2}$ to 14c., and Naples do., $13\frac{1}{2}$ c.; peanuts, 7 to 9c. for roasted and 6 to 8c. for raw.

CANNED GOODS.

There has been very little doing in canned goods, the movement being strictly confined to small lots of goods in a small way. We quote: Lobsters, per case, $6.50; sardines, $8.50 to $9.50; salmon, $1.35 to $1.40 per doz; tomatoes, 90 to 95c. per doz; peaches, $2 to $2.10 per doz.; corn, 95c. to $1 per doz., and marrowfat peas, 85 to 90c. per doz.; strawberries, $2.75 per doz., and raspberries, $1.80 to $2.50; 1-gallon can apples, $2.10.

FISH.

The continued cold weather has led to a good demand for fresh fish of all kinds. On the other hand, the salted and pickled fish trade has been slow on account of the fact that buyers generally are well supplied at present. The receipts of fresh fish have been large of late, and values have an easy tone, tending toward. Haddock and cod have sold at 3 to $3\frac{1}{2}$ c. per lb.; fresh herrings in barrels and casks at 90c. to \$1.10 per 100; smelts at 5c. per lb.; fresh salmon at 13 to $13\frac{1}{2}$ c.; tommy cods, at \$1 to \$1.35 per barrel; halibut at 11c. per lb.; whitefish at 6c.; pike at $4\frac{1}{2}$ c., mackerel at 11 to 12c.; No. 1 Nova Scotia herrings are selling in a small way at \$4 to \$4.50, No. 1 green cod at \$4 to \$4.25, No. 2 do. at \$3, and No. 1 green haddock at \$3. Labrador salmon are scarce and firmly held at \$14, while B.C. are easier at \$11.50; sea trout are unchanged at \$10 per barrel; No. 1 Lake trout at \$4.25 per half-barrel, and No. 2 mackerel at \$12 per barrel. Haddies are steady at $6\frac{1}{2}$ to 7c. per lb., and bloaters at \$1 to \$1.20 per box.

GREEN FRUIT.

APPLES—The apple market is quiet and unchanged, with prices ranging from $2 to $3 per bbl., as to quality.

ORANGES—The orange market retains the firmness noted last week, and demand is fair. Floridas sell at $4 to $4.50, Valencias, $4.50, and Messinas $2 to $3. Jamaicas range from $6 to $7 per bbl.

LEMONS—Demand fair at a range of $2 to $3 for Messinas.

PINEAPPLES—Quiet and unchanged at 25c.

CRANBERRIES—Supply of these is light, and sales have been made at higher figures, as high as $16 per bbl. being mentioned. We quote: $15 to $16 for good and $9 to $10 for frozen.

GRAPES—Supplies of Almeria grapes are diminishing, and prices are firm at $5.50 to $6.50 per bbl.

SPANISH ONIONS—These are quiet and unchanged at $1 per crate.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

EGGS—The egg market continues to rule quiet and easy. The demand is fair for small lots, and sales are made at 13 to 14c. for Montreal limed and 11 to $11\frac{1}{2}$ c. for Western per dozen.

POULTRY—There is no change in poultry, business being quiet and prices steady. Turkeys sell at 8 to 9c., chickens at 6 to 7c., geese at 5 to 6c., and ducks at 8c. per lb.

DRESSED HOGS—A fair amount of business is transacted in dressed hogs, there being a good demand for small lots, but we do not hear of many car lots changing hands. We quote: Car lots at $5.30 to $5.40, and small lots at $5.40 to $5.60 per 100 lbs.

POTATOES—The tone is firmer and prices are higher at 54c. in car lots and 62 to 65c., according to quantity, in a smaller way.

ONIONS—There is a fair demand for onions at $1.75 to $2 per bbl.

HONEY—No change, and we quote $4\frac{1}{2}$ to $5\frac{1}{2}$ c. per lb for old extracted and 7 to 9c. per lb. for new. Comb honey ranges from 10 to 13c.

BEANS—Prices steady at $1.30 to $1.45 for hand-picked, and $1.10 to $1.20 for seconds.

HOPS—Market quiet and unchanged at $6\frac{1}{2}$ to 8c., as to quality.

PROVISIONS.

The demand for pork is slow, and the market for this article quiet and steady. In other lines a fair trade is done at about quotations. Canadian short cut, heavy, \$16 to \$16.50; Canadian short cut, light, \$15 to \$15.50; hams, city cured, per lb., 9 to $11\frac{1}{2}$ c.; lard, Canadian, in pails, $9\frac{1}{2}$ to $10\frac{1}{2}$ c.; bacon, per lb., 9 to $11\frac{1}{2}$ c.; lard, com. refined, per lb., 7 to 8c.

CHEESE AND BUTTER.

There is a somewhat better feeling apparent in cheese in consequence of enquiry that has been received over the cable by shippers to-day. The limits allowed in the case in question, though not very full, still afforded more encouragement than the utter absence of demand which has ruled recently.

Whether it is the beginning of the turn or not it is difficult to say, but the fact remains that there was business in western goods to the extent of 1,500 boxes at 10 to 10½c., and also some transactions in eastern makes at 9½ to 9¾c.

The butter market continues unimproved, and only a small jobbing trade in fresh late-made stock is doing. Small parcels of creamery realized 20½c. to-day, and western roll stock 15 to 15½c. Held stock is purely nominal as regards a quotation, for holders cannot even get a bid on it.

ASHES.

The market for ashes is quiet and unchanged. We quote: First pots at $4.10; seconds at $3.70 to $3.75, and pearls at about $6.40 per 100 lbs.

FLOUR AND MEAL.

There is a fair enquiry from abroad to-day for Manitoba patents, and as cables continue firm another sale of 1,000 sacks was reported on London account for shipment via Boston. The demand on spot continues good for small lots, and a fair amount of business is doing at firm prices. We quote: Winter wheat, $3.50 to $3.75; spring wheat, patents, $3.50 to $3.65; straight roller, $2.85 to $3; extra, $2.65 to $2.70; superfine, $2.50 to $2.60; Manitoba strong bakers', $3.40 to $3.75.

The demand for feed is steadily improving, and millers report a larger volume of business doing at steady prices. We quote: Ontario bran, $15 to $15.50; Manitoba bran, $16; shorts, $17; mouillie, $20 to $22.

The market for oatmeal was quiet and without any new feature of note. We quote: Standard, bbls., $3.70 to $3.75; granulated, bbls., $3.80 to $3.85; rolled oats, bbls., $3.90 to $3.95.

MONTREAL TRADE NOTES.

Advices from Patras on currants cite an excited market, and the very best offer laid down in Montreal on barrel goods is 3¼c. This is equivalent to an advance of ½c. on previous offers.

Turkish prunes are 1c. firmer on this market this week, the inside price now being 4½c. per lb., while sales have ranged up to 5c. for superior qualities.

Mr. Arthur Tippet, of A. P. Tippet & Co., is now on his way across the Atlantic. He expects to be gone for a month.

Vipond, McBride & Co. are offering a lot of 800 boxes Atlas brand prunes at 4¼ to 4½c.

Chicago houses have taken over 300 packages of gunpowder tea off this market during the past eight days.

Raw cane sugar has been offered in cargo lots at 9s. 6d. cost and freight, Montreal—a very low figure, but refiners are backward buyers.

There have been offers of a No. 2 granulated sugar from refiners' hands since our last at 3¼c. This is the result of German competition. One of the refiners here has shut down for ten days for cleaning purposes.

Rose & Laflamme note a good demand for their brand of Ostrich prunes. As per their advertisement, there are agencies for these goods in Winnipeg, Kingston, Toronto, Berlin and Hamilton.

Superior grades of Labrador herring are a leading line of fish with Stewart Munn & Co., of the Board of Trade building, Montreal.

Fine Atlas and Bosnia prunes are a large stock with Laporte, Martin & Co., St. Peter street.

NEW BRUNSWICK MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE CANADIAN GROCER,

ST. JOHN, N.B., Jan. 17, 1895.

TRADE continues dull, and there is little chance of its being much better till after February. There is little inclination on the part of the wholesale trade to buy except to fill actual demand. Some few years ago January was considered the month to sell smoked meats for spring trade. But this year so far there is no movement. The retailers are complaining about the way in which prices are cut in all lines of goods, even where a small quantity is sold during a year. This practice is no doubt carried to an unnecessary extent. To such an extent in fact that the question is often asked how are the goods paid for. In some cases they are not paid for, and in others the explanation is not at all to the credit of the merchant. There is no doubt united action on the part of the retailer could very much abate this trouble.

SALT—There is no change from last week. Stocks, though not large, are more than equal to demand, which is light, and is likely to be so for some time. We quote: Liverpool coarse, 58 to 60c.; fine factory filled, 90c. to $1; 5-lb. bags $3 per bb'l.; 10-lb. bags, $2.80 per bb'l.; wood boxes, 20 lb. each, 20c.; 10 lb. each, 12c.

CANNED GOODS—Stocks, though not large, equal to demand. Prices are firm. In salmon, stocks are light, and feeling here, as before reported, is firm, but outside advices are rather weaker. We quote: Peas, 90c.; corn, 95c.; tomatoes, $1 to $1.05; new gallon apples, $2.40; peaches, 3's, $2.65 to $2.75; 2's, $2; oysters, 2's, $2.15 to $2.20; 1's, $1.50 to $1.60; salmon, $1.35 to $1.40; lobsters, $1.75 to $2; haddies, $1.40; clams, $5.50 per case of 4 doz.; scallops, $5.50 per case of 4 doz.; chowder, $3.50 per case of 2 doz.

DRIED FRUIT—Stocks held here are firm and demand light, which causes but little change in markets. A large quantity of old Valencia raisins consigned here from New York are of such a quality that they will not effect the market price of good fruit. There will no doubt be some difficulty in disposing of them, as the demand here for such goods is small. Californias can be replaced rather lower there than in stock, so that prices are easy. Some fine California loose muscatels are in this market. Owing to the stock of currants being small, there has been some inquiry during the past few weeks, and to replace stocks rather higher prices have to be paid. In peanuts, Norfolk is offering the better grades rather lower. The medium grade is what is, as a rule, brought into this market. Demand for figs is light. There are fewer Sultana raisins consumed in this market every year, and the use is now about confined to bakers. We quote: Sultana raisins, 6 to 6½c.; Valencia, 4¼ to 4½c.; Valencia layers, 5¼ to 5½c.; California loose muscatels, 5½ to 6c.; London layers, $2.25; currants, bbls., 3¼ to 3½c., half cases, 3¾ to 4c.; evaporated apples, 8½ to 9c.; dried apples, 5¾ to 6¼c.; dates, 4¼ to 4½c.; prunes, 5 to 5½c.; figs, 11 to 18c.; cleaned currants, 6c. bulk; 6¾ to 7c., 1-lb. cartons.

GREEN FRUIT—Soft apples remain in the same unsatisfactory condition. Bishop pippins, which should now be good value, are found in many cases soft, and have to be sold at auction to avoid loss. Hard apples will, however, bring good figures. The accounts of damage to oranges by frost is not confined to Florida, but reports to the same effect also come from California, causing a firm feeling in the market. Lemons are quiet. Little green fruit is being shipped outside the city owing to the cold weather. We quote: Lemons, Messina, $3.50 to $4 per box; Valencia oranges, per case, $4.50; West India, repacked, $4 to $4.25 per bbl.; Florida oranges, $4 to $4.15; apples, soft, $1 to $2 per bbl.; hard, $2 to $2.75 per bbl.

DAIRY PRODUCT—Canadian butter is now being offered in this market, but at equal prices. Our own is preferred, there being a flavor about the Canadian which is not liked. The demand is quiet, and it is difficult to get the price asked for creamery and other dairy. Cheese is also dull, and prices much below last year at this time. Holders are, however, still confident, and are firm at present prices. Eggs slow, case and barrel lots being hard to sell. Grocers prefer to buy small quantities of fresh eggs coming into country market at higher figures. Creamery, prints, 23 to 24c.; tubs, 21 to 22c.; dairy, tubs, 18 to 20c.; cheese, 10½ to 11c.; eggs, 18 to 20c.

MOLASSES—Demand is good for this season. Prices remain firm, stocks being light and no outside stocks to draw from. This, with the report that new will be late, tends to the opinion that prices will have to go higher. We quote: Barbadoes, 32c.; Porto Rico, 32c.; fancy, 43 to 44c.; Anigua, 30c.; syrup, 30 to 35c.

SUGAR—Very little sugar was sold at the lowest figure offered here, as the refiners almost immediately advanced the price ¼c. It is, however, even now very low. There is rather a firmer feeling. Demand is light. We quote: Granulated, $3.90 to $4; foreign granulated, 3¾c.; yellows, 3¼ to 3½c.; powdered, 6c.; Paris lump, 6c.

FISH—In this, as in other lines, there is not much doing. Some 40,000 boxes smoked fish have been shipped direct from Grand Haven to New York, and also some frozen fish, but for the latter the price is not such as to bring out large shipments. Quite a quantity of frozen fish have arrived in this market, but are finding slow sale. Dry cod continue as before mentioned, firm, and pickled herring and smoked are considered good stock, though demand is not large. We quote: Large cod, $3.90; medium, $3.70 to $3.75; small, $3.25; haddock, $1.65; pollock, $1.65 to $1.75; shad, half-bbls., $5 to $5.50; bay herring, $1.50 to $1.60; Shelburne, No. 1, bbls., $4 to $4.25; half-bbls., $2.40 to $2.50; Canso, bbls., $5.25; smoked herring, 7 to 7½c.; frozen cod, 2½c.; pollock, 2c.; herring, 60 to 65c.

PROVISIONS—If our local packers wish to hold the best trade in packed pork, they must be more careful in the way they put it up, and also in the barrels they use. Some of our packers have a well deserved reputation for extra goods. This is not true of all, but it should be if the industry here is to be a success. Demand light; no change in prices. We quote: Clear pork, $18.50 to $19; mess, $16.50 to $17; plate beef, $12.75 to $13; pure lard, 9½ to 10c.; compound, 8½ to 9c.

FLOUR AND FEED.

Business continues dull, with prices firm all round. Flour shows no change, Manitoba being rather higher in proportion to Ontario. Meal is quiet. Oats in fair demand, and buyers are inclined to replace stocks as soon as sold, giving a confident tone to the market. Hay shows no improvement. Beans rather firmer. Middlings hard to get and high, with fair demand. We quote: Manitoba, $4.40 to $4.50; best Ontario, $3.55 to $3.65; medium, $3.35 to $3.40; oatmeal, $3.90 to $4; cornmeal, $3 to $3.10; granulated, $3.50 to $3.60; middlings, on track, $20.50; bran, $17.50 to $18; oats, on track, 37 to 38c.; Ontario, 41 to 42c.; beans, $1.45 to $1.55; split peas, $3.65 to $3.85; round, $3.65 to $3.75; pot barley, $4; hay, on track, $9.50 to $10.

A Good Thing

Doesn't require half the pushing that some people imagine. We'd like to tell you about all the "good things" that go to make up our exhibit for this season, but you've not got time to hear. Delhi, Ont.

They are old fruit, which it would appear were shipped here to avoid paying duty there. As Mr. Olive would not accept them they are still on the schooner awaiting word from shippers in New York.

The St. John Custom House report for December is as follows: Imports, 1894, $263,499, last year $276,269, duty collected this year, $56,153.51, last year $53,378.85. Total of free goods $127,268, last year $150,616. In dutiable there is an increase. Last year amount was $125,653, this year $136,231; exports December, 1893, $148,641; 1894, $156,311.

Mr. Theo. H. Estabrooks, in talking to THE GROCER, said he found an increasing demand for good Moyune teas, and that in selecting his stock he had given particular attention to this grade.

C. H. Dearborn, senior member of Dearborn & Co., left this week to visit his orange grove in Florida. THE GROCER regrets to hear his grove, in common with others, suffered greatly during the late frosts.

NOVA SCOTIA MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE CANADIAN GROCER,

HALIFAX, Jan. 17, 1895.

THE second week of the new year closed very dull. The weather is against business, and unless a change sets in soon there will be a general flattening out all round. Rain has been the order all week, and roads are almost impassable. There is hardly a feature worth noting. A lot of fruit, eggs, etc., were returned this week from Newfoundland, the commission merchants thinking it better to send the goods back than to try and sell them. The refineries are determined to knock the German granulated people out of the market, and are offering the home article at $3\frac{1}{2}$ c. I understand they are prepared to come $\frac{1}{4}$ c. lower.

BREADSTUFFS—Trade in breadstuffs remains quiet, with quotations same as last week, viz.: Manitoba patents, $4.30; Ontario patents, $3.25 to $3.40; straight grades, $3.10 to $3.20; middlings, $2.00 to $2.10, including sacks; bran, $18.75 to $19; oatmeal and rolled oats, $3.80; cornmeal, $3 to $3.05. Jobbers' prices are considerably higher.

FISH STUFFS—Some fish have been received from Newfoundland, but the market is so flat that it made no material difference. The demand remains good for large grocery cod and Cape Breton July herrings. Frozen herrings remain low, there being no advance from last week's prices of 45 and 50c. per 100.

PROVISIONS—Several carloads of Canadian beef have arrived, and in consequence prices have weakened from 50 to 75c. per carcass. Best quality beef is quoted at \$7 to \$7.75. Lambs remain scarce and are quoted at $7\frac{1}{2}$ c. There is no poultry in the market, but some Ontario stocks are on the way.

GREEN FRUIT—The frozen crop of Florida does not seem to affect the market here. Retailers advertise oranges at the usual prices and last week's jobbers' quotations rule: Oranges—Floridas, $3 to $3.50; Valencias, $4.50; Jamaicas, $5.50 to $6. Messina lemons, $3.50 to $4. Apples can be bought from 75c. up to $3.

DRIED FRUIT—There is no demand for raisins, and very little for dates or prunes. We quote: Dates, finest, 5 to 6c.; figs, 1 lb. boxes, 10c. each; prunes, $\frac{1}{2}$ cases, 5 to 7c.; currants, casks, $3\frac{3}{4}$ to $3\frac{1}{2}$ c.; ditto, cases, $3\frac{3}{4}$ to $3\frac{1}{2}$ c.; raisins, Valencias, layers, finest, $5\frac{1}{4}$ to 7c.; Valencias, $4\frac{1}{2}$ to $4\frac{3}{4}$ c.; Sultanas, $6\frac{1}{2}$ c.; California, \$2.25; London layers, \$2.50; Connoisseur clusters, \$3.25; dried apples, 6c.; evaporated ditto, $8\frac{1}{2}$ c.

EGGS—Eggs are meeting with no demand, except good fresh stock, which brings from 25 to 32c. There is a lot of stale stock on the market, which ranges from 13 to 16c.

CHEESE—This line remains stationary. September is worth $11\frac{1}{2}$ c., and early $10\frac{1}{2}$ to 11c.

BUTTER—Some fine Canadian rolls have been received. General quotations this week are: Canadian creamery, 21 to 24c.; Nova Scotia small tubs, 18 to 22c.; large tubs, 17 to 20c.; store packed, 16c.

HALIFAX MARKET NOTES.

Prince Edward Island is looking for a butter market here. The Tryon creamery is likely to do something with our dealers.

The Army and Navy Brewery and Nova Scotia breweries, and the McDougall Rye Whiskey Distillery are to be amalgamated. Mr. John C. Oland, of the Army and Navy Brewery, goes to England on the 19th to complete arrangements.

PERSONAL MENTION.

A. J. Williams, Montreal agent for Francis Peek, Winch & Co., London, and C. P. Low & Co., Japan, has been spending a week or so in Toronto.

R. H. Little, of Lisle, Ont., was in Toronto last Saturday. Business of a personal nature occupied his time.

E. W. Ashley, manufacturers' agent, Winnipeg, is in Toronto arranging with the Pure Gold Manufacturing Co. to represent them in Winnipeg.

A "PURE GOLD" BOY.

Manager J. D. Roberts, of the Pure Gold Mfg. Co., was not at his post Friday last. When he reached the office, the following morning, he found a large Union Jack fastened over his desk, and underneath was suspended a large placard bearing these words: "A Boy. 'Twas raised on Pure Gold Baking Powder," while cans of condensed milk flanked either side of Mr. Roberts' accustomed seat. This notice, which appeared in one of the daily papers on Monday last, explains the why and the wherefore of these curious decorations:

ROBERTS—At 7 Balmuto street, on the 11th January, the wife of John D. Roberts of a son.

The Pure Gold's muse sends the following anent the event:

To the house of Roberts is born a young son—
Welcome, thrice welcome, little son-of-a-gun.
A rumor is rife that he looks like his dad;
If this should prove true, it's really too bad.
That rumor is false, we indulge the fond hope,
For we want the kid's "phiz" for a new brand of soap.
Despair not, friend John, you must not be vexed,
The chance is, my boy, you'll improve on the next.
May he "live till he dies," and do as he's told,
A credit to papa, likewise to Pure Gold.

THE GROCER, of course, tenders its congratulations to Papa Roberts.

TRADE CHAT.

A VANCOUVER despatch says that, contrary to the expectations of

The United Fire Insurance Co., of Manchester, England, has decided to discontinue business in Canada, and has just closed a contract with the Western Assurance Co., of Toronto, to cover all its risks in the Dominion. The United Fire has been doing business in Canada since 1891, having its head office for the Dominion in Montreal and agencies throughout all the provinces.
 Its annual premium income has been about $175,000. The liabilities under its policies are assumed by the Western from the 15 h inst.

In view of the opinion held that the Chine e war is likely to have an important influence in reducing the supply of next crop of tea, extracts from a letter dated at Shanghai at the close of November, from a gentleman engaged in buying another line of merchandise, are significant. He says: "The war is checking business. Coolies and peasants are recruited in the interior for the army, and the ones remaining are afraid to travel to market. No Chinese merchant now gives refusals, and, as in many places Chinese mandarins are exacting heavy contributions from the rich merchants, they have almost all fled to the open ports, and there is nobody left in the interior with whom contracts could be safely made."

TORONTO GROCERS' SMOKER.

THE electric lights in St. George's Hall looked down through their globes of many hues and clouds of smoke upon a crowd of jovial spirits on Monday night last. It was the "smoker" of the Toronto Retail Grocers' Association, and through the smoke could be discerned, seated at the score or more of card tables or standing around in little groups, wholesale grocers, retail grocers, travelers, manufacturers, and clerks, nearly all smoking the pipe of peace or puffing the cigar of good-fellowship.

There were probably about two hundred present, and outside the members of the association may have been noticed: Mr. Lang, of J. W. Lang & Co.; Mr. Larkin, of P. C. Larkin & Co.; Mr. Todhunter and Mr. Cherry, of Todhunter, Mitchell & Co.; Mr. Ramsay, of J. F. Ramsay & Co.; Mr. Husband, of Husband Bros.; W. Logan, Chas. Shields, A. K. Spafford, and Donald Bremner, of Davidson & Hay; Mr. J. Taylor, of the Morse Soap Works; Mr. Wilson, of Wilson Vinegar Works; W. B. Smith, J. Owen, Albert Irving, of Sloan & Crowther; Mr. Lawson, of Lawson Bros.; Mr. Ben Dack, of Warren Bros. & Boomer; Mr. Gus Piper, of Piper & Langskill; Mr. Thompson, of Robert Thompson & Co.; Mr. H. W. Dawson, of Dawson & Co.; Mr. H. Wright, of Wright & Copp; Mr. Bradshaw, of W. A. Bradshaw & Co.; Mr. Arch. Hutchinson, of the St. Lawrence Starch Co.; Mr. Graham, of the Edwardsburg Starch Co.; Messrs. Morley and Anderson, of Smith & Keighley; Messrs. W. H. Seyler, D. Casey and C. Mellish, of the Eby, Blain Co.; Messrs. J. Mortimer, T. Holman, D. Fleming, of Christie, Brown & Co.; Mr. Frank Wright, of Toronto Biscuit Co.; Mr. Clegghorn, of Cleghorn & Co.; Mr. F. Gallow, of the Pure Gold Manufacturing Co.; Mr. McLean, of Graham, McLean & Co.; Mr. Thorpe, of McWilliam & Everist; Mr. Oak, of Clemes Bros.; Messrs. D. C. Andros and A. E. McDonald, of the Royal Canadian Mills; S. K. Moyer, S. G. Martin, of Kilgour Bros.; Mr. Sharp, of McColl Oil Works; Lawrence Gibb.

The program was impromptu, but it was good. The rich baritone of Mr. Arch. Hutchinson found much favor, and several times during the night did it ring through the hall, and once in a duet, with Mr. James Owen as tenor. This latter number was one of the events of the evening. Mr. Frank Wright never tired giving comic songs, and, of course, those present never tired of listening to him. Mr. Sam. Jones gave acceptably a recitation, Mr. R. A. Donald rendered a solo, and Mr. A. Irving a mouth organ solo. When there was neither singing nor recitations, etc., strains of music from Glionna's orchestra enlivened the proceedings. By no means the least of the evening's amusements was a three-round set-to between Prof. Lovatt and John Smith, holder of the boxing championship of the Toronto Rowing Club.

Mr. F. S. Roberts, the new president of the association, was master of ceremonies.

A GENERAL COMPLAINT.

DEAR GROCER,—There has been considerable dissatisfaction lately amongst the retail grocers, fruit men, and pedlars regarding the way peddling and the laws regarding the same are observed in Toronto. Many of the grocers and fruit men claim that it is next to impossible to make a living and pay such heavy rents and taxes with so many of these absorbents (pedlars) around their doors.

The licensed pedlars complain grievously of the injustice done them. They assert that they are unable to make ends meet and pay the license imposed upon them, while market gardeners, farmers, and pedlars who pay no license are allowed to come into the city and absorb from door to door that which ought to go towards sustaining those who pay for the privilege. Being a business man myself, and having been put to considerable inconvenience through this evil, I beg to submit the following few suggestions as a cure:

1. Issue no pedlars' licenses.
2. License shops and not individuals. This would fill a great number of stores now lying vacant, and bring money into the treasury.
3. Enlarge St. Lawrence market and extend it south to the railway track.
4. Enlarge St. Andrew's Market.
5. Compel all farmers and market gardeners to go direct to the retailers or either of the above markets to dispose of their produce.
6. Let the authorities give the police power to carry out the law to the letter.

As matters remain now, the city is certainly standing in its own light.

UNION IS STRENGTH.

Good feeling should exist between rival merchants in small towns, tritely remarks Northwestern Merchant. There is more to be gained from union than from quarreling. There are a great many things that need looking after in connection with business in small towns, just as there are in smaller towns, and there is just as much reason why there should be good feeling among the merchants so that they can work for improvements as there is that such should be the case in larger towns. The railroad company may have reduced the service for economy; a mixed train may be running in place of the passenger. A competing point may have the old train service, and an injustice may be worked this way. Here is an opportunity for united effort for better railroad service. This is only an instance, but it is suggestive of other ideas.

A GLIMPSE AT RETAILERS.

THAT energy and push, combined with a thorough knowledge of one's business, are bound to forge ahead, is exemplified in the case of J. S. Ireland, one of Mount Forest's most popular and successful merchants, who has lately vacated his old stand and now occupies one of the handsomest and best appointed grocery and crockery establishments west of Toronto. It is nearly 100 feet long, with double counters, plate glass windows, lighted with electricity throughout, and stocked with a choice assortment of goods. Besides a full line of groceries Mr. Ireland will now carry stocks of silverware and crockery. With the characteristic hustling which has always marked Mr. Ireland's business movements, a large measure of success in his new store is predicted for him.

Carrie Bros., general merchants, Bobcaygeon, have dissolved, and the business will be carried on by M. Cain & Co. Mr. James Cain, of D. Cain & Co, of the same town, has bought out a general business in Sundridge, and will move to that place.

J. M. Bothwell, the well-known Barrie grocer, was the choice of his fellow citizens at the last municipal elections for the mayoralty. Congratulations, Mr. Bothwell.

Hugh Wilson, the Cannington general merchant, was in Toronto last week. "The old war horse bought a big lot of goods," said THE GROCER's informant. "Guess he's looking for a big business."

J. B. Campbell, of Campbell & Pinkerton, Pinkerton, Ont., was elected deputy-reeve of the Township of Greenock.

D. Lavrock, general merchant, Port Elgin, is advertising his stock there for sale. Mr. Lavrock, it will be remembered, recently started a grocery business in Hamilton.

Milton Carr, of McEachren & Carr, general merchant, Trout Creek, was a successful candidate for the reeveship at the recent elections, leading his Powassan opponent by 26 or 27 votes.

J. S. Boddy & Bro., of Bradford, who were burned out some months ago, will remove in a few days from their temporary premises into their new building, which has been erected on the site of the structure destroyed by the fire. The new store is said to be one of the handsomest north of Toronto. There are two large plate glass windows, ample shelves, and the ceiling is handsomely appointed.

E. Burt, of Burt & Co., grocers, Bracebridge, was in Toronto last Friday on business bent. He returned home same day.

Grocer Brown, of Eglinton, is offering 20 cents on the dollar. Mr. Brown has been in business fifteen or twenty years, and a good deal of sympathy is being extended to him in his difficulties.

STILL ANOTHER ORDER.

THE Halifax merchants seem to be the general target for the Customs authorities to shoot their orders and regulations at. This is the way an importer puts it in The Halifax Chronicle :

" Since the day of confederation much of the dissatisfaction of Halifax merchants is, I feel sure, attributable to the series of annoying Custom House regulations which are from time to time imposed, and which, however suitable they may be to the Upper Canadian cities, are out of place in the Maritime Provinces, and especially Nova Scotia. In Montreal and Toronto the trade in imports is almost exclusively in duty-paid goods, while in Halifax there are many lines of merchandise, chiefly West India goods, which are, as a rule, sold 'in bond,' and they are transferred by substituting the purchaser's name at the Custom House in place of the original importer. Until recently such goods could remain in the importer's warehouse, if desired, and business has been done in this way from time immemorial until not very long ago, when orders came from Ottawa that no one should be allowed to hold goods in any warehouse except his own, or in some public warehouse, and it would be impossible to tell the extent of annoyance this regulation has caused. If such regulations were based on common issues, or were for the good of the public service, no doubt one would learn to submit with more or less good grace ; but in many instances they seem to be merely the vagaries of some eccentric brain, and it is most exasperating to business men when they become the victims of such stupidity and gross ignorance of commercial requirements."

BRAZIL NUTS.

The crop of Brazil nuts during the present year, says an exchange, proved so unexpectedly heavy that there is some fear that the new crop will be in this market before the old supply has gone into consumption. The crop is gathered along the banks of the Amazon in the early months of the year and usually reaches this continent in March. Last year it amounted to the unexpected total of 10,000 tons; of which about one-half comes to North America and the other goes to England and the continent. The sudden dumping of over 5,000 tons of these nuts in New York naturally swamped the market. There is still a surplus of 10,000 bags on hand, and, if the new crop prove anything like as large as the last, holders of Brazil nuts stand to lose heavily. What the coming crop will be it is impossible to predict. The nuts are gathered by semi-civilized peoples on the banks of a river that extends 3,000 miles from its mouth, and no forecast of the amount they may bring in can be made. It is to be hoped, however, that the total may fall below the heavy crops of the past two years. If it does not, the new nuts are likely to have a chilly reception; for already the price in New York has fallen to 3½ to 4¼c., as to size.

AN ADVANCE IN MOLASSES.

The firmness in Barbadoes molasses that we have noted for some time back developed in a sharp advance in Montreal on Tuesday last.

Since last Friday, importers have experienced a good enquiry from both sugar refineries in Montreal, and, as orders were repeated involving a round quantity of stock, they decided to advance their price.

The advance did not check the buying, and, finally, a round quantity was sold by the leading holder in Montreal at 30c.

This is an advance of 1½c., and the market, as we write, is excited, and still higher prices are expected, as there is little or no stock in Montreal to meet the demand if it continues.

G. R. Ashwell & Sons, of Chilliwack, B. C., write as follows : We must congratulate you on the improvements that you are making with your paper. We derive a great deal of information from it and would not be without it for a great deal. We made enough out of one advertisement we saw in THE GROCER to pay for several years' subscription to it.

LONDON FOOD CONSUMPTION.

In view of the discrimination of English cattle buyers and speculators against American beef, says N.Y. Journal of Commerce, it is interesting to know what the inhabitants of London consume daily in the way of meat, fish and other commodities. These data have been collected by Doctor Wray, representing the United States Agricultural Department in London, and who spent many months upon the work, and, though not official—for there are no official figures—are the result of the most thorough, persistent and painstaking investigations. In considering the figures, it should be borne in mind that England is not a producing country, and raises not only a small portion of the meat, but of all kinds of food consumed by her people.

In 1893 the five and a half million inhabitants of London consumed 478,000 tons of fresh meat, or 1,070,720,000 pounds, English weight. These figures include beef, mutton and pork.

Of salted beef 2,700 tons were consumed; of hams, 7,000 tons; of bacon, 20,750 tons. In the difference between the quantity of ham and bacon consumed may be noticed a peculiar English characteristic; for the citizen of the United States, especially of the metropolitan cities, is not a large consumer of bacon, but takes more kindly to ham.

Of canned goods 100,000 cases were consumed daily; of salt pork, 2,000 tons; of rabbits, 175,000 during each day of the season, which is very short, and of poultry, under which head are included all kinds of fowls and game birds, 35,000 tons.

The daily consumption of eggs is almost incredible, being 70 tons per day.

The annual consumption of lard is 7,000 tons.

The English are not as heavy meat-eaters as Americans, but they distinguish themselves as fish-eaters, since the number of fish consumed annually in London reaches the enormous aggregate of 1,800,000,000, distributed, or classified, as follows: 400,000 salmon, and an equal number of codfish; 60,000,000 soles, a fish resembling our flounder; 12,000,000 whiting, 2,000,000 haddock, 22,000,000 plaice, 16,000,000 mackerel, 800,000,000 herring, 6,000,000 eel, 800,000 dabs and flounder, 1,000,000 sprats, and 1,000,000 of sundry kinds.

Of dried fish the annual consumption is 50,000 barrels of codfish, 15,000,000 haddock, 100,000,000 bloaters, 30,000,000 red herring, 10,800,000 kippers and sprouts.

Of shell fish: 125,000 oysters; 1,000,000 lobsters; 500,000 crabs; 300,000,000 shrimps; 3,000,000 whelk; 30,000,000 mussels; 40,000,000 cockles, and 100,000,000 periwinkles or winkles.

In calculating the total each inhabitant of the sea, whether shell, fresh or salt, large or small, is entitled equal recognition or at least receives it. If the total be divided by the number of days in a year and the number of London's inhabitants it will be seen that the Londoner must draw his supply of brain, so far as fish are concerned, from a small quantity of fish per day, and that if the fish were distributed as the above total has been calculated, the difference in character between the Londoner and his more intelligent and more respectable fellow countryman could be more easily and satisfactorily accounted for. A human being drawing his brain supply from a few winkles or shrimp or sprat could hardly be expected to equal in avoirdupois or intelligence the Briton who could draw his supply from a large-sized codfish or bloater.

London also consumes a large quantity of fruit and vegetables, the supply during 1893 being—of apples, 2,500,000 bushels; of oranges and lemons, 5,000,000 bushels, and of miscellaneous fruit, including plums, grapes, pears, etc., 25,000,000.

The annual consumption of Irish potatoes is 400,000 tons; of cabbage, 110,000 tons; of turnips, 60,000 tons; of cauliflower, 30,000 tons; of Brussels sprouts, 15,000 tons; of carrots and parsnips, 15,000 tons; of green peas, 25,000 tons; of vegetable marrows, 200 tons; of cucumbers, 300 tons; of onions, 50,000 tons; of rhubarb, 900 tons; of celery, 800 tons; of asparagus, 300 tons; of turnips, 200 tons; and of hops, herbs and unnamed growths, about 500 tons.

It takes 830,575,000 two-pound loaves of bread to supply the annual wants of the population in addition to the number of small quarter pound loaves, rolls, biscuits, etc.

London is dependent on foreign countries for its vast supply of food material, and if through any contingency England should lose her control of the seas, her people would starve. A blockade would diminish her meat and grocery supply one-half, the price of bread would be double, and fruit and groceries would be luxuries that only the crowned heads or members of the wealthy nobility could enjoy.

It will be seen from the foregoing how dependent England is upon the broad acres of the United States for her food supplies, and especially for her meat.

DRY GOODS.

TORONTO MARKET.

TRADE is not picking up to any great extent. Sorting trade is confined to small lots of winter goods, such as blankets, flannels, and underwear, with small attention to white cottons and fine linens.

The fires of last week somewhat demoralized trade here in some lines. Toronto's largest white goods manufacturer was wiped out, as well as one of Toronto's finest warehouses, that of S. F. Mackinnon & Co. Bastedo and Dunnett—names well known in the fur trade—have suffered. Such long-established houses as Robert Darling & Co. and Nicholas Rooney have been broken up. But nearly all these sufferers are again buying, and preparing to carry on business as usual.

Travelers are out with spring lines, and these are almost complete, except, perhaps, in millinery lines, which will be incomplete for nearly a month yet.

MONTREAL MARKET.

Trade in dry goods during the past week has been fair on the whole, though no particular activity has been shown, but small orders have been received covering all lines of cottons and spring woollens, while spring trimmings, linings, etc., have all come in for a fair degree of attention. There has been a fairly good enquiry also for serges and cashmeres. Remittances are fairly good, being, in fact, better than people expected, though the returns are not as heavy naturally as in a good year. Travelers will all be out by the end of the present week, and by that time a fairly good diagnosis can be made of spring prospects.

TEA ACTIVE IN MONTREAL.

A prominent feature of the grocery market in Montreal this week has been the pronounced activity in the wholesale market for tea. The presence of buyers both from Western Canada and the United States has induced not only a much firmer feeling, but has led to the turnover of a large quantity of low and medium grade Japans, and also some gunpowders, aggregating in all some 4,000 to 4,500 packages of tea, on which holders have realized an advance of fully half a cent over what was possible a week ago.

For instance, a Toronto buyer was offered last week a lot of medium Japans at 15c. He refused to take them at the time, but this week paid 15½c. for the same lot of goods.

This demonstrates pretty clearly the temper that buyers are in. The Chicago demand has been for gunpowders, and buyers from that market have taken a fair lot of these teas at 20½ to 21c. The New York demand has been largely for low grade Japans, of which traders from that market have taken fully 2,000 to 2,500 packages, and now the inside price on low grade Japans is 12½c. an advance of ½c., and no medium grades can be had under 15½c.

Among the New York buyers who have been gathering in teas in Montreal was the representative of R. H. Macy & Co., one of the largest department stores in New York. In a word, the tea market is a brisk and upward one at present.

SUGAR CONSUMPTION IN 1894.

THE figures given herewith show the total consumption of sugar in the entire United States in 1894 to have been 2,024,648 tons, against 1,905,862 tons in 1893, and 1,853,370 tons in 1892. The increase for 1894 is 118,786 tons, or 6.23 per cent., against 52,492 tons, or 2.8 per cent. increase in 1893.

The consumption of 1894 consisted of 265,500 tons domestic cane sugar, 20,000 tons of domestic beet sugar, 300 tons of sorghum sugar, 5,000 tons of maple sugar, 15,000 tons of domestic manufactured molasses sugar, a total of 305,800 tons of United States production; and 1,554,528 tons of foreign cane, and 159,796 tons of foreign beet sugar, and 14,524 tons of foreign refined sugar, together 1,718,848 tons of foreign production.

The consumption of 1893 consisted of 282,000 tons of United States production, 1,375,422 tons of foreign cane, 234,163 tons of foreign beet, 14,277 tons of foreign refined, together 1,623,862 tons of foreign production.

The total meltings of our refiners in 1894 was 1,891,482 tons, 14,524 tons were refined abroad, and 118,642 tons were consumed in the raw and plantation state. Of the 1,891,482 tons melted by refiners, the American Sugar Refining Co. manufactured 1,456,182 tons, or 77 per cent., and the independent refiners 435,300 tons, or 23 per cent.

These figures of consumption agree with what we might naturally expect from the low price of sugar during the year, and from the fact that the two preceding years gave scarcely any increase, while the population of the country has steadily grown to 67,622,000 in 1894. The invisible stock of refined sugar is now 50,000 tons in excess of last year, thereby reducing the actual net consumption by that amount, of which no notice is taken in the above figures.

The independent refiners increased their production for the year 178,906 tons, or 41 per cent. over their business of 1893. The American Sugar Refining Co.'s production in 1894 decreased 75,000 tons, or 5 per cent. The difference between raws and refined in 1894 averaged 88c. per lb. The cost of refining, including administrative expenses, is .625c. per lb.

The consumption of 1894 crossed the two million tons mark which we set for it early in the season, and now we start for the three million mark, which will probably be reached within ten years. In 1882 the consumption of the United States crossed one million tons (1,061,220 tons), and in 1890 it crossed one and one-half million tons. The last increase of half a million tons has come in four years, a great impetus having been given to the consumption by the free sugar bill of 1890 and the low prices caused thereby. It is a notable feature that during the time that the consumption has increased a million tons the domestic production of sugar has increased but 112,000 tons, and 90,000 tons of this increase has come since 1890 under the stimulus of the bounty law. When the consumption of sugar was a million tons the cost of centrifugals was 7.79c. per lb. and of granulated 9.23c. per lb., a difference of 1.44c. per lb. When the consumption is two million tons, the centrifugals cost 3.24c. per lb. and the granulated 4.12c. per lb., a difference of .88c. per lb., a lowering of the cost of sugar to the people of 5.11c. per lb., or 55 per cent.—Willett & Gray's Statistical.

No. 2 DOMESTIC GRANULATED.

Sales agents for the refineries claim that the second quality granulated sugar, which THE GROCER referred to last week as having been placed on the market, has already met with favor, and that they have placed some round lots. They announce it as their intention to shut out the German sugar by the means of this article, if it is possible for them to do so.

The quality of the second grade domestic granulated is far superior to the German sugar, and, as it is put up in barrels, it should be worth ½c. more, at least, as the German sugar, being delivered in bags, is apt to absorb moisture, and cannot be handled to such advantage by dealers.

INCIDENTS OF THE "ROAD."

BY BOLIVAR.

THE traveler's life is not the soft snap that some people imagine, but still it has its humorous side, and a drummer, who should make a note of all the amusing incidents happening to him, could write an interesting biography. For my own part, I am not a professional drummer by any means, but have been on the road enough to have a few experiences to relate.

When stopping at the Royal Hotel, in Guelph, last summer, I met a jolly young fellow, who told me, somewhat to my surprise, that his "line" was tombstones, or, to put it in a more genteel way, granite monuments. "I had quite a funny experience the other day," he said, "in the 'bus at Kincardine. I met a traveler for a wholesale undertaker's supply house, whom I had chummed with on a trip several weeks ago. There were two other travelers in the 'bus, so we took a census, and found that the first man was a drug traveler, the second sold crutches and wooden legs, my friend handled coffins, and I supplied tombstones. We at once looked around for a doctor to complete the circle." This story is a fact, as I happened to meet the coffin man a couple of days later, and he corroborated it.

When waiting for a train at the station one day, I was accosted by a gentleman, who introduced himself as Mr. —, a well-known traveler for a leading wholesale hardware house. I had no recollection of having seen him before, but he recalled having seen me in a certain store about three years ago. "I have a great memory for faces," he said. "Once I meet a man I never forget him;" and at once entered on a string of stories illustrating that characteristic.

It was just about two weeks later that I next saw him; both of us were alone, and we met squarely face to face in Toronto, but he didn't know me from Adam, and passed by without a sign of recognition. Yes, as I remarked before, the memory of some people is truly wonderful.

Another incident requires the introduction of the parties' names, but is too good to be lost. Who doesn't know Taylor Webb, the genial little traveler for Thos. Davidson & Co.? On his first trip to Chatham, he called, among others, on O. & F. Shoemaker. In the course of conversation he worked off a carefully prepared joke. "I hope, sir, if we should not happen to get along very well together at any time, that you won't find it necessary to introduce your Shoemaker to my Taylor." But, alas, the retailer had never heard this familiar old saying, and so the joke was wasted on the desert air.

Coming in one Friday night on the C.P.R., I was crowded into the same seat with an elderly little man. He was a very sociable and cheery fellow, joked with the brakeman, amused the baby in the seat in front of us, and proved a most agreeable companion. On one point he was most enthusiastic. "I always travel by the C.P.R.," he said. "I believe in the N.P., and believe in the C.P.R. for the same reason." Anyway, it is the best road, and it is a pleasure to travel on it. When near the city he decided to change at Toronto Junction, and get off at North Toronto, instead of the Union. He asked the conductor to alter his check, and I did the same. After a while the new conductor came around, looked at the little man's check, said it read to Toronto Junction, and asked for fifteen cents more. The little man explained, but the conductor wouldn't accept his explanation, and asked for the fifteen cents. The little man grew warm, refused to pay, abused the conductor, and threatened to report him to Mr. Shaughnessy. But the conductor was firm, and got more and more so. Finally, the little man played his trump card by explaining how he always traveled by the C.P.R., and talked up the road. "Guess they don't make much out of you," said the conductor, "if you beat them like that very often." As I left the station at North Toronto, they were having a final round at it, and I have never met the gentleman again to ask if he still travels by the C.P.R.

A NEGRO'S MISTAKE.

We have just heard of a striking instance of a curious misconception being overcome by the intelligence of the G. P. O. authorities, says Eastern Daily Press, Norwich, England. A negro merchant trading in a clime where laundry blue is used for personal decoration by direct application to the body, thus saving the expense and inconvenience of linen, was wishful to open up business connections with the firm supplying the article. Taking a box of the blue, which contains on the label an advice in bold letters to "Laundresses and Families," he concluded that these words represented the name of the firm, and accordingly addressed the letter "Messrs. Laundresses & Families, 108 Cannon street, London." The postal authorities delivered it to J & J. Colman, for whom, the contents subsequently proved, it was intended.

Infringement of Patent Notice.

HULL, Canada, Jan. 2nd, 1895.

To the WHOLESALE GROCERY
AND JOBBING TRADE:

As the public are doubtless aware, we have been packing our Matches lately in very ingeniously constructed Paper Boxes, the invention of our Mr. Millen, and covered by Canadian Letters Patent of the 12th of May, 1892 (No. 38,938), and of 29th July, 1892 (No. 39,528), of which we are the sole proprietors. The value of these Boxes for packing matches was recognized as soon as we adopted them. Since then, some of our competitors in Canada, desiring to profit by our labor and experience, have seen fit to sell other than our matches packed in boxes of the same construction substantially as those of ours, which are protected by the above Letters Patent.

This clearly is an infringement of our Patent Rights, and, if continued, will be stopped by process of law. As a word of advice to our friends, and as a warning to our competitors, who are thus infringing upon our Patent Rights, we have decided to give this notice to all parties not to buy, sell, handle, trade in or barter with any goods that infringe the rights of

A crusade has been inaugurated in Windsor, Ont., against the saloons and hotels there; and it is beginning to wax hot. The by-law passed by the City Council regulating the hours for closing bars having been pronounced void, the only law under which they can be convicted for keeping open during prohibited hours is the provincial statute, which declares that bars must be kept closed from seven on Saturday night till six on Monday morning. It is for violation of this enactment, therefore, that liquor sellers are being summoned. Several convictions have already been recorded.

Great Britain imported 342,084 cases of canned beef from Australia last year, against 262,447 cases in 1893 and 229,535 cases in 1892. It is said that a ton of macaroni is made in Boston every day. Something like 500 miles of solidified flour and water, in size from a telegraph wire to a lead pencil, is cut into appropriate lengths every twenty-four hours and hung up to dry. Such is the product of three factories. Two of them are in the north end and the other in East Boston. Macaroni is divided into thirteen classes. Each of these is the product of the same batch of flour and the same kneading, but vary in size, shape and general appearance.

The directors of the Winnipeg Industrial Exhibition Association have resolved to get an expression of opinion from the country as regards the best season of the year for holding the exhibition. It will be interesting to know how much wiser they will be after they have duly sounded public opinion.

One very evident feature in the markets of former years has been utterly absent during the latter half of the present one, namely, speculation, says American Packer. In other days, he it was, and not the jobber, who primarily made the market and set prices. Then, canned goods always found a ready sale at some price, and, unless the offerings were unusually large, the price was a fair one, for the speculator, being always a large borrower, necessarily must protect his holdings. The speculator has often been roundly denounced, but there are few who would have been sorry had he been in evidence last fall.

DEATH OF A. M. SMITH.

IN the death of A. M. Smith, at his residence, 128 Pembroke street, on Saturday last, Toronto lost one of her leading citizens, one of her foremost business men. Having come to this country during the first half of the century, Mr. Smith has ever since been identified with the steadily growing commercial interests of Canada.

The deceased gentleman was born at Moneymusk, Aberdeenshire, Scotland, in the year 1818. At the age of 18 he enlisted with the 93rd Highlanders, and came to Canada when his regiment was ordered out to aid in quelling the rebellion of 1837. When quiet had been restored and the regiment was ordered to another part of the empire, Mr. Smith, then 21 years old, was among a number who bought their discharge, and, at the earnest request of his friends, gave up a military career, and went into business.

He forthwith entered the employ of a grocer named W. C. Ross, who at that time kept a store on Yonge street, south of Queen. Here he remained until 1842, when he resigned his position to start in business for himself. The success which Mr. Smith achieved showed that he had not missed his vocation. After a time he joined John Smith, father of C. J. Smith, of Cooper & Smith, and the two conducted a wholesale trade. The partnership did not last long, however, and Mr. Smith next engaged in the lumber business, having purchased for that purpose the Spanish River mills. This he carried on until about 25 years since, when he entered partnership with Mr. Keighley, the connection having lasted up to the present time.

At the time of the reorganization of the militia in 1855-6, Mr. Smith again showed his liking for military life by raising the Highland Rifle Company, which he commanded until its amalgamation with the Queen's Own Rifles. That he was an excellent soldier as well as business man is demonstrated by the fact of Sir Edmund Head offering him a commission in the 100th Royal Canadian Regiment when it was raised in 1858. Mr. Smith was, however, obliged to decline, although the offer was not unpleasing.

For 40 years past, Mr. Smith's name has been more or less connected with the public affairs of Toronto. He was a member of the City Council for three years, representing St. James' Ward. In early life he was a Liberal in politics, but later became a Conservative. From 1863 to 1867 he represented East Toronto in the Parliament of Canada.

Mr. Smith's activity was shown by the numerous concerns and institutions with which he was identified. He was the first president of the Caledonian Society, and at other periods filled the offices of executive

The late Mr. Smith was a devout Presbyterian, and for many years worshipped at old St. Andrew's Church. He was an intimate friend of the late Senator John Macdonald, the two having been thrown together when starting in life. The deceased gentleman was of a most philanthropic disposition, and gave largely to charities. He was much interested in the progress of the Sick Children's Hospital, and was one of the trustees of that institution. He will long be remembered as a splendid type of an honorable and straightforward business man.

Mr. Smith's illness really dates back some four years ago, when he had a severe attack of la grippe, although it was not until within the last year or two that his condition was considered serious. During the past year, particularly, his condition gave his friends much concern. But, with the exception of a few weeks when he was confined to his bed, he did not miss making his daily round of the Ontario Bank, the Western Assurance, the Canada Permanent, with all of which institutions he was connected, and his own business. It was on Friday last that the attack came on which ended in his death. He was making his usual visit to the Ontario Bank when he was taken with a sudden weakness. He was partially rallied by the aid of stimulants, and was sent home, from which he was destined not to leave again until carried to his last resting place.

The funeral took place from the residence of deceased, on Pembroke street, and was largely attended. The services were conducted by Revs. Dr. Parsons, Dr. Fletcher, of Hamilton, head of the Board of Trade and St. Andrew's Society. Mr. Smith was also president of the Western Assurance Company, president of the Canada Lake Superior Transit Company, vice president of the Ontario Bank, a director of the British America Assurance Company, and director of the Canada Permanent Loan and Savings Company. To show the esteem in which he was held by his confreres on the directorate of the Western Assurance Company, it might be mentioned that the latter had decided to present him with an oil painting of himself. The task was given to J. W. L. Forster, but death came before the completion of the painting.

THE LATE A. M. SMITH.

TRIBUTE FROM HIS PARTNER.

When approached by THE GROCER for an opinion regarding his late partner, Mr. Wm. W. Keighley said: "He was a most genial man. To put him out was a hard thing, but, like most Scotchmen, when his temper was ruffled he was ready for the fray. I have been nearly twenty-three years in partnership with him, and during the whole of that time we never had a serious disagreement. We both had opinions of our own, and when they clashed we agreed to disagree. Mr. Smith's geniality and good sound common sense and fair dealing with all men I do not think is to-day excelled. In business affairs he was always disposed to do what was right. I never knew him to take advantage of any one, either in mercantile or private life. He was very fond of business. It was his life. He could have retired many years ago, but he used to say to me: 'Keighley, the day I give up business will see the end of me.' Mr. Smith was not a sport; he loved a good horse, and was fond of driving. Social life he liked only to a limited extent. His business was his hobby—his pleasure. It was his delight up to within a few days of his death to come down every day to the Ontario Bank, the Western Assurance, the Canada Permanent and other financial institutions with which he was connected, ending up by visiting the warehouse. He was always ready and willing to give advice to anyone seeking it. During the years he represented Toronto in the old Parliament of Canada, he was brought into contact with a good many people of different occupations, sects and politics, and he was in consequence continually beset with a stream of people seeking his counsel. He was during his life trustee for many families, and in little family difficulties he was often called in to adjudicate matters. During the last two or three years we have often tried to get him to seek a change of climate, but without success. He always maintained that the best place for a sick man was in his own home. True, we did once get him away to South America, but he only remained away a month. Although he had none of his own, Mr. Smith was very fond of children, and parties for the young people were frequent at his home. There was one there only a few days before his death."

A FELLOW MERCHANT'S TRIBUTE.

Mr. Wm. Ince, sr., of the wholesale grocery house of Perkins, Ince & Co., said, when questioned by THE GROCER: "I have known him ever since he entered the employ of a grocer named Ross. As a man his integrity was high, and as a merchant he displayed a great deal of ability. My experience with him has shown me that. He was pleasant and genial. I have had numerous transactions with him, spreading over a period of nearly 50 years, and throughout the whole of it there was never any unpleasantness or the slightest jarring between us. I have always felt a warm feeling of friendship towards him, and though he was only about 10 years my senior, he looked upon me as being much younger and frequently gave me advice. 'I would have trusted Mr. Smith to any extent,' concluded Mr. Ince. "His word was as good as his bond."

SELECT BUSINESS MEN.

BOTH parties are now selecting candidates to run in the coming Dominion election contest. It is of the utmost importance that successful business men should be selected.

There has been too much truckling of late to Patrons of Industry, Trades' Unions and such like. Both have many excellent features to commend them. If the really good men in these organizations were the leaders they would be deserving of support, but in most instances they are simply professional politicians who are in politics for what they can make out of it.

Take the leaders of the large deputations of alleged starving men in Montreal, Ottawa and Toronto at different times in the past few years. They carried a black flag and demanded work or bread. Many of them were offered work but refused to take it.

The other day a similar starving deputation was raising a riot in St. John's, Newfoundland. It was found that the leader had a house well filled with provisions and was living more comfortably than many a well-to-do citizen.

If this toadying to such organizations continues, our politicians will get us into the same position as Newfoundland is in to-day.

There the political parties vied with each other in doing favors for the fishermen, farmers and laborers, as against the business men. The latter were heavily taxed, and the money freely spent in bribing, directly and indirectly. The country has been brought to a state of bankruptcy.

It is in this direction our politicians are carrying us to-day. Let us go to our conventions and pull the wires and secure the nominations of business men of ability and integrity.

Some of us may be in a constituency where it is policy for the party to support a Patron, or one of the various other third parties. In such a case we must compel them to give us a voice in the selection of a candidate as the price of our support. We should see that such candidate is a man who has made a success of the particular work on which he depends for a livelihood ; that he can afford the time and money to go into politics ; that his character is above reproach. A man like that may make a good representative, though from his lack of knowledge of business affairs he will be less useful.

THE COMMISSIONER OF CUSTOMS.

COMPLAINTS regarding rulings of the Customs Department are still being heard. And as long as the present acting commissioner continues to act there is very little probability that they will cease.

A square spile is ill-adapted for stopping a round hole. And Mr. Watters is scarcely more adapted for the position he now fills as acting commissioner of Customs.

As an accountant he stands high ; as a commissioner of Customs he stands low. In consequence of which the department in which he wields so much power has become the laughing stock of the business men of the country. Even the Hon. Clarke Wallace, the Controller of Customs, than whom none in the Ministry is probably held in higher esteem by mercantile men, is losing in prestige because of the absurd rulings of his commissioner.

All the onus for the present unsatisfactory condition of affairs must not, however, be allowed to rest wholly on the shoulders of Mr. Watters.

A merchant who would take his expert accountant and place him in the position of, say, the expert buyer, for which he had had neither training nor adaptability, could scarcely escape responsibility for the results which would assuredly follow.

Neither can the Government altogether escape responsibility for the mistake of transforming Accountant Watters into Commissioner Watters.

And its duty is to put the acting commissioner where he can do the most good, and not keep him where he appears to be doing the most harm—to the Government as well as to the trade of the country.

PUT TRAVELERS ON COMMISSION.

THE close competition among wholesale merchants and manufacturers, and more cautious buying on the part of retailers, have cut the margin of profit to a finer point than ever.

Jobbers and manufacturers are therefore looking about them for ways of reducing expenses.

In some instances the number of travelers has been reduced, while in others travelers have been put on commission or on part salary and part commission. That is, they go on the principle of payment by results, not on the quantity of goods sold, but on the profits made.

In the past, commission or increase in salary was based on a percentage of the goods sold, not on the profits made. This to some extent led to the cutting which has been so ruinous to the trade everywhere. The system of paying by profits will be much more satisfactory to both the firm and its salesman. The latter will take a greater interest in his work and his customers. He will not only aim to sell goods, but to get a profit and to see that they are paid for.

THE GROCER knows of one house that has followed this system for some years. It pays salary, but bases it on profits on that particular salesman's territory.

It has often been remarked that this particular house very seldom appeared on a list of creditors of an insolvent firm. This is the secret.

The head of the firm remarked a few days ago that his senior traveler had not lost a cent in bad debts on his route in seven years.

HOW TO RETURN GOODS.

JOBBERS and manufacturers occasionally complain that retailers return goods which they have ordered with the simple explanation, "Don't want."

Sometimes the cases are not opened ; at other times they are, and the goods displayed for a few days ; then, fearing they cannot sell, they repack them—carelessly, very often—and ship back. The jobber writes for an explanation, but can get none.

If the jobber is a man of some backbone, he will either insist on the buyer accepting the goods or instruct his men never to sell that house again.

Too often he meekly submits, but he remembers the man and watches for him in future, and makes him suffer eventually.

There is another class of business men who buy more than they really want, often under the influence of good salesmen. When the season comes round, and before they unpack and handle the goods, they figure that they have over-bought, and write at once to the house, explaining the circumstances, and asking them to be good enough to take back a portion of their purchases.

A house which will not then endeavor to help a customer out does not deserve the trade in the future.

There are some houses that will be only too glad to put themselves out for such a customer.

Sometimes the return freight, or in case of United States shipments, the duty as well, would mean a heavy loss to the shipper. Then it is only fair that the buyer should bear the loss like a man and say nothing about it.

The men who return goods without explanation, and who will not answer letters, are not business men. They should join the Patrons of Industry—many of them do, and soon disappear from business circles. The second class get any favors that are going, and they have the respect of the jobbers and manufacturers.

HOW TEAS SHOULD BE INSPECTED

IT must be admitted now, even by thick headed Government officials, that the analytical test for tea is a useless one.

Under this system a really good tea—a first picking—may fail to come up to the Government standard of strength, while a very inferior grade full of sand and dirt, a very coarse grade, may give a much higher test of strength. This has been the actual result of the present inspections in Canada.

Another result has been that a tea has been seized at one port, while part of the same shipment has passed at another.

The situation is really more serious than is generally imagined in the trade. Teas are shipped to the credit of, and are practically the property of, the bank, which makes 50 to 80 per cent. advances on them. If banks begin to fear the confiscation of their shipments they will be very chary in advancing money on any teas.

It is admitted that teas have been coming to this market which would be better excluded, but an analytical test will not discover these. This was tried in New York and failed. The only intelligent test is such as a practical tea man can give by drawing the teas. He can at once detect spurious leaves and foreign matter, and decide whether the tea should be admitted for consumption or not. This the analyst to whom the teas are now referred is unable to do.

The Government, therefore, should amend the system of inspection and appoint an experienced man, one in whom the entire trade has confidence. There are several of them available in different parts of Canada. To prevent any but the right man being appointed, applicants should be required to pass an examination before a committee appointed for the purpose by the representative organizations of the tea importers and dealers of the Dominion.

They should first decide whether an applicant's character and ability are such that he would command the confidence of the trade; and, secondly, by practical tests, learn whether he has the experience necessary.

This plan would relieve the Government of much worry from numerous applicants, and there would be no danger of an incapable man being appointed.

Such a system is now being carried out in the grain, flour, hides and skins, and other departments of trade, and it has been found to work satisfactorily.

Some of these inspectorships are good berths. THE GROCER knows of one who makes over $6,000 a year in fees. In the tea trade, however, in order to make the inspector perfectly independent of the importers, he should be paid by salary and by the Government. To meet this extra expenditure an inspection fee should be paid by importers to the Collector of Customs.

In case importers are not satisfied with the inspector's decision, an appeal can be made to the committee, as is done in the grain and other trades. If we were always sure of having such a man as the present Controller of Customs, Hon. Mr. Wallace, who is himself an experienced grocer, importers would willingly let an appeal rest with him.

Another feature that should be changed is that which compels the Government to confiscate teas which do not pass inspection. This is very unfair to the importer and entails great loss upon him. In the States he is allowed to export such goods. There are other countries where the people are not so fastidious as we are in Canada. If the teas are poisonous and thus dangerous to human life, they should be confiscated, but not otherwise.

ALLEGED "SHADY" FAILURE.

IF all that is alleged be true regarding the failure of W. H. Osborne, the Bowmanville general merchant, who recently assigned, it is somewhere else than into business he ought to go.

A merchant who was one of the victims asserts that a few weeks before the assignment took place, Osborne, when purchasing some goods from him on credit claimed that his business was in a good condition; that he owed nothing for wages, and that he had a $1,500 farm upon which there was only an encumbrance of $500.

When he assigned, however, and the statement was presented, the estate was shown to be in anything but a healthy condition. The farm was evidently a myth. At any rate, it did not figure among the assets.

On the other hand, two of his sons ranked among the preferred claims for wages to the extent of $58.50 and $78 respectively, while these same two boys, together with three other Osbornes, included in whom was the insolvent's wife, were among the general creditors for an aggregate of $1,884.72. The wife's claim was $1,047, and was for money advanced.

All the assets that were forthcoming were, stock $500 and book debts $1,000, and all these were sold to the wife of the insolvent for $500. Of this amount, after the preferred claims and the expenses were paid, there was left the sum of $196, which, distributed among the creditors, netted them just 5c. on the dollar. Excellent compensation, indeed, for a healthy estate!

Naturally, there is a great deal of indignation among the general creditors, and proceedings have been taken by at least one of the creditors to set some of the preferred claims aside.

LUMBER TRADE PROSPECTS.

One of the Canadian industries which at the moment augurs the best for a revival is that relating to lumber.

As far as THE GROCER can learn, stocks in the United States are low, and in Canada there does not appear to be as much held as was at first supposed, while those that have got them are holding for higher prices.

By no means the least of the good signs is the resuscitation of many of the old mills and the starting up of new ones in Canada.

And as a result of the revival of this particular industry, partial as it yet is, more groceries, more pork, and more hardware has been going to the lumber camps.

Products of the forest exported by Canada during the fiscal year 1893, the latest official figures to hand, aggregated in value nearly six millions of dollars. The possibilities for increasing this are great. Canada has the lumber storehouse—if the expression be permissible—of the continent, wherein there is a supply unlimited, while near and far are to be found customers whose purchases are capable of being enlarged, particularly those of our nearest neighbor, the United States.

IT IS NOT OUR FAULT.

We receive complaints now and again that subscribers do not receive THE GROCER regularly. This is not our fault. Your copy is mailed, without fail, every Thursday evening. It is almost impossible for us to miss you, and the mistake must be in your post-office or your own office. In investigating complaints of this kind we almost invariably found that the paper was captured and laid aside by the one first receiving it from the postoffice, usually a clerk. An investigation usually resulted in the proprietor subscribing for additional copies for his clerks. We will gladly send extra copies.

MONEY AND STOCKS.

THE feature of the Toronto stock market during the week has been the fluctuations in Toronto Street Railway. First the stock touched 75, then it fell back to 68, and on Tuesday it sold up to 72. Most, if not all, the sound old-time brokers aver that the stock is much above its value, 55 being considered nearer its worth than the figures now obtaining. In the annual statement presented last week no provision was made for the payment of the mileage to the city. Had this been done there would not have been the 4 per cent. net earnings. Toronto Railway stock is good property—but not at the present figures.

It is to be noted that the Ontario Bank stock has again resumed the even tenor of its way, and is once more numbered among the steady stocks on the market.

The Bank of British North America has brought an action against W. P. Howland & Co., the milling firm now in liquidation, for the recovery of the sum of $71,000 odd. This was one of the banks that gave the Howland Co. accommodation when its own bank, the Ontario, proposed to curtail in this particular. I was told some weeks ago that the paper held by the bank as security was only valued at about 60 per cent., and that the Bank of British North America felt that it was not treated as well as it might have been.

The insurance of the United Fire Insurance Company, which has decided to give up business in Canada, has been taken over by the Western Assurance Company.

The decrease in bank clearings in the Montreal clearing house last year was 4 per cent. The decrease in the leading cities of the United States during the same period was 16 per cent.

The deposits in the Government savings banks for December amount to $271,976 and the withdrawals to $300,877. The deposits at Toronto reached $15,972 and the withdrawals $15,597.

The Canadian Gazette, London, Eng., of the issue of January 10, notes that the alterations in Canadian securities on the London market were unusually few the preceding week. "Dominion Government 3 per cents. moved up $\frac{1}{2}$, and are now quoted at par, ex the half-year's interest paid on the 1st inst. Provincial loans are exactly as they were, and in municipal securities the only changes have been in a couple of Montreal loans, which have risen. In regard to railways, the principal feature has been the weakness of Canadian Pacific shares, which were at one time down to $57\frac{1}{4}$, but are now $58\frac{3}{4}$, a net decline of $1\frac{3}{4}$."

The shipments of gold from New York last week aggregated $5,550,000. The mid-week shipments of gold were $1,500,000, $850,000 going to London, and the balance to Germany. The export to London was the first of the kind for several months, and fears were expressed that it might prove the beginning of a regular movement, to continue for some weeks. The Bank of England is paying 76s. 4d. per ounce for American gold coin. Taking the weight of coin available for export at 5,370 pennyweights per bag of $5,000, the specie point for sterling is 4 8884.

ARGUROS.

PETROLEUM GOES UP.

Coal oils have within the past few days gone up in the United States markets, and there has been a sympathetic advance among Canadian dealers. On the Toronto market a general increase of about one cent per gallon all round on all brands has been noticed. It is said that local wholesale dealers are pleased at being able to advance their prices, for they claim that for some time past they have been handling Canadian petroleum almost without profit.

MARKETS AND MARKET NOTES

TORONTO MARKETS.

TORONTO, Jan. 24, 1895.

GROCERIES.

THE feature in trade this week has been the excitement in sugar consequent upon the advances in beet and raw sugars in outside markets. At the time of writing, however, no change has taken place in prices on the Canadian market, although the feeling is much firmer. Canned vegetables are in fair demand, with prices firm on tomatoes, peas and corn. The lines receiving most attention at the moment are teas and sugars. In other lines business is, as a rule, quiet. An unsatisfactory feature of the situation at the moment is the slowness of payments.

CANNED GOODS.

Tomatoes, peas and corn are decidedly firm with the packers at the moment, and higher prices are looked for as the sales of the different packs reach a certain percentage. THE GROCER understands that the question of advancing the price of peas within the next week or so is being seriously discussed by the selling committee of the Packers' Association. We quote : Tomatoes and corn, 85 to 90c.; peas, 80 to 85c.; peaches, $2.75 to $3 for 3's, $1.75 to $1.90 for 2's; raspberries, $1.65 to $1.80; strawberries, $1 to $2.10; apples, 3's, $1 to $1.10, gallons $2.10 to $2.25, and preserved fancy quarters at $1.35 to $1.40; salmon, $1.30 to $1.35 for good red fish in tall tins, and $1.50 to $1.60 in flat tins; do., second quality, $1.10 to $1.25; canned mackerel, $1 to $1.10; lobsters, $1.70 to $2 for tall tins, and $2.25 to $2.75 for flat tins. Australian mutton, boiled, 2 lb. cans, $3.40; ditto, corned and roast, $3.75.

COFFEES.

There was an advance of about 1c. in Rio coffees in the primary markets. Stocks of these coffees are still light on the local market, with the enquiry good. We quote green, in bags, as follows : Rio, 20½ to 22c.; East Indian, 27 to 30c.; South American, 21 to 23c.; Santos, 21½ to 22½c.; Java, 30 to 32c.; Mocha, 27 to 28c.; Maracaibo, 21 to 23c.; Jamaica, 21 to 22c.

N. Y. Journal of Commerce, Jan. 22: "The market for Brazil grades continues somewhat uncertain. There is more or less doing on country orders and the houses with a carefully selected assortment of stock are getting a pretty good run of trade, but the demand does not appear to broaden out into general quick form and the attitude of buyers is not in itself particularly stimulating. Holders, however, maintain a comparatively firm position over both second and first-hand stocks, and there is no evidence of any special anxiety to realize. Firm offers are here, but only at very full figures, and, indeed, some of the floating parcels can be obtained on better terms than direct tenders from primal points."

RICE.

There is no change to note either in regard to prices or volume of business. We quote : "B," 3½ to 3¾c.; extra Japan, 5¼ to 5½c.; imported Japan, 5¾ to 6¼c.; tapioca, pearl, 4½ to 5c.

SPICES.

Trade is quiet and featureless. We quote : Pure black pepper, 10 to 12c.; pure white, 18 to 25c.; pure Jamaica ginger, 25 to 27c.; cloves, 25 to 30c.; pure mixed spice, 25 to 30c.; cream of tartar, 20 to 25c. per lb.

NUTS.

There is just the quiet trade doing that is usual at this season. We quote as before: Brazil nuts, 11 to 11½c.; Sicily shelled almonds, 25 to 26c.; Tarragona almonds, 14 to 14½c.; peanuts, 10 to 12c. for roasted and 7 to 10c. for green; cocoanuts, $4.50 to $5 per sack; Grenoble walnuts, 15 to 16c.; Marbot walnuts, 12½ to 14c.; Bordeaux walnuts, 12 to 13c.; Sicily filberts, 9 to 10 for sacks and 10½ to 11c. for small lots; pecans, 10½ to 11c.

SUGAR.

Although the market was somewhat weaker the latter part of last week, and our quotations on granulated lower, yet there is a stronger feeling this week in sympathy with the advances in the primary markets. On Tuesday last the cables announced an advance of 3 to 4½d. in beets, making a gain of about 9d. on the lowest point of a couple of weeks ago. Raws were also cabled decidedly dearer. Buying on the local market is freer than it was a week ago, particularly for granulated. A peculiar feature of the situation is the fact that wholesalers are getting as high a figure for extra bright refined than they are for No. 1 domestic granulated sugar. This, of course, is owing to the fact that there has been no competition from the outside on this sugar. We quote : Granulated, domestic, 3⅝ to 3¾c.; do., No. 2 grade, $3\frac{1}{2}$ c.; German granulated, $3\frac{1}{2}$ c.; yellows, $2\frac{1}{4}$ to $3\frac{1}{2}$ c. Raws—Demerara, $2\frac{1}{4}$ to 3c.; Muscovado, in 115-lb. bags, 3c.

N. Y. Journal of Commerce, Jan. 22: "The feeling in regard to market for raw sugars remains fairly confident. There seems to be no doubt that with any important addition to distribution of refined goods, melting conditions will assume such form as to compel a call for assortment material, and holders of the supply here, as well as the few who appear to have anything to offer to arrive, keep their limitation on value quite full. The day's developments are encouraging, more attention being given to spot and to arrive parcels and business accomplished."

SYRUPS.

There is a good movement in all grades of syrups, especially in bright up to 35c. per gallon. We quote: Dark, 25c.; medium, 28 to 30c.; bright, 35 to 40c.; very bright, 45 to 50c.

MOLASSES.

Demand is steady for molasses, but without any special change worthy of note. We quote as follows: New Orleans, barrels, 26 to 28c.; half-barrels, $30\frac{1}{2}$ to 32c.; Barbadoes, barrels, 28 to 32c.; half-barrels, 30 to 34c.

TEAS.

A feature of the local trade during the week has been an active enquiry from both New York and Baltimore for China green teas—low grade Gunpowders and Young Hysons—and some shipments have been made from here to these points. Indian and Ceylon teas are 1d. dearer in London within the last few days, and there is a better feeling in China black teas, particularly Pekoes and Panyongs, probably on account of the high prices and light stocks of Indian and Ceylon teas. Japans are in fair demand and firm. We quote ruling prices on the Toronto market as follows: Young Hyson, 12 to 18c. for low grades; 24 to 27c. for mediums, and 30 to 45c. for high grades; China Congous, 14 to 18c. for mediums, and 35 to 55c. for high grades; Japans, 16 to 20c. for mediums, 28 to 35c. for high grades; Indians and Ceylons, 18 to 22c. for mediums, and 30 to 45c. for high grades.

DRIED FRUIT.

Valencia raisins are quiet, unchanged, and without special feature. We quote good fruit as before: Off-stalk, 4 to $4\frac{1}{4}$ c.; fine off-stalk, $4\frac{1}{2}$ to 5c.; selected, $5\frac{1}{2}$ to 6c.; layers, 6 to $6\frac{1}{2}$ c. We quote California loose muscatels at $5\frac{1}{2}$ to $6\frac{1}{2}$ c.

Malaga raisins are, as before, dull. We quote: London layers, $2 to $2.25; black baskets, $2.90 to $3; blue baskets, $4 to $4.75; extra dessert clusters, $4; connoisseur clusters, $2.65 to $2.90; quarter flat connoisseur clusters, 90c. to $1.15; Royal Buckingham, $4.50 to $5.

Sultana raisins are quiet and steady. Quotations are: Ordinary, $4\frac{3}{4}$ to $5\frac{1}{4}$ c.; good, $5\frac{1}{2}$ to 6c.; fine, $6\frac{1}{2}$ to 7c.; finest, 6 to 9c.

Prunes are not much wanted yet, and we quote as before. We quote: "Sphinx"—"U," 110 to 115 to half kilo, 5 to $5\frac{1}{2}$ c. per lb.; "C," 85 to 90 to half kilo, $6\frac{1}{2}$ c. per lb.; "B," 80 to 85 to half kilo, 7 to $7\frac{1}{2}$ c. per lb. "Atlas"—"D," 110 to 115 to half kilo, $4\frac{3}{4}$ to 5c. per lb. For Bordeaux prunes, 4 to $4\frac{1}{2}$ c. is the idea.

Currants are quiet, and the quotations on the Toronto market are still as follows: Filhatras, half-barrels, 4 to $4\frac{1}{2}$ c., barrels, $4\frac{1}{8}$ c.; fine Filhatras, half-barrels, $4\frac{3}{4}$ c., barrels, $4\frac{3}{8}$ c.; Patras, $5\frac{1}{2}$ c., in cases; Casalinas, $5\frac{1}{2}$ to 6c.; Vostizzas, $6\frac{1}{2}$ to 7c. in cases and half cases; Panartes, 8 to $8\frac{1}{2}$ c.

Figs are dull and nominally unchanged. We quote: 14 oz., 8 to 9c.; 10 lb., 8 to 10c.; 18 lb., 12c.; 28 lb., 15c.; taps, $4\frac{1}{4}$ to $4\frac{1}{2}$ c.; naturals, 6 to 7c.

BUTTER AND CHEESE.

Really choice butter is still in demand, and prices remain unchanged. We quote jobbing prices: Dairy—Choice tubs, selections, 15 to 16c. low grade, 8 to 12c.; fresh pound rolls, 15 to 16c.; large rolls, 13 to 14c. Creamery—Tubs, summer makes, nominally 14 to 15c.; winter makes, 21 to 22c.; pound prints, 21 to 23c.

August and September makes of cheese are quoted at $10\frac{1}{2}$ to $10\frac{3}{4}$ c., and half sizes at 11 to $11\frac{1}{4}$ c. Small Stiltons are quoted at 12 to $12\frac{1}{2}$ c.

GREEN FRUIT.

The market is generally a good deal firmer. Oranges remain high, and lemons are a little easier. Cranberries have gone up again. We quote: Lemons—Floridas, 150's to 176's, $3 to $3.50 per box;

Messinas, \$2.25 to \$3.50. Orange.—Floridas, \$3 to \$4; Valencias, \$4.25 to \$4.50; mandarins, \$2.50 to \$2.75 per half box; tangerines, \$2.25 to \$2.50 per half box; grape fruit, \$4 to \$4.50 per box. Bananas, \$1 to \$1.50 for firsts and seconds. Apples, winter fruit, \$2.50 to \$3.50 per bbl.; fall fruit, \$1.75 to \$2. Grapes—Malagas, \$5.50 to \$6.50 per keg. Cranberries, Jerseys, \$14 to \$14.50 per bbl. and \$5 per box. California dried fruit—Apricots, $12\frac{1}{2}$ c.; peaches, $12\frac{1}{2}$ to 13c.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

BEANS—Are quiet at $1.50 for choice hand-picked, and $1.15 to $1.40 for medium.

DRIED APPLES—Market dull. Prices stationary, jobbers getting $4\frac{3}{4}$ to $5\frac{1}{4}$ c.

EVAPORATED APPLES—Quoted at $7\frac{1}{2}$ c.

ONIONS—Very dull. We quote: Domestic, 60 to 65c. per bag; Spanish, 75 to 85c. per small crate, $2 per large crate; Valencia, $2.50 to $2.75 per case.

HONEY—Dull. We quote: Strained, in bulk, 7 to 9c.; comb, 14c. for clover and 10c. for buckwheat.

POTATOES—Are firmer, 47c. being quoted on track and 53 to 55c. out of store.

POULTRY—Is firmer and rather scarce. The chicken supply is especially small. We quote: Turkeys, 8c.; geese, 6 to $6\frac{1}{2}$ c.; chickens, 40 to 60c.; ducks, 40 to 70c.

EGGS—New laid are more plentiful, but remain firm. The supply of held and cold storage eggs is getting pretty well cleared up, and dealers are looking for an advance in pickled eggs. Held and cold storage stock is quoted as low as 10 to 12c.; strictly fresh new-laid at 20 to 22c., and pickled at 12c.

FISH AND OYSTERS.

Oysters remain still a little scarce, and the rather high price is maintained. Ciscos are about out of the market, as a result of the rough weather on the fishing grounds. We quote: Salmon trout (frozen), $6\frac{1}{2}$ to 7c.; white fish (frozen), 5 to 7c.; skinned and boned codfish, $6\frac{1}{2}$ c.; boneless fish, $3\frac{1}{2}$ to 4c.; market cod, 3 to 5c.; tommy cod, \$1.50; steak cod, $5\frac{1}{2}$ to $6\frac{1}{2}$ c.; haddock, 4 to 5c.; Labrador herring, \$2.50 per half keg and \$5.50 to \$5.75 per barrel; ditto, split, \$2.75; fresh water salt herring, \$3 per bbl.; blue-back herring, 4c.; sea herring (frozen), \$1 to \$1.25 per 100 fish; blue pickerel, 4 to 5c. lb.; yellow ditto, 6 to 7c. per lb.; mackerel, 14c. each; pike, 5c. lb.; cod, 6c. per lb.; finnan haddies, $5\frac{1}{2}$ to 7c.; Digby herring, in bundles of 5 boxes, $12\frac{1}{2}$ c.; ditto, lengthwise, 12c.; large halibut, 10 to 13c.; ciscos, \$1.35 to \$1.40. We quote: 46 to 47½c.FLOUR—No change; market quiet; prices steady and firm. We quote: Ontario straight roller, \$2.65 to \$2.75; Manitoba, \$3.60 to \$3.65; patents, \$3.75 to \$3.90.BREAKFAST FOODS—Market quiet and prices unchanged. We quote: Standard oatmeal, \$3.80, and granulated, \$3.85; rolled oats, \$3.75 to \$3.80; rolled wheat, \$2.10 in 100 lb. barrels; cornmeal, \$3.50; split peas and pot barley, \$3.75 per barrel.SALT.

A good business is being done in job lots, and large lots are moving freely in view of anticipated rise in price owing to the action of the producers. We quote: Barrels, 90c.; coarse sacks, 56c.; fine sacks, 60c.; dairy, $1.50; rock, $9.

SEEDS.

The offerings of red clover are comparatively light, but prices are likely to be affected by the fact that in the United States market prices have declined 27½c. since the first of the year, and are still on the down grade. Reports from Detroit say that seeds are being thrown on the market regardless of the figure they will bring. We quote $6 to $6.25 for red clover.

Large quantities of alsike continue to offer, and the market is exceedingly dull. Prime to choice qualities bring $4.50 to $5, and a little higher price is paid for fancy lots, while inferior and medium lots sell as low as $3.

In timothy the offerings are light, and the market is firm. Prime to choice qualities bring $2.50 to $2.75. Extra choice to fancy lines will command 15 to 25c. more, while medium and low grade machine-threshed lots do not bring more than $1.50 to $2.

PROVISIONS AND DRESSED HOGS.

There is a good demand from the lumber camps for long clear and barrel pork. Practically no change in prices. We quote:

BACON—Long clear, 6¾c. for carload lots, 7 to 7¼c. for ton lots and 7¼c. for small lots; breakfast bacon, 10 to 10½c.; rolls, 7½ to 8c.HAMS—Large, 22 lbs. and over, 9c.; medium, 15 to 20 lbs., 10c.; small hams, 10½c.; pickled, 9 to 9½c.LARD—Pure Canadian, tierces, 8c.; tubs, 8½c.; pails, 8¾c.BARREL PORK—Canadian heavy mess, $14.50 to $14.75; Canadian short-cut, $14.75 to $15; shoulder mess, $12.25 to $13.75; clear mess, $12.75 to $13.HIDES, SKINS, WOOL AND TALLOW.*HIDES—There is little change in the market. The demand is good and receipts are easily got rid of. Prices have gone up another point. Local dealers quote 5 to 5½c. for cured, and 4c. for green.SHEEPSKINS—Although there is a good quantity coming in, prices for choice skins have gone up a little. We quote 70c. for choice skins. In calfskins nothing is being done and prices are nominal, 6c. for No. 1, and 4c. for No. 2.TALLOW—The supply is more than equal to the demand, and the market has a downward tendency. Local dealers are paying 5¼c. and selling at 5½c.WOOL—Nominal prices rule on a quiet market. Local dealers are offering 18 toW. S. COLLINS & CO.Produce Commission Merchants,

PETROLEUM.

Oils have gone up in the United States during the past few days, and as a result prices in Canada have advanced considerably. Judging from the present outlook, oils in both countries may advance still further in the near future. The present advance, Canadian dealers claim, is a great relief to them, as for some time past they have been handling Canadian oils almost without profit. The first point in Canada at which petroleum went up was Petrolea. Orders are coming in well. We quote in 5 to 10 bbl. lots, imperial gallon Toronto: Canadian, 12 to 12½c.; carbon safety, 16 to 17c.; Canadian water white, 16 to 17c.; American water white, 18c.; photogene, 20c.

MARKET NOTES.

Valencia oranges have advanced another 1s.

Write Wm. Paterson & Son for 1895 catalogue.

W. H. Gillard & Co. report an active demand in teas.

Davidson & Hay are said to be offering good value in prunes, both French and Austrian.

Wm. Paterson & Son advertise their soda biscuits on page 6. The ad. is novel in construction.

H. P. Eckardt & Co. are said to have a fine line of Atlas prunes that they are offering at a low figure.

England imported last year 180,353 cases of canned lobster, against 145,054 cases in 1893 and 140,826 cases in 1892.

W. H. Gillard & Co., of Hamilton, report a most successful sale of their "Diamond" baking powder in the Northwest Territories and Manitoba.

Lumsden Bros., of Hamilton, will have on the market a new style of cocoanut next week, samples of which will be sent to any one writing for them.

W. H. Gillard & Co., of Hamilton, are said to be selling large quantities of prunes. "Splendid fruit, and selling them cheap, too," writes the firm.

The stock of currants in London at the close of the year 1894 was 21,930 tons, against 17,790 tons a year previous, and 19,580 tons at the end of 1892.

A shipment of "Epicure" tomato catsup, in pint tins, is just to hand with Davidson & Hay; also "Aunt Sally's" pancake flour and "Aunt Abby's" rolled oats.

The Eby, Blain Co. is expecting a shipment of scented orange caper tea in a few days; also shipment of Moyune Young Hyson, said to be an exceptionally fine tea.

M. Carton, Peterboro', has secured the commodious four-storey premises at 206 Simcoe street, in that town, formerly occupied by Reid & Gilmour's wholesale biscuit works, where he has opened out a wholesale grocery house. The entire four storeys of the warehouses are filled with a complete stock, varied to meet all the requirements of the grocery trade.

D. Gunn, Flavell & Co. report free sales of fresh roll butter, which have had the effect of clearing out their surplus stock. They are now in a position to handle large quantities.

Clemes Bros. received during the week two special carloads of Messina lemons, which they are selling at a very low figure. They also have just in stock a fancy lot of Jersey cranberries in barrels.

D. Gunn, Flavell & Co. report a scarcity of strictly new laid eggs, which, they say, will sell readily at 20 to 22 cents a dozen. However, they mean what they say when they speak of the strictly fresh new laid article.

The Acadia Sugar Refinery Co., Ltd., are issuing a souvenir in the shape of a nicely framed view of their three refineries, namely, the Moncton, the Richmond and the Woodside.

A shipment of "Unicorn" brand Bosnia prunes in cases has been received this week by the Eby, Blain Co. This firm is also offering California apricots in bags of 60 to 70 lbs. each.

Beardsley's sliced smoked beef, in 1-lb. tins, is recommended as being a first-class article. It is for sale by H. P. Eckardt & Co. Also, shredded codfish, 2 doz in case; it is handy, being all ready for use.

Exports of dried apples from the United States in November amounted to 1,124,379 pounds, making a total of 3,675,645 pounds for the first eleven months of 1894. In the corresponding period last year 4,798,520 pounds were exported.

Judge Wheeler, of the United States Circuit Court, has decided that the tariff law takes effect from August 1st, 1894, instead of August 28th, 1894. This decision, if sustained, may cause re-appraisal of the sugar entries in August, amounting to 47,000 tons sugar, and $1,250,000 in additional duties to be paid by importers.

Everyone knows how stiff and tight the covers of fruit jars become after having been packed away a few months. A useful little holder or wrench for removing such covers is now being offered by James A. Skinner & Co. It will remove the most obstinate cover at a single turn, and as it can be retailed at five cents, the wrench should be in big demand.

The total amount of evaporated apples imported into Great Britain in the year 1894 was 34,897 pkgs., against 16,428 pkgs. in 1893, and 36,081 pkgs. in 1892. The imports there of canned apples increased from less than 13,000 pkgs. in 1892 and 1893, to 35,246 pkgs. in 1894. Of evaporated apricots 17,798 pkgs. were landed, against 1,887 pkgs. in 1893, while the imports of apricot pulp increased from 8,641 pkgs to 15,343 pkgs.

Attention is called to the advertisement of the Eby, Blain Co. in another column. It deals with the Java-Mocha crushed coffee mixture, of which the firm has had such a large sale lately. The firm has been sampling the trade with this coffee the past week or so.

MONTREAL MARKETS.

MONTREAL, Jan. 24, 1895.

GROCERIES.

THE week has witnessed a fair movement in the grocery market, and the jobbing demand is, if anything, picking up a trifle as compared with the previous week. The leading occurrence since our last has been further cutting in the price of standard granulated sugar on round lots, but in a jobbing sense the range is unchanged. The spurt noted last week in tea is about over, but the tone of that market continues firm. Firmness noted in molasses last week is well maintained, but the combine price remains the same. Coffee and spices remain much the same as they were, and the canned goods market is quiet, a leading feature, however, being the very light stock of salmon held here. Fish continues much the same, and other lines are unchanged.

SUGAR.

The leading feature in sugar since our last was the shading by refiners of another ½c. per lb. on the price of their standard granulated sugar. Demand for sugar in a distributive way exhibits decided improvement, which may be attributed to the low prices now ruling. In straight wholesale lots of 500 to 1,000 bbls. each we quote 3½c. on standard granulated and 3¾c. on No. 2. Yellows have been moving freely at 2½ to 3¼c. as to quality at the factory. In a jobbing way we quote: Granulated No. 1, 3½c.; No. 2, 3¾c.; yellows, 3 to 3¾c., as to quality. In German beet sugar there is stock selling as low as 3¼c., but we quote 3½c. for extra granulated and 3¾c. for lower grades, with prices on Berthier stock the same.

SYRUPS.

There has been a moderately active and steady syrup market. Demand, however, is confined to small lots, sales transpiring at 1½ to 2¼c. in a wholesale way. We quote for ordinary business: 2¼c. for bright grades and 1¾ to 1⅝c. for dark domestics, and American 20 to 21c.

MOLASSES.

The firm tone noted in molasses last week is strongly maintained. Demand continues good, and an active trade has been transacted at 30c. for Barbadoes, 26c. for Porto Rico, and 25c. for Trinidad. Jobbing quotations are unchanged.

RICE.

The market for rice still rules quiet, and there is no important change to note. We quote: Japan, standard, $4.25 to $4.40; crystal Japan, $4.75 to $5; standard B, $3.45; English style, $3.30; Patna, $4.25 to $5, and Carolina $6.50 to $7.50.

SPICES.

There has been a fair volume of business transacted in spices, and the market is moderately active and steady. We quote: Penang black pepper, 6½ to 7½c.; white pepper, 10 to 12½c.; cloves, 7½ to 9c.; cassia, 8½ to 9½c.; nutmegs, 60 to 90c.; and Jamaica ginger, 15½ to 18½c.

COFFEES.

The coffee market is unchanged as to its situation, the demand being chiefly for small lots for actual requirements. We quote: Maracaibo, 20½ to 22c.; Rio, 20 to 22c.; Java, 24 to 30c.; Mocha, 28 to 30c., and Jamaica, 19 to 24c.

TEA.

After the spurt, the tea market has settled down to a fair degree of quietness. Low grade Japans continue as scarce and firm as ever, and there is a good jobbing enquiry at 15 to 17c. We quote: Japans, low grades, 12½ to 14c.; medium, 15½ to 17c.; fine, 18½ to 24c.; and choice, 25 to 31c.

DRIED FRUIT.

There is little change in the dried raisin market, and, what movement there is, is confined to a small jobbing demand. We quote: Off-stalk Valencias, ordinary, 4 to 4½c.; selected, 5 to 5½c.; layers, 5½ to 6c.; sultanas, 5½ to 7½c.; California, 3-crown loose muscatels, 5½ to 6c.; 4-crown ditto, 7½c. Second crop Californias ½c. less than first crop.

The currant market is utterly without any new feature. Business is restricted to a few small sales on local jobbing account, and we quote as before: Filiatras and Provincials, 3½ to 3¾c. in barrels, and 4 to 4½c. in cases; Patras, 5 to 5½c., and Vostizzas, 7 to 7½c.

MONTREAL MARKETS.—Continued.

There is no change in prunes, which we quote as before: $4\frac{1}{2}$ to 5c. on Bosnia and 4c. on Bordeaux.

Figs meet a quiet distributive demand at 5 to 6c. in bags and 8 to 16c. in boxes, as to quality.

There is no change in dates, which rule steady at $4\frac{1}{2}$ to 5c.

NUTS.

There is a fair distributive demand for nuts at steady prices. We quote: Tarragona almonds, $12\frac{1}{2}$ to 13c.; filberts, $7\frac{1}{2}$ to $8\frac{1}{2}$ c.; Brazil nuts, 11c.; pecans, small, 10c.; medium, 13c., and extra, 15c.; Grenoble walnuts, $13\frac{1}{2}$ to 14c., and Naples do., $13\frac{1}{2}$ c.; peanuts, 7 to 9c. for roasted and 6 to 8c. for raw.

CANNED GOODS.

There is little or nothing to report in the canned goods market. Stocks on spot are fairly ample, except in the case of salmon, and both jobbers and retailers appear to be very careful buyers just at present. Prices are steady as follows: Lobsters, $6 to $6.50 per case; sardines, $8.50 to $9.50; salmon, $1.10 to $1.40 per doz.; tomatoes, 85 to 90c. per doz.; peaches, $2 to $2.10 per doz.; corn, 95c. to $1 per doz., and marrowfat peas, 85 to 90c. per doz.

FISH.

The supplies of most kinds of fish at present are large, and prices generally rule easy in consequence. The extremely changeable weather also conduces to a slow demand. Fresh haddock and cod continue to sell at 3 to $3\frac{1}{2}$ c. per lb.; fresh herrings have declined to 85c. to \$1 per barrel; smelts, 5c. per lb.; fresh salmon, 13 to $13\frac{1}{2}$ c.; tommy cods, 90c. to \$1 per barrel; halibut, 8 to 10c. per lb.; whitefish, 6c.; pike, $4\frac{1}{2}$ c.; mackerel, 10c.; shad, 10c.; No. 1 Nova Scotia herrings are unchanged at \$4 to \$4.50 per barrel, and \$2.75 to \$2.90 per half-barrel in a jobbing way. Some small lots of green cod have been moving at a reduction of 25c. per barrel, No. 1 being placed at \$4, No. 2 do. at \$3, and No. 1 green haddock at \$3. No. 1 sea trout have sold at \$9 to \$10; B.C. salmon at \$11.50; Labrador at \$13.50 to \$14; Lake trout at \$4 to \$4.25; No. 2 mackerel at \$12. Smoked fish are quiet and steady. Finnan haddies, $6\frac{1}{2}$ to 7c. per lb.; bloaters, \$1 to \$1.20 per box; smoked herrings, 10 to 12c., and boneless cod at 6c. per lb.

GREEN FRUIT.

APPLES—The market is dull and depressed. Medium stock sells from $1 to $2 per bbl., and A 1 fruit $3 to $4, the latter ruling higher under scarcity.

ORANGES—There is not much change in oranges, which continue to meet a good demand. We quote: Floridas, $4 to $4.50; Valencias, $3.75 to $4.50; Messinas, $2 to $2.50.

LEMONS—There is a quiet but steady demand for these at $2 to $3 per box.

PINEAPPLES—These are almost exhausted and sell at 15 to 25c.

CRANBERRIES—Firmness in these is fully retained under moderate supplies and a fair demand. We quote: $15 to $16 for good, and $9 to $10 for frozen.

GRAPES—The stock of Almeria grapes continues light and prices rule firmer at $6 $6.50 per bbl.

SPANISH ONIONS—There is no change in these, prices ruling steady under a good demand at $1 per crate.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

EGGS—The demand for eggs continues slow, and the market rules quiet and easy at 10 to $11\frac{1}{2}$ c. for western limed, and 13 to 14c. per dozen for Montreal limed.

POULTRY—A fair business is transacted in poultry, there being a good demand for choice lots at steady prices. We quote: Turkeys, 8 to 9c.; chickens, 6 to 7c.; geese, 5 to 6c., and ducks, 7 to 8c. per lb.

GAME—The receipts of partridge of late have been light, for which there is little enquiry, and the market is dull at 40 to 45c. per brace for No. 1, and 25 to 30c. for No. 2.

DRESSED HOGS—There was no change in the market for dressed hogs, prices being about steady at $5.25 to $5.35 for car lots, and $5.40 to $5.50 in a jobbing way per 100 lbs.

HONEY—The honey market is quiet; extracted, $4\frac{1}{2}$ to $5\frac{1}{2}$ c. per lb. for old, and 7 to 9c. for new. Comb honey is steady at 10 to 13c.

BEANS—The market is slow at $1.30 to $1.45 for choice hand picked, and $1.10 to $1.20 for poor to fair.

HOPS—Demand slow and prices largely nominal at $6\frac{1}{2}$ to 8c. per lb.

PROVISIONS.

The demand for provisions continues slow and the market is quiet, business being only of a jobbing character at about steady prices. Canadian short cut, heavy, \$15.50 to \$16; Canadian short cut, light, \$14.50 to \$15; hams, city cured, per lb., 9 to $11\frac{1}{2}$ c.; lard, Canadian, in pails, $9\frac{1}{2}$ to $10\frac{1}{2}$ c.; bacon, per lb., 9 to $11\frac{1}{2}$ c.; lard, com. refined, per lb., 7 to 8c.

CHEESE AND BUTTER.

The cheese market moves along on much the same lines, and has exhibited no special change since the beginning of the week. The tone is fairly steady, though there is still more or less difference of opinion between buyers and sellers. We quote: Western makes 10 to $10\frac{1}{2}$ c.; Eastern, $9\frac{3}{4}$ to $9\frac{1}{2}$ c.

The butter market remains dull and unimproved. There is only a small jobbing business doing in creamery and Western rolls at 20 to $20\frac{1}{2}$ c. and 15 to $15\frac{1}{2}$ c. respectively. Held stock is utterly neglected, and no values can be quoted.

ASHES.

In ashes business continues quiet, and prices are about steady. We quote first pots at $4.10; seconds at $3.70 to $3.75, and pearls at about $6.40 per 100 lbs.

FLOUR AND MEAL.

There is a fair enquiry for Manitoba patent flour from abroad. A fair business was done on spot, and the market on the whole is moderately active and steady. We quote: Winter wheat, $3.50 to $3.75; spring wheat, patents, $3.50 to $3.65; straight roller, $2.85 to $3; extra, $2.65 to $2.70; superfine, $2.50 to $2.60; Manitoba strong bakers', $3.40 to $3.75.

The demand for feed is good, and the market rules active and steady. We quote: Ontario bran, $15 to $15.50; Manitoba bran, $16; shorts, $17; mouillie, $20 to $22.

The tone of the market for oatmeal is steady, and values show no change. Business is quiet. Standard, bbls., $3.70 to $3.75; granulated, bbls., $3.80 to $3.85; rolled oats, bbls., $3.90 to $3.95.

MONTREAL TRADE NOTES.

Refiners have cut their prices on 500 and 1,000 package lots of sugar another $\frac{1}{8}$ c.

The stock of Jamaica oranges is practically exhausted for the present on this market.

Unless stocks of Almeria grapes are soon replenished, there will be none to supply the demand.

Bets are now being made here that prices are near bottom on sugar, but this remains to be seen.

Further round lots of Barbadoes molasses have changed hands at 30c., but there are, strange to say, jobbers who are willing to sell at the same figure.

A decided scarcity of canned salmon is one of the features of the canned goods situation at present.

There is practically no stock of raisins in first hands here, and stock on the way will take some time to arrive.

Further offers of raw sugars have been made to refiners here, but our local refiners are very indifferent buyers.

NEW BRUNSWICK MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE CANADIAN GROCER,

ST. JOHN, N.B., Jan. 24, 1895.

DURING the past week there has been some improvement in business, there being a rather better demand for goods from both city and country dealers. Then travelers being again on the road adds to the general stir. Around the wharves the handling of frozen fish, of which large quantities are arriving, makes a busy scene. The steamship Boston City arrived during the week, and the merchants here were pleasantly surprised to find her cargo in much better condition than was expected. Some sugar, tea, ginger, and a little cream of tartar were damaged. Those who had goods aboard have been looking into their insurance, and in many cases have been much surprised to find they were not insured, though charged full rates. In future they will be more careful. Coffee is rather firmer abroad, but not enough to cause any change in price here.

SALT—Prices remain firm. We quote: Coarse, 58 to 60c.; factory filled, fine, 90c. to $1; Canadian, 5 lb. bags, $2.80 per bbl.; 3 lb. bags, $3 per bbl.; wood boxes, 20 lbs. each, 20c.; 10 lbs. each, 12c.

CANNED GOODS—Stocks in the city are small, but at present there is small demand, and so this is hardly noticeable. There is, however, no difficulty in replacing goods, though in some cases prices would be higher than earlier in the season, so that prices are firm. As people have still their own preserves the demand for fruit is not large. Some salmon are being offered from the Coast. Though stocks here are small none are being sold, as at present weather is too cold for immediate delivery, and people do not care to buy futures. Prices are: Peas, 90c.; corn, 95c.; tomatoes, $1 to $1.05; new gallon apples, $2.40; peaches, 3's, $2.65 to $2.75; 2's, $2; oysters, 2's, $2.15 to $2.20; 1's, $1.50 to $1.60; salmon, $1.35 to $1.40; lobsters, $1.75 to $2; haddies, $1.40; clams, $5.50 per case of 4 doz.; chowder, $3.50 per case of 2 doz.; scallops, $5.50 per case of 4 doz.

DRIED FRUIT—Quite a quantity of prunes and dates arrived via the steamer Boston City, there being 500 boxes of dates for one merchant. Demand is light. Although considerable effort has been made in this market to sell California dried fruit, except in raisins very little headway has been made.

ST. JOHN MARKETS—Continued.

This is also true of the evaporated fruits. They are to be found in all retail stores, but though on the market for some time, they are working up but little demand for themselves. Dried and evaporated apples are rather easier. Nova Scotia dried can be landed here in almost any quantity for 5c., and it is reported even lower. Currants continue firm, with a higher tendency. There is quite a demand for the cleaned in 1-lb. cartoons. The old Valencias spoken of have been placed with a wholesale house here and are being offered at 60c. per box. We quote: Sultana raisins, 6 to 6½c.; Valencia, 4¼ to 4½c.; Valencia layers, 5¼ to 5½c.; London layers, $2.25; California loose muscates, 5½ to 6c.; currants, bb's., 3½ to 3¾c., cases, 3¾ to 4c.; evaporated apples, 8 to 8½c.; dried apples, 5½ to 6c.; dates, 4 to 4¼c.; prunes, 5 to 5½c.; figs, 11 to 18c.; cleaned currants, 1-lb. cartoons, 6¾ to 7c.

GREEN FRUIT—It is now given out that there have been no frosts in California, but that goods are in splendid condition. The sale of California here has not been large. A car was consigned here last winter, but money was lost on it, the reason being that there were a large number of either large or small oranges, while the orange to sell here is the medium size. It may be that the high price of Floridas may help the sale this season. A few California pears were here this week as a supply, but demand was such that there will not likely be many more for some time. Valencia oranges are rather lower abroad, and are rather easier here in consequence. Apples are in rather better demand, though still slow. Prices are rather firmer, and for those who have fruit that will keep the outlook is good. Malaga grapes are scarce. We quote: Messina lemons, $3.50 to $4; Valencia oranges, $4.25 to $4.50; West Indies repacked, $4 per bbl.; Florida, $4 to $4.25; apples, $1.50 to $3 for soft fruit; hard fruit, $2.50 to $2.75.

DAIRY PRODUCE—In this line the market is quiet. There are large quantities of Canadian butter arriving, but sale is slow, particularly in large rolls. Some fresh made creamery prints from Woodstock, Ontario, are on sale, and show good value. They cost the retailer about 23½c. Some Canadian preserved eggs are being offered low here, but grocers prefer to pay more for fresher stock. Demand light all round. In cheese there is rather better inquiry. Stocks are small, and holders not pushing sales. Demand, however, is light, owing to cold weather. We quote: Cheese, 10½ to 11c.; eggs, 16 to 18c.; dairy butter, 16 to 18c.; creamery, 21 to 22c.; prints, 24 to 25c.

MOLASSES—There is quite a movement for this season. Stocks continue to grow smaller. An advance of ½c. is reported in Montreal, and holders here are very firm. Crops are reported late, and, with usual demand, there appear to be good chances for money to be made by holders. We quote: Barbadoes, 32c.; Porto Rico, 31 to 32c.; bb's., 32 to 33c.; fancy, 43 to 44c.; Antigua, 30c.; syrup, 32 to 35c.

SUGAR—Some samples of Dutch granulated are being shown here. It should be remembered that they differ from the German, which is the product of beetroot, while the Dutch is the product of Java cane. The sales of all sugars are light. Although price is so very low, dealers are not buying large stock, feeling that the low price has come to stay for a time, at least. As the season advances, there is no doubt that the low price will very much increase the consumption.

We quote: Yellows, 3½ to 3¾c.; granulated, $3.75 to $3.85; German, $3.60 to $3.65; Paris lump, 6c.; powdered, 6c.

FISH—Stock of dry cod is low. Mediums are firmer, and show somewhat of an advance. For pickled fish there is a rather better demand. Smoked are quiet. Frozen fish is the active part of the market. Fairly large quantities are arriving. Demand is light, and some lots are being consigned away. Round lots could be bought under quotations: Large cod, $4; medium, $3.75; small, $3.25; pollock, $1.65 to $1.75; shad, half-bbls., $5 to $5.50; bay herring, $1.50; Shelburne, No. 1, bbls., $4 to $4.35; half-bbls., $2.40 to $2.50; Canso, $5.25; smoked herring, 7 to 7½c.; frozen cod, 2¼ to 2½c.; pollock, 2c.; herring, 60 to 65c.

PROVISIONS—Demand continues light with no change in prices from last week. We quote: Clear pork, $18.50 to $19; mess, $16.50 to $17; plate beef, $12.75 to $13; pure lard, 9½ to 10c.; compound, 8½ to 9c.

FLOUR AND FEED.

In flour, demand continues light, with firm prices, Manitoba being rather firmer than Ontario. Middlings are in good demand, but hard to get, and are high. Beans are also firmer, with slightly advanced prices. As reported last week, the oat market is showing improvement. We quote: Manitoba, $4.40 to $4.50; best Ontario, $3.55 to $3.65; medium, $3.35 to $3.40; oatmeal, $3.90 to $4; cornmeal, $3; granulated, $3.50 to $3.60; middlings, on track, $20 to $20.50; bran, $17.50 to $18; oats, local, 37 to 38c.; Ontario, 41 to 42c.; hay, on track, $9.50 to $10; beans, $1.55 to $1.65; prime, $1.45 to $1.50; split peas, $3.65 to $3.85; round, $3.65 to $3.75; pot barley, $4.

ST. JOHN MARKET NOTES.

Mr. John Sealy is at present shipping large quantities of fresh fish west, both to American and Canadian cities.

Both American and Canadian oils have been marked up 1c. per gallon for best grades, American water white being now 19c., and Canadian 18c.

The large quantity of old raisins spoken of last week as arriving here from New York have been handed over to Merritt Bros. & Co., who are offering them at 60c. per box.

A new shredded cocoanut is being offered in this market. It is named "Snow Flake," and is handsomely put up. Your correspondent is informed by retailers handling it that its quality gives good satisfaction. It is manufactured in this city by W. M. P. McLaughlin.

Speaking of cocoanut reminds me that a very short time ago these nuts were all brought here from the States. They are now imported direct by Theo. H. Estabrook, who is able to supply the trade at much lower figures than they were before able to buy at.

The firm of White, Colwell & Co., candy manufacturers, has been dissolved. Mr. Colwell retires. The business will be continued as a limited liability company under the old name, with Mr. William Wheeler as president, S. B. Bustin, secretary, C. H. Smith, treasurer, and Thos. White, Jr., manager.

Large quantities of apples have been shipped of late to England from the Annapolis Valley, N. S., one steamer carrying 11,000 barrels, another 13,000, and still another 10,000. Those who are supposed to know state there are some 50,000 yet to go forward.

The goods damaged by water in the steamship Boston City were sold by underwriters' sales. The ginger brought 5½ to 6c. Some 500-half chests of tea brought rather more than half price. Ten tons of granulated sugar in barrels brought 1¼c. in bond, and two casks cream of tartar 4½c.

NOVA SCOTIA MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE CANADIAN GROCER,
HALIFAX, Jan. 24, 1895.

A SLIGHT advance in molasses, an advance of 1c. per gallon in American and Canadian water white oils, and an advance in the price of Florida oranges are the noticeable features in the market this week.

Trade, however, is generally quiet. The first week of the new year was a fairly active one, but continued open weather has had a quieting effect.

BREADSTUFFS—While the price of flour is ranging steady, and millers say that the stocks of wheat are not large, prices are held firm and there is no prospect of a decline; still, in consequence of a very light trade the market is somewhat draggy, and the demand is very light. The advance in Manitobas is well maintained, though the demand for that article, like other flours, is very limited at present. Cornmeals are slightly easier, with slack demand. Oatmeals are firm; also oats, with only a small jobbing trade being done. Bran, middlings and mill feeds are firm at $1 a ton higher, 50c. of which is due to the advance in freights. We quote: Manitoba patents, $4.30; Ontario patents, $3.25 to $3.40; straight grades, $3.10 to $3.20; middlings, $2.10 to $2.22, including sacks; bran, $19.75 to $20; oatmeal and rolled oats, $3.80; cornmeal, $3 to $3.05. Jobbers' prices are considerably higher.

FISH STUFFS—This line remains dull. Frozen herrings remain at the low price of 45 and 50c. per 100. Some Newfoundland fish has been put on the market, but not enough to affect the already low prices. Quotations are: Dry cod from vessel: Shore, prime, $3.25 to $3.75; bank cod, $3 to $3.25; large bank cod, $4; Bay of Islands, No. 1 split herrings, $2.25; salmon, No. 1, $12; No. 2, $10; No. 3, $8.

PROVISIONS—There is very little change in the provision and poultry market. Prime beef is quoted at $7.50 to $8. Canadian stocks are offered for $6.30. This helps to keep the market flat. Some Manitoba beef of a poor quality has been offered at $5.50. Mutton is scarce at 7½c. Well dressed lambs are worth 8½c., and frozen stocks 1c. less. Veal is in demand at 5c. Turkeys are worth 12 to 13c.; chickens and fowls, 50 to 60c. per pair. There are no ducks or geese on the market. Hogs are low at 6c.; Canadian stocks have been landed here at 5½c.

GREEN FRUIT—The green fruit market remains steady. Florida oranges are still on the advance. Jobbers' quotations are: Oranges—Floridas, $3.75 to $4; Valencias, $4 to $4.50; Jamaicas, $7 per bbl., repacked. Lemons are quoted at $3 to $3.50 per 100 count. Apples are still plentiful, and good stocks can be had for $2 and $2.25. Almeria grapes are worth $5.50 to $6. per keg.

DRIED FRUIT AND NUTS—Dried fruit and nuts remain quiet, with fair demand. We quote: Dates, 5 to 5½c.; prunes, 6c.; figs, in 5 and 10 lb. boxes, 10c.; do., in bags, 6c.; currants, casks, 3¾ to 3¾c.; ditto, cases, 3¾ to 4c.; raisins, Valencia layers, finest, 5½ to 7c.; Valencias, 4½ to 4¾c.; Sultanias, 6½c.; California, $2.25; London layers, $2.50; Connoisseur clusters, $3.25; dried apples, 6c.; evaporated ditto, 8½c. In nuts the quotations are: Filberts, 10c.; walnuts, 10c.; Brazils, 11c.; peanuts, 12c.; almonds, 14 to 15c.

CANNED GOODS—Move slowly, the demand not having set in. Tomatoes, pears, corn and beans are quoted at $1 per dozen; strawberries and raspberries, $2.25; sardines, $1.50 to $1.75; 2-lb. corn beef, $2.75; 1-lb. ditto, $1.60; salmon, $1.50; lobsters, $1.75; clams, $1.

BUTTER AND CHEESE—The bottom is out of the butter market. Prices rule very low and the demand is slack. Choice Canadian dairy, rolls and tubs, is offered at 15c. The supply is large. Cheese remains stationary. September is quoted at 11½c., and early at 10½ to 11c.

EGGS—The soft weather has been against the market in eggs, and prices rule low with heavy stocks. Fresh stocks are quoted at 18c., and stored stocks at 14 and 15c.

PRODUCE—There is little or nothing doing in produce. Potatoes remain at the fall price of 34 to 36c.

SUGAR—Sugar quotations to day are: Porto Rico, in hogsheads, 3c.; refined cut loaf, 5½c.; granulated, 4c.; standard "A," 3¾c.; extra white "C," 3¾c.; standard yellow "C," 3¾c.; extra "C," 3¾c.; yellow extra "C," 3¾c.

MOLASSES—Quotations are: Antigua, 29c.; Porto Rico, 33 to 35c.; Trinidad, 28c.; Barbadoes, 32c.; Demerara, "M R" brand, 38c.; ditto (B) "D" brand, 45c.

HALIFAX MARKET NOTES.

The employees of the Star Bakery have gone out on strike on account of a reduction in wages. This is a direct result of the cut in bakers' bread.

The annual meeting of the Truro Condensed Milk and Canning Co. was held this week. The old board of directors was re-elected.

PERSONAL MENTION.

MR. R. C. STEELE, of Steele Bros., seedmen, has been elected chairman of the Toronto Business Men's Association, the object of which is to build a big hotel and generally improve Toronto.

A. J. Williams has been appointed agent in Montreal for Hunt & Co., Japan teas, vice Mr. Trew, who goes to Chicago in the interest of that firm.

Mr. George H. Lennon, of Sudbury, while in Toronto this week arranged to represent the Pure Gold Manufacturing Co. in the North Shore district. His sample room and headquarters will be at Sudbury.

Mr. Flynn, of the Garden City Canning Co., St. Catharines, was in Toronto for a few days this week looking up business. He reports business pretty good with his firm, and anticipates higher prices before long for staple goods.

Mr. C. R. Cooper, of the Toronto Salt Works, attended the meetings of the Ontario Creameries' Association at Chesley and the Western Dairymen's Association held at Stratford. He says the meetings were unusually well attended. He says he had the field to himself this year, the representatives of the imported salts, who are usually to be found there, having failed to put in an appearance. This he takes to be an acknowledgment of the superiority of Windsor salt.

Mr. H. L. Elliott, of Melita, Man., was in Toronto this week in the interests of his firm. "Business," said Mr. Elliott, "is quiet at present, and trade in general is nearly killed on account of the low price of wheat." Mr. Elliott says he cannot see how a man in the grocery business can get along without THE CANADIAN GROCER. "It is without exception the most up-to-date paper published," was his parting remark.

REPORT ON TEA INSPECTION.

The committee appointed by the Montreal Board of Trade, composed of Messrs. Chas. Chaput, S. J. Carter and George Childs, together with Edward Chaplin and J. Alex. Gordon, experts in teas, will report to the Board this week.

They endorse and ask the Council to recommend the system of inspection as proposed by THE GROCER and published in another column.

Speaking to THE GROCER, one of the committee said the trade was quite in accord with the recent legislation to prevent injurious and adulterated tea coming into Canada. No fault was to be found with that portion of the Act which reads: "Tea adulterated with spurious or with exhausted leaves, or containing so great a mixture of chemical or other deleterious substances as to make it unfit for use," shall not be admitted. It is to the method of deciding what kinds should not be admitted that they object, as well as to the confiscation clause, which does not give them the chance to export.

As soon as it receives the report the council should bring the recommendations to the attention of the Hon. Mr. Wallace, Controller of Customs. Mr. Wallace is a thoroughly practical man, and he will see that the recommendation is carried out.

CALDECOTT IS PRESIDENT.

A special general meeting of the Toronto Board of Trade was held Wednesday afternoon for the nomination of officers. Mr. Hugh Blain occupied the chair.

Mr. Stapleton Caldecott was elected president by acclamation. Mr. E. B. Osler was elected first vice-president, and Mr. Edward Gurney second vice, also by acclamation. Mr. D. W. Alexander was elected treasurer by acclamation.

At Suckling's auction rooms Wednesday the general dry goods stock of Devaney Bros., Toronto, amounting to $22,130, was sold to W. Butler at 48½c. on the dollar. The stock of A. Foster, hatter, St. Catharines, amounting to $3,120, was sold to James Foster.

Mr. Theo. O. Leonard, of Detroit, the well-known representative of Kingsford's Oswego Starch Co., was in Toronto this week. He is in course of making one of his regular periodical visits to the Canadian trade.

THE BONDING OF CHEESE.

The annual meeting of the Butter and Cheese Association of the Montreal Board of Trade was held last week, when the following officers were elected: President, Wm. Nivin; vice-president, George Wait; treasurer, Frank Duckett; directors, A. J. Brice, P. W. McLagan, D. A. McPherson, H. Hodgson; Arbitration Committee, Geo. Hodge, Arthur Hodgson, John McKergow, J. A. Vaillancourt and W. T. Ware; Transportation Committee, A. A. Ayer, James Alexander, A. J. Brice, George Wait, Arthur Hodgson, D. A. McPherson, J. A. Vaillancourt, W. M. Campbell, W. T. Ware, J. C. Warrington.

The cheese branding question was discussed, and the following committee was appointed to take charge of the matter and watch any legislation which might be proposed in reference to it: Arthur Hodgson, John McKergow, D. A. McPherson, J. C. Warrington and W. T. Ware. Wm. Nivin was unanimously chosen to represent the association in the council of the Board of Trade.

Though the meeting was private, THE GROCER learns that when the question of branding cheese was discussed, the meeting was strongly in favor of the adoption, and decided to suggest some practical scheme for carrying it out. The cavalier manner in which their communications had been treated by the London Produce Exchange Committee occasioned some comment, and it was concluded that if the Londoners were as anxious to ferret out the evil doers as they claimed to be, they have not shown any great desire to assist the trade on this side in doing so. Perhaps—as we noted at the time all the talk was going on—the fact that London importers owned a good jag of the early cheese held in Canada had a good deal to do with this indifference. The Canadian shippers were convenient scapegoats to shelve the blame upon.

IMPORTANT CHANGE IN SOAP.

An important reduction has just been announced in the price of Sunlight soap. In a circular to the retail trade announcing the fact, the proprietors, Lever Bros., Ltd., say: "Owing to the low price of soap-making materials we find it possible, by slightly reducing the weight of the bar, to make a most important reduction in price, which will enable you to sell Sunlight soap at 6c. per twin bar." Sunlight will also in future be packed 100 twin bars in a case, instead of 51 bars as heretofore, and the price will be as follows: 1 case (100 twin bars), $5, net cash 30 days; 5 cases, $5, net cash 30 days, freight prepaid. Hereafter also a bonus, beginning with 5c. per case on all purchases over 20 cases per year and ending at 15c. per case on purchases of 100 cases during the year, will be given. These bonuses are payable in February, 1896, with 12 months' interest at 5 per cent. added.

THE SALT SITUATION.

THE proposed revival, or resuscitation, whichever it may be, of the old salt combination among the salt manufacturers of Canada, is not yet an accomplished fact.

As stated in last week's GROCER, the object of the combine is to restrict the output and advance the prices.

Several meetings have been held, but it is given out that no definite agreement has yet been come to.

On the 7th inst. a meeting was held at London, at which there were present: Messrs. E. G. Henderson, representing the C.P.R. salt works at Windsor; R. O. Kinney and H. C. Sanborne, of Detroit, owners of the Kincardine salt plant; Rev. Dr. Armstrong and son, of Mooretown; R. M. Logan and Geo. Kidd, of Goderich; John Ransford and John McGarvey, of Clinton; C. Coleman and W. M. Gray, of Seaforth; R. S. Hodgins and John Fox, of Lucan; T. H. Carter, of Courtright; and John Tolmie, of Kincardine. This meeting adjourned without reaching any decision, and another meeting with a similar result was held last week.

The situation which rendered these meetings necessary to many of the producers is this: The annual consumption of salt in Canada is about 300,000 barrels per annum. The Canadian Pacific wells at Windsor are turning out 700 barrels a day at present, and with the new machinery with which they are to be equipped will produce 1,000 barrels a day. This will enable them to supply the whole Canadian market at a price that will entirely shut out the individual producer. The latter are trying to prevail upon the C. P. R. people to join them, and between them control the situation.

Now, the product of the Windsor wells is of such a fine quality that it has heretofore commanded a price in the market 10c. a barrel in advance of other brands. At the London meeting the individual producers stated that they wanted to advance the price of their own salt 10c., and at the same time demanded that the Windsor product be advanced 10c. on its present price. This advance the C. P. R. well people refused to agree to. They stated, however, that if the individual producers would fix their own advance, they would not undersell them.

At the adjourned meeting last Saturday an advance of 5c. a barrel was agreed upon by those present, but final decision was postponed until Tuesday, January 29, when another meeting will be held. Meantime, a committee representing the combining firms is to consult with some other interested houses.

The effect of the proposal to raise the prices has been to set large lots of salt freely in motion in different parts of the country.

TORONTO'S LONG FELT WANT.

ONE of Toronto's needs for a long time has been a new modern-sized big hotel. The prospect for securing such desideratum is at the moment better than it has yet been since the movement in favor of such a scheme was started. Those who have been actively interesting themselves in the matter have decided to form a joint stock company with a capital of half a million dollars. Of this sum the public will be asked to subscribe $200,000, and this amount must be subscribed before operations are begun. The remaining $300,000 it is proposed to retain for the purpose of providing capital for future extensions, etc., if required. The Board of Trustees of the Toronto University have decided to recommend the Government to grant for the proposed hotel a site free of cost on the north-west corner of King and Simcoe streets, comprising a frontage of 225 feet on King street, by a full depth of the property to Adelaide, with a street 66 feet wide on the west of the hotel site. Among the projectors are such well-known citizens as Edward Gurney, W. Christie, D. R. Wilkie, W. D. Matthews, Elias Rogers, J. Herbert Mason, John I. Davidson, B. E. Walker, Hugh Blain, Joseph F. Eby, E. Samuel, Stapleton Caldecott, Smith & Keigh'ey, Perkins, Ince & Co., J. K. Macdonald, A. B. Lee.

A VISITOR FROM "NICKEL" LAND.

G. H. LENNON, of Sudbury, was in Toronto this week. Mr. Lennon went to Sudbury about nine years ago. He was sent there by the Hudson's Bay Co., and has grown up with the place. After conducting the company's branch there he went into the wholesale business. This he has now severed himself from to carry on agencies for lumbermen's and miners' supplies; and it is for completing arrangements for so doing that he is now in the east.

Without saying anything whatever regarding Mr. Lennon's good looks, it might be remarked that he is a man of fine physique. And it is no wonder. For twenty years he was in the employ of the Hudson's Bay Co., and during that time he had charge of different posts in the wilds of the Canadian Northwest, several years being spent on the coasts of Labrador.

On Tuesday last THE GROCER had a pleasant chat for a few minutes with Mr. Lennon. The conversation naturally turned upon Sudbury and the outlook thereabouts. In answer to a question, he said:

"The outlook is good. Lumbering operations are looking up, and I believe there are more men in the camps than there were last year. Our lumber supply is good for another ten or fifteen years at any rate."

"What about mining operations?" he was asked.

"The owners of the gold mine discovered in Wahnapiatae township about two years ago are now beginning to develop it, and it is showing some valuable deposits. They are stocking it for over three millions of dollars. The gold is in decayed rock and quartz. When samples were first brought in from the mine there you could see the gold in the shape of nuggets. If the mine holds out it will be great property."

"How about the nickel mines?"

"The furnaces there are running on full time. Of course, the surface mining is shut down for the winter. The prospects for this year's operations are bright. At least, that is the way people are talking. The mines are very rich in nickel, and as the process of separating the copper and the nickel becomes more perfected and cheaper the development must rapidly increase. There is a terrible lot of nickel there. No one down here can realize what there is. What we want is a market for the nickel as fast as it is turned out."

"How many smelters are there at work?"

"Three; one at the Canada Copper Co.'s mine, one at the H. H. Vivian mine, and another at the Dominion Mineral Co.'s mine. The Canada Copper Co. has also a refiner in operation."

Mr. Lennon stated that a gold mine was also being worked in Creighton township, eighteen miles from Sudbury, and another was being prospected at Markstay, twenty-four miles from the latter place.

HOW TO PAY BROKERS.

"I WISH you would draw the attention of your numerous European friends to a class of agent who 'does them up,' so to speak," said a Montreal broker on Saturday morning.

"Their scheme seems to have originated in New York, but some Canadians have picked it up. They go to England, or to some European country, and call upon leading firms. They represent the immense importance of the American and Canadian trade, and express surprise that the firm has not been doing an enormous business there. The people would have their goods if they were only properly placed before them. They, the brokers, explain they have the best connection with the trade in the country, visit every part of it, and would not mind taking one more agency if the European firm were willing to pay them to do the work. The innocent European manufacturer always felt that he should do a profitable business in America, but never before had he found the right man to do it. He willingly agrees to pay $2,000 to $5,000 a year and expenses for 3, 5, or 10 years. A contract is prepared and duly signed. The American returns to his native shores.

"The European soon begins to receive orders, not large but numerous, and he feels quite pleased with his agent's work. Time runs on and orders increase, and goods are shipped, but when the day of reckoning comes it is found that the expenses have eaten up the entire proceeds of the sales. The manufacturer has to pay salary in cash.

"One English firm which is doing a good business in Canada had to pay on a five years' contract about $25,000 expenses to an American firm. Another firm is paying a Canadian broker $2,500 a year, and I am told his total sales do not amount to that. It is no wonder, therefore, that many European firms are disgusted with business on this side.

"The only safe way is to pay by commission. There are now any number of reputable firms who are ready to take good agencies on a commission, expecting the manufacturer to pay advertising expenses only. If they cannot sell the goods the manufacturer loses nothing."

THE GROCER agrees with the Montreal broker. Any good broker is only too glad to get an agency on commission. There are circumstances, however, in which it may be advisable to pay salary and expenses, but no manufacturer should close a contract of this sort until he has made careful inquiry as to the ability and standing of the firm he proposes to engage.

SIGNS AND PRICE TICKETS.

J. A. H. "Can you give me an idea of where I will be able to get a nice sign printed and what the newest style of sign is like? I also want to know where these city stores get those large figures printed, or do the clerks print them off hand? They are a nice large round hand."

REMARKS: The best thing we have seen for some time was a 22 feet long by 4 feet deep sign made for a Montreal laundry at a cost of $50. The letters were carved instead of being sawn out, and just fancy enough to be noticed without detracting from the effectiveness of each letter. They were painted in gold, and mounted on wood, painted black. Such a one can be got in most large cities. For a cheap but effective sign a blue wooden background with white lettering can be made by a good local painter, but to an enterprising business the golden letters glittering in the sun may and do attract new customers, and it is worth our correspondent's consideration whether the best would not pay in the long run. A sign painter gives us the probable cost of a plain but substantial gold-lettered sign.

One, of the dimensions noticed above with a moderate amount of lettering, would cost about $35. Signs of smaller size would cost a proportionately small sum, and a sign 22 ft. by 4 ft. with blue background and white lettering can be gotten for $25, and smaller ones for smaller prices.

As to price tickets, the best of these are made by professional ticket painters. There are several men in Montreal and Toronto who do nothing else but paint these tickets, and similar lettering. They work mostly to order for the city trade. In many houses one of the firm, or an employe, does this work. We know of one firm which bought several sets of different styles of letters. These were carefully cut out. They were laid on Bristol board, and the outline traced in pencil and filled in with India ink, or painted the desired color. This is probably the cheapest way of all. The cardboard may be improved by adding a plain or fancy border, but not too fancy to detract from the strength of the figures. A Montreal ticket painter is sending our correspondent a few samples and prices.—EDITOR GROCER.

A GOVERNMENT RULING.

THE Canadian Government have had under consideration the application of certain Toronto grain handlers for permission to return to Canada, duty free, a quantity of Manitoba wheat now in elevators at Buffalo. The question has been fully considered, and it has been decided that under the law the Government are precluded from assenting to the wishes of the dealers.

Clause 14 of the Customs Act specifies how certain Canadian exports may be admitted free on reimportation. The clause reads as follows:

Any goods or packages being the growth, produce, or manufacture of Canada, and having been exported therefrom and intended to be returned, may be admitted free of duty on being reimported into Canada, provided such goods or packages were entered for exportation and branded or marked by a collector or proper officer of Customs, and are fully identified by the collector or proper officer at the port or place where they are so reimported; and provided, further, that the property in such goods or packages has continued in the person by whom they were exported, and that such reimportation takes place within one year of the exportation thereof.

As there is no Canadian Customs officer at Buffalo, the Government holds that it is legally impossible to allow the grain to be reimported under this clause. Had Buffalo been in the same category as Duluth, the circumstances might have been different. At the latter point large quantities of Manitoba wheat are annually stored. It is placed in sealed bins or compartments under the supervision of a Canadian Customs officer, who holds the keys of the bins, checks the exact amount of grain elevated into the building, and superintends the discharge of the wheat when it is to be removed from Duluth to Canada.

It is also claimed by the Government that to allow the re-importation of this wheat would be to tacitly sanction an infraction of the coasting laws by permitting American boats to convey Canadian produce from one Canadian port to another.

The decision of the Government has caused no change in the price of wheat in Toronto, but it has the effect of rendering the market firmer.

POOR BUTTER NOT WANTED.

Country merchants who have for years been compelled by local circumstances to take inferior butter, at choice butter prices, in exchange for goods, will be glad to know that the day is rapidly approaching when it will be impossible to sell such butter.

The tastes of the consumers are improving, and they will not take inferior quality.

Merchants will, therefore, have to refuse the butter or buy it at its actual worth.

President Andrew Pattullo, in his annual address to the Dairymen, says:

"It is gratifying to note that the improved taste of the Canadian people has recently given a great impetus to the production of good butter, either home dairy or creamery, for local markets. The demands of the home trade are a clear intimation to makers that the days for poor butter at a profit are past."

FRAUDULENT FRUIT-PACKING.

A special meeting of the Toronto Retail Fruit Dealers' Association was held on Monday night in Richmond Hall, in order to complete all arrangements with regard to the petition to be presented to the new City Council concerning the fraudulent packing of fruit. It is intended to insist on each packer placing his name on every package, and refraining from placing the finest specimens of fruit on the top. The question of peddling was fully discussed, the general consensus of opinion being that it would be more in the interests, both of purchaser and retailer, if peddling were interdicted. Mr. J. Hull, vice-president, occupied the chair.

THE ESTATE OF H. J. BRAY, Jr.

The affairs of H. J. Bray, jr., who is said, since his recent failure as a fish and fruit dealer in Toronto, to have taken up his residence in a sunnier clime, have not yet been straightened out. Assignee G. H. May, who has the estate in hand, says he will wind it up—that is to say, what there is left of it, which is not much.

FRENCH VS. TURKISH PRUNES.

THE unusual difference of over 1c. between the price of Turkish and French prunes that has ruled recently is causing some comment in Montreal this week.

Last week lots of Bosnia prunes sold at 1c. advance, there being turnovers at 5c., whereas French prunes were inclined to be easy in feeling.

This difference is hard to understand in view of some facts which came under the notice of THE GROCER during the week.

These facts tended to show unmistakably that in very many instances the French fruit was far better value at the money than the Bosnia stock.

Some of the lots of the latter, though in appearance they were much finer than the French article, were not by any means pleasant to the olfactory organ. After an application of hot water also the appearance of the latter was far the best.

The fact remains, however, that the Bosnia fruit secured the advance, and most people attribute the circumstance to their being larger fruit than the French, though the latter when cooked are quite as palatable, if not more so, than the former.

When the new French treaty comes into force, however, it may mean a change in the conditions of the prune trade, as the larger and choicer descriptions of French prunes can then be laid down cheaper than lower grades of their Turkish competitors.

LATE TRADE NOTES.

Burt & Co., grocers, Bracebridge, Ont., have dissolved partnership.

Henry Wilson, grocer, Oakville, Ont., is offering to compromise with his creditors.

W. J. Relyea, dealer in bankrupt stocks, Perth and Brockville, Ont., has assigned to W. A. Campbell, Toronto, with assets amounting to $20,000 and liabilities totalling $15,000.

In the matter of R. Hutchinson, insolvent, a final dividend of 18½c. on the dollar has been declared. The liabilities totalled $4,325.15, while the proceeds from the sale of stock, book accounts, etc., amounted to $1,109.63.

SUCCESSFUL COLD STORAGE.

Aikenhead & Sloan, Toronto, are meeting with great success in connection with their cold storage warehouse. Following is a copy of a letter recently received by them from the Toronto Coffee House Association:

MESSRS. AIKENHEAD & SLOAN,
Church street, Toronto.

GENTLEMEN,—The poultry placed in your cold storage is turning out very well. The geese are both in appearance and condition as good as fresh. The turkeys, though slightly discolored, are in good condition. When being got ready for the oven there is no sign of decomposition about the inside. When cooked they are juicy and retain their flavor. Yours truly,

LEE WILLIAMS.

SUGAR STILL LOWER.

Another decline in refiners' prices of ½c. on 500 and 1,000 barrel lots of No. 1 standard granulated was another surprise to the grocery trade in Montreal last week. It caused jobbers a lot of annoyance also, it is claimed, for since the decline was made public they have been asked by customers why they did not get the benefit of the decline.

Of course, this request is ridiculous, for on goods sold early in the week before the decline was established it would be hard to expect jobbers to give their patrons the benefit.

WHY SCOTCHMEN DO NOT GO.

A SCOTCH friend of a contemporary in overhauling his papers recently, found the annexed scrap, which he sends to that paper for publication:

Long years ago, in times so remote that history does not fix the epoch, a dreadful war was waged by the King of Scotland. Scottish valor prevailed, and the King of Scotland, elated by his success, sent for his Prime Minister, Lord Alexander.

"Weel, Sandy," said he, "is there ne'er a King we canna conquer noo?"

"An' it please your majesty, I ken o' a King that your majesty canna vanquish."

"An' who is he, Sandy?"

Lord Alexander, reverently looking up, said: "The King o' Heaven."

"The King of whaur, Sandy?"

"The King of Heaven."

The Scottish King did not understand, but was exceedingly unwilling to exhibit any ignorance.

"Just gang your ways, Sandy, and tell the King o' Heaven to gie oop hi' dominions or I'll come mysel' and ding him oot of them; an' mind, Sandy, ye dinna coom back tae us until ye hae dune oor biddin'."

Lord Alexander retired much perplexed, but met a priest, and, reassured, returned and presented himself.

"Weel, Sandy," said the King, "has ye seen the King o' Heaven, an' what sae He tae oor biddin'?"

"An' it please your majesty, I hae seen aye o' his accredited ministers."

"Weel, an' what sae He?"

"He says your majesty may even hae His Kingdom for the asking o' it."

"Was He soo civil?" said the King, warming to magnanimity. "Joost gang your ways back, Sandy, an' tell the King o' Heaven that for His civility the de'il a Scotchman shall set foot on His Kingdom."

THE WINDOW-DRESSER'S CORNER.

WINDOW dressing is the twin brother of advertising, going together hand-in-hand as they do for the soliciting of business. THE GROCER proposes to make this more a feature of its columns than it has hitherto. The members of the trade can assist us in the premises by forwarding to us from time to time anything of interest that may come in their way bearing on the subject. For instance, should any of them have a particularly well displayed window, let them send a photograph of it to the publishers who will reproduce it in a subsequent issue of THE GROCER.

DIDN'T LIKE SIDEWALK DISPLAYS.

We have frequently commented on the attitude of most magistrates who have persons brought before them charged with stealing goods from shop doors, says British Warehouseman. The Mayor of Stratford-on-Avon has, however, taken a new line in dealing with such cases — one which we do not expect will be generally followed. The culprit was caught red-handed stealing a pair of boots. He pleaded guilty, and excused himself that his own boots were worn out. The Mayor gave the tradesman the usual lecture for putting his goods out so as to tempt people. He then fined the prisoner 5s., and, instead of committing him to prison for default, paid the fine himself and dismissed the man with a caution.

THE VALUE OF WINDOWS.

THERE are but few firms in existence to-day who do not recognize the value of their windows as a direct advertising medium, says Dry Goods Economist.

The art of window-dressing—for it is an art—has reached such proportions that it is to-day one of the leading features of all wide-awake stores.

Having reached its present proportions it should be dignified by the name of a department and receive the treatment due to a department of such importance.

As a department is of little practical value without an experienced head, so should this be given a head—a man fully up to the necessities of the position and fully aware of the possibilities as well.

It is false economy, but an economy (?) that too many merchants are practising, that leads to the employment of a man inexperienced, inartistic and entirely unfit for this position.

Related so closely to the advertising account as this department is, the same general principles should apply to both. Many a merchant who gives attention to his advertising, placing it where he gets the best returns from the outlay, knows that this is not accomplished through the cheapest mediums.

So in window dressing; and it would be far better to leave it to the department clerks, who at least are acquainted with the goods they handle, than to create this department and place it under the management of some inexperienced, unfit man, simply on account of price. A good window dresser has become a necessity, and the staff of no up-to-date store can be considered as complete without one.

Another great mistake made by many houses in connection with their window dressing is the way they hamper their trimmer by neglecting to provide him with the necessary fixtures on the score of expense. It is not meant by this that a costly set of new fixtures is necessary for good displays, although they may be desirable, but that, at least, common fixtures be provided for the use of the trimmer, and he be not left or expected to make them out of barrel-hoops, packing cases and rolling boards, as is too frequently the case.

Complete sets of up-to-date window fixtures can now be obtained at comparatively slight expense, and the durability of such fixtures and the time they save in the making of a display, as well as the attractiveness they add to the completed trim, more than counterbalance the slight outlay required.

This indisposition to spend money on windows noted in many cases is traced back to a professed inability to see direct results, which a keen business man always claims should follow any outlay. If a merchant, running his windows on the slipshod, shortsighted policy of dirty, ill-trimmed windows would make the necessary outlay and place a competent man in charge of this department, he would quickly perceive such direct results as would forever insure that manager's receiving whatever he asked for in the form of new fixtures, stands or figures. As a department cannot sell goods unless the right goods are provided, so a window trimmer should not be expected to turn out artistic displays unless provided with suitable fixtures and given the goods wherewith to work.

This question of stock is another important one, as there is much needless friction existing between the window trimmer and department managers, especially those of dress goods and silks.

Although these departments receive the greatest benefits from well-dressed windows, in many cases their buyers always make a vigorous kick over the displays of their lines, claiming that it damages the goods, overlooking the fact that the direct results of such displays would cover any slight loss due to damage received in the display four times over, to say nothing of the indirect results, such as customers attracted to the store, comments of passers-by, etc.

Give, therefore, to your windows during the new year, first, a competent trimmer; next, provide suitable fixtures for his use, and, lastly, allow him full swing of the store for the selection of goods for his displays, guiding him, of course, in the same by your knowledge of what is desirable and seasonal.

Laporte, Martin & Co.'s (Montreal) calendar for 1895 is one of the best of the year. It contains a large, delicately colored figure of a charming girl in yachting costume, taking an afternoon cup of tea, no doubt one of their popular Japan brands, "Victoria" or "Princess Louise." The picture, which is copyrighted, was lithographed in England, and will make an attractive addition to the decorations of any store. Copies will be sent to subscribers of THE GROCER, who have not yet got one, on receipt of a postal card.

SOME CAUSE FOR SATISFACTION.

While the finally revised Dominion trade returns for the fiscal year of 1894 show an aggregate falling off in the total trade of over $6,500,000, yet it is by no means like drawing blood from a stone to extract from these returns some amount of satisfaction.

And that is, that exports which were the produce of Canada showed but a small decline; only, in fact, a little more than one per cent.

The cause of the decrease of nearly 8 per cent. in the goods entered for home consumption is not far to seek. Retailers, departing from the old system of reckless buying, have been curtailing their purchases. The wholesalers, if they wished to avoid having their warehouses stocked with goods that would be left over till the next season and depreciate in value, had, of course, to follow suit. Such a course must necessarily be reflected in the trade returns of the country.

Had this course not been taken, the trade returns of the country would have been swelled at the expense of the financial standing of the business men of the country.

THE C. T. BENEFIT SOCIETY.

The annual meeting of the Commercial Travelers' Benefit Society was held in the rooms of the association, Toronto, Saturday evening, Thomas Dunnet, the president, in the chair. The report of the Board of Management was most satisfactory in every respect. It showed an increase in the membership of the society, and also that after paying all death claims the sum of $2,500 had been added to the reserve fund, which now amounts to $25,000. The Board of Management, elected by acclamation last December, is as follows: Thomas Dunnet, president; Mayor Kennedy, treasurer; Mr. R. H. Crean, vice-president; trustees, Messrs. R. L. Patterson, Joseph Bonnick, S. R. Wickett, Joseph Taylor, H. Goodman, John A. Ross, T. M. Bayne, W. B. Dack and H. Lamont.

MUSTARD AND CRESS.

Carrying on business without advertising, says an exchange, is like winking in the dark; you know it, but nobody else does.

* * *

A Brooklyn department store has created a cigar department in connection with its establishment. We commiserate with the man whose wife buys his "weed."

* * *

"Dew Drop" canned goods are being advertised in an American exchange. Do drop! Why, that is what some people are wanting in this country, cheap and all as canned goods are to-day.

* * *

Did you happen to know that Bradstreet says nearly 80 per cent. of the concerns that fail in business are those who don't advertise? Isn't there one big, large-sized moral in this authoritative testimonial?—Profitable Advertising.

* * *

The St. Louis Grocer warns its readers against a not uncommon class as follows: "Be chary of the man who walks a mile out of his way to tell you he don't like your competitor. It is a 'dead safe' bet that he will ask you for credit before he leaves your store."

* * *

Time has clipped all the coupons of another year. Its prizes and its blanks are known. Mistakes cannot be recalled, but they may be avoided in the future. Experience, although generally costly, is always valuable. The wise man gauges the future by the past.—American Grocer.

* * *

A young grocery clerk, not very long on this side of the Atlantic and just beginning to speak English, was asked by one of his friends to what church he was going. The prompt reply was "to the Pull and Push church." He had, explains an exchange, taken these words, which were found on the doors, to be the name of the church.

* * *

An editorial appeared in a recent issue of THE GROCER in reference to an order-in-council of the Dominion Government defining the law regarding the inspection of teas. The Winnipeg Commercial reproduced the first couple of paragraphs, inadvertently omitting to credit. The other day a New York journal clipped The Commercial's item, giving that paper, of course, the credit. Newspapers as well as individuals are sometimes deprived of credit due them. But, tell it not in Gath, sometimes they get more than their meed. Both of these peculiarities of journalism are herein illustrated.

* * *

"A source of pleasure and profit," is what one of our old friends, W. C. Forman, Ingersoll, says of THE CANADIAN GROCER. Not content with such flattering words, he goes on to say: "I am delighted with the spirit of the paper, and of that bright paper, THE DRY GOODS REVIEW, of which I am also a subscriber." We club these two papers for three dollars a year.

* * *

Messrs. McLaughlin & Co., Gorrie, say: "We are much pleased with THE GROCER, and would, indeed, be sorry to be without it." We have much pleasure in informing Messrs. McLaughlin that they never need do without THE CANADIAN GROCER in this world. Of course, if our subscribers insist on its publication in the next world, it's got to be done. The great difficulty would be to get the "devil" (printer's devil). However, he could be imported from below, unless Watters (Ottawa) puts a senseless export tax on him. Still, this could be settled by N. Clarke Wallace—from above.

The Winnipeg Free Press does not approve of the refusal of the Government to allow the application of certain Toronto grain men to return to Canada, duty free, a quantity of Manitoba wheat now in elevators in Buffalo. "It is to the interest of the millers and the New York operators that the duty be not imposed," it declares. In the same article The Free Press says: "Canadian wheat may be described as undergoing the same process as the coal that was sent to Newcastle. Canadian millers, foreseeing signs of scarcity of hard wheat, and buying in further supplies, have raised the price higher than the figures New York exporters could realize on Canadian wheat in Britain. Consequently the New York operator would send back Canadian wheat; but the Canadian operator, for reasons not altogether hidden, objects to this re-importation, and would stop the inflow."

* * *

Competition exists in every walk in life. There are cheap lecturers, cheap doctors, and cheap statesmen. Every profession and trade is crowded. If you ask a successful lawyer, doctor or merchant if there is room in his crowded profession or trade, the answer will be, "There is plenty of room at the top." The higher up a man succeeds in getting, the freer he is from competition. A slovenly store filled with goods of poor quality, bought at ill-considered prices, suffers more from competition than a store that is clean and carefully managed. The grocer who has succeeded in leading the trade in his town demands a better and more regular price for his goods than it would be possible to secure in the store of the new-comer who is beginning at the bottom and has not yet worked up to the top.—Artemus Ward.

* * *

A week or ten days ago Montreal was agitated over the demonstrations that were being held by the unemployed of that city. At one gathering there were ten thousand people who were supposed to be clamoring for work or bread; and some of the speakers asserted that there were as many more who were in a like condition. It was darkly hinted that unless the desideratum was forthcoming, there would be an uprising of this great (?) army. The latter part of last week Montreal was visited by a heavy snowfall, which impeded traffic on the streets. To remove the obstacle the city engineer sought to employ fifteen hundred men, which should not have been a difficult object with an alleged twenty thousand to draw upon. But search where he would all he could "dum up" was five hundred men. Comment is unnecessary.

TO HELP THE BUTTER TRADE.

IMPORTANT LETTER FROM DAIRY COMMISSIONER ROBERTSON.

EDITOR GROCER,—In a recent issue of THE CANADIAN GROCER, in an article headed "Depressed Butter Market," I find that someone has been crediting or charging me with expressing approval of the practice of holding butter made in the summer for a rise in the market and until it has become deteriorated in quality. The writer of the article goes even further than that, and says: "It is difficult to understand on what basis Prof. Robertson is agitating for the Government to provide means for the farmers to store and carry their butter."

I am quite innocent of any connection with an agitation for that purpose.

That the merchants who buy and speculate in Canadian butter will accept my advice as to when to buy, when to sell, how long to store, or when to ship, is not to be expected; nor have I ever gone beyond my sphere of duty to offer advice in those regards. The fact is that the creamery butter, made in Canada during June and July, is nearly always held by somebody until August or later. My advice to the manufacturers of butter and the handlers of it has been that if the butter is to be held, cold storage accommodation should be provided where it can be held so that the quality will not be injured. Creamery butter, if put into a cold storage room before it is three days old and kept at a temperature not above the freezing point, will not be deteriorated in quality as much in three months under such conditions as it would be in three days in the ordinary temperature of an English warehouse in June or July.

The trend of the market in Great Britain during the last year agrees with that of former years, and shows that the average price of Danish butter, in casks, was from 14s. to 18s. per hundredweight higher from the middle of September to the end of November than during the months of June and July. These figures are equivalent to from 3 to 3½c. per pound. The price of finest Irish creamery butter was from 8s. to 12s. per hundredweight higher from the middle of September to the end of the year than it was during June and July. That may indicate the desirability of landing the bulk of our creamery butter in first-class condition, in Great Britain, from August onwards until April.

As the quantity of Canadian creamery butter which goes to England is less than 2 per cent. of the total quantity of butter imported into England, our shipments cannot yet have a very great influence in determining the market price for the finest butter in the British markets. The great point to be sought by Canadian manufacturers and shippers of butter is to put the Canadian butter on the English market in such a condition, as to its quality, that it will command the highest price which is being paid for any butter at the time when it reaches the market there for consumption. I am not giving away any official secrets when I say that the matter of giving such aid to the farmers of Canada as will assist in placing the surplus Canadian creamery butter on the English market in its very best condition has been receiving earnest consideration and investigation for some time.

When it is fresh made, our finest Canadian creamery butter compares very favorably with the best Danish and Irish creamery, Australian and New Zealand creamery butters, which I have ever examined. As an industry, our butter making in co-operative creameries has labored under the disadvantage of being without transportation facilities adequate to the preservation of the quality of the butter while in transit. Some men engaged in the butter trade have resolutely opposed every effort in the direction of remedying that state of matters, under the plea that whoever advocated such improvements was advising the storage of butter in the hands of the farmers, and the keeping of our butter off the English market while it was fresh and in its best condition for consumption. The statements of these obstructionists might be characterized as the veriest rubbish, if they had not by their clamors already injured our butter trade by causing a postponement of action to provide the facilities which are needed.

We need cold storage accommodation for the creamery butter of Canada at a temperature not above 32 deg. from the time that it leaves the butter worker until it is ready for delivery to the retail shops in England; and I am hopeful that we are in a fair way of getting that. The business enterprise of creamery men and merchants will doubtless provide cold storage accommodation for whatever quantity of butter they decide to hold from June until August; and it seems to me to be a fitting time for action by the Government to assist in providing adequate cold storage transportation facilities, if need be, all the way between the railway station nearest to every co-operative creamery in Canada and the railway stations or delivery vans in Great Britain, for the supply of the shops of the retail provision merchants there. By such means and through the development of winter dairying, I believe Canadian creamery butter can secure a name, reputation and value equal to Canadian cheese.

Dairy Commissioner.

CONCERNING RETAILERS.

THE GROCER overlooked the fact that A. W. Wilkinson, the well-known Barrie grocer, was one of the successful candidates for municipal honors at the recent elections in that town.

L. H. Yeomans, Mount Forest, is in receipt of a carload of Spanish onions.

T. S. Ford, dealer in dry goods and groceries, Mitchell, reports trade keeping up well.

G. B. Stephenson & Son, Arthur, are putting electric lights in their store and otherwise improving it. The firm is a progressive one, and is doing one of the best trades in the town.

J. W. Saunderson, the well-known Wroxieter merchant, has a new clerk—or what will likely be such. He is only a few days old, and in the meantime Mrs. Saunderson has the care of the baby boy.

Erneswein Bros. is the name of a new retail firm that has started at Inniskillen, Ont. They will carry full lines of groceries, dry goods and boots and shoes. The Messrs. Erneswein were formerly clerks with F. X. Messner, of Formosa. THE GROCER wishes them success.

Fish King Hay, of Kincardine, has refitted his store throughout, making it one of the best appointed in the northern country. The interior has been nicely painted and decorated, and fitted up with electric lights. Mr. Hay has at the moment a big stock of fresh water herring and trout.

Thomas Ellis, Mount Forest, junior partner of the firm of James Ellis & Co., is a vocalist as well as a merchant, and at a concert in a neighboring town last week he was the recipient of a number of handsome bouquets, one from a lady admirer being especially so.

"What do you think of those eggs?" whispered the lean boarder.

"These eggs," responded the fat boarder, whose occupation was that of advertising clerk in a newspaper office, "are too late to classify."—Chicago Tribune.

A UNIQUE COMBINATION.

A NEW element in opposition to the department stores is developing. We refer to the property owners whose stores have either depreciated in value or have actually ceased to be a source of revenue because of loss of tenants owing to the competition of these latter-day big "grab-alls."

Through a kindred desire to destroy a common foe they are joining their forces with the ordinary retail merchants.

This movement has probably advanced more in Chicago than in any other city. There, owing to the deterioration of property values on the West Side, the real estate men have been persuaded to join issues with the retail merchants, and the two influences between them are going to try and hatch some scheme that has for its object the double purpose of protecting the merchants and the property owners in the outlying districts of the "Windy City."

What they propose doing has not yet been demonstrated. All that the retail merchants seem so far to have done is to pass resolutions deprecating the encroachment of the department stores upon their businesses, and soliciting the united action of the merchants of the city with a view to counteracting the evil.

Chicago, as well as New York, seems to be thoroughly aroused in the matter. With a view to ascertaining what power the city possesses to enact laws to protect the retail trade in the premises, a resolution has been introduced in the City Council authorizing the corporation counsel to give an opinion thereon. Should this opinion be unfavorable to the interests of the retailers, it is proposed that an appeal shall be made to the Legislature of the state.

With the retail merchants and the property owners enlisted under one banner against the department stores quite a formidable front should be presented, and if legislative action for the protection of the retail merchant is possible or permissible, their influence should be strong enough to obtain it.

The great question is, what can they do by legislative enactment or otherwise to put a limit on the appetite of the Department Store Octopus? It strikes most people that it will well test the solons of the land to create the desideratum.

TORONTO'S TELEPHONE SYSTEM.

"THE telephone service in Toronto is very unsatisfactory, if you compare it with that of Montreal." This remark was made by a prominent business man in the latter city.

He explained that in Montreal, when the Central was called up, the answer came back instantly. The moment you got the instrument to your ear you heard, "What number?" And in a very short time you got the number, or, if you did not, you heard Central again: "Did they answer?"

"In Toronto you generally have to wait one to three minutes for Central to answer, and as much longer for the number you want."

Mr. K. J. Dunstan, local manager of the telephone company at Toronto, was interviewed in regard to the Montreal man's statement. Mr. Dunstan stated that our correspondent's informant must have had particularly bad luck in his experience with the Toronto telephone system. As a matter of fact, Mr. Dunstan asserted, time tests taken every month in both cities showed that the two systems were about the same as regards the length of time it took to attract Central's attention. In fact, Toronto might sometimes be said to have the better of the comparison. By actual time tests, it had been proven that, the year round, it took, on an average, a little less than seven seconds to elicit a response from a Central in either city.

Windsor Dairy Salt

In paper-lined barrels is being used by the largest creamery firms in Canada.

WHY ?

Read This

QUEBEC, August 28th, 1894.
E. G. HENDERSON, Esq.,
Manager Windsor Salt Works,
Windsor, Ont.

Dear Sir,—We have been using your salt about two months in our creameries, with the highest satisfaction. Our men, who know how salt works into the butter, and how clean and pure salt is, or the reverse, are one in their praise of the quality of the "Windsor" Brand. It is fine grained, uniform, readily soluble, and does not cake in the barrels. They are also specially commending the paper-lined barrels, which go so far in keeping the salt from taint in its travel from the works to the factory.

If our Canadian butter exhibit in Chicago was so unsatisfactory, it was, in several instances, due to the use of tainted salt—salt in bags, soaked with ship and rail taint. The judges' report avers of the importance of this point, and our fellow creamery men should encourage Canadian manufacture by using the "Windsor" Brand in barrels. A trial will win the point as it did with us. Yours truly,

J. DE L. TACHE,

E. G. HENDERSON, Esq.,
Manager Windsor Salt Works.

Dear Sir,—At different times I have made comparative tests of the merits of different brands and makes of salt, for use in the manufacture of butter. Butter salt from the Windsor Salt Works is being used in our Dominion Dairy Stations during the present season, and I find it to be the BEST SALT for butter which I have tried. I find it pure, clean, and in the form of fine crystals of nearly uniform size, which dissolve readily and completely. I have used the cheese salt from the Windsor Salt Works in the manufacture of cheese, and I believe it to be as good for that purpose as any other which I have tried.

I am, yours very truly,

THE REMEDY NOT HERE.

One of Toronto's aldermen, Mr. T. Davies, has what he conceives to be a scheme for stunting the growth of department stores.

The scheme was given publicity at the first meeting of the new Council. It was in the form of a notice of motion, and asked that a special committee be appointed "to take into consideration the advisability of levying a graded business tax or license with a view of protecting the retail merchants, druggists and others against the ruinous practices of monopolists in the centre of the city."

Ald. Davies' idea, THE GROCER understands, is to limit the number of departments which a merchant shall carry on under one roof.

There is no question about the evil that is being wrought to the retail trade by the department stores, and any legitimate remedy that could be found for its curtailment would be hailed with delight by THE GROCER, but it is no use expecting that the panacea is reposed in Ald. Davies' scheme. Its shadow is not even there.

There is one thing common law will not allow, and that is legislation in restriction of trade. It is this very "thou shalt not" that the proposition in question proposes to do.

A legislative body has as much right to say how many lines a man shall carry in stock as to say how many he shall not.

Anything that is going to help the retail merchants on the premises must, it seems to us, come from themselves and not from the hand of any municipal or parliamentary body.

TAX REFORM AT HALIFAX.

FOR many years the wholesale business men of Halifax have been laboring under a very heavy load in the shape of taxes.

Some four or five years ago they formed a "Reform Tax Association," and have ever since been endeavoring to bring about a change. They drafted a bill on the lines of the Montreal system, which was rejected by the City Council. Last year they took it to the Local Legislature, but that body gave it the "three months hoist."

Last May two of the leading tax reformers managed to secure their election to the City Council, and the other day that body passed a measure which is to be sent to the Legislature.

It is sweeping in its provisions. The tax on personal property is to be abolished. A business tax, based on the value of rental, is to be substituted. Land will be taxed its full value, while the buildings thereon will only be assessed at half value.

The merchants claim that three-fourths of the personal property now assessed consists of stocks in trade. They argue that they are placed at a great disadvantage in competing with Montreal and Toronto, and the latter places send their travelers here with samples, while the local dealers are heavily taxed for keeping large stocks on hand.

The bill is meeting with much criticism from small dealers, who look upon it as a scheme to enable the wholesale men to unload upon them. They will oppose it in the Legislature. One of the strongest opponents to the bill is Mayor Keefe. Its friends, however, have a number of supporters in the Legislature, and they are confident it will run the gauntlet all right.

TARIFFS THE STUMBLING BLOCKS.

THE most formidable difficulties that are at the moment in the way of the development of the Canada-Australia trade are of a tariff nature.

This obstacle obtains in Australia as well as in Canada. Indeed, if anything, the difficulties are greater in Australia than they are in this country. There the variety of tariffs equal in number the several colonies that exist in what is known as Australasia. Here, of course, the tariff is uniform in all the provinces comprising the Dominion.

In New South Wales the conditions are at the moment more than usually unfavorable to the development of trade with Canada. In a word, that colony is in the midst of a tariff reform agitation. The Reid Ministry, which came into power there a few months ago, is pledged to assimilate the tariff to that of the United Kingdom; but, according to a letter which THE GROCER has just received from J. A. Stanley Adam, manager of The Storekeeper, Sydney, it is a question whether the Government will be able to carry out its proposals.

"Merchants are, therefore," adds our informant, "disinclined to commit themselves to any new departure until something definite is known on this point. At the same time they are alive to the advantages offered by the Canadian line for opening up a lucrative trade with your country, and if only a little finality characterized the political situation here, they would be ready to go ahead."

The possibilities of trade between Canada and Australia are realized by both parties concerned, as also are the advantages of the steamship line plying between those parts of the British empire. What is wanted now is to get the respective tariffs into shape, and then get to work to build up trade.

HOW TO GET YOUR CLAIMS IN FULL

THERE are some firms who are not losers by the failures of their customers. They appear on the creditors' list, sometimes for large amounts, but they are generally paid in full. If they are not, there are criminal proceedings.

The system is one which is gradually increasing. When a buyer applies for a line of credit, they ask him for a statement of his affairs signed by himself in the presence of a witness. If the statement is favorable, they sell him the goods on the strength of it. In time the buyer fails, and an examination into his affairs shows that the statement he submitted and signed in the presence of witnesses did not represent his true financial condition. It put it in too favorable a light. He offers to compromise with his creditors at 20 to 50c. on the dollar or bluffs them by abandoning his estate.

The firm to whom he made the false statement turns up now and privately demands 100 cents on the dollar on its claim.

The insolvent answers, he will give nothing of the kind; but sometimes he adds he is going into business again, and promises to buy all his goods from this particular firm in future.

Generally he is told it would not sell to him in future, excepting for cash, as he has proved himself unreliable. He is then reminded of his statement. On the strength of this the firm in question points out that it sold him goods, intimating that he had thus obtained goods under false pretences, which is a criminal offence.

The firm then gives him the alternative of paying in full or being arrested. He pays in full and the other creditors suffer.

Most of us are familiar with a case in which the Eby, Blain Co., the wholesale grocery house, had a man arrested for obtaining goods from them on such a false statement. He was found guilty of obtaining goods under false pretences and sent to jail for three months. The judge remarked that had it not been for his previous good character and respectable connections he would have sent him to the penitentiary for a long period. He announced his intention of punishing future offenders to the utmost limit of the law.

With this effective method of getting at buyers who obtain unlimited quantities of goods on false representations, then sell them at cut prices, damaging the business of their local competitors, creditors who are caught deserve little sympathy.

MOLASSES STILL GOING HIGHER.

IN view of the substantial advances that have been actually established on round lots of Barbadoes molasses in Montreal, many in the trade there find it hard to understand why some of the jobbers on that market have kept on selling small lots at the combine price during the past fortnight.

In fact, on Tuesday last a large wholesale French firm informed THE GROCER that they were still selling at 30c.

As other jobbers were getting the advance, jobbing lots having sold at 33 to 34c., the position taken by the former parties is hard to understand, yet the fact remains.

It is probable, however, that they are satisfied with the profit they are making on some of the lots they are turning over, and it is also more than likely that before the close of the present week no jobbing parcels of Barbadoes will be obtainable in Montreal at 30c.

The stock here in first hands is practically exhausted, only one holder having any large quantity, though one of the French jobbing houses is generally reputed to have a large stock.

Still, when other sales have been made at an advance of 2 to 4c., they are hardly likely to let go for less.

Briefly, the tendency of the molasses market appears even higher than it is at present, for advices from primary markets state that it is expected the crop next season will show a shortage of 35 to 40 per cent.; or, in other words, instead of a crop of 65,000 tons, as in 1894, there will only be one in the vicinity of 40,000 tons, as, owing to want of moisture, the canes got stunted, and though rain may improve the quality, it will hardly increase the yield.

With regard to supplies in Canada, importing agents in Montreal state that if prices go much higher, it may lead to further importations before the spring.

THE INSPECTION OF TEAS.

“THE editorial in last week's GROCER in reference to the appointment of tea inspectors,” remarked a member of a large wholesale house who desired that his identity should not be revealed, “was in the right direction, and it is to be hoped that your influential journal will not cease pressing this matter to the attention of both the Government and the trade.

“That such an appointment has long been needed is acknowledged by every reliable and competent tea merchant—not only in Toronto, but at every large port of entry in the country. There has been such a lot of low grade, trashy stuff thrown on this market that the tendency has naturally been to discourage the consumer from using tea.

This tendency naturally reacts upon the trade.

“As large handlers of teas, we feel the necessity of closer scrutiny of teas entered for consumption in Canada, and we must commend you for drawing the attention of the trade to the vital matter. Keep up the good work,” he added, as he tapped THE GROCER'S shoulder. “To my mind, you have not in a long time touched on a subject of greater interest to the grocery trade of this country.”

And THE GROCER intends to press the matter until the desideratum is secured. At the same time, inspectors will be of little use unless they are the right kind of men. These inspectors must not be appointed because they are adepts in political warfare, but because of their proficiency as tea experts. And there is no lack of these kind of men in every large commercial centre.

SUGAR LOW AND ACTIVE.

THE tone of the sugar market continues unsettled, and the low values which have ruled from the refineries have led to free purchasing by the jobbing trade. Not only have the Montreal refiners competed with the German sugar, but the Halifax refinery has done an unusual thing by stepping into the former's territory in Ontario and Quebec and offering small lots of sugar at 3½c., laid down in Montreal.

This fact in itself reveals a peculiar state of affairs in the matter of railway freights, for it is hard to understand how a manufacturer in Halifax can lay down No. 1 standard granulated in small lots in Montreal at the very price that the refiners of the latter city are offering it from their own mills in Montreal.

This is freight discrimination with a vengeance.

Briefly the jobbers in Canada are, so to speak, in clover at the moment in regard to supplies of sugar.

At the ruling prices Montreal is the cheapest sugar market of any to buy refined sugar at, and the jobbers evidently recognize the fact. They are doing quite a little speculation on their own account, for they practically cleaned out both refineries in Montreal last week of their available supply of refined sugar, neither on Friday last being able to handle any large order for prompt shipment.

Whether the refiner's price in Montreal is to go still lower is difficult to say, but it may be interesting to note that the finest granulated sugar has sold in Montreal every day for the last ten days ½ to ¾c. cheaper than the same grade of sugar costs at the refineries in New York.

BOARD OF TRADE ELECTIONS.

MONTREAL BOARD.

The Montreal Board of Trade has been holding its annual meeting this week. The proceedings extended over two days, concluding Wednesday, the delay being necessitated by the balloting for the members of the council. The president and other officers were elected by acclamation, but there were three tickets proposed for the council, and after the ballot it was found that a selection of names from the three had been chosen. The new officers and board are: James A. Cantlie, president; John Torrance, first vice-president; John McKernan, second vice-president; Charles F. Smith, treasurer; council, George Childs, George Hague, John T. McBride, David MacFarlane, Wm. McNally, W. H. Meredith, Hy. Miles, Arch. Nicoll, Wm. Nivin, James E. Pendell, David Robertson, G. F. C. Ogilvie and James Slessor.

TORONTO BOARD.

The annual meeting of the Toronto Board of Trade was held on Wednesday.

In his address, the retiring president, Hugh Blain, referred at considerable length to the present depressed condition of trade. Nor does he look hopefully on the future. The people, he thinks, can only lift themselves out of the present financial strait by hard work, watchfulness and rigid economy. He reviewed the work of the council of the board for the past year.

J. L. Spink, in his report, showed that the receipts for the past year amounted to $44,469.39, and the expenditures $45,531.90.

The assets are estimated at $493,520.82, a surplus over the liabilities of $13,777.

The new officers of the board are:

President—S. Caldecott.

First vice-president—E. B. Osler.

Second vice-president—Ed. Gurney.

Treasurer—D. W. Alexander.

Board of Arbitration—William Badenach, accountant; R. S. Baird, Confederation Life Association; John Carrick (A. V. De Laporte & Co.); Thos. Davies, alderman; Thomas Flynn, grain merchant; William Galbraith, flour merchant; John Keith, coal merchant; James McIntosh (P. McIntosh & Son); Thomas McLaughlin, flour and grain; Robert McLean, secretary Fire Underwriters' Association; J. L. Spink, miller; J. H. Sproule, grain merchant.

Harbor Commission—Capt. Hall, shipowner, and George A. Chapman, grain merchant.

Council—Hugh Blain, wholesale grocer; Wm. Christie, biscuit manufacturer; D. R. Wilkie, cashier Imperial Bank; W. D. Matthews, grain merchant; H. N. Baird, grain merchant; John Donogh, lumber merchant; M. McLaughlin, Dominion Flour Mills; Elias Rogers, of Elias Rogers & Co.; A. A. Allan, hat, cap and fur dealer; John Macdonald, of John Macdonald & Co.; William G. Gooderham, of Gooderham & Worts Co., Ltd.; M. C. MONEY AND STOCKS.

THERE is a decidedly unsatisfactory feeling on the Toronto money market this week in consequence of the deplorable condition of financial affairs in the United States. "We have nothing common politically," said a prominent broker to me, "but we are closely allied to the United States financially, and consequently when the money market over there gets into the position it is in to-day we are bound to be more or less affected."

The feature of the Toronto stock market at the time of writing is Toronto Street Railway stock. On Monday it sold up as high as 80, a gain of three points for the day, in spite of the opinions of "old timers" that the stock was away above its value. But on Tuesday morning the turn came, and a bad turn it was. The stock went down 4 points with a rush. The decline seems to have been the result of an attempt of those who had purchased the stock at high figures to unload. "Yes," remarked one dealer, "it will need to go down about 10 points more before it reaches its actual value." "Comparatively little of this stock has been bought by Toronto speculators," said another broker. "The purchasers have been largely Montreal men."

Fire insurance stocks are keeping strong, and I am told that it is in part due to the large amount of new business, and at advanced rates, too, that has been secured from business men and others who, in consequence of the recent conflagrations, have considered it politic to carry more insurance. The insurance companies are drawing consolation from this fact. But it is safe venturing that after all they would rather not have had the cause which produced the effect of increased business.

Call loans are still quiet. The ruling rate is 4½ per cent., but sharp call loans, backed by good security, are obtainable at 4 per cent. Commercial discounts are unchanged at 6 to 7 per cent.

The monetary situation in the United States has become critical. The gold exports last week aggregated $7,700,000. These, with the exception of those for the week ending June 23, 1894, were the largest on record. On Monday there was a further engagement of $4,500,000 for export. The net reserve on that day was brought down to a little over fifty-two millions, or nearly 50 per cent. below what it should be. To relieve the threatened danger to the nation's credit, President Cleveland on Monday issued a message to Congress, urging immediate legislation in the premises, and a bill was forthwith introduced providing for the issue of 3 per cent.

bonds, payable in gold fifty years after date. This will make the third issue of bonds during the twelve months, there having been two issues of $50,000,000 bonds last year, one in January and the other in November.

ARGUROS.

SCARCITY OF CANNED SALMON.

The canned salmon market in Montreal is quiet and unchanged, but an interesting feature is a decided scarcity of supplies. Not only are there short supplies here, but the catch last year was less than that of 1893, and there is hardly sufficient stock on hand to carry customers along until the next pack.

No new stock can be laid down here under $5.20, and, owing to this condition of affairs, an advance in price shortly would not surprise some Montreal holders.

TORONTO GROCERS' AT HOME.

The members of the Toronto Retail Grocers' Association will hold their annual At Home on Tuesday, Feb. 19. This was decided at a meeting of the Executive Committee held last week. The At Home will be held in St. George's hall, and, as the capacity of the hall is limited, so necessarily will have to be the tickets. To those who intend going the hint is obvious. J. G. Gibson is chairman of the managing committee and P. L. Mulqueen is secretary.

MARKETS AND MARKET NOTES

TORONTO MARKETS.

TORONTO, Jan. 31, 1895.

GROCERIES.

BUSINESS is not as active as it was a week ago, and the principal cause is not far to seek. The heavy snowfall of Friday last blocked country roads as well as railroads, thus preventing the farmers from visiting the stores, and the travelers from making their customary rounds with as much expedition as usual. The sugar market continues steady, but there is no change in prices. Granulated, while not as active as a week ago, is still in fair demand. Teas are still occupying fair attention at firm prices. Currants and Sultana raisins show further advances in the primary markets, and in the latter higher prices are being asked on the local market. Syrups are in fair demand and scarce and firm. Payments are still slow.

CANNED GOODS.

Demand for peas, corn and tomatoes is still light, lighter in fact than the trade appears to have anticipated. There is scarcely anything doing in canned fruits. Salmon is quiet and lobsters dull. We quote: Tomatoes and corn, 85 to 90c.; peas, 80 to 85c.; peaches, $2.75 to $3 for 3's, $1.75 to $1.90 for 2's; raspberries, $1.65 to $1.80; strawberries, $1 to $2.10; apples, 3's, $1 to $1.10, gallons $2.10 to $2.25, and preserved fancy quarters at $1.35 to $1.40; salmon, $1.30 to $1.35 for good red fish in tall tins, and $1.50 to $1.60 in flat tins; do., second quality, $1.10 to $1.25; canned mackerel, $1 to $1.10; lobsters, $1.70 to $2 for tall tins, and $2.25 to $2.75 for flat tins. Australian mutton, boiled, 2 lb. cans, $3.40; ditto, corned and roast, $3.75.

COFFEES.

There is just an ordinary enquiry for green Rio coffee, stocks of which are bare upon this market. Advices received by a local wholesale house state that higher prices are probable. We quote green, in bags, as follows: Rio, 20½ to 22c.; East Indian, 27 to 30c.; South American, 21 to 23c.; Santos, 21½ to 22½c.; Java, 30 to 32c.; Mocha, 27 to 28c.; Maracaibo, 21 to 23c.; Jamaica, 21 to 22c.

RICE.

Business continues quiet and prices unchanged. We quote: "B," 3½ to 3¾c.; extra Japan, 5¼ to 5¾c.; imported Japan, 5¾ to 6¼c.; tapioca, pearl, 4½ to 5c.

SPICES.

Nothing new to report. We quote: Pure black pepper, 10 to 12c.; pure white, 18 to 25c.; pure Jamaica ginger, 25 to 27c.; cloves, 25 to 30c.; pure mixed spice, 25 to 30c.; cream of tartar, 20 to 25c. per lb.

NUTS.

Business remains quiet and featureless. We quote as before: Brazil nuts, 11 to 11½c.; Sicily shelled almonds, 25 to 26c.; Tarragona almonds, 14 to 14½c.; peanuts, 10 to 12c. for roasted and 7 to 10c. for green; cocoanuts, $4.50 to $5 per sack; Grenoble walnuts, 15 to 16c.; Marbot walnuts, 12½ to 14c.; Bordeaux walnuts, 12 to 13c.; Sicily filberts, 9 to 10 for sacks and 10½ to 11c. for small lots; pecans, 10½ to 11c.

SUGAR.

Demand for granulated sugar has eased off a little during the week, although the turnover is still fair. Last week's advances in outside markets appear to have been maintained, and quotations on the local market are without change. We quote: Granulated, domestic, 3½ to 3¾c.; do., No. 2 grade, 3½c.; German granulated, 3½c.; yellows, 2½ to 3½c. Raws—Demerara, 2½ to 3c.; Muscovado, in 115-lb bags, $1.90.

N. Y. Journal of Commerce says: "Faith continues to be expressed in the general immediate promises for raw sugars. There is no abatement in previous liberal estimates of the world's supply for the season, and the recent gain in tone for beet in Europe is admitted to be due solely to temporary impediments to transportation, while the movement of West India growths in natural order of things is increasing; yet there is believed to be a period now at hand when inquiry is likely to keep close to supplies available, and sellers are consistently trying to get all the advantage out of it they can." The same paper is also authority for this: "Within a couple of days over 6,000 bbls. granulated sugar have arrived from Hamburg, with every evidence that they are on through consignment to the West or Canada."

SYRUPS.

Some American dark syrups are arriving on the market in spite of the tariff of 7c. per lb. There is a fair sorting up trade doing in syrups at firm prices. We quote: Dark, 25c.; medium, 28 to 30c.; bright, 35 to 40c.; very bright, 45 to 50c.

MOLASSES.

There is just the usual demand. We quote as follows: New Orleans, barrels, 26 to 28c.; half-barrels, 30½ to 32c.; Barbadoes, barrels, 28 to 32c.; half-barrels, 30 to 34c.

TEAS.

Market continues healthy, but business while fair, is not brisk. Low grade China black teas continue to be absorbed in consequence of the scarcity of low grade Indian and Ceylon teas. Low grade Pangyongs ought to show good value now. China green teas are still scarce. Japan teas are quiet and strong. We quote ruling prices on the Toronto market as follows: Young Hyson, 12 to 18c. for low grades; 24 to 27c. for mediums, and 30 to 45c. for high grades; China Congous, 14 to 18c. for mediums, and 35 to 55c. for high grades; Japans, 16 to 20c. for mediums, 28 to 35c. for high grades; Indians and Ceylons, 18 to 22c. for mediums, and 30 to 45c. for high grades.

DRIED FRUIT.

Valencia raisins are quiet and unchanged. We quote good fruit as before: Off-stalk, 4 to 4½c.; fine off-stalk, 4½ to 5c.; selected, 5½ to 6c.; layers, 6 to 6½c. We quote California loose muscatels at 5½ to 6½c.

Malaga raisins are dull and nominally unchanged. We quote: London layers, $2 to $2.25; black baskets, $2.90 to $3; blue baskets, $4 to $4.75; extra dessert clusters, $4; connoisseur clusters, $2.65 to $2.90; quarter flat connoisseur clusters, 90c. to $1.15; Royal Buckingham, $4.50 to $5.

Sultana raisins were cabled 9d. higher on Monday, making an advance of 2s. 3d. from the bottom. Local houses have advanced prices about ½c., ordinary quotations now being 6 to 7½c. per lb. The higher prices in the outside markets are principally in the lower grades of fruit.

Demand for prunes is still light. We quote: "Sphinx"—"U," 110 to 115 to half kilo, 5 to 5½c. per lb.; "C," 85 to 90 to half kilo, 6½c. per lb.; "B," 80 to 85 to half kilo, 7 to 7½c. per lb. "Atlas"—"D," 110 to 115 to half kilo, 4¾ to 5c. per lb. For Bordeaux prunes, 4 to 4½c. is the idea.

Currants continue to advance. The cable announced another jump of 1s. 6d. on Monday, making the total gain during the last six weeks 3s. No change has yet been made on the local market, but higher prices may be looked for when present stocks are exhausted. We quote: Filiatras, half-barrels, 4 to 4½c., barrels, 4½c.; fine Filiatras, half-barrels, 4¾c., barrels, 4¾c.; Patras, 5½c., in cases; Casalinas, 5½ to 6c.; Vostizas, 6½ to 7c. in cases and half cases; Panartes, 8 to 8½c.

Figs are dull and nominally unchanged. We quote: 14 oz., 8 to 9c.; 10 lb., 8 to 10c.; 18 lb., 12c.; 28 lb., 15c.; taps, 4¼ to 4½c.; naturals, 6 to 7c.

BUTTER AND CHEESE.

Choice butter in demand at old prices. We quote jobbing prices: Dairy—Choice tubs, selections, 15 to 16c. low grade, 8 to 12c.; fresh pound rolls, 15 to 16c.; large rolls, 12 to 15c. Creamery—Tubs, summer makes, nominally 14 to 15c.; winter makes, 21 to 22c.; pound prints, 21 to 23c.

August and September makes of cheese are quoted at 10½ to 10¾c., and half sizes at 11 to 11¼c. Small Sultons are quoted at 12 to 12½c.

GREEN FRUIT.

Oranges, cranberries and apples remain high, and lemons are easier. We quote: Lemons—Floridas, 150's to 176's, $3 to $3.50 per box; Messinas, $2.25 to $3.50. Oranges—Floridas, $3 to $4; Valencias, $4.25 to $4.50; mandarins, $2.50 to $2.75 per half box; tangerines, $2.25 to $2.50 per half box; grape fruit, $4 to $4.50 per box. Bananas, $1 to $1.50 for firsts and seconds. Apples, winter fruit, $2.50 to $3.50 per bbl.; fall fruit, $1.75 to $2. Grapes—Malagas, $5.50 to $6.50 per keg. Cranberries, Jerseys, $14 to $14.50 per bbl. and $5 per box. California dried fruit—Apricots, 12½c.; peaches, 12½ to 13c.

ONIONS—Still dull. We quote: Domestic, 60 to 65c. per bag; Spanish, 75 to 85c. per small crate, $2 per large crate; Valencia, $2.50 to $2.75 per case.

HONEY—Dull. We quote: Strained, in bulk, 7 to 9c.; comb, 14c. for clover and 10c. for buckwheat.

POTATOES—firmer. On track 47c. is quoted, and out of store 53 to 55c.

POULTRY—Small supply and little demand. Not much change in prices. We quote: Turkeys, 7 to 9c.; geese, 7c.; chickens, 30 to 50c.; ducks, 50 to 75c.

EGGS—New laid slightly more plentiful. Held and cold storage stock is quoted as low as 10 to 12c.; strictly fresh new-laid at 23c., and pickled at 12c.

FISH AND OYSTERS.

Oysters are easier, and ciscoes are out of the market. We quote: Salmon trout (frozen), 6½ to 7c.; white fish (frozen), 5 to 7c.; skinned and boned codfish, 6½c.; boneless fish, 3½ to 4c.; market cod, 3 to 5c.; tommy cod, $1.35; steak cod, 5½ to 6½c.; haddock, 3½ to 4½c.; Labrador herring, $2.50 per half keg and $5.50 to $5.75 per barrel; ditto, split, $2.75; fresh water salt herring, $3 per bbl.; blue-back herring, 4c.; sea herring (frozen), $1 to $1.25 per 100 fish; blue pickerel, 4 to 5c. lb.; yellow ditto, 6 to 7c. per lb.; mackerel, 14c. each; pike, 5c. lb.; cod, 6c. per lb.; finnan haddies, 6½ to 7c.; Digby herring, in bundles of 5 boxes, 12½c.; ditto, lengthwise, 12c.; large halibut, 10 to 13c. LARD—Pure Canadian, tierces, 8c.; tubs, 8½c.; pails, 8¾c.

BARREL PORK—Canadian heavy mess, $14.50 to $14.75; Canadian short-cut, $14.75 to $15; shoulder mess, $12.25 to $13.75; clear mess, $12.75 to $13.

SALT.

Large lots are freely moving in view of anticipated rise in price to be brought about by the producers. We quote: Barrels, 90c.; coarse sacks, 56c.; fine sacks, 60c.; dairy, $1.50; rock, $9.

SEEDS.

There is a very limited movement of Canadian red clover, and the markets in the absence of receipts have not shown much variation, although in the United States there have been very material fluctuations. Latest American advices show a somewhat firmer tendency, although prices are considerably lower than those of some time ago. We quote values here: Prime to choice quality, $6 to $6.25, and inferior grades correspondingly lower.

Alsike continues to offer freely and with an easier feeling in the foreign markets; prices are somewhat easier. We quote: Choice to fancy, about $4.85 to $5; lower grades, $3 to $4.50.

HIDES, SKINS, WOOL AND TALLOW.

HIDES—Are a little easier owing chiefly to their comparatively poor condition. Local dealers quote 5 to 5½c. for cured, and 4c. for green.

SHEEPSKINS—Although there is a good quantity coming in, prices for choice skins have gone up a little. We quote 70c. for choice skins. In calfskins nothing is being done and prices are nominal, 6c. for No. 1, and 4c. for No. 2.

TALLOW—The supply is more than equal to the demand, and the market has a downward tendency. Local dealers are paying 5¼c. and selling at 5¾c.

WOOL—Nominal prices rule on a quiet market. Local dealers are offering 18 to 18½c. and selling at from 19 to 21c. The

S. C. Stevenson, 76 S. Gabriel street, Montreal, manager of the Quebec Provincial Exhibition, is now ready to give all information, and promises to have the premium list ready very soon. The exhibition will run this year from Sept. 12th to 21st., and if present plans are carried out will be the most important yet held.

The O. & W. Thum Co. are pleased to announce that, thanks to the increased output for 1894, they are able to make a reduction in the price of "Tanglefoot" of 20c. per case. The new prices will be: Less than one case, 38c. per box; one case to five, $3.40 per case; five cases to ten, $3.30 per case; ten cases, $3.20 per case. Notwithstanding the reduction in price, the quality of "Tanglefoot" is generally improved. Retailers should anticipate their season's wants and order the largest quantity they can use, thus securing the best possible price. In any quantity, however, "Tanglefoot" in nearly all profit.

MONTREAL MARKETS.

MONTREAL, Jan. 31, 1895.

GROCERIES.

THE grocery market has ruled fairly active during the week. The most notable feature since our last has been activity in Barbadoes molasses and sugar. In the former, stocks in first hands are almost exhausted, and the advancing tendency of values has led to some large purchases on the part of such jobbers as are not well supplied with the staple. Other jobbers have not advanced their prices at the date of writing, but it is probable that they will do so before the close of the week from force of circumstances. On the other hand, the active buying of sugar by jobbers in the city and elsewhere is due to low prices prevailing at the refineries, jobbers having taken advantage of the fact to stock up pretty liberally. In other staples, such as tea, spices, coffee, canned goods, etc., nothing special is to mention.

SUGAR.

The sugar market continues fairly active in consequence of the low price at which supplies are being offered by the refineries; in fact, both of them toward the close of last week had almost exhausted their ready made stock. Owing to this disposition of the manufacturers and their determination to keep out foreign sugar, the tone of value is far from settled, and it is not at all certain that bottom has been reached. In consequence of the sharp decline that THE GROECR has already noted as taking place from first hands, jobbers last week had to mark down their list rate to consumers one-quarter of a cent all round, and at the time of writing jobbing business is being done at this decline. In a wholesale way it is difficult to quote, for not only are the local refiners fighting German sugar, but Halifax refiners have been offering small quantities in Ontario at equal to 3½c. laid down. Local refiners have placed round lots of standard granulated at a shading on 3½c. and No. 2 at less than 3½c., but in an ordinary way the price at the refineries is 3½c. on standard granulated and 3½c. on No. 2. There has been a good enquiry for yellows, which have left first hands freely at 2½ to 3-16, as to quality at the refinery. In a jobbing way we quote: Standard granulated 3½c.; No. 2, 3½c.; yellows, 2½ to 3½c., as to quality. German sugar is not moving very freely at present, and jobbers are asking 3½c. for extra granulated, while No. 2 Berthier is being jobbed out at 3½c.

SYRUPS.

There is a fair demand for syrups, and prices rule steady, the demand being principally for bright grades. Round lots have changed hands at 1½ to 2½c., as to quality, but we quote 2½c. for bright grades and 1¾c. for dark grades, for ordinary jobbing business. The supply of American syrup is almost exhausted here. In fact, there is only one holder of it on spot, and for what he has 20 to 21c. is his idea.

MOLASSES.

The molasses market at the time of writing occupies a curious position. As THE GROECR has already pointed out, both specially and in its regular market report a fortnight ago, round lots of Barbadoes molasses changed hands at a substantial advance. Since then a further advance has transpired, 31½ to 32c. being made on 200-puncheon lots. In the face of this there are jobbers on this market who are still selling small lots at the old combine price, 30c. It is probable, however, that before Friday next the jobbers will meet and advance the price. In the meantime other jobbers are ignoring the old list rate entirely, and are asking 32c. for prime Barbadoes stock. In other grades round lots of Porto Rico have changed hands at 28c., and Trinidad at 27c.

RICE.

There is a fair jobbing trade doing in rice and no change in prices is to report. We quote: Japan, standard, $4.25 to $4.40; crystal Japan, $4.75 to $5; standard B, $3.45; English style, $3.30; Patna, $4.25 to $5, and Carolina $6.50 to $7.50.

SPICES.

There is no change in the spice market, demand being fair and prices steady. At the mills prices are as follows: Penang black pepper, 6½ to 7½c.; white pepper, 10 to 12½c.; cloves, 7½ to 9c.; cassia, 8½ to 9½c.; nutmegs, 60 to 90c.; and Jamaica ginger, 15½ to 18½c., jobbing lots calling for the usual advance on this basis.

COFFEES.

There has been a moderate demand to note for small lots of Mocha and Maracaibo during the week at quotations. Otherwise there has been no special feature. We quote: Maracaibo, 22c.; Rio, 18½ to 20c.; Java, 25 to 26c.; Jamaica, 18 to 19c.; and Mocha, 26 to 30c.

TEA.

There has been very little change in the situation of the tea market since our last. There is a fair distributing movement going on, but no special activity is to note in a large way. In fact, the only sale of importance was a lot of medium Japans at 15½c., but dealers here are advised that New York buyers are still purchasing in Toronto. We quote: Japans, low grades, 12½ to 14c.; medium, 15½ to 17c.; fine, 18½ to 24c.; and choice, 25 to 31c.

DRIED FRUIT.

There is nothing special to report in the raisin market. A moderate jobbing call is experienced for both Valencia and California raisins, on which prices are unchanged and stocks not heavy. We quote: Off-stalk Valencias, ordinary, 4 to 4½c.; selected, 5 to 5½c.; layers, 5½ to 6c.; Sultanas, 5½ to 7½c.; California, 3-crown loose muscatels, 5½ to 6c.; 4-crown ditto, 7½c. Second crop Californias ½c. less than first crop.

There is only a small distributive trade to note in currants, and prices are the same. We quote: Filiatras and Provincials, 3½ to 3¾c. in barrels, and 4 to 4½c. in cases; Patras, 5 to 5½c., and Vostizzas, 7 to 7½c.

There is a fair demand for prunes, and prices are unchanged. Bosnia, 4½ to 5c., and Bordeaux, 4c.

Figs are quiet and steady under a moderate jobbing call at 5 to 6c. in bags and 8 to 16c. in boxes, as to quality.

Quotations on dates, which rule quiet, can be repeated at 4½ to 5c.

NUTS.

A moderate jobbing trade is all there is to report in nuts. We quote: Tarragona almonds, 12½ to 13c.; filberts, 7½ to 8½c.; Brazil nuts, 11c.; pecans, small, 10c.; medium, 13c., and extra, 15c.; Grenoble walnuts, 13½ to 14c., and Naples do., 13½c.; peanuts, 7 to 9c. for roasted and 6 to 8c. for raw.

CANNED GOODS.

This market rules quiet. Demand is slow, and jobbers claim that it will continue so until stocks in their hands are worked down to a lower level. Values are unchanged, as follows: Lobsters, $6 to $6.50 per case; sardines, $8.50 to $9.50; salmon, $1.10 to $1.40 per doz.; tomatoes, 85 to 90c. per doz.; peaches, $2 to $2.10 per doz.; corn, 95c. to $1 per doz., and marrowfat peas, 85 to 90c. per doz.

FISH.

The mild weather toward the close of last week had a depressing effect on the fish market, but this week's clear cold weather has improved the situation to a certain extent. Low prices, however, lead to a good demand, and at the date of writing values have a much firmer tendency. Round lots of No. 1 green cod have changed hands at $4, but are now firmly held at $4.25, and No. 1 large, $5.25 to $5.50, while No. 2 is quoted at $3, and green haddock at the same price. Good brands of No. 1 Nova Scotia herrings are moving off at $4 to $4.50 per barrel, and $2.80 per half-barrel. Although there is a scarcity of No. 1 new Labrador salmon, the demand for it has been limited at $13.50 to $14 per barrel; B.C. salmon have sold at $11 to $11.50 per barrel; No. 2 mackerel at $12.50; sea trout at $9 to $10; fresh herrings are moving freely at 85c. to $1 per 100 for medium size; fresh salmon at 13 to 13½c. per lb.; smelts at 4½ to 5c., and lake trout at 4 to 4½c. Tommy cods continue to be in large supply. The stock consists largely of fish which suffered during the mild weather and are selling at 80c. to $1 per barrel. White fish have been placed in round lots at 5 to 6c.; pike at 4 to 4½c., and mackerel at 10c. Finnan haddies are plentiful and lower at 6 to 7c. per lb.

GREEN FRUIT.

APPLES—This market continues as quiet and dull as ever. We quote choice A1 stock $3 to $4, per bbl., and poor grades $1 to $2.

ORANGES—Meet a fair demand at steady prices. We quote: Floridas, $4 to $4.50; Valencias, $3.75 to $4.50; Messinas, $2 to $2.50.

LEMONS—There is a quiet demand for lemons, and prices are unchanged at $2 to $3 per box, as to quality.

PINEAPPLES—Only a few pineapples are offering, and they sell at 15 to 25c.

CRANBERRIES—High prices and light supplies have led to a small movement in these. We quote: $15 to $16 for good stock and $9 to $10 for frozen.

GRAPES—Almeida grapes continue in light supply, and are firmly held at $6 to $7 per bbl., as to quality.

SPANISH ONIONS—Are quiet at $1 per crate.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

EGGS—The egg market rules quiet, and prices if anything have an easier tendency. We quote: Montreal limed, 13 to 14c., and western, 10 to 11c.

POULTRY—There has been a fair demand for poultry, and prices rule steady. Turkeys sell at 8 to 9c.; chickens, 6 to 7c.; geese, 5 to 6c., and ducks, 7 to 8c. per lb.

GAME—There is little doing in game. We quote: Partridge, 45c. for No. 1, and 20 to 25c. for No. 2. Large receipts of rabbits are arriving, and sell all the way from 12 to 15c. per pair.

HONEY—There is no change in honey, which we quote at 4½ to 5½c. for old extracted, and 7 to 9c. per lb. for new, in tins, and comb honey, 10 to 13c.

BEANS—Quiet and unchanged. Choice hand picked, $1.30 to $1.45, and poor to fair, $1.10 to $1.20.

HOPS—Quiet and unchanged, at 6 to 8c., as to quality.

DRIED APPLES—Meet a slow sale at 5 to 5½c., as to grade.

DRESSED HOGS—Small lots of these meet a moderate demand at $5.35 to $5.50 per 100 lbs., and car lots $5.25.

POTATOES—Prices on these are rather firmer, with sales on the track here at 58c., and we quote 68 to 69c. in a jobbing way.

ONIONS—Domestic onions here met a good demand, carload lots changing hands at $1.75, and we quote $2 to $2.25 per bbl. in a jobbing way.

CHEESE AND BUTTER.

Cheese fails entirely in showing any improvement, and it looks very much as though prices were going still lower, for the tenor of mail advices to-day was the reverse of encouraging. The only business passing is of a small kind and hardly sufficient to afford any idea of values. A nominal range is 9½ to 10c.

The butter market is quiet without any radical change. There is only a small jobbing trade doing, mainly in late made creamery, and fresh receipts of western roll stock, on which prices are fairly steady. For the former 20 to 20½c. is a fair range, and for the latter 14c. Held butter of all kinds is lifeless and nominal.

PROVISIONS.

There was a fair demand for small lots of provisions, and the market is moderately active and steady. We quote: Canadian short cut, heavy, $14.50 to $15; Canadian short cut, light, $14 to $15; hams, city cured, per lb., 9 to 11½c.; lard, Canadian, in pails, 9½ to 10½c.; bacon, per lb., 9 to 11½c.; lard, com. refined, per lb., 7 to 8c.

FLOUR AND MEAL.

Demand for flour to-day is slow and the market quiet and steady, with no new feature to note. We quote: Winter wheat, $3.60 to $3.75; spring wheat, patents, $3.75 to $3.90; straight roller, $2.85 to $3; extra, $2.65 to $2.70; superfine, $2.50 to $2.60; Manitoba strong bakers', $3.75.

A fairly active business is transacted in feed, and prices are firm. We quote: Bran, $15 to $15.50; shorts, $17; mouillie, $20 to $22.

In oatmeal business continues quiet and of a jobbing character at unchanged prices. We quote: Standard, bbls., $3.70 to $3.75; granulated, bbls., $3.80 to $3.85; rolled oats, bbls., $3.90 to $3.95.

MONTREAL TRADE NOTES.

The best granulated sugar is selling to-day in Montreal at from ½ to ⅝c. lower than in New York.

The wholesale price for molasses in Montreal, strange to say, is in some instances 2c. higher than what jobbers are selling Barbadoes at.

There is only one lot of 300 odd puncheons in first hands in Montreal at present. Its holder, naturally, is very firm in his views as to its value.

Cables from London to sales agents here on both Sultana raisins and currants state that values on these fruits have a decidedly upward tendency.

There have been several round lots of Ram Lal's packet teas placed during the week, both on western and local account.

Stocks of molasses held in second hands previous to the advance cost 27c. There is a chance for jobbers to make a handsome turn on these goods if they care to do so.

The only whole ale parcel of tea that has changed hands during the past week was a lot of medium Jupans at 15½c.

Western buyers have been doing quite a little in this market for 50 and 75-bag lots of Mocha and Maracaibo coffees.

Halifax refiners are laying down small lots of granulated sugar in Montreal, after paying the freight, for the price the local refiners are charging jobbers for car lots and over.

It is predicted that the yield of Barbadoes molasses will be only 40,000 odd tons this year against 60,000 odd in 1894. It is to this large anticipated shortage that the advance in the market is due.

A round lot of 150 packages fresh laid eggs was slaughtered on this market for as low as 5c. per dozen last week. It was a forced sale.

American dealers have been heavy buyers of Canadian onions on this market during the past eight days. They have taken several car loads on the basis of $1.75 per bbl.

Not that we know it all, or that we can give you many points on wisdom in general. However, every mind has its strong points, and ours is along the line of Cereal Breakfast Foods.

Doubtless you have patronized a number of the leading makers, and of some, the more you have handled their goods, the worse you have disliked them. On the other hand, you have bought Cereal Foods which have pleased you more and more as time went on. There are cereal foods and CEREAL FOODS. We have ransacked the universe—at least the universe within our reach—for ways to improve the QUALITY and FLAVOR of our PAN-DRIED OATS, and we believe we stand at the top of the heap for merit.

However, what we expected to say when we started out was that, if you are wise, you won't offer your customers some trashy brands that you know are very seldom fresh and sweet, but proffer what you are certain can be relied upon—Sell them our goods and HOLD YOUR TRADE.

ST. JOHN MARKETS—Continued.

do not take stock till February 1, using the quiet January days to straighten up accounts. There is, however, some business moving, particularly in frozen fish. Collections are good, being rather better in the country than in the city. In oil the advance of 1c. reported last week is maintained. The cheaper grade remains the same as before the advance. In tea, the feeling continues strong, but the desire to push sales tends to keep from any advance in price, though to replace goods would cost more, and the outlook is for rather higher prices.

CANNED GOODS—A fair demand is reported, principally for vegetables. There are no changes in prices. The market is, however, firm and stocks light. We quote: Peas, 90c.; corn, 95c.; tomatoes, $1 to $1.05; new gallon apples, $2.40; peaches, 3's, $2.65 to $2.75; 2's, $2; oysters, 2's, $2.15 to $2.20; 1's, $1.50 to $1.60; salmon, $1.35 to $1.40; lobsters, $1.75 to $2; haddies, $1.40; clams, 4 oz., in cases, $5.50; chowder, 2 doz. in case, $3.50; scallops, 4 doz. in case, $5.50.

SALT—There is not enough movement to cause a market, the demand during the winter months being very light. We quote: Coarse, 58 to 60c.; factory filled, fine, 90c. to $1; Canadian, 10 lb. bags, $2.80 per bbl.; 5 lb. bags, $3 per bbl.; wood boxes, 20 lbs. 20c., each; 10 lbs., 12c. each.

DRIED FRUIT—Movement is light. In prunes, more French goods are seen in this market than ever before, and they are giving good satisfaction. Raisins are quiet. Dried apples are rather easier. The cleaned currants brought here from the States this season in 1 lb. cartoons have been old fruit, which, although satisfactory, are getting scarce. When merchants want to replace they will have to buy the new goods, which will cost 1c. higher. These goods have grown much in favor during the past season, and, if not too high, will continue to have a ready sale. Prices are: Sultana raisins, 6 to 6½c.; Valencia, 4¼ to 4½c.; old, 60c. per box; Valencia layers, 5¼ to 5½c.; London layers, $2.25; California loose muscates, 5½ to 6c.; currants, bbls., 3½ to 3¾c., cases, 3¾ to 4c.; evaporated apples, 8 to 8½c.; dried apples, 5½ to 6c.; dates, 4 to 4¼c.; prunes, 5 to 5½c.; figs, 11 to 18c.; cleaned currants, bulk, 6c.; 1-lb. cartoons, 6¾ to 7c.

GREEN FRUIT—Owing to cold weather, deliveries are not large. The price of sound, hard apples is rather firmer, with a good outlook for the season. Valencia oranges are showing splendid value. Lemons remain firm. A few bananas are being received for local trade. Peanuts, which are low, are finding fair demand. We quote: Apples, hard fruit, $2 to $2.75; soft, $1.50 to $2; Messina lemons, $3.50 to $4; Valencia oranges, $4.25 to $4.50; West India, repacked, $4 per bbl.; Florida, $4 to $4.25.

DAIRY PRODUCE—Very dull. Butter of all grades very plenty, and more coming to hand all the time. Market would, however, be in much better shape were it not for the Ontario and Quebec goods, which continue to arrive, thus spoiling the fair price which might otherwise be obtained for that of this province. Cheese continues quiet, with light stocks, and, although there is little chance of an advance, a better demand is expected. Eggs quiet, most retail grocers paying prices above the market for small lots of guaranteed fresh, cases and barrels being hard to sell at any price. We quote: Cheese, 10½c.; butter, large rolls, 17 to 18c.; choice tubs, dairy, 18 to 20c.; fair tubs, 16 to 18c.; creamery, 21 to 22c.; creamery prints, 23 to 24c.; eggs, cases, 16 to 18c.

MOLASSES—There is a fair demand, and price is firm owing to the smallness of the stock on hand, and it looks like higher prices. There is a shortness of crop reported at the Island, and it is also reported late. Syrup shows better demand. We quote: Barbadoes, 32c.; Porto Rico, 32c.; choice, 35c.; fancy, 43 to 44c.; Antigua, 30c.; syrup, 30 to 35c.

SUGAR—There is no large demand. Prices continue low, and, owing to the low price of our own standard granulated, there are not any large quantities of the foreign being sold. We quote: Granulated, $3.75 to $3.80; foreign, $3.50 to $3.60; yellow, $3.25 to $3.50.

FISH—Medium cod remains scarce and high, being now about the same price as large. Pickled and smoked show no change, the principal business being frozen. In frozen herring the feeling is firmer, few first-class fish being to hand, and fishing for the past week reported poor. Frozen cod and pollock are plentiful. We quote: Medium cod, $3.90 to $4; large, $4; small, $3.35; haddock, $1.75; pollock, $1.65 to $1.75; shad, $5 to $5.50 per half-bbl.; bay herring, $1.50 to $1.60; Shelburne, bbls., $4.25; half-bbls., $2.40 to $2.50; Canso, bbls., $5.25; smoked herring, 7½ to 8c.; frozen cod, 2½c.; pollock, 2c.; herring, 65c. per 100.

PROVISIONS—Shows no change, though in both pork and beef feeling is easy. We quote: Clear pork, $18.50 to $19; mess, $16.50 to $17; plate beef, $13 to $13.50; pure lard, 10 to 10½c.; compound, 8½ to 9c.

FLOUR AND FEED.

Flour show a fair movement. Market is rather easier, though not enough to effect prices here. Middlings continue scarce and firmer in price. Beans are light stock, and there is quite an inquiry. Barley also shows firmness. Hay continues quiet with oats firm. We quote: Manitoba, $4.30 to $4.40; best Ontario, $3.50 to $3.65; medium, $3.25 to $3.50; oatmeal, $4 to $4.10; cornmeal, $2.90 to $3; granulated, $3.50 to $3.60; middlings, on track, $20.50 to $21; bran, $19 to $20; cottonseed meal, $28 to $30 per ton; oats, on track, 37 to 38c.; beans, $1.55 to $1.60; split peas, $3.50 to $4; pot barley, $4.40; round peas, $3.75 to $3.90; hay, on track, $9.50 to $10; timothy seed, American, $3.10 to $3.35; red clover, 11½ to 12c.; alsike, 13½ to 15c.

Puddington & Merritt are retailing granulated sugar at 31 lbs. for $1. This is the best yet.

Messrs. Jardine & Co., of St. John, N.B., have just received a full line of Marshall's fish delicacies.

A large business is being done at Windsor and Wentworth, N.S. in the export of gypsum to New York.

E. G. Henderson, manager of the Windsor Salt Works, was in the city during the past week. The company is represented in St. John by Smith & Tilton.

Two hundred and seventy barrels of apples were shipped from Annapolis to London, via St. John, rather than in the usual way via Halifax. A saving in freight is reported.

Theo. H. Estabrooks has been fortunate in securing a small lot of Barbadoes, part of which was landed this week. He expects the balance in a few days. It is giving good satisfaction.

Charlottetown (P.E.I.) prices are quoted as follows: Hay, 30 to 35c.; oats, 36c.; straw, 25 to 30c.; pork, 5 to 5½c.; potatoes; 22 to 25c.; eggs, 20 to 22c.; butter, 20 to 22c.; beef, 4 to 5c.; mutton, 4 to 5c.

The Bank of New Brunswick held its annual meeting the other day, and of its showing our citizens are justly proud. It continues to pay a dividend of 12 per cent on its capital. The capital is $500,000. When its rest is added to this there is an amount of $1,025,000.

Some time ago, reference was made in these notes to a large quantity of turkeys, valued at $1,400, shipped by Huestis, White & McArthur, of Sussex, King's Co., to Liverpool. They have now received the returns, and, though not all they hoped, the venture was fairly successful, and they look forward to their next season's shipment, believing that the experience of this year will result in more profitable returns.

The annual meeting of the New Brunswick Dyring Co. was held at Lower French Village, York county, during the past week. It was found that the revenue for the past year was $823.90, and the expenditure $823.24. The 42 patrons had furnished 20,874 9 inches of cream, resulting in 18,698 lbs. butter. The buttermilk had also proved of value, that from the cream required to make 10 lbs. butter, netting 5c. The depot at Fredericton, like the factory at Kingsclear, had just about cleared expenses. It was decided to run the factory another year.

WOODSTOCK, N.B., MARKETS.

WOODSTOCK, N.B., Jan. 31, 1895.

Business continues quiet. Poultry is scarce; neither are there any pumpkins, squash, or carrots to be had. Hay is dull. Loose is quoted at $6., while pressed is fetching $5.50 at the barn. The feeling is rather better in potatoes, there being a slight advance owing to less quantities coming forward, and are now quoted at 75 to 90c.; loose straw, $3; oats, 30 to 33c.; eggs, 14 to 16c.; butter, 17 to 18c.; buckwheat, $1.10 to $1.25; cheese, 10c.; beef, 4½ to 5c.; lamb, 5 to 6c.

WOODSTOCK MARKET NOTES.

The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Trade was held at the usual time. The interest taken in the business of the board was shown by the goodly number present. Resolutions to the following effect were passed: "That the Montreal Board be asked to aid in an effort to have the C. P.R. reduce the freight rates between there and Woodstock; that this board is in favor of a Provincial Board of Trade; that the Town Council be asked to adopt standard time, and that they be further asked to so arrange the water rates that when used for manufacturing purposes users be charged at the rate of 10c. per 1,000 gallons."

NOVA SCOTIA MARKETS.

OFFICE OF CANADIAN GROCER,

HALIFAX, Jan. 31, 1895.

THE last week of the first month of this new year has been anything but a good one in business circles. Grocers pronounce it the dullest week of the winter.

BREADSTUFFS—The market in this line is firm. The Lake of the Woods Milling Co. made some good sales this week. Quotations remain: Manitoba patents, $4.30; Ontario patents, $3.25 to $3.40; straight grades, $3.10 to $3.20; middlings, $2.1 to $2.2, including sacks; bran, $19.75 to $20; oatmeal and rolled oats, $3.80; cornmeal, $3 to $3.05. Jobbers' prices are considerably higher.

FISH STUFFS—This line is more dead than alive at present. The only feature is a proposed shipment this week to Hayti by Mr. Butler, who is working up quite a trade between that country and Halifax. He will send forward about $18,000 worth of fish. Quotations remain: Dry cod from vessel: Shore, prime, $3.25 to $3.75; bank cod, $3 to $3.25; large bank cod, $4; Bay of Islands, No. 1 split herrings, $2.25; salmon, No. 1, $12; No. 2, $10; No. 3, $8.

PROVISIONS—The provision market has changed very slightly during the past week. Dressed Canadian beef is offered at 6½c. and native at 7c. and 7½c. Mutton is in fair demand at 7½c., and frozen stock at 6c., sinking pelts. Considerable Canadian beef and poultry has been received here during the week, and the market is glutted with turkeys, which are only bringing 10c., with poor demand. Chickens are scarce at 60c. and 70c. per pair.

GREEN FRUIT—This line is very quiet and stocks are about cleaned up. Florida oranges show a slight advance. Quotations are: Oranges—Floridas, $3.90 to $4.10; Valencias, $4 to $4.75; Jamaicas, $7 per bbl., repacked. Lemons are quoted at $3 to $3.50 per 100 count. Apples are still plentiful, and good stocks can be had for $2 and $2.25. Almeria grapes are worth $5.50 to $6 per keg.

DRIED FRUIT AND NUTS—The demand in this line is only fair, and prices remain at last quotations, viz.: Dates, 5 to 5½c.; prunes, 6c.; figs, in 5 and 10 lb. boxes, 10c.; do., in bags, 6c.; currants, casks, 3½ to 3¾c.; ditto, cases, 3¾ to 4c.; raisins, Valencia layers, finest, 5½ to 7c.; Valencias, 4½ to 4¾c.; Sultanas, 6½c.; California, $2.25; London layers, $2.50; Connoisseur clusters, $3.25; dried apples, 6c.; evaporated ditto, 8½c. In nuts the quotations are: Filberts, 10c.; walnuts, 10c.; Brazils, 11c.; peanuts, 12c.; almonds, 14 to 15c.

CANNED GOODS—Some enquiries are being made for canned goods, but on the whole the market is slow. Tomatoes, pears, corn and beans are quoted at $1 per dozen; strawberries and raspberries, $2.25; sardines, $1.50 to $1.75; 2-lb. corn beef, $2.75;

1-lb. ditto, $1.60; salmon, $1.50; lobsters, $1.75; clams, $1.

BUTTER AND CHEESE—The supply of butter is heavy, and the demand is only light. The last receipts of Canadian creamery have not been worked off, and a good article is offered at 15 and 15½c. Cheese quotations are: September, 11½c.; early, 10¼ to 10¾.

EGGS—Stored stock not wanted, and is offered at 15c., while a really good article can be had for 18 and 19c.

SUGAR—A slight advance is reported in raw sugars, and the market has somewhat stiffened on the report of the inability of the German beet growers to supply the refineries. To-day's quotations are: Porto Rico, in hogsheads, 3¾c.; refined cut loaf, 5½c.; granulated, 4c.; standard "A," 3¾c.; extra white "C," 3¾c.; standard yellow "C," 3¾c.; yellow extra "C," 2¾c.

MOLASSES—Stocks are low, but there is no very perceptible change in prices. Quotations are: Antigua, none; Porto Rico, 35c.; Trinidad, none; Barbadoes, 34c.; Demerara, "M R" brand, 39c.; ditto (B) "D" brand, 45c.

TEAS—Chinas are firm with a stiffening in low grades. There is an upward tendency in India and Ceylons.

HALIFAX MARKET NOTES.

P. M. Jenkins & Co. are in financial difficulties, and Prince Edward Island traders will be heavy losers. The firm was established here about eighteen months ago, the Messrs. Jenkins coming from New Glasgow. They did a general commission business. The extent of their liabilities is not known. P. M. Jenkins has left the country.

The bread war still continues, and Muir, Son & Co. say they intend to keep the price down. They deliver to house customers and sell at their store 2-lb. loaves for 4c., and, to shops, 46c. per dozen loaves.

A. M. SMITH'S WILL.

The will of the late A. M. Smith, of Smith & Keighley, wholesale grocers, has been filed for probate. The bequests are as follows:

To the widow, the household effects, carriages, sleighs, etc., an annuity of $4,000 a year, and the right to occupy the residence, Gerrard and Pembroke streets, during her lifetime; Elizabeth Barnes, of Enniskillen, $5,000; Elizabeth Sutherland, $4,000; Ann Marshall, London, $2,000; to his niece, Minnie Barnes, 100 shares Canada Permanent stock, 50 shares Ontario Bank stock, and 100 shares of Western Assurance stock; William Barnes, 50 shares of Canada Permanent stock; George Barnes, 100 shares Canada Permanent 20 per cent. stock; Robt. Smith, Nottawasaga, 100 shares of 20 per cent. Canada Permanent.

To William Smith, Aberdeen, Scotland, $5,000; Girls' Home, Boys' Home, Home for Incurables, $1,000 each; Sick Children's Hospital, $2,000.

The residue of the estate is to be divided into six equal parts to be paid yearly to Mary Perry, Toronto, Minnie Barnes, and the remaining four portions to the four children of his late niece, Barbara Perry.

On the decease of the widow the whole of the residue of the estate is to be divided equally among the six persons named.

The total value of the estate is $211,780, of which $101,200 is realty and the balance personality.

The executors are Barrister J. A. Proctor, Robert D. Perry and Chas. Peter.

A ROTTEN CONCERN.

WHEN the old British America Starch Works, of Branford, collapsed, some months ago, and the estate was handed over to Assignee Read for the benefit of the creditors, THE GROCER pointed out its rotten condition; but we did not, nor did probably anybody else, even dream that it was as putrid as the statement of the assignee, issued Jan. 25, shows it to have been.

Let the letter of the assignee tell the tale: "As assignee of the estate, I have declared a final dividend of one per cent. of the assets of the company for the benefit of the creditors, and herewith enclose you an abstract of the receipts and disbursements had by me as said assignee."

The following circular has been issued by Smith & Keighley, and speaks for itself: "Understanding there are reports circulating that the business carried on under the name of Smith & Keighley will be discontinued, we beg to advise you that such is not the case, and trust that the confidence and courtesy extended to the firm by its numerous customers in the past will be continued, assuring you that the executors of the late A. SOME TEA STATISTICS.

IN view of the activity that has been displayed by the tea market both in Montreal and Toronto recently, and the opinion held by many that the Chinese war is likely to have an important influence in reducing the supply of next crop tea, some statistics that were supplied to THE GROCER by a leading Montreal tea broker may be interesting.

These figures apply to the position of affairs in Great Britain at the close of 1894.

The total imports of all kinds of tea into the United Kingdom during 1894 were 235,493,000 lbs. against 242,357,000 lbs. in 1893 and 234,319,000 lbs. in 1892. On the other hand, the total deliveries were 239,420,000 lbs. against 236,463,000 lbs. in 1893 and 240,680,000 lbs. in 1892. The stock of tea in Great Britain on the 31st of December was 93,329,000 lbs. against 97,286,000 lbs. in 1893 and 91,414,000 lbs. in 1892. The great bulk of this stock, it will be interesting to know, as showing how Indian and Ceylon teas are driving other competitors out of the English market, was composed of these two descriptions, the quantity of both on the 31st of December being 61,642,000 lbs.

The consumption of tea per head of the population within the United Kingdom was 5.53 lb. in 1894. against 5.41 lbs. in 1893 and 5.43 lbs. in 1892. Of this consumption in 1894 55 per cent. was Indian against 52 in 1893; 33 per cent. was Ceylon against 31 in 1893, while China teas decreased from 16 per cent. in 1893 to 11 per cent. in 1894. The consumption of Japan tea was only 1 per cent. both in 1894 and 1893. On the whole, therefore, the statistics, as regards Great Britain, tend to strength, and though no figures are available regarding the stock in the United States, the tenor of all advices is strong both from New York and Chicago, while the way they have been buying up low grade Japans in Canada tends to strengthen this view.

In Canada also the stock of tea is generally admitted to be smaller than usual, and the prediction is made by several that, contrary to precedent, there will be little or no stock carried over.

It will be about four months before the first choice lots of new crop can reach us, and fully six to eight before any large deliveries of medium and lower grades of new crop can be made, and by this time it is anticipated that our stock will be pretty well absorbed. The N.Y. Commercial Bulletin last week published a letter which is interesting as bearing on the position in China. An extract from it says: "The war is checking business. Coolies and peasants are recruited in the interior for the army, and the ones remaining are afraid to travel to market. No Chinese merchant now gives refusals, and, as in many places Chinese mandarins are exacting heavy contributions from the rich merchants, they have almost all fled to the open ports, and there is nobody left in the interior with whom contracts could be safely made."

SILICO'S RELIABILITY.

Reflection is sometimes thrown either upon the name of a good article or its manufacturer by the indiscretion of a representative. This was the case with "Silico," the cleaning soap, but the prompt dismissal of the offending employe disabused the trade in Toronto of any connivance on the part of his employers with his over-zealousness, notwithstanding that a certain trade paper in Toronto endeavored to magnify a mole hill into a mountain over the matter. It is scarcely necessary to state that "Silico" is reliable. That is acknowledged. It scours, but does not scratch, and that is the beauty of it. J. A. Hewitt, who is now representing the manufacturers of "Silico" in Toronto, is endorsed by his employers and the trade as a reliable man.

PERSONAL MENTION.

M. R. P. Montgomery, formerly with the Eby, Blain Co., is now representing in Toronto J. F. Ramsay & Co., the new tea firm.

J. C. Conlin, J. W. Lang & Co.'s representative in Manitoba, Northwest Territories and British Columbia, left for his territory Tuesday. He will be away about three months.

Mr. James Haywood, formerly with the British America Starch Co., is now Toronto's representative of the Paragon Cheese Co., of Ingersoll.

John Mouat, W. H. Gillard & Co.'s Northwest representative, reports that business in his territory is beginning to look bright again after some months of depression.

Fred. Lumsden, bookkeeper for J. W. Lang & Co., has been laid up several days with tonsillitis. This is the first occasion for 15 years that Mr. Lumsden has missed a day at the office through sickness.

G. W. Baines, head clerk at the "Marvelous Tea Store," Guelph, who was married recently, has returned from a honeymoon trip to New York, and has settled down to the life of a happy benedict. THE GROCER tenders congratulations.

Major Stoneman, one of W. H. Gillard & Co.'s "Knights of the Road," has been spoken of as a candidate for the office of chief of police, Hamilton. If he could ferret out crime as successfully as he solicits orders the "Major" would fill the bill admirably.

Mr. N. W. Taussig has just returned from an unusually pleasurable trip to New Orleans. He has made a careful canvass of conditions there prevailing and confirms information previously noted in this column regarding the light supplies of desirable molasses left on hand; vast quantities of inferior stock have been dumped in the bayous for want of a profitable market.—N. Y. Journal of Commerce.

Word was received from Boston Wednesday of the death of Mr. Shumway, who is known in Canada as the representative of Stillman F. Kelly & Co., molasses, Boston. At London, Ont., last fall, he had a stroke of paralysis, and was at once taken to his home in Boston, where he arrived unconscious. He was ill for two months and started on the road again. He had a second shock on Monday night on the train from Boston to Bangor, from which he never recovered.

Sinclair & Co., grocers, Toronto, are offering to compromise.

Clinton C. Herbert, who last summer opened a big retail dry goods store at Yonge and Shuter streets, Toronto, is being anxiously looked for by his creditors. He left the city on Tuesday afternoon, and, before doing so, sold his stock, valued at $40,000, to N. L. Garland, at 40 cents on the dollar. A warrant has been issued for his arrest, but, up to the time of writing, he has not been captured.

Hugh Blain, the retiring president of the Toronto Board of Trade, on Monday evening banquetted the members of the council and the chairmen of the different sections of the board. The function proved of a particularly successful and happy nature.

FROZEN ORANGES.

The Toronto World on Tuesday stated that several carloads of frozen Florida oranges had already been imported and sold in the city, and warned the citizens to beware of this class of fruit, as it was poisonous. A Florida specialist states that frozen oranges are very injurious to the health.

THE GROCER yesterday ascertained that there were in the city large quantities of oranges that had been "chilled" or touched by the frost. Local dealers, however, claim that these are not poisonous, and that it is only those oranges which have been severely frozen, and which lose their firmness, on being brought into contact with the heat, that can be injurious to the health of the consumer.

John H. Strickland, Cannington, Ont., the general merchant who recently ran a number of stores in Northern Ontario and got into financial difficulties, has issued a writ for $10,000 against S. G. Leveratt, Thos. Kinnear, Robert B. Rice, R. B. Skinner & Co., George E. Broadfield and Henry Barber for alleged malicious prosecution. The suit arises out of the recent troubles over the Strickland estate. A charge of fraud was, it will be remembered, laid against Mr. Strickland at Cannington by the Toronto creditors, who are the defendants, but Strickland was acquitted.

HOW TWO BOYS BECAME GREAT.

THE death of A. M. Smith, Toronto, brings to mind a little bit of history.

Two lads joined the 93rd Highlanders, and came to Canada with that regiment to quell the rebellion of 1837. They were bosom companions, always together when off duty. They were excellent soldiers; never grumbling; it was duty first all the time, and their commanding officer was heard to remark that they would be officers some day.

One of them took his discharge just as the regiment was leaving Canada. He was fond of soldiering, but fonder of a Scotch girl whom he met in Canada. He married her, and went into the grocery business, in which he made a great success.

As time went on his assistance and counsel were much sought after by financial corporations, and he became president or director of several banks, loan companies, insurance corporations, and many other interests, and an extensive steamship owner. He became one of the wealthiest men in Canada. He went into the militia, and for a time during the Fenian raid commanded a garrison brigade. Going into politics, he became an alderman, Mayor of Toronto, and member of Parliament, and, had he so desired, could have been a Senator, for he sank his politics when he considered it in the interest of his country that he should do so.

The other boy, much grieved at the parting, remained with his regiment, won distinction and promotion for his bravery in the Crimea, and afterwards in the Indian Mutiny and in lesser campaigns. He led his men to victory in many a storming party in many a battle. He was at Alma, Inkerman, Balaclava, at Cawnpore and Lucknow. He was one of the famous "thin red line" that withstood the desperate Russian cavalry charge. He won a Victoria Cross, the highest award a soldier can get. When there was hard and dangerous work to do, he was selected to lead, for his regiment would follow him anywhere. As one of his men enthusiastically said: "With him in command, we could take Hell itself." He never thought of himself; his duty was his first consideration. He became a major-general, and, if I mistake not, was knighted.

They are both gone now. The first boy was A. M. Smith and the other Major-General MacBean.

This is a story for clerks. It shows that hard work and strict attention to duty will always tell in the long run. The boy or young man who considers his personal comfort and engagements before those of his employers never makes a success.

An English grocer failed the other day, and he had no book debts. But he had no capital, so anti-cash men can't score a point here.

OPINIONS—OUR OWN AND OTHERS

The heavy snow storm which the other day blocked railways and street railways opened up the way for many an unemployed man to earn a much-needed dollar or two.

* * *

With The Mail and Empire one, the lot of many business men will be happier, for the fruits of the union will be fewer agents pestering them for "ads."

* * *

Canadian land mortgage companies now hold a deservedly high position in the estimation of British investors, higher than those of any country outside the British Islands, and obtain their capital at a lower rate of interest.

* While they have been the means of distributing a large amount of capital to real estate owners in Ontario, and some of the other more progressive provinces, cases of failure have been exceedingly few, and not one has failed to pay its liabilities in full. Not a dollar has ever been lost by a creditor of an Ontario loan company, nor, as far as I am aware, of any Canadian land mortgage company.

This is an extract from a speech delivered last week by J. Herbert Mason, the well-known financial authority, Toronto. Well might he add: "This is a record of which I think we may justly be proud, and which I trust will be perpetuated." And well might our cousins to the south of us grow green with envy.

* * *

The rigid economy being practised by nearly all classes, and especially by the farming community, is enabling borrowers to pay their interest and maturing instalments of principal with more than usual promptitude.

The above sentence did not fall from the lips of an effervescing politician. Neither was it born in the good times of five years ago. It was, in fact, spoken by George A. Cox, president of the Bank of Commerce and of the Canada Loan and Savings Co., and had reference to the past year's business of the latter institution. This is but one of the many testimonies of the healthy character of Canada's financial institutions.

* * *

The Montreal Chamber of Commerce has appointed a committee for a somewhat unique purpose. The chamber wants a commercial museum in the city, and the Dominion Government is to be memorialized in the premises. The idea is a good one, and might with profit be taken up by boards of trade or business men's associations in other cities and towns in the country. None of us will be the worse for obtaining a little more knowledge, through the eye, of articles of commerce ancient, as well as modern.

* * *

Everything comes to him who waits—even burglars. James Dunfee is a Port Hope grocer. Two years ago he contrived an ingenious burglar alarm. It consisted of an arrangement whereby the eight incandescent lights in his store would be turned on the moment the midnight mechanic entered the premises. Until the other night the device was not called into requisition. Then a burglar did enter the store, but he did not stop. He loved the "darkness better than light because his deeds were evil." The only thing Mr. Dunfee missed was—the burglar.

* * *

A contemporary wants to know if "Our butter industry is a failure?" No. The industry is all right. It is carelessness and ignorance that is the fault.

* * *

"Things look better near the close this week, because it is believed that a new loan will be negotiated." This is what Dun's Review said in regard to last week's financial conditions in the United States. An illustration of a paradox, is it not? Going into debt to get better.

* * *

There was a general break in the price of wheat last week, and once again was the lowest price on record broken.

* * *

According to statements made at the annual meeting of the Ontario Bee Keepers' Association, held the other day, it appears that although the bees wintered well, the past season was a discouraging one, the industrious little honey gatherers having been driven by the wet and cold spring back into their hives, where many of them died of starvation. It is never the fault of the workers when the honey industry fails. Pity the same cannot be said of workers of a bigger and more intelligent kind.

* * *

Retiring President Blain, of the Toronto Board of Trade, hit the nail on the head in his valedictory address when he declared that the St. Lawrence canal system should be deepened to 14 feet before the work of acquiring a greater depth be undertaken, and he was still hitting the nail on the head when he opined that the head office of the Grand Trunk Railway should be in this country.

* * *

The increasing inquiry from all sections of the country for the names of those handling German granulated sugars is becoming a noticeable feature, and the number of inquiries which are daily received at this office is an evidence of the growing demand for this grade of sugars. —N.Y. Journal of Commerce.

This may apply to the United States right enough, but in Canada the evidences are the other way.

* * *

Thirty years of business relationship with each other without a break or disagreement is not common. That there is such is evidenced from the following, received by Warren Bros & Boomer from one of their customers: "My business relations with your firm have continued without a break or any disagreement since 1865, now in the 30th year. This gives me a pleasing confidence in the future that our business intercourse will continue agreeable, and, I trust, profitable to both as it has been in the past."

* * *

"I have taken it for years and made money out of it by watching the advertisements and market reports. I intend to take it as long as I am in the trade," is what A. Cadotte, Massey Station, says of THE CANADIAN GROCER. The last sentence is causing us much sorrow. We hate to lose you; you have always remitted two dollars so regularly. What are we weeping about? Why, at losing you. You cannot read THE GROCER without making money, and when you make money you retire from the trade, and we will be out of a job. All the same, long life to you.

THE QUESTION OF TEA INSPECTION.

THE GROCER is in receipt of a letter from W. H. Gillard & Co., Hamilton, in regard to the all important question of tea inspection. After a few introductory remarks the firm says:

"In reply, we enclose copies of resolutions passed by the Toronto and Hamilton Wholesale Grocers' Guilds, which we think fully covers the views of the importers. The copy of proposed regulations referred to in the Hamilton Guild's letter to Hon. Clarke Wallace was the draft of a letter of instructions proposed to be sent out to collectors of Customs, and which was to the effect that all teas should be sampled and submitted to Ottawa before entry could be made, thereby causing the trade a great amount of trouble, annoyance and delay. While it is, of course, most desirable to prevent the importation of impure teas, we think the Government is unduly alarmed. We believe that the public would be amply protected by the Government demanding that a certificate of quality sworn to by the shippers in the country or at the port of shipment should accompany each invoice. In England and the United States the machinery for this already exists, and where it does not a certificate of the shipper, sworn to before the British Consul, might be demanded. In this way the uncertainty and possible loss both in money and reputation that might happen to the most careful importer through the dishonesty of an unscrupulous shipper would be removed, to say nothing of the cost to Canada of highly paid officials to do the work.

"We quite agree with the opinion expressed in your issue of 25th ult. — that the only intelligent test is such as a practical tea man can give by drawing the teas, and which, we understand, is the plan adopted both in England and the United States.

"W. H. GILLARD & CO."

These are the resolutions in question. They are from the Toronto and Hamilton branches of the Dominion Grocers' Guild, and both are addressed to the Hon. Clarke Wallace, controller of Customs:

RESOLUTION OF THE TORONTO GUILD.

While the trade here are of opinion that spurious teas should not enter into the country, they would beg to say that the quantity brought into this port is so insignificantly small that they would consider the stringent and cumbersome regulations proposed hardly necessary. As regards teas imported directly from the country of production they do not believe that any of a spurious character are brought in; the only kind in regard to which they think precautions are necessary are those in which teas are imported from the United States or other countries wherein they have been rejected.

The trade would therefore respectfully suggest that instead of these regulations being put in force, that when teas are imported from any other country than that of their growth, the invoices should be accompanied by a certificate that they had been inspected at the place from which they were imported to Canada, and that they had not been rejected. If not accompanied by this certificate it would then seem reasonable that they should be inspected in some such way as the regulations propose before being allowed to go into consumption.

With reference to teas imported from the place of growth the trade would suggest that such instructions be sent to the appraisers at the several ports to carefully inspect the teas with a view of ascertaining whether there was any of a spurious character being introduced, and that only in those cases where teas were of such a low character, or their appearance suggested that there was spurious or exhausted leaf amongst them, should they be subjected to further scrutiny. In those cases where any of the teas in a shipment or invoice presented a suspicious appearance in any of these respects they would suggest that the whole shipment or invoice should be scrutinized by sampling the packages, as suggested in the proposed regulations, and submitted to the test therein stated.

The trade feel very strongly that the rigid application to all importations of teas of the regulations proposed would involve a very large amount of labor and expense, and would hamper the tea trade of the country very greatly. They would therefore respectfully urge that the regulations should be modified in the direction suggested before being put in force.

RESOLUTIONS OF HAMILTON AND OTHER GUILDS.

The following are the resolutions made by the Hamilton, London and Brantford Wholesale Grocers' Guilds:

1. That, with regard to teas purchased in England, the importer is already required to furnish a certificate to the effect that the tea is approved of for home consumption, and also a certificate when imported, via an American port, showing that entry was made for immediate transportation and exportation in bond to Canada. In case of teas purchased in the United States, the importer might be required to furnish an analyst's certificate in the same way as is now required for English teas, and as the law in the United States, as well as in England, is very strict as against adulteration in this article, this Government might safely accept their appraisalment.

2. That if an examination upon arrival at a Canadian port be deemed necessary, the appraiser should be given discretionary powers to pass the teas without reference to the department, unless he has good reason to suspect adulteration.

3. That the delay that would necessarily be occasioned under the proposed new regulations by submitting samples to Ottawa would greatly interfere with the merchant in the prompt and satisfactory management of his business.

4. That to sample so many packages as would be required would cause serious loss to the importer, as every package bored or opened is damaged more or less by exposure to the air, and the contents are always liable to be pilfered in transit, besides which, the retail buyer looks upon sampled packages with suspicion, and decidedly objects to them. In England this depreciation in value is always recognized. An allowance of 1/2d. to 1d. per lb. is made on sampled packages.

5. That since the introduction of Indian and Ceylon teas, the price of the pure article is so low that adulterated or inferior China and Japan teas have almost entirely disappeared from the market, and were there no Government restrictions whatever, the educated taste of the people, under the changed condition, would not have them at any price.

Under all these circumstances, this association respectfully asks the department to reconsider the proposed changes, which, in its opinion, will serve no good purpose, and put the trade to an unnecessary amount of trouble, annoyance, delay and loss.

NEXT YEAR'S ORANGE CROP.

Opinion seems to differ regarding the effect of the recent terrible "freeze" in Florida on next year's orange crop in that state. In an excellent article a correspondent of The New York Sun says: "How this freeze is going to affect next year's crop is a question that is discussed nightly in every lounging place in Florida. There are as many opinions about it as there are oranges on the ground. Pessimists say that the fruit grows only upon 'young wood,' that is, upon the little branches that appeared last summer; and that, as these young branches have all been killed, there will be no crop next year. Equally good authorities say that next year's crop will be a tremendous one. There seems to be no doubt that the bearing trees all over the state are injured, but whether their young branches are killed or not only time can determine. Most of the tropical plants and flowers are undoubtedly killed. Bananas, of course, are utterly ruined. The guavas are killed, and the pineapples and the growing vegetables."

FLORIDA ORANGE CROP.

The Savannah news states that the Florida orange crop is being shipped at the rate of 25,000 boxes, or in the neighborhood of 1,500,000 a day. The fairly good prices which have ruled have inspired an eagerness among the growers to get their fruit on the market. Already from 325,000 to 350,000 boxes have been shipped. The crop is estimated in the neighborhood of 4,500,000 to 5,000,000 boxes, probably near the last figure.

The following figures show the increase of the Florida orange crop during the last ten years:

1885-86.....	900,000 boxes
1886-87.....	1,250,000 "
1887-88.....	1,450,000 "
1888-89.....	1,950,000 "
1889-90.....	2,150,000 "
1890-91.....	2,450,000 "
1891-92.....	3,761,843 "
1892-93.....	3,400,000 "
1893-94.....	5,050,000 "

The crop is largely sold now on trees.

WHOLESALE GROCERS.

.....TORONTO, ONT.

CLAIMS CASH IS THE REMEDY.

EDITOR GROCER,—A morning newspaper having published two columns of views touching upon the departmental stores of this and other cities, and as those in Toronto have recently added general groceries to their already numerous departments, it is no doubt seriously affecting the grocery trade, both wholesale and retail.

It should be of some interest to the general grocery trade, and the several grocers' associations throughout Ontario might take up this matter and seriously discuss the situation with a view of solving the problem, "What are we to do in the matter?" It may be asked upon what plan should they proceed? I would suggest (1st) that a secret committee be appointed, composed of "level heads" (if there be not too many in the association), to get information of what amount of grocery business these stores are doing, and upon what basis and profits, and who they purchase goods from, and on what terms. If it is found they buy for cash and sell only for cash, then the problem to be solved is: "Why cannot all the grocery trade do likewise?" If it cannot be done on the cash basis, show cause why. If it might and could be done, show cause why it is not done.

If it be true that these departmental stores sell strictly for cash, it ought to be sufficient proof that with a united effort on the part of the trade generally, business could be done on a strictly cash basis; and in my opinion herein lies the whole difficulty in solving this vexed question as far as the grocery trade is concerned.

As it is, the retailers to a very large extent trade more or less on credit, getting credit and giving credit, more credit being given by far than is received in most cases, while their profits have gone in unnecessary expenses and bad debts. Let them get down to a cash basis and the price of goods will drop correspondingly; then the departmental stores will have but little advantages or inducements to offer above the ordinary smart, obliging grocer. Whatever plans of reform may be adopted, the trade must work together with perseverance and a fixed determination to conquer.

OBSERVER.

TRAVELERS ON COMMISSION.

EDITOR GROCER,—If a general desire existed among the trade in making some reform with a view of getting better profits on sales, I have no doubt but that your suggestion that travelers be placed on commission would meet with universal consideration on the part of the travelers; but, under the present condition of things, it would be extremely risky and, perhaps, unwise for any one house to endeavor to place their travelers on commission, as, at this particular juncture, competition seems to be extremely keen and severe, and profits of little or no account. "It is business we want, and we must get to the front at all hazards," appears to be the ambition of some of our wholesale traders and manufacturers. But if they will stop to consider these things unitedly, a change for the better could be brought about, and matters made satisfactory on the lines you indicated in your last issue.

TARIFF AND LOW GRADE SYRUPS.

WHETHER we be free-traders or protectionists, we are all practically agreed on one point : We must have a revenue tariff. This tariff, however, should be equitable. And although it is impossible to so frame a tariff that no one will be chafed, yet it should not be allowed to bear unnecessarily upon any one industry or class.

No staple article of food, no staple article of clothing, no staple article of general utility that cannot or is not made or produced in the country, should be taxed unduly. None will deny this.

Judging, then, by this standard, there is at least one staple article, and an article of food, too, upon which an undue impost is placed by the Canadian tariff.

We refer to the duty on dark pure sugar syrups.

This duty is 7c. per gallon, or from 70 to 85 per cent. And yet the Canadian refiners have not for some years made this class of syrups.

If these syrups were unwholesome a cause for this duty could be easily advanced, but the trade aver that they are guaranteed pure sugar goods.

The injustice in this particular is all the more pronounced in view of the fact that a good many of these low and medium grade syrups are coming into the country in spite of the high impost.

These syrups are used principally in the lumber camps, and it is unreasonable that the people who need them, and who, it would appear, must have them, should be compelled to be unnecessarily taxed, for such are they when they have to pay a duty of 70 to 85 per cent. on an article they cannot get any other way than by import.

As far as the tariff relates to the higher grades of syrups there does not appear to be any cause of complaint. These the Canadian refiners make, and excellent syrups they are too.

The remedy for the grievances lies either with the refineries or the Government, and if the one does not act the other should.

NO WORLD'S FAIR AWARDS.

Word has been received from Chicago that the World's Fair Bureau of Awards has almost completed its labors and that there has been a big cut in the awards.

It is alleged that exhibitors have been treated unfairly and for the sake of political capital. There will be no medals in the dairy contests at all. Fruit men will also suffer. It was expected that some 80,000 medals would be awarded, but it now appears as if only 23,700 would be given. Canadians will suffer severely. They secured 619 awards in cheese and 40 in butter, and these, it is understood, have been cut off entirely.

Some months ago, when Prof. Robertson, of Ottawa, A. F. McLaren, of Toronto, and E. A. Harris, of Boston, Mass., were in Washington, an effort was made to induce them to reduce the number of the awards, but they refused one and all to do so. If the intelligence that now comes from Chicago be true, the Committee on Awards proposes to do its own dishonorable work.

HOW TO SELL OUR BUTTER.

PROFESSOR ROBERTSON takes exception to some statements that recently appeared in THE GROCER regarding the Canadian butter market.

We never meant to infer that the Professor advised merchants to hold their butter until the fall, but what we do assert, and what the Professor's letter in The Montreal Gazette bears out, is that he advises factorymen to store and hold their butter until the fall.

Now, the Professor is quite welcome to the belief that this is the proper method for our farmers to pursue, but we differ with him.

He claims, in support of it, that previous experience proves that somebody does carry the butter until the months of August and September.

Admitting that this is so, can the Professor demonstrate that this course tends to increase the consumption of Canadian butter in England?

If he can, THE GROCER is quite prepared to admit that it is in the wrong, but as he has not done so the matter is still open to argument.

If, for instance, the Professor's cold storage plan had been in practice this season, how would the farmers have come out, and would the consumption of Canadian butter be increased?

Hardly; for had the producers followed the Professor's method this year they would now be submitting to the disagreeable experience of finding their stock almost unsalable instead of being in pocket all the way from 19 to 21c. per lb. for their output.

To-day the very cold storage butter which cost 19 and 20c. is easily obtainable from its disgusted holders at 15 to 16c.

We think that the odds are that the Professor would not have been blessed this year had the farmers had to submit to this loss.

No; though we would like to see the very latest cold storage appliances available everywhere, and in this respect cordially endorse the Professor, we sincerely believe that the best course is for the farmer to sell his butter when it is ready for the market.

The Professor advances the argument that Danish and Irish butter fetches 3c. per lb. more in September in Great Britain than during June. He does not explain that this Danish and Irish butter is not stock that has been carried for two or three months, but is fresh butter, and that the reason it commands the difference in price is no doubt the same as operates in the case of our own fall September creamery, as compared with June, viz., that the season is past the flush, with a decreasing output, while the quality is more desirable.

Let us have the best cold storage facilities by all means, but at the same time let us get our butter on the English market as soon as possible at the ruling market price, and not speculate on future possibilities in the way of higher prices later, etc.

TYPHOID IN OYSTERS.

According to information received from a New York source, the typhoid fever scare has been the means of stopping entirely the shipment of American oysters to England. About 3,000 barrels a week were exported from the United States to the Old Country, worth to the American exporters $5 a barrel. Many of the big oyster dealers are incensed over the situation, claiming that the water over their beds is not in the slightest degree contaminated by sewage from the great cities on the coast.

Some of the big oyster dealers in Toronto, when interviewed by THE GROCER, stated that they were unaware of the stoppage of exports to England. If the report were confirmed the result would, of course, be a great reduction of prices in Canada. Moreover, as soon as the Canadian public were informed of the rumor they would forthwith cease buying. As a matter of fact, one large dealer stated, the demand for oysters had recently fallen off considerably, and the American planters had informed the trade by telegram that they would sell at 75 cents a gallon, 5 cents less than the price which generally obtained a few days ago. This reduction in price, however, was not sufficient to indicate that the New York report was true.

TO CURTAIL TEA PEDLARS.

AT the meeting of the Ontario County Council held a few days ago, a resolution was unanimously adopted pledging support to the movement inaugurated by the County of Elgin to memorialize the Ontario Legislature to amend the law in order to enable county councils to stipulate that all pedlars or hawkers who are not taxpayers in the county shall be compelled to pay a license fee.

The proposed amendment, it appears, is specially designed against tea pedlars.

If the department stores are injurious to the retailers in the city and suburbs, these tea pedlars are doubly so to the country merchants; for the injury wrought by them is two-fold.

The department stores and the tea pedlars both take customers from the regular retailer. But here the similarity ceases. In the matter of credits they take divergent routes.

The department store propagates the cash system; the tea pedlar propagates the credit system.

For instance, the person who buys at the department store has to pay cash; the customer who buys a package of tea from the tea pedlar can, on the other hand, get six, twelve, or even a greater number of months' credit. And his privileges do not end there, for if, when the pedlar makes his next appearance, the customer has not used all the tea sold in the first instance, he will collect on what has been consumed, and allow further time on the remainder.

The demoralizing influence of such an unbusinesslike practice is obvious. And while legislation prohibiting such things is not possible, yet every county, every municipality, should be given power necessary to compel these itinerants to pay for the privilege of cutting into the trade of the legitimate merchant and taxpayer.

The desideratum can be secured if country merchants will persistently and unitedly urge its necessity upon not only the members of the County Councils, but upon the members of the Legislative Assembly as well.

OVERSTOCKING IN SUGAR.

THE abnormally low prices now ruling on sugar have, as THE GROCER has already noted, created more than the usual activity in the sugar market. Indeed it is a question with some jobbers in Montreal whether dealers in the country are not buying just a little too heavy.

Three or four jobbers in that city were spoken to who said that business during the past fortnight in the staple had been unprecedented, which anyone would readily admit when he knew that their average turnover had been about a car load and a half per day during the last six days. In fact, some of their customers must have bought enough sugar to carry them as far ahead as next preserving time.

In consequence of this there was a disposition to pull up a little, and no doubt the decision is wise.

As care has been exercised, however, in not selling indiscriminately, and as sugar is practically as good as money, no ill results are apt to occur, even if some people have overstocked a little. Besides, present prices are so low that there is not much chance of their declining to a point that will make recent purchases unprofitable.

At present the impression seems to be that values have touched bottom, and that any change that may occur will be towards a higher range of prices.

In raw sugar also the tendency is firmer, and Montreal refiners have made purchases of cargo lots since our last at an advance on previous prices.

A DISHONEST RETAILER.

HONESTY is by no means an unimportant factor in business. Those who love truth and hate falsehood are comparatively as numerous to day as at any time in the history of the world, yet, that there are no dishonest men is another thing. There are all too many of them in every branch of trade. An instance of this was brought to the attention of THE GROCER the other day.

A retail merchant got behind in his account with a Toronto wholesaler. One day the wholesaler paid a visit to him, with a view to stirring him up.

While the creditor and debtor were examining the statements, the latter remarked that he had not been credited with a payment made on a statement rendered in May, and for three months' supplies. To substantiate what he claimed, the retailer produced a receipted statement bearing what was apparently the word "May" in the place allotted for the date.

Nonplussed, the wholesaler telephoned his bookkeeper, who averred that no such payment had been made, and suggested that closer inspection be made of the statement. The wholesaler did so. The first thing he noticed was that the top part of the letter "y" had been clipped out as if by a file. Then, on closer inspection, he discovered that the ink with which the tail of the "y" had been formed was much inferior in quality to that with which the rest of the writing on the statement was done. Next, it dawned upon him that the month which his bookkeeper had written, and for which he had given a receipt, was March, written "Mar," and that the retailer in question, in an attempt to escape payment of three months' supplies, had put a tail on the "r," and then stuck a file through it.

When confronted with the matter the retailer, while confessing nothing, promptly ceased pressing his claim that the account for the certain period in question had been paid.

The moral to be gathered is that all—retailers as well as wholesalers—should write out in full all months on statement and bill heads, which, like March, are easily manipulated by the dishonestly inclined.

SETTLING DAY.

THE fourth of February is the big settling day of the year with many leading branches of the wholesale trade. Owing to the depressed condition of trade this year the day was looked to with more anxiety than usual in Montreal and Toronto and throughout the Dominion by the banking and mercantile community generally. As a whole it has turned out satisfactorily, though the percentage is not a high one with most of the houses.

AT MONTREAL.

Interviews with some of the leading bankers in Montreal elicit the opinion that the province of Quebec appears to be in much better shape than the province of Ontario and the other provinces. At the Bank of Montreal the information was given that paper was fairly well met. The Molsons Bank was more pessimistic; the Bank of British North America said that paper was fairly well met; so did the Bank of Toronto; and the Merchants' Bank endorsed the above.

AT TORONTO.

Answers to enquiries at the chief Toronto banks go to show that the 4th of this month proved a satisfactory settling day, paper being met fairly well. Similar information is obtained at the big wholesale houses. The remarks of a representative of one of the leading wholesale dry goods firms may be taken as pretty well outlining the situation. "Paper," he said, "was pretty well met. Some was paid in anticipation during the latter part of January, and since then money on other notes has been steadily coming in. Some renewals have, of course, been asked for, but up to date (Feb. 6) I should say about 65 per cent. of our paper has been directly met. By the end of the week, I think, 75 per cent. will have been paid off."

PERSONAL MENTION.

T. St. John, of Coleraine, Ont., favored THE GROCER with a call last week.

There is no truth in the report that Wm. Paterson & Son's popular traveller, Bert Wells, was nearly starved to death while stuck in a snowdrift for fifteen hours, north of Palmerston, last week. He had his sample case with him all the time.

A son reached the city on Sunday last for Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Seyler. Mr. Seyler is manager of the Eby, Blain Co.'s sample room. Congratulations.

MONEY AND STOCKS.

ONE of the features of the Toronto stock market during the past few days has been the steady demand for and strength in Consumers' Gas. The gain has been in all some 5 or 6 points, the stock selling up to 198½. The dealing has been participated in by investors pure and simple, I understand.

Commercial Cable has been fairly steady, to the satisfaction of its admirers. The steadiness appears to be due to the excellent showing made by the earnings. The earnings for the third week in January averaged $600 per day more than for the same time last year, and $900 per day for the last week of January compared with the corresponding period of 1894. Commercial Cable now has three cable lines in operation where it only had one last year, but even in view of this the earnings are somewhat remarkable, taking into consideration the depression that exists in the United States.

A couple of gentlemen from Cleveland, Ohio, were on the Toronto market a few days ago interesting themselves in Street Railway stock. This gave a temporary "boost" to the stock, there having been a decline since their departure. At the time of writing the stock is selling at 75 to 75½, and in spite of the fact that a good many opine that these figures are still above the value of the stock, these quotations seem to be fairly steady.

Business on the New York Stock Exchange is practically at a standstill pending the result of the proposal to make a further issue of bonds. In fact, the scalpers are about the only people that are doing anything.

About $25,000,000 in gold is due Canadian banks by agencies in the United States. There is some talk of this being withdrawn unless some legislative action is soon taken to restore confidence.

It was heralded abroad last week with much blare of trumpets that the Rothschilds were negotiating to take a portion of the new proposed United States bonds. Baron Rothschild has since denied this in toto. The canard, however, served its purpose, namely, to boom the stock market.

ARGUROS.

DRY GOODS.

TORONTO MARKET.

An American salesman has been on the market this week, and has been offering all classes of cotton goods at very low prices, much lower than the regular jobbing prices in New York. The success that attended his efforts seems to have been very small, and the orders he carried away in his grip-sack were few and slim. This was only to be expected, from two reasons: First, because the movement in cottons is not up to the average; and second, because prices of domestic stuffs are very low.

Deliveries from domestic cotton mills are well forward, and jobbers are filling orders. However, the mills are behind in a few of the better lines, such as ginghams, zephyrs, etc., and as a consequence jobbers are making requests for shipments.

The cold weather has cleaned up a number of odd lines of winter goods, but mostly on city account. General trade is only fair.

Payments on the 4th, so far as heard from, were average, but the amount of paper maturing was not nearly so large as on the same date in 1892 and 1893, nor even as great as in 1894.

MONTREAL MARKET.

The dry goods market has shown some increase in business during the past week. Underwear and cotton goods have been the chief features, and it is complained that there has been some sharp cutting in these goods. Silks, velvets, linings, laces, embroideries and other trimmings have received a fair degree of attention. Reference to the fourth of February will be found elsewhere in this issue. The returns on the whole were fairly good.

MARKETS AND MARKET NOTES

TORONTO MARKETS.

TORONTO, Feb. 7, 1895.

GROCERIES.

NOTHING particularly new has developed in trade during the past week. The volume of business is not large. In fact, the movement is generally light. Sugars are not as active as they were a week ago, but they are steady and unchanged in price. Teas, on the other hand, are active, with prices still tending upward. Prunes are not yet attracting much attention, and dried fruits generally are quiet, though firm. Canned goods are in much the same position as they have been for the last few weeks. Syrups are in fair demand. In green fruits, the most important feature to note is a slight advance in Valencia oranges in Liverpool over Saturday's sales.

CANNED GOODS.

The market is in much about the same position as a week ago. Tomatoes, peas and corn are in fair demand, but purchases are only for immediate requirements. There is no change in the price of canned vegetables. Salmon is quiet and strong, and some houses have advanced the "Horse-shoe" brand to $1.40 to $1.45. We quote: Tomatoes and corn, 85 to 90c.; peas, 80 to 85c.; peaches, $2.75 to $3 for 3's, $1.75 to $1.90 for 2's; raspberries, $1.65 to $1.80; strawberries, $1 to $2.10; apples, 3's, $1 to $1.10, gallons $2.10 to $2.25, and preserved fancy quarters at $1.35 to $1.40; salmon, $1.30 to $1.35 for good red fish in tall tins, and $1.50 to $1.60 in flat tins; do., second quality, $1.10 to $1.25; canned mackerel, $1 to $1.10; lobsters, $1.70 to $2 for tall tins, and $2.25 to $2.75 for flat tins. Australian mutton, boiled, 2 lb. cans, $3.40; ditto, corned and roast, $3.75.

COFFEES.

Stocks of green Rio coffee on the local market are still light, with the demand just moderate. We quote green, in bags, as follows: Rio, 20½ to 22c.; East Indian, 27 to 30c.; South American, 21 to 23c.; Santos, 21½ to 22½c.; Java, 30 to 32c.; Mocha, 27 to 28c.; Maracaibo, 21 to 23c.; Jamaica, 21 to 22c.

RICE.

No change to note. We quote as before: "B," 3½ to 3¾c.; extra Japan, 5¼ to 5¾c.; imported Japan, 5¾ to 6¼c.; tapioca, pearl, 4½ to 5c.

SPICES.

Business continues to be of a moderate character at unchanged prices. We quote: Pure black pepper, 10 to 12c.; pure white, 18 to 25c.; pure Jamaica ginger, 25 to 27c.; cloves, 25 to 30c.; pure mixed spice, 25 to 30c.; cream of tartar, 20 to 25c. per lb.

NUTS.

There is little or no movement. We quote as before: Brazil nuts, 11 to 11½c.; Sicily shelled almonds, 25 to 26c.; Tarragona almonds, 14 to 14½c.; peanuts, 10 to 12c. for roasted and 7 to 10c. for green; cocoanuts, $4.50 to $5 per sack; Grenoble walnuts, 15 to 16c.; Marbot walnuts, 12½ to 14c.; Bordeaux walnuts, 12 to 13c.; Sicily filberts, 9 to 10c. for sacks and 10½ to 11c. for small lots; pecans, 10½ to 11c.

SUGAR.

The demand has slackened off a little. Comparatively speaking, larger lots are in better request at the moment than smaller.

Prices remain as before. The cold weather in Germany has kept the market there firm, and an easing off in prices is looked for when the rivers break up. We quote: Granulated—domestic, 3½ to 3¾c.; do., German granulated, $3.40 to $3.50; yellows, $2.75 to $3.30. Raws—Demerara, 2½ to 3c.; Muscovado, in 115-lb. bags, $1.90.

Willet & Gray's Weekly Statistical says that the sugar situation, although encouraging for the moment, has very few elements of permanency in it, and the future will depend largely upon the action of the beet sugar countries in regard to increase or decrease of sowings for the next beet crops. "There appears to be no special advantage in buying ahead of wants," it adds, "while the present outlook for abundant supplies is unchanged."

SYRUPS.

There are a few syrups moving, mostly at from 30 to 40c. per gallon. We quote: Dark, 25c.; medium, 28 to 30c.; bright, 35 to 40c.; very bright, 45 to 50c.

MOLASSES.

The molasses market remains quiet at unchanged prices. We quote as follows: New Orleans, barrels, 26 to 28c.; half-barrels, 30½ to 32c.; Barbadoes, barrels, 28 to 32c.; half-barrels, 30 to 34c.

TEAS.

Strength is still the predominating feature of the tea market. Low grade Indian, Ceylon and Congou teas are higher in London. Medium and high grades are unchanged. Some of the Toronto houses are advancing all their low grade teas up to 20c. The demand here is improving, most people who can buy a line of teas doing so. Wilson & Stanton's, London, tea circular, under date of Jan. 25th, says that the statistical position is strong, and warrants the present firmness in the market, stocks being moderate, the Indian season drawing towards its close, and shipments from Ceylon being less than was at one time expected. We quote ruling prices on the Toronto market as follows: Young Hyson, 12 to 18c. for low grades; 24 to 27c. for mediums, and 30 to 45c. for high grades; China Congous, 14 to 18c. for mediums, and 35 to 55c. for high grades; Japans, 16 to 20c. for mediums, 28 to 35c. for high grades; Indians and Ceylons, 18 to 22c. for mediums, and 30 to 45c. for high grades.

DRIED FRUIT.

Valencia raisins are still in small demand only. We quote good fruit as before: Off-stalk, 4 to 4½c.; fine off-stalk, 4½ to 5c.; selected, 5½ to 6c.; layers, 6 to 6½c. We quote California loose muscatels at 5½ to 6½c.

Malaga raisins are dull and nominally unchanged. We quote: London layers, $2 to $2.25; black baskets, $2.90 to $3; blue baskets, $4 to $4.75; extra dessert clusters, $4; connoisseur clusters, $2.65 to $2.90; quarter flat connoisseur clusters, 90c. to $1.15; Royal Buckingham, $4.50 to $5.

Sultana raisins are quiet and firm at 6 to 7½c. per lb.

Prunes are not yet much enquired after and prices are unchanged. We quote: "Sphinx"—"U," 110 to 115 to half kilo, 5 to 5½c. per lb.; "C," 85 to 90 to half kilo, 6½c. per lb.; "B," 80 to 85 to half kilo, 7 to 7½c. per lb. "Atlas,"—"D," 110 to 115 to half kilo, 4 to 5c. per lb. For Bordeaux prunes, 4 to 4½c. is the idea.

Currants are steady, with demand light. What little fruit is wanted is of the fine kind. We quote: Filiatras, half-barrels, 4 to 4½c., barrels, 4½c.; fine Filiatras, half-barrels, 4¾c., barrels, 4¾c.; Patras, 5½c., in cases; Casalinas, 5½ to 6c.; Vostizias, 6½ to 7c. in cases and half cases; Panartes, 8 to 8½c.

Figs are dull and nominally unchanged. We quote: 14 oz., 8 to 9c.; 10 lb., 8 to 10c.; 18 lb., 12c.; 28 lb., 15c.; taps, 4¼ to 4½c.; naturals, 6 to 7c.

There is an active demand for California dried apricots, which are selling at 12½ to 13c. per lb.

BUTTER AND CHEESE.

Choice roll butter is in demand, but the poorer classes are practically unsalable. We quote jobbing prices: Dairy—Choice tubs, selections, 15 to 16c.; low grade, 8 to 10c.; fresh pound rolls, 16 to 17c.; large rolls, 12 to 14c. Creamery—Tubs, summer makes, nominally 14 to 15c.; winter makes, 21½ to 22½c.; pound prints, 21 to 23c.

August and September makes of cheese are quoted at 10½ to 10¾c., and half sizes at 11 to 11¼c. Small Stiltons are quoted at 12 to 12½c.

GREEN FRUIT.

Good Florida oranges are almost out of the market, and will probably bring $5 a box a week hence, if at all obtainable, while Valencias are easier. We quote: Lemons—Floridas, 150's to 176's, $3 to $3.50 per box; Messinas, $2.25 to $3.50. Oranges—Floridas, $3.50 to $4.25; Valencias, $4.25 to $4.50; mandarins, $2.50 to $2.75 per half box; tangerines, $2.25 to $2.50 per half box; grape fruit, $4 to $4.50 per box. Bananas, $1.25 to $1.50 for firsts and seconds. Apples, winter fruit, $2.50 to $3.50 per bbl.; fall fruit, $1.75 to $2. Grapes—Malagas, $5.50 to $6.50 per keg. Cranberries, Jerseys, $14 to $14.50 per bbl. and $5 per box. California dried fruit—Apricots, 12c.; peaches, 12½ to 13c.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

BEANS—Are quiet at $1.50 for choice hand-picked, and $1.15 to $1.40 for medium.

DRIED APPLES—Market dull. Prices stationary, jobbers getting 4¼ to 5¼c.

EVAPORATED APPLES—Quoted at 7c. in 50 lb. boxes.

ONIONS—Still dull. We quote: Domestic, 60 to 65c. per bag; Spanish, 75 to 85c. per small crate, $2 per large crate; Valencia, $2.50 to $2.75 per case.

HONEY—Dull. We quote: Strained, in bulk, 7 to 9c.; comb, 14c. for clover and 10c. for buckwheat.

POTATOES—Are firmer, because of scarcity and continued cold weather. Prices are advancing. On track from 47 to 50c. is quoted, and out of store 57½ to 60c.

POULTRY—Is scarce, and the demand is improved. We quote: Turkeys, 8 to 10c.; geese, 7c.; chickens, 30 to 50c.; ducks, 50 to 90c.

EGGS—Are in demand, and a little higher. Held stock is quoted at 15 to 18c.; cold storage at 10 to 12c.; strictly fresh new-laid at 25c., and pickled at 12c.

FISH AND OYSTERS.

Fishermen say that sea herring fishing will be over by the 10th of this month, and this class of fish will therefore soon be out of the market. Oysters are still easier. We quote as follows: Salmon trout (frozen), 6½ to 7c.; white fish (frozen), 5 to 7c.; skinned and boned codfish, 6½c.; boneless fish, 3½ to 4c.; market cod, 3 to 5c.; tommy cod, $1.35; steak cod, 5½ to 6½c.; haddock, 3½ to 4½c.; Labrador herring, $2.50 per half keg and $5.50 to $5.75 per barrel; ditto, split, $2.75; fresh water salt herring, $3 per bbl.; blue-back herring, 4c.; sea herring (frozen), $1 to $1.25 per 100 fish; blue pickerel, 4 to 5c. lb.; yellow ditto, 6 to 7c. per lb.; mackerel, 14c. each; pike, 5c. lb.; cod, 6c. per lb.; finnan haddies, 6½ to 7c.; Digby herring, in bundles of 5 boxes, 12½c.; ditto, lengthwise, 12c.; large halibut, 10 to 13c. Oysters, $1.25 per gallon for standards and $1.65 for selects.

FLOUR AND FEED.

WHEAT—Is firmer and prices have advanced a little. We quote: White wheat, 63 to 64c.; red wheat 61 to 62c.; goose, 61c.

OATS—In fair demand. We quote: 34 to 35c.

BARLEY—There is some demand. We quote: 47 to 48½c.

FLOUR—Quiet and firm. We quote: Ontario straight roller, $2.65 to $2.75; Manitoba, $3.60 to $3.65; patents, $3.75 to $3.90.

BREAKFAST FOODS—Market quiet and prices unchanged. We quote: Standard oatmeal, $3.80, and granulated, $3.85; rolled oats, $3.75 to $3.80; rolled wheat, $2.10 in 100 lb. barrels; cornmeal, $3.50; split peas and pot barley, $3.75 per barrel.

PROVISIONS AND DRESSED HOGS.

There is no change in the condition of the market from last week. Demand is good.

BACON—Long clear, 6¾c. for carload lots, 7 to 7¼c. for ton lots and 7¼c. for small lots; breakfast bacon, 10 to 10½c.; rolls, 7½ to 8c.

HAMS—Large, 22 lbs. and over, 9c.; medium, 15 to 20 lbs., 10c.; small hams, 10½c.; pickled, 9 to 9½c.

LARD—Pure Canadian, tierces, 7¾c.; tubs, 8¼c.; pails, 8½c.

BARREL PORK—Canadian heavy mess, $14.50 to $14.75; Canadian short-cut, $14.75 to $15; shoulder mess, $12.25 to $13.75; clear mess, $12.75 to $13.

SALT.

There are free movements in large lots. We quote prices: Barrels, 90c.; coarse sacks, 56c.; fine sacks, 60c.; dairy, $1.50; rock, $9.

SEEDS.

Canadian red clover comes forward very sparingly, the light crop apparently encouraging some growers to hold on to their seed in the expectation of higher prices. United States markets are again easier. We quote our market at present for choice quality at $6 to $6.25. Really fancy lots and lower grades bring proportionate prices.

Receipts of alsike have been well maintained, and there is still an easy feeling in the market, choice to fancy qualities bringing $4.80 to $5, and lower grades $3 to $4.50.

Timothy, in sympathy with the firmer American market, has been well maintained in price. We quote: Prime to choice seed, $2.60 to $2.75; fancy unhulled, $3, and inferior qualities, $2 to $2.50.

HIDES, SKINS, WOOL AND TALLOW.

HIDES—Easy. Local dealers quote 5 to 5¼c. for cured, and for green, No. 1, 4c.; No. 2, 3c., and No. 3, 2c.

SHEEPSKINS—Prices have advanced another 5c., and stand at 80c. for best fresh green stock. In calfskins nothing is being done and prices are nominal, 6c. for No. 1, and 4c. for No. 2.

TALLOW—Is quoted at 5 to 5½c. The low price is attributed to the low figures current in Chicago, from which point tallow can be imported and laid down in Toronto, duty and freight paid, for from 5 to 5½c.

PETROLEUM.

Oil is firmer owing to an advance of ¼c. per gallon in United States markets. No change in price in Canada since recent rise of 1c. We quote in 5 to 10 bbl. lots, imperial gallon Toronto: Canadian, 12 to 12½c.; carbon safety, 16 to 17c.; Canadian water white, 16 to 17c.; American water white, 18c.; photogene, 20c.

Dawson & Co. have got in another car-load of Valencia oranges. Included in the car were 50 cases of "Jumbos" and a few boxes of "Marmalades."

Clemes Bros. have just received a large shipment of California produce that is just now scarce on the local market. It includes evaporated apricots, dried peaches and lima beans.

There has been some heavy buying of Valencia oranges in Liverpool this week. One Toronto house has placed an order for 700 cases. Monday's quotation in Liverpool showed a slight advance over Saturday's figures.

THE GROCER is in receipt of a handsome hanger from Ganong Bros., manufacturers of the famous "G. B." chocolates, of St. Stephen, N. B. It is four feet long by three wide, and contains handsome lithographs of the flags of all nations. Exactly one hundred flags are shown.

"Look at that," said a member of the Eby, Blain Co., as he turned over a bundle of papers; "how's that for orders for crushed Java Mocha coffee, traced through the medium of THE GROCER?"

Dickie & Marquis, general merchants, Pickering, Ont., have dissolved. The change went into effect Feb. 1. The business will be carried on by John Dickie & Co. Mr. C. E. Marquis has purchased a general store in Ripley, and will move there shortly.

James Turner & Co. report that their travelers are getting a number of repeat orders for "Mascott" blend teas.

"The repeat orders for our New Orleans and West India molasses are quite numerous. We have found largely increased sales of same this season," write Lucas, Steele & Bristol.

James A. Skinner & Co. are handling an immense quantity of a large lamp that is a perfect wonder for height. It illuminates 1,000 square feet. It is called the Mammoth Bristol.

Lucas, Steele & Bristol report a steady demand for Hillwattee tea. "One of the firm, just returned from a country trip, says many of our customers use it entirely for their best line," say the firm.

"After an agency for 'Salada' Ceylon tea has been established in a small town for a few weeks," P. C. Larkin & Co. write, "we invariably have many orders from other merchants for 'Salada,' but in a town where the population is a couple of thousand, we invariably give the sole agency to one good firm, in which case we are compelled to refuse the goods to others, much as we regret it, as we hate to throw away business." P. C. Larkin & Co. desire the publication of this information because there has been some bad feeling aroused by their refusal to break this rule.

With general goods cut so close now-a-days, the retailer should guard carefully the profits on the smaller but important articles. W. H. Gillard & Co., of Hamilton, have been appointed agents for Western Ontario for Dixon's Carburet of Iron Stove Polish, an article that has been before the public of the United States for 67 years. "With a profit of 100 per cent. to the retailer it is worthy the consideration of all thinking merchants," writes the firm.

The new prices of "Tanglefoot" published in last week's issue were erroneous, through no fault of THE GROCER, however. They were the American prices. The new Canadian prices are: In lots of less than one case, 50c. per box; in lots of one to five cases, $4.75 per case; in lots of five cases and over, $4.50 per case.

Dawson & Co. report that during the past week they have purchased eight carloads of fine winter apples throughout the country, two of which they have since shipped to St. Louis, Mo. They are now offering to buy carload lots wherever they can get them. Good red fruit is what they are particularly looking for.

W. H. Gillard & Co. expect this week to be in receipt of another shipment of their extra choice Filiatra currants. This firm has established a reputation for high-grade currants, and they are credited with having handled one-eleventh of the total exports of currants from Greece to Canada during the past season. They claim they have worked up this enormous trade purely on the quality of the goods.

MONTREAL MARKETS.

MONTREAL, Feb. 7, 1895.

GROCERIES.

THE grocery market does not present any strikingly new features. The movement of trade in most of the leading staples has been of a steady character, notably so in the sugar market, the movement of which from second to third hands, owing to the low prices prevailing, has been unprecedented. The firmness of both syrups and molasses is maintained, and, as THE GROCER intimated last week, local jobbers advanced their prices to customers on the latter at the close of last week. In coffees, demand for Maracaibo has reduced the stock still further. Teas show no special life, but there is a continued enquiry for low to medium grade Japans. In canned goods the movement is confined to actual requirements, but prices are steady. Fish are inclined to be dull, and other lines are about the same as they were.

SUGAR.

The sugar market has exhibited a rather steadier feeling since our last, for the remarkably low prices have not only led to free purchasing by jobbers, but the demand from retailers has been exceptionally large. At the date of writing round lots are leaving refiners' hands at $3\frac{1}{2}$ c. for No. 1 granulated and $3\frac{3}{4}$ c. for No. 2, and, it is understood, that not only has there been demand for prompt delivery, but some good contracts for future delivery have been made. Yellows also have furnished a fair business, round lots changing hands at $2\frac{3}{4}$ to $3\frac{1}{2}$ 16c., as to quality at the factory. In a jobbing way we quote: Standard granulated, $3\frac{3}{4}$ c.; No. 2, $3\frac{1}{2}$ c.; yellows, $2\frac{3}{4}$ to $3\frac{3}{4}$ c. as to quality. German sugar is not moving very freely at present, and jobbers are asking $3\frac{1}{2}$ c. for extra granulated, while No. 2 Berthier is being jobbed out at $3\frac{1}{4}$ c.

SYRUPS.

There is a quiet, steady business in syrups, but as soon as the Lenten demand opens out an improvement is anticipated. Business in round lots of Canadian has transpired at $1\frac{1}{2}$ to $2\frac{1}{4}$ c. at the factory, but we quote for ordinary jobbing trade $2\frac{1}{2}$ c. for bright grades and $1\frac{3}{4}$ c. for dark. There is very little American syrup offering and it rules quiet but firm, at 20 to 22c., as to grade.

MOLASSES.

The molasses market has been firm but quiet since our last report, holders being very firm in their views. Some wholesale lots of Barbadoes left first hands at $31\frac{1}{2}$ to 32c., but the Guild's advances in prices last Thursday, as expected in our last, were in proportion with the first cost. In a jobbing way we now quote prices at $32\frac{1}{2}$ c. in hogsheads and 36c. in barrels and half-barrels. Some transactions are noted in Porto Rico and Trinidad at unchanged prices—viz, 28 and 27c. respectively.

RICE.

There has been a fair demand for rice during the week, and we have to note a moderately active market at steady prices. From the mills we quote: Japan, standard, $4.25 to $4.40; crystal Japan, $4.75 to $5; standard B, $3.45; English style, $3.30; Patna, $4.25 to $5, and Carolina $6.50 to $7.50.

SPICES.

Demand for spices is fairly active from first hands, and the market rules steady, while jobbers report that business is about the average. We quote: Penang black pepper, 6 to $7\frac{1}{2}$ c.; white pepper, 10 to $12\frac{1}{2}$ c.; cloves, $7\frac{1}{2}$ to 9c.; cassia, $8\frac{1}{2}$ to $9\frac{1}{2}$ c.; nutmegs, 60 to 90c.; and Jamaica ginger, $15\frac{1}{2}$ to $18\frac{1}{2}$ c.

COFFEES.

Enquiry for Maracaibo coffee has been the chief feature of this market, and some round lots have changed hands, reducing the supply here in first hands to a pretty low level. Some demand has also been experienced for Jamaica, and prices of all kinds are steady. We quote: Maracaibo, 22c.; Rio, $18\frac{1}{2}$ to 20c.; Java, 25 to 27c.; Jamaica, 18 to 19c.; and Mocha, 26 to 30c.

TEA.

The tea market has not exhibited any great change during the week, but a somewhat better enquiry has been experienced for Japan teas since our last report, especially for low grades, but light supplies here have restricted the movement. However, we note sales at prices ranging from 11 to 15c. in round lots, and some good sized parcels of Congous found buyers at $17\frac{1}{2}$ c. We quote: Japans, low grades, $12\frac{1}{2}$ to 14c.; medium, $15\frac{1}{2}$ to 17c.; fine, $18\frac{1}{2}$ to 24c.; and choice, 25 to 31c.

DRIED FRUIT.

There has been little or no change in the situation of either Valencia or California raisins on spot, and the only change in the tenor of advices from outside markets is in regard to Sultanias, which are cabled firmer, though there is no change in quotations here. Stocks on spot of all descriptions are light, and the parcels on the way here are of a small size. We quote: Off-stalk Valencias, ordinary, 4 to 4½c.; selected, 5 to 5½c.; layers, 5½ to 6c.; Sultanias, 5½ to 7½c.; California, 3-crown loose muscatels, 5½ to 6c.; 4-crown ditto, 7½c. Second crop Californias ½c. less than first crop.

Advices on currants are rather firmer in tone, but it is not expected that there will be any change on spot. The actual business doing is confined to a small jobbing movement. We quote: Filiatras and Provincials, 3½ to 3¾c. in barrels, and 4 to 4½c. in cases; Patras, 5 to 5½c., and Vostizzas, 7 to 7½c.

There is a quiet demand for prunes, which rule steady at 4½ to 5c. for Bosnias, and 4c. for Bordeaux.

Figs are steady to firm under moderate stocks and a fair jobbing call at 5 to 6c., in bags, and 10 to 16c., in boxes, as to quality.

Dates continue quiet and steady at 4 to 5c. as to grade.

NUTS.

There is only a moderate jobbing trade doing in nuts at unchanged prices. We quote: Tarragona almonds, 12½ to 13c.; filberts, 7½ to 8½c.; Brazil nuts, 11c.; pecans, small, 10c.; medium, 13c., and extra, 15c.; Grenoble walnuts, 13½ to 14c., and Naples do., 13½c.; peanuts, 7 to 9c. for roasted and 6 to 8c. for raw; cocoanuts, $4 to $5 per 100.

CANNED GOODS.

There is no change in the situation of canned goods, as the demand for all descriptions is small and confined to the supply of actual wants. Prices are steady on the whole, tomatoes ruling firm at 87½c. in round lots. Other kinds are unchanged. We quote: Lobsters, $6 to $6.50 per case; sardines, $8.50 to $9.50; salmon, $1.10 to $1.40 per doz; tomatoes, 87½ to 90c. per doz.; peaches, $2 to $2.10 per doz.; corn, 95c. to $1 per doz., and marrowfat peas, 85 to 90c. per doz.

FISH.

The fish market does not furnish any particular change, though the cold weather has been favorable to a better demand. With Lent close at hand there should be some improvement soon, but dealers do not manifest the same amount of confidence as in former years. Supplies of fresh fish of all kinds are large, and the tone of values easy. Choice brands of No. 1 Nova Scotia herrings are selling in a jobbing way at $4 to $4.50 per bbl.; No. 1 green cod, large, have been placed at $5.50, No. 1 ordinary at $4.25 to $4.50, and No. 1 green cod and No. 1 green haddock at $3. No. 2 Labrador salmon have sold at $13.50, No. 1 B. C. at $11 to $11.50, No. 2 mackerel at $12.50, sea trout at $9 to $10. New haddock and cod have sold at 2¾ to 3c. per lb., but round lots of old fish are offering at 2½c. Smelts are selling at 5c. per lb., mackerel at 10c., white fish at 5c., pike at 4c. Fresh herrings are plentiful and sales have transpired at 80c. to $1 per 100. Fresh arrivals of tommy-cods are selling at $1 to $1.25 per bbl., while old stock are offering at 80c. Smoked herrings are in large supply at 10 to 12c. per box. The stocks of finnan haddies are also very large and holders have reduced prices to 6c. per lb.

GREEN FRUIT.

APPLES—There is little change in the apple market, and the preponderance of inferior stocks acts as a weight upon the demand. In fact, the general complaint is that apples are keeping very badly at present. We quote A1 stock steady at $3 to $4 per bbl., but lower grades heavy and dull at $1 to $2.

DRIED APPLES—There is a fair demand for these at 4½ to 5c. per lb.

ORANGES—Meet a moderate demand at steady prices. We quote: Floridas, $4 to $4.50; Valencias, $3.75 to $4.50; Messinas, $2 to $2.50.

LEMONS—Meet a quiet, steady demand at $2 to $3 per box, as to quality.

PINEAPPLES—Stocks are light and prices steady at 15 to 25c. each.

CRANBERRIES—Quiet and dull at $15 to $16 for American and 9 to 10c. for Canadian.

GRAPES—There is a fair demand for Almeria grapes at $6 to $7 per bbl., as to quality.

SPANISH ONIONS—Quiet and unchanged at $1 per crate.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

EGGS—There is a firmer tone to the egg market, and prices have an upward tendency, but no actual change has yet taken place. The bulk of the stock of old western limed and held fresh has been cleaned up, consequently the market is in a more healthy state at present. The demand for small lots is fair, and sales were made at 18 to 20c. for fresh, 13 to 14c. for Montreal limed, and 10 to 11c. for western, per doz.

POULTRY—Receipts of poultry have been only fair of late, consequently the offerings are not large, and the tone of the market is firm. The demand is good and sales made freely. Turkeys sell at 8 to 9c.; chickens at 6 to 7c.; geese at 6½ to 7c., and ducks at 8 to 9c. per lb.

HONEY—There is no change in the honey market, and we quote 4½ to 5½c. for old extracted, and 7 to 9c. per lb. for new, in tins, and comb honey, 10 to 13c.

BEANS—Quiet and unchanged since our last. Choice hand picked, $1.30 to $1.45, and fair to medium, $1.10 to $1.20 per bag.

HOPS—Rule quiet and unchanged, at 6 to 8c., as to quality.

DRESSED HOGS—Business in these continues quiet. The demand is only for small lots, but prices are steady at $5.25 for car lots, and $5.35 to $5.50 per 100 lbs.

POTATOES—The scarcity of these has held prices firm at 68c. per bag for ordinary jobbing trade.

ONIONS—There is a fair demand for onions which rule steady at $2 to $2.25 per bbl.

PROVISIONS.

A fair business is transacted in provisions, there being a good demand for small lots, and the market is moderately active and steady. We quote: Canadian short cut, heavy, $14.50 to $15.50; Canadian short cut, light, $14 to $15; hams, city cured, per lb., 9 to 11½c.; lard, Canadian, in pails, 9½ to 10½c.; bacon, per lb., 9 to 11½c.; lard, com. refined, per lb., 7 to 8c.

FLOUR AND MEAL.

There is an improved demand for Manitoba grades of flour, and a fair amount of business reported. The general feeling is steady, and values show no change. We quote: Winter wheat, $3.60 to $3.75; spring wheat, patents, $3.75 to $3.90; straight roller, $2.85 to $3; extra, $2.65 to $2.70; superfine, $2.50 to $2.60; Manitoba strong bakers', $3.75.

The demand for feed continues good, and the tone of the market is strong with values tending upward, in fact, millers state that they were anticipating a rise of $1 per ton this week. We quote: Bran, $15 to $15.50; shorts, $17; mouillie, $20 to $22.

There was no change in oatmeal, business being quiet and of a jobbing character to fill local wants. We quote: Standard, bbls., $3.70 to $3.75; granulated, bbls., $3.80 to $3.85; rolled oats, bbls., $3.90 to $3.95.

CHEESE AND BUTTER.

The cheese market remains as dull as ever, business showing no signs of expansion. We quote: Finest fall makes, 9½ to 10¼c., and earlier makes, 8¾ to 9¼c.

Butter fails to show any improvement. Late made creamery is steady at 20 to 20½c., Townships at 18c., and western rolls at 14 to 15c. Held goods are still neglected, cold storage creamery being nominal at 15 to 16c., and western dairy at 12 to 13c.

The exports of cheese for the past week, local and through via Montreal, were 10,167 boxes. This makes the total to date since the close of navigation 181,665 boxes.

ASHES.

There was no change in the market for ashes, business being quiet and prices nominally unchanged. We quote: First pots at $4.05 to $4.10; seconds at $3.70 to $3.75, and pearls at about $6.40 per 100 lbs.

MONTREAL TRADE NOTES.

It is reported here that some country dealers have laid in a sufficient supply of sugar to carry them until the end of next July.

Purchases of round lots of Maracaibo coffee have sensibly reduced the supply of it here.

Cables from London are distinctly firmer on Sultana raisins, and no supplies could be laid down here except at an advance.

Montreal refiners have purchased further cargo lots of raw cane sugar at 9s. 7½d. cost and freight Montreal. This is rather firmer than previous rates, and to-day the stock could not be had except at an advance of 5d. on the above price.

The Wholesale Grocers' Guild here have advanced their price on Barbadoes 3 to 4c., as predicted by THE GROCER last week.

There is a carload of fine "Ostrich" prunes now on the way from New York to J. J. Vipond & Co. These are some fresh direct importations of this great winter staple.

The first receipts of new pack Batger's orange and "University" marmalades are due via Boston this week. These lots will be the first arrivals of new English marmalade this season.

Rose & Laflamme received recently some handsome samples of Batger's "Nonpareil" compote jellies. These jellies are put up in handsome glass moulds, and are ready to turn right out on the table, while the mould will come in useful again to the housewife.

The first receipts of Batger's new raspberry and strawberry jams are expected to hand this week.

NEW BRUNSWICK MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE CANADIAN GROCER,

ST. JOHN, N.B., Feb. 7, 1895.

FEBRUARY is opening with a fair movement in business. Wholesale houses have finished stock-taking, and they are now buying to fill the shortages. The feeling in business circles is good, but city accounts from retail grocers are harder to collect than they should be. The market slip has been more quiet than before this season, part of the time there being no schooners in it at all. The features of the market this week are a stronger feeling in flour and beans, though wheat in the States continues to go lower, and it is reported that American millers are almost able to ship flour to Canada. Frozen herrings are scarce, but cod are plentiful. Medium are rather lower. Sugar remains at the low figure, some of the refineries selling futures at the low price. Molasses stocks are getting smaller, and prices firmer.

CANNED GOODS—The market continues quiet, with light demand. Stocks held here are small. Salmon are perhaps the most interesting feature in the market. No change in price. Peas, 90c.; corn, 95c.; tomatoes, $1 to $1.05; new gallon apples, $2.40; peaches, 2's, $2; 3's, $2.65 to $2.75; oysters, 2's, $2.15 to $2.20; 1's, $1.50 to $1.60; salmon, $1.35 to $1.40; lobsters, $1.75 to $2; clams, 4 doz. in case, $5.50; scallops, 4 doz. in case, $5.50; chowder, 2 doz. in case, $3.50.

SALT—As reported last week, movement is very light at this season. Stocks not large, but more than equal to demand. We quote: Coarse, 58 to 60c.; factory filled, fine, 90c. to $1; Canadian, 5 lb. bags, $3 per bbl.; 10 lb. bags, $2.80 per bbl.; wood boxes, 20 lbs. 20c. each; 10 lbs., 12c. each.

DRIED FRUIT—Movement is light, and there is little to report. The feeling in currants is much firmer, though there is but little change in prices here. Dried and evaporated apples are rather firmer, with slight advance. We quote: Sultana raisins, 6 to 6½c.; Valencia, 4¼ to 4½c.; do. old, 60c. per box; Valencia layers, 5¼ to 5½c.; London layers, $2.25; California loose muscates, 5½ to 6; currants, bbls., 3¼ to 4c., half cases, 3¼ to 4¼c.; dried apples, 5¼ to 5½c.; evaporated apples, 8½ to 8¾c.; dates, 4 to 4¼c.; prunes, 5 to 5½c.; figs, 11 to 18c.; cleaned currants, bulk, 6c.; 1-lb. cartoons, 7 to 7½c.

GREEN FRUIT—The business continues light, as is usual at this season. Apples are considered good stock. Oranges are rather firmer. Malaga grapes are out of the market. Prices are: Apples, hard fruit, $2 to $2.75; soft, $1.50 to $2; Messina lemons, $3.50 to $4; oranges, $4.50 to $4.75; West India, repacked, $4; Florida, $4 to $4.50.

DAIRY PRODUCTS—Movement is light, particularly in butter, for which there appears to be little or no sale. Extra quality finds fair demand, but at lower prices, while poor to fair is a drug. In cheese the feeling is rather better, but demand is light, and though stocks are small, prices are easy, being rather lower than in the fall. It is a disappointment for a great many. If it only teaches the producer to sell his output more promptly, it will after all be an advantage. Eggs are also dull, there being no sale except for guaranteed fresh stock. Cheese, 10½ to 11c.; creamery butter, 20 to 22c.; dairy, 16 to 18c.; eggs, 17 to 20c.

MOLASSES AND SYRUP—During the past week there has been a fair movement, and, with lighter stocks, prices continue firm. There is also a better demand for syrup than at any time before this season, and some fine values are being shown. We quote: Barbadoes, 32 to 33c.; Porto Rico, 32c.; Antigua, 30c.; fancy Porto Rico, 35 to 43c.; syrup, 32 to 35c.

SUGAR—There is a fair movement at the low figures. There is a difference of opinion among the refiners as regards prices in the future, some selling only for immediate shipment, while others are selling futures. There is, however, a feeling that prices will shortly be firmer. Merchants are buying freely. We quote: Granulated, $3.75 to $3.80; foreign, $3.50 to $3.60; yellow, 3¼ to 3½c.; Paris lump, 5¼ to 6c.; powdered, 5¼ to 6c.

FISH—Medium cod is rather easier. Pickled herring have been scarce, but supplies are expected, and as other frozen fish are plentiful there has been no change in prices. We quote: Large cod, dry, $3.90 to $4; Medium, $3.75 to $3.85; small, $3.25 to $3.35; haddock, $1.75; pollock, $1.65 to $1.75; pickled bay herring, $1.50 to $1.60; Shelburne, No. 1 bbls., $4 to $4.15; half-bbls., $2.40 to $2.50; Canso, bbls., $5 to $5.25; shad, half-bbls., $5 to $5.50; smoked herring, 7½ to 8c.; lobsters, small, 4c.; frozen herring, 65c. per 100; cod, 2½c.; pollock, 2c.

PROVISIONS—The movement is light. Feeling continues rather easier, particularly in pork. We quote: Clear pork, $18.50 to $19; mess, $16.50 to $17; plate beef, $13 to $13.50; pure lard, 9 to 9½c.; compound, 8½ to 9c.

FLOUR AND FEED.

Cornmeal is rather easier, while oats and oatmeal are firmer, as are beans, which are marked higher than last week. Bran and middlings, particularly the latter, tend to higher prices. We quote: Manitoba, $3.40; best Ontario, $3.50 to $3.65; medium, $3.25 to $3.50; oatmeal, $4 to $4.10; cornmeal, $2.90 to $2.95; granulated, $3.50 to $3.60; middlings, on track, $20.50 to $21; bran, $19.50 to $20; oats, local, on track, 37 to 38c.; Ontario, 40 to 42c.; beans, $1.55 to $1.65; split peas, $3.85 to $4; round peas, $3.75 to $3.90; hay, on track, $9.50 to $10; timothy seed, American, $3.10 to $3.35; red clover, 11½ to 12c.; alsike, 13½ to 15c.

ST. JOHN MARKET NOTES.

Mr. Ryan, the popular traveler for Michel, Lefebvre & Co., Quebec, is in the city.

Nappan Creamery, Cumberland Co., N.S., shipped the balance of its cheese, 17 tons, to England.

The well-known firm of P. Nace & Son, Indiantown, has been dissolved. The business is to be continued by Leonard F. Nace.

The citizens of Fredericton learn with pleasure that D. W. Hoegg & Co. are to rebuild their canning factory. The city has granted them five years' exemption from water rates and taxes.

It is said the apple crop of Nova Scotia this season will value $1,000,000. Upward of 200,000 barrels, at a value of $500,000, were shipped to England.

Another cheese factory is being talked of. This time it is at Sanby, York Co. Mr. W. Levi McDermid says he will be ready to manufacture about June 1.

C. H. Peters, jr., of Baird & Peters, is again at his desk, after a short trip to New York and Montreal. Though one of the youngest firms, Baird & Peters are now pushing the old firms for first place.

John Sealy is always to the front in the fish business. Medium cod have been scarce, with a higher tendency; but the expected advance is delayed by his offering some extra quality at about old figures.

The value of taking a first-class trade paper is, perhaps, better known by a certain Toronto house to-day than ever before. Reading in THE CANADIAN GROCER the St. John trade report, they noticed the quotation on Nova Scotia dried apples, immediately wired, and secured a car at bottom figures.

At this season, the Bay of Fundy Steamship people find it necessary to give their steamer, the City of Monticello, an overhauling. They have again secured the steamer Bridgewater to take her place during the short time she will be off. Though an extra good sea boat, she cannot be compared with their own steamer in the way of comfort, and those who have to travel look forward anxiously to the resailing of the Monticello.

MONTREAL STOCK MARKET.

SPECULATION in Montreal during the past week gradually decreased, and at the present writing there is little or nothing doing in the stock market. This condition of affairs is not at all surprising after the active turn through which the market passed recently. The value of every stock on the active list appreciated materially, the difference in many cases being over 10 per cent. Naturally such a rise induced profit taking, and now little disposition is shown to trade either way. The stocks which have furnished the most activity have been Montreal and Toronto Street Railways. Though there was some purchasing of the former for investment, the great bulk of the trading in it has been of a purely speculative character. Still, though it has sagged off a trifle, the decline has not been pronounced, as there is a strong party behind this security who would check any disposition this way, as it does not suit their purpose to have it so. With regard to Toronto Street Railway, the conservative investing element have had nothing to do with it. It has been manipulated pretty sharply, however. In fact the only stocks in which there has been any appreciable investment buying in Montreal have been Royal Electric, Richelieu, and Gas stock. The first named, under the influence, appreciated 13½ points during the month of January, while the declaration of the semi annual dividend of 3 per cent. by Richelieu, and the expectation of a favorable statement at the annual meeting has created a demand for it. Gas has been declining recently, and it is its comparatively low price that has induced investment orders. The banks and the cotton stocks are completely neglected.

Nairn, of Aylmer Canning Co.; S. Fenton, of Erie Pure Food Co.; — Breckenridge, of Norton Mfg. Co., Hamilton.

The election of officers resulted as follows:

President—W. Boulter (re-elected).

Vice-President—W. A. Ferguson (re-elected).

Secretary-Treasurer— — Breckenridge (re-elected).

Executive Committee—W. Boulter, A. C. Miller, W. A. Ferguson, T. Montague, — Innes.

Selling Committee—W. A. Ferguson, W. Boulter, — Innes, S. Fenton, — Matthews, A. C. Miller, — Breckenridge.

Auditors—W. A. Ferguson, J. J. Nairn.

The above were all re-elected.

G. A. Willis, accountant to the Selling Committee, and secretary of the association, was re-appointed. His office is at Room 600, Board of Trade building.

The Executive Committee is a new feature in the association.

"We had a very unanimous meeting," said a member of the association to THE GROCER. "We have been over the stocks on hand, and find that they are getting limited. In several lines they are entirely out. The pack outside the association is entirely disposed of. This we know for a certainty. The demand has set in earlier this year than ever before. In the month of January we disposed of several thousand cases of goods, while the demand continues to increase. Prospects for the future are fair, and we look for an early advance in some lines."

"In what lines particularly?" asked THE GROCER.

"Well, strawberries we are out of; and fruits generally are nearly all disposed of.

The stock of peas is the lightest in the history of the association, and tomatoes are being shipped in considerable quantities to England."

"Yes," interposed President Boulter, "two carloads went to day."

"All the cheap lines," continued THE GROCER's informant, who, by the way, was Mr. Innes, "we have decided to advance in line with other goods. The peas have been put to 80 cents, tomatoes, 82½c., and corn, 85c. This is practically the only advance that has so far been made in prices. We have yet made no arrangement for the next season's pack, either in regard to quantity or price."

"What is the general opinion of the members in reference to the last year's arrangement to sell through a committee?"

"The general opinion," replied Mr. Innes, "is that the arrangement was satisfactory both for the packers and the jobbers, it having prevented a good deal of cutting."

The association decided to present an address to Sir Mackenzie Bowell, endorsing the proposed appointment of Mr. W. Boulter, the president, to the Senate, and commending the Premier for appointing a successful business man, and a man who in all probability has several years of vigorous life before him to devote to the country's good.

The association is still in session at the point of going to press.

"The observation of the fruit men of the Niagara district in years past has proved that the peach buds will only stand a temperature of 10 deg. below zero without being killed, and, as the mercury fell 17 below last night, there is no doubt but that the fate of the crop is sealed for the coming season," said a member of the association from the Niagara peninsular.

LENTEN DEMAND DULL.

FISH dealers in Montreal do not manifest as much hope of the results from Lenten trade this season as usual.

It is expected that the ecclesiastical authorities will name the 20th as the date, and though there is no reason why they should lessen the strictness of the fast the tone of values on fish is very easy.

The secret of this uneasiness is due to the large supplies of fresh, pickled and dried fish which have been received in Montreal during the past month. Besides, by this time last year demand in anticipation of Lenten wants was making itself felt, but so far it has been wanting this season. Contrary to the usual rule, therefore, previous to the approach of Lent there has been no tendency to advance prices on staple lines of fish; but the tone is easy at the date of this writing, and unless demand picks up materially before the end of the present week it is apt to remain so.

It is worthy of note also that the dullness not only applies to fish but to oranges and other fruits, the consumption of which usually increases during Lent. In fact, THE GROCER is informed on good authority that many retail grocers in Montreal still have a large percentage of their Christmas purchases of fruits yet on hand.

The dullness seems, however, to be chiefly restricted to city trade, for there is no unusual difference as compared with last year with the demand on country account.

P. M. LAWRASON'S SOAPS.

The success of P. M. Lawrason's soaps on the market is worthy of note. Though the manufacture of this article was begun only a little over two years ago, and the first box was turned out of the factory in September, 1892, the extent of the sales made by its manufacturers is phenomenal. These soaps, which are made at P. M. Lawrason's factories in London, Ont., sell well all over Canada, and also in the United States. The output of the establishment for the past year was 38,000 boxes, or 2,283,000 lbs. The firm possesses a valuable secret process of manufacture, which they carefully guard. To this process is doubtless due the success of the soaps. Twice since Mr. Lawrason started the manufacture of soap has he found it necessary to enlarge his factory; and still he has none too much room.

The Toronto Board of Trade has instructed the Committee on Legislation to report on the right of a trader selling his stock and then becoming an insolvent.

W. W. Gillespie, grocer, of North Bay, has been missing since Thursday week last. He wrote a note to his wife, which was post-marked Toronto, telling her that he had no further interest in life and intended putting an end to his existence.

We are in receipt of a copy of a special edition of Copp, Clark & Co.'s Canadian Almanac for 1895, printed for the enterprising corporation of H. H. Warner & Co., Ltd., of London, England, who are now sole proprietors of Warner's Safe Cure. It is full of valuable information and reflects credit on the publishers as well as on the enterprise of the English company.

Winnipeg's early closing by-law, which has caused a bitter fight among merchants, received its first reverse Wednesday, being declared illegal as far as the grocers were concerned.

John W. Young, merchant, died four years ago, leaving $19,908.86 interest in the firm of Perkins, Ince & Co., $9,000 in realty and $2,000 in household effects, all to his wife, who died in December, and by her will distributed the estate in various bequests to relatives.

JOHN J. HOLMES.

LESS than ten years ago a young man in his teens left his home in Cannington, simultaneously with his leaving school, to hew out his future. That young man was John J. Holmes, whose portrait accompanies this article. "Johnny," as his acquaintances called him, sought first the experience that business in a large city brought. In pursuit of this idea he came to Toronto, and entered the employ of Robert Simpson, the present proprietor of the big department store at Yonge and Queen streets. In Mr. Simpson's employ he remained for four years. Then he went into partnership with W. G. Latimer, general merchant, Creemore. Four years these two pulled together, and the result was that a prosperous and growing business was soon established. In the meantime, both partners had taken unto themselves life partners. Less than two years ago Latimer & Holmes dissolved partnership, the latter retiring and starting up in Beaverton, ten miles from the scene of his childhood days, where he is still to be found. The success that attended Mr. Holmes in his previous commercial ventures has remained with him in this. Although not two years in Beaverton, he is now one of the leading merchants of that town.

Mr. Holmes has ideas as well as youth, and he exercises both. Hung up in his mental chamber, if not in his store, is this motto: "If you don't attend to business your business will attend to you." And that motto he obeys: He attends to business. As a salesman he is classed A1. And as a buyer he is of no mediocre ability.

"He buys right. He buys good goods. I have never known him to purchase cheap stuff," said a traveler whom I queried.

Mr. Holmes is a believer in the cash system, and although he does not do what is a purely cash business, he has, to use a nautical term, a "big list" that way. He grasps every available opportunity to discourage the credit system, until to-day by far the greater part of his business is done on cash. It is a point with him to take the cash discounts on all invoices, with the result that his profits at the end of the year are materially augmented from this source. Mr. Holmes studies to obtain the confidence of his customers as well as to know their peculiarities, and to this end he believes in and practises the old maxim, "Honesty is the best policy."

While Mr. Holmes attends to his business he does not make himself a slave to it. Occasionally he may be seen accompanied by his wife, behind his own horse, enjoying a drive in the neighborhood of Beaverton. Of field sports, lacrosse is his favorite, and the local team has no greater admirer than John J. Holmes. And, tell it not in Gath, travelers tell me that he can "dish" up a repast of frogs' legs with any chef of the French school. W. L. E.

DAIRYING IN P.E. ISLAND.

The first dairy station was opened at New Perth on the 20th of June, 1892, by Thos. J. Dillon, dairy superintendent for the island, under the control of the Canadian Department of Agriculture. There were about 1,000 boxes of cheese made, half of which were shipped to London. Efforts were also made to place the advantages of this industry before the public, and with such success that the spring of 1893 saw some eleven factories either in operation or being built. These factories are built by joint stock companies of the farmers, and are, as a rule, rented to the Government at a rental of 10 per cent. on the capital invested. The milk is delivered by the farmers, who are charged 1½ cents per barrel by the Government for the making and selling when it is cheese and 3½ cents for butter, the Government keeping the goods insured.

At the end of the season they had over 5,000 cheese to export. The next year, 1894, saw eighteen factories, and as a result of their work 10,000 cheese and 60,000 pounds of butter were exported, and even as late as this date three creameries are working, turning out 1,800 pounds weekly.

The largest dairy station is at Mount Vernon, River Bridge. It took in during the season of 1894 1,393,631 pounds and made 133,466 cheese.

This is only the beginning. No place is better adapted for this industry than this island, and, though only two years in operation, it last year distributed some $80,000. There is no doubt every year will see a large increase in this line of development.

COOKING PRUNES IN TEA.

A lady of Sausalito, says The California Fruit Grower, who has a deservedly high reputation among her friends for the dainty excellence of her household cuisine, informs that journal that prunes are greatly improved by being cooked in tea. The fruit should be soaked in cold tea during the night, and the whole placed on the back part of the stove to slowly simmer until the proper stage of tenderness is reached. The tea imparts a pleasing flavor, and many who never eat prunes otherwise prepared take kindly to the tea-flavored article.

WHY COFFEE IS LIKED.

The mental exhilaration and physical activity and buoyancy which coffee causes, remarks an exchange, explains the fondness which has been shown for it by so many men of science, poets, scholars and others devoted to writing or thinking at all times, and for which reason it has been styled the "intellectual beverage." Preachers, orators, editors and lawyers find a cup of good coffee the gentlest, most harmless and effective of brain-bracers, but it does not appear to be generally known that nearly all men of literary habits who exhaust much nerve force use it constantly. It supported Voltaire in his old age, and enabled Fontenelle to pass his hundred years. It was Voltaire who replied, on being informed by his physician "that coffee was a slow poison." "Yes, I know it is very slow poison; it has been poisoning me for over seventy years;" and Sydney Smith who said, "If you want to improve your understanding drink coffee; it is the intellectual beverage," Brady terming it "The sovereign drink of pleasure and of health," and Pope eulogizing it in the following lines:—

"From silver spouts the grateful liquor slide
While China's earth receives the smoking tide,
At once they gratify their sense and taste,
And frequent cups prolong the rich repast;
Coffee—which makes the politician wise
And see through all things with half-shut eyes."

IMPERIAL INSTITUTE JOURNAL.

We are in receipt of the first number of The Imperial Institute Journal. It is published monthly by the executive of the Imperial Institute of London, Eng., with the object of keeping the Fellows of the institute all over the British Dominions informed of the doings of that body, and the happenings throughout the empire generally. It has correspondents located in all parts of the United Kingdom and the colonies, and should have a very successful career. It is published in large magazine form, and is characteristically English in its "make up." Its front cover is rather artistically designed, and bears upon it a lithograph of the new and handsome Imperial Institute building.

THE GREAT SOAP CASE.

(From the Bowmanville News.)

This case which excited a good deal of interest at the trial was decided in favor of the defendants, as set forth in the judgment of Judge Ketchum, which we published in full in last week's issue.

It would appear Lawrason, the plaintiff, is a Soap Manufacturer in London, Ont., and his agent sold Cawker & Tait, of this place, 50 boxes of soap at a low price and represented it to be equal in quality to the Ivory Bar Soap, manufactured by the Brantford Soap Works Co., Ltd., Brantford, Ont. The defendants found the soap they had purchased would not take the place of "Ivory Bar" which had always given the best of satisfaction, and refused payment, as they had ceased to offer the soap for sale. Hence the action on the part of Lawrason to recover. Evidence was taken at the trial which showed that the soap was inferior to "Ivory Bar," and the trial judge gave a decision in favor of the defendants. R. R. Loscombe, barrister, Bowmanville, for the defendants.—Adv't.

CALENDARS ARE ALL GONE.

LAPORTE, MARTIN & Co., Montreal, write:

"We are in receipt of your last batch of postal cards applying for calendars. We are sorry to say we are out of them since over a week, with 200 demands on hand, which we cannot fill. As you know, these calendars were lithographed in London, Eng., and we thought 1,000 we had received would be sufficient to cover all demands, but unfortunately we find we are short two or three hundred. May we ask of you if you will be so kind as to mention this to your numerous readers so as to save them the trouble of writing.

"We have had a good occasion to test the circulation of THE CANADIAN GROCER, and find it pays us to advertise in it, if we may judge from the territory it covers. In fact, we have received cards from subscribers to THE GROCER from over 50 different places in Ontario alone; also from east to the far west of Canada, and north and south. We wish to present our best thanks for your kind attention, and hope THE GROCER will continue to meet the success it deserves."

REMARKS: Many of our readers misunderstood the notice of Laporte, Martin & Co.'s calendars, and wrote to THE GROCER for copies. Their requests were at once handed to the firm, and we regret that the demand has been so great they were unable to supply it. EDITOR GROCER.

NOVA SCOTIA MARKETS.

OFFICE OF CANADIAN GROCER,

HALIFAX, Feb. 6, 1895.

WE have to report another extremely dull week in the grocery business. No improvement is looked for before March. The market in breadstuffs is somewhat easier, chiefly in consequence of the decline in freight rates out of Boston, which were lowered towards the close of last week. Sales of good patents are slow at $3.25, and some cutting below that for stocks in hand. In fact, we have heard of sales as low as $3.15 to arrive. Manitobas seem to hold their firmness at a cost of $4.30, by the carload, for Lake of the Woods and Ogilvie's. Dealers say there is no money in the business whatever, as the desire to do business, which is very slack, forces a competition which leaves absolutely no margin of commission. Corn meals are lower, and quoted at $2.85 by carload lots. Oatmeals are steady, but, as the stocks are considerable here and the demand light, competition keeps the price equal with the cost of importing. Millfeeds are steady; in fact, firm, with a firmer tendency. Oats are also very firm, and hay is quiet and rather easy.

GREEN FRUIT—Stocks in this line are fairly well cleared up and there is little or nothing doing. There are no Florida oranges on the market, but some Jamaicas are due. The few Valencias on hand are selling for $4; Almeria grapes, in kegs, remain at $5.50 to $6. Apples remain plentiful and at low prices.

SUGAR—The advance in sugar reported does not seem to affect this market to any extent. Indeed, the changes in quotations show a lowering tendency, if anything. The market is inactive. Quotations are: Porto Rico, in hogsheads, 3c.; refined cut loaf, 5c.; granulated, 3¾c.; standard "A," 3½c.; extra white "C," 3½c.; standard yellow "C," 3½c.; yellow extra "C," 2½ to 3c.

MOLASSES—Molasses remains quiet, with no change in quotations: Antigua, none; Porto Rico, 35c.; Trinidad, none; Barbadoes, 34c.; Demerara, "M R" brand, 39c.; ditto (B) "D" brand, 45c.

BUTTER AND CHEESE—The butter market remains dull, very dull. Stocks are heavy, and there is no demand. Canadian rolls are offered at 14½, 15 and 15½c., landed here. Good creamery is worth 21 and 22c. Cheese quotations remain: September, 11½c.; early, 10¼ to 10¾c.

PROVISIONS—Canadian beef is coming in freely. It is better dressed and more tender than native stocks, and therefore is in greater demand. Several carloads were received this week, which were landed here for $6.70. The market is well supplied for the present. Veal is scarce. Mutton is quoted at 7c. and frozen lamb at 7c. Poultry is slow. There is some demand for chickens, which are scarce. Hogs are quoted at $5.50 to $5.75, landed here, with little or no demand. American clear pork is quoted at $19 and $20, and mess do. at $16.50 to $17. P. E. Island mess is worth $16 to $16.50. American extra mess beef is quoted at $13, and plate do. at $13 and $13.50. Smoked hams are worth 12½c.

FISH STUFFS—This line is featureless, with quotations remaining: Dry cod from vessel: Shore, prime, $3.25 to $3.75; bank cod, $3 to $3.25; large bank cod, $4; Bay of Islands,

No. 1 split herrings, $2.25; salmon, No. 1, $12; No. 2, $10; No. 3, $8.

DRIED FRUIT AND NUTS—Only a light business is being done in this line. Quotations are: Dates, 5 to 5½c.; prunes, 6c.; figs, in 5 and 10 lb. boxes, 10c.; do., in bags, 6c.; currants, casks, 3¾ to 3½c.; ditto, cases, 3¾ to 4c.; raisins, Valencia layers, finest, 5½ to 7c.; Valencias, 4½ to 4¾c.; Sultanias, 6½c.; California, $2.25; London layers, $2.50; Connoisseur clusters, $3.25; dried apples, 6c.; evaporated ditto, 8½c. In nuts the quotations are: Filberts, 10c.; walnuts, 10c.; Brazils, 11c.; peanuts, 12c.; almonds, 14 to 15c.

CANNED GOODS—Canned goods remain quiet. Lobsters are reported scarce, but the market is not affected, as the article is always for sale in the shell at low prices. Quotations remain: Tomatoes, pears, corn and beans at $1 per dozen; strawberries and raspberries, $2.25; sardines, $1.50 to $1.75; 2-lb. corn beef, $2.75; 1-lb. ditto, $1.60; salmon, $1.50; lobsters, $1.75; clams, $1.

HALIFAX MARKET NOTES.

W. H. Wentzel & Co., wholesale importers of teas, cigars, groceries, etc., have removed from Water street to their new and commodious premises on the corner of Bell's lane and Barrington street. They have a splendid stock of new goods on hand and enjoy a big trade on the western shore.

P. M. Jenkins & Co.'s affairs are in a bad state. Mr. Jenkins is in Boston, and has written to parties here that he will return. Several drafts came here from the upper provinces shortly after his departure for goods consigned. He left no assets.

A CROWDED BUTTER MARKET.

THE GROCER has interviewed a number of the leading produce dealers in Toronto with a view to ascertaining their opinions regarding the situation in the butter trade.

Mr. Andrew Park, of Park, Blackwell & Co., said that until recently there had been large stocks held throughout the country, but that these were being gradually cleaned out, and that the situation was more encouraging than it was a month ago. There was at present a little more enquiry, and a little more shipping was being done. During the next six weeks, he thought, these stocks would be nicely cleared out. He did not look for much improvement in prices, but hoped to see the old stocks cleared out in time to leave the market ready for spring butter.

White & Co. thought the outlook was growing a little better. Dairy butter was now coming in slowly, partly because of the bad state of the roads, and partly because of the low prices shippers were getting. A little better demand was noticeable for first-class stock, which was bringing a price from 1 to 1½c. better than a week ago.

Graham, McLean & Co. said that big stocks were being held throughout the country. More butter was being made in Ontario than ever before. Rolls were coming in fast, and adverse opinion in England was keeping Canadian tub butter out of that country. He knew of one county in Ontario where in three general stores three carloads of dairy tub butter were held, which the holder would, if he could, sell at 11 to 12c. a pound. In the spring, he thought, the market would be in the same state as it was three years ago, when there was lots of butter offered at 5 and 6c.

John Hawley said that large rolls of fresh country butter were scarce in Toronto, owing to the small prices being offered. There appeared to be no opening for the large quantity of butter in the country. The situation was just as bad in Montreal, where dealers were holding large quantities of the tub article.

According to Mr. Andrew Gunn, of D. Gunn, Flavelle & Co., a good deal of summer butter is being held by the country merchants throughout Ontario, but very few dealers in Toronto are holding large quantities. "The country merchants, with a few exceptions," said Mr. Gunn, "taking knowledge from their experience of last summer, are now shipping out current receipts as fast as they come in."

Mr. Wm. Ryan, when seen, exclaimed: "The market is sick. There is no outlet. A great quantity of butter is being held in cold storage all over the country, and I don't see what is to be done with it at any price. Only fresh, sweet creamery makes are of any use whatever, and June, August and September creamery is practically unsalable."

Mr. James E. Bailey remarked: "The prospects are blue. There is no export demand. Butter has been held too long. The only solution of the difficulty seems to be the marketing of butter while it is fresh."

THE PRUNE SITUATION.

THE situation in prunes at the moment is bullish rather than bearish in character. This applies both to the Bosnia and to the French article.

From Trieste comes the information by mail that "stocks are very much reduced and market is very firm." The firmness has been confirmed this week by cable.

Bordeaux advices, under date of January 8, say: "We are apparently just beginning to have a severe winter, which is having a hardening tendency on prices."

And, in addition to the information that has been received in Toronto by cable and mail, here is what The N.Y. Journal of Commerce has to say on the situation: "Taking the several varieties, the statistical position may be put down as exceptionally favorable, such being particularly the case with the larger grades. * * * The stock of French prunes remaining in Bordeaux is placed at 10,000,000 to 12,000,000 pounds, but a rapid distribution of this is anticipated with the opening of spring. Prices of this fruit are exceptionally low. The French market has, however, developed increased strength of late, and activity of a speculative character is looked upon as being among the strong probabilities of the near future; therefore those holding a supply upon this tide are standing firm up in the present basis of values, confident that a turn in the tone will soon occur, and that more remunerative prices will be realized. The new Turkish have been given no opportunity this season for profitable importation or sale, hence very few orders have been placed abroad."

MILLIGAN A DENVER GROCER.

W. M. Milligan, the Toronto grocer whose disastrous failure was a nine-days' subject for discussion some time ago, is again budding and blossoming as a big retailer. He is carrying on a grocery business in Denver, Colorado, and employs, it is said, a dozen clerks. Mr. Milligan is understood to have recovered his health as well as his business energy.

The question with his Toronto creditors is where did Milligan, in view of his recent failure, get the capital with which to start the big store in Denver.

RE-EXPORTS FOR FOUR YEARS.

The re-exports of Indian and Ceylon tea from London to the United States of America and Canada for the past four years are shown in the following table issued by Gow, Wilson & Stanton, London. Figures giving the quantity transhipped from India and Ceylon, via London, which during 1894 was considerable, have still to be added. Results will then appear much more encouraging, and will probably further stimulate the efforts now being made by India and Ceylon to foster the taste for their teas in the continent of North America.

MANITOBA FARM FOR SALE

..1895..

Section 35, Township 5, Range 23, W., in the Souris District, about 40 miles south of Brandon, and 4 miles from Hartney Station, on the Souris branch of the C.P.R., where there are three or four elevators.

It is considered the finest wheat section in the province of Manitoba.

The farm comprises 640 acres, all under cultivation, and in the finest possible condition, with a large acreage ready for spring crop.

Good House, well furnished ; Granary, Modern Piggery, and first-class Stables and Sheds with every possible convenience ; about 25 head of Horses and Colts (prime stock), besides Cattle, Pigs, etc., Wagons, Binders, Horse Power Threshing Machine, and all implements ready for running a first-class farm. An unlimited supply of excellent water anywhere at a depth of a few feet. Cheap coal ; wood free for the hauling. There is a good school and meeting house on the farm. A live farmer with sufficient capital could, with everything so perfect and complete at his hand, make a fortune by giving it personal attention, which the present owner is unable to do.

TERMS—$5,000, CASH ; BALANCE ON MORTGAGE IF REQUIRED.

While the whole property with the implements must be sold in one block, the furniture, horses, cattle, etc., etc., may be left out, in which case amount required down would be only $3,000.

Owner's only reason for selling is that he is not a farmer and cannot give it personal attention. For further particulars apply to

OPINIONS—OURS AND OTHERS.

WHEN loan and insurance companies all report a profitable year's business, by no stretch of the imagination can the financial state of Canada be said to be rotten.

* * *

Is the United States Congress going to play battledor and shuttlecock with the bond question, as it did with the tariff bill? It looks like it. We who have of late been viewing the course of United States legislators are getting confirmed in the belief that party exigencies take precedence over national exigencies.

* * *

Col. Wright, United States Commissioner of Labor, believes the great Chicago strike was worth all it cost. Let us see; this cost in cash was estimated to be about eighty millions, and in lives nearly a score. But where is the value received as a result of the strike? Some there may be, but eighty million dollars' worth, plus many lives, people with ordinary powers of perception cannot see. Mr. Wright is evidently a gallant conjuror, whatever he may be as a colonel.

* * *

Friends, as well as threatening Wat(t)ers, appear to be around the Acting Commissioner of Customs, if one can be allowed to judge from the remarks of Ottawa journals.

* * *

In the list of January fires published in The N.Y. Journal of Commerce, Toronto holds both first and second place easily, with the two big conflagrations that visited her the second week that month. This fact is interesting, even if it is unsatisfactory.

* * *

It is evident, from the revelations contained in some of the statements of insolvent firms, that a bank here and there stands in need of being read a lesson on the ethics of discrimination in credit.

* * *

This life is full of disappointments. Here, just as we Canadians were congratulating ourselves that our beloved Dominion was taking up a position near the equator, along comes the Frost King and forces the mercury down lower than the "oldest inhabitant" remembers. But it is satisfactory, grim as it may be, to note that his Majesty has been swaying his sceptre over other countries besides Canada.

* * *

If the weather was rough last week, in some lines of trade business was fair.

* * *

The average bookkeeper is an athlete, since he is always running up columns.—Ex.

And the bookkeeper who is getting behind in his accounts must then be an athlete who is running down.

* * *

The grocer who keeps his scale pans shining like mirrors need never fear seeing a guilty conscience reflected therein.—Retail Grocers' Advocate.

No; but he will see more customers' faces reflected therein than he would if he did not keep the scale pans polished.

* * *

In W. D. Matthews the Canada Permanent has an able substitute for the late A. M. Smith on the Directorate Board.

* * *

The reports of the Canadian loan companies all have reference to the commercial quietude of last year, but each and every company has been enabled to pay the usual dividends and add substantial sums to the reserve funds. Aside from demonstrating the healthy condition of these institutions, these facts are exemplifications of what can be done in dull periods by the exercise of caution.

* * *

One of the satisfactory features of the situation in Ontario brought out by some of the annual reports of the loan companies is that the demand for farming lands in the province has recently become greater than for some time past, and that sales are being made much more frequently and readily. It is a good sign to see the backbone of the country developing health and strength.

* * *

During the course of an address the other day Prof. Robertson remarked that "dairying, as an occupation, is a business, a trade, and a profession." Yes, and judging from the character of much of the butter that is placed on the market there is a great deal of the unbusiness-like about the occupation too.

The American Grocer publishes an article describing how fine whiskies are made. It would be superfluous to describe how fine whiskies are consumed.

A subscriber sings: "I would not do without you; I would not if I could." We reciprocate; and if we cannot sing we can indite: We cannot do without the subscriber; we would not if we could. Then give us your hand, etc.

* * *

Again has the cry "come over and help us," reached Canada from Newfoundland. In St. John's alone there are said to be over 1,000 families seeking relief. This probably means four to five thousand individuals out of a population of about 60,000. The Dominion has heeded the cry from this quarter before and it will heed it again.

G. Elsley, Nassagaweya, writes:

"Will you please let me know if my subscription has expired, if so and when, as I do not wish to lose a single copy. I look for it every Friday, I find it a help to me, and worth double the price of subscription."

Why, of course you are paid up, and to the end of 1896. We will see that you do not miss a single copy. A subscriber the other day actually wanted to pay up to the year 2000, but we would not hear of it. Another offer like that would kill us. Subscribers, we want to live.

The Vancouver Board of Trade is asking the Government of British Columbia to investigate the provincial Act for the prevention of the infection of B. C. fruit by imported pest. The Act in question went into force in October last, as a result of which, it will be remembered, large quantities of Ontario apples, said to be infected with codlin moth, were seized and destroyed. It is claimed, however, that the regulations were too expeditiously and too rigorously enforced, hence the request for an investigation.

TORONTO GROCERS' ASSOCIATION.

MR. F. S. ROBERTS, the new president of the Toronto Retail Grocers' Association, on Monday night last presided over the first business meeting of the organization held since his election. The meeting was held as usual in St. George's hall, Elm street.

The Executive Committee reported that the "At Home" would be held on Monday evening, February 18th, instead of the 19th, as at first announced. Arrangement had been made for securing St. George's hall for the entertainment in question.

Secretary Corrie reported he had secured for the night in question the Handel male quartet, Humorists Frank Wright and E. B. Piggott, Elocutionist Neil Burton, and W. T. Harri on as pianist. The president ventured the information that Glionna's orchestra would furnish the dance music.

A somewhat lengthy discussion ensued on the annual bugaboo, early closing.

P. J. Mulqueen started the ball rolling by moving that a committee be appointed to confer with the Trades and Labor Council regarding early closing and a half holiday.

D. W. Clark: I believe if we were to make some strong effort to close at 8 o'clock it would be better. I do not believe in a half holiday. It never did work.

J. S. Bond was strongly in favor of early closing and a half holiday too. "I doubt whether there are any grocers here who pay for the light they use by keeping open at night. I think if the Trades and Labor Council would act with us, shutting up at proper time would be accomplished."

A. R. Williamson: I don't think there is a grocer in the city that does enough business after 7 o'clock to pay for his gas.

Frank Johnston: I do.

Mr. Williamson, continuing, said that, if the grocers would act a little more independently, there was nothing to hinder the stores being closed at 7 o'clock. "I speak from experience," he said. "I have closed at 7 o'clock for the past three years, and I would not go back to the hours I had before for money. I hope that every grocer here will take a stand, decide to close at a certain time, and stick to it."

The motion was seconded by A. G. Booth, and carried, and the committee to carry out its behest was composed of P. Mulqueen, A. G. Booth, Robt. Mills, A. R. Williamson and President Roberts.

D. W. Clark moved that the secretary be instructed to write the Attorney-General's Department asking for a definition of the word "grocer."

P. Mulqueen: Mr. McCleary says it's an Irishman (Laughter).

W. J. McCleary: No, it's a Scotchman.

The motion carried.

D. W. Clark charged that a department store, while advertising 30 pounds of No. 1 granulated sugar for $1, had only given 25 pounds.

Frank Johnston: I know of a member of this association who advertised 32 pounds for $1 and gave but 27 pounds.

P. Mulqueen: Let Mr. Johnston lay his information before Inspector Awde and we will stand by him.

J. S. Bond: I know of a retail grocer in Queen street who only gave 28 pounds where he was advertising 30 pounds.

Secretary Corrie said he did not think the grocers in question were members of association.

The matter then dropped.

Two names for membership were submitted by Secretary Corrie. They were: W. M. Miller, Carlton and Sackville streets, and J. Barber, Wellesley street. The names were entered on the membership roll.

The association adjourned at 10:30 p.m.

SALT MEN MEET AGAIN.

The salt manufacturers have not yet finally settled the troublesome question of prices which has been engaging their attention for some time past. On Monday last an adjourned meeting was held at the Tecumseh House, London, Ont., at which were present these representatives of western interests: Rev. Dr. Armstrong, Moore; John Ransford, Clinton; E. C. Cole, Seaforth; Wm. Gray, Seaforth; J. Carter, Sarnia, and others. A standard price was not fixed, but a committee was appointed to wait on the Ontario Salt Co., of Kincardine, and the Windsor Salt Co., to tell them that their demands for allotments are excessive. Until a better understanding is arrived at, which is expected in a few days, prices remain as they were. Meantime, large quantities of salt are moving, buyers, and especially creamery and cheese factory men, seeking to get in their supplies before the threatened jump in prices materializes.

APPLYING FOR INCORPORATION.

The Samuel Rogers Oil Company, of Ottawa, is to be changed into a joint stock company. An application has been made by Samuel Rogers, Albert Stephen Rogers and Joseph Pearson Rogers, of Toronto, and Wm. Dowler Morris and Mary Ann Morris, of Ottawa, for incorporation by Dominion letters patent as "Rogers & Morris, Limited," with a capital stock of $70,000. The purposes for which incorporation is sought are the purchase, manufacture, sale and dealing in mineral, vegetable and animal oils, and their compounds and products, and railway and mill supplies. This change in the Ottawa company does not affect the Toronto concern. The capital city establishment still remains a branch of the Queen City head office.

WAS A CANADIAN GROCER.

It is learned that the Mr. Ballantyne referred to in recent despatches as having received "an exclusive eternal franchise for an electric railroad in Honolulu" for the good services he rendered in the battle with the rebels in Hawaii, is C. G. Ballantyne, formerly a grocer at Brampton, Ont. He was for a number of years in the civil service at Ottawa, and seven years ago went out to the Pacific Coast, where he embarked in the real estate business.

Six months ago he went to Honolulu for the express purpose of obtaining a franchise for an electric railway, and from all accounts seems to have obtained it in a manner that would gladden the heart of an Everett beyond description.

Mr. Ballantyne is the last man in the world his friends would expect to see engaged in a conflict. He was of an exceedingly quiet disposition, and was never "looking for trouble," as the saying is. Like all boys born in Peel's county town he became enamored with the lacrosse stick and rubber ball at an early age and developed remarkable proficiency—so much so in fact that he secured a position on the senior town team, which, like its successor, the great Excelsiors, was the star team within an extensive radius. He ran a grocery store in the town, and after traveling for a wholesale firm went into the civil service at Ottawa. He is in the neighborhood of 50 years of age. His wife is living in Vancouver, B. C.

MONEY AND STOCKS.

C. P.R. stock still rules weak on the London market. Two reasons may be assigned as the probable cause. The first is the general weakness in Canadian securities consequent mainly upon the unsatisfactory condition of the Grand Trunk, while the decreased earnings of the C.P.R. itself naturally tends to depress its shares on the market.

Commercial Cable is still advancing, selling up to 146 Tuesday. Although it fell off a little later, yet the stock was strong at the close.

Toronto Street Railway is again lower, being quoted at the close Tuesday at 74 asked and 73¾ bid. The possibility of the hoodle investigation is considered to be the primary cause of the decline.

Western Assurance Co's. statement was issued this week. It was not altogether satisfactory. On account of the smallness of the profits it was only possible to add about $10,000 to the rest account. "Since the first of the year, however," said a financial man, "the company has done well, its losses in the United States having been much lighter than usual. This, together with the fact that cheap money is having a good effect on insurance stocks generally, has given Western Assurance a steadiness that might not otherwise have been experienced."

President Cleveland has informed Congress that he has negotiated a loan for sixty-two millions of the 4 per cent. bonds of 1875. The terms of the sale provide a premium on the bonds which makes the net rate of interest 3¾ per cent. The issue has been taken by a foreign syndicate. The announcement of the loan had a depressing rather than stimulating effect on the stock market, because the interest basis is much higher than expected. The gold reserve is now down to about 41,000,000. The new loan will therefore bring it up to the stipulated $100,000,000 mark. ARGUROS.

STOCKS IN MONTREAL.

The past week has been a dull one in the stock market, and up to the time of writing it has not given much indications of opening out. Trading is narrow, and there is little change in the disposition of the active list as compared with the previous week.

At a special meeting of the Bell Telephone Company this week the directors were authorized to issue $600,000 of 5 per cent. bonds, $500,000 of which will replace a similar amount of 6 per cent. bonds now outstanding. The annual interest charge of $30,000 of the company will not be increased therefore, while it will have the use of $100,000 more money. The issue, however, has been discounted, as it was known some time ago, and has had little influence on the standing of the stock.

There was some expectation that the Canada Pacific might make a declaration in regard to its dividend this week. Sir William had returned, and a meeting of directors was held, but the expectant ones were disappointed, as the matter was postponed until the next quarterly meeting.

The investment demand for Royal Electric that we noted last week has been continued, and a fair lot of quiet buying has been done, which has maintained the price of the security.

The annual statement of the Richelieu & Ontario Navigation Co. was made public for the first time this week. It shows a percentage of net earnings on capital of 11.47, against 0.54 in the year 1893. The gross earnings show an increase of $77,446 over 1893, or 11.26 per cent., while the operating expenses have been decreased by $100,000 odd. The net earnings therefore are $147,000 greater than they were in 1893. Two dividends, amounting to $81,000, have been paid, and $43,280 carried to surplus.

A new cheese factory will be erected at Stoco in the spring.

PROPOSED CANNED GOODS DEAL.

WHEN the Canadian Packers' Association a year ago inaugurated the scheme of selling the pack of its different members through a committee, it was asserted that the scheme was by no means considered as complete.

The year's experience was before the members, and what it taught them would probably be profited by when the next annual meeting came around.

The annual meeting, it will be remembered, came around last week; and, although it was decided to continue the selling committee until at least the present pack was disposed of, it was discerned that something further must be done to give permanency to the scheme inaugurated a year ago.

As a result of this revelation, it was proposed that the association obtain control of both the independent factories outside the association and the branch factories owned by the organization.

This is the greatest undertaking the association has yet relegated to itself. The scheme to sell through a committee was probably the most intricate, but in point of responsibility and importance it is overshadowed by the proposal to acquire the branch and independent factories.

President Boulter and Messrs. Marshall and Montague are now in the west negotiating for the securing of the desideratum.

The factories outside the association number between eight and ten. Some of these have already signified their willingness to sell out; and it is understood that the association expect to secure half or more of the independent concerns. But whether less or more will be acquired will not, of course, be known until the negotiators have completed their rounds. The number of canned goods factories in the country is about twenty-five.

If the Canadian Packers' Association succeeds in its present undertaking its position will be stronger than ever; if it fails it will be weaker than ever; that is, of course, granted that the present scheme continues to obtain in its present form. The experience of the past year has demonstrated this, notwithstanding that the selling through a committee has enabled both packers and wholesalers to get better prices than they otherwise would. But this scheme was at best a make-shift, and, as far as THE GROCER is aware, its promoters never considered it anything else. The present idea may therefore be considered as an evolution from last year's scheme of selling through a committee, and consequently an improvement.

CANADA WILL GET HER MEDALS.

When THE GROCER last week announced that, according to information received from Chicago, there was to be a big cut in the number of medals awarded by the judges at the World's Fair for cheese, fruit, etc., Mr. MacLaren, the well-known Canadian cheese expert, and who was one of the judges of cheese at the Fair in question, wrote to Chicago for information regarding the matter.

He has received a reply; and THE GROCER is gratified to know that it does not sustain the charges made against the Committee on Awards.

The purport of the information received by Mr. MacLaren was that no alarm need be felt by those who had won medals on cheese.

"There was no cut made in that department from the finding of the judges," the informant in question goes on to say, "and in fact no cut whatever was made on anything from abroad, including Canada, except in the case of wines."

Why wines have been singled out in this particular THE GROCER does not know.

SHOULD BE GIVEN THE POWER.

ANOTHER attempt is to be made by the Corporation of Toronto to secure a charter from the Provincial Legislature.

This is one of the many attempts that have been made to secure the desideratum, and it is to be hoped that the present movement will bear fruit.

Toronto needs a charter. There are matters concerning her government which it is only right she should be given the power to deal with without being compelled periodically to trot off to the Legislature to get the consent of that institution before a move can be made in the premises.

One of the questions which the corporation needs a free hand to grapple with is that relating to pedlars.

Toronto has the power to regulate those pedlars who reside within her boundaries; but there her power ceases. Farmers and market gardeners, as long as they do not come within the prescribed few hundred feet of the three public markets, can peddle at their own sweet will, none daring molest them. Even if they want to come within the confines of the markets, the payment of a few cents will open the way.

In fairness to the grocers and provision dealers, in fairness to the resident pedlars, these outsiders should be compelled to pay something for the privileges they enjoy. They help cut up the streets with their wagons, and, in a word, enjoy all the advantages of citizenship, and yet take the bread and butter out of the mouths of the storekeepers who have contributed of their means towards providing the well-paved and well-lighted streets which the suburban pedlar uses, but which he neither helped to build nor assists in maintaining.

THE GROCER does not believe in a prohibitory tax, but it does believe that every pedlar, whether he be non-resident or resident, should be compelled to pay a fair license fee. This, under the municipality's present power cannot be done.

FRENCH VS. TURKISH PRUNES.

THE relative merits of Turkish and French prunes is this season occupying more attention in the Toronto market than, probably, ever before.

The source of this attention is probably traceable to the fact that the French article has had a freer field this year on account of the lateness with which the Turkish product arrived on the market.

As to whether the French is crowding out the Turkish prune is a question upon which there is some difference of opinion.

The consumption of French prunes has undoubtedly been larger this season than usual, but it does not follow that the Turkish prune has suffered in consequence. Some assert it has; others declaim with equal certainty that it has not. Of "Sphinx" brand prunes, for instance, it is understood that last year's sales in Canada were 5,000 cases, or over a quarter million pounds, in excess of those of 1893.

The French article is the first on the market. Then it is cheaper than the Turkish prune. Consequently it is the first to sell, while it naturally supplies a certain demand. Wholesalers on the Toronto market assert, however, that at the same price the preference is given to the Turkish prune.

There is, of course, a high grade French prune that is probably unequalled by Turkish, or any other prune, but it is too expensive for the general trade, and therefore cannot be counted a factor in the discussion, which deals only with prunes which enter into ordinary consumption.

In process of development, it will probably be found, judging from present appearances, that Turkish and French prunes will have their respective fields, with the latter encroaching, it may be, on the lower grades of the former, while true enough in a general sense may still be the claim of some who assert that French prunes will not be used as a substitute for the Turkish kind.

The treaty between Canada and France concedes prunes from that country an advantage of one-third of a cent per pound over other growths. This, it is claimed, however, by some of the wholesale houses, will not materially assist in increasing the importation of French prunes into Canada; but this fact must be remembered: The influence of the treaty will not be in the direction of a curtailment of the consumption of French prunes in Canada.

The treaty in question has been ratified by the parliaments of the respective countries, but it does not go into force in Canada until the Governor-General has issued his proclamation decreeing so.

PUSH DRIED APRICOTS.

A COMMODITY that is attracting more attention on the Toronto market than it hitherto has is California dried apricots.

The direct cause of this increased attention is the price.

A year ago the wholesale price was 17½ to 18, and two years ago 18 to 20c. were the ruling figures. Now the quotations range from 12 to 14c., the retail price being from 2 to 3c. lower than the wholesale figures of a year ago.

Cheap as they are, however, it is strange that the consumption of apricots is not larger than it is. The probable explanation of this fact is that the consuming public is not as well acquainted with the fruit as it might be. In a word, the fruit has not been advertised enough.

The dried apricot is a delicious fruit. It has a rich subtle flavor, with just enough acidity in it to create an appetite.

The present is opportune for the retailer to push the sale of this fruit. Most housewives and housekeepers are driven almost to their wits' end to provide dishes of fruit for dessert. Retailers, therefore, should experience no difficulty in selling dried apricots, which make an excellent and inviting dish when stewed; and in pies they are by no means to be ignored.

In order to disseminate information and induce sales, grocers might have some of the fruit stewed and served out in small quantities to their customers. Previous to being cooked the apricots should be soaked over night in water, as probably most grocers know. And this fact should be impressed upon the customers when they are making purchases of the fruit.

OLD EMPLOYEES FRATERNIZE.

There was a merry gathering at the St. Charles Restaurant, Toronto, Friday night, although the cause of its being was regrettable. It was what the menu card called "The first and last annual dinner of the Sloan & Crowther Old Boys' Association." The company comprised past and present employes of the wholesale grocery house of Sloan & Crowther now in process of liquidation, and was drawn together by a desire to fraternize before the several employes finally separated. Among those present were the following: J. Hargraft, W. B. Maclean, W. B. Dack, T. A. Weldon, J. Owen, T. L. Morrison, T. W. Anglin, L. C. Macklem, A. Irving, F. Sloan, F. Scott, T. R. Mullin, C. Russell, W. R. Reynolds, A. Carwardine, W. A. Mills, G. Shelby, F. Pierson, W. S. Burton, J. McMillan, A. W. Taylor, A. Macdonald, George Sloan. Charles Parsons presided. W. B. Smith, A. Hill, J. Hayden, J. Ross and A. H. Lawson, travelers, were snowed up, and consequently they were unavoidably absent. It was 2 o'clock before the last toast had been drunk and the last song sung, when the night's fun was brought to a close with sundry hand shakings and good wishes for each other's prosperity.

FROST AND FRUIT.

Recent telegraphic reports from Florida orange orchards are to the effect that the unwonted cold weather continues. Not only has the greater part of this year's crop been destroyed, but, according to these despatches, the outlook for next year's harvest is ruined, and the crop of 1896 will total only 100,000 boxes, as against 5,000,000 boxes for 1894.

McWilliam & Everist, of Toronto, however, have just received advice from their Florida agents that the situation is not so bad as it has been represented.

Meantime, a report comes from New York that the entire crop of Valencia oranges has been destroyed by the recent cold snap in Spain. This, however, has not been confirmed, and the rumor is not credited, as the Liverpool market is not any firmer than it was a week ago. Toronto dealers look upon the report as circulated by some Spanish shipper, who is just putting a big shipment on the American market.

Florida oranges are now practically out of the Canadian market. Valencias and California navels, the latter of which are just beginning to come in, are taking the place of the finer fruit. If the report regarding Valencias should prove true, the situation will be one almost unparalleled in the history of the trade.

A recent Jacksonville, Florida, despatch stated that the frosts had destroyed the early vegetable crop, the entire strawberry crop and four-fifths of the pineapple crop, at an aggregate loss of $10,000,000. This will, however, not affect the Canadian market. We get no vegetables from Florida, our first early strawberries come from Maryland, and our pineapples from Cuba.

TORONTO TELEPHONE SYSTEM.

The Toronto telephone system is in miserable shape, and instead of being a comfort it is a nuisance.

To make a test a representative of THE GROCER tried three different telephones the other day. With the first one he rang once and waited one minute and a half before the central office answered; with the second he had better luck, having to wait only ten seconds. He rang three times on the third telephone, allowing a minute between each ring, before he got an answer. While speaking to the person whom he rang up, the 'phone was switched off without warning, and it took fully five minutes before he got communication again.

The above is not the experience of business men in other places. The management, thinking it has a monopoly, is probably inclined to say: "The public be darned." If any of our readers are dissatisfied with the service they are getting, let us hear from them.

THE SITUATION IN EGGS.

A Minnesota man claims to have cornered the American egg market. He boasts that eggs are now 35 cents a dozen in New York, and that he'll yet make the people pay 40 cents or compel them to eat "Canadian limed eggs that were laid before the McKinley bill became a law."

Reports from other United States centres say that the extreme cold weather has had the effect of stopping the supply, and rendering the market very strong.

A leading Toronto produce merchant stated to THE GROCER his opinion of the present situation. "Canada," he said, "is practically cleared out of eggs. None of the big Toronto dealers have any, and Montreal has been emptied by New York. A'l this of course makes the local market healthier. Three years ago a somewhat similar situation existed and eggs then brought 30 cents here."

The dealer went on to explain that the reason of the strengthening of the market was the falling off of the supply due to the prolonged cold weather. Points in the United States that were generally free producers at this time of the year were not sending out any eggs at all. The prospect now was that not till the middle of next month would the supply again equal the demand.

Those remarks of course referred particularly to new laid eggs, but the effect of the situation has been to raise the price of the limed article.

A LITTLE POTATO FAMINE.

A feature of the produce market during the past week has been the scarcity of potatoes. The cold weather and heavy snowstorms blocked the country roads and railways, and altogether stopped the supply for some days, and it looked as if Toronto was to have a potato famine. "Murphies" jumped away up out of the store for a day or two, and would have brought a big price on the track had any been offered. On Monday and Tuesday of this week the largest dealer in town bought a quantity of potatoes to tide him over from a man to whom he had sold last fall, paying 60c. a bushel. These he sold at 65c. Had some lucky individual brought in a few carloads about that time he could have made a small fortune. Now, however, the danger is over, and Ireland is safe, for the railways are open again, and potatoes are down to 47c. on the track, and 57 to 60c. out of the store.

THAT SYRUP DUTY.

"Your article in last week's issue regarding the duty on syrups," said a gentleman who handles large quantities of this commodity to THE GROCER, "was very much to the point, but still it did not tell the whole truth. Over and above what you have named as the percentage of the duty, namely, 75 to 85 per cent., is the duty on the package, to which you did not refer at all. Upon my word, I do not know what the Government is thinking about. Is not the enormous duty charged enough? Does it want the earth, I think it is a shameful piece of business. Here the very people who use these dark syrups are the poor people. Then look at the large quantities the lumber men use. Surely the duty of 7 cents per gallon should be sufficient without taxing the barrel, which means something like an additional cost of $\frac{1}{4}$ cent per gallon on the cost. And for what reason do they make this heavy impost? The Canadian refiners do not make this dark syrup. Why, if it was for the purpose of raising a revenue, the object would be much better accomplished if the duty was fixed at 5 cents per gallon, for the present duty is almost prohibitory. O, I think it is scandalous," concluded the dealer, as he irritably buttoned his coat.

DAIRYING IN NEW BRUNSWICK.

THE Speech from the Throne at the opening of the New Brunswick Legislature contains the following passage:

"The liberal provision which the Legislature has made in the past few years for the encouragement of the dairy interests of the province, and the cordial co-operation of the Dominion authorities with my government in this important work, have produced very gratifying results. Three years only have elapsed since the province was obliged to depend very largely upon outside production for its cheese supply. So rapid has been the growth of this industry in New Brunswick that last year not only was the home demand fully supplied by the home production, but there remained a considerable surplus for export, which found ready sale in markets abroad. The capabilities of New Brunswick as a dairying country having been thus completely demonstrated, we may reasonably hope for a more rapid and pronounced development in this direction in the future than in the past. My government will invite you to consider whether, in addition to the continuance of fiscal aid to this industry upon lines similar to those which have hitherto obtained, it may not be well to invest the executive government with the necessary power to enable it to co-operate with the other provinces of Canada in devising a system of inspection of dairy products intended for export with a view to maintaining these products in European markets in their present high standard of excellence."

This is gratifying information, for there is no reason in the world why the hills and valleys of the Maritime Provinces, which are in many respects especially fitted for grazing purposes, should not turn out as large, or nearly as large, an output of dairy produce as its more western sisters.

There is a large market of forty millions of cheese consumers to supply across the water, and why shouldn't our seaside brethren have a slice of it as well as anyone else?

MARKETS AND MARKET NOTES

TORONTO MARKETS.

TORONTO, Feb. 14, 1895.

GROCERIES.

TRADE has not yet recovered from the blow struck at it by the storms of the latter part of last week. Some of the travelers were a couple of days late in starting out this week, while the progress of those who are on their respective routes is still more or less impeded. During the last day or so, however, business has begun to assume its normal condition. Except in the respects noted, there are no particular features to note in local business. Sugars are being cut as of yore, but there is not much doing. Teas are firmer in London, England, but this market, while strong, is neglected. There is a fair trade doing in canned goods. Payments are fair.

CANNED GOODS.

Some good orders have been booked by the packers during the last few days for staple lines at the advanced prices. Orders have been received for carload lots of corn as high as 87½c. The advances noted last week were on those packs, sales of which have come up to a certain percentage. No change has yet been made in the wholesale price of canned goods. The packers are said to be sold out of preserved strawberries. Demand is moderate for salmon, and lobster is dull. We quote as follows: Tomatoes and corn, 85 to 90c.; peas, 80 to 85c.; peaches, $2.75 to $3 for 3's, $1.75 to $1.90 for 2's; raspberries, $1.65 to $1.80; strawberries, $1 to $2.10; apples, 3's, $1 to $1.10, gallons $2.10 to $2.25, and preserved fancy quarters at $1.35 to $1.40; salmon, $1.30 to $1.35 for good red fish in tall tins, and $1.50 to $1.60 in flat tins; do., second quality, $1.10 to $1.25; canned mackerel, $1 to $1.10; lobsters, $1.70 to $2 for tall tins, and $2.25 to $2.75 for flat tins. Australian mutton, boiled, 2 lb. cans, $3.40; ditto, corned and roast, $3.75.

COFFEES.

Nothing new has developed during the week. In the primary markets there appear to be some doubts regarding the future. We quote green, in bags, as follows: Rio, 20½ to 22c.; East Indian, 27 to 30c.; South American, 21 to 23c.; Santos, 21½ to 22½c.; Java, 30 to 32c.; Mocha, 27 to 28c.; Maracaibo, 21 to 23c.; Jamaica, 21 to 22c.

RICE.

No change to note. We quote as before: "B," 3½ to 3¾c.; extra Japan, 5¼ to 5¾c.; imported Japan, 5¼ to 6¼c.; tapioca, pearl, 4½ to 5c.

SPICES.

Business continues to be of a moderate character at unchanged prices. We quote: Pure black pepper, 10 to 12c.; pure white, 18 to 25c.; pure Jamaica ginger, 25 to 27c.; cloves, 25 to 30c.; pure mixed spice, 25 to 30c.; cream of tartar, 20 to 25c. per lb.

NUTS.

There is little or no movement. We quote as before: Brazil nuts, 11 to 11½c.; Sicily shelled almonds, 25 to 26c.; Tarragona almonds, 14 to 14½c.; peanuts, 10 to 12c. for roasted and 7 to 10c. for green; cocoanuts, $4.50 to $5 per sack; Grenoble walnuts, 15 to 16c.; Marbot walnuts, 12½ to 14c.; Bordeaux walnuts, 12 to 13c.; Sicily filberts, 9 to 10c. for sacks and 10½ to 11c. for small lots; pecans, 10½ to 11c.

SUGAR.

Demand continues to fall off, as it is expected to do at this season. Refiners' prices are steady and unchanged. A goodly proportion of the granulated sugar going out is the cheap kinds, the demand for which has been induced by the cutting that is going on in the retail trade at the moment. And all the cutting is not being done by the retail trade either. There is little or no German granulated sugar on the local market just now, but there is more arriving. It is not likely to show good value, for the wholesaler at any rate. We quote: Granulated—domestic, 3½ to 3¾c.; do., German granulated, $3.40 to $3.50; yellows, $2.75 to $3.30. Raws—Demerara, 2½ to 3c.; Muscovado, in 115-lb. bags, $1.90.

SYRUPS.

The demand for syrup is light. We quote: Dark, 25c.; medium, 28 to 30c.; bright, 35 to 40c.; very bright, 45 to 50c.

MOLASSES.

There is a good demand for low grade molasses at about 30 to 32c. per gallon. We quote as follows: New Orleans, barrels, 26 to 28c.; half-barrels, 30½ to 32c.; Barbadoes, barrels, 28 to 32c.; half-barrels, 30 to 34c.

TEAS.

The London tea market is higher than ever on low grade Indian and Ceylon teas. The finest grades are, however, obtainable at easier prices. In fact, there is a decided tendency in the price of common teas, and that of the fine grades, to get in close proximity to each other. No clean-leaved tea can be got for this market in London under 9d. Japan teas are still developing strength. We quote ruling prices on the Toronto market as follows: Young Hyson, 12 to 18c. for low grades; 24 to 27c. for mediums, and 30 to 45c. for high grades; China Congous, 14 to 18c. for mediums, and 35 to 55c. for high grades; Japans, 16 to 20c. for mediums, 28 to 35c. for high grades; Indians and Ceylons, 18 to 22c. for mediums, and 30 to 45c. for high grades.

DRIED FRUIT.

Demand for Valencia raisins is still light at firm and unchanged prices. We quote gold fruit as before: Off-stalk, 4 to 4½c.; fine off-stalk, 4½ to 5c.; selected, 5½ to 6c.; layers, 6 to 6½c. We quote California loose muscatels at 5½ to 6½c.

Malaga raisins are dull and nominally unchanged. We quote: London layers, $2 to $2.25; black baskets, $2.90 to $3; blue baskets, $4 to $4.75; extra dessert clusters, $4; connoisseur clusters, $2.65 to $2.90; quarter flat connoisseur clusters, 90c. to $1.15; Royal Buckingham, $4.50 to $5.

Sultana raisins are quiet and firm at 6 to 7½c. per lb.

Prunes are still in light demand at unchanged prices. We quote: "Sphinx"—"U," 110 to 115 to half kilo, 5 to 5½c. per lb.; "C," 85 to 90 to half kilo, 6½c. per lb.; "B," 80 to 85 to half kilo, 7 to 7½c. per lb. "Atlas,"—"D," 110 to 115 to half kilo, 4¾ to 5c. per lb. For Bordeaux prunes, 4 to 4½c. is the idea.

Currants maintain their advance in the primary markets, and the fruit is relatively cheaper on the Toronto market than in Patras. There is not much doing on the Toronto market. We quote: Filiatras, half-barrels, 4 to 4½c., barrels, 4½c.; fine Filiatras, half-barrels, 4¾c., barrels, 4¾c.; Patras, 5½c., in cases; Casalinas, 5½ to 6c.; Vostizias, 6½ to 7c. in cases and half cases; Panartes, 8 to 8½c.

Figs are dull and nominally unchanged. We quote: 14 oz., 8 to 9c.; 10 lb., 8 to 10c.; 18 lb., 12c.; 28 lb., 15c.; taps, 4¼ to 4½c.; naturals, 6 to 7c.

Demand is fairly good for California dried apricots at 12 to 14c.

BUTTER AND CHEESE.

There is a scarcity of really good butter, and the market is overloaded with poorer lines. We quote: Dairy—Medium to good, 10 to 15c.; low grade, 8 to 10c.; fresh pound rolls, 16 to 17c.; large rolls, 12 to 14c. Creamery—Tubs, 21 to 22c.; pound prints, 21 to 23c.

August and September makes of cheese are quoted at 10½ to 10¾c., and half sizes at 11 to 11¼c. Small Stiltons are quoted at 12 to 12½c.

GREEN FRUIT.

Apples are firmer, and Florida oranges out of the market. We quote: Lemons—Floridas, 150's to 176's, $3 to $3.50 per box; Messinas, $2.25 to $3.50. Oranges—Valencias, $4 to $4.25; California navels, $3.50 to $4; mandarins, $2.50 to $2.75 per half box; tangerines, $2.25 to $2.50 per half box; grape fruit, $4 to $4.50 per box. Bananas, $1.25 to $1.50 for firsts and seconds. Apples, winter fruit, $2.50 to $3.50 per bbl.; fall fruit, $1.75 to $2. Grapes—Malagas, $5.50 to $6.50 per keg. Cranberries, Jerseys, $14 to $14.50 per bbl. and $5 per box. California dried fruit—Apricots, 12c.; peaches, 12½ to 13c.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

BEANS—Are quiet at $1.50 for choice hand-picked, and $1.15 to $1.40 for medium.

DRIED APPLES—A little better demand has arisen, and prices are slightly higher out of sympathy with the change in price of the green fruit. We quote jobbers' prices at 5 to 6c.

EVAPORATED APPLES—Quoted at 7c. in 50 lb. boxes.

ONIONS—Still dull. We quote: Domestic, 60 to 65c. per bag; Spanish, 75 to 85c. per small crate, $2 per large crate; Valencia, $2.50 to $2.75 per case.

HONEY—Dull. We quote: Strained, in bulk, 7 to 9c.; comb, 14c. for clover and 10c. for buckwheat.

POTATOES—Firmer. Prices are quoted at 47c. on the track, 57 to 60c. out of store.

POULTRY—Scarce. Demand especially for chickens is good. We quote: Turkeys, 8 to 10c.; geese, 7c.; chickens, 30 to 50c.; ducks, 50 to 90c.

EGGS—Fresh are not to be had, and therefore limed eggs are firmer and higher. Held stock is quoted at 15 to 18c.; cold storage at 10 to 12c.; strictly fresh new-laid at 25c., and pickled at 12c.

FISH AND OYSTERS.

Oysters are still higher notwithstanding the report that exportation to England from American beds has been stopped. The reason for the maintained prices is the cold weather at the fisheries. They will go down again shortly. We quote as follows: Salmon trout (frozen), 6½ to 7c.; white fish (frozen), 5 to 7c.; skinned and boned codfish, 6½c.; boneless fish, 3½ to 4c.; market cod, 3 to 5c.; tommy cod, $1.35; steak cod, 5½ to 6½c.; haddock, 3½ to 4½c.; Labrador herring, $2.50 per half keg and $5.50 to $5.75 per barrel; ditto, split, $2.75; fresh water salt herring, $3 per bbl.; blue-back herring, 4c.; sea herring (frozen), $1 to $1.25 per 100 fish; blue pickerel, 4 to 5c. lb.; yellow ditto, 6 to 7c. per lb.; mackerel, 14c. each; pike, 5c. lb.; cod, 6c. per lb.; finnan haddies, 6½ to 7c.; Digby herring, in bundles of 5 boxes, 12½c.; ditto, lengthwise, 12c.; large halibut, 10 to 13c. Oysters, $1.50 per gallon for standards and $1.75 for selects.

PROVISIONS AND DRESSED HOGS.

No change in the situation is reported since last week.

BACON—Long clear, 6¾c. for carload lots, 7 to 7¾c. for ton lots and 7¼c. for small lots; breakfast bacon, 10 to 10½c.; rolls, 7½ to 8c.

HAMS—Large, 22 lbs. and over, 9c.; medium, 15 to 20 lbs., 10c.; small hams, 10½c.; pickled, 9 to 9½c.

LARD—Pure Canadian, tierces, 7¾c.; tubs, 8¼c.; pails, 8½c.

BARREL PORK—Canadian heavy mess, $14.50 to $14.75; Canadian short-cut, $14.75 to $15; shoulder mess, $12.25 to $13.75; clear mess, $12.75 to $13.

SALT.

Salt is moving freely in large lots. The producers have not yet agreed on a standard raised price. We quote: Barrels, 90c.; coarse sacks, 58c.; fine sacks, 60c.; dairy, $1.50; rock, $9.

FLOUR AND FEED.

WHEAT—A little firmer than last week, prices having advanced slightly. We quote: White wheat, 64½c.; red wheat, 61 to 62c.; goose, 60c.

OATS—Scarce. We quote: 34½c.

BARLEY—Quiet. We quote: 48c.

FLOUR—Quiet and firm. We quote: Ontario straight roller, $2.65 to $2.75; Manitoba, $3.60 to $3.65; patents, $3.75 to $3.90.

BREAKFAST FOODS—Oatmeal is firmer owing to the scarcity and higher prices of oats. Prices have advanced a little. We quote: Standard oatmeal, $3.85, and granulated, $3.85; rolled oats, $3.80 to $3.85; rolled wheat, $2.10 in 100 lb. barrels; cornmeal, $3.50; split peas and pot barley, $3.75 per barrel.

SEEDS.

Continued cold weather has about put a stop to anything of a home trade in clover and timothy. Canadian red clover remains about unchanged at $6 to $6.25 per bushel for choice lots, lower grades bringing $5.50 to $6.

Alsike continues very dull and depressed, only choice qualities now being salable at anything over $4.80. Really fancy if offered would probably command $5, lower grades $4 to $4.50.

Timothy is practically unchanged, although United States markets are somewhat easier. We quote present values: Choice machine threshed, $2 to $2.75; fair to good qualities, $1.75 to $2.40; fancy flail threshed, $3 per bushel.

HIDES, SKINS, WOOL AND TALLOW.

HIDES—Easy. Local dealers quote 5 to 5¼c. for cured, and for green, No. 1, 4c.; No. 2, 3c., and No. 3, 2c.

SHEEPSKINS—Prices are advancing, and stand at 80 cents for best fresh green stock. Calfskins, nominally, 6c. for No. 1, and 4c. for No. 2.

TALLOW—Remains low, being quoted at 5 to 5¼c.

WOOL—Canadian fleece all cleared out. For round lots of desirable wool 19 to 19½c. is obtainable. Pulled wools are rising. Best supers are quoted at 20 to 21, and extras at 21 to 22c.

PETROLEUM.

Canadian oils of all kinds and American oils have again advanced at the wells from ½ to ¾c. on prices asked last week. This change is the result of the scarcity of crude oil. Toronto prices remain unaltered at

MARKET NOTES.

Aikenhead & Sloan have a lot of fresh lake trout, not rusty, but No. 1.

Lucas, Steele & Bristol are offering their customers "Golden" finnan haddies.

Several thousand pounds of "Lion" baking powder are understood to have been sold by T. B. Escott & Co., of London.

The Pure Gold Manufacturing Co. are contemplating an addition to their baking powder department.

The Ireland National Food Co. report a steadily increasing demand for their self-raising buckwheat flour. Sales so far this season are much in advance of last.

D. Gunn, Flavelle & Co. report the sales of barreled pork this year much in excess of the sales at the same date last year. They also report an active trade in smoked meats.

W. H. Gillard & Co. are in receipt of a couple of carloads of fine Filiatra currants; also a large consignment of "Unicorn" brand of prunes. Both lines are said to show excellent value.

The Pure Gold Manufacturing Co., who instituted the early closing movement last summer, have decided to make it permanent, and will shut down at 5 all the year round.

The Toronto Salt Works have within the past few days shipped away two carloads of coarse sack salt at 58c., two carloads of barrels at 90c., and one carload of dairy salt at $1.50.

"The retail grocery trade is beginning to realize the fact that in handling a good package tea there is no loss or shrinkage," write T. B. Escott & Co., "and we are having good sales of our 'Grand Mogul' tea."

Laporte, Martin & Cie. have completed their assortment of fish for Lent trade. The trade is advised to pay a visit to the firm's warehouse, or write for quotations, as special prices are understood to be offered.

McWilliam & Everist have just received two cars of Valencia oranges, and two cars of California Washington navels are expected this week. These latter will be the first of the kind to be put on the market this season.

"Eureka" crushed coffee, put up in gallon milk pails, is a new line placed upon the market on Monday last by the Pure Gold Manufacturing Co. Their thirteen travelers are said to be sending in large orders for them.

The vinegar works on Stuart street, Hamilton, Ont., owned by William and Michael Doran, were bought by Mr. Fred. H. Yapp, druggist, on Tuesday, for $12,000. Messrs. Doran have retired from the business, which will be managed by Mr. Yapp.

W. H. Gillard & Co. are this week offering a farm for sale. This is somewhat of a new departure for the grocery business, but if their farm represents as good value as their special lines of teas it would be a good investment for someone desiring to settle in the Northwest and make money.

"Nothing like giving the public a change of food," said the manager of the Ireland National Food Co. "It's only a few years since we first introduced our rolled wheat to the trade, selling in very limited quantities.

MARKETS—Continued

To-day nearly every customer handles it, and frequently write us that many people now ask for it in preference to oatmeal."

Saltpetre has advanced $\frac{1}{2}$ c. per pound.

The Berlin Brush Co.'s factory is running overtime. A good sign.

Wm. Paterson & Son report a brisk demand for their soda biscuits.

A direct shipment of fancy Japan rice is nearly to hand with Davidson & Hay.

Smith & Keighley have to hand a shipment of Labrador herrings in barrels and half-barrels.

Perkins, Ince & Co., have a carload of Arguimbau's off-stalk and selected Valencia raisins arriving.

Smith & Keighley have a carload of Arguimbau's selected Valencia raisins to hand this week.

Wm. Paterson & Son have introduced a new line of biscuits called "Sponge Drops." Samples will be sent anywhere on application.

James A. Skinner & Co. have got a "winner" in their No. 15030 pattern glassware. It is said the factory is kept hustling to fill their orders.

The "Nice" is the name of a new biscuit that Huntley & Palmers, of Reading and London, are placing on the Canadian market. It is all that its name implies.

Davidson & Hay have in stock a shipment of Kerr's evaporated vegetables for making soups; also "Oyster Bay" asparagus in square tins, with key openers.

J. W. Lang & Co., have in stock a full line of fish, suitable for the Lenten season. "Our prices," said the manager, "particularly in sea fish, are unprecedentedly low."

Davidson & Hay are in receipt of a shipment of "Bay of Fundy" brand finnan haddie in flat tins; also a shipment of Redpath's "Honey" and "Imperial" syrups, in half-barrels.

No grocer's stock is complete if he does not carry a full assortment of Marshall & Co.'s Scotch fish delicacies, which are now so popular. These goods are nicely put up, and sell well, besides leaving a good profit to the retailer.

THE GROCER is in receipt of a pamphlet publication, being a descriptive account of Southwark and Bermondsey, issued by Chas. Southwell & Co., wholesale and export manufacturers of jams, jellies, marmalades, candied peels, etc., of London, Eng. The booklet is handsomely illustrated with reproductions of Old Country scenes.

A sample lot of prepared Bosnia pitted prunes, "Anchor" brand, are being shown on the market this week by J. L. Watt & Scott. This is the first time this kind of fruit has been shown on this market, although they have been on the New York market for some time. These prunes are only shipped in large-sized fruit.

Wm. Clark, of Montreal, is putting a new line of potted meats on the market. The package is the handsomest of the kind THE GROCER remembers seeing. "And the quality of the goods is on a par with the package," remarks R. S. McIndoe, the Toronto representative. Mr. McIndoe is showing the goods to the wholesale trade, and is taking orders for future delivery. The goods can be retailed at 10c. per can.

MONTREAL MARKETS.

MONTREAL, Feb. 14, 1895.

GROCERIES.

THE storm of the three closing days of last week seriously interfered with communications, and the result this week is a somewhat diminished volume of business in groceries. There are few special features to note. Sugar has ruled steady, and there is still a disposition to place orders for future supplies at the low prices. Coffees have ruled firm, especially Maracaibo, which is 1c. higher. Holders of molasses and syrups are firm and buyers have to pay up for them. Tea rules much the same, and the same remark describes the position in dried fruit, canned goods, fish, etc.

SUGAR.

The sugar market has well maintained the steady feeling noted last week. Demand was good, both on local and country account, until the storm interfered with communications, but since that it has been rather quieter. Buyers still show a disposition to anticipate future wants, the temptation of the low prices being too great, and we hear of further round lots of stock leaving the refineries at $3\frac{1}{2}$ c. for standard granulated and $3\frac{1}{4}$ to $3\frac{1}{2}$ c. for No. 2, with yellows $2\frac{5}{8}$ to $3\frac{3}{8}$ c., as to grade. In a jobbing way prices remain the same also. We quote as follows: Standard granulated, $3\frac{3}{4}$ c.; No. 2, $3\frac{1}{2}$ c.; yellows, $2\frac{3}{4}$ to $3\frac{3}{8}$ c., as to quality. German sugar is not moving very freely at present, and jobbers are asking $3\frac{1}{2}$ c. for extra granulated, while No. 2 Berthier is being jobbed out at $3\frac{1}{4}$ c.

SYRUPS.

In a large way there has been rather more activity in domestic syrups during the week, but the jobbing movement has been under more than over the ordinary. The tone of the market is very steady, as shown by sales of round lots at $1\frac{1}{2}$ c to $2\frac{1}{4}$ c per lb. at the factory. We do not hear of anything doing in American, but quote it at 20c and 22c in barrels. For jobbing trade we quote bright domestic $2\frac{1}{2}$ c, and dark $1\frac{3}{4}$ c.

MOLASSES.

The firm tone of the molasses market is maintained, and to secure any fresh supplies buyers if anything have to meet sellers. We do not hear of any large quantity of business, but note the sale of some round lots of Barbadoes at $32\frac{1}{2}$ c and 33c, and there have been some transactions in Porto Rico at 28c and Trinidad at 27c. In a jobbing way prices on Barbadoes are firm at $32\frac{1}{2}$ c and 33c in hogsheads and 36c in barrels and half barrels.

RICE.

There has been a fair business passing in rice, and prices are unchanged. At the mills we quote: Japan, standard, $4.25 to $4.40; crystal Japan, $4.75 to $5; standard B, $3.45; English style, $3.30; Patna, $4.25 to $5, and Carolina $6.50 to $7.50.

SPICES.

The very cold weather has led to a good local jobbing movement in spices, on which prices rule steady. We quote: Penang black pepper, 6 to $7\frac{1}{2}$ c.; white pepper, 10 to $12\frac{1}{2}$ c.; cloves, $7\frac{1}{2}$ to 9c.; cassia, $8\frac{1}{2}$ to 9 $\frac{1}{2}$ c.; nutmegs, 60 to 90c.; and Jamaica ginger, $15\frac{1}{2}$ to $18\frac{1}{2}$ c.

COFFEES.

The scarcity we noted last week and a good enquiry have led to rather firmer values on Maracaibo coffee, which we quote 1c. higher. Jamaica and Rio have changed hands at last week's quotations. We quote: Maracaibo, 22c.; Rio, $18\frac{1}{2}$ to 20c.; Java, 25 to 27c.; Jamaica, 18 to 19c.; and Mocha, 26 to 30c.

TEA.

Until the storm knocked out the railways there was a good country distributive demand for tea, chiefly medium and low grade Japans. Some round lots of Congous have also changed hands at about 10c. We quote: Japans, low grades, $12\frac{1}{2}$ to 14c.; medium, $15\frac{1}{2}$ to 17c.; fine, $18\frac{1}{2}$ to 24c.; and choice, 25 to 31c.

DRIED FRUIT.

There is no change in the raisin market, which rules quiet and steady, only a small jobbing demand being noted. Prices are unchanged on all kinds. We quote: Off-stalk Valencias, ordinary, 4 to 4½c.; selected, 5 to 5½c.; layers, 5½ to 6c.; Sultanas, 5½ to 7½c.; California, 3-crown loose muscatels, 5½ to 6c.; 4-crown ditto, 7½c. Second crop Californias ½c. less than first crop.

Advices from primary markets are firmer on currants, but the fact is not apt to have an appreciable effect on spot values as supplies are ample. In a jobbing way we quote: Filiatras and Provincials, 3½ to 3¾c. in barrels, and 4 to 4½c. in cases; Patras, 5 to 5½c., and Vostizzas, 7 to 7½c.

Prunes meet a steady jobbing demand at unchanged prices. Bosnias, 4½ to 5c., and Bordeaux, 4c.

Figs are quiet and steady at 5 to 6c., in bags, and 10 to 16c., in boxes.

Dates are as last quoted, and demand is small at 4 to 5c., as to grade.

NUTS.

There is a moderate jobbing trade in nuts, and prices are unchanged. We quote: Tarragona almonds, 12½ to 13c.; filberts, 7½ to 8½c.; Brazil nuts, 11c.; pecans, small, 10c.; medium, 13c., and extra, 15c.; Grenoble walnuts, 13½ to 14c., and Naples do., 13½c.; Bordeaux ditto, 10c.; peanuts, 7 to 9c. for roasted and 6 to 8c. for raw; cocoanuts, $4 to $5 per 100.

CANNED GOODS.

There is rather more enquiry from jobbers in regard to supplies of canned goods, but the actual movement is small, as retail dealers are only supplying local wants. Round lots of tomatoes, it is claimed, have been offered at 80c., but they were not leading brands. Corn has moved at 90c., and marrowfat peas at the same figure. We quote: Lobsters, $6 to $6.50 per case; sardines, $8.50 to $9.50; salmon, $1.10 to $1.40 per doz.; tomatoes, 85 to 90c. per doz.; peaches, $2 to $2.10 per doz.; corn, 95c. to $1 per doz., and marrowfat peas, 90c. per doz.

FISH.

The cold weather has led to a fairly active demand for fish in a small way, but the large supplies on spot still weigh upon the market, both in fresh and pickled fish. Choice brands of No. 1 Nova Scotia herrings have sold at $4 to $4.50, and a few small lots of No. 1 Labrador herrings have been placed at $4.50; No. 2 B. C. salmon have changed hands at $11 to $11.50, and No. 2 Labrador at $13 to $13.50; No. 2 mackerel have sold at $12.50; Red sea trout at $9 to $10; No. 1 green cod at $4.25 to $4.50; No. 2 at $3, and No. 1 green haddock at $3. Fresh herrings are in fair supply and selling at 85c. to $1 per 100 for good medium sized fish. Fresh arrivals of tommycods have sold at $1 to $1.25 per bbl.; No. 1 smelts at 5c. per lb.; fresh mackerel at 10c., white fish at 5c., pike at 4c., hallbut at 8 to 9c., haddies at 6c., smoked herrings at 10 to 12c. per box, and bloaters at 90c. to $1.20.

GREEN FRUIT.

APPLES—There has not been much change in apples, though a rather better demand is to note. We quote: A 1 $3 to $4 per bbl., and inferior, $1 to $2.

more enquiry for these and prices are steady at 5 to 5½c.

EVAPORATED APPLES—Sales of these have transpired at 6¼c. in round lots.

ORANGES—Meet a good demand at steady prices. We quote: Floridas, $4 to $4.50; Valencias, $3.75 to $4.50; Messinas, $2 to $2.50.

LEMONS—Are quiet and unchanged at $2 to $3 per box.

PINEAPPLES—Small demand but steady at 15 to 25c. each.

CRANBERRIES—Steady and unchanged under a quiet demand. American, $15 to $16. per bbl., and Canadian, $9 to $10.

GRAPES—Almeria grapes continue scarce and firm at $6 to $7 per bbl.

SPANISH ONIONS—Unchanged at $1 per crate.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

Eggs—Eggs opened the week stronger and fresh receipts have been well cleaned up, while prices are ½c. higher. We quote: Montreal limed at 13 to 14c.; cold storage at 12 to 13c., and some small lots of strictly new laid sold at 25 to 26c. per doz.

POULTRY—The receipts of poultry have been very light of late, and as the bulk of the stock in commission houses has been cleaned up with little prospect of much more coming forward, and latest advices from the country indicate that supplies have been well shipped out, the season here is considered about over.

HONEY—There is no change in this line, business ruling quiet. We quote 4½ to 5½c. for old extracted, and 7 to 9c. per lb. for new, in tins, and comb honey, 10 to 13c.

BEANS—Quiet and unchanged. Choice hand picked, $1.30 to $1.45, and fair to medium, 1.10 to $1.20 per bag.

HOPS—Dull and prices the same at 6 to 8c., as to grade.

DRESSED HOGS—There is a fair demand for dressed hogs, and prices are unchanged. Car lots change hands at $5.25, and we quote $5.50 to $5.75 in a jobbing way.

POTATOES—The potato market is about steady. Round lots have changed hands at 63c., and we quote 65c. in a jobbing way.

ONIONS—The stock of onions is chiefly controlled by one firm, who are holding for $2 per bbl. in a jobbing way.

PROVISIONS.

There was no important change in the provision market, business being quiet and principally of a jobbing character at steady prices. We quote: Canadian short cut, heavy, $14 to $15; hams, city cured, per lb., $9 to $10½; lard, Canadian, in pails, $9 to $10; bacon, per lb., 9 to 10½c.; lard, common, refined, per lb., 7 to 7½c.

FLOUR AND MEAL.

There is some export inquiry for Manitoba flour, and sales are reported of 1,000 sacks on London account for shipment via Boston. On local account a fair trade was done in a small way, but the market, on the whole, was quiet and values showed no change. We quote: Winter wheat, $3.60 to $3.75; spring wheat, patents, $3.75 to $3.90; straight roller, $2.85 to $3; extra, $2.65 to $2.70; superfine, $2.50 to $2.60; Manitoba strong bakers', $3.75.

The market for feed was active, and a large volume of business was done at firm prices. We quote: Bran, $16; shorts, $17; mouillie, $23 to $24.

In oatmeal business was slow, and the market rules quiet and steady. We quote: Standard, bbls., $3.70 to $3.75; granulated, bbls., $3.80 to $3.85; rolled oats, bbls., $3.90 to $3.95.

CHEESE AND BUTTER

The cheese market furnishes no distinct evidences of any improvement. In a small way, we understand, some lots of eastern goods have been put through at 9½ to 9¾c., so that this is a fair range, while holders of finest western fall makes want 10c. For summer makes prices shade down from 9¼ to 8¾c. according to quality.

Butter continues precisely the same. The demand is solely restricted to local wants and in this connection only fresh late made butter is wanted. Jobbing parcels of late made creamery sold at 20½c. Monday and western rolls at 14c. Held goods are purely nominal, but prospects on them grow worse every day. In fact, it is doubtful if 15c. could be made on held creamery in a wholesale way, while western dairy is not wanted at all, even at 12c.

ASHES.

Business in ashes continues quiet on account of very light offerings. We quote: First pots, $4.05 to $4.10; seconds, $3.70 to $3.75, and pearls, $6.40 per 100 lbs.

MONTREAL TRADE NOTES.

Advices from Patras to brokers in Montreal note an advance of 3d. per cwt. in the price of currants.

Large shipments of eggs across the lines have led to a sharp advance in the price of from 1½ to 2c. per dozen.

Advices from California to A. P. Tippet & Co. cite continued steadiness on California dried fruits of all kinds.

American buyers have taken over five carloads of Canadian onions off this market since our last at $1.75 to $1.80.

Western buyers took about 1,000 odd packages of low grade Congou teas off this market during the past eight days.

English advices state that low grade gunpowder teas are advancing on that market, and are now 1½ to 2c. per lb. higher.

There is little or no Maracaibo coffee to be had from first hands, and prices are 1c. per lb. higher, round lots selling at 23c.

A neat and useful advertisement is that sent out by W. R. Wonham & Sons to their patrons this week, consisting of a nice little box of tooth picks.

Large supplies of all staple lines of fish for the Lenten trade are a feature with Laporte, Martin & Co. They call attention to their ad. in this respect.

Sales agents here state that Canadian canners are booking considerable orders in England for Canadian canned apples and lobsters. Canned lobsters in that market have advanced equivalent to 30c. per dozen.

The first samples of Batger's new Seville orange marmalade were received this week by Rose & Laflamme. Buyers should not fail to read up their ad. on these goods in this week's GROCER.

NEW BRUNSWICK MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE CANADIAN GROCER,

ST. JOHN, N.B., Feb. 13, 1895.

THIS has been a rather quiet week, the great snowstorm at the beginning having something to do with it. It was by far the heaviest of the season. Travelers report a fair business doing on the road. The grocery business is showing a better standing of the quiet season than some other lines, particularly the book stores, there having been four failures within a short time among the largest dealers. In wholesale grocery houses we have been very clear of financial trouble for some time. There is little change in markets. Tea and coffee are firm. Cream of tartar continues low. Ginger is high and steady. The late advance in oil still holds, and the feeling is strong, particularly in American.

CANNED GOODS—At present the demand is light and prices show no change. Dealers are beginning to ask for prices from brokers, expecting when demand opens, as it soon will, they will in many cases have to buy, and consequently they wish to know what it would cost to replace. We quote: Peas, 90 to 95c.; corn, 95c. to $1; tomatoes, $1 to $1.05; new gallon apples, $2.40; corned beef, 2 lb. tins, $2.65 to $2.75; 1-lb. tins, $1.60; oysters, 2's, $2.15 to $2.20; 1's, $1.55 to $1.60; peaches, 3-lb. tins, $2.65 to $2.75; 2's, $1.90 to $2; salmon, $1.35 to $1.40; lobsters, $1.75 to $2; haddies, $1.40; clams, 4 doz. in case, $5.50; chowder, 2 doz. in case, $3.50; scallops, 4 doz. in case, $5.50.

SALT—There is a fair stock held here; prices show no change, there being light demand, and will be till spring. We quote: Coarse, small quantities, 58 to 60c.; factory filled, fine, 90c. to $1; Canadian, 10 lb. bags, $2.80 per bbl.; 5 lb. bags, $3 per bbl.; wood boxes, 20 lbs. 20c. each; 10 lbs., 12c. each.

DRIED FRUIT—At this season the demand is nil. Currants are firm and rather higher. Evaporated apples continue low, though prices are firmer, and goods held cannot be replaced at same price as paid for them. Dried apples, owing to car of Nova Scotia fruit being bought for export, are rather firmer. Holders in Nova Scotia, owing to a demand from both St. John and Halifax, are holding at higher prices. Demand for local trade is light. Prices are: Sultana raisins, 6 to 6½c.; Valencia, new, 4¼ to 4½c.; do, old, 60c. per box; Valencia layers, new, 5¼ to 5½c.; London layers, $2.25; California loose muscatels, 5½ to 6c.; currants, bbls., 3½ to 3¾c.; cases, 3¾ to 4c.; 1-lb. cartons, 6¾ to 7c.; apples, evaporated, 8 to 8½c.; dried, 5½ to 5¾c.; dates, 4 to 4¼c.; prunes, 5 to 5½c.; figs, 11 to 18c.; cleaned currants, bulk, 6c.

GREEN FRUIT—Apples are light sale and prices continue low. A few are coming forward. Weather keeps too cold for much business. Nuts are quiet; the low price of peanuts causes some demand. We quote: Florida oranges, $4.50 to $5; Valencias, $4 to $4.50; West Indies, $4 per bbl.; lemons, $3 to $4; Malaga grapes, $5 to $6.50 per keg; apples, $1.75 to $2.50; pineapples, 20 to 22c. each.

DAIRY PRODUCTS—There is some slight demand for cheese, but buyers are offering but low prices, and movements are light. Stocks are small, but with the dull feeling west and small local demand, buyers do not feel justified in paying holders' prices. The butter feeling is even worse, and sales are hard to make at any price except for extra quality. Even it will not bring full price. Canadian held here is finding little or no sale. A salesman for a local creamery who was here with some two and a half tons extra butter found buyers backward. There is perhaps a little better feeling in eggs, though case eggs continue slow, buyers being afraid of quality. Creamery butter,

20 to 22c.; dairy, 16 to 18c.; cheese, small quantities, 10½c.; eggs, 17 to 18c.

MOLASSES—Some nice Porto Rico in 40-gallon barrels is being offered in this market, and it finds steady sale. Stocks are light, and price continues firm with higher tendency. A better demand is expected late in the month. Barbadoes, 32c.; Porto Rico, 30 to 31c.; barrels, 32 to 35c.; fancy Porto Rico, 43 to 44c.; Antigua, 30c.; syrups, 30 to 35c.

SUGAR—Local demand from retailers is not large. Wholesale dealers are buying freely, both for present and future delivery, at the low prices. Some are expecting a duty will be placed on sugar, which is somewhat of a factor in the market. Prices are rather firmer. As before noted, the demand for German granulated has fallen off. The condition in which a number of lots arrived did not give satisfaction. Granulated standard, $3.60 to $3.75; German, $3.50 to $3.60; yellow bright, 3¼ to 3½c.; dark, 3 to 3¼c.; powdered, 5¼ to 6c.; pulverized, 5¼ to 6c.

FISH—Dry fish, particularly cod, are firm, and stocks are not large. Very few frozen herrings arrived during the week. Demand fair; prices show no change. One or two cars of large Newfoundland herring arrived via Halifax by rail. They are about 20c. higher than bay herring, but are much better fish. Frozen cod, smelt and pollock are in good supply. Pickled fish are quiet, but prices are firm. Smoked show no change. Medium codfish, $3.75 to $3.85; small, $3.35; large, $3.95 to $4; pollock and haddock, $1.75; shad, half-bbls., $5 to $5.50; Shelburne, No. 1 bbls., $4 to $4.15; half-bbls., $2.40 to $2.50; Canso, bbls., $5.25; frozen cod, 2¼c.; pollock, 2c.; herring, 60 to 65c.; smoked herring, 7½ to 8c.

ST. JOHN TRADE NOTES.

The following statement comparing exports and imports of January, 1895, with January, 1894, is pleasing. Total imports, 1894, $189,912, for 1895, $262,280. Dutiable, 1894, $100,459; for 1895, $131,643. Free, 1894, $89,454; for 1895, $130,637. Duty collected, 1894, $45,108; in 1895, $52,196. Value of exports, 1894, $118,479; in 1895, $162,610.

Said a retailer to THE GROCER the other day: "I find your paper improving from week to week. Not the least attractive part of the paper is the advertisements, which, on account of the taste displayed in their make-up, are sure to be read." He made particular mention of E. D. Tillson. "I read particularly those ads. which, by being changed from time to time, show that the advertiser is alive."

C. & E. MacMichael have received a shipment of F. S. Cleaver's toilet soap, which they are said to be offering low to the trade.

Jardine & Co., finding their wholesale business increasing to such an extent, have decided to retire from the retail business May 1st. They will be much missed from the ranks of our first-class retailers, they having been fifty-seven years in business.

At the last meeting of the Board of Trade, Ald. Waring drew the attention of the Board to the opportunities of increased trade with the West Indies, particularly referring to St. Kitts, which, he said, with better communication, would yield a large and profitable trade.

Canned finnan haddies are a luxury about which a great many do not know, but they are selling. Northrup & Co., agents for the brand of "Golden" finnan, haddie report an increasing demand.

Canned clams, clam chowder and scallops, which are also products of these Lower Provinces, are growing in popularity. Theo. H. Estabrooks is agent for Connor Bros.' brands of these goods.

A retailer said to THE GROCER the other day that a daily paper should not give wholesale prices. This, he said, was information which should not go to the consumer, and the retailer should take a trade paper. He thought the Board of Trade should take action in this matter.

Thos. L. Bourke, wholesale liquor dealer, having purchased the building at present occupied by Schofield Bros., wholesale dealers in paper and bags, will move there on May 1.

F. L. Hodgson & Co. intend starting a wholesale business in Woodstock.

A creamery is to be built at Bass River by the Kent Dairy Co.

Northrup & Co. are offering their customers a special tea called "O. K." blend. It is said to be pronounced by judges what the name implies, "O. K."

PERSONAL MENTION.

A. Hutcheson, of the St. Lawrence Starch Co., spent the week in Montreal, calling on the trade with Mr. Thomson, his local representative.

J. Cameron, representing the J. B. McLean Publishing Co., Toronto, was in town on Monday and paid The Journal a call.—Journal, Gananoque.

Major J. D. Hay, of Davidson & Hay, was snowed up for four days last week in a train near Oswego, N.Y. The passengers were without food for 30 hours.

Wm. Jameson, who for a number of years has been connected with D. Gunn, Flavell & Co., Toronto, is about to take charge of a large packing house in Winnipeg. On Thursday last he was presented with a handsome gold watch and chain by his fellow employees.

Mr. C. E. Marquis, formerly of Dickey & Marquis, Pickering, was in Toronto Wednesday. He was on his way to Ripley, where, with his brother W. J., he will in future carry on business as a general merchant under the style of Marquis Bros. On Thursday night Mr. Marquis and his wife were presented by some of the citizens of Pickering with a nice chair each. The business in Pickering will, as THE GROCER has already stated, be carried on by Mr. Dickie under the style of J. Dickie & Co.

Manager Massie, of J. W. Lang & Co.'s sample room, saw a robin on Friday last, the day of the big blizzard. The bird was perched on an ash box in St. Patrick street, and, judging from the manner in which it was doubling itself up, evidently regretted that it had left its southern home.

NOVA SCOTIA MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE CANADIAN GROCER,

HALIFAX, Feb. 14, 1895

THE heavy snowstorm of the past few days has completely paralyzed business all over Nova Scotia. There is virtually little or nothing doing outside the city. Some orders in groceries remain unfilled, as dealers decline to run the risk of sending out goods to run the gauntlet of the storms. A distributing feature of the week is the suspension of the wholesale commission house of Lawson, Harrington & Co. The firm is one of the oldest in the city and their suspension is learned with deep regret in commercial circles generally. They report considerable losses recently in flour, etc., and were creditors of L. & E. Hart, of Guysboro', who assigned a few days ago to the extent of nearly $7,000. The assignment has not yet been placed on record, but the liabilities are believed to be about $50,000.

BREADSTUFFS—We hear of no further decline in the price of breadstuffs at any point, although a cut of 10c. is reported by one miller. He evidently cut the price too low, and his favored brand of flour soon became oversold, wheat being scarce, unless millers are willing to pay an advance. There is no further change to note in cornmeal or oatmeal, in fact, no noticeable change in anything in this line. Quotations are: Hungarian patents, Manitobas, $4.50 to $4.60; Manitoba strong bakers', $4.40 to $4.50; Canadian pastry, $3.60 to $3.70; 75 per cent. rolled patent, $3.55 to $3.65; 80 per cent. $3.40 to $3.50; 90 per cent. $3.25 to $3.35; straights, $3.10 to $3.20; superior extra patent, $3 to $3.10; cornmeal, American KD, $3.20 to $3.30; Halifax ground, do. $3.10 to $3.20; oatmeal, standard, $4 to $4.10; pot barley, $3.90 to $4.10.

SUGAR—The sugar market remains quiet, with quotations remaining at: Porto Rico, in hogsheads, 3c.; refined cut loaf, 5c.; granulated, 3½c.; standard "A," 3½c.; extra white "C," 3½c.; standard yellow "C," 3½c.; yellow extra "C," 2½ to 3c.

MOLASSES—Two small lots of Barbadoes and Demerara molasses have been received, but prices remain unchanged. We quote: Antigua, none; Porto Rico, 35c.; Trinidad, none; Barbadoes, 34c.; Demerara, "M R" brand, 39c.; ditto (B) "D" brand, 45c.

BUTTER AND CHEESE—Up to the time of the financial crash in Newfoundland a good market was found there for butter. That market we do not enjoy now, and that adds greatly to the general dullness in this line. A further decline of ½c. is announced. Good Canadian rolls are offered here at 15c. There are large stocks and no demand. Good creamery is worth 19 to 21½c. Cheese remains quiet at: September, 11½c.; early, 10½ to 11c.

PROVISIONS—The last lot of Canadian beef received turned out very well. Two more carloads are on the way here. Fair Canadian is offered at $6.75 and good at $7. Mutton is scarce, frozen stock bringing 7c. There is very little lamb or veal offering. Frozen stocks of the latter are worth 6c. The market is well supplied with Canadian and native turkeys, which sell from 12 to 13c. Dressed hogs are quoted at 5½c.

FISH STUFFS—The steamer Baracoa is due from New York to load fish for Port au Prince, shipped by Mr. Butler. She will take a cargo valued at $23,000. Apart from this the market is featureless, and quotations remain unchanged. Dry cod from vessel: Shore, prime, $3.25 to $3.75; bank cod, $3 to $3.10; large bank cod, $4; Bay of Islands, No. 1 split herrings, $2.25; salmon, No. 1, $12; No. 2, $10; No. 3, $8.

GREEN FRUIT—Owing to the severity of the weather only stocks enough to supply the city trade are being handled. Valencia oranges are quoted at $4 and $6. Some nice Jamaicas have been received. Apples are plentiful and very cheap. Lemons are worth $3.

EGGS—The egg market is dull. Good fresh stock is selling for 18c. There is an abundance of store stock for which there is no demand.

HALIFAX MARKET NOTES.

Mr. Fred. Ward has been admitted a member of the firm of J. P. Mott & Co., dealers in soaps, spices, etc.

Advices received from the Controller of Customs are to the effect that the obnoxious Customs regulation in reference to the publication of imports and exports has been rescinded. The old rule is again in force.

The goods, furniture, etc., in the ware-rooms and offices of P. M. Jenkins & Co., commission merchants, have been sold at auction under a warrant of distress for rent. Nearly 200 cases of canned goods went very low. Jenkins is in Boston.

The annual meeting of the shareholders of the People's Bank of Halifax was held on Tuesday. The net profits for the year amounted to $70,029.21, to which has to be added the balance of $15,821.82 brought forward from January, making in all $85,851.03.

THE QUESTION OF HELP.

As there are two sides to a question, so are there two ways of doing one's duty, and although there is room for argument regarding the former, there can be none regarding the latter, says an exchange. The only way to do one's duty is to do it rightly.

The great trouble with the notion clerks to-day, and too frequently with many a buyer and manager also, is that instead of doing their work—work that they are hired to do—in a pleasant and willing manner, they are all trying to see how little they can do. "Do with your might what your hands find to do," would be a good motto to be placed so that every employe would be constantly reminded of it; but the great trouble lies in the fact that salespeople are wilfully careless, wasting most valuable time that is or should be money to their employer.

It is strange with what an unwilling spirit the majority of salespeople wait on customers, especially in the larger stores—stores where every convenience is provided for their benefit through the kindness of their employers. This thoughtfulness for their welfare they repay by neglecting their employer's interests, a neglect that in many instances is fatal with a customer, who frequently judges a store by the treatment she receives from the individual clerk.

This entire trouble with the employes seems to originate in a sort of a don't-care feeling that has become a disease in many stores—a disease which has become epidemic, spreading with alarming rapidity throughout the large retail centres. That it has reached its present proportions is to a great extent the fault of the managers, who, disliking to make changes and perhaps fearing to jump from the frying pan into the fire, have been wilfully blind to the carelessness with which salespeople wait upon trade.

In recent conversations on this important point many managers acknowledged the existence of the evil and the results that must necessarily follow. Yet they appear to be indifferent and allow customers to stand patiently or impatiently waiting to be served, while the clerks talk with each other, rather than call them, for when called they come in such a reluctant manner as often disgusts a customer and causes her to mentally vow that she will never go into that store again.

This trouble exists to a greater or less extent in all dry goods stores, and as there is no disease without a remedy, if it can only be found, so there must be some way to remedy this. Many a manager will say, "I know that this trouble exists, but the salespeople are all alike, and if I discharge all my help the next lot will be just as bad, or rather worse, for in addition, they will be green and have to be broken in."

There is a great deal of truth in this, and it is a good excuse for one who believes in the adage, "of two evils choose the least." For the live manager, however, who says, "of two evils choose neither, but rather seek the good," there must be a better solution of the question. In order to cure a disease an experienced physician always strives to get at the root of the evil, and this whole trouble has its foundation in a distaste for work, from which springs that don't-care, drifting sort of disposition whose only thought is to get through the day with the least work possible.

There is hardly a notion department but what has at least one good clerk who can always be depended upon, whose section always looks clean and inviting and who is always a favorite with customers. This kind of clerk is far too scarce, and many a manager often says, "If they were only all like that, what a difference it would make in the department!" It would indeed, and it should be the aim of every manager to strive to have them "all like that." The reason why such a clerk raises himself above the others is because she loves the work. That is the great secret of success in any field.

Too few, alas! are there who have this love of work born in them. It is possible, however, to cultivate this love, easy, in fact, with those, unfortunately far too few, who have a conscientious sense of duty.

The fact is, too few managers take interest enough in this question to strive to cultivate a love of work. Too many only scold because a thing is not done, or if done, done in such a way as to meet with their disapproval, instead of striving to establish a system of doing work and creating a spirit in the performance of the same that will cause everything to be properly done through a love of the doing.

The majority of salespeople to-day are not naturally cross and discourteous, but, to use a plain term, and one that they will probably resent, simply lazy, which is something far worse. Much tact and patience on the part of the manager is required to handle such help, and still more tact and patience to get them out of the old ruts into which they have fallen. Precept is good, but example is far better, and it is only by the hardest kind of work that a lazy, careless set of clerks can be transformed into a brisk, business-like and model staff of co-workers.

REPORT OF THE CANADIAN FISHERY COMMISSIONERS

(MR. W. G. GUNN, WALKERTON, ONT., AND M. G. MCLEOD, NEWHAVEN.)

Through a letter of introduction procured for us by the High Commissioner in London, we were courteously shown thro' Messrs. MACONOCHIE BROTHERS' CANNERY, IN SCOTLAND, where some 400 hands are employed. This establishment uses up an immense quantity of Herrings, all of the very best quality. The greatest care is exercised in the selection of these fish; they are put up in 1-lb. tins; Herrings put up this way are very delicious, many people preferring them to canned salmon. The girls who clean these Herrings and put them up do their work very rapidly. The Herrings canned at this establishment are sold in Great Britain, exported to the East Indies, Australia, and the Cape. After we had gone over the establishment in question, we were treated to the contents of a can of Herrings, and can truly testify that we never before tasted anything in the Herring line so delicious and fine flavored.

THE ADVANCES IN WOOL.

FOR some time past large quantities of Canadian fleece wool have been disposed of in the American market, and as the supply has rapidly diminished, just so rapidly has the price paid increased. Now, the Canadian market is reported entirely cleared of Canadian fleece, and with this report has come a further jump of from $1\frac{1}{2}$ to $2\frac{1}{2}$ cents in the market price.

A review of the course of the wool trade during the past year has been, strange to say, in favor both of Canadian growers and Canadian manufacturers. This, at first sight, may seem to be a contradiction in terms, but an explanation is easy. It is simply this: Fleece combing wools have gone up in price, and pulled wools have gone down. Fleece combing wools are grown in Canada and exported; pulled wools are imported for the manufacture of domestic knitted goods, etc.

Fleece combing wools have gone up in price on the Canadian market on account of free entry into the United States, and because the worsted manufacturers of that country find that Canada's long clipped wool just suits them. They use this wool for the manufacture of yarn, braid, serges, dress goods etc. Some Canadian manufacturers have sold large stocks of Canadian fleece during the past six months, and bought United States pulled wool with the proceeds, the exchange being profitable, and the pulled wool more suitable for certain classes of manufacturing.

A glance at the course of the markets during the past few months is interesting. On Jan. 18 the prices stood:

Fleece, combing...	17 to 18	cts. per lb.
“ clothing...	20 to 20	“ “ “
Pulled combing...	17 to 18	“ “ “
“ super.....	20 to 22	“ “ “
“ extra.....	24 to 26½	“ “ “

Prices were about average, and fleece and pulled combing, the two classes we have been discussing, were about the same price.

On May 31, 1894 prices were as follows:

Fleece, combing...	15 to 16	cts. per lb.
“ clothing...	18 to 20	“ “ “
Pulled combing...	16 to 17	“ “ “
“ super.....	17 to 19	“ “ “
“ extra.....	21 to 22	“ “ “

Here it will be noticed that pulled combing was even higher than fleece, as the change in the United States tariff was not definitely settled. This change took place in August, and the result was not fully apparent until late in the year.

Now look at the prices on Dec. 6, 1894:

Fleece, combing...	17 to 18	cts. per lb.
“ clothing...	18 to 20	“ “ “
Pulled combing...	15 to 16	“ “ “
“ super.....	17 to 19	“ “ “
“ extra.....	21 to 22	“ “ “

Here the price of pulled combing is two cents lower than fleece combing.

Since the last-named date, prices have gone up all round from $1\frac{1}{2}$ to $2\frac{1}{2}$ c., but Canadian fleece still maintains the advantage over American pulled combing.

CREDIT IN BUSINESS.

C. E. C., Dorchester, writes: “How many retailers in the Dominion have failed in the last 10 years, resulting directly or indirectly from the credit system?”

Remarks: It is impossible to fully answer this question. In the first place the commercial rating agencies, from whom alone any such information is obtainable, in recording the causes of failures, have not separated the disasters in the retail from those in the wholesale world. In the second place, even these records extend back only ten years. According to Bradstreet's, in 1891 the percentage of failures in Canada due directly to injudicious credit was 1.7 per cent.; in 1892—.8 per cent.; in 1893—1 per cent., and 1894—.7 per cent. In these four years respectively the total number of failures in Canada was 1,846, 1,682, 1,781 and 1,873. The number of failures due directly to injudicious credit was therefore 31 in 1891; 13 in 1892; 18 in 1893, and 13 in 1894. As the question as to how many failures result “indirectly” from the credit system covers so wide a ground, it is impossible to even approximately answer it.

RAISE THE BUTTER INDUSTRY.

THE statement made by Professor Robertson at Toronto the other day that the Dominion Government had under consideration a proposition to advance 20c. per lb. on late winter-made creamery butter from the 1st of January to the 31st of March was corroborated by the Minister of Agriculture himself in Montreal this week.

Addressing a gathering of creamery men, the Hon. Mr. Angers said that the Government had made up its mind on the point provided that the proposition was acceptable to the factorymen.

It may be possible that this proposition of the Government to advance 20c. per lb. on all fine fresh winter creamery, delivered at certain points for export, will tend to relieve the congestion of the market, but we doubt it.

The weight that is now pressing upon the market is not the late made winter creamery, but the stock of summer goods that has been carried on speculation in cold store.

There is neither any local nor export demand for the latter stock. The local demand is all for late made winter creamery, which at present is jobbing out at 20½c., and if the Government offers 20c. per lb. it is quite likely that local jobbers at the large markets in Canada will offer more and get this late made butter, for it is the only kind they can sell. The usefulness and practicability of the advance, therefore, are doubtful.

The secret of our depressed butter market this year can be traced to different sources. First, the holding of our butter for three months on speculation, and then the fact that a large quantity of old butter had been carried over in England in previous seasons, and was weighing on the market.

The only way to secure an increased consumption of Canadian butter in England is to show the English consumer that we can make fresh butter by shipping it to him in that condition. THE GROCER has taken this stand before and is pleased to note that the butter makers are coming around to its view of the case.

During the past fortnight there have been several conventions held in Quebec of butter makers, who unanimously decided that something had to be done to revive our butter industry. To do this they admitted that it was urgently necessary to get the butter before the English consumer fresh. To do this, it is proposed that the Provincial Governments in Ontario and Quebec shall each vote a bonus of $20,000, or about 1 cent per lb., to the creamery industry, to be paid to such factorymen as will agree to ship butter either weekly or fortnightly to the English market.

The Quebec Government officials have taken a favorable view of the proposition, and the Federal Government, through the Minister of Agriculture, have promised that if there is butter to ship they will see that there is cold storage for it here and in transport, both on the railways and steamships, and on the other side, so that it will reach the English consumer fresh.

If this can be done, and the fact proved to the Britisher that our butter is fully the equal of any other when fresh, there is no reason why Canada should not have a slice of the market of £13,000,000, of which little Denmark supplies £6,000,000 worth, against our miserable £190,000 worth.

A TURN IN THE EGG MARKET.

The price of eggs had a sharp advance in Montreal on Tuesday last, jumping over 1½ to 2c. to 25 to 26c. per dozen on fresh, and 13½ to 14½c. on limed stock.

Considering the tendency of the market during the past eight days, the surprise is not that this advance should have taken place, but that it should not have come sooner.

During the past eight or ten days a large quantity of held eggs have been taken off the Montreal market to the United States. Western men who held large lines of consigned stock in warehouse there instructed their agents to forward them to New York or Boston, as the case might be, where they struck a rising market, and did remarkably well.

The result is that the market has been almost cleaned up of eggs, and at the date of writing sellers will not dispose of any large line of stock, as they fear that they may lose something by doing so.

This turn in the egg market was badly needed, for what with depression in cheese, butter and eggs, the produce dealer's lot has not been a very happy one this season.

REPLY FROM PROF. ROBERTSON.

Editor GROCER,—I need not remark that I have no taste for writing letters to the press merely for the sake of having the last word, or unless there be some good end to serve by what I have to say.

The article in THE CANADIAN GROCER of Feb. 8th. is wholly in error when it says: "What we do assert, and what the Professor's letter in The Gazette bears out, is that he advises manufacturers to store and hold their butter until the fall." If any such a meaning has been taken from my language or from my course of action, then, I have been misunderstood. I have stated the fact that the creamery butter made in Canada during June and July is nearly always held by somebody until August, or later. My advice to the manufacturers of butter and the handlers of it has been, that if butter is to be held, cold storage accommodation should be provided, where it may be held so that the quality will not be injured. The cold storage accommodation and facilities which it is proposed to provide will be equally available and beneficial to the farmers, the manufacturers and the butter buyers.

The great point to be sought by Canadian manufacturers and shippers of butter is to put the Canadian butter on the English market in such a condition as to its quality that it will command the highest price which is being paid for any butter at the time when it reaches the market there for consumption.

The falling off in the price and value of creamery butter, which was purchased during the summer of 1894 at from 19 to 20c. per pound, has not been owing to a depreciation in the general price for fine butter as much as to deterioration in the quality of butter from the want of the cold storage accommodation for which I have been agitating.

The statement about the price for Danish and Irish butter in THE GROCER is inaccurate. Instead of the season of production being past its flush, with a decreasing output from July and August onwards, the opposite is the case, as the Danish farmers have studied to produce their butter in largest quantity from September onwards, when the weather is cool for shipment and the general market price in Great Britain is higher than during the hot weather of summer.

GOOD ROADS ASSOCIATION.

ABOUT 150 delegates were present when the second annual convention of the Good Roads Association was opened in Toronto on Thursday last, with President Andrew Patullo, of Woodstock, in the chair.

In his opening address Mr. Putullo noted that though the association was only a year old, during the last few months the objects of the organization had been brought before the people of the province by the distribution of 20,000 pamphlets bearing on the subject, and by means of addresses of speakers sent out to the various meetings of the Farmers' Institutes.

Lieutenant-Governor Kirkpatrick and Hon. Mr. Dryden, Minister of Agriculture, addressed the convention briefly. Both dwelt on the unsatisfactory results obtained from the present system of statute labor, and expressed themselves as in favor of the appointment of permanent and properly qualified overseers for the improvement of roads in the various districts.

Prof. Robertson, of the Dominion Experimental Farm, spoke of the necessity of good roads in connection with the dairy industry, and Mr. A. W. Campbell, city engineer of St. Thomas, Ont., read an interesting paper on the question.

A. F. Wood, ex-M.P.P., Hastings, read one of the best papers given before the association. In the county of Hastings there are three hundred miles of first-class roads. The cost per mile he put at $2,000, with maintenance at $40 per mile per annum. The cost to the county is $12,000 per annum, and the roads are free. The work is done under a road superintendent and gangs of expert roadmakers. A committee of the County Council superintends the work. The expense is saved twice over annually to the farmers owing to the lessening of the cost of marketing produce.

At Friday's session the thanks of the association were tendered to the Hon. Mr. Dryden, Minister of Agriculture, for the service rendered the Good Roads Association in having 20,000 copies of reports printed last year, and requesting him to have printed an increased number of this year's proceedings.

The directors for the year were instructed to send out circulars to the various municipal councils of the province, to the agricultural associations of various kinds, the boards of trade and other representative bodies, to local Good Roads associations, and for submission to public meetings of ratepayers, to ascertain what public opinion is on the subject of road improvement and the laws relating thereto.

These officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, A. Patullo, Woodstock; first vice-president, J. F. Bear, Black Creek; second vice-president, A. W. Campbell, St. Thomas; sec.-treas., K. W. McKay, St. Thomas; executive committee—A. Mahon, Aberfoyle; J. Sheppard, Queenston; Alan Macdougall, C.E., Toronto; J. C. Judd, Morton; M. Kennedy (Mayor) Owen Sound; W. F. Campbell, Brantford; J. H. Wooley, Simcoe; Robt. Jelly, Jellyby, E. Kidd, and N. Gower.

THE SUCCESSFUL GROCER.

Do you want to be a "two-for-five" grocer? asks Artemus Ward in The American Grocer. It is not thought to be the most honorable kind of business. "Two-for-five" buyers, from the woman who wants two seats for five cents in the street cars and will not move up to accommodate others, on to the "two for-five" cakes of soap, are not first-class, substantial customers. The successful grocer is the one who supplies good goods at fair prices, and who conducts his business independently.

Now, I know full well that the majority of the readers of this paper know more about some of these points than I do, but that leads me to another class, substantial customers. The successful class feel that they know all about the business themselves, that they do not need the advice of the trade paper, that it is no benefit to them to have the greenhorns of the business educated. These are great fallacies. The discussing of subjects on which they are fully informed keeps their minds active in the work. The professor of mathematics in the great college does not scorn the practice which comes to him in talking about or teaching the lesser arithmetic to the junior classes. The fencer finds practice even with half-trained opponents. When the successful grocer thinks he has no interest in the elevation of the lower half of the trade, he errs more than ever. The elevation of an entire class elevates every member of it; commercial life is made more honorable, or more secure, or more successful as a whole; it is not only the weak ones who gain the benefit—the strong ones gain still more strength.

THE GREAT SOAP CASE.

(From the Bowmanville News.)

This case which excited a good deal of interest at the trial was decided in favor of the defendants, as set forth in the judgment of Judge Ketchum, which we published in full in last week's issue.

It would appear Lawrason, the plaintiff, is a Soap Manufacturer in London, Ont., and his agent sold Cawker & Tait, of this place, 50 boxes of soap at a low price and represented it to be equal in quality to the Ivory Bar Soap, manufactured by the Brantford Soap Works Co., Ltd., Brantford, Ont. The defendants found the soap they had purchased would not take the place of "Ivory Bar" which had always given the best of satisfaction, and refused payment, as they had ceased to offer the soap for sale. Hence the action on the part of Lawrason to recover. Evidence was taken at the trial which showed that the soap was inferior to "Ivory Bar," and the trial judge gave a decision in favor of the defendants. R. R. Loscombe, barrister, Bowmanville, for the defendants.—Advt.

OPINIONS—OUR OWN AND OTHERS

Uncle Sam may negotiate a new loan, but until the currency is on a new basis, loans will count for naught in restoring the confidence now so marked by its absence.

* * *

Inquests were held in London, England, last week upon the bodies of eighty persons who had died as a result of the severe cold weather. In Canada, the mythical ice-bound country, we have not this many in a decade. English journalists will please take a note of this for future reference.

* * *

Two churches in London, Ont., went up in smoke and now business men in the Forest City are consumed with a desire to put more insurance on their property.

* * *

Advertise when trade is dull to bring it, and advertise when trade is brisk to keep it.

* * *

The Ohio Merchant urges retailers to agree not to purchase from wholesale houses that sell to department stores. Nobody can blame the retailer for refusing to deal with a wholesaler who supplies goods to a concern that is "eating him out of house and home" as it were. But what good will that work, even if the influence is strong enough to force the offending wholesaler out of business? The vital question is not the destruction of the wholesaler. It is the counter-acting of the evil results of the department stores; and that cannot be accomplished by killing the wholesalers, for, the wholesalers dead, the department stores will get goods.

* * *

If the hopes of the farmers of Manitoba were not as fully realized on account of the low prices received for wheat, their feelings should be to some extent mollified because of the unusually large shipments of cattle which, according to the speech of Lieut.-Governor Schultz, they last year sent out of the province. Manitoba can raise good cattle as well as good wheat and it is gratifying to know that the fact is being realized.

* * *

The marine interests during the year had been very satisfactory, and the ship-building industry had thriven well during the year.

The above is an extract from the annual report of the president of the Collingwood Board of Trade. Coming at the time when most ports report lagging marine and ship-building industries, the little town on the Georgian Bay is to be particularly congratulated.

* * *

The silver men of the United States profess to have discovered an unrepealed statute which they claim will bring about free coinage of silver—and, it might be added, lots of credit to the country.

* * *

It is understood that the Alaska Packers' Association has practically decided to have prices for 1895 pack red Alaska salmon the same as those made on the last pack, viz.: 90c. for lots of 75,000 cases, 92 1/2 c. for lots of 25,000 cases, 95c. for lots of 5,000 cases, 97 1/2 c. for lots of 1,000 cases, $1 for carload lots—all f.o.b. San Francisco.—Ex.

In order to complete the cycle, it will now be in order for the farmers to fix next year's price of wheat, refiners the price of sugar, growers the price of currants, employees the rate of wages. Yes, and let us all fix the day and hour of our death.

* * *

A Brandon, Man., clergyman says it is unchristian to skate. That's so; a man is likely to say naughty words if he falls. But isn't that the fault of the skater's inefficiency? Narrowed down, then, it comes to this: If you cannot keep your feet it's a sin—that is, skating; if you can it is not. Grocery clerks particularly are requested to take warning.

* * *

Some of the gold that is going toward building up the depleted United States Treasury is from Canada. "A friend in need is a friend indeed."

* * *

The net deficit on the Grand Trunk railway system for the half year ending December 31 was £141,200, and of course there will be no dividend. The same old story.

And oft will it be repeated unless radical changes in the system of management are inaugurated.

* * *

It does not at all "soap" over the animosity of the retail grocer towards the departmental stores to know that "sunlight" is lighting the way for his customers to these big concerns.

* * *

A small premium on gold was established in New York on Friday last. Is this the beginning of the predicted period when a premium on gold would obtain unless the United States mended its financial way?

* * *

Siegel, Cooper & Co., the big Chicago departmental store firm, are opening up a new grocery department. It will occupy the entire fifth floor of the building, and, in the words of the firm's announcement, "will be the largest space in the world exclusively devoted to groceries." Only those who have seen the enormous area the Siegel-Cooper building occupies will have anything like an adequate conception of the vast extent of this new grocery department.

* * *

"Bread or Work" is the cry of the unemployed of the east end, and it is now swelling louder than ever.—Montreal despatch.

And yet when the city engineer of Montreal wanted to employ 1,500 men the other day to shovel snow all he could get was one-third that number. Too often the men who want bread are not the men who want work.

* * *

A daily paper says that the name of Major J. D. Hay, of Hudson's Bay, is being canvassed as a candidate in North Simcoe for parliamentary honors. By-the bye, Major J. D. Hay, M.P., would be quite euphonious. And where there is euphony and ability combined, what more can any constituency desire? Nothing. Electors of North Simcoe,—Gentlemen, you — But, hold on! Major Hay has not yet said he will run. Perhaps we had better not issue an address to the electors until he has acquiesced.

OUR LEADING MERCHANTS.

T. P. MCGILLICUDDY.

THE subject of this sketch, who carries on a grocery and wool business at Harriston, Ont., is one of the most successful of our young business men.

Born on a Canadian farm thirty-five years ago of Irish parentage, he is possessed of the sturdy characteristics of a good yeoman stock, offset and enhanced in value by a brightness and cheerfulness that is only traceable to Hibernian origin.

On attaining manhood Mr. McGillicuddy went in search of fortune or adventure to the Western States, and spent several years in the wilds of Colorado and Nevada.

Five years ago, however, he joined the counter-migration to Canada which set in about that time of young men who had gone to the States and got sick of it over there. On returning to his native land he started out in his present business, soon attaining to no small measure of success. A proof of the natural abilities of the man is found in the fact that he has thus succeeded without any previous business training.

He has passed unscathed through the war waged by the Patrons of Industry against the business men of the country towns and villages. Though a Reformer in politics he has taken considerable interest in the Patron movement, sometimes in fact appearing on the platform in support of a farmers' candidate.

Another surprising fact is that though he is a Roman Catholic in religion, he claims that two-thirds of his customers are Orangemen. Mr. McGillicuddy takes advantage of every lawful means to increase his business, and many men in a like position would do well to emulate his wholesome example.

TORONTO TOO SLOW.

When I read the remarks in THE GROCER by the Toronto manager of the Bell Telephone Co., on the comparative efficiency of the Montreal and Toronto services, I was willing to take his word for it that Toronto was the better. I happened to spend the week following the appearance of the article in Toronto, and decided to test it for myself, and found that the Toronto system was even worse than it at first appeared. I had to use the telephone frequently, and at different places, and in hardly a single instance was a prompt answer given. It was necessary to ring Central twice. In the ten days since, on not one occasion was it necessary to repeat the call to the Central office in Montreal. The "What number?" came at once. The managing director of one of the leading dailies says if he does not get an immediate answer to his ring he invariably makes a complaint to the manager. Another experience in Toronto may be interesting. One morning at 8:55 I called up Central and said I wanted to get 10 or 12 different numbers as soon as possible. The first I got at once. The second I rang twice for, and the third I rang nine times before Central would cut off the second number to which I had been talking. It was 9:35 when I got the fourth, and as time was up I was unable to communicate with the others. The reason is that Montreal business men will not put up with the slow-going service Toronto is willing to permit.

The Street Railway system is another feature in which Montreal excels Toronto. This winter I saw storms in both cities. In Montreal they kept the cars going during the worst of it, while the Toronto system was completely paralyzed for a time, and many of us walked a couple of miles to our homes. Some Toronto papers complimented the railway on the admirable way in which it handled the storm. On the other hand, the Montreal papers reprimanded the company because it did not keep up a 3-minute service in the heaviest of it.

T. P. MCGILLICUDDY.

It is sometimes said that if newspaper men get passes on railways they never say anything against them. In Toronto they do not get passes, and they handle the corporation with very great kindness. In Montreal the reporters carry annual passes, yet they never miss an opportunity to "go for" the Street Railway, and these attacks are sometimes very unfair.

The Montreal road is managed by G. C.

Cunningham, at one time Toronto city engineer—a man of the Jennings stamp, who refused to be bulldozed or bribed into recommending the money making schemes of professional aldermen, and resigned and got a much better position in Montreal.

HE SHOULD DO WELL.

J. A. McCrea, who assumed the sole proprietorship of the "Noted Tea Store," Guelph, on its former proprietor, J. E. McElderry, accepting the management of the Guelph and Ontario Investment and Savings Society, has had a long business experience as well as an intimate acquaintance with the people. Mr. McCrea spent fifteen years traveling for wholesale houses and became thoroughly in touch with all the departments of the grocery business. He enjoys an excellent reputation as a tea blender and will make a specialty of that branch of the trade. "Since entering into partnership with Mr. McElderry," says The Herald, "Mr. McCrea has actively identified himself with the business, and the change announced, while it witnesses the retirement of a highly respected business man, leaves the 'Noted Tea Store' in capable hands, and its outlook for the future is exceedingly promising."

A PLEASANT GATHERING.

The employees of Park, Blackwell & Co., Toronto, held their annual At Home in Shaftesbury Hall on Friday night. Mr. James Park presided and seated on the platform were Messrs. Jas. Walsh, Jas. Frame, Wm. Tuile, C. S. Blackwell, and Mr. D. Kelley. A short program of literary selections was gone through with, after which all repaired to the refreshment rooms, where a sumptuous repast was served. Short speeches were in order, dancing being kept up till the early hours of the morn. There were nearly 300 guests present. The committee who had charge of affairs was composed of S. Smith, C. W. Mitchell, G. Fitzgerald, A. Thompson and Alex. Park.

THE GROCERS' AT HOME.

“D O you know, some of the best people in town are awaiting the announcement of our annual At Home; and it would be a mistake were we to forego it this year.”

This was a remark that was passed at a recent meeting of the Toronto Retail Grocers' Association when the question as to whether an At Home should be held was being discussed.

Monday night last the At Home was held in St. George's Hall, Elm street, and the success which attended it proved the reasonableness of the member's declaration.

The Grocers' Association has had larger attendances at its At Homes; but it never had a more representative attendance of the trade, a more enjoyable time, or a more successful entertainment, for it is not in numbers only that repose the elements of success. But if the attendance was not as large as last year, it was as large as the members of the association intended it should be. The fact of the matter was the tickets had to be limited to the capacity of the hall, although as it was that capacity was exceeded rather than otherwise. There were about 200 persons present, and a gratifying feature was that in this number was an unusually strong representation from the wholesale trades.

These were among the members of the grocery and fruit trades present: Hugh Blain, Charles C. Bennett, of the Eby, Blain Co., Ltd.; T. Kinnear, of T. Kinnear & Co.; H. P. Eckardt, F. J. Blackburn, O. W. Rinker, of H. P. Eckardt & Co.; Wm. A. Mitchell, of Todhunter, Mitchell & Co.; Henry Wright, of Wright & Copp; R. H. Ramsay, Jr., of R. H. Ramsay & Son; A. E. Clemes, E. B. McMillan; James Gordon, of Dawson & Co.; Bert Vance, with R. S. McIndoe; Robert Mills; T. Armstrong, of Dallimore Bros.; J. E. Williams, of the Standard Oil Co.; W. J. McClary; — Lawson, of Lawson Bros.; S. T. Britten, I. D. Bradshaw, of Britten & Bradshaw; W. Dill, Alf. Barker, M. A. Kimpton; W. Booth, of the Ammonia Soap Works; F. Rupert, of H. A. Nelson & Sons. Mr. Mearns, solicitor for the Retail Grocers' Association, and John Ellston, Richmond Hill, were also present.

The concert program was a good one, as may be gathered from the following, who contributed to it: The Handel Male Quartet; W. Putland, J. H. Willson, Robert Gorrie, F. T. Verral, soloists; Frank Wright, comic; Neil Burton, reader. T. Wright was accompanist.

Dancing followed the concert, and was kept up till an early hour in the morning. Glionna's orchestra furnished the dance music.

The arrangements for the entertainment of the guests were excellent. The hall in which the association holds its regular meeting was furnished a la drawing room for the convenience of the ladies and their escorts. Another room was turned into a smoking and card room, while refreshments were served in the basement by Caterer McConkey.

The committee of management did its work well and is to be commended.

BUSINESS OUT OF SEASON.

THERE is such a thing as a business man being a slave to custom. It is a mistake.

Certain periods there are in every line of trade known as dull seasons. People look for them, and the very act of expecting them helps to induce them.

It is not for a moment disputed that the demand for goods varies. Of course it does, just as the seasons vary; and even more frequently.

But, because the sale of this and that thing falls off, it does not follow that there should be a practical standstill of business, as if often the case. This has been demonstrated by experience. When these periods come around known as between the seasons an effort should be made to devise some scheme whereby the wheels of commerce may be kept revolving.

Get up new ideas. Put lines of goods before the public in a manner that will excite its desires. Put more energy into the business, more ingenuity into the window dressing, and more life and uniqueness into the advertisements.

It has been done; and what has been done once can be done again.

It is the original man, the man who strikes out for himself, leaving others to follow, who succeeds to-day in business.

Be the original man. Give custom to the winds.

EARLY CLOSING.

IT IS a good idea for the Toronto Retail Grocers' Association to try and enlist the assistance of the Trades and Labor Council in a movement for early closing.

The latter organization represents a goodly portion of the consuming public, and to get the members thereof to induce their families to make their purchases early in the day will be to help strangle one of the excuses, lame though it may be, why stores should be kept open until 9, 10 or 11 o'clock.

But the greatest obstacle to early closing is within and not without—the grocer and not his customer is the greatest stumbling-block.

Time and again have the grocers in whole sections of the city subscribed to an agreement pledging themselves to close at a certain hour, and time and again has it been broken.

Before early closing will ever be a success in Toronto, or any other place, grocers must have more confidence in each other and more independence as individuals.

Until these factors obtain early closing will never be general.

But it by no means follows that early closing is to be deferred till this happy millennium.

The independent grocer will close at 7 or 8 o'clock, whether his neighbor does or not.

Those who have thus asserted their manhood in the past are by no means discouraged at the result.

The freedom they have thus had from business has made pleasanter their lives and healthier their bodies, and it has not been at the expense of their business either.

As far as THE CANADIAN GROCER can learn, the turn over at the end of the year has been larger rather than smaller than during the preceding year, when they walked from bed to shop and from shop to bed.

And the testimony of these grocers is doing more missionary work for early closing than will ever agreements, hide-bound as you may make them.

ALLEGED SPURIOUS PICKLES.

Whether it be better or worse than the thing imitated, it is none the less dishonest to put the spurious on the market as the genuine article.

As a rule, of course, the imitation is inferior to the pure article. An instance of this was brought to the attention of THE CANADIAN GROCER the other day.

Somebody, whom we do not know, is putting an alleged English pickle on the market at about 50 per cent. below the cost of the cheapest imported.

The pickle has none of the fine appearance exhibited by the first-class article. It looks like the bulk pickle.

Every grocer who knows his business must be aware that an English pickle could not be laid down for any such money as the price quoted for the article in question. He, therefore, cannot be deceived. But it is different with the consumer.

Nine chances to one, he would not know the difference, at least till he tasted the pickle. He could, therefore, be deceived almost with impunity.

Merchants should be careful that they are not made a party to the fraud initiated by some over-zealous manufacturer, for in allowing themselves to be a catspaw they are more to be condemned than the manufacturers who use them.

As with counterfeit coins so with counterfeit goods—it is better to leave them alone.

A GROCERY CLERKS' UNION.

ONE side issue of the growing strength of departmental stores is the disastrous effect they are bound to have on the salaries paid to clerks.

The proprietors of these mammoth emporiums place boys behind their counters at salaries of $2, $3 or $4 a week.

If they continue paying such small wages, the retailers in order to compete with them will also have to reduce expenses by cutting their employees' salaries. The consequence of this will be that married clerks will be unable to support their families, and young bachelor clerks will be unable financially to face matrimony.

All this will have a serious effect upon the commercial and moral prosperity of our cities. Young men will be driven to living in boarding houses, instead of taking up housekeeping and becoming heads of families; a marked fall in the rate of increase of population will be noticed, and the country will thus be permanently injured.

A leading retail grocer, who is well known as generally opposed to "unions," suggested to THE CANADIAN GROCER the other day that this case is an exception. He advised the formation among grocery clerks of a society whose objects it should be to keep the rate of wages up, and look after their own interests generally.

This suggestion is especially worthy of notice as coming, not from a clerk, but from a prominent employing grocer who has carried on a wonderfully successful business for thirty years. THE CANADIAN GROCER will be pleased to receive from any quarter short contributions regarding this proposition, or suggestions as to any other possible remedy for the existing and increasing evil.

FLOURISHING TROUT CREEK.

J. Parkinson, general merchant, Trout Creek, was in Toronto last week. Trout Creek is about twenty miles south of North Bay. He was down on his annual purchasing trip and to visit friends in western Ontario. Mr. Parkinson went to Trout Creek four or five years ago. It was in search of health that induced him to go, and he got what he went for. When he went there the population amounted to only a few souls with one store and an hotel. Now there is a population of 300, four stores and four shingle and lumber mills. Trout Creek is the principal railway shipping point for lumber, etc., for some 50 miles around, while the farmers for 30 and 40 miles around purchase their supplies there. "I have often," said Mr. Parkinson, "sold $75 worth of goods before breakfast." The winter's business, he said, was exceptionally good, and the outlook for the coming season's trade is good.

THE BUTTER SITUATION.

Since last week the arrivals of fresh roll butter have somewhat decreased, and on this account the market is considerably firmer. A quantity of what is coming forward appears to consist of rolls that have been held for some time. We have endeavored to point out to country storekeepers that it is a mistake to hold dairy butter, as they are finally obliged to take a smaller figure for it if it is at all off condition.

The Government circular advising winter creameries that they will accept and advance 20 cents per pound on butter turned out between the first of the year and April 1, has caused quite an advance in creamery butter. It is now difficult to buy fresh packed creamery butter at less than 21 cents, as the makers know they can get 20 cents for it any way, and seem inclined to ask to realize a little higher figure on shipment.

MORE FROZEN ORANGES.

Reports from Buffalo say, that on Monday the Health Department officers in that city seized and destroyed 45 boxes of frozen Florida oranges, part of a consignment of 2,000 boxes which the department has condemned. The stock seized was taken by the garbage collectors to the rendering works and there cremated. The balance of the 2,000 boxes were mostly sent to Baltimore, but several hundred cases, it is said, were forwarded to Canada.

As far as could be learned yesterday none of this particular consignment has yet reached Toronto, but within the past week or two one lot was handled here, on which the shippers realized $220 less than the freight and Custom charges.

It is also asserted that a consignment of three car loads of frozen oranges sent here by Americans a few days ago found no market, and was shipped to other points for distribution.

DON'T WANT THE TWENTY CENTS.

Professor Robertson has been in Montreal during the week to confer with the butter and cheese trade at that point on his 20c advance proposition.

The majority of the trade at a meeting held on Monday last pronounced against the proposition, and framed a communication to the authorities at Ottawa based on this decision.

The dealers endorse the stand already taken by THE CANADIAN GROCER in the matter—that is, they heartily approve of the suggestions for cold storage facilities, but are against the policy of the Government going into the butter export business.

As we have said before, the Professor has done a great work for our dairy industry, but when he steps out of his educational sphere and undertakes to act as a salesman he is courting failure.

DIRECT GREEN FRUIT.

The question of the direct spring importations of Mediterranean green fruit is once more commencing to attract attention in Montreal.

One man in the trade there holds that, owing to the low prices realized last spring, the fruit shippers in Spain, Sicily and Italy will not consign any fruit to Montreal this spring.

There are good reasons for being sceptical on this point, as THE CANADIAN GROCER is assured on good authority that there will be at least three cargoes of fruit received in Montreal next May, and the first of these steamers will sail from the Mediterranean in the course of a month.

At present the trend of prices is easy at primary points, and it is reported that at least one house in Montreal has placed an order for oranges and lemons by the first direct boat at 6d. to 1s. lower than the prices ruling for the first sales in this connection last spring.

A LIVE WESTERN MERCHANT.

I HAD a pleasant chat on Monday with E. Brown, of J. & E. Brown, general merchants, Portage la Prairie, Man. Mr. Brown is what I would call a first-class specimen of the bright, live and progressive western merchant. I gathered this before I had talked with him two minutes. He is one of those men from whom inspiration is drawn while one is in conversation with him.

J. & E. Brown have four stores in Portage la Prairie. They are all side by side in one block, and have an aggregate frontage of 90 feet with a depth of 65 feet. One store is devoted to groceries and boot and shoes, another to dry goods and clothing, a third to fruit and a fourth to flour and feed. The Messrs. Brown settled in Portage la Prairie six years ago, and their business has grown rapidly in the period that has elapsed since then. The increase during 1894 was 42½ per cent. over the previous year.

"We attribute our success," said Mr. Brown, in reply to a query of mine, "almost entirely to judicious advertising, which is done nearly all in our local papers."

"What about credits?" I ventured.

"Well, we do a very careful credit business. We limit all our accounts to certain amounts. Our part of the country is not yet ready for the cash system. We at any rate do not think so. The western country will not stand hard and fast rules in business."

"How do you review the situation up there?"

"Business is getting on a decidedly better basis. Our farmers are getting more economical, and altogether prospects are better. I really think we have reached the bottom, and look for an improvement from this out. The farmers on the plains, back say in 1888, when wheat was $1.15 per bushel, paid for their farms in two years. Then they got big ideas. Bought more land and implements, and branched out generally. When hard times came they had more than they could carry. Now they are getting better sense; and for that reason I really think the hard times have not been without their good results."

Manitoba, Mr. Brown considers the garden of Canada, and Portage la Prairie and district the garden of Manitoba.

CARE OF TEA IN TRANSIT.

Tea importers in Montreal are once more after the Grand Trunk Railway on the question of the care of tea in transit.

Representatives of Hunt & Co., Morrow & Ewing, McGlew & Co., John Duncan, Kearney Bros., Tees, Wilson & Co., and Lockerby Bros., met and conferred with Mr. J. Beeston, of the Grand Trunk, in the Board of Trade at Montreal last Friday.

The importers hold that the Grand Trunk is liable for the cost of breakages, while the railway company holds that the bill for repairs to breakages should be placed between shippers and consignees.

The Grand Trunk is in a peculiar position, owing to the fact that it has to give its connections a clear receipt for freight received, and no matter what damage to freight may have been done before the property reaches the Canadian road, the company has to stand it all. After a two hours' consultation it was resolved that only one course could be recommended. It was, that the outside roads and the Grand Trunk should come to some different arrangement with its connections, or that the shippers in Japan be requested to make their packages stronger, in order the better to withstand the rough handling of the baggage and freight men.

The millers and wholesale grocers of St. Louis have subscribed to a document declaring they will sell flour for cash only. The business millennium is purely "a comin'."

The Association for the Recovery of Stolen Horses is the name of an organization that held its 47th annual meeting at Waterdown the other night. Come, now, be honest, whatever may have been the object of the association nearly fifty years ago, what is its intent to-day? Is it not to have a good time?

MONEY AND STOCKS.

TORONTO Street Railway stock is keeping fairly steady these days, but it seems to be merely held up by brute force, if the expression may be allowed. I have yet to meet a financial man, however, who anticipates anything else than lower figures for this stock. On Monday 1 per cent. was paid to put the stock at 60 any time this year, showing that the seller believes the stock will be much lower before the close of the year 1895.

* * *

There has been a slight recovery in Canadian Pacific, but it is generally considered to be of a temporary nature. On account of the decreased earnings, the outlook indicates anything but higher quotations. A little over three years ago this stock sold in London at 95, when some maintained that it would go to 120. To-day it is down to within a fraction of 50. A meeting of shareholders has been called for Saturday.

* * *

Demand continues brisk for investment bonds, but there are very few coming out. "It is hard, indeed, to get investments for cash," was the summing up a broker gave the situation.

* * *

It is expected the forthcoming statement of the Commercial Cable Co. will show an earning power of over 10 per cent. This is tending to stiffen the stock, and it sold at 146 $\frac{3}{8}$ on the Toronto market on Tuesday. There are a few transactions passing in Commercial Cable, but it is not what might be termed an active stock.

* * *

About all the loan companies have made their annual statements, and nearly all are foreshadowing a reduction in next dividends.

* * *

Call loans are dull and easy, any amount of money going at 4 per cent, and more could be had.

* * *

Gold in the United States Treasury at the end of last week was up to $45,741,810, a gain of nearly $3,000,000 for the week, but over $59,000,000 less than the same time a year ago. The contracts for the purchase of gold for the new bonds have almost entirely stopped the exports of gold. Gold is now beginning to come hitherward from Europe.

ARGUROS.

STOCKS IN MONTREAL.

Purely speculative manipulation is responsible for the activity generated in the Montreal stock market toward the close of last week. The deal was chiefly confined to three stocks that are known to be the pets of a strong clique on the street, and they were made the means of putting outsiders through what is known in technical parlance as "milking." After the price had been worked up on Montreal Street Railway, Richelieu and Toronto Street Railway, the insiders commenced to unload and values tumbled on all of them. Otherwise the only interesting point was the low price touched by Pacific. This security seems to be steadily going lower, and the delay in regard to the declaration of the dividend is, no doubt, having an unfavorable effect. There is not much of the stock carried in Montreal, however; and, in fact, has not been for over two years, at which time two well-known financiers unloaded a big batch of it abroad. The banks continue neglected, and there is only an occasional transaction in bonds, which goes to show that there is little investment support to the activity now ruling the market.

NEARLY AN EGG FAMINE.

Had the cold weather continued a little longer, Toronto—and, in fact, most of Canada—would have seen an egg famine. As it is, the market is very bare of good stock, and, as far as can be learned, stocks are low in all egg lines. The advance in prices on the American markets calls for large shipments to be made from Canada, and as a result the markets all over the Dominion have been left very bare.

MARKETS AND MARKET NOTES

TORONTO MARKETS.

TORONTO, Feb. 21, 1895.

GROCERIES.

THE dulness noticed in trade last week still obtains. It may perhaps be a little better in the city, but country orders are, if anything, worse than a week ago, there apparently not having been yet any recovery from the effects of the heavy storms. The situation in teas, foreign dried fruits, coffees and canned goods continues strong. Sugar, though dull, is steady. In dried fruits the only feature worthy of special note is an increased demand for prunes, trade in which can now be termed brisk. Pepper and cloves are dearer in outside markets. Payments are much as before. Another few days will probably see an improvement in business, but in the meantime trade is unsatisfactory.

CANNED GOODS.

There do not appear to be as many goods leaving the packers' hands as a week or so ago, but there is still a fairly brisk trade doing, particularly in tomatoes and corn. The situation continues strong, and some of the wholesalers are this week asking higher prices for corn. The wholesalers report a fair trade in staples. A little more activity is being exhibited in salmon, and prices are firm. Lobster keeps dull. We quote as follows: Tomatoes, 87½ to 90c. for choice and 80 to 85c. for inferior and old stock; corn, 90 to 95c. for choice and 85c. for common; peas, 80 to 85c. for ordinary and $1.40 for fancy; peaches, $2.75 to $3 for 3's, $1.75 to $1.90 for 2's; raspberries, $1.65 to $1.80; strawberries, $1 to $2.10; apples, 3's, $1 to $1.10, gallons $2.10 to $2.25, and preserved fancy quarters at $1.35 to $1.40; salmon, $1.35 to $1.40 for good red fish in tall tins, and $1.50 to $1.60 in flat tins; do., second quality, $1.15 to $1.25; canned mackerel, $1 to $1.10; lobsters, $1.70 to $2 for tall tins, and $2.25 to $2.75 for flat tins. Australian mutton, boiled, 2 lb. cans, $3.40; ditto, corned and roast, $3.75.

COFFEES.

There is a fair enquiry for green coffees. Fresh shipments of fine Java coffee are to hand this week, and Rio coffee, stocks of which are light, is on the way. Java, Mocha and East Indian coffees are all dearer in the primary markets. The last named is 2c. higher. The advances are due to a scarcity of supplies. We quote green, in bags, as follows: Rio, 20 to 22c.; East Indian, 27 to 30c.; South American, 21 to 23c.; Santos, 21½ to 22½c.; Java, 30 to 33c.; Mocha, 28 to 30c.; Maracaibo, 21 to 23c.; Jamaica, 21 to 22c.

RICE.

Business is of the usual quiet and seasonal character. We quote as before: "B," 3½ to 3¾c.; extra Japan, 5¼ to 5¾c.; imported Japan, 5¾ to 6¼c.; tapioca, pearl, 4½ to 5c.

SPICES.

Pepper and cloves are firmer in the primary markets, with probably an advance of ½c. per lb. in New York, and higher prices are looked for. There is a good demand for whole pepper. We quote: Pure black pepper, 10 to 12c.; pure white, 18 to 25c.; pure Jamaica ginger, 25 to 27c.; cloves, 25 to 30c.; pure mixed spice, 25 to 30c.; cream of tartar, 20 to 25c. per lb.

NUTS.

Trade remains quiet and unchanged. We quote as before: Brazil nuts, 11 to 11½c.; Sicily shelled almonds, 25 to 26c.; Tarragona almonds, 14 to 14½c.; peanuts, 10 to 12c. for roasted and 7 to 10c. for green; cocoanuts, $4.50 to $5 persack; Grenoble walnuts, 15 to 16c.; Marbot walnuts, 12½ to 14c.; Bordeaux walnuts, 12 to 13c.; Sicily filberts, 9 to 10c. for sacks and 10½ to 11c. for small lots; pecans, 10½ to 11c.

SUGAR.

The turn over in sugar has got down to small proportions, and there is not likely to be any material improvement in this respect for some time. The market, however, keeps steady, and among the refiners the opinion obtains that raw beet root sugar has touched the lowest point it is likely to this campaign. We quote: Granulated—domestic, 3½ to 3¾c.; do., German granulated, $3.40 to $3.50; yellows, $2.75 to $3.30. Raws—Demerara, 2½ to 3c.; Muscovado, in 115-lb. bags, $1.90.

SYRUPS.

There is a fair demand for syrups at about 2¼ to 2½c. per lb. We quote: Dark, 25c.; medium, 28 to 30c.; bright, 35 to 40c.; very bright, 45 to 50c.

MOLASSES.

Demand is fair at about 30c. in barrels, and 32c. in half-barrels. We quote as follows: New Orleans, barrels, 26 to 28c.; half-barrels, 30½ to 32c.; Barbadoes, barrels, 28 to 32c.; half-barrels, 30 to 34c.

TEAS.

The movement is at the moment light, but the strength of the market continues to increase rather than decrease. A cable received in Toronto on Tuesday stated that at the previous day's auction Pekoe Souchongs were worth equal to 18c., or nearly 1c. more than the week before. The high price of low grade Indian and Ceylon teas continues to drive the demand to low grade Congous, which have not advanced relatively with the other kinds, and are consequently showing better value. We quote ruling prices on the Toronto market as follows: Young Hyson, 12 to 18c. for low grades; 24 to 27c. for mediums, and 30 to 45c. for high grades; China Congous, 14 to 18c. for mediums, and 35 to 55c. for high grades; Japans 16 to 20c. for mediums, 28 to 35c. for high grades; Indians and Ceylons, 18 to 22c. for mediums, and 30 to 45c. for high grades.

DRIED FRUIT.

Valencia raisins are still quiet and devoid of special feature. We quote good fruit as before: Off-stalk, 4 to 4¼c.; fine off-stalk, 4½ to 5c.; selected, 5½ to 6c.; layers, 6 to 6½c.

Malaga raisins are dull and nominally unchanged. We quote: London layers, $2 to $2.25; black baskets, $2.90 to $3; blue baskets, $4 to $4.75; extra dessert clusters, $4; connoisseur clusters, $2.65 to $2.90; quarter flat connoisseur clusters, 90c. to $1.15; Royal Buckingham, $4.50 to $5.

Sultana raisins are practically cleaned out of this market. This is something unusual, as a rule a good many being carried over. Last year it appears that the wholesale trade lost money on Sultana raisins, with the result that this season they have been careful buyers. Higher prices are anticipated before the season is over. The idea as to price is still 6 to 7½c. per lb.

Prunes are in active request, quite an improvement having developed, and demand is expected to be much better in view of the scarcity of domestic dried fruit. The principal demand is for prunes selling at about 4 to 5c. We quote: "Sphinx"—"U," 110 to 115 to half kilo, 5 to 5½c. per lb.; "C," 85 to 90 to half kilo, 6½c. per lb.; "B," 80 to 85 to half kilo, 7 to 7½c. per lb. "Atlas,"—"D," 110 to 115 to half kilo, 4¾ to 5c. per lb. For Bordeaux prunes, 4 to 4½c. is the idea.

Currants are in moderate demand only. Good currants are scarce on this market, and for those arriving higher prices will be demanded. We quote: Filiatras, half-barrels, 4 to 4½c., barrels, 4½c.; fine Filiatras, half-barrels, 4¾c., barrels, 4¾c.; Patras, 5½c., in cases; Casalinas, 5½ to 6c.; Vostizas, 6½ to 7c. in cases and half cases; Panartes, 8 to 8½c.

Figs are quiet and nominally unchanged. We quote: 14 oz., 8 to 9c.; 10 lb., 8 to 10c.; 18 lb., 12c.; 28 lb., 15c.; taps, 4¼ to 4½c.; naturals, 6 to 7c.

Demand is still fairly good for California dried apricots at 12 to 14c.

BUTTER AND CHEESE.

The supply of really good butter has rather decreased than increased, and the result is that really fresh lines are firm on the market. We quote: Dairy—Medium to good 10 to 15c.; low grade, 8 to 10c.; fresh pound rolls, 16 to 17c.; large rolls, 12 to 15c. Creamery—Tubs, 21 to 22c.; pound prints, 22 to 23c.

August and September makes of cheese are quoted at 10½ to 10¾c., and half sizes at 11 to 11¼c. Small Stiltons are quoted at 12 to 12½c.

GREEN FRUIT.

Florida oranges and lemons are out of the market and good winter apples are firmer. We quote: Lemons—Messinas, $2.25 to $3.50. Oranges—Valencias, $4 to $4.50; California navels, $3.50 to $4; mandarins, $2.50 to $2.75 per half box; tangerines, $2.25 to $2.50 per half box; grape fruit, $4 to $4.50 per box. Bananas, $1.25 to $1.50 for firsts and seconds. Apples, winter fruit, $2.50 to $3.50 per bbl.; fall fruit, $1.75 to $2. Grapes—Malagas, $5 to $6.50 per keg. Cranberries, Jerseys, $14 to $14.50 per bbl. and $5 per box. California dried fruit—Apricots, 12c.; peaches, 12½ to 13c.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

BEANS—Are quiet at $1.35 for choice hand-picked, and $1.15 for medium grades.

DRIED APPLES—Are firm at 5½c., owing to increased price being given for green fruit.

EVAPORATED APPLES—We quote, in 50 lb. boxes: 7 to 7½c. per lb.

ONIONS—Are going higher. We quote: Domestic, 75c. per bag; Spanish, $1 per small crate; Valencia, $3.50 to $4.

HONEY—No change. We quote: Strained, in bulk, 7 to 9c.; comb, 14c. for clover and 10c. for buckwheat.

POTATOES—Are firmer and rising in price. The stocks are getting low and farmers are holding to what they have. We quote: 47 to 50c. on the track, and 65c. out of store.

POULTRY—Continues scarce on a firm market. We quote: 11c. for turkeys, 7c. for geese, 30 to 75c. for chickens, and 50 to 90c. for ducks.

EGGS—Strictly new-laid are scarce, and market is firm. Held and cold storage are quoted at 15 to 16c., pickled at 14c., and new-laid at 23 to 25c.

FISH AND OYSTERS.

Very little is being done in oysters at the high figure at which they are now quoted. We quote as follows: Salmon trout (frozen), 6½ to 7c.; white fish (frozen), 5 to 7c.; skinned and boned codfish, 6½c.; boneless fish, 3½ to 4c.; market cod, 3 to 5c.; tommy cod, $1.35; steak cod, 5½ to 6½c.; haddock, 3½ to 4½c.; Labrador herring, $3.25 to $3.50 per half barrel and $5.50 to $5.75 per barrel; Newfoundland herring, $2.50 per half barrel, and $4.50 to $4.75 per barrel; fresh water salt herring, $3 per bbl.; blue-back herring, 4c.; sea herring (frozen), $1 to $1.25 per 100 fish; blue pickerel, 4 to 5c. lb.; yellow ditto, 6 to 7c. per lb.; mackerel, 14c. each; pike, 5c. lb.; cod, 6c. per lb.; finnan haddies, 6½ to 7c.; Digby herring, in bundles of 5 boxes, 12½c.; ditto, lengthwise, 12c.; large halibut, 10 to 13c. Oysters, $1.50 per gallon for standards and $1.75 for selects.

PROVISIONS AND DRESSED HOGS.

Owing to the much firmer feeling in the price of hogs there is a correspondingly strong feeling as regards the products of hogs, although no very marked advance has occurred as yet. There has been lately a good demand for heavy mess and long clear bacon. We quote:

BACON—Long clear, 6¾c. for carload lots, 7 to 7¼c. for ton lots and 7¼c. for small lots; breakfast bacon, 10 to 10½c.; rolls, 7½ to 8c.

HAMS—Large, 22 lbs. and over, 9c.; medium, 15 to 20 lbs., 10c.; small hams, 10½c.; pickled, 9 to 9½c.

LARD—Pure Canadian, tierces, 7¾c.; tubs, 8¼c.; pails, 8½c.

BARREL PORK—Canadian heavy mess, $14.50 to $14.75; Canadian short-cut, $14.75 to $15; shoulder mess, $12.25 to $13.75; clear mess, $12.75 to $13.

SALT.

No change in condition of market. We quote: Barrels, 90c.; coarse sacks, 58c.; fine sacks, 60c.; dairy, $1.50; rock, $9.

FLOUR AND FEED.

WHEAT—We quote: 64 to 64½c. for white; 61 to 62c. for red, and 60 to 60½c. for goose.

OATS—Easy. We quote: 35 to 36½c.

BARLEY—Steady. We quote: 48c.

FLOUR—Quiet and firm. We quote: Ontario straight roller, $2.65 to $2.75; Manitoba, $3.60 to $3.65; patents, $3.75 to $3.90.

BREAKFAST FOODS—Oatmeal is firmer owing to the scarcity and higher prices of oats. Prices have advanced a little. We quote: Standard oatmeal, $3.85, and granulated, $3.85; rolled oats, $3.80 to $3.85; rolled wheat, $2.10 in 100 lb. barrels; cornmeal, $3.50; split peas and pot barley, $3.75 per barrel.

SEEDS.

The foreign demand is still very light, and local dealers are not anxious to buy unless at reduced figures. With the light receipts, however, prices remain unchanged. Canadian red clover remains about unchanged at $6 to $6.25 per bushel for choice lots, lower grades bringing $5.50 to $6.

Alsike continues very dull and depressed, only choice qualities now being salable at anything over $4.80. Really fancy if offered would probably command $5, lower grades $4 to $4.50.

We quote present prices of timothy: Choice machine threshed, $2 to $2.75; fair to good qualities, $1.75 to $2.40; fancy flail threshed, $3 per bushel.

HIDES, SKINS, WOOL AND TALLOW.

HIDES—There is a fair demand. Stocks are kept pretty well cleared up, and prices remain steady. Local dealers quote 5 to 5¼c. for cured, and for green, No. 1, 4c.; No. 2, 3c., and No. 3, 2c.

SHEEPSKINS—Best green stock will bring 80 to 85c. Calfskins stand nominally at 6c. for No. 1, and 4c. for No. 2.

A full assortment of Roberts' jellies are in store with Lucas, Steele & Bristol. This firm is also in receipt of an invoice of York Factory peels. They are choice quality.

Now that the season of Lent is coming on, Marshall's Scotch fish products in tins and kegs, etc., are greatly in demand by the trade. Nothing is nicer than their kippered herrings, herrings in tomato and shrimp sauce, fresh herrings, bloaters, etc., and their "Crown" brand of salt herrings in kegs.

Since Mr. Marshall has taken an interest in the business now known as D. Marshall & Allworth the firm has been putting up its condensed milk and evaporated cream under a new label called "Allworth's Star Brand." The attention of the trade is called to this fact. The "Star" brand is being made a specialty of just now.

A big shipment of "Unicorn" brand of prunes imported by W. H. Gillard & Co. is now due. This brand is sold largely by the best grocers in England, and is said to be of very superior quality. As this shipment is made by the packers as an advertisement, notwithstanding the high grade quality, the prunes will be offered to the trade at the price of ordinary goods.

MONTREAL MARKETS.

MONTREAL, Feb. 21, 1895.

GROCERIES.

THE week has been a fairly active one in the grocery markets, all the wholesale houses reporting a good jobbing demand. This is notably the case with sugar, syrups and molasses. Coffees and spices also show a fair degree of activity, and the same can be said of tea, while enquiry for canned goods is picking up. Dried fruits remain quiet. Values, as a rule, except in sugar, are steady. In the latter staple refiners have again lowered their prices.

SUGAR.

There has been another cut in the price of refined sugar since our last letter, as the Montreal refiners on Thursday last reduced their prices on granulated 1-16c. per lb. Whether this is the bottom or not is difficult to say, but the decline has not checked the demand, which has continued active. The fact has unsettled values though, for although we repeat our jobbing range on granulated, it is certain that wholesale houses are jobbing out sugar at cost, or very nearly so. Round lots of granulated have sold at 3½c. for No. 1, and 3¼c. for No. 2, the latter being the most active of the two. Round lots of yellows have changed hands at 2½ to 3c., as to quality at the factory. In a jobbing way we quote: Standard granulated, 3¼c.; No. 2, 3½c.; yellows, 2¼ to 3¼c. as to quality. German sugar is not moving very freely at present, and jobbers are asking 3½c. for extra granulated, while No. 2 Berthier is being jobbed out at 3¼c.

MARK

SYRUPS.

More activity has been noted in syrups since our last report, as demand is turning to it on account of the scarcity of molasses. Sales in a large way from refiners' hands have been made freely at 1½ to 2½c. per lb.

MOLASSES.

The molasses market is very firm in its tone, as the stock here is light. Some receipts have arrived since our last from New York, but the quality is not very acceptable. Sales of it have been made at 29c. For prime Barbadoes, however, the best figure a buyer can secure is 31½ to 32c.; while Porto Rico is quotable at 28c., and Trinidad 27c. In a jobbing way prices on Barbadoes are firm at 32½c. and 33c. in hogsheads and 36c. in barrels and half barrels.

RICE.

The demand for rice is fair and the market rules active and steady. From the mills we quote: Japan, standard, $4.25 to $4.40; crystal Japan, $4.75 to $5; standard B, $3.45; English style, $3.30; Patna, $4.25 to $5, and Carolina $6.50 to $7.50.

SPICES.

There is nothing special to report in spices, but a fairly active business has been transacted. We quote: Penang black pepper, 6 to 7½c.; white pepper, 10 to 12½c.; cloves, 7½ to 9c.; cassia, 8½ to 9½c.; nutmegs, 60 to 90c.; and Jamaica ginger, 15½ to 18½c.

COFFEES.

There has been a good, fair volume of business in coffees at firm prices. The scarcity of Maracaibo tends to stiffen the market. We quote: Maracaibo, 22c.; Rio, 18½ to 20c.; Java, 25 to 27c.; Jamaica, 18 to 19c.; and Mocha, 26 to 30c.

TEA.

There has been a good distributing trade in blacks; Japans and gunpowders, especially, have received attention for grades running from 17 to 19c. In a round way, business is dull, but some purchasing of blacks has been done on behalf of wholesalers here at 12½c. We quote: Japans, low grades, 12½ to 14c.; medium, 15½ to 17c.; fine, 18½ to 24c.; and choice, 25 to 31c.

DRIED FRUIT.

There has been no change in the raisin market, business being extremely light both in Valencia and California fruit. We quote: Off-stalk Valencias, ordinary, 4 to 4½c.; selected, 5 to 5½c.; layers, 5½ to 6c.; Sultan, 5½ to 7½c.; California, 3-crown loose muscatels, 5¾ to 6c.; 4-crown ditto, 7½c. Second crop Californias ½c. less than first crop.

The currant market is also quiet and unchanged. In a jobbing way we quote: Filiatras and Provincials, 3½ to 3¾c. in barrels, and 4 to 4½c. in cases; Patras, 5 to 5½c., and Vostizzas, 7 to 7½c.

There is a fair jobbing enquiry for prunes at steady prices. We quote: Bosnia, 4½ to 5c., and Bordeaux, 4c.

Figs are quiet and unchanged at 5 to 6c. in bags and 10 to 16c. in boxes, as to quality.

MONTREAL MARKETS.—Continued.

There is only a small jobbing call for dates at 4 to 5c., as to grade.

NUTS.

A quiet jobbing movement is all there is to report in this market. We quote: Tarragona almonds, 12½ to 13c.; filberts, 7½ to 8½c.; Brazil nuts, 11c.; pecans, small, 10c.; medium, 13c., and extra, 15c.; Grenoble walnuts, 13½ to 14c., and Naples do., 13½c.; Bordeaux ditto, 10c.; peanuts, 7 to 9c. for roasted and 6 to 8c. for raw; cocoanuts, $4 to $5 per 100.

CANNED GOODS.

This market has exhibited a firmer feeling in some lines of canned goods as a result of the canners' meeting in the west. Business has been better also both from first and second hands here. We quote: Lobsters, $6 to $6.50 per case; sardines, $8.50 to $9.50; salmon, $1.30 to $1.40 per doz.; tomatoes, 90 to 92½c. per doz.; peaches, $2 to $2.10 per doz.; corn, 95c. to $1 per doz., and marrow-fat peas, 90c. per doz.

FISH.

The fish market has exhibited much more activity since our last in consequence of the very cold weather and the approach of Lent. Stocks in second hands have been small also, and the result is that more business was doing all round. The stock of fresh frozen herrings consists of about three cars, and the prospects are that there will be no further arrivals this season, and holders in consequence are firm at $1 to $1.25 per 100. Haddock and cod are being worked off at 3 to 3½c. per lb., tommy cods at $1 to $1.25 per barrel. No. 2 smelts at 2 to 3c. per lb. There are no No. 1 on the market at present. Mackerel are selling at 10c per lb. white fish at 5c., pike at 4c., and halibut at 8c. There have been but few sales of No. 1 pickled herrings, which are offering in a jobbing way at $4 to $4.50 for No. 1 Nova Scotia and $4.50 for No. 1 Labrador. B.C. salmon have changed hands in small lots at $11 to $11.50; new Labrador at $13 to $13.50; No. 2 mackerel at $12.50; Red sea trout at $9; lake trout at $4 per keg; No. 1 green cod at $4.25 to $4.50; No. 2 at $3 to $3.25, and No. 1 haddock at $3.25. Boneless cod are selling at 6c. per lb.; haddies at 6c.; bloaters at 90c. to $1. per box, and smoked herrings at 10c.

GREEN FRUIT.

APPLES—The market rules quiet and firm at $3 to $4 per bbl.

DRIED APPLES—Supplies are light and demand steady. Bids are firm at 5 to 5½c.

EVAPORATED APPLES—These are firmer in their tendency, and we quote 6½ to 6¾c. per lb.

ORANGES—The orange market is quiet and steady. We quote: Valencias, $4 to $5; Floridas, $3.25 to $4.50, and Californias, $3.25 to $4.

LEMONS—The lemon market is steady at $2.50 to $3 per box.

PINEAPPLES—There is a small trade in these at 15 to 25c each.

CRANBERRIES—In small supply and firm at $9 to $10 for Canadian, and $15 to $16 for Cape Cod.

GRAPES—Almería grapes are in light supply and firmly held at $6 to $7 per barrel.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

EGGS—The egg market is firm and 1c higher than it was at date of last writing.

We quote: Montreal limed, 14 to 15c and strictly fresh, 24 to 26c per dozen.

HONEY—The market is quiet and unchanged. We quote: Old, 4½ to 5c and new, 7 to 9c per lb. Comb honey, 10 to 13c.

BEANS—Quiet and steady, choice hand-picked, $1.30 to $1.45, and poor to fair, $1.10 to $1.20.

HOPS—Quiet and unchanged at 6 to 8c, as to quality.

DRESSED HOGS—The market is quiet and rather easier at $5.45 per 100 lbs.

POTATOES—Light receipts and a good demand keep prices firm at 65c per bag for jobbing lots.

ONIONS—There is a ready sale for these at $1.75 to $2 per bbl.

PROVISIONS.

The provision market shows no signs of improvement. The demand is slow and only for small lots to fill actual requirements at steady prices. We quote: Canadian short cut, heavy, $14 to $15; hams, city cured, per lb., 9 to 10½c.; lard, Canadian, in pails, 9c. to 10c.; bacon, per lb., 9 to 10½c.; lard, common, refined, per lb., 7 to 7½c.

FLOUR AND MEAL.

The demand for flour was good, and the market rules fairly active and steady, with a good business doing for this season. We quote: Winter wheat, $3.60 to $3.75; spring wheat, patents, $3.75 to $3.90; straight roller, $2.85 to $3; extra, $2.65 to $2.70; superfine, $2.50 to $2.60; Manitoba strong bakers', $3.75.

The feed market was strong, and the anticipated advance of $1 per ton on bran and shorts took place to-day. The demand continues good, and an active business is doing. We quote: Bran, $17; shorts, $18; mouillié, $23 to $24.

In oatmeal business continues quiet and of a jobbing character at steady prices. We quote: Standard, bbls., $3.70 to $3.75; granulated, bbls., $3.80 to $3.85; rolled oats, bbls., $3.90 to $3.95.

BUTTER AND CHEESE.

There is no important change in the situation of the cheese market. The volume of business transacted is small, and the feeling generally easy, but, in the absence of any important transactions, prices are nominally unchanged at 8¾ to 9c. for summer goods, and 9½ to 9¾c. for fall makes.

The demand for butter is limited, in consequence of which the market continues to rule quiet and without any new feature to note, business being confined to small lots to fill local requirements. Late-made creamery jobs out at 20½c. and western rolls at 14c.

ASHES.

Ashes are a small receipt and prices are firm. We quote: First pots, $4.05 to $4.10; seconds, $3.70 to $3.75, and pearls, $6.40 per 100 lbs.

MONTREAL TRADE NOTES.

The first offers of California oranges this winter were made here last Thursday.

Round lots of black teas have been placed with jobbers here at 12½c per lb.

Receipts of Maracaibo coffee continue light and the market here is almost bare of stock.

A small lot of 50 puncheons of molasses from New York sold here at 29c., but the quality was not very desirable.

New York buyers have taken 1,400 packages low grade Congous from sellers on this market, the figure being around 12c.

NEW BRUNSWICK MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE CANADIAN GROCER,

ST. JOHN, N.B., Feb. 21, 1895.

As the season advances there is noticed a better feeling in business, and the beautiful weather is a great help. Money is not plentiful and in the city collections are slow. This is noticeable among some of our largest and oldest retail stores. I am much pleased, however, not to have to report any failures in our line, though other lines are not so fortunate. There are not many changes in the markets. Tea and coffee are strong and higher prices are looked for. In spice there is no change, and oil is firm at advance.

CANNED GOODS—Demand is rather better than it has been, but there is no large business yet. For gallon apples the sale this season continues light. Pumpkin, which sold freely for one or two seasons, is not receiving as much attention as formerly. Salmon continues firm. Fruits are having fair demand. In canned meats dealers have been buying more freely during the past week. Prices are about 10c. above former quotations. Other lines show no change. We quote: Peas, 90 to 95c.; corn, 95c. to $1; tomatoes, $1 to $1.05; new gallon apples, $2.40; corned beef, 2 lb. tins, $2.75 to $2.85; 1-lb. tins, $1.65 to $1.70; oysters, 2's, $2.15 to $2.20; 1's, $1.55 to $1.60; peaches, 3-lb. tins, $2.65 to $2.75; 2's, $1.90 to $2; salmon, $1.35 to $1.40; lobsters, $1.75 to $2; haddies, $1.40; clams, 4 doz. in case, $5.50; chowder, 2 doz. in case, $3.50; scallops, 4 doz. in case, $5.50.

SALT—A better demand is looked for in the near future. There is quite a quantity afloat which will be due in a few weeks. Salt in small boxes, 10-lb and 20-lb., is finding a much larger demand since the Canadian in these packages was put upon this market. We quote: Coarse salt, ex store, 58 to 60c.; factory filled, fine, 90c. to $1; Canadian, 10 lb. bags, $2.80 per bbl.; 5 lb. bags, $3 per bbl.; wood boxes, 20 lbs. 20c. each; 10 lbs., 12c. each.

DRIED FRUIT—In raisins there is not expected to be much demand at this season. Something new in the shape of California Valencias has been shown in the market. They appear much better than the Denia fruit and will not sugar. They would cost about the same as loose muscatels. In prunes, though price is low, being much below evaporated apples, the demand is light. Evaporated and dried are firmer, with light local demand. There is quite an inquiry from dealers for currants, not so much on account of demand, but because of low stocks. They find to replace stocks they have to pay much higher prices. We quote: Sultana raisins, 6 to 6½c.; Valencia, 4¼ to 4½c.; layers, 5¼ to 5½c.; London layers, $2.25; loose muscatels, 5½ to 6c.; currants, bbls., 3½ to 3¾c.; cases, 3¾ to 4c.; evaporated, 8 to 8½c.; dried, 5½ to 5¾c.; dates, 4 to 4¼c.; prunes, 5 to 5½c.; figs, 11 to 18c.

GREEN FRUIT—Demand is better, and with the return of warmer weather the movement will continue to be large. Apples continue quiet, with no change of price. Florida oranges continue to advance, and even Valencias are feeling much firmer owing to frosts. There are some Californias now coming into the market. We quote: Florida oranges, $4.50 to $5.50; Valencias, $4.50 to $5; lemons, $3.50 to $4.25; Malaga grapes, $5 to $6.50 per keg; apples, $1.50 to $2.50; pineapples, 20 to 22c. each.

DAIRY PRODUCTS—Trade quiet and there is little encouragement, though demand for cheese is rather better, but only at prices below those of last fall. Stocks are not large. For butter there is no sale, except a light demand for creamery rolls. Tub butter and large prints are slow, and at lower prices. Creamery is quiet at 20 to 21c.; dairy tub, 16 to 18c.; creamery prints, 23 to 24c. Eggs, which are in light demand, continue low. Buyers are afraid of quality, and packers would get much better prices if they were more careful about the eggs they send out. Case eggs, 16 to 18c.

MOLASSES—The feeling is much firmer, as demand is beginning to be much more active. It is expected no new will be here for at least two months. Small packages are scarce. In syrup demand is not large, but price is firm and likely to go higher. We quote: Barbadoes, 32 to 33c.; Porto Rico, 32c.; fancy, 43 to 44c.; syrups, 30 to 32c.

SUGAR—Demand is fair. Prices continue at the low figures quoted, and even these, it is reported, are sometimes shaded. The refineries are also inclined to shade prices in some cases. Granulated sugar, $3.60 to $3.75; yellow, 3½ to 3¾c.; Barbadoes, 3½ to 3¾c.; Paris lumps, 5¼ to 5½c.; powdered, 5¼ to 5½c.

FISH—Trade is light, but with Lent drawing near a better demand is looked for. Already there is a better demand. There is little change in prices. Fresh fish are arriving in small quantities, but even this does not cause prices to strengthen much. Frozen herrings are in light supply. Dry and pickled are as last week. Stocks of dry are not large, and smoked are as before. Bloaters and smoked haddies show fair sale. We quote: Codfish, medium, $3.75 to $3.85; small, $3.35; large $3.90 to $4; pollock and haddock, $1.75; shad, half-bbls., $5 to $5.50; Shelburne, No. 1 bbls., $4 to $4.25; half-bbls., $2.40 to $2.50; bay herring, half-bbls., $1.50 to $1.60; Canso, $5.25; smoked herring, 7 to 8c.; frozen herring, 75c.; frozen cod, 2½c.; pollock, 2c.

PROVISIONS—Pork and beef are both easier, with but little selling. There is a little better demand for smoked meats. We quote: Clear pork, $17.50 to $18; P.E.I. mess, $15 to $15.50; prime mess, $12.50 to $13; plate beef, $12.75 to $13.50; pure lard, 9½ to 10c.; compound, 8 to 9c.; hams, 10 to 11c.; shoulders, 8 to 9c.

FLOUR AND FEED.

Demand for flour shows little improvement, with prices firm, except that a reduction in freight causes the laid down price to be a little lower. Prices here are in some cases no higher, or very little higher, than at the mills. Cornmeal continues easy, being rather lower than last week. In beans, the advance is firmly held, and local prices will have to go higher. Oats are also firmly held at the advanced prices, and seed oats are hard to get. Bran and middlings are advancing almost daily. This is particularly true of middlings. Feeding flour is also higher. We quote: Manitoba, $4.30 to $4.35; best Ontario, $3.50 to $3.60; medium, $3.25 to $3.50; oatmeal, $3.90 to $4.10; cornmeal, $2.80 to $2.90; middlings, on track, $22 to $22.50; bran, $20.50 to $21; oats, N.B., 37 to 38c.; Ontario, 42 to 43c., in car lots; beans, hand picked, $1.60 to $1.65; prime, $1.55 to $1.60; split peas, $3.85 to $4; round peas, $3.75 to $3.90; pot barley, $4 to $4.10; hay, on track, $9.50 to $10 (slow movement).

ST. JOHN TRADE NOTES.

On the 14th the freight on flour and feed for export to Bay of Fundy ports was reduced by the railways 7c per bbl.

Theo. H. Estabrooks received this week some nice Barbadoes, which he is offering to the trade. As prices are advancing he is fortunate.

The feeling in canned peas, corn and tomatoes is very firm, owing to the action of the Canadian Packers' Association in advancing their prices 2½c. per doz.

The page "ad." of Windsor salt was a feature in last week's CANADIAN GROCER. Smith & Tilton, the St. John agents, have worked up a splendid trade for these goods.

E. T. Sturdee, who has been missed from his usual rounds for a few weeks during a business trip to England, is again to the front looking after the interest of those houses which he represents.

Geo. W. Clerihew, the representative of Nelson, Morris & Co., was introduced to THE CANADIAN GROCER during the past week by E. T. Sturdee, their agent here. He reports a good demand for his goods.

Fred. McAndrews, who has been traveling for A. L. Goodwin in the fruit business, is now with White, Colwell & Co., Ltd. If he makes the success as a traveller for candy he did when on the road with fruit, White, Colwell & Co. are to be congratulated.

THE CANADIAN GROCER'S representative here hears many very pleasant remarks in regard to the paper, and the manner it deals with live grocery issues. The comments here in regard to the syrup duty are all in line with the position they have taken. Before the advance the packages were admitted free, so that there is a difference in the duty of nearly 6 cents. It is unnecessary to say this movement on the part of the Government was an unpopular one.

The handsome advertisement of Maconochie Bros., in the last issue is attracting much attention. The goods therein advertised are sold here by J. Hunter White, agent, by whom they were introduced to the trade last season. He knows they give satisfaction, as his only trouble is with the first sale.

Fred. N. Tippet, broker, of this city, is home from a short business trip to England. Beside seeing those with whom he is now doing business, he has made a number of new friends. Among the new things he is now showing is a line of pickles put up by W. & D. Harvest. He reports business quiet on the other side.

NOVA SCOTIA MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE CANADIAN GROCER,

HALIFAX, Feb. 21, 1895.

WHILE other lines are feeling very keenly the dullness which prevails, the grocery trade seems to be holding its own. Of course this is the usual dull season, but merchants are not complaining. The depression in Newfoundland is being more keenly felt here than was supposed. That market was a valuable one for some of our dealers, and stocks of butter, beef, etc., which generally went there are now thrown on this market, and often sacrificed.

BREADSTUFFS—There is a continuation of dull markets in this line, with no movements and no improvement in sales, excepting in oats and millfeeds. It seems strange that those articles are advancing when cornmeal and hay and such like feeds are easing off. Quotations are: Hungarian patents, Manitobas, $4.50 to $4.60; Manitoba strong bakers', $4.40 to $4.50; Canadian pastry, $3.60 to $3.70; 75 per cent. rolled patent, $3.55 to $3.65; 80 per cent. $3.40 to $3.50; 90 per cent. $3.25 to $3.35; straights, $3.10 to $3.20; superior extra patent, $3 to $3.10; cornmeal, American KD, $3.20 to $3.30; Halifax ground, do. $3.10 to $3.20; oatmeal, standard, $4 to $4.10; pot barley, $3.90 to $4.10.

MILLFEEDS—Middlings are quoted at $22; bran, in sacks, $21; oats, 41 to 41½c., by the carload.

FISH STUFFS—The only movement locally is for frozen herring. The provincial trade remains unchanged. Large prime dry fish are in demand with small supply. The demand is occasioned by orders from Europe, where stocks are being held. Large bank fish are in good demand also. All other grades are neglected and weaker. Dry cod from vessel: Shore, prime, $3.50 to $4; bank cod, $3.10 to $3.25; large bank cod, $4; Bay of Islands, No. 1 split herrings, $2.25; salmon, No. 1, $12; No. 2, $10; No. 3, $8.

PROVISIONS—Some small shipments of beef were made to Newfoundland this week, the first for several months. Good Canadian beef is offering at 6½c., landed here. Large native cattle are worth $7.25 to $8, sinking offal. Both Canadian and native stocks are scarce. Mutton is scarce at 8c.; veal is also scarce at 6c. There is no lamb offering. Turkeys, Canadian, are worth 10 and 11c.; chickens are scarce at 60 to 80c.; pork, Canadian, is offered at $5.85 to $6.

BUTTER AND CHEESE—It is getting somewhat of a chestnut to say that butter is dull, but nevertheless such a statement must be repeated. Stocks are heavy, demand light and prices low. The market is simply demoralized. Good dairy, in tubs, is quoted at 17 to 19c., and rolls at 18c. An inferior article is offered at far less money, and there is lots of it on the market. Cheese remains dull and inactive at 11½c. for September and 10½ to 11c. for early.

EGGS—Fresh stocks are scarce and are worth from 20 to 21c. Limed stocks can be had at any price. Dealers are asking 14 and 15c.

GREEN FRUIT—There is very little doing in green fruit. Valencia oranges are sweet, and some nice stocks have arrived, which are selling at $4. A few Dominiques arrived this week, brought $5. Jamaicas are worth $8. Lemons, 300 count, range from $3 to $4.50. Stocks of apples are about cleared up. Real good Bishop Pippins are worth from $1 to $2. Good No. 1 winter fruit is bringing $2.50 and $3. No. 2 do., is worth from $1.50 to $2, with slow sales. Cranberries are scarce. Good stocks are worth $10 to $11 per barrel. Perfectly good onions are worth 2c.; medium stocks still sell at 1½c.

SUGAR—Fifty hogsheads and 311 bags of sugar were received here this week from Kingston, Jamaica. There is no new feature in the trade and quotations remain: Porto Rico, in hogsheads, 3c.; refined cut loaf, 5c.; granulated, 3¾c.; standard "A," 3½c.; extra white "C," 3½c.; standard yellow "C," 3½c.; yellow extra "C," 2½ to 3c.

MOLASSES—This line remains quiet, with quotations unchanged at: Antigua, none; Porto Rico, 35c.; Trinidad, none; Barbadoes, 34c.; Demerara, "M R" brand, 39c.; ditto (B) "D" brand, 45c.

HALIFAX MARKET NOTES.

A stock exchange has been opened here. It is said to be a branch of a Boston concern.

The steamer Baracoa sailed on Saturday with an assorted cargo of fish, etc., valued at $3,400, for Haytian ports.

The steamer Newfoundland sailed for St. John's, Nfld., on Saturday, with about $6,000 worth of provisions contributed here.

The bread war still continues, but so far no disastrous results are reported. The people do not seem to object to getting their bread at 4c. for two-pound loaves.

A. O. Hastings, the Maritime representative of the Lake of the Woods Milling Co., who has just arrived in the city from a tour of New Brunswick and this province, reports business better than he expected. But then he can sell flour when nobody else can.

A Halifax wholesale house is said to be doing a little retail business just now in flour. They send the different dealers throughout the province samples of flour with quotations. They send the same to farmers and offer to fill orders for one or more barrels. This may be legitimate trade, but it is rough on the jobber.

A BISCUIT MAKER WEDS.

Mr. Robert J. Christie, son of the proprietor of the biscuit manufacturing firm of Christie, Brown & Co, Toronto, was married Wednesday last. The bride was Miss Emma Louisa, daughter of Mr. R. J. Lee, the well-known druggist, King street east. The ceremony took place in Little Trinity Church, Canon Sanson officiating.

Mr. and Mrs. Christie left by the 4:55 p.m. train en route to the Southern States, where they will spend their honeymoon.

In honor of the event Christie, Brown & Co.'s factory was closed on Wednesday, while in the evening a ball was given to the 200 employees of the firm, one of the flats in the factory having been prepared for the occasion.

LARGE TEA SALES.

Sales of 2,250 packages low grade Congous were made in Montreal this week at 12 to 14c. The principal one was a lot of 1,480 packages by J. Alex. Gordon at about 13c. The remainder changed hands in lots of 200 and 300 packages.

INTERESTING SUGAR DATA.

THE earliest estimates made the total yield of beet sugar for the continent of Europe, 1894-5, fully 1,000,000 tons in excess of the beet crop of 1893-4, but the preliminary estimate of M. Licht foresaw a much smaller increase. Later estimates by the same gentleman, however, approached closer to the more favorable early figures, and his most recent statement puts the crop about, in his opinion, 4,800,000 tons, or an increase of 904,000 tons over the previous crop. It is quite possible that his final figures will equal, if not exceed, those that promised an increase of 1,000,000 tons.

The progress of the world's sugar industry during the past twenty years is shown by the following table, compiled by a London authority and reprinted in The Sugar Trade Journal. The table gives the world's annual production of beet and cane sugar:

	Beet tons.	Cane tons.	Total tons.
1875-76	1,343,000	1,590,000	2,933,000
1876-77	1,045,000	1,673,000	2,718,000
1877-78	1,419,000	1,825,000	3,244,000
1878-79	1,571,000	2,010,000	3,581,000
1879-80	1,402,000	1,852,000	3,254,000
1880-81	1,748,000	1,911,000	3,659,000
1881-82	1,782,000	2,060,000	3,842,000
1882-83	2,147,000	2,107,000	4,254,000
1883-84	2,361,000	2,323,000	4,684,000
1884-85	2,545,000	2,351,000	4,896,000
1885-86	2,223,000	2,139,000	4,362,000
1886-87	2,733,000	2,145,000	5,078,000
1887-88	2,451,000	2,405,000	4,916,000
1888-89	2,725,000	2,203,000	4,928,000
1889-90	3,033,000	2,069,000	5,102,000
1890-91	3,710,000	2,555,000	6,265,000
1891-92	3,501,000	2,852,000	6,353,000
1892-93	3,428,000	2,636,000	6,064,000
1893-94	3,800,000	3,195,000	7,085,000
1894-95	4,075,000	3,125,000	7,800,000

If the figures for 1894-5 in the foregoing table are added to the increase shown by Mr. Licht's latest estimate, the world's total sugar crop would reach the unprecedented quantity of 7,925,000 tons.

Low as prices are at present, there is no reason to suppose that they may not go even lower during the ensuing twelve months, as the reports from cane-growing countries are generally favorable, and the preparations for the next beet sowings are, it is stated, on the same extensive scale as those which resulted in the present liberal crop.

A London trade journal says that that market is still in a state of perplexity with regard to the very excessive and unmanageable supplies of beet sugar that are likely to be sent forward from the Continent in the coming year, and buyers or speculation are casting about in vain to discover fresh outlets for the disposal and absorption of the abnormally large surpluses of raw and refined descriptions that must be got rid of somehow in the course of the new season, 1894-95.

The remedy for the over-production, as was suggested by another London trade paper a short while ago, lies ready to the hands of the people of the beet-producing countries, the persons most interested in solving the problem. As the trouble is caused by under-consumption, rather than over-production, steps must be taken to reduce the heavy taxes on beet sugar, by which the domestic price is made exorbitant and the domestic consumption is restricted, while the English consumer at a considerable distance gets the same product at about half the price which the domestic consumer is compelled to pay.—Kuhlow's German Trade Review.

REPORT OF THE CANADIAN FISHERY COMMISSIONERS

(MR. W. G. GUNN, WALKERTON, ONT., AND M. G. MCLEOD, NEWHAVEN.)

Through a letter of introduction procured for us by the High Commissioner in London, we were courteously shown thro' Messrs. MACONOCHIE BROTHERS' CANNERY, IN SCOTLAND, where some 400 hands are employed. This establishment uses up an immense quantity of Herrings, all of the very best quality. The greatest care is exercised in the selection of these fish; they are put up in 1-lb. tins; Herrings put up this way are very delicious, many people preferring them to canned salmon. The girls who clean these Herrings and put them up do their work very rapidly. The Herrings canned at this establishment are sold in Great Britain, exported to the East Indies, Australia, and the Cape. After we had gone over the establishment in question, we were treated to the contents of a can of Herrings, and can truly testify that we never before tasted anything in the Herring line so delicious and fine flavored.

FRENCH VS. TURKISH PRUNES.

Editor GROCER,—I was much pleased to read your interesting article in last week's issue on "French Versus Turkish Prunes," and I think the trade will fully appreciate your efforts in drawing their attention to the relative qualities of various growths of fruit. Such information must be of much value to many dealers who have had comparatively little opportunity of judging for themselves, while the question whether French or Turkish prunes are destined to hold the highest place or command the greatest sale in this country, is of importance to everyone in the trade.

As the firm with which I am connected is interested equally in the sale of both growths of fruit and has, therefore, facilities for obtaining much information on this subject, I have thought it might not be uninteresting to your readers if I were to supplement your able article by a few further remarks.

The two cardinal points of your article, and the questions which you say are receiving more attention than ever before, and regarding both of which your article states there is a decided difference of opinion, are:

1st. Are French prunes superior in quality to Turkish prunes?

2nd. Is the trade in French prunes on this market increasing, and to the injury of the Turkish article?

I submit: As to quality there is absolutely no difference of opinion amongst buyers who are familiar with the articles. The French prune is much superior to the Turkish prune. I make this statement unhesitatingly, notwithstanding that you say "wholesalers on the Toronto market assert that, at the same price, the preference is given to the Turkish prune."

It is not to be inferred that if what I submit is correct that the Toronto wholesaler does not know the relative merits of the goods, nor that on the whole the retailers who prefer the Turkish do not know their business. It admits of an explanation which I believe is not only the explanation, but is a simple statement of fact. It has been the custom of some wholesale houses to import only French prunes for price, and necessarily very small fruit, while in Turkish prunes, the importation for some years past (since the trade abandoned importing small fruit in casks), has been for prepared fruit in four sizes, more generally known as Bosnia, though actually grown in Servia and Bulgaria, the smallest of which is larger than the "Prunes Communes" imported into France. Naturally then, if a retailer is asked to make a choice between French (small fruit understood), and Bosnia (larger fruit understood), he decides rightly on Bosnia, but give an intelligent retailer the choice between prepared French "Prunes D'Entes" (cultivated fruit off grafted trees) of a given size, and prepared Bosnias of the same size and at the same price, and he will very quickly say French.

If this is so, why then does the trade not import French more extensively in the larger sized fruit? Because French of the same size as Bosnias cannot be imported at the same price as Bosnias, and why not? Because the quality is universally recognized as superior, and Bosnias have to sell lower in the consuming countries to sell at all.

The consideration for the retailer then, is not only whether French or Bosnia, but what size of French and what size of Bosnia. The various sizes are indicated on both French and Bosnia by different letters on the box, and buyers should make themselves familiar with these.

The other question, as to whether French are displacing Turkish on this market, is more difficult to answer, and may well be said to be problematical, and everyone is welcome to an opinion. Certainly many more French prunes, of large sized fruit, were sold this year than ever before—over two thousand boxes in Toronto alone, which is perhaps four times what was sold last year (in both years leaving out the importation of small fruit)—but this is accounted for by the fact that fine French prunes were cheaper this year than ever before, and still not as cheap as Bosnia. I cannot think, however, that the distribution of this quantity of superior fruit can fail to advertise the goods and produce important results, but on the other hand we can hardly hope to have French another year at a price so little above Bosnias, size for size, although the French Treaty will be a factor in that direction which has not been operative this season, and as this market is largely a market for price, I do not look for any sudden displacement of Bosnias by French, but under ordinary crop and other conditions to see the sale of French increase more and more as consumers become more educated to the use of high class goods.

Yours truly,

J. L. WATT.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Charles E. Colson, Montreal, representing Crosse & Blackwell and other English firms, was in Toronto this week.

T. O. Leonard, of Detroit, the well-known representative of Kingsford's starch, was in Toronto Wednesday, making his usual monthly trip.

R. Barker, representing D. Richards, Woodstock, Ont., spent the other week at Ottawa pushing Richards' "Pure Soap." He reports trade satisfactory and sales increasing.

Mr. Church, of the Toronto Biscuit & Confectionery Co., was snow bound in Sutton last week for four days. He says he enjoyed the visit very much. Why he does not say.

The officers and members of Toronto Lodge No. 30, Knights of Pythias, at their last regular meeting presented David Munro, traveler for the Pure Gold Manufacturing Co., with a handsome emblematic Pythian charm, as a token of the esteem in which he is held by them and for the zeal he has displayed on behalf of the lodge.

TEA INSPECTION.

T. B. Escott & Co., of London, write as follows regarding the inspection of teas:

"We would suggest that the machinery for the work be made as simple as possible. We think a man should be appointed by the Government at each wholesale centre, who understands enough about the liquoring of teas to be able to discriminate between good and bad. These officials should receive a remuneration of a certain fee, on each shipment, to be paid either by the importer or the Government. We think this fee should be paid by the latter, as the inspection is in the interest of the public in general.

"It should not be necessary to test more than one package of a kind in each shipment. This, with the invoice presented to the Customs showing the price of the tea, should be sufficient guarantee that the whole line of tea is the same. This inspection would be necessary only for teas imported from the United States or places of growth. Certificates on English importations would be accepted as satisfactory evidence of the quality.

"We do not think that there is very much impure tea imported into Canada. The trade in Ontario as a rule demands teas of good quality, and it is very unusual to find impure teas in the hands of either the wholesale or retail grocer."

President Boleins, in his annual address before the Jobbers' Union, at Winnipeg, said one result of the careful policy pursued by the business was shown in the fact that failures in this district (Port Arthur to Coast) in 1894 amounted to $604,984, or $155,688 less than in 1893.

DEPARTMENTAL STORES.

Say, look here, Mr. Editor,—It makes me dead tired to read about these departmental stores and their baneful effects upon the grocery and other trades. I'm tired, and don't care a pin who knows it. Why, who is to blame to a large extent for the competition, but we ourselves? If we stuck together like men and acted right we could do a great deal towards minimizing the evil tendencies and effects of these stores. But oh, pshaw! our own wives, sisters, mothers and brothers, to say nothing of our numerous cousins and aunts, urban and suburban, are patronizing these elephantine stores. I'm called "The Crank" by my folks at home for insisting on having all purchases for the home made in any but the large stores, and, by the Great Jehoshaphat, I'll see that my orders are carried out.

But every grocer in the city (and there are about 900 of us, great and small) lets his family buy their dress goods, boots and shoes, carpets, &c., at the Yonge street "Butcher Shops." And what do we see on Bargain Days! Holy smoke! Whole strings of our relations, picking up bargains in everything except groceries. It's a downright shame.

Stop it, I say, stop it. Keep your families from buying at these stores—that's one way of reducing the evil. But human nature is the same the world over; and the ladies will spend twenty cents in car fare to get a bargain in shoe laces or a bottle of perfume. I'll bet our mother Eve got a bargain in fig leaves: and I'll make another bet, it was on a Friday she got it, too. That's an unlucky day, isn't it?

Say, see here, Mr. Editor, isn't it the in-born desire to get something for nothing, or almost nothing, that is pervading the general public, us grocers included? Of course it is. Or is it the hard times, the N.P., or what, that is making us want sugar for 2½c., so we can give 45 lbs. for the dollar, and load housekeepers up with a lot of stuff they don't require at this season of the year?

There are too many of us troubled with the same idea as are the proprietors of the large departmental stores, that is, to do all the business ourselves, and crowd the little struggling side stores to the wall. Our motto is: "Everyone for himself and the devil take the hindmost."

The grand old principle of "Live and let live" is dead now; and I am afraid it is dead beyond hope of resurrection. Why, I know a family worth a million at least who get their groceries wholesale, at least I am led to that conclusion, as I frequently see their swell turnout down on Front street. Why can't they buy from the retail grocer and give him a chance to make a living? I'll tell you: Same desire for bargains, things at half price, &c. How are you going to stop it! Answer: You can't.

Say, Mr. Editor, I'll give you another racket next week.

THE CANADIAN GROCER

Vol. IX. (Published Weekly)

TORONTO AND MONTREAL, MARCH 1, 1895

($2.00 per Year) No. 9

DROPS FROM THE EDITOR'S PEN.

"What is the cause of baldness?" asks an inquisitive one. Come now, this is too delicate a question altogether.

* * *

A member of the Coventry (Eng.), Grocers' Association was recently convicted of selling adulterated butter, notwithstanding that he had bought it for the pure article. The association has since passed a resolution protesting against inspectors having the power to obtain summonses under the Food and Drugs Act "for selling an article like butter, which was neither really food nor a drug." It was claimed that if summonses were issued under the Margarine Act the trader would be given the option of protecting himself.

* * *

At a meeting of the Hartlepool Retail Grocers' Association the other day one of the members wanted to know if something could not be done to relieve wholesalers of the tax of giving Christmas presents to retailers. He had received numerous presents himself. In fact, he had lived a fortnight on what he had got. He thought, however, that as the retailer had stopped giving presents to his customers the wholesaler should do ditto. The other members could not see eye to eye with him, and no action was taken. The member in question is evidently willing to forego the perquisites—if he can get the other fellows to come into his boat. He does not believe in "paddling his own canoe."

* * *

The net profit of the Richelieu & Ontario Navigation Co. was last year over 16 per cent. Lower freight rates are now in order, but it does not follow they will materialize. Money makes the mare go, but making money does not usually make big corporations more magnanimous.

* * *

There is one advantage about quiet times in business: they afford merchants time to think. The trouble with a good many is that they do not think enough. More people lose money by not thinking enough than there are who lose it from thinking too much.

* * *

Save your discounts, and your discounts will save you.

* * *

Do not imagine that these be ancient times because some business men employ ancient methods. For instance, do not advertise, or take a trade paper.

* * *

Never trust your memory for keeping accounts. It is about as wise as trusting with goods a man who is an entire stranger to you.

* * *

A merchant often diminishes his dollars by enlarging his quarters.

* * *

The merchant who cuts prices because somebody else does, is simply endorsing his action, and this is about as foolish as to endorse his note.

* * *

"What is Enterprise?" asks a contemporary. Well, it is not sitting down and folding one's arms because business is not satisfactory. Consequently, it must be something of an opposite character.

* * *

The production of Anthracite coal in the United States last year fell off 1,696,337 tons and the price 25 to 75c per ton. Hard Times evidently invades the demesne of the coal barons as well as that of ordinary mortals.

* * *

"The ideal home is one that ministers to the needs of all those who make it." That is, of course, it ministers to all except the grocer who keeps open till he is too tired to enjoy anything but his bed.

* * *

The members of the Grocers' Association of Grimsby (England), held their annual tea meeting the last day of January. The wife of the president presided, and she was assisted by the wives of other members.

Here is a cue for the Grocery Association in Canada. To them we say, go thou and do likewise.

* * *

Hard times make good merchants as well as severe storms good sailors. Chew this thought for consolation.

* * *

If the members of the Ontario Legislature display half as much care for the public weal as they did a few months ago, to make their own calling and election sure, many good measures will be placed upon the Statute Book and many bad ones removed therefrom.

* * *

It is yet to be demonstrated whether the members of the Eighth Parliament of Ontario are an improvement, in a business sense, upon their predecessors in the Seventh Parliament. By their Acts ye shall know them.

* * *

A public meeting has been called by Mayor Kennedy for to night (Friday) to discuss departmental stores. It is safe venturing that the meeting will be noted more for the variety of views advanced than for the practical benefits that will result. It may do something as an educator, but that is about all it can do.

* * *

Because a grocer was the first to see the spring robin it does not follow that the first spring robbing will be done by a grocer.

* * *

When a daily paper simultaneously goes into politics and selling tea, the people might well ask: "Where are we at?"

* * *

Politics are in bad odor, and as the chief literary dispenser of them has also gone into the tea business, deterioration in value may be looked for in one or other of the commodities. As the property of the one is to give out and the other to take in odors, it is obvious which will suffer by the combination.

THE DEPARTMENTAL HYDRA.

A REPRESENTATIVE of THE CANADIAN GROCER has interviewed a number of the retail grocers of Toronto regarding their opinion of and attitude towards the hydra-headed departmental store.

In some cases the retailers absolutely refused to say anything, putting forward as a reason for their silence the argument that all agitation against these powerful competitors merely served to advertise them and increase their business.

Others, however, were willing to take a bolder stand on the question. Departmental stores, these thought, were probably here to stay, and enterprising grocers would manfully accept the existing condition of affairs, and endeavor to hold their own by meeting their big competitors, as far as possible, at every hand.

Mr. Henry Swan, of Swan Bros., King street east, said that there was no use denying that these big establishments injured, to a greater or less degree, the trade of smaller men all over the city. Especially at holiday times was this the case, when, in order to attract great crowds to their premises, these houses offered some particular lines of groceries almost at cost price.

But, went on Mr. Swan, as long as the retailers attended thoroughly to their business and did all in their power to please their customers, there was not much danger of their losing their regular trade. The reasons for this were plain. The proprietors of the big departmental stores, having many irons in the fire, could not be expected to be thoroughly up in the thousand and one things about the trade with which a live retailer was intimate. Moreover, in these large stores groceries were generally done up carelessly and in a hurry, and practically "thrown at" the people. Customers soon found out that while they got quantity they did not get quality at such places, and thereupon returned to the retail man. And here the live grocer got in his effective work by being even more than usually careful of what went out of his store, and in what condition.

Still other leading retailers advanced the argument that inasmuch as the grocery business consisted in great part of "local" trade, the departmental stores were to a great extent handicapped in the race. To be more lucid, in most households every day, and at almost every hour of the day, something was wanted for the kitchen or laundry, and the nearest first-class grocery store was in such cases bound to be patronized.

For another reason many claim the departmental stores cannot really "down" the live grocers of the city, and that reason is this, there is such a small margin on the average grocery article that, as long as the former stick to legitimate business, and sell to make a profit, and not to advertise other lines of goods, they cannot oust the latter.

The retailers who were asked their opinion regarding Ald. Davies' scheme to limit the spheres of departmental stores, pooh-poohed the idea. They held that the principle of artificially restricting trade was wrong, and that at any rate the alderman's scheme was impracticable, for the simple reason that it would be impossible to draw the line regarding what goods one should carry and what another. For instance, which should be allowed to sell wash tubs, a house-furnisher or a grocer, whose business it was to supply goods for kitchen use in general? Mr. Swan is one of those who most favors freedom of trade.

One well-known and enterprising grocer made the suggestion that the Factories Act should be made to apply to departmental stores, or that at least some measure including the same regulations as regards the employing of juveniles and especially dealing with these big concerns should be passed by the Legislature. The effect of such a measure would be to do away with employment of boys and girls under a specified age; to compel the big stores to pay their employees higher wages, and thus bring them down to a great extent to the level of their small retail competitors.

Still others, Mr. Swan among them, seem to think it would be a good idea to impose extra taxation on the departmental stores to make up for the loss in revenue sustained by the city as a result of the closing of smaller stores consequent upon the competition of these large concerns.

On the whole, the general opinion seems to be that weak and inexperienced grocers will succumb to the struggle, but that really live and enterprising houses will prosper, notwithstanding departmental stores.

CORN PACK IN U. S. AND CANADA.

The American Grocer figures it out that the pack of corn in the United States last year was 3,414,808 cases of two dozen cans each. Compared with the unprecedented pack of 1893, this shows a decrease of 886,643 cases, but is 807,263 cases above the average of the past ten years. The heaviest falling off from the output of 1893 was in sections of the west in which supplies were greatly curtailed by drought. Thus, Iowa's record shows a decrease for the year of about 350,000 cases, Nebraska 156,000 cases, Kansas 12,000 cases, and Michigan nearly the same. The Maine pack shows little change. Maryland and Virginia are about 90,000 cases behind; New York state is about 113,000 cases short of last year, and Pennsylvania and Delaware together are about 60,000 cases behind. The only increase recorded is 47,800 cases in the Indiana pack. The details of the pack of the past two years is given as follows:

The N. Y. Journal of Commerce says that the condition of the market from the opening of the season of 1894 to date would indicate that there has been and still is quite enough corn to go around. A reasonable presumption is that either a considerable quantity of corn was carried over from 1893, or the consumption has fallen behind to greater or less extent.

C. P. R. STOCK.

“A T the meeting of the directors of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, on Saturday, a half-yearly dividend of two per cent. on the preference stock was declared, but, in view of the continued and unexpectedly large decrease in earnings, and the advisability of maintaining as strong a position as possible during this period of unwonted depression in business, the board decided that it would not be prudent to pay any dividend on the ordinary shares for the last half of the year 1894.”

Such was the announcement given out by the directors of the road after the meeting last Saturday in Montreal. A journal of that city, in commenting upon the situation, says :

“The announcement caused considerable surprise. It was not, however, as a lightning bolt from a clear sky, for among well-informed people it was a foregone conclusion that a reduction, if not an entire cancellation, of the dividend on the common stock, would be made. That a decided drop would be taken by the stock was also generally conceded, so that when the other morning London quoted C.P.R. six points down, no one was very much surprised. That there was practically no C.P.R. stock afloat was probably a very fortunate thing, so far as the Street was concerned. Business was practically at a standstill on the Exchange. As one broker expressed it, ‘We are all afraid to open our mouths for fear of being loaded with something we don’t want.’ Canadian Pacific opened at 43 and sold down to 42, with some three hundred and fifty shares changing hands. Outside of this lot there was practically nothing done in C.P.R. or anything else at the morning session.

“In speaking of the amount of C.P.R. held in Montreal, one well-informed gentleman of the Street said that there was practically very little stock in the city, and what there was was locked up in strong boxes ; that as a speculative medium it hardly existed here. At one time it was dealt in very largely, but, in the autumn of 1890, during the Baring panic, and again in the panic of 1893, the stock was all absorbed in London, and since that time has speculatively ceased to exist on this side of the water. Outside of the large holdings of the directors there was none to speak of.

“On the New York Stock Exchange, C. P.R. opened at 43¾, and, on a few transactions, up to noon sold down to 43. In 1894 the highest for the stock on the local Exchange was 73¼. This was in January. The lowest on record was in April, 1885, when it sold down to 35¾. In 1889 the stock sold, in London, at 48¾, and in 1892, in London, sold at 97½. In the year 1893, 66 was the lowest and 90¼ the highest in New York.”

NECESSITY OF COMPOSURE.

One thing which, if not a necessity, is at least conducive to comfortable living, is hardly appreciated even by those who most need it. This is the need of having some time each day entirely alone. It is impossible to live comfortably without composure of mind, and there is no way of securing it so surely as to spend a short time each day—and a long time is even better—in silence and free from interruptions. It is soothing to tired nerves and strengthening to a tired mind. The person who does not like to be alone, who does not even strongly desire to be alone, once in a while, is already on the highroad to ill-health. It is the only way to have relief from the confusion of always being in some one’s presence, which will, sooner or later, either affect the nerves or weaken the mind.

Wherever or however you live, then, see to it that you have at least one hour out of every twenty-four which you can call your own. Some busy people may at first think this is impossible ; but we rarely find any one who does not waste more than this every day, and who is not the worse off for the waste. The very act of taking this hour strengthens the will, and adds that much to the comfort of living, since a weak-willed person is at the mercy of everything and every person that encroaches upon his rights; and not the least of these is the right to live a healthy, comfortable life. This advice should be taken to heart by our merchants.

THAT SYRUP DUTY.

THE articles which have been appearing in these columns during the past few weeks in regard to the tariff on dark syrups have, as far as we are aware, been unanimously endorsed by the trade. This is natural.

The question is one that touches a sore spot.

The measure of our sympathies toward any question is gauged by the extent to which our interests are affected.

The tariff on dark syrups interests everyone in the grocery trade.

The duty of 7c. per gallon, with an additional impost on the barrel in which it is brought into the country, is as illogical as it is unjust. And we have yet to hear a reason or excuse advanced for its existence.

It can hardly be based on protectionist principles. In order to constitute protection there must be something to protect.

As we have already pointed out, the Canadian refineries practically make no dark syrups. Why they do not we cannot tell. As they can, but do not, it must be concluded they will not.

But whatever may be the reason for the practical non-production of this particular syrup in Canada, one thing is certain : Dark syrups are wanted ; and in order to satisfy this want it is necessary to pay a duty, counting tax on barrel, of as high as 90 to 95 per cent. in some instances.

Were even this duty imposed for revenue purposes it would be absurd : Its very excessiveness would defeat its purpose.

The anomalous character of the duty on dark syrup is again pressed upon the attention of Hon. Clarke Wallace, Controller of Customs. He is a grocer, and has therefore a practical acquaintanceship with the subject. In the past he has had his ears open to the cry of the trade as none of his predecessors have ; and it is to be hoped that he will not close them in this particular instance.

TOO MANY BRANCH BANKS.

COMMON is it to humanity to try and pluck the mote from its brother's eye while a beam is still in its own eye.

One of the particulars in which this weakness is evidenced is in the periodical addresses or writings of bankers.

These gentlemen are prolific in the lessons they read merchants on the evils of careless credits and excessive expansions of trade. Yet in both these particulars they often exhibit a good deal of remissness themselves.

Their shortcomings in the matter of credits are revealed by some of the published statements of insolvent concerns. Their shortcomings in the way of undue expansion of trade are not so generally known ; but they are true, nevertheless.

A few years ago, it will be remembered, most of the banks were consumed with the missionary spirit to start branches, urban and suburban.

As a result, there were soon too many branches ; and as too many branches meant not enough business, some of them are white elephants on the hands of the parent banks.

This is no mere hap-hazard assertion. THE CANADIAN GROCER's authority is one of the leading, best known, and respected financial authorities in Toronto, and he says that it is becoming a serious thing what is to be done in the premises.

Sound as are the chartered banks of Canada, yet it is evident that some of them do those things which they should not do when hungry for business, as well as ordinary merchants.

It is now the duty of the banks to act upon their own advice to merchants : Take in sail.

THE PEDLARS' NUISANCE AGAIN.

THE pedlars' nuisance has not been abated yet in Montreal, as shown last week at the proceedings of the Market Committee of the City Council. At this meeting a deputation from the Montreal Retail Grocers' Association headed by Mr. John Johnston, the president, attended. Their object was to try and get the business of the pedlars restricted as much as possible. The pedlars paid neither business nor water tax, and often sold inferior articles, frequently prejudicial to public health. The committee was asked to induce the Council to provide that a license at the uniform rate of $100 a year should be exacted of all pedlars. The petitioners also asked that all measures used by pedlars not bearing the seal of the inspector of weights and measures be confiscated.

Mr. Johnston explained that everything in the fruit and vegetable line was peddled about nowadays, and not a few of the pedlars had no license at all. In other cases one license would go round three pedlars. The cart license went with one, the badge with another and the receipt with the third. Then the Mayor and Chief of Police granted reductions in some cases, and in others granted licenses for portions of the year. If a shopkeeper tried to pay his tax and was fifteen cents short, his money was refused. This was altogether unfair to those legitimately in trade.

Ald. Penny enquired if the Mayor or Chief of Police had the right to give licenses to pedlars free, or even at a reduced rate. He doubted if they had.

Ald. Nolan said that the Mayor, Chief of Police or anybody else had a right to override a by-law. The Mayor had probably been actuated by kindness, but he had exceeded his right.

A resolution was passed asking the Council to notify the Mayor and Chief of Police to see that the by-law regarding pedlars is strictly enforced.

THE CANADIAN GROCER has repeatedly commented upon the injustice of allowing the pedlars free sway, and the statements made by President Johnston need no corroboration, for the facts they refer to are common talk. Even allowing that the pedlars are taxed, we contend that the tax is not nearly sufficient. The tax on pedlars in Montreal is only $25 per annum, little enough in all conscience compared with the heavy municipal as well as provincial imposts collected from the unfortunate retail trader who is unlucky enough to have a regular place of business. Why the retail grocers and butchers, with the political influence they can exert, stand it is a mystery. If the aldermen won't grant them justice, they can easily bring these gentlemen to time if they go about it in the right way. But, according to Ald. Nolan, even the ordinary by-law is not enforced in some cases. If this is so, any individual grocer can soon bring both the Mayor and Chief of Police to time by instituting an action in the courts against either of these officials for unconstitutional conduct.

BEET SUGAR OVER-PRODUCTION.

ACCORDING to the cable advices there is promise of a very singular struggle in Europe for the control of the sugar market, and the United States, which receives a great part of its sugar from the countries involved, will naturally be much affected. The practice of encouraging the growth of sugar beets, and the production of sugar therefrom by the payment of a bounty on exported sugar, has long obtained in Europe. The results were such as to exceed the most ardent expectations of the promoters of the bounty system, and soon the beet sugar output assumed such great proportions as to seriously injure the market for cane sugar. With increased production prices began to fall, and the governments were compelled to increase the bounties in order to satisfy the great agricultural interests. Naturally the country which paid the largest bounty had command of the sugar market, for its producers, by the aid of the bounty, could undersell their competitors.

The burden of these bounties at length became too great to be borne, and an effort was made to reach some kind of an arrangement between the different competing countries whereby relief could be secured. The three great rivals were Germany, France and Austria. Germany began by giving notice of the termination of her bounty system in 1897 and the other countries adopted more or less direct means of reducing the bounties. But it appears that in Germany the beet sugar industry has obtained a hold too strong to be shaken off. Under the encouragement of the bounty system great tracts of land which were formerly covered with wheat, rye and other cereals, were given up to the sugar beet, and all through the country factories sprang up for the making of the beet roots into sugar, giving employment to many thousands of people.

The Government finally became alarmed and sought to discourage the extension of the industry, but without avail. The farmers complained that they could not go back to cereal raising, for they could not meet the competition of America and Russia and Argentina, nor could they raise stock at a profit. So the crops of beets increased and prices went down so that last year all but the very largest factories lost money, and the assurance is facing the Germans that this year, owing to the enormous crop, they will fall much lower.

To save the farmers from ruin it is believed to be necessary to extend the foreign market for German sugar, and this can be done only by the increase of the export bounty. But to do this would violate the tacit understanding between the three great competing powers and cause reprisals, and, as it is, the mere suggestion of the German programme has called out a declaration from the French Council that they will meet it by increasing their own bounty.

Austria also is expected to be heard from in the same tone, and it is predicted that if the battle once begins again the singular spectacle will be presented of three countries striving to see which can pay out the largest bounty, with the result, like an American railroad war, of giving the exporters practically free sugar to sell.

A NINE CENT COIN.

The nineteen, forty-nine and ninety-nine cent marks on many articles of merchandise have led certain investigators to demand a nine-cent coin. It is said in defence of this idea that it would greatly facilitate making change and save shoppers a great deal of time.

CALIFORNIA CANNED GOODS.

A feature of the grocery trade in Toronto last week was the arrival of a car load of California dried fruits at the warehouse of a large wholesale firm. This is said to be the first shipment of this kind to arrive in Toronto for several years, and is, therefore, worthy of special remark. The consignment consists of apricots, cherries, grapes, plums, peaches, pears, nectarines, etc. In California, much care is paid by the packers to the selecting and culling of the fruit, and when dried the goods are well done up.

The arrival of this car of fruit is indicative of the increasing demand for high class goods, and if the Canadian packers would hold their own they must look to themselves. The prices of these imported goods compare favorably with the domestic pack prices.

CHEAP SUGARS.

According to Willet & Gray, New York, the retail price of granulated sugar in the United Kingdom is now 1¼d. per lb. (2.54c.), while the same sugar sells in Germany at 2d. (6.09c.), in Russia at 4½d. (9.13c.), in France and Belgium at 5½d. (11.07c.), and in Italy at 6d. (12.18c.), and in the United States at 3.74c. per lb. If there was no duty the price would be 2⅝c. per lb. for American granulated and 2½c. for foreign granulated in the United States, or quite as low as in the United Kingdom. All the other countries tax the consumers of sugar very heavily and pay the bounties on the exports out of the money so raised. Compared with the people of the world, the United States is the most favored nation as regards the cheapness of its sugar supply.

In making their calculations Willet & Gray forget to include Canada. Canada leads the world for cheap sugars.

COLONIAL TEAS.

Last mails from London seem to show just a slight easing in tone for Colonial teas. On Indians, one report says: If anything, the competition for teas for price has been less keen, and the quality of the recent imports showing slight signs of deterioration, it has not been so readily purchased, while the value here and there has been hardly equal in firmness to that of a short time since. Finer teas are becoming more scarce every day, and there are still a few invoices in the catalogues printed "last of the season," so that the great bulk of the 1894-5 crop may be regarded as having been shipped or otherwise dealt with, so far as Great Britain is concerned. In the London stock there is a deficit of 4,260,000 lbs. compared with the same time in 1894. Another report runs as follows: The shipment of 8,250,000 lbs. for January from Ceylon, against 7,000,000 lbs. previously estimated, has also contributed to a quieter feeling, and supplies for the present are likely to be of a liberal character. Teas below 9d., which have been so firm for some time past, were ¼d. cheaper, while nearly all other grades were fully ½d. per lb. lower. Commonest Pekoe Souchongs sold down to 7¼d. and 7½d., and Pekoe 7½d. to 7¾d. Quality shows a marked falling off, some being very inferior.

SALT LOWER.

Contrary to general expectation, the price of salt has not yet risen, but, instead, has gone down. The well owners have found it impossible to come to an arrangement. The two chief obstacles in the way of a combine are the Windsor Salt Co., of Windsor, Ont., and the People's Salt Co. Neither of these will agree to the allotment of outputs which the other interested concerns desire. Moreover, the Windsor Salt Co. are asked to keep their product 10c. in price higher than the article turned out by the other factories. The result is that cutting in prices is now going on, and an appreciable drop has taken place.

Dealers, however, prophesy that the companies cannot stand the strain, that somebody will have to make concessions, and within a short time prices must go up again.

AN EGG FAMINE.

Owing to the recent advanced prices in the American markets all the surplus of Canadian stored eggs found their way across the line, and the consequence is that to day Canada is stared in the face by an egg famine. It remains with one or two dealers here, who are holding a few eggs, to say what the price will be. We would not be surprised to see limed eggs go up to 20 to 22 cents, or whatever the holders like to ask within the next few days. No fresh eggs are coming forward to speak of. One dealer alone says he could handle 10,000 dozen a day easily just now, but that his receipts amount to only a few hundred dozen.

HERE IS AN EXAMPLE THAT MIGHT BE FOLLOWED.

Wholesale Grocers

TORONTO - - ONTARIO

RESOLUTIONS.

Say, look here, Mr. Editor.—I wrote an article on Departmental Stores last week for publication in THE CANADIAN GROCER, and expected you to put it in the front among the reading matter, but instead of that you jammed it in among a lot of pickle, shoe blacking and fish ads. How do you suppose people will see my letters alongside of well-arranged advertisements? Give me a show!

* * *

Your remarks last week on The Ohio Merchant's advice to boycott all wholesale grocers who supplied these departmental stores were sensible, but you don't go far enough. Applied to this city, every bloomin' wholesale grocery on the street would have to be put under the ban. Pshaw, how can we retailers help it? As I said before, we can't—the trend of the times, customs, surroundings and purchasing capacities of the people keep them alive. Why, I know for a fact that some of our biggest kickers against these stores are men who don't buy a dollar's worth of groceries in Toronto if they can buy them in Montreal, Hamilton or other outside markets. It's the distant pastures that look the greenest,—in our case it's the Toronto retail grocer who is "the greenest" very often. I was caught once.

* * *

No, sir.—If we grocers of Toronto had any gum in us we would club together, lease a large store on the corner of Yonge and Queen streets, sell groceries at living cash prices and just knock the spots out of boots, shoes, dress goods, hosiery, etc. In fact, if I were in the deal I'd sell silk handkerchiefs, lace-trimmed at that, for 5c. Fact, I would—and so on. But I haven't got enough cash to go into the deal—so—

* * *

I am surprised at one thing, though, and that is why some of the more enterprising wholesale grocers here don't branch out into the retail business. It's done on the other side, some wholesalers actually having two in one city, and nobody kicks—I guess there aren't any "Cranks" over there. I wouldn't be surprised, though, to see some of them doing it here. If they do, the departmental stores will be like the man driving a hearse, not "in it."

* * *

I say, that last At Home of ours was a dandy, wasn't it? Quite English and home like, in St. George's Hall. How Harry Webb must have regretted that fire of his.

* * *

But, Shades of Homer, where was our hustler, J. G. Gibson, and Dick Donald, and—and—Barron? Was the hall too small for these merchant princes? Do you know, I sadly missed J.G. These At Homes are misnomers when J.G. isn't there. I demand an explanation of his absence.

* * *

Say, the wholesalers were there in force this year. What's up? Competition getting keener? I never saw so much handshaking and introducing as on Monday night. One of them was particularly and effusively conspicuous in this respect. He even outdid President Roberts. I'm sorry our old friend Dinny Callahan wasn't there. Lots of things for him to note. What's the matter with him anyway?

THE CRANK.

AUSTRALIAN EGGS, ETC.

If what The Trade Bulletin says is strictly true Canada had better watch her laurels. That journal remarks: "Australia is a wonderful country for producing surplus food products, and its long distance appears to be no bar to its placing produce in prime condition on the English market. A short time since the few cases of Australian eggs that appeared on the London market were laughed at, as it was held that Australians could never ship eggs to England to advantage; but the next thing we hear is that about 10,000 eggs in one lot is about due in England; and that the Minister of Agriculture at Victoria is arranging for trial shipments of green peas, asparagus and other fresh vegetables."

MARKETS AND MARKET NOTES

TORONTO MARKETS.

TORONTO, Feb. 28, 1895.

GROCERIES.

TRADE is still quiet, but perhaps a little better than for the past few weeks. The railway and country roads which have been more or less continuously blocked for a long time are now pretty well opened up again, and the travellers are once more beginning to move around among their customers. The result is that these emissaries of the wholesale houses are getting a good many orders. Many of the country storekeepers have been so long closed in by the snow that their stocks have run out in some lines, and now, when communication with the outside world is resumed, they are taking advantage of the opportunity to fill up where they are short. Sugar is easy, with no indication of a change in price, either down or up, and teas, coffees, and foreign dried fruits continue strong. A feature of the market is the large volume of trade being done in canned fish owing to the advent of the Lenten season. There is not much change regarding payments. The outlook is for an improvement in the general situation in the immediate future.

CANNED GOODS.

Salmon is active preparatory to Lent, and bringing higher prices. A fair trade in staples is reported, but no remarkable feature has developed in the market. We quote: Tomatoes, 87½ to 90c. for choice and 85c. for inferior and old stock; corn, 90 to 95c. for choice and 87½c. for common; peas, 82½ to 87½c. for ordinary and, $1.40 for fancy; peaches, $2.75 to $3 for 3's, $1.75 to $1.90 for 2's; raspberries, $1.65 to $1.80; strawberries, $1 to $2.10; apples, 3's, $1 to $1.10, gallons $2.10 to $2.25, and preserved fancy quarters at $1.35 to $1.40; salmon, $1.45 to $1.50 for good red fish in tall tins, and $1.60 to $1.65 in flat tins; do., second quality, $1.15 to $1.25; canned mackerel, $1 to $1.10; lobsters, $1.70 to $2 for tall tins, and $2.25 to $2.75 for flat tins. Australian mutton, boiled, 2 lb. cans, $3.40; ditto, corned and roast, $3.75.

COFFEES.

Rio coffees are lower, and Mochas are going higher. Advances and retreats in these lines are all the changes in the market to remark. We quote green, in bags, as follows: Rio, 19 to 21c.; East Indian, 27 to 30c.; South American, 21 to 23c.; Santos, 21½ to 22½c.; Java, 30 to 33c.; Mocha, 30 to 35c.; Maracaibo, 21 to 23c.; Jamaica, 21 to 22c.

RICE.

Business is of the usual quiet and seasonal character. We quote as before: "B," 3½ to 3¾c.; extra Japan, 5¼ to 5¾c.; imported Japan, 5¼ to 6¼c.; tapioca, pearl, 4½ to 5c.

SPICES.

A good demand for whole pepper is noticed. There are no changes in prices. We therefore repeat last week's quotations: Pure black pepper, 10 to 12c.; pure white, 18 to 25c.; pure Jamaica ginger, 25 to 27c.; cloves, 25 to 30c.; pure mixed spice, 25 to 30c.; cream of tartar, 20 to 25c. per lb.

NUTS.

There is absolutely no change in the situation. We quote: Brazil nuts, 11 to 11½c.; Sicily shelled almonds, 25 to 26c.; Tarragona almonds, 14 to 14½c.; peanuts, 10 to 12c. for roasted and 7 to 10c. for green; cocoanuts, $4.50 to $5 persack; Grenoble walnuts, 15 to 16c.; Marbot walnuts, 12½ to 14c.; Bordeaux walnuts, 12 to 13c.; Sicily filberts, 9 to 10c. for sacks and 10½ to 11c. for small lots; pecans, 10½ to 11c.

SUGAR.

Sugar is easy. There is no prospect of any alteration in prices whatever. We quote: Granulated—domestic, 3½ to 3¾c.; do., German granulated, $3.40 to $3.50; yellows, $2.75 to $3.30. Raws—Demerara, 2¼ to 3c.; Muscovado, in 115-lb. bags, $1.90.

SYRUPS.

There is a fair demand for syrups at about 2¼ to 2½c. per lb. We quote: Dark, 25c.; medium, 28 to 30c.; bright, 35 to 40c.; very bright, 45 to 50c.

MOLASSES.

Demand is fair at about 30c. in barrels, and 32c. in half-barrels. We quote as follows: New Orleans, barrels, 26 to 28c.; half-barrels, 30½ to 32c.; Barbadoes, barrels, 28 to 32c.; half-barrels, 30 to 34c.

TEAS.

India and Ceylon teas are scarce, and some large sales of low grade Ceylon and China Congous at an advance of two or three cents are reported. We quote ruling prices on the Toronto market as follows: Young Hyson, 12 to 18c. for low

DRIED FRUIT.

There is no change in the demand for Valencia raisins, which have weakened in price. We quote: Off-stalk, $3\frac{3}{8}$ to 4c.; fine off-stalk, $4\frac{1}{2}$ to 5c.; selected, $5\frac{1}{2}$ to 6c.; layers, $5\frac{1}{2}$ to 6c.

Ma'aga raisins are dull and nominally unchanged. We quote: London layers, $2 to $2.25; black baskets, $2.90 to $3; blue baskets, $4 to $4.75; extra dessert clusters, $4; connoisseur clusters, $2.65 to $2.90; quarter flat connoisseur clusters, 90c. to $1.15; Royal Buckingham, $4.50 to $5.

There are no Sultana raisins to speak of on this market. We quote as a nominal price 6 to $7\frac{1}{2}$ c. per lb.

Prunes are still very active on the market. We quote: "Sphinx"—"U," 110 to 115 to half kilo, 5 to $5\frac{1}{2}$ c. per lb.; "C," 85 to 90 to half kilo, $6\frac{1}{2}$ c. per lb.; "B," 80 to 85 to half kilo, 7 to $7\frac{1}{2}$ c. per lb. "Atlas,"—"D," 110 to 115 to half kilo, $4\frac{3}{4}$ to 5c. per lb.; "Unicorn," $5\frac{3}{8}$ to 6c. For Bordeaux prunes, 4 to $4\frac{1}{2}$ c. is the idea.

Currants are in moderate demand only. Good currants are scarce on this market, and for those arriving higher prices will be demanded. We quote: Filatras, half-barrels, 4 to $4\frac{1}{2}$ c., barrels, $4\frac{1}{8}$ c.; fine Filatras, half-barrels, $4\frac{3}{4}$ c., barrels, $4\frac{3}{8}$ c.; Patras, $5\frac{1}{2}$ c., in cases; Casalinas, $5\frac{1}{2}$ to 6c.; Vostizzas, $6\frac{1}{2}$ to 7c. in cases and half cases; Panarettes, 8 to $8\frac{1}{2}$ c.

Demand is still fairly good for California dried apricots at 12 to 14c.

BUTTER AND CHEESE.

The scarcity of good butter, due to the action of the Dominion Government, keeps the price firm. We quote: Dairy—Medium to good, 10 to 15c.; low grade, 8 to 10c.; fresh pound rolls, 15 to 16c.; large rolls, 12 to 15c. Creamery—Tubs, 21 to 22c.; pound prints, 22 to 23c.

There are no Florida lemons and oranges on the market, and good winter apples continue firm. We quote: Lemons—Messinas, \$2.75 to \$3.50. Oranges—Valencias, \$4 to \$4.50; California navels, \$3.50 to \$4; grape fruit, \$4 to \$4.50 per box. Bananas, \$1.50 to \$2 for firsts and seconds. California dried fruit—Apricots, $12\frac{1}{2}$ c.; peaches, 13 to $13\frac{1}{2}$ c.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

BEANS—Are quiet at $1.35 for choice hand-picked, and $1.15 for medium grades.

DRIED APPLES—Are firm at $5\frac{1}{2}$ to 6c., owing to increased price being given for green fruit.

EVAPORATED APPLES—We quote, in 50 lb. boxes: 7 to $7\frac{1}{2}$ c. per lb.

ONIONS—Are going higher. We quote: Domestic, 75 to 80c. per bag; Spanish, $1 per small crate; Valencia, $3.50 to $4.

HONEY—No change. We quote: Strained, in bulk, 7 to 9c.; comb, 14c. for clover and 10c. for buckwheat.

POTATOES—Are firmer and rising in price. The stocks are getting low and farmers are holding to what they have. We quote: 47 to 50c. on the track, and 65c. out of store.

POULTRY—Continues scarce on a firm market. We quote: 11c. for turkeys, 7 to 8c. for geese, 30 to 75c. for chickens, and 50 to 90c. for ducks.

EGGS—There are no held or cold storage eggs, and new laid are scarce, owing to the demand in the United States. We quote: Pickled, 15 to 16c., and new laid, 23 to 25c.

FISH AND OYSTERS.

No change in the market of any account is remarked, but a bright prospect for the Lenten trade is held out. We quote as follows: Salmon trout (frozen), $6\frac{1}{2}$ to 7c.; white fish (frozen), 5 to 7c.; skinned and boned codfish, $6\frac{1}{2}$ c.; boneless fish, $3\frac{1}{2}$ to 4c.; market cod, 3 to 5c.; tommy cod, \$1.35; steak cod, $5\frac{1}{2}$ to $6\frac{1}{2}$ c.; haddock, $3\frac{1}{2}$ to $4\frac{1}{2}$ c.; Labrador herring, \$3.25 to \$3.50 per half barrel and \$5.50 to \$5.75 per barrel; Newfoundland herring, \$2.50 per half barrel, and \$4.50 to \$4.75 per barrel; fresh water salt herring, \$3 per bbl.; blue-back herring, 4c.; sea herring (frozen), \$1 to \$1.25 per 100 fish; blue pickerel, 4 to 5c. lb.; yellow ditto, 6 to 7c. per lb.; mackerel, 14c. each; pike, 5c. lb.; cod, 6c. per lb.; finnan haddies, $6\frac{1}{2}$ to 7c.; Digby herring, in bundles of 5 boxes, $12\frac{1}{2}$ c.; ditto, lengthwise, 12c.; large halibut, 10 to 13c. Oysters, \$1.50 per gallon for standards and \$1.75 for selects.

PROVISIONS AND DRESSED HOGS.

The receipts of dressed hogs have almost stopped and prices are firmer. There has been lately a good demand for heavy mess, long clear bacon and lard. We quote:

DRESSED HOGS—$5.35 to $5.45 per 100 lbs.

BACON—Long clear, $6\frac{3}{4}$ c. for carload lots, 7 to $7\frac{1}{4}$ c. for ton lots and $7\frac{1}{4}$ c. for small lots; breakfast bacon, 10 to $10\frac{1}{2}$ c.; rolls, $7\frac{1}{2}$ to 8c.

HAMS—Large, 22 lbs. and over, 9c.; medium, 15 to 20 lbs., 10c.; small hams, $10\frac{1}{2}$ c.; pickled, 9 to $9\frac{1}{2}$ c.

LARD—Pure Canadian, tierces, $7\frac{3}{4}$ c.; tubs, $8\frac{1}{4}$ c.; pails, $8\frac{1}{2}$ c.

BARREL PORK—Canadian heavy mess, $14.50 to $14.75; Canadian short-cut, $14.75 to $15; shoulder mess, $12.25 to $13.75; clear mess, $12.75 to $13.

SALT.

An unexpected drop has taken place owing to the inability of the manufacturers to agree on prices. We quote: Barrels, 85c.; coarse sacks, 58c.; fine sacks, 60c.; dairy, $1.25; rock, $9.

FLOUR AND FEED.

WHEAT—We quote: 64 to $64\frac{1}{2}$ c. for white; 61 to 62c. for red, and 60 to $60\frac{1}{2}$ c. for goose.

OATS—Easy. We quote: 35 to $36\frac{1}{2}$ c.

BARLEY—Steady. We quote: 48c.

FLOUR—Quiet and firm. We quote: Ontario straight roller, $2.65 to $2.75; Manitoba, $3.60 to $3.65; patents, $3.75 to $3.90.

BREAKFAST FOODS—Oatmeal is firmer, owing to the scarcity and higher prices of oats. Prices have advanced a little. We quote: Standard oatmeal, $3.85, and granulated, $3.85; rolled oats, $3.80 to $3.85; rolled wheat, $2.10 in 100 lb. barrels; cornmeal, $3.50; split peas and pot barley, $3.75 per barrel.

SEEDS.

The season is so far advanced that the export demand has almost ceased, although an occasional parcel of alsike goes over the line. The present outlook indicates that there is still more alsike in the country than will meet the demand. Prices for alsike remain the same as last week. We quote: Choice, $4.80; really fancy, $5, and lower grades $4.

The fine weather has brought a better enquiry for red clover. There is no change in prices, dealers still paying $6 to $6.25 for good qualities and jobbing them out at a very small advance.

Timothy is steady at $2.50 to $2.75 per bush. for prime to choice grades of machine threshed, while 15 to 20c. more is given for bright unhulled lines.

HIDES, SKINS, WOOL AND TALLOW.

HIDES—Have a good demand. Prices are unchanged. We quote: 5 to $5\frac{1}{4}$ c. for cured, and for green, No. 1, 4c.; No. 2, 3c., and No. 3, 2c.

MARKET NOTES.

Dawson & Co. this week received a carload of navel and seedling oranges from California.

There is a continued trade in French prunes of large size. The Bosnia market is reported 6d. higher.

Dawson & Co., Toronto, are buying up winter apples throughout the country and shipping them across the border.

Clemes Bros., Toronto, received this week a carload of Messina lemons, a carload of Messina oranges, and two carloads of California navels.

D. Gunn, Flavell & Co., say they could sell 10,000 dozen eggs a day just now, but that to meet the large demand only a few hundred dozen a day are obtainable.

T. A. Lytle & Co. report a brisk demand for their jams and jellies. The number of repeat orders would indicate that the quality of these goods has filled a long felt want in the home made article.

D. Gunn, Flavell & Co., report very large sales of creamery butter, which they consider are due to the majority of factories now exporting their butter.

The Eby Blain Co., Ltd., are selling a line of boned and skinned smoked herring, heads and tails off, packed in bundles of 12-14 each, each box containing 10 packages. They retail at 10c. at a good profit to the dealer.

Some lots of currants have recently sold at an advance of three shillings on the prices which ruled six weeks ago. The purchases were made very reluctantly, but the purchasers found that the longer they held off the higher were the prices they were eventually compelled to pay.

The Eby, Blain Co., Ltd., are in receipt of a car of California canned goods—"Columbus" brand—packed by Fontana & Co.,

We are always open to buy or sell, in car lots or less, Grain, Apples, or Produce.

The prices compare very favorably with domestic pack.

MONTREAL MARKETS.

MONTREAL, Feb. 28, 1895.

GROCERIES.

THE week in groceries has not furnished many special features. Business in most lines from second hands has been good, but none of the jobbing houses, though they report a steady enquiry for leading staples, canned goods, and fish, speak of any remarkable activity. Sugar has shown no further change since our last up to the date of writing. Whether it will or not remains to be seen. Molasses and syrups continue firm in tone under light stocks, in fact, sellers of prime Barbadoes have made 1c more on round lots. Spices, coffees, and rice continue much as they were. Teas have furnished a good distributive movement from jobbers' hands, but no large sales have transpired since those we last noted. Canned goods are quiet and fish are naturally more active owing to the opening of Lent.

SUGAR.

There has been no radical change in the sugar market since our last, but though this is the case, no one is by any means certain that bottom has been touched. Since last writing round lots have left refiners' hands here at the decline we noted—viz., standard granulated, $3\frac{3}{8}$ c., with 3 7-16c. for smaller quantities. For No. 2 the refiners' basis is $3\frac{1}{4}$ to $3\frac{5}{16}$ c. Yellows have sold at 2 9-16 to $3\frac{1}{8}$ c., as to quality at the factory. The distributive demand is good from jobbers' hands, and prices may be repeated as we last quoted them, though we are given to understand that some jobbers are making a leader of sugar, selling it nearly at cost. In a jobbing way we quote: Standard granulated, $3\frac{3}{8}$ c.; No. 2, $3\frac{1}{2}$ c.; yellows, $2\frac{3}{4}$ to $3\frac{3}{8}$ c., as to quality. German sugar is not moving very freely at present, and jobbers are asking $3\frac{1}{2}$ c. for extra granulated, while No. 2 Berthier is being jobbed out at $3\frac{1}{4}$ c.

SYRUPS.

There has been a fairly active business done in syrups both in a jobbing way and from first to second hands. We note sales in the latter connection at $1\frac{1}{2}$ to $2\frac{1}{4}$ c. and prices are firm at that basis. Jobbers ask an advance on the cost in most cases, viz., $1\frac{1}{2}$ to $2\frac{1}{2}$ c.

MOLASSES.

The firmness of the molasses market is unabated under light stocks and a good active demand. In fact, prime Barbadoes has changed hands in a wholesale way at 1c. advance on last week's prices, sales aggregating 300 puncheons being noted since our last at a range from 29 to 33c. In a jobbing way we quote 33c. in hogsheds, and 36c. in barrels and half barrels. Porto Rico is steady and unchanged at 28c. and Trinidad at 27c.

RICE.

There is no change in the rice market, which continues steady as last noted. From the mills we quote: Japan, standard, $4.25 to $4.40; crystal Japan, $4.75 to $5; standard B, $3.45; English style, $3.30; Patna, $4.25 to $5, and Carolina $6.50 to $7.50.

SPICES.

There has been a fair demand for spices, and a good average business has been done for the season at steady prices. We quote: Penang black pepper, 6 to $7\frac{1}{2}$ c.; white pepper, 10 to $12\frac{1}{2}$ c.; cloves, $7\frac{1}{2}$ to 9c.; cassia, $8\frac{1}{2}$ to $9\frac{1}{2}$ c.; nutmegs, 60 to 90c.; and Jamaica ginger, $15\frac{1}{2}$ to $18\frac{1}{2}$ c.

COFFEES.

There is no change in the coffee market, which has ruled firm, and prices are well maintained. A good business is doing both from first and second hands. Maracaibo is firmer than it was last quoted at, for the best price for it at the time of writing is 23c. We quote: Maracaibo, 23c.; Rio, $18\frac{1}{2}$ to 20c.; Java, 25 to 27c.; Jamaica, 18 to 19c.; and Mocha, 26 to 30c.

TEA.

A fair distributive demand is to note in the tea market, and the tone of values under light stocks is firm. In fact, to replace stocks of most grades, especially low and medium Japans, jobbers would very likely have to pay an advance. Aside from the jobbing demand, and the large sales on foreign account in our last, the market has not presented any very noteworthy features. We quote: Japans, low grades, $12\frac{1}{2}$ to 14c.; medium, $15\frac{1}{2}$ to 17c.; fine, $18\frac{1}{2}$ to 24c.; and choice, 25 to 31c.

DRIED FRUIT.

The raisin markets continue much as they were, and there is no change in values under a moderate call. The stock here consists principally of Valencias and California fruit. We quote: Off-stalk Valencias, ordinary, 4 to $4\frac{1}{2}$ c.; selected, 5 to $5\frac{1}{2}$ c.; layers, $5\frac{1}{2}$ to 6c.; California, 3-crown loose muscatels, $5\frac{3}{4}$ to 6c.; 4-crown ditto, $7\frac{1}{2}$ c. Second crop Californias $\frac{1}{2}$ c. less than first crop.

Currants continue quiet and unchanged. In a jobbing way we quote: Filiatras and Provincials, $3\frac{1}{2}$ to $3\frac{3}{4}$ c. in barrels, and 4 to $4\frac{1}{2}$ c. in cases; Patras, 5 to $5\frac{1}{2}$ c., and Vostizas, 7 to $7\frac{1}{2}$ c.

There is a good, active jobbing trade in prunes at steady prices. Both Turkish and French receive their due share of attention, and we quote: Bosnia, $4\frac{1}{2}$ to 5c., and Bordeaux, 4c.

A fair trade is doing in figs in a jobbing way at 5 to 6c. in bags and 10 to 16c. in boxes.

Dates move along quietly and at steady prices. We quote 4 to 5c. as to grade.

NUTS.

There is nothing new to report in nuts, which move along steadily in a jobbing way. We quote: Tarragona almonds, $12\frac{1}{2}$ to 13c.; filberts, $7\frac{1}{2}$ to $8\frac{1}{2}$ c.; Brazil nuts, 11c.; pecans, small, 10c.; medium, 13c., and extra, 15c.; Grenoble walnuts, $13\frac{1}{2}$ to 14c., and Naples do., $13\frac{1}{2}$ c.; Bordeaux ditto, 10c.; peanuts, 7 to 9c. for roasted and 6 to 8c. for raw; cocoanuts, \$4 to \$5 per 100.

CANNED GOODS.

Trade in canned goods has not furnished any notable change, but prices are steady, and there is no disposition to concede. Grocers still confine themselves to supply actual wants. We quote: Lobsters, $1.50 to $1.75 per doz.; sardines, $8.50 to $9.50; salmon, $1.30 to $1.40 per doz.; tomatoes, 90 to 92½c. per doz.; peaches, $2 to $2.25 per doz.; corn, 95c. to $1 per doz., marrow-fat peas, 90c. to $1 per doz.; strawberries, $2 to $2.25; raspberries, $1.75 to $2; green gages, $2 to $2.25; blue plums or damsons, $1.50 to $1.75; pineapples, $2 to $2.25, and 3-lb. apples, $1 to $1.10.

FISH.

There has been a fair demand for all kinds of fish, the approach of the Lenten season this week leading to a much better movement. There are, however, ample supplies of fresh, smoked and pickled fish. The demand for green cod has been good, and as there is only a limited stock of this fish here, a stronger feeling has prevailed and prices have advanced 25 to 50c., new arrivals of No. 1 having sold at $4.50 to $5, No. 1 large at $5.50 to $6, and draft at $7.50 to $8 per 200 lbs. Fresh haddock and cod were sold at 2 3/4 to 3c. per lb. by the case; fresh herrings at $1 per 100 in casks and barrels; whitefish at 5c. per lb.; pike at 4c.; dory at 6 1/2 to 7c.; smelts at 2 1/2 to 5c. for Nos. 1 and 2; halibut at 8c.; mackerel at 10c.; tommy cods at $1 to $1.25 per bbl.; finnan haddies at 6c. per lb.; bloaters at $1 per box, and smoked herrings at 10c. per box. Choice brands of No. 1 Labrador herrings have changed hands at $4.75 to $5; Cape Breton at $5.25 to $5.50, and No. 1 Nova Scotia at $4 to $4.50. Labrador salmon were placed at $11 to $13 for old and new stock; B.C. salmon at $11 to $11.50; lake trout at $4 per keg; Redsea trout at $9 per bbl., and No. 2 large mackerel at $12.50.

GREEN FRUIT.

APPLES—The apple market is unchanged at $3 to $4 per bbl.

DRIED APPLES—Light supplies and a good enquiry keep prices firm at 5 1/2c.

EVAPORATED APPLES—Holders of these are firm in their views, owing to light supplies, and we quote 6 1/2 to 6 3/4c.

ORANGES—There is no change in this market. We quote: Valencias, $4 to $5; Floridas, $3.25 to $4.50, and Californias, $3.25 to $4.

LEMONS—The lemon market is quiet and steady at $2.50 to $3.10.

GRAPES—Almeria grapes are a diminishing stock, and prices are firmly held at $6 to $7 per bbl.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

EGGS—There has been no further change in the egg market, which has been moderately active and steady. We quote: Montreal limed, 14 to 15c., and strictly fresh, 24 to 26c.

HONEY—This market is quiet and unchanged. We quote: Old, 4 1/2 to 5c., and new, 7 to 9c. per lb. Comb honey, 10 to 13c.

BEANS—There is no change in this line, and we repeat quotations, $1.30 to $1.45 for hand-picked, and $1.10 to $1.20 for poor to medium.

HOPS—Continue dull but steady at 6 to 8c., as to quality.

DRESSED HOGS—This market has ruled rather firmer under diminished receipts and we quote $5.50 to $5.60 for car lots and $5.75 to $6.50 per 100 lbs. in a jobbing way.

POTATOES—These are quiet and firm. Good to choice stock is very scarce. We quote: 65 to 70c per bag in jobbing lots.

ONIONS—Continue to meet a ready sale at $1.75 to $2 per bbl.

transacted is small, and values about steady. We quote: Canadian short cut, heavy, $14 to $15; hams, city cured, per lb., 9 to 10½c.; lard, Canadian, in pails, 9c. to 10c.; bacon, per lb., 9 to 10½c.; lard, common, refined, per lb., 7 to 7½c.

FLOUR AND MEAL.

In flour the feeling is steady and values show no important change. The demand is fair from local buyers and a good business is reported for this season of the year. We quote: Winter wheat, $3.60 to $3.75; spring wheat, patents, $3.75 to $3.90; straight roller, $2.85 to $3; extra, $2.65 to $2.70; superfine, $2.50 to $2.60; Manitoba strong bakers', $3.75.

The market for feed continues to rule active and firm; millers state that supplies are small and higher prices are anticipated in the near future. We quote: Bran, $17; shorts, $18; mouillie, $23 to $24.

The demand for oatmeal is limited, but the tone of the market is firm and prices are well maintained. We quote: Standard, bbls., $3.80 to $3.90; granulated, bbls., $3.90 to $4; rolled oats, bbls., $4 to $4.05.

BUTTER AND CHEESE.

The cheese market fails to show any improvement. Holders no doubt would concede something, but in the absence of business it is difficult to quote. A nominal range is 8¾ to 9c. on summer goods and 9¼ to 9½c. on fall makes.

Beyond enabling sellers of fresh made winter creamery to obtain about ½c. per lb. more from local buyers on this market, the Government's 20c. has had no material effect on the market. We understand, however that in the west the creamery men have disposed of several thousand tubs at 20c. f.o.b. on the cars to the Government. This of course has relieved this market of that much of a load. Western rolls meet a moderate jobbing call at 14c. All other kinds of stock, such as held creamery and Western dairy, are completely neglected and hard to quote.

ASHES.

There has been no change in ashes, the market ruling quiet under small receipts. We quote: First pots, $4.05 to $4.10; seconds, $3.70 to $3.75, and pearls, $6.40 per 100 lbs.

MONTREAL TRADE NOTES.

Cables from abroad this week on beet sugar are exceptionally low, and are expected to go still lower.

Laporte, Martin & Co. are making a special effort in connection with fish for the Lenten trade. Their line is an unusually full one.

Private advices to molasses brokers here from Barbadoes state that the crop will be 50 per cent. short on the Islands this season. The first quotation has also been received. It is 12c.

Refiners here are doing little in the matter of securing supplies of cane sugar for next season's work. They appear to have no anxiety about the future.

The members of the Corn Exchange had their annual drive last Wednesday, leaving the Board of Trade building shortly after 2.30 for Lachine, where dinner was partaken of at Harvey's hotel. About fifty drove out in cabs and private conveyances, while others went out by train.

Rose & Laflamme call the attention of the trade to the first arrivals of Batger & Co.'s new season's marmalade, the first lots of which were received last week.

Lent opened Wednesday, and Stewart Munn & Co. are prepared to deal promptly with orders from the trade for leading brands of Labrador herring.

The Wholesale Grocers' Association was to have met in the Board of Trade building last Wednesday week, but adjourned on account of the illness of Mr. George Childs, the president. Mr. Childs is confined to his house with a severe cold, but is improving.

NEW BRUNSWICK MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE CANADIAN GROCER,

ST. JOHN, N.B., Feb. 28, 1895.

THE second month of the year is gone.

It has been a quiet one, but signs are not wanting that a busier season is at hand. Already the schooners from bay ports are beginning to arrive. In the country market there is also more movement. Ontario beef shows quite a demand, that arriving being quickly sold at $7 per cwt. All poultry of good quality finds ready sale, and eggs are moving better. But butter is the drag. There has been but little change in values during the past week. The principal one, however, is in feed, which advances almost daily, being very hard to get, and, at present price, hard to sell. Molasses continues firm and active. In beans, the feeling is higher. Coffee is strong and teas very firm; demand quiet. In spice, there is little change, demand not being large. Cream of tartar is rather higher. Brokers report good sale for chemicals.

SALT—The very mild weather causes a fair demand for coarse salt, and, stocks being very light, prices are good. Were it not for a cargo soon due, prices would go higher, as stocks on hand at present demand would soon be at an end. And should this cargo be delayed the market would soon be bare. We quote: Coarse, 55 to 58c.; fine, $1; bbls. 5 lb. bags, $3 to $3.25; 10 lb. bags, $2.85 to $3; small boxes, 20 lbs. each, 20c.; 10 lbs. each, 12c.

CANNED GOODS — Demand continues light. A dealer said to THE CANADIAN GROCER last week that with him the past winter had been a very quiet one in canned goods. The slight advance made by the association in the price of vegetables causes these to be very firm at quotations. It is understood here that the association intend buying out some of the smaller factories, which are now independent of them. We quote prices this week: Peas, 90 to 95c.; corn, 95c.; tomatoes, $1 to $1.05; new gallon apples, $2.40; corned beef, 2 lb. tins, $2.70 to $2.75; 1-lb. tins, $1.65 to $1.70; oysters, 2's, $2.15 to $2.20; 1's, $1.55 to $1.60; peaches, 3's, $2.65 to $2.75; 2's, $1.90 to $2; salmon, $1.35 to 1.40; lobsters, $1.75 to $2; haddies, $1.40; clams, 4 doz. in case, $5.50; chowder, 2 doz. in case, $3.50; scallops, 4 doz. in case, $5.50.

DRIED FRUIT—In California evaporated there is some light demand from jobbers, apricots having the best sale. These are goods which are entering into consumption slowly. Raisins and currant are not much in demand, though the rather sharp advance in the latter causes some inquiry from jobbers. In Nova Scotia dried there is a small export demand, but only at low figures. Holders are inclined to sell, as local demand at this season is very light. Nova Scotia packers should be more careful as regards the quality of goods they put up and also that quality in the same barrels runs even. We quote: Sultana raisins, 6 to 6½c.; Valencia, 4¼ to 4½c.; layers, 5¼ to 5½c.; London layers, $2.25; loose muscatels, 5½ to 6c.; currants, bbls., 3¾ to 4c.; cases, 4 to 4½c.; evaporated, 8 to 8½c.; dried, 5½ to 5¾c.; dates, 4 to 4¼c.; prunes, 5 to 5½c.; figs, 11 to 18c.

GREEN FRUIT—Apples, as the weather is getting milder, are again making their appearance on the square for auction. It is somewhat unfortunate, as the season has been a very dull one, and there was just beginning to be a more active demand. The fact that the fruit has kept so badly has hurt the market very much. In oranges, the demand for Floridas is light, owing to the high price. Valencias are, however, selling freely, and next week we will be able to quote Messinas and bloods. Lemons, are easy and pineapples are coming in more freely. The shipment of a car of fruit to one point by one fruit house, and the importing of a car of onions by them is a sign that the busy fruit season is near. We quote: Florida oranges, $5 to $5.50; Valencias, $4.25 to $4.75; lemons, $3.50 to $4.25; Malaga grapes, $5 to $6.50; pineapples, 20 to 22c.; apples, $1.50 to $2.50.

DAIRY PRODUCE—There is a better demand for eggs, though prices are expected to be lower, more particularly for hennerly eggs, which are coming in more freely. There is an improvement in the quality of case eggs arriving. In cheese stocks appear fully equal to demand and prices are very easy. A few large sales are reported, but at low figures. It is, however, a long while before any new cheese will be to hand and many holders are expecting better prices than are now ruling. In butter the market is very unsatisfactory; there are large stocks and no demand. Prices rule very easy: Cheese, 10½c.; creamery tub, 20 to 21c.; rolls, 23 to 24c.; dairy tub, 16 to 18c.; rolls, 16 to 20; eggs, 17 to 18c.

MOLASSES—The first new molasses to be sold on this market was a small consignment of Demerara of nice quality. New Barbadoes has been quoted, but no stocks are reported to hand at the Island and it is thought here that on account of the demand there is sure to be for it as soon as stock is offered prices will advance. Word from Porto Rico is that molasses will open much higher than last season. Here there is fair demand and light stocks. There is an active demand for small packages which cannot be filled. Syrup demand is light. We quote: Barbadoes, 32 to 33c.; Porto Rico, 30 to 31c.; fancy, 43 to 44c.; syrup, 30 to 35c.; Antigua, 28c.

SUGAR—Owing to the expectation of a duty on sugar, and the very low price at which it is offered, large quantities have been bought for future delivery. Prices are in some cases being shaded very fine. Sugars are sold far too near to their cost, and to make the matter worse there is no reason why it should be so. There is no doubt the extra low price will affect the sale of molasses. Yellows are rather lower. Powdered and Paris lump are quoted lower. Granulated sugar, $3.60 to $3.75; German, 3½c.; yellow, 2¾ to 3½c.; Paris lump, 5 to 5½c.; powdered, 5 to 5½c.

FISH—Though there has been some enquiry during the past week, it has not been a heavy one when one remembers that Lent is here. Dry are firmer and stocks light. Some 250 qtls., ex vessel, arriving this week, found good demand at full prices. Smoked herring are arriving in fair quantities, some 13,000 boxes coming in during the week. Demand is light and prices vary in local market, but advices from Grand Manan tend to higher prices. In frozen fish receipts are very light, particularly herring; market is rather firmer, but owing to there being lots at Halifax there is not much advance in prices. Prices ex store are: Large cod, $4 to $4.25; medium, $3.85 to $4; small, $3 to $3.35; frozen cod, 2¼ to 2½c.; herring, 65 to 70c.; smoked herring, 6½ to 7c.; pollock, $1.65 to $1.75; shad, $5 to $5.50; bay herring, $1.50 to $1.60; Shelburne, No. 1, $4 to $4.25 bbl.; half-bbls., $2.40 to $2.50; Canso, $5.25 bbl.

PROVISIONS—Demand continues light, though smoked meats show some improvement. Lard is easy. We quote: Clear pork, $17.50 to $18; mess, $15 to $15.50; plate beef, $12.75 to $13; prime lard, 9 to 10c.; compound, 8 to 9c.; cottolene, 9¼ to 9¾c.; hams, 10 to 12c.

FLOUR AND FEED.

Flour continues in fair demand at firm prices. A number of mills are closed owing to being unable to get wheat to grind and sell at present prices. All kinds of feed are so hard to get, and so high, that demand is falling off. Cornmeal being rather lower helps in this. Oatmeal continues lower than would be expected at present price of oats, which show a small further advance since last report. Beans are also higher and firm. We quote: Manitoba, $4.30 to $4.40; best Ontario, $3.50 to $3.60; medium, $3.25 to $3.50; oatmeal, $4.00 to $4.10; cornmeal, $2.80; granulated, $3.50 to $3.60; middlings, on track, $22 to $23; bran, $21 to $22; oats, local on track, 28½ to 39½c.; Ontario, 42 to 43c.; beans, $1.55 to $1.65; split peas, $3.85 to $4; pot barley, $4 to $4.10; hay, $9.50 to $10; seed timothy, $3.10 to $3.25; red clover, 11½ to 12c.; alsike clover, 13½ to 15c.

ST. JOHN TRADE NOTES.

The selling price of Pearline is reduced to $3.90 single case and $3.80 for five-case lots.

The prospects for an exhibition in St. John next fall are bright, the Government of the province having signified their intention to guarantee the association against loss to an amount not exceeding $3,000.

The manufacturers of "Buttermilk" toilet soap have found an increasing demand since the first of the year, particularly shown by the large orders given by those already handling their soap. In order to show their appreciation of the manner their goods have been handled, they have reduced the price to buyers in 10-gross lots. J. Hunter White is agent for New Brunswick.

WOODSTOCK MARKET NOTES.

Business in some lines shows rather an improvement, though the spring trade will not really begin till the opening of the river. In produce the feeling is very dull. It was expected in many lines that by this time there would be a good demand, and good prices for such goods as hay, butter and cheese. There is much disappointment. The feeling, which is largely a correct one, is that the shipments from Ontario and Quebec to St. John have spoiled the home market. This is particularly true of butter. Prices are quoted as follows: Loose hay, 6c.; oats, 32 to 33c.; butter, 16 to 17c.; eggs 15 to 16c.; cheese, 9½ to 10c.; beans, $1.50 to $1.75.

ADVANCE IN LEMONS.

The New York market has just experienced a sharp advance on lemons. They have gone up from 50 to 75c. a case. This strong tendency is due to the better weather which prevails in the country, which is accompanied by a better demand, and allows freight to move freely.

Extravagant Economy

TRADE MARK.

There's such a thing as paying too little for an article. Paying so little that it can't be good. Saving on the price at the cost of the quality. That is extravagant economy.

But don't go to the other extreme. Sometimes prices are too high. The safe way is to go by our list. There is nothing in our stock not thoroughly good. Nothing that has one cent on the price that does not belong there.

NOVA SCOTIA MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE CANADIAN GROCER,

HALIFAX, Feb. 28, 1895.

BUSINESS is dull, and will continue so in most lines until after March. Collections are not so bad.

BREADSTUFFS—We have nothing special to report with regard to markets on breadstuffs; they still remain pretty quiet and uninteresting. From all the information we can gather, we have reason to believe that flour won't be any lower. Millfeeds are decidedly firm and higher; so are oats. As a consequence, oatmeal ought to be higher. We hear of some sales of oatmeal and rolled oats at below the cost of production from genuine oats. The query is, how much wheat is put in the oats, as rolled wheat and rolled oats look so much alike you can hardly tell them apart, and the one costs about a dollar a barrel less than the other; besides, there have been reports of some short weight shipments. Buyers will do well to weigh their shipments and search for rolled wheat. Of course if there is rolled wheat amongst rolled oats, there will be cracked wheat amongst the oatmeal. If the mixture is acceptable as a food, then all better follow the sale of it, and cut prices to meet the cost. We make no changes in quotations on flour, though the tendency has been to cut prices a little. Quotations are: Hungarian patents, Manitobas, $4.50 to $4.60; Manitoba strong bakers', $4.40 to $4.50; Canadian pastry, $3.60 to $3.70; 75 per cent. rolled patent, $3.55 to $3.65; 80 per cent. $3.40 to $3.50; 90 per cent. $3.25 to $3.35; straights, $3.10 to $3.20; superior extra patent, $3 to $3.10; cornmeal, American KD, $3.20 to $3.30; Halifax ground, do. $3.10 to $3.20; oatmeal, standard, $4 to $4.10; pot barley, $3.90 to $4.10.

MILLFEEDS—Middlings are quoted at $22 to $22.25; bran, in sacks, $21 to $21.25; oats, 42 to 42½c., by the carload.

FISH STUFFS—There is considerable movement in fish to the West Indies and Haytian ports. During the past fortnight seven steamers have taken full and part cargoes. Prices, however, remain practically unchanged, the large shipments to the West Indies keeping that market too well supplied to allow of any chance for an advance. Some small lots of Newfoundland fish have been received, but there is no fear of any quantity being thrown on the market. The demand from Europe has strengthened the Newfoundland market, and merchants here who made offers found them to be as much as 60c. per quintal below what holders ask. Good frozen herring are scarce. Some very sour ones were put on the market with unsatisfactory results. The approach of the Lenten season has strengthened the local demand somewhat. Quotations are: Dry cod from vessel: Shore, prime, $3.25 to $3.75; bank cod, $3 to $3.10; large bank cod, $4; Bay of Islands, No. 1 split herrings, $2.25; salmon, No. 1, $12; No. 2, $10; No. 3, $8.

PROVISIONS—Now that Lent has set in we may expect 40 days of dulness in the provision line. In fact, it is dull already, presumably in preparation for the season, and what Canadian beef arrived this week was sold at about cost.

BUTTER AND CHEESE—Butter remains dull, as usual, and good dairy is offered at 17c. and 18c. There is a good stock on hand, but of an inferior quality. Cheese remains quiet but firm.

EGGS—Fresh stocks are offered at 20c. and a decline is looked for.

GREEN FRUIT—Some very nice Mediterranean fruit was received this week, and more is expected on Saturday. There are no Floridas on the market and no demand for them. Valencias are quoted at $4 and Jamaicas at $8. Lemons bring $3 to $4.25 per 300 count. There is nothing new in apples. Some good fruit has come in from the Annapolis valley, but prices remain unchanged.

SUGAR—The market is inactive, with prices remaining as follows: Porto Rico, in hogsheads, 3c.; refined cut loaf, 5c.; granulated, 3¾c.; standard "A," 3½c.; extra white "C," 3½c.; standard yellow "C," 3½c.; yellow extra "C," 2½ to 3c.

MOLASSES—New crop Porto Rico molasses is expected here in a day or two. Several cargoes are now on the way. At present there is very little doing, and quotations remain: Antigua, none; Porto Rico, 35c.; Trinidad, none; Barbadoes, 34c.; Demerara, "M R" brand, 39c.; ditto (B) "D" brand, 45c.

HALIFAX MARKET NOTES.

M. F. Todd, of the Todd Milling Co., Galt, is here on a business trip.

The value of the Baracoa's cargo of fish to Hayti was $34,000 and not $3,400 as stated in last report.

A cargo of bloaters and smoked herring was received here this week from Grand Manan for shipment to Hayti. This is the first speculation of the kind to that market, and it will be watched with much interest.

A. J. Crosby, grocer, has assigned to St. Clair Ruggles, tailor. Mr. Crosby took the business about one year ago then carried on by H. V. Wier. He came here from Annapolis Valley. Liabilities are about $3,000.

A new fruit crate has just been invented by a Hants county man, which is destined to take the place of the old apple barrel in the shipment of apples to a foreign market. The new crate is square and without bilge, therefore its contents are free from pressure and damage in transit. It will be put on the market for the next season's crop.

MATCH MEN MEET.

SPECIAL TO THE CANADIAN GROCER.

Representatives from the match factories of Canada met at Montreal on Wednesday to consider an advance in prices. Cutting has been general, and the market has been demoralized, the production being very much in excess of the demand. The smaller concerns, which felt the competition keenly, were anxious to get all the manufacturers to agree to higher prices. It was reported that some of them loaded Quebec city jobbers at one dollar a case, but well-known brands are bringing from $3.30 to $3.50. A statement of stocks in the jobbers' and manufacturers' hands was presented, which showed they were large. It would be impossible to get higher prices, even if manufacturers combined on them. It was therefore decided not to take any action, and the meeting was adjourned indefinitely. Among those present were: Mr. Dubord, of Hardy & Dubord, Beauport; Mr. Myneau, of the Independent Match Co., Louisville; Messrs. Denoncourt and Moreau, of Denoncourt, Moreau & Co., St. Angele de Laval; Mr. Chitty, of J. MacLaren & Co., Buckingham, and Messrs. Hardesty and Healy, of the Eddy Co., Hull.

John S. Leighton, of Orangeville, was transacting business in Toronto on Wednesday.

The employees of Still's handle factory, St. Thomas, assembled at their foreman's residence, the other night, and presented himself and wife with a parlor lamp, and also presented Miss Bessie McKillop, the bookkeeper, with a fine album.

REPORT OF THE CANADIAN FISHERY COMMISSIONERS

(MR. W. G. GUNN, WALKERTON, ONT., AND M. G. MCLEOD, NEWHAVEN.)

Through a letter of introduction procured for us by the High Commissioner in London, we were courteously shown thro' Messrs. MACONOCHIE BROTHERS' CANNERY, IN SCOTLAND, where some 400 hands are employed. This establishment uses up an immense quantity of Herrings, all of the very best quality. The greatest care is exercised in the selection of these fish; they are put up in 1-lb. tins; Herrings put up this way are very delicious, many people preferring them to canned salmon. The girls who clean these Herrings and put them up do their work very rapidly. The Herrings canned at this establishment are sold in Great Britain, exported to the East Indies, Australia, and the Cape. After we had gone over the establishment in question, we were treated to the contents of a can of Herrings, and can truly testify that we never before tasted anything in the Herring line so delicious and fine flavored.

PURE GOLD MFG. CO.

MANITOBA TOBACCO.

No ordinary article of commerce is so costly as tobacco if the simplicity of production and cultivation is considered. Few articles, excepting spirits, carry so high a duty as tobacco. Cigars pay a Customs tariff of about $2.50 a pound, and ordinary tobacco about 50 cents a pound. Tobacco of excellent quality can be grown in Manitoba as easily as cabbages can be produced. The Mennonites, ever since they settled in the province, have grown their own tobacco, and with the quality they are quite satisfied. The French-Canadians who occupy a portion of the hilly country north of the Pembina raise most excellent tobacco for their own use.

Early in the spring the seeds are placed in earth contained in boxes, which are kept within doors in a warm situation. When the season has advanced and danger from frost is no longer feared, the young plants are set out in the garden about four feet apart. The leaves soon become enormously large and the plant carries a red flower. When sufficiently matured the leaves are pulled from the stalks and allowed to wilt in the sun, and afterwards are placed in piles, when a slight heating process takes place that gives a dark color to the tobacco. The leaves are further dried and are twisted into plugs or rolled into cigars. So large is the leaf of the tobacco plant that two or three cigars can be prepared from each.

A sample of manufactured tobacco, from plants grown in the garden of Mr. Bisset, of 6-12, is at this office, and is pronounced by smokers to be superior to that which is imported.

The seed of the tobacco plant ripens rapidly in this province, and a second growth of leaves can be obtained from the stalks, but it is inferior to the first crop.—Pilot Mound Sentinel.

CUSTOM HOUSE BURNED.

Fire was discovered in the Custom house at Fort William, Ont., on Tuesday night. The interior of the building was badly damaged, the walls and ceiling being charred and the glass broken. A number of papers were burned, and others blackened and charred, and badly injured.

RAILROAD MEN KICK.

The station masters and telegraph operators on the Intercolonial Railway have decided to appeal to the members of the House of Commons of Canada, praying for an increase of salary. The petition which they present asks that the employees of the first class shall receive a minimum salary of $55 per month, of the second class $45, of the third class $40, and of the fourth class $35. All classes after the first year to be increased at the rate of $1 per month per year, for five years.

THIS IS A RECORD.

Approaching a group of travelers in the Eby, Blain Co.'s sample room on Saturday last, I found them seriously discussing the tea situation. Upon enquiry I found that teas were advancing rapidly in all lines, and that some grades of Ceylon and Indias were probably out of the market, particularly low and medium grades. These salesmen stated that their customers were beginning to realize that an advance in teas was no myth, but a fact, some of them regretting that they did not profit by the advice given them by the travelers some time ago to purchase teas. In discussing sales made during the month, Mr. Hustwitt stated that his sales amounted to close upon ten tons of this article since February 1st. This statement almost choked some of the group, causing some queer looks one toward the other. One of them recovering from the shock more quickly than the others, replied that he had often listened to fish stories, but had never been affected so much as he had by this tea story. Whereupon Mr. Hustwitt smiled complacently, saying it was not necessary to produce the Testament; his grip testament would corroborate the statement, and, producing a copy of his order sheets, it was found in summing up his sales that he had actually exceeded the ten tons and had sold 20,510 pounds of tea since February 1st. Not so bad, I thought, for one salesman to do in 22 days.

TRADE CHAT.

AT Buffalo, John A. Burch, general agent of the Lake Shore and M. S. road suddenly reeled and fell dead while doing business on the market. For two years, from 1855 to 1857, he was division clerk in the office of the general agent of the Great Western, in Hamilton, Ont.

It was J. E. Willows, not "J. E. Williams," who represented the Standard Oil Co., at the Grocers' At Home in Toronto last week.

Mrs. A. La Venture, sister of J. B. Persse, of Tees & Persse, Winnipeg, died in Toronto the other day.

Mrs. McBride—"John, dear, why are some grocers called green grocers?" Mr. McBride—"To distinguish them from cash grocers, dear."

Andrew and William Jordan, the leading grocerymen in St. John's, Newfoundland, were suffocated last week by charcoal fumes entering their house from fires built in a new building next to their residence for the purpose of drying the plaster.

The Whiteway Government applied to the Imperial Government last week for a loan of $2,000,000, pledging the revenue of the colony as security and permitting the two English commissioners to undertake the expenditure of the money. This the Imperial Government declined to do unless the local administration consented to a thorough investigation of the colony's affairs by a royal commission beforehand.

This is from a Yankee nineteenth century journal: "The storms on the ocean during the past week have never been paralleled in the memory of sailormen. The great tidal wave that swept completely over the lighthouse at Cape Breton, off the New England coast, was a record breaker."

AID TO CREAMERIES.

In the Ontario Legislature on Monday Mr. Whitney asked: "Has the Minister of Agriculture or any member of the Government received from the Counties Council of the united counties of Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry, a copy of a resolution adopted by that body unanimously on the 23rd day of January, 1895, asking the Ontario and Dominion Governments to give assistance and financial aid, as recommended by the Ontario Creameries Association, to the proposed plan of having regular weekly shipments of creamery butter placed on the British market? Is it the intention of the Government to comply with the suggestions contained in the resolution in the matter of giving assistance and financial aid?"

Hon. Mr. Dryden replied as follows: "The Minister of Agriculture has received a copy of the resolution referred to. Previous to its reception the Government had instituted inquiry as to the best means of rendering assistance to butter makers in placing their goods on the British market in the best possible condition. No conclusion has yet been reached."

TORONTO TRAVELERS.

The first annual concert of Toronto Travelers' Association in St. George's Hall Monday night was a most enjoyable affair. The program was an excellent one, and the audience was large and appreciative. Those who took part were: Mr. Musgrove, who acted as pianist; Miss Hattie Morrell, Mr. Frank Wright, Mr. Chas. Dimmock, Miss Maggie Huston, Mr. Neil Burton, Mr. W. Putland, Mr. R. Gorrie, Mr. F. T. Verral, Mr. E. B. Piggott, Mr. J. H. Wilson and the Handel Male Quartette. The chairman of the Concert Committee, which did its work well, was Mr. Gorrie, and the secretary, Mr. W. F. Daniels.

PRIVATE POST-CARDS.

Private post-cards are being adopted by leading business houses in England, and it looks as if they will soon be in general use. Some of the cards used are very attractive in design and shape. The larger Canadian firms are beginning to adopt the private cards, and some very pretty ones are already coming into use.

THE TIME TO PUSH.

WHEN business is depressed a great many men engaged in commercial pursuits lose their energy. They sit down, fold their hands, and say it's no use pushing things till times improve. Like Dickens' Micawber, they wait for something to turn up. Now, such conduct is absurd. When times are prosperous business comes of itself, while in dull seasons it has to be sought. A period of comparative financial depression, like the present, is the very time to push business in every possible way.

A case in point is that of a merchant who spent a very short time mourning over the dullness of trade last year. Realizing that something had to be done if he wished to continue in business, he studied thoroughly the equipment of his premises, to see how it could be improved and how the cost of production could be cheapened. Investigation disclosed the desirability of some special improvements, and of facilitating the operation of several departments. Action was forthwith taken to render the labor done more effective. Orders were sought on a new basis, and a fresh start was taken. From that on a steady gain was made from month to month in the volume of business handled. Further than that, the impetus thus acquired was due to such a plain cause that the proprietor has profited by the lesson learned, and is now always on the alert to see how he can improve his business methods. For him 1894 may be remembered as a year of very hard work, but not as a period of business stagnation and capital wasting.

Let jobbers and retail dealers take a hint. Let those who are discouraged by hard times throw off the lethargy that is overcoming them. Let them take up new branches, and improve their methods of trade, and they will soon find that their own wisely directed efforts have brought so much entirely new business that the cause for depression and the necessity for grumbling will have passed away. Even Micawber, it will be remembered, when he struck out into fields new and pastures green, attained a considerable measure of success. The advice of THE CANADIAN GROCER, then, is to be up and doing, and to make hay even while the sun does not shine.

HEEDLESSNESS.

It does seem as though nothing was more aggravating in boy or man than the spirit of heedlessness. Once yielded to it becomes characteristic of the individual, and it is displayed in every act. It renders him useless in almost every position in which he may be employed, and is generally a pretty good indication that his mind is not upon his work. It results in a continued series of errors and disasters, of little blunders and unbounded waste. The person who is dominated by this influence guesses rather than takes the time to figure, is forever cutting off the sheet too short or else wastefully too long, is habitually unsystematic, never knows where things are, and never puts them back in their places, and is forever leaving things almost done when they might just as well have been completed. The cure for all this is hard to effect. Slovenly methods cannot be at once replaced by systematic habits, but the process may be gradual where there is a will to turn from heedlessness to carefulness as a characteristic of one's life. It must be by a careful scrutiny of each act, by thoughtfulness at all times and a never forgotten determination to do all things as well as it is possible to do them. Such habits are sure to appeal to an employer, and although sometimes long in coming, the conscientious employee seldom fails to receive the reward that he deserves. At all events, it should mean much to him that he has tried to do the best that he can.

BUTTER SITUATION.

Summer tub butter continues a drug on the market, very little moving and the trade being supplied freely with fresh large roll butter and winter made creamery. The action of the Dominion Dairy Commissioner in providing an outlet for the surplus of winter creamery, and guaranteeing 20c. a lb. for all of this make, has had a very good effect on the creamery butter market of Canada. The result is that there is now only sufficient creamery coming forward to supply the local trade, the balance being exported by the Commissioner. The market, as a result, is of course firmer.

GRANGE REQUESTS.

THE Ontario Government was waited upon on Monday afternoon by the Executive of the Dominion Grange, who laid before it the legislation asked by the Grange from the Ontario Government. The deputation was composed of Master Dawson Kennedy, of Peterboro'; Jabel Robinson, Middlemarch; Henry Glendinning, Manil'a, and Robert Wilkie, B'enheim. The requests made were: Firstly, that towns and cities should be prohibited from emptying sewage into rivers without purification; that coroners should have power to commit prisoners without additional investigation before a magistrate; that examination by a grand jury be sufficient to place persons on trial for offences; that township assessments stand for five years, unless the succeeding council should order otherwise; that municipalities have power to abolish the office of tax collector and arrange for taxes to be paid to the treasurer; that in horticultural societies a majority of the directors need not be re-idents of the town to which the society belongs; that the Agriculture and Arts Association having, in the opinion of the Grange, outlived its usefulness, a portion of the money spent upon it could be saved; that the expense of the Central Farmers' Institute be curtailed and some of the grant given to the various agricultural and horticultural societies, and that the membership of county councils be reduced and the representation based on the equalized assessment, so that reeves only sit, each to have as many votes as justified by the assessment of his township. The delegates stated these requests to the members of the Government, who listened attentively, asking a number of questions as to certain points in the requests. Hon. Mr. Hardy asked if it was correct that the Grange had approved of the Dominion Government's plan for encouraging the butter industry. To this the secretary replied that the Grange had approved of the plan for establishing cold storage, but did not approve of the plan of paying 20 cents a pound, thinking that the butter industry should stand on its own footing. Sir Oliver Mowat promised to look into the requests, and the deputation withdrew.

The man who does not scrub out his store—or rather, get it scrubbed out—stands a good chance of being scrubbed out himself—by his creditors.

A meeting was held at Longueuil, Que., the other night for the purpose of urging upon the farmers of the county of Chambly the importance of beet root cultivation. Among the speakers were H. L. O. Taillon, Premier of the province, and Rev. Abbe Tasse. The farmers have now the smile of the Government and the church, and all they want in order to raise good and paying crops of sugar beets is the smile of nature.

MUNICIPAL TAXATION.

The Winnipeg Retailers' Association are making good progress in their campaign against the present system of municipal taxation. They have enlisted the support of the hotel proprietors and implement dealers, and have also prevailed on the Jobbers' Union to assist them in securing a modification of the law. The Jobbers' Union are agreeable for a reduction of the rates for floor space, and will also support a demand for a poll and income tax. It is thought that plans will be perfected in time to have the matter brought before the Legislature during the present session. The business men claim that they bear an unjust proportion of the city's taxation, and will urge the Council to ask for power to collect a poll and income tax on the ground that a large number of citizens share in the advantages of the street improvements and schools without contributing a cent towards the cost.

DROPS FROM THE EDITOR'S PEN.

Keep your eyes open, or your creditors will close your store.

* * *

With tabloids of compressed tea the lot of the picnicker will be happier than ever.

* * *

Advertising and business are twins with similar constitutions, and neither will live if they are not looked after.

* * *

Thrice baptized with disastrous fires within sixty days, Toronto may well be christened "Conflagration City."

* * *

If you are unwell and do not know what is the matter, put it down to la grippe. Ten chances to one you will be right.

* * *

Bakers in the east end of Toronto are giving fifteen cakes for 10c. where they formerly gave twelve. This is an enlarged form, indeed, of the "baker's dozen."

* * *

A beautifully dressed window is a thing for commendation; a beautifully dressed merchant is a thing for condemnation. This is one of the anomalies bred of civilization.

* * *

Sugar is an important factor in the present Canadian political campaign. Would not vinegar be more appropriate? Sweet things and politics have not usually affinity for each other.

* * *

A Winnipeg boot and shoe dealer has gone into the hotel business. Where he was formerly only concerned in the care of people's feet, he will now have the care of their whole bodies and their tastes as well.

* * *

Bad bread and butter is responsible for more ruined lives and wrecked careers than whiskey.

Prof. Robertson, of the Ottawa Agricultural College is the author of this declaration. Some will call it into question. Had he said bad bread and butter is responsible for most of the sorrows of boarding house life a chorus of "hear, hear" would have been heard all over the Dominion.

* * *

The members of the Montreal Master Bakers' Association have unanimously vowed to sell bread for cash only. It remains to be seen whether there will be the same unanimity in the practice as in the profession.

* * *

The grocers of New York have had a horse insurance fund for some time; now they have a similar scheme for the insurance of their own lives. The association may now be said to be careful for both man and beast.

* * *

The fire that destroyed one of Toronto's big department stores Sunday morning was hotter than the wrath that has been generating for some time in the breasts of small storekeepers against department stores in general.

* * *

The Winnipeg Industrial Exhibition Association will hold its annual exhibition in the summer instead of the fall, as heretofore. The members of the association are wise in their day and generation. A summer fair will bring in more visitors from the outside than will a fall one, which is what is courted by the Prairie Province.

* * *

There had been a considerable curtailment of trade during the year, owing to the reduced purchasing power of the farmers on account of the low price of wheat. Still there had not been a single failure during the year of any person or firm engaged strictly in the lumber trade.

This gratifying statement is an extract from the annual report of the president of the Western Retail Lumbermen's Association, presented at a meeting held in Winnipeg recently.

* * *

To-day while excavating in a barrel of "extra" yellow sugar we came upon a skeleton. The bones were in excellent condition and none appear to be missing. Will send the next specimen to the museum with name of sugar refinery sending it out attached.

The above is the contents of a post card received a few days ago from one of our subscribers. It mystifies us. What can the skeleton be? Is it the skeleton of the refineries' former profits? Or, horrible thought, are the refineries boiling up their enemies? We give it up. Better send the skeleton along so that we can diagnose it.

* * *

Don't get discouraged because your competitor is moving faster than you are.—Exchange.

That's good advice. Great merchants, great warriors—in fact, men who have been great in anything—have become so because they had the energy to put on more steam when they found that someone was getting, or threatening to get, ahead of them. The man who has not grit will never be anything—except a drone.

* * *

Brantford wants a free postal delivery. And Brantford should have it. Just imagine a city with a population of fourteen or fifteen thousand and yet its citizens have got to trot off to the postoffice for their mail as they did when the population did not number as many hundreds as it now does thousands. With all its boasted modern methods, Canada can yet learn a few lessons from older countries—and postal delivery is one of them.

* * *

Editor Steen, of Winnipeg, is to be congratulated on the efficiency of the supplementary number of his journal, The Commercial. It contains a summary of the commercial prosperity of western Canada from Lake Superior to the Pacific Coast, while the profuse illustrations convey to us eastern people a better idea of the appearance of the principal towns in the Prairie Province than it has been possible to gather from other publications.

* * *

The Association of Canadian Fairs and Exhibitions wants the Ontario Government to appoint an inspector of fairs, with a view to the union or abolition of all fairs that have outgrown their usefulness. There is over-competition in fairs as well as in business, and the idea of a union or abolition is a good one. Local opposition, however, may be depended upon as no small obstacle to reform.

jobbing houses are pushing their dry goods, hats and caps, boots and shoes, fancy goods, groceries, etc., in almost every part of the Maritime Provinces. Trade has been good during the past year, and the town, generally, wears a look of prosperity.

Among those leading firms that have made Truro what it is are Black & Co, the enterprising wholesale grocers of that place.

The present firm, composed of Rufus F. Black and his son, Albert S. Black, was established in Truro in 1880. The senior member started business about forty years ago at River Philip and Pugwash, N.S., where, in connection with his brother, H. C. Black (who now owns the Pugwash business), he carried on a general store and lumber exporting business.

Although the firm started with a capital of only 80 cents, they have always paid 100 cents on the dollar, and they enjoy a most enviable reputation for square and honest dealing.

The present time finds the Truro firm commencing its fifteenth year, after having completed its largest turnover, with a good stock on hand, no liabilities, occupying and owning one of the most convenient wholesale grocery establishments in the province.

Goods are unloaded directly into the store from a siding of the Intercolonial Railway.

Black & Co. have been importing teas direct from China for six years, and are the leading exporters of raw furs from the province of Nova Scotia. They are holding a large stock in London for the coming sales.

Now that the success and enterprise of this house have been dwelt upon, it seems only fit to say a word or two concerning the two individual members of the firm—father and son.

The father, Lieut.-Col. Rufus F. Black, is a native of Amherst, Cumberland Co., N.S. He removed to River Philip with his parents when two years old. He established the general and lumber exporting business of Black & Co., River Philip and Pugwash, over forty years ago, and carried them on successfully until his removal to Truro. He is a lieutenant-colonel in the Cumberland militia, and a justice of the peace, in which capacity he has settled many disputes among neighbors, without charging a cent of costs. He is a leading Conservative in his district, which has always been carried by a large majority for Sir Charles Tupper.

Few young business men in Nova Scotia enjoy a wider or more desirable reputation than the son, A. S. Black. Intelligent, genial, prompt and thoroughly upright, it is not surprising that his numerous business relationships are of the most agreeable character. A careful observer himself, as well as a close student of the best commercial literature, his judgment as a buyer is unusually good. Mr. Black takes great interest in all improved methods of business traveling and transportation, and would rather read an account of the proposed Nicaragua Canal, or the most recent steamship, than the latest society novel. In connection with business and pleasure, Mr. Black has, during the past six years, traveled extensively in Canada, the United States, Mexico, Central America, West Indies, Great Britain, France, Italy, etc. He has inspected the work done on the Panama Canal, has sailed through the Sault Ste. Marie and Manchester ship canals, has ridden up the Sierra Nevada mountains on stage-coach and on horseback, and ascended Mount Vesuvius on Cook's celebrated inclined railway. He has crossed the Atlantic on the fastest ocean greyhound, the Cunarder "Lucania," and this continent on the greatest railway in the world—our own C.P.R. Although, while at home, Mr. Black is unremittingly diligent in business, he finds time for the duties devolving upon a good citizen of progressive Truro, and in social life is an especial favorite.

ALBERT S. BLACK.

Photographs of father and son are given herewith.

A SLIGHT ERROR.

EDITOR GROCER,—In commenting last week on the arrival of a car of California goods upon this market, your reporter fell into an error. The article in question, on page fourteen, is headed "California Canned Goods," but in the first sentence it is stated that "a carload of California DRIED fruits" had arrived, etc. As our last week's advertisement demonstrates our house as the recipients of this car of canned fruits, we beg to state that it was a car of "California CANNED goods" we have received, and beg you to emphasize this fact by publishing this explanation.

HATCHERIES' OUTPUT.

Figures have been compiled by the Marine and Fisheries Department which show the enormous output of the Dominion fisheries' hatcheries during 1894. The artificially bred fish reached the inconceivable number of 260,947,000. For the various species the numbers are as follows: Atlantic salmon, 7,396,000; Pacific salmon, sockeyes, 6,300,000; salmon trout for the great lakes, 7,651,000; whitefish for the great lakes, 79,600,000; lobsters, 160,000,000. This vast quantity of fry has been carefully distributed to the various bodies of water in which they are suited by nature to thrive.

"DON" IN ERROR.

"Don," of Saturday Night, is a most entertaining writer, and the views he expresses on most questions are full of force and good sound common sense. Occasionally, however, the best of editorial creators will wander out of their depth and flounder around in deep water. This very thing did "Don" last week.

In an article on departmental stores he took occasion to suggest that a fortune could be made by an enterprising man who would erect an enormous cold storage warehouse in one of the chief business thoroughfares of Toronto and cater direct to the people in eggs, butter, cheese, meats, fowl, etc. The citizens, he said, would buy of him just as they did of the big departmental stores in certain lines, for by handling vast quantities of edibles he could sell them much cheaper. To show what an immense profit could be made by such an enterprise, "Don" instanced turkeys, which could be bought at a certain season of the year for 7 or 8 cents a pound, kept a few months in cold storage, and sold when there were none on the market for 13 or 14 cents.

So far so good, but here "Don" went astray. His next sentence read:

A man can go into the fish business, freeze fish, sell his product at two cents a pound, and make money.

Now, this is nonsense. Fish costs on the average 4 cents a pound on the fishing grounds, and 6 cents a pound laid down on the Toronto market. The cost of freezing would be in the neighborhood of 1 cent extra. Therefore, although the editor of Saturday Night could sell frozen fish at 2 cents a pound and make money, the experienced dealer could barely clear himself by selling at 7 cents.

PAPER WELL MET.

Results of enquiries made by THE CANADIAN GROCER go to show that outstanding paper was met fairly well on the 4th of the month. The big jobbers say that settlement day proved to them just as satisfactory as any for some months back.

SOAP FIRM FAILS.

The liabilities are $35,000. The principal creditors are: W. T. Benson & Co., $3,042; Canadian Bank of Commerce, $6,100; Henry Power, Toronto, $3,250; Mrs. H. J. Whitney, $2,500; Mrs. W. E. Price, $6,250; Mrs. Price, marriage settlement, $10,000.

E. J. Murphy was the Toronto agent, with offices on Front street east. Harry W. Power, the hotel man, in order to realize on his claim, took possession of the Toronto premises. J. S. Harcourt, the assignee, objected, and Chief Justice Armour granted an injunction restraining Power from meddling with the estate.

COAL OIL STILL HIGHER.

Canadian coal oils have made another advance of $\frac{1}{2}$ c. a gallon since the last issue of THE CANADIAN GROCER. This is the second marked increase in price within a few weeks, and the prospects are not in favor of any reduction. Crude oil is so scarce in the United States and Canada that refined oils are being forced up. "Coal oil will certainly not be lower," remarked a big local oil dealer in the writer's hearing, "and perhaps it will go higher still."

SCARCITY OF HOGS.

The past few days has witnessed quite an advance in the prices of dressed hogs and hog products. This bullish tendency is due to the fact that earlier in the season the hog crop of Canada was a great deal over-estimated. Besides this the export trade to Great Britain this winter has been extraordinarily large, stocks having been pretty well cleaned up to supply the demand. Now the run of hogs is over and packers find that there are practically no hogs in the country, which is an unusual state of affairs at this time of the year. No wonder then that prices have gone up rapidly, and that the prospects are that they will continue to climb the pole.

FIXTURES CAN BE REMOVED.

A DECISION of much importance, to merchants in particular, was last week handed down by the Court of Queen's Bench, Toronto.

In October last, it will be remembered, Judge Boyd, in the case of Argles v. McMath, ruled that under a lease pursuant to the Short Forms Act, containing covenants by the lessees to repair and to leave in good repair, they could not remove at the end of the term fixtures erected by them for the purpose of trade, and brought on the premises as independent personal chattels and physically attached by nails or screws.

This ruling upset all previous conceptions of the law, and naturally excited a good deal of interest.

Now, in view of the ruling of the Court of Queen's Bench, merchants who happen to be tenants of the stores they occupy will breathe easier.

This ruling, which was unanimously concurred in by the three judges comprising the higher court, upsets that of Judge Boyd.

The deliverance was exhaustive, containing, it is understood, over ninety pages of typewritten foolscap; and its purport was to the effect that the lessees had the right, after the forfeiture of their lease, and while they remained in possession, to remove the fixtures in question. Furthermore it was held that the lessees were entitled to a reasonable time to remove the fixtures after the lessor had elected to re-enter the premises for such forfeiture.

Whether or not the case will be carried to a higher court THE CANADIAN GROCER does not know. But whatever the ultimate outcome may be, it is scarcely probable that the framers of the law in question intended that any such interpretation should be put upon it as that which Judge Boyd saw fit to put.

The ruling of the Court of Queen's Bench is the just ruling. If it is not the legal one it devolves upon the Legislature to so amend the Short Forms Act as to make it such.

CUTTING IN PAPER BAGS.

ALL is not smooth sailing in the paper bag trade in Canada. There was a time when it was quite a profitable industry, employing a great many people in all parts of the Dominion.

Then Kilgour Bros., Toronto, put in a modern plant to make the square-bottomed bags that are now used everywhere. Hundreds of the smaller makers had to give up, for they could not compete with the machine-made bags except in the way of a small local business. The Kilgours furnished good honest bags at reasonable prices, and made money. The two brothers are probably worth fully half a million between them to-day—perhaps more.

The Lincoln Paper Co., Merriton, came into the market as a strong competitor a few years ago, but recently, so it is reported, the two concerns have joined hands and are working in unison.

Now, however, comes the announcement that the E. B. Eddy Co., of Hull, are going into the bag business, and are putting in an extensive plant. Mr. Eddy is not a man who will be content to take second place to anyone, and will push the bag business with the same energy that characterises the other enterprises of his company. Eddy's bags will soon be found in every part of Canada.

To make bag matters worse, there are occasional flank attacks from American bag-makers from St. Louis, Cincinnati, Connecticut and Boston.

A representative of one of the American firms when in Montreal a few days ago told THE CANADIAN GROCER that American manufacturers were overloaded with paper bags and were glad to get rid of their stock at any price. He had made a number of sales there and in Ottawa at prices which enabled the Canadian dealers to lay them down after paying the duty at less than they could be bought from our own makers in Canada.

CULTIVATING A BETTER TASTE.

There are few actions from which some good results do not accrue. One evidence of this is seen in the price of spices.

As everyone in the trade knows, the price of spices, like that of other commodities, has been steadily declining, until to-day in some lines figures are lower than they ever were before.

But with this decline in prices has developed a demand for a better class of goods.

In a word, the low price of the pure article has brought it within the reach of a larger proportion of the consuming public than formerly. And as a natural result adulterated spices are not as much wanted as they were.

ACCESSORY BEFORE THE FACT.

THE Toronto City Council is an accessory before the fact in the big fire that visited the Queen City Sunday morning.

Three years ago the late Chief Ardagh petitioned the Council for one or more fire engines. But he was told engines were not wanted; the water pressure was good enough without them.

On January 6th last The Globe, McKinnon, and other buildings were burned, human lives sacrificed, and bodies maimed for life. Then the aldermen said: "Yes, we must have engines." And so wide awake did the fire make them that they also came to the conclusion that other modern fire-fighting appliances were demanded as well.

But they fell asleep again. And while they slumbered and slept fire ate up another three-quarter of a million's worth of property on January 10, four days later, largely because there were no engines.

This stirred the procrastinators up as they were never stirred before, except when trying to make their calling and election sure. Before the burned buildings were cold they decided to buy two fire engines, water tower, and goodness knows what. But, alas! here the spirit of procrastination seized them again.

On the spot was a first class engine. There may be better. But there was no disputing the fact that it was a good engine. They had decided to purchase two engines, and what they should have done was to have secured the Ronald, the engine here, leaving the matter of purchasing a second or third until such time as evidence could be adduced as to where the best could be obtained.

Instead of doing this the Council must appoint experts. When the experts handed in their report it was the Merryweather engines that were given the preference.

After dilly-dallying for a few days it was decided to buy one Merryweather, and leave the matter of buying a second engine until the Ronald had been tested alongside the engine it had already been decided to purchase. But this engine had to be sent to England for; and it has not yet arrived. It has probably not even been shipped.

And while the aldermen dilly-dallied with the fates, a third fire, and a fire more disastrous than either of its two predecessors, visited Toronto, all because a strong body of firemen were equipped with weak appliances.

Nero fiddled while Rome burned, but Toronto aldermen have not energy enough to fiddle while Toronto business houses burn.

NEW OPENING FOR TRADE.

Although the subjects to be discussed are not such as the Cape of Good Hope has any immediate interest in, yet we are not without hope that in the result the Cape may derive its full share of benefits from the conference.

THIS was a sentence that fell from the lips of one of the delegates from Cape of Good Hope to the Colonial Conference held June and July last in Ottawa. And from correspondence which the Dominion Government has just received it appears that the hoped for good result in question is likely to be realized.

The correspondence, in short, is from the Government of the Cape, and its sum and substance is a straight offer of free trade with Canada.

The seed sown at the Ottawa conference, of which this offer is the fruit, was not all allowed to be uncared for. Shortly before his death, Sir John Thompson and Sir Cecil Rhodes, Premier of Cape Colony, had a conference on this very subject of extended trade between Canada and the Cape. This probably did more toward advancing the matter to its present stage than anything else.

Canada should certainly accept the offer. She will decidedly gain by so doing, and be the principal gainer, too, by the consummation of the idea.

At present the aggregate trade between Canada and British Africa is small. In 1893, the year for which latest reports are to hand, our imports from the latter were only valued at $189,925, while we sent to them but $43,891 worth, all told. The aggregate trade of the Cape of Good Hope in 1892 was £21,778,163, of which £9,571,670 were imports, and £12,206,493 exports.

The Cape's chief exportable article is wool, and of this Canada was in 1893 a purchaser to the extent of 1,509,518 lbs., valued at $189,687. Wine and brandy the colony has in abundance, while on the authority of one of the delegates at the Ottawa conference, it can supply us with fruit when we cannot produce any ourselves, or obtain any on the continent. "I think," said the delegate in question, "we have advantages over Australia, and that we can send you fruit at a cheaper rate to the eastern side of Canada, because they have the long land journey by the Canadian Pacific, which would swallow up a good deal of their profits." There are, it is said, about forty days during which neither California nor Florida can produce fruit.

While our chief import from British Africa is wool, its chief import from us is lumber and manufactured goods. In 1893 it took $15,828 worth of the one and $28,063 worth of the other.

At present practically all of the agricultural implements imported are brought from the United States. A good deal of paper is used in the colony, but Canada would probably be unable to compete with the English-made article on that market on account of the lower price of the latter. In woollen goods the Cape at present only manufactures the rough kinds. Canada should be able to get a slice of this trade, and to extend her trade, in fact, in manufactured articles generally.

Against lumber the Cape now levies a duty. Although we hear so much about the forests of Africa, it appears that the Cape produces very little lumber; in fact, not enough for its own use. And it is likely to need a great deal more. We again quote one of the delegates: "Sir Cecil Rhodes, who is greatly concerned in mining industries throughout South Africa, informed me shortly before I left that, with the mining industries of South Africa, very large quantities of lumber will, in the future, be required."

The delegate quoted also stated that agricultural implements were admitted free, but on looking up the tariff we learn that there is a duty of 10 per cent. imposed on these articles. In 1893 Canada exported $12,310 worth of agricultural implements to British Africa. With free trade and better inter-colonial communication business in this respect with the Cape should be materially increased, particularly as we can make our implements just as cheap as they in the United States.

There is one thing about this offer of the Cape of Good Hope that must commend itself to the people of Canada: There is no stipulation for a subsidized line of steamships. In fact, it is understood that Sir Cecil Rhodes, when conferring with the late Sir John Thompson, clearly stated that there was no need for subsidizing a steamship line. All he wanted was the removal of the tariff barriers obtaining in the respective countries. Regarding the steamship service, it is suggested that the Canadian line now running to Demerara be extended to the Cape.

THE BUTTER POSITION.

Though THE CANADIAN GROCER, on ethical grounds, was against the 20c. advance on butter now being paid by the Federal Government for late-made creamery, it is compelled to admit that it has brightened up the butter market in Montreal to a certain extent. But, though this is the case, the predictions made in these columns some time ago have been fully borne out.

Any beneficial effect there is is restricted mainly to holders of late-made butter, who are certainly getting more for their product than they could have done previous to the time the Government offer was made.

Just as we predicted, the Government is not getting much of the winter creamery, in Montreal at least, for export.

The local demand requires this butter for itself, and the people who supply it have simply bid 1c. more than the Government offer, and, of course, are getting the goods.

At the time of writing the Montreal market is practically bare of late winter made creamery, which has had the effect of inducing better prices on fresh receipts of Townships dairy and Western rolls, for 16c. is now being asked.

With regard to the stock of old butter, both creamery and dairy, held in cold store, its position has not been appreciably benefited by the offer of 20c. In fact, to speak plainly, the only prospect for the great portion is a sale for it in the spring as grease for what it will bring, as happened in the spring of 1893, when held creamery sold during the latter part of March and April at 6 to 8c. per lb.

HEAVY LOSSES ON CHEESE.

DURING the past eight days there has been a distinct improvement in the export cheese market at Montreal, a round quantity of stock changing hands both over the cable and between dealers on spot.

This change is, of course, a welcome one, but though this is so, and sellers have been able to realize from $\frac{3}{8}$ to $\frac{1}{2}$ c. more on their cheese, it is doubtful, even at the improved prices, if holders will be fully recouped for what their stock has cost them.

For instance, the movement during the past week has probably amounted to from 10,000 to 15,000 boxes. Most of these goods have been fall cheese, for the very good reason that the supplies of summer goods have been pretty well weeded out since the end of December, owing to their relatively lower cost. Assuming that the bulk of the recent sales, therefore, have been of fall goods, what is the position of affairs?

Every reader of THE CANADIAN GROCER must know pretty well what was the ruling first cost of fine fall cheese in the country last fall. It was certainly over 9 $\frac{3}{4}$ c., and, in many cases, 10c., so that, allowing for carrying charges, etc., the actual cost of fine fall cheese now cannot be far from 10 $\frac{3}{4}$ c.

At this figure, therefore, people who sold cheese recently stood to lose in the vicinity of 1c. per pound on their sales, or, 65 to 70c. a box, which, on such quantities as 10,000 boxes and over, means a tidy little sum on the wrong side of the profit and loss account, viz., $7,000.

This instance in itself is sufficient to show what an unprofitable wind-up the cheese market has had this year.

At present the demand is good at the remarkably low prices now ruling, viz., 9 $\frac{3}{4}$ to 10c. for the very finest cheese, which is from 1 to 1 $\frac{1}{4}$ c. below the usual level of prices at this period of the year.

If the present demand continues it will not take long to absorb what stock there is in Montreal, which is placed under 50,000 boxes, but whether the English demand would follow any further appreciable advance so as to allow sellers to cut down their margin of loss is considered doubtful by many careful traders.

This is hard, for report has it that the losses of some leading firms of exporters in Montreal foot up close to $40,000.

TORONTO AGAIN SCOURGED.

TORONTO was on Sunday morning last for the third time within two months visited by a conflagration that destroyed in the neighborhood of three quarters of a million dollars worth of property. The fire broke out in Simpson's departmental store at the corner of Queen and Yonge streets, and in an incredibly short space of time that huge structure and a number of fine buildings on all four corners of the two thoroughfares lay in ruins. At several times it looked as if the whole central portion of the city would be destroyed. The steeple of Knox church was burned the Metropolitan church caught fire, and the roof of St. Michael's hospital started to blaze more than once. Crippled as the city fire department was by inefficient appliances, the protection afforded the district by such private concerns as T. Eaton & Co., and the Confederation Life Insurance Co., which brought into use their hydrants and hose to great effect, is worthy of mention. A detailed statement of the losses and amounts of insurance on the buildings and stocks destroyed is herewith given:

The day after the fire the underwriters met and threatened all sorts of things unless some action were taken by the city authorities to protect property. The latter now give evidence of having been awakened from their sleep. It seems now as if a few steam engines will be purchased.

An enquiry into the cause of the disaster is to be held, as in some quarters an incendiary origin is hinted at. Some even go so far as to say that the enemies of departmental stores were responsible for the conflagration.

LENTEN FISH TRADE.

The Lenten fish trade has opened briskly, and, judging from present indications, will considerably transcend in volume that of last year. There are several reasons for this.

In March of 1894 we had very warm weather, while the spring this year has begun with a pretty severe cold snap. In the second place fish are on an average at least half-a-cent per pound cheaper this year than last; and in the third place, eggs are this spring scarce and dear.

So far this year the comparatively low price of meats has interfered seriously with the fish trade, but of course, now that Lent has begun, this circumstance will not have as much effect as heretofore.

Toronto dealers in fresh and packed fish report business good. The orders coming in from the country are larger in number and in size than in 1894, the only drawback being that payments are not being promptly made. Canned goods jobbers have much the same story to tell, and on the whole prospects are very bright.

MARKETS AND MARKET NOTES

TORONTO MARKETS.

TORONTO, March 7, 1895.

GROCERIES.

TRADER does not exhibit much that is particularly interesting this week.

The movement is of a sorting up character, and fair for this time of the year. The Lenten season now being on, there is a good demand for such seasonable lines as canned fish and vegetables, foreign dried fruits, rice, etc. The sugar market is stronger outside and firm and unchanged here in sympathy, but both the refiners' representatives and wholesalers report a light business. The tea market is a little unsettled. The demand for teas on the local market is good for medium and low grade blacks. Payments are fair, and the outlook generally is better. Trade for the month of February was on the whole fairly satisfactory, there being a particularly large turn over of sugar.

CANNED GOODS.

The market continues in satisfactory shape, prices being firm and demand good. There are some independent canned vegetables being offered this week below the Association prices, but they are only second quality goods, and do not, it is said, run uniform in quality. They are the pack of a concern said to be in financial straits. We quote: Tomatoes, 87½ to 90c. for choice and 85c. for inferior and old stock; corn, 90 to 95c. for choice and 87½c. for common; peas, 82½ to 87½c. for ordinary and $1.40 for fancy; peaches, $2.75 to $3 for 3's, $1.75 to $1.90 for 2's; raspberries, $1.65 to $1.80; strawberries, $1 to $2.10; apples, 3's, $1 to $1.10, gallons $2.10 to $2.25, and preserved fancy quarters at $1.35 to $1.40; salmon, $1.45 to $1.50 for good red fish in tall tins, and $1.60 to $1.65 in flat tins; do., second quality, $1.15 to $1.25; canned mackerel, $1 to $1.10; lobsters, $1.70 to $2 for tall tins, and $2.25 to $2.75 for flat tins. Australian mutton, boiled, 2 lb. cans, $3.40; ditto, corned and roast, $3.75.

COFFEES.

There has been a general strengthening in the coffee market. Good Rio coffees are scarce on this market. There is not much demand, simply because the desired good grades are not to be had. About the only thing obtainable is a low grade at 20½c. We quote green in bags, as follows: Rio, 20½ to 22½c.; East Indian, 27 to 30c.; South American, 21 to 23c.; Santos, 21½ to 22½c.; Java, 28 to 33c.; Mocha, 30 to 35c.; Maracaibo, 21 to 23c.; Jamaica, 21 to 25c.

RICE.

There is a fair, seasonable demand at unchanged prices. We quote as before: "B," 3½ to 3¾c.; extra Japan, 5¼ to 5¾c.; imported Japan, 5¾ to 6¼c.; tapioca, pearl, 4½ to 5c.

SPICES.

Business remains much as before. We quote: Pure black pepper, 10 to 12c.; pure white, 18 to 25c.; pure Jamaica ginger, 25 to 27c.; cloves, 15 to 45c.; pure mixed spice, 25 to 30c.; cream of tartar, 20 to 25c. per lb.

NUTS.

Business is still without feature to note. We quote: Brazil nuts, 11 to 11½c.; Sicily shelled almonds, 25 to 26c.; Tarragona almonds, 14 to 14½c.; peanuts, 10 to 12c. for roasted and 7 to 10c. for green; cocoanuts, $4.50 to $5 persack; Grenoble walnuts, 15 to 16c.; Marbot walnuts, 12½ to 14c.; Bordeaux walnuts, 12 to 13c.; Sicily filberts, 9 to 10c. for sacks and 10½ to 11c. for small lots; pecans, 10½ to 11c.

SUGAR.

The outside markets are much stronger, both in raws and soft sugars. While prices here have not changed, refiners are firm in their views, having refused to shade for round lots. Demand has been active up to within the last few days, and although the turn-over is not so large as it was, there is still a fair movement. Sales last month were unusually large for February. A falling off in sale is now naturally to be expected. We quote: Granulated—domestic, 3½ to 3¾c.; do., German granulated, $3.40 to $3.50; yellows, $2.75 to $3.30. Raws—Demerara, 2¾ to 2⅞c.

SYRUPS.

Demand continues fair, particularly for syrups which sell at from 2¼ to 2½c. We quote: Dark, 25c.; medium, 28 to 30c.; bright, 35 to 40c.; very bright, 45 to 50c.

MOLASSES.

Demand is still fair at about 30c. in barrels, and 32c. in half-barrels. We quote as follows: New Orleans, barrels, 26 to 28c.; half-barrels, 30½ to 32c.; Barbadoes, barrels, 28 to 32c.; half-barrels, 30 to 34c.

TEAS.

This week's advices from London intimate that a struggle is going on there to get prices up. The future of the market, it is thought, depends a good deal on the deliveries of Ceylon tea, and as the shipments from Colombo in December were some 12,000,000 pounds, an unusually large quantity, there is some dubiousness about the market being able to keep up. There are a few teas offering on the Toronto market, but they are not numerous. Teas called for principally are those which sell at 8 to 8½d. There is a good demand from retailers for low and medium grade teas, which sell at about 16 to 20c. for Indians and Ceylons, 14 to 20c. for China blacks, and 15 to 20c. for greens. We quote: Young Hyson, 12 to 18c. for low grades; 24 to 27c. for mediums, and 30 to 45c. for high grades; China Congous, 14 to 18c. for mediums, and 35 to 55c. for high grades; Japans, 16 to 20c. for mediums, 28 to 35c. for high grades; Indians and Ceylons, 18 to 22c. for mediums, and 30 to 45c. for high grades.

DRIED FRUIT.

Valencia raisins are quiet and steady. There are practically no selected raisins on this market. We quote: Off-stalk, $3\frac{1}{4}$ to $3\frac{3}{4}$ c.; fine off-stalk, 4 to $4\frac{1}{4}$ c.; selected, $5\frac{1}{2}$ to 6c.; layers, $5\frac{1}{2}$ to 6c.

Sultana raisins continue high and scarce. Very little business is doing. We quote 6 to $8\frac{1}{2}$ c.

Prunes are in active demand, with genuine French prunes increasing in favor, there now being quite a good turnover of them. We quote: "Sphinx"—"U," 110 to 115 to half kilo, $4\frac{3}{4}$ to 5c. per lb.; "C," 85 to 90 to half kilo, $6\frac{1}{2}$ c. per lb.; "B," 80 to 85 to half kilo, 7 to $7\frac{1}{2}$ c. per lb. "Atlas,"—"D," 110 to 115 to half kilo, $4\frac{3}{4}$ to 5c. per lb.; "Unicorn," 5 to $5\frac{1}{2}$ c. Bordeaux prunes, $4\frac{1}{2}$ to $6\frac{1}{2}$ c.

Demand for currants has not increased materially. Stocks here are light, nearly everyone being caught short by the sudden advance in price. Of half-barrel currants the market seems to be completely cleaned out. Currants ordered have been delayed a good deal in shipping, there not being many steamers calling at Patras at this season. Higher prices are confidently looked for here. We quote: Filiatras, half-barrels, 4 to $4\frac{1}{2}$ c., barrels, $4\frac{1}{2}$ c.; fine Filiatras, half-barrels, $4\frac{3}{4}$ c., barrels, $4\frac{3}{4}$ c.; Patras, $5\frac{1}{2}$ c., in cases; Casalinas, $5\frac{1}{2}$ to 6c.; Vostizzas, $6\frac{1}{2}$ to 7c. in cases and half cases; Panaretos, 8 to $8\frac{1}{2}$ c.

Figs here are in moderate demand only. We quote: 14 oz., 8 to 9c.; 10 lb., 8 to 10c.; 18 lb., 12c.; 28 lb., 15c.; taps, $4\frac{1}{4}$ to $4\frac{1}{2}$ c.; naturals, 6 to 7c.

Demand continues good for California evaporated fruits. We quote: Peaches, 11 to 13c.; apricots, 11 to 12c.; pears, 10 to 12c. per lb.

BUTTER AND CHEESE.

Good butter continues scarce in consequence of the action of the Dominion Dairy Commissioner. The trade is entirely confined to winter creamery and large roll butter. We quote: Dairy—Medium to good, 10 to 15c.; low grade, 8 to 10c.; fresh pound rolls, 15 to 16c.; large rolls, 12 to 15c. Creamery—Tubs, 21 to 22c.; pound prints, 22 to 23c.

August and September makes of cheese are quoted at $10\frac{1}{2}$ to $10\frac{3}{4}$ c., and half sizes at 11 to $11\frac{1}{4}$ c. Small Stiltons are quoted at 12 to $12\frac{1}{2}$ c.

GREEN FRUIT.

Lemons are firm, and the few oranges in the market are firmer and higher. Grapes are becoming scarce and dear. We quote: Lemons—Messinas, \$2.75 to \$3.50. Orange—Valencias, \$4.25 to \$4.50; California navels, \$3.50 to \$4; grape fruit, \$3.75 to \$4 per box. Bananas, \$1.50 to \$2 for firsts and seconds. Apples, winter fruit, \$2.50 to \$3.50 per bbl.; common fruit, \$1.75 to \$2. Grapes—Malagas, \$6 to \$6.50 per keg. Cranberries, Jerseys, \$14 to \$14.50 per bbl. and \$5 per box. California dried fruit—Apricots, $12\frac{1}{2}$ c.; peaches, 13 to $13\frac{1}{2}$ c.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

BEANS—Are quiet at $1.35 for choice hand-picked, and $1.15 for medium grades.

DRIED APPLES—Are firm at $5\frac{1}{2}$ to 6c., owing to increased price being given for green fruit.

EVAPORATED APPLES—We quote, in 50 lb. boxes: 7 to $7\frac{1}{2}$ c. per lb.

ONIONS—Are going higher. We quote: Domestic, 75 to 80c. per bag; Spanish, $1 per small crate; Valencia, $3.50 to $4.

HONEY—No change. We quote: Strained, in bulk, 7 to 9c.; comb, 14c. for clover and 10c. for buckwheat.

POTATOES—Stocks are low and prices firm. We quote: 50c. on the track and 65c. out of store.

POULTRY—Scarce and firm. We quote: Turkeys, 12c.; geese, 7 to 8c.; chickens, 30 to 75c.; ducks, 50 to 90c.

EGGS—The market is bare of fresh, held and cold storage eggs, and limed are very scarce. Prices are up. We quote: Pickled, 19 to 21c., and new laid, 23 to 25c.

FISH AND OYSTERS.

With the beginning of Lent, as stated elsewhere in this issue, trade has brightened up. We quote as follows: Salmon trout (frozen), $6\frac{1}{2}$ to 7c.; white fish (frozen), $6\frac{1}{2}$ to 7c.; skinned and boned codfish, $6\frac{1}{2}$ c.; boneless fish, $3\frac{1}{2}$ to 4c.; market cod, 3 to 5c.; steak cod, $6\frac{1}{2}$ c.; haddock, 4 to $4\frac{1}{2}$ c.; Labrador herring, \$3.25 to \$3.50 per half barrel and \$5.50 to \$5.75 per barrel; Newfoundland herring, \$2.50 per half barrel, and \$4.50 to \$4.75 per barrel; fresh water salt herring, \$3 per bbl.; blue-back herring, 4c.; sea herring (frozen), \$1 to \$1.25 per 100 fish; blue pickerel, 4 to 5c. lb.; yellow ditto, 6 to 7c. per lb.; mackerel, 14c. each; pike, 5c. lb.; cod, 6c. per lb.; flitch cod, 5c.; finnan haddies, $6\frac{1}{2}$ to 7c.; Digby herring, in bundles of 5 boxes, 11c.; ditto, lengthwise, 10c.; large halibut, 10 to 13c. Oysters, \$1.50 per gallon for standards and \$1.75 for selects.

PROVISIONS AND DRESSED HOGS.

The scarcity of dressed hogs has made prices higher and firmer. We quote:

DRESSED HOGS—$5.50 to $5.75 per 100 lbs.

BACON—Long clear, 7c. for carload lots, $7\frac{1}{4}$ c. for ton lots and for small lots; breakfast bacon, $10\frac{1}{2}$ c.; rolls, 8c.

HAMS—Large, 22 lbs. and over, $9\frac{1}{2}$ c.; medium, 15 to 20 lbs., 10c.; small hams, $10\frac{1}{2}$ c.; pickled, 9 to $9\frac{1}{2}$ c.

LARD—Pure Canadian, tierces, $7\frac{3}{4}$ c.; tubs, $8\frac{1}{4}$ c.; pails, $8\frac{1}{2}$ c.

BARREL PORK—Canadian heavy mess, $14.75 to $15; Canadian short-cut, $15; shoulder mess, $13 to $13.75; clear mess, $12.75 to $13.

SALT.

Salt remains at the figures quoted last week. We quote: Barrels, 85c.; coarse sacks, 58c.; fine sacks, 60c.; dairy, $1.25; rock, $9.

FLOUR AND FEED.

WHEAT—We quote: 64 to $64\frac{1}{2}$ c. for white; $61\frac{1}{2}$ c. for red, and 60c. for goose.

OATS—Easy. We quote: 38c.

BARLEY—Steady. We quote: 48c.

FLOUR—Quiet and firm. We quote: Ontario straight roller, $2.65 to $2.75; Manitoba, $3.60 to $3.65; patents, $3.75 to $3.90.

BREAKFAST FOODS—Oatmeal is firmer, owing to the scarcity and higher prices of oats. Prices have advanced a little. We quote: Standard oatmeal, $3.85, and granulated, $3.85; rolled oats, $3.80 to $3.85; rolled wheat, $2.10 in 100 lb. barrels; cornmeal, $3.50; split peas and pot barley, $3.75 per barrel.

SEEDS.

There is now no export demand worth speaking of, and from present indications there is more alsike in the country than will meet the demand. Alsike is quoted the same as last week, viz.: Choice, $4.80; really fancy, $5 and lower grades $4.

There is a very good enquiry for red clover, but no change in prices is reported, dealers still paying $6 to $6.25 for good qualities and jobbing them out at a very small advance.

Timothy is steady at $2.50 to $2.75 per bush. for prime to choice grades of machine threshed, while 15 to 20c. more is given for bright unhulled lines.

HIDES, SKINS, WOOL AND TALLOW.

HIDES—There is a good demand, and prices have advanced $\frac{1}{2}$ c. all round on green hides. We quote: 5 to $5\frac{1}{4}$ c. for cured, and for green, No. 1, $4\frac{1}{2}$ c.; No. 2, $3\frac{1}{2}$ c., and No. 3, $2\frac{1}{2}$ c.

SHEEPSKINS—Are bringing better prices for good stock, 85 to 90c. being quoted. Calfskins nominally at 6c. for No. 1, and 4c. for No. 2.

TALLOW—Quiet, at 5 to $5\frac{1}{4}$ c.

WOOL—Canadian fleece, all cleared out. For round lots of desirable wool 19 to $19\frac{1}{2}$ c. is obtainable. Pulled wools are rising. Best supers are quoted at 19 to 21c., and extras at 21 to 22c.

MONTREAL MARKETS.

MONTREAL, March 7, 1895.
GROCERIES.

THE storm this week has somewhat interfered with the volume of business in general groceries, but previous to it a good fair demand was experienced for all staples. The interesting features since our last letter have been a further decline in refiners' prices on both granulated and yellow sugar, firmness in molasses, advices from Barbadoes being very strong in tone, and a somewhat easier disposition on both California and Valencia raisins, on which, as will be seen below, a somewhat lower range rules than a week ago. Coffee and spices have ruled steady, while tea is much the same as it was. Canned goods are quiet, with some enquiry for fish and lobsters on spring account, and there is a quiet Lenten demand for fish. In country produce a marked scarcity of evaporated and dried apples with a corresponding firmness in value is the striking feature.

SUGAR.

Further easiness has been noted in the sugar market since our last, refiners here having marked down their price on granulated 1-16 of a cent and yellows 1-16 to 1/8 of a cent, though advices from the outside have been steady on the raw article. Demand has been fair and fair quantities have left the refiners at 3 5-16c. for granulated in round lots and 3 3/8c. in smaller quantities of standard granulated. No. 2 granulated has changed hands at 3 1/4c. There has been a free movement of yellows, round lots of stock being turned over at 2 1/2 to 3c. as to quality at the factory. In a jobbing way we quote: Standard granulated, 3 3/8c.; No. 2, 3 1/2c.; yellows, 2 3/4 to 3 3/8c. as to quality. German sugar is slow, and jobbers are asking 3 1/2c. for extra granulated, while No. 2 Berthier is being jobbed out at 3 1/4c.

SYRUPS.

There has been a good demand for syrups, an active business transpiring since our last owing to the increased Lenten demand. Round lots of stock have sold at 1 1/2 to 2 1/4c., but in a jobbing way we quote 1 3/4 to 2 1/2c. There is little or no American syrup offering here, and it is quoted firm at 19 to 23c. per gallon in barrels, as to quality.

MOLASSES.

There has been a moderately active business in molasses since our last, a good seasonable demand being experienced. The tone is very firm, round lots of Barbadoes changing hands at 28 1/2 to 33c., as to quality, while Porto Rico and Trinidad have changed hands at 27 and 26c. respectively. Advices from Barbadoes state that the crop is very backward, and that predictions are for a shortage of 25 to 50 per cent. this season. No reliable quotation on new crop can yet be given, as the f.o.b. prices which have been given would hardly stand if a buyer really wanted to place an order.

RICE.

The rice market continues steady under a fair demand. Mill prices are as follows: Japan, standard, $4.25 to $4.40; crystal Japan, $4.75 to $5; standard B, $3.45; English style, $3.30; Patna, $4.25 to $5, and Carolina, $6.50 to $7.50.

SPICES.

Spices remain much the same. Jobbers are pretty well supplied, so that there is little doing in this connection, while the jobbing demand is of the usual character. We quote: Penang black pepper, 6 to 7 1/2c.; white pepper, 10 to 12 1/2c.; cloves, 7 1/2 to 9c.; cassia, 8 1/2 to 9 1/2c.; nutmegs, 60 to 90c.; and Jamaica ginger, 15 1/2 to 18 1/2c.

COFFEES.

There has been a fair business in coffee during the week, as the roasters evidently want supplies, and several lots of Maracaibo and Rio have changed hands on this account. We quote: Maracaibo, 23c.; Rio, 18 1/2 to 20c.; Java, 25 to 27c.; Jamaica, 18 to 19c.; and Mocha, 26 to 30c.

TEA.

The demand for tea has not been very noteworthy, though some enquiry for Congous has been experienced, and good-sized lots of medium have changed hands at 11 to 12c. and fine at 19c. Orders from the country and local storekeepers come in fairly well, and a good jobbing trade appears to be doing on the whole. The tone is distinctly firm and values maintained all round.

ONLY ONE CREAMERY

MONTREAL MARKETS.—Continued.

We quote: Japans, low grades, 12½ to 14c.; medium, 15½ to 17c.; fine, 18½ to 24c.; and choice, 25 to 31c.

DRIED FRUIT.

There is no improvement in the dried fruit market, business continuing quiet. The tone on Valencia stock, however, is somewhat easier in consequence of lower offerings from New York. Round lots of very common off-stalk have changed hands at 3c.; fair off-stalk at 3 to 3¼c., and fine, 3¼ to 4c. There is no selected in first hands, and none offering this week. Round lots of layers have also been placed with jobbers during the week at 4 to 4¾c., according to quality. The only Sultanas here are controlled by one jobbing house who hold them firmly, and no concession is likely on them. In California stock, some round lots of 3-crown loose muscatels have left first hands at 4½c., but this is the inside price. Four-crown fruit are more firmly held. For a jobbing range we quote: Off-stalk Valencias, 3¼ to 4½c. for ordinary, according to grade; selected, 4¾ to 5½c.; layers, 5 to 6c.; Sultanas, good, 5c.; fine, 5½c., and choice, 7c.; California, 3-crown loose muscatels, 5½ to 6c.; 4-crown ditto, 7c.; second crop ditto, ½c. less. It will be noticed that the above quotations give a rather wider range than our last, which is accountable to the greater variation in the quality of recent receipts.

Advices on currants are very firm, and though demand is quiet here prices are firmly held. In fact, either Filiatras or Provincials could hardly be had as cheaply as a fortnight ago. In a jobbing way we quote: Filiatras and Provincials, 3¼c. in barrels, and 4 to 4½c. in cases; Patras, 5 to 5½c., and Vostizzas, 7 to 7½c.

The prune market is steady and fairly active both for French and Turkish stock, while some Californias which have been offered recently have been very favorably commented on as to their quality. We quote: Bordeaux, 4 to 4½c.; Bosnia, 4½ to 5c., and California, 9½c.

There is a good trade doing in figs and prices are steady at 5 to 6c. in bags and 10 to 16c. in boxes.

The date market is unchanged at 4 to 5c., as to grade.

In California evaporated fruit jobbers report a fairly good demand. We quote: evaporated apricots, 12½ to 15c. and peaches 9½c.

NUTS.

There is a quiet jobbing trade doing in nuts at unchanged prices. We quote: Tarragona almonds, 12½ to 13c.; filberts, 7½ to 8½c.; Brazil nuts, 11c.; pecans, small, 10c.; medium, 13c., and extra, 15c.; Grenoble walnuts, 13½ to 14c., and Naples do., 13½c.; Bordeaux ditto, 10c. peanuts, 7 to 9c. for roasted and 6 to 8c. for raw; cocoanuts, $4 to $5 per 100.

CANNED GOODS.

The actual spot movement has not furnished appreciable change, but a fair demand is to note. For spring delivery some jobbers have been placing orders for lobsters. Peas are scarce and firm. We quote: Lobsters, $1.50 to $1.75 per doz.; sardines, $8.50 to $9.50; salmon, $1.30 to $1.40 per doz.; tomatoes, 90 to 92½c. per doz.; peaches, $2 to $2.25 per doz.; corn, 95c. to $1 per doz., marrow-fat peas, 90c. to $1 per doz.; strawberries, $2 to $2.25; raspberries, $1.75 to $2; green gages, $2 to $2.25; blue plums or damsons, $1.50 to $1.75; pineapples, $2 to $2.25, and 3-lb. apples, $1 to $1.10.

FISH.

There has been an active market since our last, but only in a small jobbing way, as a rule. Prices continue the same, for the steady arrival of liberal supplies has prevented that advance which usually follows the inception of Lent. New fresh haddock have sold at 3½c., and frozen at 2¾ to 3c. per lb. Fresh herrings are unchanged at $1 per 100 in casks and barrels. Smelts are selling at 2½ to 4½c. per lb.; halibut at 7 to 8c.; mackerel at 9 to 10c.; tommy cods at 90c. to $1 per bbl. No. 1 Labrador herrings are jobbing out at $4.50 to $4.75, No. 1 Nova Scotia at $4 to $4.50, No. 1 green cod at $5, No. 2 do. at $3, No. 2 Labrador salmon at $12 to $13; B.C. salmon at $11 to $11.50; No. 2 mackerel at $12.50 per bbl, lake trout at $4 per keg; Red sea trout at $9 per bbl. Finnan haddies are very plentiful, and move slow at 6c. per lb.; bloaters at 90c. to $1 per box, and smoked herrings at 10c. per box.

GREEN FRUIT.

APPLES—The market continues firm, and choice stock is rather higher. We quote: $3 to $5 per bbl., as to quality.

DRIED APPLES—The stock of these continues light, and values are inclined to be firmer. Round lots have changed hands at 5½c., but jobbers hold firmly for 5¾c.

EVAPORATED APPLES—The market is nearly, if not actually, bare of these. The last lot that we heard of leaving first hands was on the basis of 6¾c., but jobbers' prices are firm at 7½ to 7¾c., as to quality.

ORANGES—There is no change in oranges. We quote: Valencias, $4 to $5; Floridas, $3.25 to $4.50, and Californias, $3.25 to $4.

LEMONS—Lemons continue quiet and steady at $2.50 to $3.10.

GRAPES—There are very few of these left here, and they are held firm at $6 to $7 per bbl.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

EGGS—Demand for eggs is good and the market rules firm at 20 to 22c. for Montreal limed stock.

HONEY—Dull and unchanged at 4½ to 5½c. for old extracted; 7 to 9c. for new, and 10 to 13c. for comb stock.

MAPLE PRODUCTS—Some small receipts of last season's made over syrup are offering at 65 to 70c., and sugar at 6 to 6½c. per lb.

BEANS—This market is firm at $1.40 to $1.45 for choice hand-picked, and $1.15 to $1.25 for fair to medium.

HOPS—Dull and lower at 4 to 7c., as to quality.

POTATOES—Good demand and steady at 65c. in a jobbing way.

ONIONS—No change in prices, which rule firm at $1.75 to $2 under a fair enquiry.

PROVISIONS.

There is no important change in the provision market. The demand continues limited and business is of a jobbing character. We quote: Canadian short cut, heavy, $14 to $15; hams, city cured, per lb., 9 to 10½c.; lard, Canadian, in pails, 9 to 10c.; bacon, per lb., 9 to 10½c.; lard, common, refined, per lb., 7 to 7½c.

FLOUR AND MEAL.

There is a better demand for flour on local account, and a fair business is transacted at steady prices. We quote: Winter wheat, $3.60 to $3.75; spring wheat, patents, $3.75 to $3.90; straight roller, $2.85 to $3; extra, $2.65 to $2.70; superfine, $2.50 to $2.60; Manitoba strong bakers', $3.75.

The demand for feed continues good and the market is active and firm. We quote: Bran, $18; shorts, $19; mouillie, $23 to $24.

The market for oatmeal continues quiet, but values are very firm and tending up in sympathy with oats. We quote: Standard, bbls., $3.80 to $3.90; granulated, bbls., $3.90 to $4; rolled oats, bbls., $4 to $4.05.

BUTTER.

The butter market is steady for late fresh made stock of any description. Offerings of winter made creamery are light, and 21c. is readily obtainable for some lots; indeed, more was made in one or two instances, while sellers of western roll stock asked more money, their idea being 14 to 15c. Professor Robertson was in town on Monday, and was only able to obtain one lot of winter made creamery besides what came from the Government stations. This butter goes forward this week, via the American seaboard. The Professor placed 4 or 5 lots locally at 21½c. The quality of these latter was all right, but the packages were not of a uniform size.

CHEESE.

The cheese market has improved since our last report, the low prices at last inducing demand, and a good business has been done, while prices are better than a week ago by ¼c. A noteworthy fact that the demand has developed is the scarcity of summer goods. The cable is steady and we quote 9¼ to 9¾c. for summer goods and fall makes 9¾ to 10c. A dealer west of Toronto, who should be well informed, says that the stock in the country west of that point is 35,000 boxes, while that in Montreal is placed at less than 50,000 boxes. The shipments to date since the close of navigation are 220,181 boxes, the figures last week being 9,159 boxes.

ASHES.

The ashes market is quiet and unchanged. We quote: First pots, $4.05 to $4.10; seconds, $3.70 to $3.75, and pearls, $6.40 per 100 lbs.

MONTREAL TRADE NOTES.

Mr. Rose, of Rose & Laflamme, is at present making a tour of the Ottawa valley.

Advices from the Pacific coast on California raisins are rather easier in tone, and there have been offers of fruit costing less laid down.

Laporte, Martin & Co. note a fairly satisfactory Lenten demand for fish. Their stock of fish and fish delicacies is an exceedingly full one.

Jobbers here are commencing to feel around regarding spring supplies of canned salmon and lobsters, and some good orders have been booked, but the terms are p.t.

Advices from Barbadoes this week state that there will be a shortage of from 45 to 50 per cent. in the new crop of molasses this year, as the season is a very backward one.

A. P. Tippet, of A. P. Tippet & Co., who has just returned from England, says that the Lazenbys are offering the trade this season a very handsome bottle of pickles with patent lever stopper.

Geo. Childs & Co. received, recently, a large consignment of new season's "Silver Pan" marmalade. The demand for this article is good at present, several orders from the west being noted.

J. J. Vipond & Co. have just disposed of their second car of "Ostrich" brand prunes, and advise that their customers say that the "Ostrich" is the best mark of Bosnia prunes on the market this season.

Advices from Denia to Gillespie & Co., of St. Sacramento street, state that there are practically no more raisins to come forward now, and that people here will have to depend on England, and what is already on this continent.

The Lake of the Woods Milling Co. had a large shipment of 3,000 bags Manitoba flour on the ss. Venetian, which went to pieces just out of Boston harbor. The order was promptly repeated as soon as the wreck of the ship was known to the buyers.

The following are receiving consignments "Ostrich" prunes, ex ss. Alsatia this week: Birks, Corner & Co., J. R. Clogg & Co., Bowes & McWilliams, Jos. Brown. Rose & Laflamme are Canadian agents for this brand.

OFFICE OF THE CANADIAN GROCER,

ST. JOHN, N.B., March 7, 1895.

REPORTS from the grocery trade for the past month are favorable. One firm reports over 20 per cent. more business than February last year. There is, however, taking business in general, a rather dull feeling; and a number of failures are reported in the city, though not among grocery houses. The outlook for lumber and vessel business is not as bright as many had hoped, and these are things which are very widely felt here. There is much firmer feeling in pepper. In tea and coffee there is no change in prices. This month should show a much larger movement in business than any since the new year.

SALT—Demand continues fair, with light stocks, and full prices are asked. The fact that there is a cargo expected prevents an advance. Fine in cartoons is largely taking the place of the imported. The brand under which the locally packed is sold is "Crescent." It is neatly and strongly put up. There are no changes in prices. We quote: Coarse, 58 to 60c.; fine, factory filled, $1; Canadian bbls., 5 lb. bags, $3 to $3.25; 10 lb. bags, $2.85 to $3; wood boxes, 20 lbs. each, 20c.; 10 lbs. each, 12c.; cartoons, $2 per doz.

CANNED GOODS—Demand is better than at any time since the first of the year. In vegetables prices are rather higher. Retailers' stocks appear low. In fruit there is a feeling that for A1 goods there is no need to go to California. There is no doubt some of the Canadian packers have a reputation in this city of which they may well be proud. In finnan haddies, clams, and sardines the market is active. In salmon, though prices are firm, higher figures are not looked for. Beef is firm at the advance. We quote: Corn, $1; peas, 95c.; tomatoes, $1.05; new gallon apples, $2.40; corned beef, 2 lb. tins, $2.75 to $2.85; 1-lb. tins, $1.65 to $1.70; oysters, 2's, $2.15 to $2.20; 1's, $1.55 to $1.60; peaches, 3's, $2.65 to $2.75; 2's, $1.90 to $2; salmon, $1.35 to $1.40; lobsters, $1.75 to $2; haddies, $1.40; clams, 4 doz. in case, $5.50; chowder, 2 doz. in case, $3.50; scallops, 4 doz. in case, $5.50.

DRIED FRUIT—Demand in all lines, except it be Nova Scotia dried apples, is light. In Nova Scotia dried there is quite a little movement at a fair price for export, which has continued for some weeks. Some California figs, almonds and walnuts have been offered in this market. The nuts showed good quality, but were too high in price. The figs are low priced, and good quality of the kind, and a small trade might be done. Demand for currants and raisins continues light. In evaporated apples stocks are fairly large, and in some cases were bought at low prices, so that at the present time these goods can be bought out of store here as low, and sometimes even lower, than they can be brought here. This does not show a satisfactory market. We quote: Sultana raisins, 6 to 6½c.; Valencia, 4¼ to 4½c.; layers, 5 to 5½c.; London layers, $2.25; loose muscatels, California, 6 to 6½c.; currants, bbls., 3¼ to 4c.; half cases, 4¼ to 4½c.; evaporated apples, 7½ to 7¾c.; dried, 5¼ to 5½c.; dates, 4¼ to 4½c.; prunes, 5 to 5½c.; figs, 11 to 18c.

GREEN FRUIT—The mild weather during the past week has aided in making this line more active. Florida oranges, on account of the high price, are about out of the market. Messinas and blood oranges are quoted. Valencias are firmer. Bananas are coming forward in better shape, but in very limited quantity. The last West India steamer had a few Bermuda onions, which sold at $2.50 per crate, and a few tomatoes, which were sound, sold for $1 per box. There will likely be large quantities on the next steamer. Apples are slow. We quote: Florida oranges, $5 to $5.50; Messina, $3 to $3.25; blood, half-box, $2.75; Valencias, $4.50 to $4.75; lemons, $3.50 to $4.25; Malaga grapes, $6.50 to $7; pineapples, 20 to 22c. each; apples, $1.50 to $2.50.

DAIRY PRODUCE—Eggs slow, rather better prices, and stocks are light. Demand continues limited. Buyers are particular regarding quality, being still afraid of old eggs. In butter there is nothing new. Business is dull, large rolls being particularly inactive. Prices, however, are no lower. The same might be said of cheese. The demand is reported light. The cheese made in this province last year is in almost every case giving splendid satisfaction, and it is believed here no better cheese is made in Canada. We quote: Eggs, 18 to 20c.; butter, dairy, 16 to 18c.; creamery, 19 to 20c.; cheese, 10 to 10½c.

MOLASSES—The demand from the jobbing trade is lighter owing to the nearness of the new crop, some new Demerara being already here, as noted last week. Since then new Porto Rico and St. Kitts are reported in Halifax. It is not expected, however, that there will be any Barbadoes, which is the principal molasses sold here, before April. We quote: Barbadoes, 32 to 33c.; Porto Rico, 31 to 32c.; Antigua, 29 to 30c.; syrup, 33 to 35c.

SUGAR—The past week has been rather quiet. Stocks here are fairly large. In yellows, feeling is easy. In granulated, there is nothing new, except that a second grade has been offered at ¼c. under the price of standard. Prices from the jobbers to the retailers have been cut close. We quote: Granulated, standard, 3¾ to 3⅞c.; second grade, 3¾ to 3⅞c.; German, 3½ to 3⅝c.; yellows, 2¾ to 3⅞c.; powdered, 5 to 5¼c.; Paris lump, 5 to 5¼c.

FISH—The past has been a rather active week. In dry, stocks are light, except lake, and prices firm. Arrivals are such that there is no change. In lake, some appear to have large stocks, and the outlook is not too bright, as the West India market, where the bulk of these goods are marketed, is dull. In frozen, there are no herring and little demand. In codfish and pollock there is a fair movement. The stock of the latter is not large. Pickled are in good demand, but prices are unchanged. There are a few nice mackerel in barrels to be had. Smoked herring are rather firmer. We quote: Cod, dry, $4 to $4.25; medium, $4 to $4.10; small, $3.35 to $3.50; pollock, $1.75; shad, half-bbls., $5 to $5.50; bay herring, $1.50 to $1.60; Shelburne, No. 1, bbls., $4 to $4.25; half-bbls., $2.40 to $2.50; Canso, $5 to $5.25; smoked, 7 to 8c.; mackerel, bbl., $15 to $15.50; frozen codfish, 2 to 2¼c.; pollock, 1¾ to 2c., herring, 70 to 75c.

PROVISIONS—Demand, except for smoked meat, is light, and even smoked meats are not very active. Lard shows no change, but is easy. Cottolene is now sold here in 1 lb. tins, and is having a good sale. We quote: Clear pork, $17.50 to $18; mess, $15 to $15.50; prime, $12.50 to $13; plate beef, $12.75 to $13.25; prime lard, 9 to 10c.; compound, 8 to 9c.; cottolene, 9¼ to 9¾c.; 1 lb. tins, 10¼c.; hams, 10 to 12c.; rolls, 9½ to 10c.

FLOUR, FEED AND MEAL.

Flour market continues firm, with light demand. There is no change here, but west there is higher tendency. Oats are higher. Oatmeal continues to be sold in this market below its value. Beans are firm. Feed is scarce and high, but at this season there is a small demand. It is now reported that millers are mixing wheat with their oatmeal, and there is even an echo of short weight. Hay is dull and low, being quoted below last week. We quote: Manitoba, $4.30 to $4.40; best Ontario, $3.50 to $3.60; medium, $3.25 to $3.50; oatmeal, $4.00 to $4.10; cornmeal, $2.75 to $2.80; middlings, on track, $22 to $23; bran, $21 to $22; oats, local, 39 to 40c.; Ontario, 44 to 45c., on track; beans, $1.55 to $1.65; split peas, $3.85 to $4; round, $3.75 to $3.90; hay, on track, $9 to $9.50; seed timothy, American, $3.10 to $3.25; alsike clover, 13½ to 15c.; red clover, 11½ to 12c.

Extravagant Economy

There's such a thing as paying too little for an article. Paying so little that it can't be good. Saving on the price at the cost of the quality. That is extravagant economy.

But don't go to the other extreme. Sometimes prices are too high. The safe way is to go by our list. There is nothing in our stock not thoroughly good. Nothing that has one cent on the price that does not belong there.

FISH BALL SOCIAL.

A pancake and fish ball social, under the auspices of the W. C. T. U. was held in London, on Friday night, at which fish balls made from Beardsley's

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mr. Stevens, traveler for the Berlin Brush Co., had a successful trip to see the large wholesale houses in Montreal and Quebec.

After being confined to his home for three months with an attack of la grippe, Mr. Wm. Colville, traveler for the Toronto Soap Co., was last week able to resume his regular visits to his customers.

R. Barker, representing the Richards' Pure Soap, is on a business trip to the coast. He was one of the passengers on the train that was scooped up by a snow slide on the C. P. R. at Bear Creek, but fortunately escaped injury.

Mr. Wilcox, of Wilcox & Ramsay, general merchants, Virden, Man., was in Toronto last week. "Business," said Mr. Wilcox, "is quiet, but prospects are improving. We did not do much credit last year, but the trouble is a good many merchants are still carrying accounts of 1893."

S. J. Young, of Dungannon, is much pleased with his first year's experience in the grocery trade, and by close application has succeeded in working up a very successful trade. "He attributes his success in his black tea trade to the satisfaction Dalu Kola Congou has given his customers," said a representative of W. H. Gillard & Co., Hamilton.

George G. Gladman is opening a general store in Parry Sound about April 1. He has erected a fine new building just across from the Parry Sound Lumber Co.'s offices on Seguin street. R. J. Lee, for many years manager of the latter company's store, becomes manager of the new store. They spent about two weeks in Toronto to place orders in groceries, dry goods, millinery and hardware. They will also have a dressmaking department.

THE FOURTH IN MONTREAL.

The fourth of March and the fourth of February are important days with the wholesale jobbing trade, for if the paper falling due on that day be well provided for, it is a reliable indication that business conditions are on a sound basis. The result of interviews with leading bankers and merchants in Montreal goes to show that the situation is a fairly encouraging one. The Bank of Montreal officials state that payments are quite as good as expected, and that they do not expect any serious failures. The Merchants' Bank say that payments are satisfactory, and that their customers are having less difficulty with their collections than they anticipated. Quebec, in their opinion, was the province best situated financially. The Molsons Bank remarked that the day had been a heavy one, but they had not heard of any trouble. It was a big day with the Bank of Commerce also, and they expressed surprise that there had been so few renewals. They considered the outlook hopeful, for everyone had been warned in time and a policy of caution was generally maintained. In a word, payments with them had been quite as good as last year. The Ville Marie Bank had to report that paper had been very well looked after. At the Jacques Cartier Bank matters were equally satisfactory. Some three hundred notes fell due, and only fifty required renewals. At some of the leading wholesale houses much the same story was told.

WINTER CREAMERY SCARCE.

Owing to the action of the Dominion Dairy Commissioner guaranteeing 20c. a pound for all winter creamery butter, the supply of winter creamery in the Toronto market is light, and consequently prices are firmer. Early summer butter and fall dairies are neglected, and therefore the stocks of these lines are fast accumulating. The whole trade seems to be now confined to winter creamery and large rolls.

CANADA'S BANKING SYSTEM.

Matthew Marshall, The New York Sun's expert in finance, says in an article on banking in Canada:

The Banking Act of the Dominion, passed in 1890, under which all the Canada banks are now doing business, permits no bank to be formed with a capital of less than $500,000, of which $250,000 must be paid in, and the capital of no bank can be reduced to less than $250,000. In order, therefore, to accommodate localities which could not support banks with so large capitals as $250,000, the banks in the principal cities of the Dominion, such as Toronto, Montreal and Quebec, with capitals of $1,000,000 and more, have established in various places a number of little branches which do their work quite as well as independent institutions would, and are, besides, supported and protected by the strong parent banks, of which they are the agents. In this way it has come about that Canada, with a population of 5,000,000, has but 39 banks, or less than one to every 125,000 inhabitants, while the United States with a population of 65,000,000, has over 8,000 banks, or one to about every 8,000 inhabitants. Of the Canada banks, however, 16 have in the aggregate 337 branches, and of the remainder 22 have 123 branches, making the total number of banking offices in the Dominion 499, or one to every 10,000 inhabitants. While, too, the total capital and surplus of our 8,000 banks is $1,700,000,000, or an average of a little over $200,000 each, the 39 Canada banks have an aggregate capital and surplus of nearly $90,000,000 or an average of over $2,250,000 each.

REPORT OF THE CANADIAN FISHERY COMMISSIONERS

(MR. W. G. GUNN, WALKERTON, ONT., AND M. G. MCLEOD, NEWHAVEN)

Through a letter of introduction procured for us by the High Commissioner in London, we were courteously shown thro' Messrs. MACONOCHIE BROTHERS' CANNERY, IN SCOTLAND, where some 400 hands are employed. This establishment uses up an immense quantity of Herrings, all of the very best quality. The greatest care is exercised in the selection of these fish; they are put up in 1-lb. tins; Herrings put up this way are very delicious, many people preferring them to canned salmon. The girls who clean these Herrings and put them up do their work very rapidly. The Herrings canned at this establishment are sold in Great Britain, exported to the East Indies, Australia, and the Cape. After we had gone over the establishment in question, we were treated to the contents of a can of Herrings, and can truly testify that we never before tasted anything in the Herring line so delicious and fine flavored.

THE WATTERS SENTENCE.

THERE is altogether too much maudlin sympathy in this day and generation. It particularly exhibits itself when the arm of justice is bared to administer punishment to evil doers who have hitherto been shining lights in society.

Its voice is seldom heard when the culprit is low down in the social scale or is the victim of adverse circumstances.

Last week Thomas J. Watters, Acting Commissioner of Customs, was, it will be remembered, sentenced to one year's imprisonment for appropriating public money.

This so ruffles the soul of a Montrealer that he forthwith jumps into print over what he terms the "severe sentence."

Here are a few extracts from his epistle that appeared in The Montreal Star:

No right-thinking man can for one instant believe that Mr. Watters had any desire or intention to defraud the Government of one single cent. * * * Everyone knows that the few paltry hundred dollars could have been replaced by Mr. Watters at a minute's notice had his attention been drawn to the fact, but * * * he was ignominiously arrested only to satisfy the malice of his enemies. The affair is without precedent for brutality. * * * Mr. Watters is himself the soul of honor.

The sentence of one year no doubt surprised a good many. Not that it was severe, but people were surprised that the influence of friends had not prevailed to obtain a nominal sentence, as has been the case too often of late with men of Mr. Watters' stamp. It is the "right-thinking" men who must concede that the Government did right. The Government has no more right to compound a felony than has a private individual.

As far as Mr. Watters' desire and ability to replace "the few paltry hundred dollars" is concerned, every criminal whose misdeeds are too apparent to make escape possible is willing to do the same. But while restitution may and should temper justice, yet it cannot satisfy it. Even the poor soul who surreptitiously takes a loaf of bread to satisfy hunger is seldom allowed to go free. How then should a man like Mr. Watters be allowed to go unpunished?

In the one instance the stealing was done to appease hunger; in the other it was done to keep going a man who was living above his means.

The position Mr. Watters is in to-day is of his own making. He was the recipient of a good salary, but it was not good enough to keep him in the sphere of life in which he was moving; and the reason he is in a prison cell to-day is because he appropriated public money to keep him where he had no right to be under the circumstances. Mr. Watters' friends should remember this.

If Mr. Watters should be allowed to go free so should every clerk or bookkeeper who "borrows" from his employer's till sums of money to meet liabilities bred of fast living or gambling.

COMMERCIAL TRAVELERS.

A general meeting of the Commercial Travelers' Association of Canada was held on Saturday night at its quarters on Yonge street, Toronto. Mr. C. C. Van Norman, ex-president of the association, and for fourteen years a member of its board, was presented with an oil portrait of himself by Mr. J. L. Forster. This will hang with other portraits of ex-presidents at the association's rooms. Mr. Van Norman was also presented with a very beautiful cabinet of table silverware of 168 pieces. Several prominent members delivered short addresses, and Mr. Van Norman made a reply. Membership and funds have both increased, and the affairs of the association are in a very satisfactory condition.

THE EGG FAMINE.

The egg famine continues. Mr. Alex. Gunn, of D. Gunn, Flavell & Co., Toronto, remarked to THE CANADIAN GROCER that never since his house commenced business had the market been so bare of eggs. Owing to the failure of American producing points, United States dealers are buying freely, and the supply is not nearly equal to the demand. Even limed eggs are practically cleared out, and any kind of an egg brings a good price.

LONDON GROCERS' ASSOCIATION.

LONDON Retail Grocers' Association held their regular meeting on March 5, W. H. Ferguson in the chair.

The president, W. H. Ferguson, reported on behalf of the Committee re Pedlars' Licenses, that although the committee had not succeeded in getting the City Council to make the fee as high as is charged in some other cities, the fee had been raised to some extent, and the city police are to have full charge of enforcing the by-law, each pedlar being required to have a badge or number. The fee to be for two-horse wagon $40, one-horse wagon $30, with the exception of fish and coal oil pedlars, who must pay $10; pushcart or barrow, $25; basket, $10.

It was moved and seconded that the thanks of the association be tendered the committee, and especially the president, for the interest taken in the welfare of the trade, by giving their time and using their influence with the City Council to place the license fee at a figure somewhat nearer in proportion to the taxes paid by resident and permanent business people. The motion carried.

The question of inspection fees for weights and measures was laid over until next meeting.

R. A. Jones stated that as there were a number of departmental and cash stores cropping up in all large cities, London not excepted, the association should consider the advisability of doing away with the credit system and, if possible, agree to sell for cash. He thought it was quite possible for the grocer to adopt a strictly cash business. He would say, give three months notice that on and after that date they would sell for cash. This would give all their customers time to arrange their finances so as to pay cash. It was a well known fact that as business was being run at present many customers are patronizing the cash stores when they have the cash, and when they have not, they go where they can get credit, in many cases leaving old standing accounts unpaid. Goods can be, he contended, sold on less profit for cash, and it is a benefit to the consumer as well as the merchant. He would like to hear the question discussed at the next meeting.

Some of the members thought that if the present system of reporting delinquents was given a little better attention it would work well, and all poor-pay people would be forced to pay cash.

Notice of motion was given that the question of cash business be taken up for discussion at the next meeting.

The president requested R. A. Jones to take the chair. He said that he regretted very much to have to inform the members of this association that he was forced to tender his resignation. He had been over 25 years in business in this city, and had been connected with this association since it was first formed. His fellow grocers had always treated him very kindly. He hoped they would elect a younger and more enthusiastic member for their president, one who would be able to get the members out to the meetings, and get them interested in the trade questions of the day. He also hoped that the association would continue to grow, and that the picnics would be each one better than the last. It pained him to have to sever his connections with the grocers of the city of London, but he would promise them one thing, and that was, he would endeavor to meet them at least once a year at their picnic if it was at all possible for him to get there.

Mr. Jones said he was very sorry indeed that the president was giving up the grocery business and about to leave the city. It was always pleasant to listen to the advice given by him, and he, for one, felt that it would be difficult to fill the office as well as it has been filled by Mr. Ferguson. He had always been amiable, and while the attendance was not at all times as good as it should have been, it was no fault of the president. He hoped it would not be necessary for Mr. Ferguson to resign just yet. Mr. Ferguson replied that he fully expected to be out of business and away from the city before next meeting.

Several members then spoke in feeling terms, expressing their regret that Mr. Ferguson was leaving, and it was finally decided that the meeting adjourn until Wednesday, March 13, at 3 o'clock p.m., and that the secretary notify all members to attend.

E. SUTTON, Secretary.

TRADE WITH SPAIN.

It is altogether likely that the proposed trade conference between England and Spain, in which Canada has a direct interest, will not take place for some time, if at all. The application of the minimum tariff of Spain and its dependencies to Canada was until lately merely temporary. But a careful perusal of the last despatch on the subject shows that the intention of Spain is to continue to Canada the advantage of the minimum tariff without any further treaty arrangements. If any change is to be made, six months' notice will be given, so that is as satisfactory an arrangement as might reasonably have been expected to result from a conference.

DEPARTMENTAL STORES.

SAY, Mr. Editor, I've been kicking lately about departmental stores and their baneful effect upon us retail grocers, and I took it upon myself to offer a suggestion tending to mitigate the evil, namely, to start a large co-operative grocery store on the corner of Queen and Yonge streets, sell groceries at a profit for cash and sacrifice dry goods, etc., or give them away. When I wrote my letter one of the largest and (confidentially) the most injurious store, as far as our business was concerned, was doing an enormous trade on that corner; but what our Retail Grocers' Association, our aldermen, or our legislators cannot do, Providence (that is, our Providence) has done for us: The great store is gone, and another disturbing element in our civic politics is out of the way.

Of course we grocers are satisfied now, and those of us who are truly good church members will sing the "Old Hundred," go across the way and offer thanks for the just dispensation meted out. Oh, Mr. Editor, we are all of us truly a selfish lot. We think only of ourselves, our own aims, desires and ends, and in the destruction of Simpson's grand building we see only the pharasaical side of our nature peeping out. The more humane, charitable feelings taught and exemplified by the "humble Nazarene" nineteen hundred years ago, are dead.

We do not think of the personal loss to the proprietor; the feelings of pain and regret that must be his lot; the thought that the work of a lifetime, the pride of his later years, is crushed and wiped out in a night by fire. We do not think of the losses sustained by the hundreds of families who are dependent upon their daily bread earned in this departmental store. No, "thank goodness, one more out of the way"; that's what we will say when we meet and condole (?).

But while we are the gainers, for a time at least, some of our wholesale friends will sadly miss the trade of the big palace. I was told by a fellow grocer who ought to know that one traveler fairly haunted the place for orders, and his house will do about $25,000 a year less city trade as a result of the fire. Pretty hard lines, but we smaller fry will sell more goods.

I say, wouldn't it be a good idea for our Association, at its next meeting, to take steps to secure the vacant corner for a large grocery store on the lines proposed by me last week, and so keep this disturbing element out of our way.

By the way, ain't there too many of us in business, anyway? Everybody can be a grocer with $300 cash, a little assurance, and a gullible wholesale house to give him a line of credit. There are too many of us, and we know it, but we've all got a right to try and make a living, and we're making a living—or a grave.

ALDERMAN DAVIES' SCHEME.

A number of the anti-departmental store agitators of Toronto met in the Horticultural Pavilion last Friday evening with a view to taking action against those large concerns. Most of those present were small retail men, and Ald. Davies, leader of the movement, presided. The speakers of the evening were frequently jeered and interrupted, and not much was accomplished. Finally the following resolution was carried:

"Whereas, during the last few years there have been established in this city stores (commonly called departmental stores) carrying on different branches of retail trade under the same roof and in the name of the same proprietor; and whereas, the operation of such stores is proving prejudicial to the interests of this city, and driving out of business many of our best citizens, and causing an increasing number of empty stores and dwellings throughout the city, and the consequent depreciation of the taxable value of such stores; therefore, be it resolved, that a deputation wait upon the City Council at the next meeting on Monday, and upon the Provincial Legislature on Wednesday next at 4 p.m., and urge upon the said Council and Legislature the necessity of making the necessary amendments to the Assessment Act, so that each department or branch of retail trade carried on in such departmental store may be taxed as a separate store, or otherwise, so that the evil complained of may be remedied."

On Monday night a deputation waited upon the City Council with this resolution, and it was decided to hold a special meeting of the city fathers later on to discuss the question.

On Wednesday a similar delegation waited upon the Ontario Government and placed their views before the Cabinet.

A LABOR SAVER.

One of the most necessary adjuncts to successful butter-making is a simple, easy working and effective churn. Many have been the inventions to lessen the labor of the operator in this department of the dairy. But one of the most effective churns that has come under our notice is the "Cradle" churn, which combines all the good qualities of the barrel and other revolving churns, yet possessing special advantages in itself.

The shape of the churn is such that when rocked back and forth the cream describes a complete figure eight, thus becoming more thoroughly mixed than in any other process. The "Cradle" churn has a loose cover which allows a most complete circulation of air in the cream while churning—a feature greatly recommended by dairymen. The peculiar construction of the churn puts the matter of leakage beyond a possibility, the bottoms and ends being one continuous piece bent to the shape of the body. The "Cradle" churn is guaranteed by the manufacturers to make the best granulated butter in as short a time as, and with much less labor than, any other churn in the market. It was awarded 1st prize at the Toronto Industrial Exhibition, 1894, over all competitors.

By writing Messrs. Chas. Boeckh & Sons, wholesale agents, 80 York street, Toronto, full particulars may be obtained.

DROPS FROM THE EDITOR'S PEN.

While it does not pay a merchant to go into politics, it pays him to be politic.

* * *

The sons of men who have made much gold are often found taking the gold cure.

* * *

A paradox: When snow arrives business comes, but when snow goes business comes.

* * *

Seldom profitable are politics, but many Canadian merchants are just now neglecting business to engage in them.

* * *

Toronto fire bugs seem to prefer to ply their avocation on Sunday. This does not speak well for their moral condition.

* * *

With prices still depreciating and strikes materializing, the lot of the business men in the United States is anything but a happy one.

* * *

If the United States Congress cannot keep an obligation it can break one, which shows that it has force of character enough to do something.

* * *

Ald. Lamb, of Toronto, has evidently come to the conclusion, in his efforts to close the saloons earlier, that it is not lambs that are arrayed against him.

* * *

It has been intimated that the World's Fair medals will be something superior. They should be if length of time in preparing them counts for anything.

* * *

The man who signs a chattel mortgage to get out of a hole often finds that he has got into a hole with the top covered by the very instrument he had relied upon to help him out.

* * *

A movement is again on foot in Winnipeg to improve Red River navigation. It is proposed that Winnipeg shall contribute $100,000 and the Provincial Government another like sum. It is to be hoped the project will bear fruit.

* * *

A member of the Nova Scotia Legislature said the other day that groceries were furnished the public institutions "at very reasonable rates." He would be a rare specimen indeed of the genus grocer who could in these days get unreasonable rates.

* * *

The relaxation by the United States of its embargo on Canadian cattle, so as to allow them to pass in transit from Island Pond to Portland will also open the way to more amicable relations between the two countries. Like begets like.

* * *

The United States had a long war between the North and South for its national life, now a war which also promises to be long-waged, is on between monometalists, bi-metalists and free silver men for the establishment of the country's currency basis.

* * *

Jamaica has keenly felt the depression in sugar, and now the cultivation of oranges and other fruits is urged by the Government of the island. The sugar grower of Jamaica is evidently in much the same position as the wheat grower in Canada—he has to devalue his products.

* * *

An insolvent retail grocer in Leicester, England, told his creditors that "he did not at present see any prospect of paying a dividend, but if he could get on in life he hoped to do so." Poor consolation for the creditors, particularly as the insolvent has already lost a £10,000 fortune.

* * *

The Japanese are engaged in the task of trying to capture Russia, not with powder and shot, but with tea. The initial bombardment is being carried on with one hundred and fifteen cases. It remains to be seen whether Japan will drive China's teas out of Russia as she has driven China's forces out of Korea.

* * *

If electricity is the substance of things that cannot be seen it can be felt. Hence Controller of Customs Wallace decrees that it is subject to a duty of 20 per cent. when generated in a foreign country. As to whether consumers will feel this or not politicians are left to decide, but there is no question about the result to the Customs officer who may attempt to seize the current for under-valuation.

* * *

Still another project is on foot in Toronto to build a big hotel. It is proposed to erect it at north-east corner of Wellington and York streets. It will have a frontage of 140 feet on the latter and 180 on the former street, will be seven storeys high, and the estimated cost is $500,000. The fact that Mr. S. F. McKinnon is its project or promises well for the consummation of the idea. The "Queen City" can boast of its magnificent churches and public institutions, but she is a back number in respect to quality of hotels. It is to be hoped Mr. McKinnon's project will be carried out.

* * *

Although the House of Representatives passed a bill taking off the discriminating duty of 1-10c per pound against German sugar it cannot become law till December next, if it does then, Congress having adjourned without the Senate having taken any action in the matter. In the meantime, Germany is proposing to increase the bounty on sugar, which of course will tend to lessen the disposition of the next Congress to remove the discriminating duty, although it remains to be seen whether Germany's retaliation on meats and other products of the United States will have a stronger influence the other way.

MUNICIPAL FIRE INSURANCE.

THREE DIFFERENT OPINIONS ON THE QUESTION.

MUCH has been said and written about the scheme to establish a Municipal Fire Insurance bureau in Toronto, and now a draft bill embodying the idea is before the Ontario Legislature. A representative of THE CANADIAN GROCER has waited upon Ald. Lamb, the originator of the measure, and obtained from him an explanation of its provisions.

The bill is called the Municipal Fire Insurance Act, and provides that the Municipal Council of every county, city or town desirous of adopting the provisions of the Act may submit a by-law to the electors qualified to vote on money by-laws. The said bureau shall consist of three members, to be called Fire Insurance Commissioners, two to be appointed by the Municipal Council, and the third by the Local Board of Trade. One of these shall retire annually. The commissioners shall deposit $10,000 each, and shall receive salaries of between $3,000 and $5,000. All buildings within the municipality shall be insured in the bureau to the extent of two-thirds of their assessed value, but the commissioners may refuse to take a risk on a particularly hazardous structure. The commissioners shall fix the premiums on the properties, which said premiums shall be collected in the same manner as an ordinary assessment tax.

Ald. Lamb expresses himself as very hopeful of the final passage of the bill. He says that the three recent big fires, with which Toronto has been visited, may delay the scheme somewhat, but that the municipal insurance agitation is here to stay and that the bureau must finally become a matter of fact. He thinks, however, that had the bureau been in vogue in Toronto during the last ten years, the city would not have lost heavily, even taking into consideration the trio of disasters which have marked the present winter. The revenue would have more than covered all the losses. He argues, moreover, that under such a system the fire brigade and service would be perfected and the fires would be reduced to a minimum.

Mr. Stapleton Ca'decott, president of the Toronto Board of Trade, when asked his opinion of the municipal bureau idea remarked that he had not given Ald. Lamb's particular scheme much attention, but that personally he was inclined to think it not sufficiently comprehensive. He did not favor the municipal insurance plan, but he would advocate the establishment of a Government bureau. The secret of the success of insurance companies was the fact that their risks were scattered over a large part of the world. But one municipality should not insure its own property, for one great conflagration might ruin it.

Mr. P. H. Sims, vice-president of the Board of Underwriters, has also expressed his views on the question to the writer. He holds that the introduction of Ald. Lamb's scheme would attack and destroy the credit of the city. Such a scheme he says, would be unworkable in a congested district like the city of Toronto. One extensive conflagration might ruin the corporation. For safe insurance it was necessary to scatter the risks held over an extended area.

A second point made by Mr. Sims was that under the Ontario Insurance Act provision was made for citizens, if they so desired, to form themselves into a corporation to effect insurance at a minimum of cost. This Act afforded every facility for citizens to insure themselves outside of the insurance companies, and it would be wrong to pass another law, making it compulsory for them to do what they had not seen fit to do already of their own free will. It would be a manifest injustice to compel every property owner to become a shareholder in the risks of the underwriters.

In conclusion, Mr. Sims stated that municipal insurance would be entirely inadequate to satisfy the requirements of loan companies, and parties loaning money on real estate.

TESTING THE CENSUS.

To ascertain the correctness of deductions that have been made from the census, the Statistical Department has, according to the Ottawa correspondent of The Mail and Empire, carefully gone over all the figures regarding mechanical and manufacturing industries, and grouped them so as to make their meaning clearer. The figures thus checked show that there were in 1891 no less than 75,968 manufacturing establishments, an increase of 26,246 over 1881. That the capital invested was $354,620,750, an increase of $189,663,327 over 1881; that these establishments employ 370,256 persons, or 115,362 more than were employed in 1881; that the wages' bill has during the last decade increased by $41,261,948 per year; the value of raw material used has increased by $76,189,849, and the value of the products has increased by $166,527,019. The largest increase in business has been in establishments producing $50,000 a year in goods and over. Their output, which was $260,795,190 in 1891, was only $153,767,771 in 1881. This is an increase of 69 per cent. in the very largest class of industries. But the development has been all along the line. Industries with an output of less than $2,000 have increased their production by 55 per cent. Those whose output ranges from $2,000 to $12,000 have increased by 43 per cent., those from $12,000 to $25,000 have increased by 29 per cent., and those classified at from $25,000 to $50,000 show an increase of 26 per cent.

MONTREAL GROCERS.

THE Montreal Retail Grocers' Association held its regular monthly meeting on Wednesday evening. M. J. Johnson, president, was in the chair. The first business of the evening was the discussion of the proposition of the American Food Exhibition Co. to hold an exhibition in April under the patronage of the association.

Mr. de Kermo, who represented the company, explained that since the introduction of the telephone and order book, the ladies have ceased to visit the groceries. Hence, novelties in that line do not come to their knowledge without great difficulty. The object of the exposition would be to unite exhibits from some fifty manufacturers of prepared foods and novelties in kitchen utensils. There will be a model kitchen, and the food will be cooked and given away to visitors, who can leave orders which will be filled by the grocers in their neighborhood; cooking lessons, concerts, competitions and every form of entertainment, serve to attract visitors. Part of the proceeds from the door receipts are donated to charitable institutions. The association resolved to give its patronage to the enterprise. The exhibition opens in Windsor Hall, on the 15th of April, and will continue for three or four weeks.

Mr. Monier also had a proposition to hold a similar exposition on the Exhibition Grounds in July next, in connection with the grocers' picnic. Consideration of this was deferred until next meeting.

The association then took up the question of early closing. Mr. Raby contended that the association should remain neutral, as some of the members were opposed to early closing.

Mr. S. Demers said that there were 400 grocers in favor of early closing, against, perhaps, one hundred against it.

After some discussion, Mr. Raby's motion to remain neutral was lost on a division of three to eleven. A motion was then adopted, that the secretary be instructed to write to the City Council, that the association endorses the early closing by-law.

THE PAPER BAG TRADE.

EDITOR CANADIAN GROCER,—We notice in THE CANADIAN GROCER of the 8th inst., under the heading of "Cutting in Paper Bags," your statement that it is reported that we have joined hands with the Lincoln Paper Co., and are working in unison. Will you kindly correct this by saying that we are in no way associated with the Lincoln Paper Co., nor have we any agreement in regard to prices. By inserting the above you will much oblige, KILGOUR BROS.

LOUISIANA SUGAR CROP.

Referring further to prospects for next yield of domestic sugar, The Sugar Planters' Journal, of New Orleans, says: No doubt the fall plant cane, which was cut down by the hard freeze, will soon come up again, but the fate of the stubble will scarcely be known for six weeks or two months yet. The ground froze to the depth of two to four inches, and of course all top eyes of the stubble have been killed. If the acidity should descend much it will cause a poor stand. If we should have a wet spring (probable because the winter was dry) the stubble may partially rot in the ground; hence the chances are that, unlike the past two years, this will be a poor stubble season. . . . The cane acreage this year will certainly be much less than last year, not only in consequence of probable defective seed and stubble, but because many ground up seed which they would have kept under a more favorable outlook, and because many small growers have almost entirely abandoned cane for rice, which, at present seems to have a better promise. Many will only cultivate stubble crops, and, unless prospects are brighter another year, such will drop cane altogether.

IN DIFFICULTIES.

W. T. Wickham & Co., Brantford, Ont., are in financial trouble. On Tuesday a representative of the house called a meeting of their Toronto creditors at Davidson & Hay's warerooms, and offered them 40c. on the dollar. This was finally agreed to, and the firm will continue in business if the Montreal creditors consent to a like offer.

W. T. Wickham & Co. started business in 1890, and up till the present time enjoyed good credit. The liabilities are over $40,000, and assets $20,000 to $22,000. Among the Toronto creditors are: Davidson & Hay, Perkins, Ince & Co., Sloan & Crowther, and Pugsley & Dingman.

TOBACCO GROWING IN B.C.

Information has been received by the Department of the Interior regarding a very successful experiment in growing tobacco in British Columbia, which may lead to important results. Last year 800 pounds of leaf were taken from half an acre of ground, and a San Francisco expert, to whom a sample was submitted, pronounced it first-class. This has had the effect of greatly increasing the interest in tobacco-growing in the Yale district. The local manufacturers are all agreed in the opinion that the soil of the province is especially well adapted for raising tobacco for cigar manufacture. According to present reports, as soon as the British Columbia farmers get to understand the curing of the leaf they will have at their command a new and important source of revenue.

INCREASE IN EXPORTS.

A Buffalo despatch says: An increase of nearly $9,000 is shown in the receipts from duties at the Buffalo Customs House for last February over the corresponding month last year. The gross receipts derived from this source are $32,109.76, while in 1894 they amounted to only $24,940.68. The enormous increase of importations due to the new tariff law is responsible for the marked difference in the receipts. During January, '95, the receipts were $20,000 in excess of January, '94. The increase in importations must have been enormous. This is noticeable particularly with Canadian barley, cattle, horses and farm products. Nearly double the quantity of these articles is now being imported.

A GRIEVANCE OF BROKERS.

TIME is money. There are some who, while they recognize and practise this axiom in their own business, fail to do so when they are making demands upon the time of others with whom they have to deal.

Among the sinners in this respect are some of the wholesale men along the street.

This charge cannot be laid against the whole of them. No, nor against the majority of them; but it can [against some of them.

The victims are not those to whom they sell. There is probably not one wholesale grocery house on the street that is derelict in this respect.

A customer has only to show his nose inside the door and there is someone instantly at his side graciously asking his wants.

Their particular victims are those from whom they buy—the brokers.

To wait around for a wholesaler's convenience is one of the penalties a man has to pay for being a broker, but there is no necessity for his being kept on the tenter hooks as long as some see fit to keep him.

To waste a man's time is as bad as wasting his money; in fact, it is wasting his money. Yet there are wholesalers who keep brokers dancing attendance upon them hour after hour and day after day. This ought not to be.

The least a wholesaler can do is to treat the time of the broker or salesman with as much consideration as he expects the retailer shall that of his travelers who call upon him.

A prompt answer as to whether or not a certain line offered will be accepted is not always possible. All that is demanded is that it should be as prompt as possible. Nothing more can be expected of any man.

There are some wholesalers who are all that can be desired in this respect, and what some can do all can do if they so choose.

THE VANISHING LOBSTER.

THERE is at least one staple commodity whose price is not bringing it "within the reach of all."

That commodity is the delicious canned lobster.

Its price is taking it away from, rather than toward, the masses.

There was a time when the price of lobster made it a common article of food for the workingman. A can of it, with other accessories, often made up his lunch.

Now, canned lobster is rapidly becoming both dearer and a luxury. Consequently its consumption is falling off.

A few years ago a good-sized wholesale house would think nothing of buying 500 to 1,000 cases. Now it is asserted that all the houses on the street together do not take much more than that quantity in a season.

With the falling off in quantity has also come a deterioration of quality.

In the years gone by one lobster would fill a can.

Now, in spite of the Government regulations, which decree that lobsters below a certain size shall not be caught, small lobsters find their way into the canneries. And where one used to be in a can, there is now no telling how many are required for the purpose.

It is evident the Government, in trying to preserve the lobster industry, has got its hands full. But the industry should be preserved.

"IN FULL OF ACCOUNT."

A common practice is it with a good many, when paying an account by cheque, to write on the face of the latter the words, "in full of account."

The object is, of course, to prove, should occasion arise, that the cheque liquidated all liabilities that obtained up to the date of making the cheque.

Those who trust in such evidence are trusting in a broken reed.

The words "in full of account" do not establish any such evidence as makers of cheques intend they shall.

The court clearly set forth this in a recent decision.

The judge declared that there was nothing to prove that the words were not written in after the cheque had been cashed and returned to the original maker.

That this has been done a good many business men are probably already aware. THE CANADIAN GROCER, at all events, knows where it has been done.

SHARP ADVANCE IN PRUNES.

There was an advance of one shilling in Bosnia prunes on Saturday last in Trieste. This makes an aggregate advance of two shillings from the lowest point.

To a shortness of supplies is assigned the advance.

Cable advices received this week from Marseilles indicate that similar conditions obtain in regard to the French article. Strong generally, therefore, may the prune market be said to be.

Bosnia prunes were about four weeks late reaching the Toronto market this season, owing to the steamer bringing its supply being delayed by a series of mishaps. Consequently a month's consumption was lost. The French prune was, however, the gainer thereby, although, of course, the bulk of the demand for prunes does not begin till the spring.

The seasonable demand is setting in with vigor, and trade is now characterized as good. Stocks in Toronto are not heavy.

INTERESTING FIBREWARE CASE.

A CASE of interest, to manufacturers particularly, is pending before the courts at the moment. It is, in its amended form, that of "The Queen vs. Thomas A. Weldon." Originally it was "The Queen vs. E. B. Eddy."

The information in the original case was laid by one Allan Austin, described in the directory as a traveler for Taylor, Scott & Co., and residing at 157 Gerrard street east, Toronto. The charge read: "That he (E. B. Eddy) did unlawfully offer for sale and sell a certain fibre wash basin as a patented article, the same not being patented in Canada, with intent to deceive the public."

Mr. W. R. Riddell, of Beatty, Blackstock, Nesbitt & Chadwick, Toronto, who was retained for the defence, appeared before the public court and put in the patents which were granted by the Dominion of Canada for the machinery and process by which these basins were made.

It was contended on behalf of the prosecutor that the patent of the machinery and the process did not justify stamping the product as patented; but the English and American cases showed conclusively, it was argued by the defence, that a patent covering the machine or process likewise covers the product.

The case against E. B. Eddy was dismissed, but, subsequently, a charge of a similar nature was made against Mr. Weldon, Toronto manager for the E. B. Eddy Co. When this case came before the police magistrate, Mr. Riddell, counsel for the defendant, asked, as it was purely a matter of law, and the Eddy Co. wanted it settled by the High Court, that the matter be referred at once, without taking any evidence, to the Court of Assize opening on April 30. This was done.

The situation is a peculiar one. The machines are patented, and to have placed any of their product on the market without bearing any stamp to indicate such, would have been an infringement of the law, and yet now, because this was done, it is asserted to be illegal.

The result of the case will be watched with a good deal of interest.

THE TEA INSPECTION QUESTION.

It is to be hoped that the Dominion Government will comply, before the next season's teas are bought, with the requests of the grocery trade of the country, and discard the present system of inspecting teas.

It is strange that the analytical test was ever introduced. Precedent was against it, the United States having discarded it several years ago.

But, precedent or no precedent, the few months' experience that the Government has had with the analytical test should clearly prove its inefficiency and anomalous character. It has to the tea trade, anyhow.

In the regulations issued last fall tea is considered adulterated "which contains leaves other than those of the tea plant or previously infused leaves or leaves of inferior quality to such an extent as to reduce the amount of extract or substance soluble in hot water to less than thirty per cent. or cause the proportion of ash soluble in hot water to be less than 2 3/4 per cent."

Under the test now obtaining the lower grades have a better chance to pass inspection than the higher grades. This, in fact, has already been demonstrated, for the higher the grade the lower is often likely to be the proportion of ash.

With such an unreliable system in vogue, it is obvious that wholesalers should be anxious for at least the modification of the present system of inspecting teas.

It is bad enough to buy a pig in a poke, but it is worse to so buy tea.

With the original desire of the Government to keep out spurious teas the trade was in sympathy. In fact, it was from the trade that the Government got its cue to legislate in the premises.

But it was never the intention that the machinery should be of the character it is.

It seems to us that some such regulations as those suggested by the Toronto branch of the Dominion Guild would fully protect the country from the importation of teas injurious to the public health.

Briefly, these suggestions are: (1) That when tea is imported from any other country than that of its growth, it should be allowed entry if provided with certificate of inspection showing it has not been rejected, and that if not accompanied by such certificate it shall be inspected in some such way as the regulations propose; (2) that teas imported from place of growth be sent to the appraisers at the several ports to carefully inspect, and that only in those cases where the teas were of such a low character, or their appearance suggested that there was spurious or exhausted leaf among them, should they be subjected to further scrutiny.

With some such regulations as these, and practical tea men as inspectors, there would be no danger of such spurious teas coming into Canada as there did last year, when teas rejected at New York found a place of refuge in this country.

PROSPECTS ON RAISINS.

THE lower offers of round lots of Valencia raisins in Montreal, referred to by THE CANADIAN GROCER last week, have led to some speculation among the large commission and importing firms in Montreal as to future prospects on this fruit when the demand that usually ensues in the spring makes itself felt.

The essence of the opinions gathered from shrewd and careful operators is that raisins of any kind are fairly good property at present prices, and there is no disposition to urge sale, despite the fact of these lower offers from New York.

Sales agents in Montreal attribute these offers to a few sellers in New York, who are compelled to realize by special circumstances, and anticipate that most of the fruit at that centre will be wanted.

They point to the fact also that advices from across the water are firm, recent ones from Denia stating that there is little or no further stock for importation, while the stocks in England are composed almost wholly of selected fruit and layers.

It will be seen also by advices given in our market reports that Sultanias have made an advance this week of 2s. per cwt. and are firm at it.

The tone of California fruit also, as indicated by advices, is rather better, so that, all in all, holders of raisins look on the future with confidence.

With regard to the supplies in Canada, they are generally set down as moderate, one leading commission firm having fully 4 per cent. less fruit on hand to place this spring than they had last year.

A SLUMP IN EGGS.

A week ago or so Canada faced an egg famine, but now there is plenty in the land. Then the American markets had cleaned the Dominion right out, but the great Canadian hen has stepped into the breach and filled it up. It is fortunate that nearly all the limed eggs held were got rid of during the period of scarcity, for were they on the market now they would bring no price. The egg production during the past few days has been unexpectedly large, and as a consequence at Toronto and Montreal the supply exceeds the demand. From 25c. a week ago they have fallen to 15 and 16c. to-day (Thursday), and will be yet lower within a few days.

THE DECLINE IN SUGAR.

THE announcement of the Montreal Wholesale Guild on Tuesday last that the jobbing price of sugar had been cut 1/8c. has again called attention to the sugar market.

As a matter of fact, the reduced prices were in operation some six days previously, but the Guild only officially acted on Tuesday last in response to the last cut by the refiners. After every recent decline the prediction has been made that bottom has been touched, and the refiners have answered every one of these predictions with a further cut.

It seems unlikely, however, if outside conditions are any criterion, that sugar can go much lower, though, with the recent course of the Montreal market in view, everyone is nervous about giving any views.

However, it may be interesting to note that the jobbing prices declared by the Guild in Montreal on Tuesday last are 1/4c. under what New York refiners are selling to jobbers at to-day, so that the Montreal market is 9-16c., or almost 1/8c., cheaper to buy in than New York. If it goes much lower, therefore, we may expect to see American buyers coming to Montreal for supplies instead of New York.

One thing the decline has done unmistakably, though, and that is to completely dissipate any idea of further importations of German sugar, unless the Germans are willing to sell ridiculously below cost.

CALIFORNIA ORANGES.

There is so much interest in green fruit circles concerning the condition of California oranges in view of the damage to oranges by the blizzard which swept across the Florida peninsula Christmas week, also the damage to the crop in Valencia, Spain, and the subsequent reduction of the crop of oranges in Aderno and Sicily by hail storms that the orange dealers in this city are anxious to obtain some definite information regarding the orange crop and weather in California.

As far as advices go the orange crop on the Pacific coast has not been injured by inclement weather. Word comes, however, that the growers out there mean to take advantage of the scarcity of other oranges, put their prices away up and keep them there.

TORONTO - - ONTARIO

TORONTO GROCERS MEET.

AT THE regular monthly meeting of the Toronto Retail Grocers' Association, held on Monday evening in St. George's Hall, with President F. S. Roberts in the chair, there was a fair attendance. These new members were handed in by Secretary Corrie, and received into the association: B. H. Scott, Queen street west; S. Armstrong, 590 College street; and W. Armstrong, Yonge street.

D. W. Clark, secretary of the At Home Committee, presented a statement showing that the expenditure and receipts on that occasion just about balanced.

Martin McMillan, the retiring treasurer's, report was submitted, showing that the receipts during the year had been as follows: Cash in hand at first of year, $72.64; members' dues, $274; from At Home, $39.85; from excursion to Niagara Falls, $40. The expenses for the year had been: Rent, $36; R. M. Corrie's salary as secretary, $150; supper and talent, $29; printing, $47.25; stamps and stationery, $27.58; new sign, $1.25; special fund, $79.85. This left a balance in hand of $55.56 for the year.

Robert Mills, treasurer of the Special Fund Committee, read a statement showing that that fund now totalled $618.11.

According to Secretary Corrie's report, the membership of the association now totals 175.

On the motion of D. W. Clark, it was decided to subscribe to Winters' Mercantile Agency Rating Book, which is to be kept for the use of members at the office of Barrister Mearns, solicitor for the association. The offer of Mr. Mearns to attend the meetings of the association, and give the members what information he could from time to time, was accepted.

J. G. Gibson, the treasurer elect for 1895, having declined to act, the office was declared vacant, on motion of J. S. Bond, seconded by A. G. Marmion. Martin McMillan, secretary for 1894, was chosen to fill the position.

Discussion took place regarding departmental stores, and various opinions were expressed, but the prevalent feeling was that the grocery trade was able to meet all fair competition, coming from whatever quarter.

WILLIAM METCALFE DEAD.

The business community of Berlin, Ont., was shocked the other day at the sudden death of Wm. Metcalfe, the proprietor of a long established and thriving grocery business in that town. Deceased was born 71 years ago in Scotland, and at different periods of his life carried on business in Toronto and Waterloo, Ont. An affectionate wife, four sons and five daughters are left to mourn his decease. Of the sons, A. R. Metcalfe is city attorney in Pasadena, Cal.;

S. Metcalfe, traveler for J. B. Greening & Co., Hamilton; and W. F. and George Metcalfe are well-known members of the Berlin house. One daughter, Mrs. Mitchell, resides in Buffalo, N.Y.; Miss J. Metcalfe is teacher of the kindergarten at the Central School, Berlin; Mrs. W. C. Ormiston is the daughter-in-law of the renowned Rev. Dr. Ormiston; while Miss Mary and Miss Kate Metcalfe reside at the family residence, "Edgefield."

GROCERS AND PEDLARS.

On Monday the Market Committee of the Montreal City Council discussed certain proposed amendments to the market by-laws. Among the amendments proposed is a clause further restricting peddling by increasing the pedlars' licenses to $100 all round, as requested by the Grocers' Association.

It is also proposed to incorporate a clause in the by-law imposing a tax on each package of butter and cheese brought into the city by market steamers and trains, and not consigned to commission merchants, the object being to prevent the sale of these articles by parties who do not contribute to the city's revenue. Such a tax was asked for by the Butter and Cheese Association.

It is also proposed to insert clauses compelling fishermen and farmers bringing their wares to the city to dispose of them on the markets or to take out pedlars' licenses.

MARKETS AND MARKET NOTES

TORONTO MARKETS.

TORONTO, March 14, 1895.
GROCERIES.

TRADE does not yet exhibit much snap, and varies a good deal, one day being brisk and the next dull. There is, however, a fair volume of business being done, although speculative buying is still marked by its absence. Bosnia prunes show a further advance in outside markets, and currants keep firm. Foreign dried fruits are in fair request for the season, prunes being especially so. There is a good seasonable demand for canned vegetables, fruits and fish. Sugars are higher outside and firm on the home market in sympathy, refiners refusing to shade prices even for round lots. Unfortunately the same thing cannot be said of the wholesalers. They are cutting prices as of yore. Teas are moving much about the same as a week ago, although wholesalers are apparently buying more freely than they were then. Rio coffees continue firm in the primary market and scarce on this market. Payments are improving, and the same may be said of the outlook, although the bad condition of the roads must necessarily interfere with business.

CANNED GOODS.

No material change has developed during the week. Both packers and wholesalers are experiencing a brisk trade for tomatoes, peas and corn, and a fair trade in canned fruits. Salmon is active and gradually getting into smaller compass. Some of the better brands are getting much reduced. Sardines, herrings, and herrings in tomato sauce, and goods of that description, are all in good request. There is a brisk demand for gallon apples. We quote: Tomatoes, 87½ to 90c. for choice and 85c. for inferior and old stock; corn, 90 to 95c. for choice and 87½c. for common; peas, 82½ to 87½c. for ordinary and $1.40 for fancy; peaches, $2.75 to $3 for 3's, $1.75 to $1.90 for 2's; raspberries, $1.65 to $1.80; strawberries, $1 to $2.10; apples, 3's, $1 to $1.10, gallons $2.10 to $2.25, and preserved fancy quarters at $1.35 to $1.40; salmon, $1.45 to $1.50 for good red fish in tall tins, and $1.60 to $1.65 in flat tins; do., second quality, $1.15 to $1.25; canned mackerel, $1 to $1.10; lobsters, $1.70 to $2 for tall tins, and $2.25 to $2.75 for flat tins. Australian mutton, boiled, 2 lb. cans, $3.40; ditto, corned and roast, $3.75.

COFFEES.

Fresh supplies of Rio coffee noted last week as being on the way to this market have not yet arrived. Good flat bean coffee is almost cleaned out. There is a moderate demand. We quote green in bags: Rio, 20½ to 22½c.; East Indian, 27 to 30c.; South American, 21 to 23c.; Santos, 21½ to 22½c.; Java, 28 to 33c.; Mocha, 30 to 35c.; Maracaibo, 21 to 23c.; Jamaica, 21 to 25c.

RICE.

Continues fair; seasonable demand at unchanged prices. We quote as before: "B," 3¼ to 3¾c.; extra Japan, 5¼ to 5¾c.; imported Japan, 5¼ to 6¼c.; tapioca, pearl, 4½ to 5c.

SPICES.

Business remains quiet and prices unchanged. We quote: Pure black pepper, 10 to 12c.; pure white, 18 to 25c.; pure Jamaica ginger, 25 to 27c.; cloves, 15 to 45c.; pure mixed spice, 25 to 30c.; cream of tartar, 20 to 25c. per lb.

NUTS.

Business is still without feature to note. We quote: Brazil nuts, 11 to 11½c.; Sicily shelled almonds, 25 to 26c.; Tarragona almonds, 14 to 14½c.; peanuts, 10 to 12c. for roasted and 7 to 10c. for green; cocoanuts, $4.50 to $5 per sack; Grenoble walnuts, 15 to 16c.; Marbot walnuts, 12½ to 14c.; Bordeaux walnuts, 12 to 13c.; Sicily filberts, 9 to 10c. for sacks and 10½ to 11c. for small lots; pecans, 10½ to 11c.

SUGAR.

There is a little firmer feeling on the market within the last few days in sympathy with the outside market. An offer made by a local house for a round lot at a cut of 1 16c was not entertained by the refinery to which it was made. A few more sugars are selling than there were a week ago, but prices are still being cut a good deal, wholesalers' figures being lower than a week ago on granulated. There is a little German granulated, but as it was bought at away above present even selling price of domestic granulated holders will not quote. We quote: Granulated—domestic, $3.40 to $3.50; do., yellows, 2½c up.; Raw—Demerara, dark, 2½c; golden, 3 to 3¼c; bright, 3½c.

SYRUPS.

Syrups have been in little better supply, with demand principally for high-priced goods. We quote: Dark, 25c.; medium, 28 to 30c.; bright, 35 to 40c.; very bright, 45 to 50c.

MOLASSES.

Demand is still fair at about 30c. in barrels, and 32c. in half-barrels. We quote as follows: New Orleans, barrels, 26 to 28c.; half-barrels, 30½ to 32c.; Barbadoes, barrels, 28 to 32c.; half-barrels, 30 to 34c.

TEAS.

Been quite a few Young Hysons moving. Low priced Ceylon teas are still much in demand and almost impossible to get in London under 9d. Local brokers report that a few lines of Japans have been moving, shippers desiring to clear out balance of last year's teas. China Congous are rather neglected. We quote ruling prices to retailers: Young Hysons, 12 to 18c. for low grades; 24 to 27c. for mediums, and 30 to 45c. for high grades; China Congous, 14 to 18c. for mediums, and 35 to 55c. for high grades; Japans, 16 to 20c. for mediums, 28 to 35c. for high grades; Indians and Ceylons, 18 to 22c. for mediums, and 30 to 45c. for high grades.

DRIED FRUIT.

Valencia raisins are much as before both as regards volume of business and prices. We quote: Off-stalk, $3\frac{1}{4}$ to $3\frac{3}{4}$ c.; fine off-stalk, 4 to $4\frac{1}{4}$ c.; selected, $5\frac{1}{2}$ to 6c.; layers, $5\frac{1}{2}$ to 6c.

Sultana raisins are scarce and firm at the advance; $5\frac{3}{4}$ c. is the lowest price on this market. We quote $5\frac{3}{4}$ to $8\frac{1}{2}$ c.

In currants the situation is much as before, although the tendency is towards higher prices. We quote: Filiatras, half-barrels, 4 to $4\frac{1}{2}$ c., barrels, $4\frac{1}{2}$ c.; fine Filiatras, half-barrels, $4\frac{3}{4}$ c., barrels, $4\frac{3}{8}$ c.; Patras, $5\frac{1}{2}$ c., in cases; Casalinas, $5\frac{1}{2}$ to 6c.; Vostizias, $6\frac{1}{2}$ to 7c. in cases and half cases; Panaretos, 8 to $8\frac{1}{2}$ c.

Bosnia prunes are dearer in Trieste, and a Marseilles cable quotes the French article firm and in light supply. The local market is nearly cleared out of Bosnia prunes, and fresh supplies are not expected for some weeks yet. We quote: "Sphinx"—"U," 110 to 115 to half kilo, $4\frac{3}{4}$ to 5c. per lb.; "C," 85 to 90 to half kilo, $6\frac{1}{2}$ c. per lb.; "B," 80 to 85 to half kilo, 7 to $7\frac{1}{2}$ c. per lb. "Atlas,"—"D," 110 to 115 to half kilo, $4\frac{3}{4}$ to 5c. per lb.; "Unicorn," 5 to $5\frac{1}{2}$ c. Bordeaux prunes, $4\frac{1}{4}$ to $6\frac{1}{2}$ c.

Figs continue quiet. We quote: 14 oz., 8 to 9c.; 10 lb., 8 to 10c.; 18 lb., 12c.; 28 lb., 15c.; taps, $4\frac{1}{4}$ to $4\frac{1}{2}$ c.; naturals, 6 to 7c.

Demand continues good for California evaporated fruits. We quote: Peaches, 11 to 13c.; apricots, 11 to 12c.; pears, 10 to 12c. per lb.

BUTTER AND CHEESE.

Good creamery and large roll butter comes in pretty steadily, and tub butter has become practically a drug on the market. Dealers say that they should not be surprised to see it go begging at 6c. We quote: Dairy—Medium to good, 10 to 15c.; low grade, 8c.; fresh pound rolls, 15 to 16c.; large rolls, 12 to 15c. Creamery—Tubs, 21 to 22c.; pound prints, 22 to 23c.

August and September makes of cheese are quoted at $10\frac{1}{2}$ to $10\frac{3}{4}$ c., and half sizes at 11 to $11\frac{1}{4}$ c. Small Stiltons are quoted at 12 to $12\frac{1}{2}$ c.

GREEN FRUIT.

Grape fruit has followed Florida lemons and oranges out of the market. Other oranges are firm, and good apples bring good figures. We quote: Lemons—Messinas, \$2.75 to \$3.50. Oranges—Valencias, \$4.25 to \$4.50; Messinas, \$2.75 to \$3; California seedlings, \$3.25 to \$3.75; California navels, \$3.50 to \$4. Bananas, \$1.50 to \$2 for firsts and seconds. Apples, winter fruit, \$2.50 to \$3.50 per bbl.; common fruit, \$1.75 to \$2. Grapes—Malagas, \$5 to \$6.50 per keg. Cranberries, Jerseys, \$14 to \$14.50 per bbl. and \$5 per box. California dried fruit—Apricots, $12\frac{1}{2}$ c.; peaches, 13 to $13\frac{1}{2}$ c.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

BEANS—Are quiet at $1.35 for choice hand-picked, and $1.15 for medium grades.

DRIED APPLES—Are firm at $5\frac{1}{2}$ to 6c., owing to increased price being given for green fruit.

EVAPORATED APPLES—We quote, in 50 lb. boxes: 7 to $7\frac{1}{2}$ c. per lb.

ONIONS—Are going higher. We quote: Domestic, 75 to 80c. per bag; Spanish, $1 per small crate; Valencia, $3.50 to $4.

HONEY—No change. We quote: Strained, in bulk, 7 to 9c.; comb, 14c. for clover and 10c. for buckwheat.

POTATOES—Prices remain firm because of the short stocks. We quote: 50 to 60c. on the track and 65c. out of store.

POULTRY—Dull. We quote: Turkeys, 12c.; geese, 7 to 8c.; chickens, 30 to 75c.; ducks, 50 to 90c.

EGGS—There are no limed eggs left, and new laid are plentiful, and growing cheaper daily. We quote new laid eggs at 15 to 16c.

FISH AND OYSTERS.

The local dealers report that the Lenten trade, which opened very brisk, has fallen off very much this week. Better weather prevails at the oyster fishing beds, and oysters are back at the old cheap figure. We quote as follows: Salmon trout (frozen), $6\frac{1}{2}$ to 7c.; whitefish (frozen), $6\frac{1}{2}$ to 7c.; skinned and boned codfish, $6\frac{1}{2}$ c.; boneless fish, $3\frac{1}{2}$ to 4c.; market cod, 3 to 5c.; steak cod, $6\frac{1}{2}$ c.; haddock, 4 to $4\frac{1}{2}$ c.; Labrador herring, \$3.25 to \$3.50 per half barrel and \$5.50 to \$5.75 per barrel; Newfoundland herring, \$2.50 per half barrel, and \$4.50 to \$4.75 per barrel; fresh water salt herring, \$3 per bbl.; blue-back herring, 4c.; sea herring (frozen), \$1 to \$1.25 per 100 fish; blue pickerel, 4 to 5c. lb.; yellow ditto, 6 to 7c. per lb.; mackerel, 14c. each; pike, 5c. lb.; cod, 6c. per lb.; flitch cod, 5c.; finnan haddies, $6\frac{1}{2}$ to 7c.; Digby herring, in bundles of 5 boxes, 11c.; ditto, lengthwise, 10c.; large halibut, 10 to 13c. Oysters, \$1.20 per gallon for standards and \$1.50 for selects.

PROVISIONS AND DRESSED HOGS.

The early over-estimation of the hog crop still keeps the price of hogs and hog products firm and high, and the prospects are that they will remain so. We quote:

DRESSED HOGS—$5.50 to $5.75 per 100 lbs.

BACON—Long clear, 7c. for carload lots,

$7\frac{1}{4}$ c. for ton lots and for small lots; breakfast bacon, $10\frac{1}{2}$ c.; rolls, 8c.

HAMS—Large, 22 lbs. and over, $9\frac{1}{2}$ c.; medium, 15 to 20 lbs., 10c.; small hams, $10\frac{1}{2}$ c.; pickled, 9 to $9\frac{1}{2}$ c.

LARD—Pure Canadian, tierces, $7\frac{3}{4}$ c.; tubs, $8\frac{1}{4}$ to $8\frac{1}{2}$ c.; pails, $8\frac{1}{2}$ to $8\frac{3}{4}$ c.

BARREL PORK—Canadian heavy mess, $14.75 to $15; Canadian short-cut, $15 to $15.25; shoulder mess, $13 to $13.75; clear mess, $12.75 to $13.

SALT.

Salt remains at the figures quoted last week. We quote: Barrels, 85c.; coarse sacks, 58c.; fine sacks, 60c.; dairy, $1.25; rock, $9.

FLOUR AND FEED.

WHEAT—We quote: White, 64c.; red, 63c.; goose, $61\frac{1}{2}$ c.

OATS—We quote: $38\frac{1}{2}$ c.

BARLEY—We quote: 48c.

FLOUR—Quiet and firm. We quote: Ontario straight roller, $2.65 to $2.75; Manitoba, $3.60 to $3.65; patents, $3.75 to $3.90.

BREAKFAST FOODS—Oatmeal is firmer and higher owing to the scarcity of oats, and there is a good demand for meal. We quote: Standard oatmeal, $4.15 to $4.25; rolled oats, $4.15 to $4.25; rolled wheat, $2.10 in 100 lb. barrels; cornmeal, $3.50; split peas, $3.50; pot barley, $3.75 per bbl.

SEEDS.

It is still too cold in Canada for much activity in seeds. There seems to be a lot of alsike in the country. Alsike is quoted thus: Prime to choice, $4.80 to $5; really fancy, $5 to $6.25; and lower grades $4.

There is a firmer feeling in red clover, which has advanced 15 to 20 cents on the Toledo and other United States markets. We quote jobbers' prices at $6.15 to $6.45.

Timothy is steady at $2.50 to $2.75 per bush. for prime to choice grades of machine threshed, while 15 to 20c. more is given for bright unhulled lites.

HIDES, SKINS, WOOL AND TALLOW.

HIDES—There is a good demand, prices remaining at last week's figures. We quote: 5 to $5\frac{1}{4}$ c. for cured, and for green, No. 1, $4\frac{1}{2}$ c.; No. 2, $3\frac{1}{2}$ c., and No. 3, $2\frac{1}{2}$ c.

SHEEPSKINS—Are bringing better prices for good stock, 85 to 90c. being quoted. Calfskins nominally at 6c. for No. 1, and 4c. for No. 2.

TALLOW—Quiet, at 5 to $5\frac{1}{4}$ c.

WOOL—Canadian fleece, all cleared out. For round lots of desirable wool 19 to $19\frac{1}{2}$ c. is obtainable. Pulled wools are rising. Best super's are quoted at 19 to 21c., and extras at 21 to 22c.

the season. They claim for this article superiority over some of the imported goods, while it is fully up in quality to the best, and has the advantage of being low in price.

T. B. Escott & Co. have their "Grand Mogul" tea signs ready for distribution, and are sending them out with all purchases of this tea.

Smith & Keighley report that they have received another consignment of Australian mutton, which they are offering at about the price of beef.

Readers of THE CANADIAN GROCER may have a sample package of "Delicatine" free by dropping a card to the Pure Gold Manufacturing Co.

T. Kinnear & Co. announce they have still a few "U" Bosnia prunes, which they are offering at low figures; also ¼-boxes selected layer Valencia raisins.

Time brings changes even in the most conservative of lines. See the ad. for the patent brooms and brushes made by the Berlin Brush Co., Berlin, Ont.

W. H. Gillard & Co. are offering No. 1 Labrador herrings and gibbed herrings at low figures, as they desire to clear up their stock before the Lenten season is over.

The Pure Gold Manufacturing Co., although they have discontinued the manufacture of icing sugar, will still put their Pure Gold icings in half-pound packages on the market.

The Eby, Blain Co. reports the receipt of a large number of orders for California canned fruits as a result of its advertisement in last week's issue of THE CANADIAN GROCER.

McWilliam & Everist have received 1 car extra fancy "Sunflower" brand navel oranges, 1 car fancy "Excelsior" navel oranges, 2 cars Messina oranges, 1 car Messina lemons and 1 car extra fancy bananas.

THE CANADIAN GROCER was this week shown a list of firms, 32 in number, which have recently been appointed agents for "Salada" Ceylon package tea. One of the firms is J. E. Shields, of Buffalo, N.Y.

Mr. E. D. Tillson, of Tilsonburg, is making a shipment this week of his pan-dried rolled oats to Christiania, Norway. Mr. Tillson says he is opening up a very nice trade on the continent for his cereal goods.

Frank Magor & Co., Montreal, are canvassing the west for spring orders. Mr. J. H. Magor was in town this week, and will remain over a day or two next week after visiting London, Hamilton, Brantford, etc.,

One of the nicest things to be seen along the street is the principal counter of the Eby, Blain Co.'s sample room. Tastefully arranged on it are samples of the various lines of canned goods, potted goods, etc., which the firm has in stock for the Lenten season, and they attract one's attention the moment he enters the warehouse.

MONTREAL MARKETS.

MONTREAL, March 14, 1895.

GROCERIES.

THE grocery market has presented a fair degree of activity during the week and jobbers as a rule are doing a satisfactory trade in all kinds of staple groceries with one or two exceptions. The decline in refiners' prices on sugar led to a modification in the Jobbers' Guild price on Tuesday last, but they have been selling at the decline for more than a week back. The steadiness in syrups and molasses is well maintained and nothing new is to report in spices or coffees. Advices on teas are very firm, especially in the finer grades. In dried fruit the only new features are firmer cables on Sultana raisins and Bosnia prunes. Canned goods and fish continue much as they were.

SUGAR.

The sugar market continues easy in its tone, and though there has been no further change in refiners' prices jobbers have modified their prices a trifle in proportion to the decline in the first cost of the staple that we noted last week. Both in a jobbing and wholesale sense the movement is moderate, as both classes of buyers have been operating pretty freely recently on account of low prices and have supplied themselves pretty liberally. We note sales of round lots of No. 1 standard granulated at 35 16c., and smaller lots 3½c. with No. 2, 3¼c., while yellows have sold at 2½c. to 3c., as to quality, at the refinery. The Wholesale Guild decided on Tuesday last to officially shade jobbing prices ¼c., but many jobbers had informally been selling standard granulated at 3½c. fully a week ago. However, we now quote the range as follows: Standard granulated, 3½c.; No. 2, 3½c.; yellows, 2½ to 3¼c., with Berthier beetroot stock 3½ to 3¼c., as to grade. What German beet there was on the market has been absorbed, and with prices as they are fresh importations are not likely.

SYRUPS.

There has been a fairly active business in syrups, a good jobbing demand being experienced, and sales of good-sized lots of domestic have been made freely at 1½ to 2¼c., as to grade, while we quote, in a jobbing way, 1¾ to 2½c. The supply of American here is practically nil, and what there is of it is held firm at 20 to 23c., as to grade.

MOLASSES.

There has been a good demand for molasses in a jobbing way, on account of the Lenten demand, further reducing the light stocks on spot. Accordingly, holders' views are firmer, if anything, and choice Barbadoes has passed from first to second hands as high as 31 to 33c., while Porto Rico fetched 27c., and Trinidad 26c., advances of a full figure, and more, in each case. In a jobbing way, prices are firm, Barbadoes at the combine prices—33c. in hogsheads and 36c. in barrels and half-barrels.

RICE.

There has been rather more activity in rice during the past week, as jobbers have been placing orders for supplies with more freedom. Mill prices continue steady as last quoted. Japan, standard, $4.25 to $4.40; crystal Japan, $4.75 to $5; standard B, $3.45; English style, $3.30; Patna, $4.25 to $5, and Carolina, $6.50 to $7.50.

SPICES.

The situation of the spice market is unchanged and a fair business has been done, while prices are steady and unchanged. We quote: Penang black pepper, 6 to 7½c.; white pepper, 10 to 12½c.; cloves, 7½ to 9c.; cassia, 8½ to 9½c.; nutmegs, 60 to 90c.; and Jamaica ginger, 15½ to 18½c.

COFFEES.

The market has ruled quiet and steady since our last, the wants of the roasters having evidently been supplied for the time being. In a jobbing sense business is of a quiet but fairly satisfactory character. We quote: Maracaibo, 23c.; Rio, 18½ to 20c.; Java, 25 to 27c.; Jamaica, 18 to 19c.; and Mocha, 26 to 30c.

TEA.

There is nothing strikingly new to report in the tea market. Demand has been of a quiet character, while prices rule steady to firm. In a jobbing way the demand for medium and low grade blacks and Japans continues fairly active on the whole. Advices from abroad are all firm in tone, in fact, if any change is to ensue importers predict that it will be in an upward direction. This is the expectation, especially on the fine and higher grades of teas of all kinds, which are scarcer than ever. We quote: Japans, low grades, 12½ to 14c.; medium, 15½ to 17c.; fine, 18½ to 24c.; and choice, 25 to 31c.

DRIED FRUIT.

Quietness still rules in this market, but no further low offers from New York are spoken of, and the market for raisins may be called steady, though the jobbing enquiry is rather inactive. Holders, as a rule, however, consider the fruit good property, and are not disposed to concede anything. Common to fine off-stalk Valencia have been placed with jobbers about steady this week at 3½ to 4c., as to grade, while sales of layers are noted at 4¼ to 4¾c. in round lots. In a jobbing way we quote: Off-stalk, 3¾ to 4½c.; selected, 4¾ to 5½c., and layers, 5 to 6c.

Advices on Sultanias from London are very firm, cables on Tuesday noting an advance of 2s. per cwt. Accordingly, with stocks here concentrated almost wholly with one firm, values are firmly held at 5c. for good, 5½c. for fine, and choice brands 7c.

There is no change in California raisins, and advices from the Coast are of a rather stronger character. We quote jobbing prices steady therefore: 3-crown loose muscatels, 5½c., and 4-crown do., 7c.; second crop fruit, ½c. less.

Continued firm advices tend to impart a strength to the currant market here, but fail to create any great activity. Jobbers, however, are disposed to ask rather better prices, and we quote values firm. Filiatras and Provincials, 3¾c. in barrels; 4 to 4½c. in cases; Patras, 5 to 5½c., and Vostizzas, 7 to 7½c.

The prune market is, if anything, rather firmer in its tone, though no quotable change is to note. Bosnia advices, however, state that c.i.f. prices have advanced 2s. per cwt., and importers say that they cannot lay down any fresh supplies of Turkish goods as cheaply now as before. We quote: Bordeaux 4 to 4½c., Bosnias 4½ to 5c., and California 8 to 9c.

Figs furnish a fairly active trade. All the bag stock has been absorbed now, and we only quote box figs, which are steady at 10 to 16c., as to brand.

Dates are fairly active and unchanged, at 4 to 5c.

California evaporated fruits are quiet and steady; apricots 12½ to 15c., and peaches 9½c.

The stock of dried apples here is practically controlled by one house, who has advanced its prices ½ to 1c. since last week, and none can now be had under 6 to 6½c.

The supplies of evaporated fruit are equally light, and jobbers are holding what they have firm at 7½ to 7¾c., as to quality.

NUTS.

The market is much the same, but Brazil nuts have been laid down for rather less money and prices have been shaded a trifle both on filberts and walnuts, etc. We quote: Tarragona almonds, 12 to 13c.; filberts, 7 to 8c.; Brazil nuts, 8 to 9c.; pecans, small, 10c.; medium, 13c., and extra, 15c.; Grenoble walnuts, 13 to 14c.; Bordeaux ditto, 9 to 10c.; peanuts, 7 to 9c. for roasted and 6 to 8c. for raw; cocoanuts, $3.50 to $4 per 100.

CANNED GOODS.

The canned goods market continues much the same as it was last week. A moderate but steady juggling business is doing and prices as a rule are unchanged. We quote: Lobsters, $1.50 to $1.75 per doz.; sardines, $8.50 to $9.50; salmon, $1.30 to $1.40 per doz.; tomatoes, 90 to 92½c. per doz.; peaches, $2 to $2.25 per doz.; corn, 95c. to $1 per doz., marrow-fat peas, 90c. to $1 per doz.; strawberries, $2 to $2.25; raspberries, $1.75 to $2; green gages, $2 to $2.25; blue plums or damsons, $1.50 to $1.75; pineapples, $2 to $2.25, and 3-lb. apples, $1 to $1.10.

FISH.

There is nothing unusual to report on the fish market. Seasonable weather has led to a fairly active demand for both pickled, frozen and fresh fish, but the movement is only of a sorting character. The market generally is steady, and prices show no change. Fresh herrings are selling at 90c. to $1 per 100; new haddock at 3½c. per lb.; frozen at 2¾ to 3c.; halibut at 7 to 8c.; mackerel at 9 to 10c.; tommy cods at $1 per bbl. No. 2 smelts at 2c. per lb. There are not any Labrador herrings here at present, the market being well cleaned up of all kinds of large bright fish. Fair to good stock are selling at $4 to $4.50 per bbl., and at $2.75 per half-bbl. B.C. salmon rule steady at $11.50; red sea trout at $9; No. 1 green cod at $5 to $5.25; No. 2 mackerel at $12.50; Finnan haddies at 5 to 6c. per lb.; bloaters at 90c. per box, and smoked herrings 10 to 11c.

GREEN FRUIT.

APPLES—The apple market is quiet and firm at $3 to $5 per bbl., as to quality.

ORANGES—The orange market is fairly active and steady, fresh receipts of Jamaica, Cuban and Messina fruit this week meeting a fairly steady demand. We quote: Valencias, $3.75 to $4.50, and Messinas, $2 to $3 per box; Californias, $3.25 to $4; Jamaicas, bbls. $8 to $9, and Havana ditto, $6 to $8.

LEMONS—There is good active demand for lemons and prices are steady at $2.50 to $3.50, as to grade.

GRAPES—Stocks of Almeria grapes are almost exhausted here, and we quote prices firm at $6 to $7 per bbl.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

EGGS—Very liberal receipts of fresh eggs have caused a regular slump in the egg market, and prices to-day are 3 to 5c. lower than they were a week ago, sales of fresh eggs being freely made to-day at 17c.

HONEY—There is no change in the honey market, which we quote as before: Old extracted, 4½ to 5½c.; new, 7 to 9c., and comb stock, 11 to 13c.

MAPLE PRODUCTS—Some small lots of new maple sugar have arrived and met a ready sale at 7c. per lb. Old maple syrup is selling at 65 to 70c. per tin.

BEANS—No change, with business quiet at $1.40 to $1.45 for hand-picked, and $1.15 to $1.25 for fair to medium.

HOPS—Continue dull at 4 to 7c., as to quality.

POTATOES—There is a fair demand in a jobbing way for potatoes at 65c.

ONIONS—Additional receipts of onions have led to a lower range, though choice stock still command steady prices. We quote $1.25 to $2, according to grade.

PROVISIONS.

The provision market is quiet and unchanged. Demand is rather slow, but prices are steady. We quote: Canadian short cut, heavy, $14 to $15; hams, city cured, per lb., 9 to 10½c.; lard, Canadian, in pails, 9 to 10c.; bacon, per lb., 9 to 10½c.; lard, common, refined, per lb., 7 to 7½c.

FLOUR AND MEAL.

There is a good enquiry from abroad for Manitoba patents, but, up to the time of writing, little business has resulted, only one small sale of 500 sacks being put through. The volume of business on spot is fair, there being a good demand for small lots at firm prices. We quote: Winter wheat, $3.60 to $3.75; spring wheat, patents, $3.75 to $3.90; straight roller, $2.85 to $3; extra, $2.65 to $2.70; superfine, $2.50 to $2.60; Manitoba strong bakers', $3.75.

The market for feed continues to rule active and firm, with a large volume of business doing. We quote: Bran, $17 to $18; shorts, $18 to $19; mouillie, $23 to $24.

In oatmeal, trade is quiet, but values rule firm. We quote: Standard, bbls., $3.80 to $3.90; granulated, bbls., $3.90 to $4; rolled oats, bbls., $4 to $4.05.

BUTTER AND CHEESE.

The cheese market moves along without much change and it looks now as though the market would wind up at about its present level.

The butter market is quiet and steady for fresh stock, which is kept fairly well cleaned up, and if it continues so there will be a chance to work off some of the stock of held goods here. For business in a jobbing way, winter creamery is held steady at 21 to 21½c.; townships dairy, 16c., and western rolls, 14 to 15c. On held creamery prices are nominal, but it has been offered at 15c., while western dairy is hard to quote.

ASHES.

The market for ashes continues quiet and featureless. We quote: First pots, $4.05 to $4.10; seconds, $3.70 to $3.75, and pearls, $6.40 per 100 lbs.

MONTREAL TRADE NOTES.

The Guild price on granulated and yellow sugars was worked down ¼c. on Tuesday. The decline, however, has been practically in effect for over a week previous.

Rose & Laflamme expect a large shipment this week of Batger's new season Seville orange and University marmalade, in one and two pound pots.

Bosnia cables on Tuesday to sales' agents here quoted cost and freight price of prunes 2s. per cwt. higher.

Practically all the German beetroot sugar offering here has been absorbed, and, at the present low prices ruling in Montreal, further importations are unlikely.

One firm of jobbers practically control all the stock of dried apples to be had on this market, and they are asking ½ to 1c. advance on last week's prices.

Rose & Laflamme report the arrival of an assortment of Cunningham & Defournier's potted meats, in four pound tins.

Frank Magor & Co., Montreal, report an improved demand during the past few days for Southwell's jams, jellies and marmalades, for which they are selling agents.

London cables on Tuesday stated that the cost and freight price of Sultana oranges had been marked up 2s. per cwt., with an advancing tendency.

Exceptionally large receipts of fresh eggs has led to a slump in prices of fully 5c., and the market is easy at the decline.

Round lots of Barbadoes molasses have sold at an advance of 2½c. this week, but the combine price is unchanged.

Rose & Laflamme report the arrival of a consignment of Huntley & Palmers' biscuits, in six and ten pound tins.

Frank Magor & Co. have recently placed on the Canadian market a superior brand of liquid mustard manufactured by Keen, Robinson & Co., London, Eng. The article is called "Keen's Mustardine," and is particularly palatable and pleasing, being much in demand by epicures.

NEW BRUNSWICK MARKETS

OFFICE OF THE CANADIAN GROCER,

ST. JOHN, N.B., March 14, 1895.

BUSINESS during the past week has been quiet. Wholesale grocery houses report sales so far this year equal, and, in many cases, ahead, of those of last. Money is not plentiful, collections being slow, and, in many cases, goods which should be cash are being settled for by notes. Markets show, in many cases, much firmness, but the St. John market is a very odd one.

SALT—The cargo of course spoken of in our last report is to hand, and is coming out of the vessel in splendid condition. It arrives at a good time, as the market is about bare. There are about five thousand bags in the cargo. Demand at this season is light. It is selling from ship's side for 50c. Prices, ex store: Coarse, 58 to 60c.; fine factory filled, $1; 5 lb. bags, $3 to $3.25 per bbl.; 10 lb. bags, $2.85 to $3 per bbl.; 20 lb. wood boxes, 20c.; 10 lb. wood boxes, 12c.; cartoons, $2 per doz.

CANNED GOODS—There is nothing new to report. All goods are held firm, and stocks both in the hands of wholesalers and retailers are working into small compass. There is a fair demand. Gallon apples continue much more quiet than last year. Oysters show a fair demand and are rather firmer, there being a small advance. Canned herring called Digby chickens are sold here very low, 85c. to $1 per doz., and are splendid goods for the money. They are put up in Digby, N. S. We quote: Corn, $1; peas, 95c.; tomatoes, $1.05; gallon apples, $2.40; corned beef, 2 lb. tins, $2.75 to $2.85; 1-lb tins, $1.65 to $1.70; oysters, 2's, $2.20 to $2.25; 1's, $1.60 to $1.65; peaches, 3's, $2.65 to $2.75; lobsters, $1.75 to $2; haddies, $1.40; salmon, $1.35 to $1.40; clams, $5.50; for 4 doz.; chowder, $3.50 for 2 doz.; scallops, $5.50 for 4 doz.; Digby chickens, $1.

DRIED FRUIT—There is quite a call for Nova Scotia dried apples, and the market has advanced half a cent in the past few weeks. If the packers would only put their goods up right and sell at a fair price, a large business could be done. Evaporated are also higher, but stocks held here are fairly large. But very few raisins are moving since the first of the year. Currants are firm at the higher prices. Prunes and dates have a fair demand. Prices are low. Loose muscatels are rather firmer in New York. We quote: Sultana raisins, 6 to 6½c.; Valencia, 4¼ to 4½c.; layers, 5 to 5½c.; London layers, $2.25; loose muscatels, California, 6 to 6½c.; currants, bbls., 3¼ to 4c.; half cases, 4¼ to 4½c.; evaporated apples, 8 to 8½c.; dried, 5½ to 5¾c.; dates, 4¼ to 4½c.; prunes, 5 to 5½c.; figs, 11 to 18c.

GREEN FRUIT—Florida oranges are out of the market, and Malaga grapes are almost out. Pineapples are marked lower. In bananas, quite a number are coming forward in crates. This keeps the price up above what it will be when they come loose. The movement in all green fruits is much better. In onions, the stocks held are quite large, some three cars having arrived lately in this market. This has caused prices to fall off from 25 to 50c. per barrel. The fact of new Bermuda onions being so near has also the effect of weakening the market. Prices, however, continue higher than last year. Valencia oranges are higher and firm. We quote: Valencia oranges, $4.50 to $4.75; Messina, $2.75 to $3; blood, $2.50 to $2.75; lemons, $3 to $4; pineapples, 16 to 20c.; bananas, $2.25 to $2.50; Malaga grapes, 5 to 6c.; onions, $2.50 to $3 per bbl.; crates, $1.25.

DAIRY PRODUCE—Butter does not improve. A lot of fresh creamery prints were in the market this week and found ready sales at 23 to 23½c. But creamery tubs and other grades are slow, and for large rolls and poor tub butter there is no sale. Cheeses are also quiet, though prices show no change, and holders believe they will not be lower. Eggs are in fair demand for fresh stock. Creamery rolls, 23 to 24c.; tubs, 20 to 21c.; dairy tubs, 16 to 18c.; cheese, 10¼ to 10½c.; eggs, 18c.

MOLASSES—The demand is good, and a fair quantity is changing hands, but the near approach of the syrup supply tends to cause parties to hold off when not actually in want. As noted in our last, new Demerara is already here, Porto Rico and St. Kitts are in Halifax, and it is now expected a small quantity of Barbadoes will arrive on a steamer due this month, selling here at about 33c. Small packages are much in demand, but the market is bare. Syrups are never a very large business in this market. A small quantity of fancy Porto Rico is still to be had. We quote: Barbadoes, 31 to 32c.; Porto Rico, 30 to 31c.; Antigua, 28 to 30c.; fancy Porto Rico, 39 to 41c.; syrup, 30 to 35c.

SUGAR—Since the reduction in price of granulated no sales of foreign have been made. Granulated shows no change in this market, but yellows are rather easier. There is no doubt the low price of sugar will be much felt in the smaller quantities of molasses which will be sold. Demand is good. We quote: Granulated, standard, 3½ to 3¾c.; second grade, 3½ to 3¾c.; yellows, 3 to 3½c.; others, 2½ to 2¾c.; Paris lump, 5 to 5¼c.; pulverized, 5 to 5¼c.

FISH—Dry cod are particularly firm. In frozen fish the demand, like the supply, is light. There are no herrings to be had, and but few codfish. Smoked herrings are rather firmer. Fair stocks are held here in dry hake. The market is unsatisfactory, and continues as reported last week. Pickled herring shows no change, with fair demand. We quote: Large cod, $4.15; medium, $4.10; small, $3.50; pollock, $1.75 to $1.85; bay herring, $1.50 to $1.60; Shelburne, No. 1, $4 per bbl., half-bbls., $2.40 to $2.50; Canso, $5; medium smoked, 8 to 9; lengthwise, 7 to 8c.; Digby chickens, 10 to 12c.

PROVISIONS—In this little change is noted. There is a fair demand for smoked meats at easy prices. Pork rather tends a little firmer. We quote: Clear pork, $17.50 to $18; mess, $15 to $15.50; prime, $12.75 to $13.25; plate beef, $12.75 to $13.25; prime lard, 9 to 10c.; compound, 8 to 9c.

FLOUR, FEED AND MEAL.

The flour market continues to strengthen. Demand is not active. Oatmeal is also firmer, though local prices continue low. Middlings and bran are getting very scarce. Prices are high for even second quality, but all are very hard to get. Oats continue in advance, and are very firm. Seeds are high. In hay very little is doing, and prices continue very low, but even then there is no money in exporting. We quote: Manitoba, $4.35 to $4.40; best Ontario, $3.50 to $3.60; medium, $3.25 to $3.50; oatmeal, $4.00 to $4.10; cornmeal, $2.75 to $2.80; middlings, on track, $23 to $24; bran, $22 to $23; oats, local, on track, 40 to 41c.; Ontario, 43 to 44c.; beans, $1.60 to $1.65; prime, $1.55 to $1.60; split peas, $3.85 to $4; pot barley, $4 to $4.10; round peas, $3.75 to $3.90; hay, on track, $9; American timothy seed, $3.35 to $3.50; red clover, 11½ to 12c.; alsike, 13½ to 15c.

ST. JOHN MARKET NOTES.

The following is the report of the Savings Bank for February: Deposits, $79,556; withdrawals, $65,390. This shows a balance of $14,165 on the right side.

Mr. Robert Jardine is now representing the St. Lawrence Starch Co. in this province.

The halibut fishing will soon begin. Already a number of the fleets have started from Digby, N. S.

The meeting of the Farmers' and Dairy-men's Association, held in Fredericton during the past week, was a great success. Some three hundred farmers attended.

Last week Mr. Robert Jardine, traveler for the Pure Gold Manufacturing Co., said to THE CANADIAN GROCER. "On my last trip I sold two large orders through our ad. in your paper. I find your paper growing popular among the retail trade of the provinces."

Another of our first-class grocers intends giving up the retail business. Geo. Robertson, who for years has enjoyed the reputation of keeping the finest and most expensive line of groceries in the city, is about to retire. The number of fine retail stores is still very large for the size of our city.

Mr. Peter Laing, president of the Laing Packing and Provision Co., has been in the city during the past week. Their products are finding an increasing demand in this market. Mr. Laing was much pleased with his visit. His house is represented here by I. C. Bowman.

A subscriber notices in the two last issues of THE CANADIAN GROCER comments respecting a car of California canned goods received by a Toronto firm. He begs to state that, last fall, two leading St. John merchants (Messrs. Dearborn & Co. and Messrs. Baird & Peters) imported a car each of these goods. St. John merchants are always to the fore when there is anything new in trade offering.

PERSONAL MENTION.

J. H. Magor, of Frank Magor & Co., Montreal, was in Toronto last week.

John McEwan, of McMeekin & Co., London, England, was in Toronto last week primarily, it is understood, with a view to advertising "Ram Lal" tea.

A. F. MacLaren, manufacturer of Imperial cheese, Toronto, has been nominated by the Conservatives of North Perth as their candidate for the next Dominion election.

Alex. Hill, one of Sloan & Crowther's representatives in the west, was in Toronto Saturday. He said trade was quiet, the farmers being down in the pitch holes trading horses.

R. Cunningham, manufacturer of table delicacies, of Kingston, N.Y., is in Toronto. His special mission is to introduce an egg food on this market. He is showing two kinds. One contains the whole egg, and the other the white only. The one is for baking and the other for icing purposes. It is said the package containing both the white and yolk will go as far as three dozen ordinary eggs.

RETAIL GROCERY BOOKKEEPING.

A writer in Business recently had the following to say regarding keeping accounts in a retail grocery store:

"The business with which I was formerly connected was considerably smaller than the one he names, but I believe the system would prove entirely satisfactory. Our accounts were handled by what might be called the card and pass-book system. The pass books were of the common kind in use. Two order books were used for each wagon, so the bookkeeper could write up one while the orders were being put up from the other.

"A slip of paper three inches wide was cut from the 'bill paper' and the customer's name written at the top. On this slip goods bought were entered to correspond with the pass-book. These slips were consecutively numbered. They were kept, when in use, in a 'postoffice,' on the back of the desk, within easy reach of the bookkeeper.

"After the orders were out these were footed up for the day and the total carried direct to the ledger. This saved considerable posting and kept each customer's daily account by itself. When a payment was made the amount was entered directly on the ledger (a cash register was used, so no cash book entry was made, the amount being included in 'cash' sales for the day), and the slip marked with a 'paid' stamp and filed away.

"As we kept our collections up close we had little or no trouble with this system, certainly not as much as we would with an endless amount of book work. Our accounts with the wholesale dealers were handled in the same way. The only books used were cash book, ledger, order books and the slips. Two files were necessary, one temporary and one permanent.

"The slips were kept in the 'postoffice' or temporary file until the account was balanced and then carried to the permanent file, where they were out of the way and out of mind. In what I have presented I trust I have made my methods clear."

NOVA SCOTIA MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE CANADIAN GROCER,

HALIFAX, March 14, 1895.

WHOLESALE houses report trade looking up somewhat, and confidence is expressed for the spring trade, which is about setting in. The fine weather during the past few days has had a brightening effect all round, and orders are coming in from the country more freely. The Newfoundland trade is beginning to pick up again, though very slowly. The loss of that market has seriously handicapped a number of smaller dealers throughout the country, particularly in Cape Breton, who found a ready market there for butter, cheese, produce and provisions generally.

BREADSTUFFS—There is an improvement all along the line in breadstuffs. The advances in flour are 5, 10 and 15c. per bbl. and a general advance is anticipated owing to the represented shortness of Canadian wheat. Oats and oatmeal are very firm, with oats at 42 to 42½c., and oatmeal $4 to $4.10, delivered here.

MILLFEEDS—Are scarce and high. Bran is quoted at $22, and middlings at $23 and $23.50, and scarce at the quotations.

CORN AND CORNMEALS—Are steady and slightly firmer.

FLOUR—Trade is quiet, although there is more doing the past ten days than for several weeks before. As soon as the outports are opened up we look for more activity in this line. Quotations are: Hungarian patents, Manitobas, $4.40 to $4.50; Manitoba strong bakers', $4.25 to $4.35; Canadian pastry, $3.60 to $3.70; 75 per cent. rolled patent, $3.50 to $3.60; 80 per cent. $3.25 to $3.30; 90 per cent. $3.15 to $3.20; straights, $3.10 to $3.15; extra, $2.80 to $2.90.

FISH STUFFS—The Lenten season has evidently helped to improve trade locally. The general position of the market shows no material change. Export orders are quite up to the average, and stocks are, of course, diminishing, and any increase in demand would cause a general advance in prices. As yet, this has not taken place. We note by late cable advices that a duty of $1.15 per drum has been imposed on provincial fish in Cuba. This, if anything, will have the effect of lowering the price, ex vessel, the coming season. The demand, locally, for grocery fish stuffs is very good, and stocks are almost exhausted. Quotations, tol quol, are: Dry cod, prime, $3.25 to $3.70; do. bank, $3; do. large bank, $4 to $4.10; Labrador, $2.50 to $2.75; herring, Bay of Islands, split, No. 1, $1.75; shore, No. 1, large, split, flat, $3.50 to $4.50; mackerel, No. 3, large, $12; salmon, No. 1, $12; No. 2, $10; No. 3, $8.

PROVISIONS—There is very little doing in provisions, owing possibly to the Lenten season. Choice Canadian beef is offered at 6½ to 6¾c, and native, sinking offal, at $7.30 to $8. Mutton is worth 9c. There is no lamb offering. Veal is selling at 5 to 6c. Pork has advanced to 6½c, and is strong at that figure. There is very little poultry in the market. Canadian turkeys are selling at 12c, and native at 10c. Hams are worth 10c. Lard, pure, is quoted at 10c, and refined at 8c.

BUTTER AND CHEESE—Butter remains depressed, and can be purchased anywhere from 12 to 18c. Good stock is bringing 15 and 16c. The cheese market remains unchanged at 11½c. for best Antigonish, with Canadian a fraction lower.

EGGS—Eggs are scarce. Last week's stocks sold at about 20c. for good fresh, but dealers are inclined to think 18c will be the outside price this week. The limed stocks are about cleaned up.

CANNED GOODS—This line is beginning to receive attention, although prices have not changed in the slightest.

DRIED FRUIT AND NUTS—Only the usual trade is being done in dried fruit and nuts. Off-stalk Valencias are quoted at 4½ to 4¾c.; Turkish layer figs are worth 9 and 10c.; new Turkish prunes, "Atlas" brand, 4½ to 5c.; dates, 4c.

GREEN FRUIT—Some fine new Bermuda tomatoes have been received, which are selling at $1.25 per box of 10 lbs. There are no Jamaica oranges on the market; Valencias are worth $5. Lemons are higher, the quotations being $3.50 and $4.50. Apples are about cleaned up; some Bishop pippins are arriving from the Annapolis valley, which are selling at from $1.50 to $2.50. Grapes are getting cheaper, although stocks are well cleaned up. Bananas are selling well at $2.25 to $3 per bunch. Trade in this line is very good.

SUGAR—There is a very good demand for sugar at the low rates at which the article is now offering. Quotations are: Porto Rico, in hogsheads, 5c.; granulated, 3¾c.; standard "A," 3½c.; extra white "C," 3¼c.; standard yellow "C," 3c.; extra "C," 2¾c.; yellow extra "C," 2¾ to 2½c.

MOLASSES—The demand continues fair; stocks here are low. Quotations are: Porto Rico, 35c.; Barbadoes, 34c.; Demerara, (B) "D" brand, 45c.

PETROLEUM—There has been an advance of one cent during the past two weeks. Oil, Spring crude is quoted at $1.23, and Petrolia crude at $1.20, f.o.b. at Petrolia.

HALIFAX MARKET NOTES.

Four carloads of cranberries were shipped recently from Auburn, King's Co. The cars contained 740 barrels of the fruit, the net proceeds of which amounted to over $5,500.

The Windsor Plaster Company are about making a new departure. They are at present putting up machinery for the manufacturing of potato bug exterminator, for which they expect to have a fair demand. By their process the poison will be evenly and thoroughly mixed with the plaster, and, by being mixed for some time before using, the ingredients will become better incorporated and more effective in every way than if hand mixed. Similar mixtures are manufactured largely in the Upper Provinces, and, by effectiveness and popularity, have superseded the old method of mixing by hand.

THE MINIMUM DIVIDEND.

GREAT trouble was experienced last year in the discussion of the Dominion Insolvency Bill, that did not become law, as to what should be the minimum dividend on an estate to give an insolvent a discharge, says Dry Goods Review.

The first draft of the bill may be supposed to represent the merchants' views of the matter, and it laid down 33⅓ cents as the minimum. That is, when any estate paid this dividend over and above all costs of administration in insolvency, the owner of such estate was entitled to a legal discharge, and no creditor could bring any further action on debts contracted previous to the declaration of insolvency. Compositions at 33⅓ cents would bear the same effect.

But the bankers through their representatives at Ottawa objected to this low minimum, and proposed to raise it to 66⅓ cents. This created considerable discussion, and a compromise was finally agreed to, and the minimum dividend, had the bill passed, would have been 50 cents.

By a careful and laborious collocation, the figures of the past year concerning compromises and sales of bankrupt stocks have been tabulated, and are herewith presented. A great many of the following instances are sales of bankrupt stocks, and are the percentage derived from the sale of the stock without deducting expenses of assignees, stock taking, inspectors, auctioneer, etc. For this reason the figures may, in about one-half the instances, be five per cent. higher than they should be.

The figures show the amounts paid in 393 compromises or assignments between January 1 and December 31, 1894, although this does not include the whole number of the year:

The average dividend of these 393 sales or compositions is 45.5 per cent., and if deduction is made for the circumstances mentioned above, this will be reduced to nearly 40 per cent. This shows that a minimum dividend of 50 per cent. is rather high.

Again, the number of dividends between 50 and 55 is 21 per cent.; the number above 55 is 34 per cent., and the number below 50 is 45 per cent. of the whole. That is, the number between 50 and 55 is very large compared with any other division, and the number below 50 is much larger than that above 50.

To show how preposterous was the bankers' demand for a 66⅓ per cent. minimum dividend, it may be mentioned that of the 393 dividends above, 88 per cent. are below the bankers' minimum.

To the shame of Canada, and to the eternal condemnation of the credit system, it may be seen that 10 per cent. of the dividends were at a lower than 25-cent rate. One Bowmanville dividend was 5 cents on the dollar, a Brantford one was 1 cent, and two in Montreal were 2½ and 4 per cent. respectively. Canada wants an Insolvency Act that will enable creditors to call a halt before the estate is entirely consumed.

In the above record, book debt sales are not included. Several were noted, however, and the average price realized on book debts was 15 cents on the dollar. Debtors always value their book debts very highly, but creditors estimate them at 15 per cent. of their face value.

REPORT OF THE CANADIAN FISHERY COMMISSIONERS

(MR. W. G. GUNN, WALKERTON, ONT., AND M. G. MCLEOD, NEWHAVEN.)

Through a letter of introduction procured for us by the High Commissioner in London, we were courteously shown thro' Messrs. MACONOCHIE BROTHERS' CANNERY, IN SCOTLAND, where some 400 hands are employed. This establishment uses up an immense quantity of Herrings, all of the very best quality. The greatest care is exercised in the selection of these fish; they are put up in 1-lb. tins; Herrings put up this way are very delicious, many people preferring them to canned salmon. The girls who clean these Herrings and put them up do their work very rapidly. The Herrings canned at this establishment are sold in Great Britain, exported to the East Indies, Australia, and the Cape. After we had gone over the establishment in question, we were treated to the contents of a can of Herrings, and can truly testify that we never before tasted anything in the Herring line so delicious and fine flavored.

We are Advertised by our Loving Friends

We fully appreciate the efforts that are being made by our friends to advertise our Eureka Coffee. We hardly know how to express our gratitude, as our increased sales are far beyond our expectations. A little more boom, and we shall be obliged to run our mills overtime. They forgot, however, to say that the reason we can sell at such a low price is: We import, roast and grind our own goods; our tins are made under our special supervision; our plant and staff of experts are of the finest that can be procured, and we do not have to pay a handsome profit to an outsider to produce our goods; our price is low and quality unequalled; and there's money in it for you.

We leave the advertising of Eureka Coffee to those who have so kindly undertaken it, and beg to call your attention to our new line—"Delicatine"—which makes its bow to the trade for the first time on Monday next. See our travelers and next issue of THE GROCER for full particulars.

There's Money In It

THINKS IT IS HORSE SENSE.

EDITOR CANADIAN GROCER,—There is a deal of horse sense in the way in which the proprietors of "Crushed Mocha and Java coffee" (save the mark!) have brought to light the deception practised upon us poor, simple retailers in admitting this quack decoction into our stores, and every retailer will acknowledge, I feel sure, that we used anything but common sense when we permitted this article to be forced upon us—to be sold in our stores upon our reputation. A moment's reflection would have convinced us that, at the price of this article, it could not possibly contain any Java or Mocha coffee, for both of these coffees are quoted in THE CANADIAN GROCER respectively 35 and 36c. per pound, whole roasted. Stop! perhaps I am mistaken. Let's see. One of your advertisers claim that their competitor's mixture cannot be genuine, because they offer it at 20c. per pound, and throw in a can worth 35c., which reduces the price of their mixture to 15c. per pound. While they claim that theirs is genuine, because they charge 22c. per lb. for their mixture, and their can is worthless when empty, we know that similar cans put out by other firms are chargeable at 50 and 60c. each, and are returnable at that price; deduct this amount for the can, and also a profit of 5c. per pound for the middleman (the wholesaler) we then find that both "office boys" not only look like twins, but are in reality twin brothers, and it is just a question whether these twins ought not to come under the law and be punished under the Adulteration Act. However, they have, in calling each other down, opened the eyes of some of us simpletons to the fact that such quack decoctions are not needed, nor suitable, for building up a reputation for first-class goods.

A RETAILER.

Toronto, March 11, 1895.

CANADA AS A TEA DRINKER.

EDITOR CANADIAN GROCER,—That tea drinking is on the increase in Canada is becoming more apparent every day, and one of the most corroborative signs of our assertion is the enormous amount of advertising engaged in by some of the leading British houses, in the trade journals and daily press. Canada now, strange as the assertion may appear, is, among the nations of the world, fifth in rank in the consumption of tea, and, definitely speaking, according to the latest report furnished by A. G. Stanton, of Gow, Wilson & Stanton, London, our consumption per capita is about 4 lbs., while Great Britain takes 5½, Australia nearly 8 lbs., New Zealand 7¼, and Newfoundland nearly 4½, and, as compared with the United States, our consumption is three times as great per capita, our southern cousins consuming only 1½ lbs. Mr. Stanton's report gives the figures obtainable up to 1892, in which latter year Canada imported 22,718,181 lbs. of all kinds of tea, quite a respectable amount for 5,000,000 people, and it is fair to assume that the consumption in 1893 and 1894 was at least 5,000,000 more, as the increase between 1890 and 1892 was over 4,250,000 lbs.

It is a matter of congratulation, from a mercantile standpoint, that Canada ranks so high in the tea statistics of the world, and it is a still further matter for congratulation that the consumption of British grown teas is in the ascendant, and it will be but a matter of a decade when China teas will obtain as little recognition here as they are receiving in Great Britain at present. In the year 1878, when China's maximum consumption was reached in Great Britain, the figures totalled 126,652,000 lbs., while the imports in 1894 reached the insignificant total of 25,805,313 lbs., not as much as Canada's tea consumption in the same year. On the other hand, the consumption of Indian and Ceylon teas rose from 36,744,000 in 1878, to 188,535,731 lbs.

It is not our object to review or comment on the causes that led to the decline of China's tea trade, as the reasons are ap-

A SUCCESSFUL KIRKFIELD MAN.

Arch. McKenzie, general merchant, Kirkfield, was in Toronto a few days ago on a purchasing trip. Mr. McKenzie has leased for a term of years a large flour and grist mill in Kirkfield. The mill has a capacity of 75 barrels of flour per day, and for several months in the year Mr. McKenzie and his "mill" partner, Joseph Staples, intend running the mill at full time, which will mean a large output of first-class roller flour, thus being a great boon to the immediate vicinity and surrounding country. Mr. McKenzie does one of the largest businesses north of Toronto, keeping constantly on hand a first-class stock of groceries, dry goods and boots and shoes, together with his flour, grist, saw and planing mills. He buys grain for the Toronto market and farm produce for the Montreal market, and ships same in car lots in season.

FIRE DID NOT BOTHER THEM.

The three big fires which recently visited Toronto well tested the safes and vaults which happened to be in the different places destroyed. J. & J. Taylor, the well-known safe manufacturers, had no less than 44 safes and vaults in these three fires, and, hot as they were, in every instance the contents came out in first-class condition. Comment is unnecessary.

MANITOBA BUTTER.

Alex. McDonald, of Winnipeg, has made a large shipment of butter to London, England. A portion of the consignment belonged to Messrs. Richardson & Lovee, of Carman, the whole lot making one carload. The butter is of the best dairy class and if it reaches the old country in proper condition should command a good market. The shipment is being made as an experiment and with a view of finding a profitable outlet for Manitoba butter.

A new general store was opened up in Cobocok a couple of weeks ago. A. B. H. Carl is the proprietor.

Ross Bros., of Mount Albert, have bought out a general stock in Woodville, and intend continuing business there.

J. S. Boddy & Bro., general merchants, Bradford, are now settled down in their new premises, which are highly spoken of by the travelers.

D. McEachren, of Clifford, put the cash system into operation at beginning of the year. "He reports it to be very satisfactory," said L. Chapman, of T. Kinnear & Co. "It is the proper way to do business, anyhow."

Hiram Walker & Sons propose erecting at Walkerville, Ont., an immense tobacco factory. Estimates for the cost of construction and machinery are now being prepared.

Immense cold storage warehouses have been built and equipped at Manchester, Eng., as part of the ship canal enterprise. The originators of the scheme hope to attract meat, fish, game, poultry, eggs, butter, cheese, etc., from all parts of the British Empire.

From a merchant who tells of the benefits of the Computing Scale that saves in a few months more than the scale costs.

MESSRS. MILLS & Co.,

Chicago, Ill :

GENTLEMEN,—We are pleased to be able to testify to the benefit we have derived from the use of the Computing Scale purchased from Mr. Marcuse last June. It was represented to us as a "money-saver," and we have found it to be not only a "money-saver" but a "time-saver." The best evidence that we can give as to the "actual" worth of the scale is the fact of us having today ordered another one.

WORLD'S FAIR AWARDS.

The Dominion Dairy Commissioner has received a communication from Mr. A. T. Britton, acting chairman of the Executive Committee on Awards for the World's Columbian Commission, in which he states that the Act of Congress of August 5th, 1892, made appropriation to pay for the preparation of the medals and diplomas to the honorable Secretary of the Treasury direct, and that therefore the Executive Committee on Awards is without responsibility in the matter until the same are delivered to them for distribution to the successful exhibitors. The diplomas are being prepared at the bureau of engraving and printing, and the medals are being struck off under the supervision of the director of the mint. It has been unofficially stated that the medals will be completed about May or June next. It has also been intimated "that the medals and diplomas will differ radically from the stereotyped form of medals and diplomas which have hitherto been issued by authorities of expositions. Each diploma granted to an exhibitor at the World's Columbian Exposition is to contain a report of the individual judge as ratified by the Departmental Committee, showing the specific points of excellence and advancement possessed by the exhibit upon which such diploma is issued, and the medal which will accompany the diplomas will bear upon its face the name of the exhibitor to whom it is issued. Thus the diploma and medal will possess a higher and greater intrinsic value than those of the stereotyped form hitherto employed."

DECLINE IN IMPORTS.

There has been a heavy fall in British imports from Canada. During the month of February they declined from £49,457, the figures of the corresponding period of last year, to £25,266. For the two months of this year the decline has been from £222,506 (last year's figures) to £103,393. The largest declines in February were in fish and wood, the former dropping £6,200, and the latter £15,200, as compared with last year. Cheese, however, increased £6,000.

SURPRISING FAILURE.

A great surprise in commercial circles is the assignment of the old firm of W. B. Clark & Sons, general storekeepers and wharfingers, of Sarnia. The firm was rated for about $100,000, and was supposed to have assets away above that figure. It occupied one of the finest blocks in Canada, and owned nearly all the wharves of Sarnia. It also controlled the ferry line until lately. The trouble is caused by carrying too much real estate, but the assets are far in advance of liabilities. Trade debts amount only to $17,000. The creditors are chiefly in Glasgow.

CANADIAN PEACHES LED.

I had to "hurrah" for Canada again the other day. It was up in the office and sample room of the Selling Committee of the Canadian Packers' Association. There were about a dozen packers present, and one of them, I think it was Mr. Flynn, of St. Catharines, had sent out on the street and bought a tin each of California peaches and cherries and opened them up alongside Canadian packs. There were two kinds of Canadian peaches, one from a cannery in the Niagara peninsula and the other from a cannery in Montreal, but both containing peaches produced in the Niagara district. As far as size is concerned, the Canadian peach is "not in it" with the California article, but when it comes to flavor and appearance the California peach is "not in it" with the Canadian, although the former was what is known as the lemon cling variety. In flavor, the Canadian embodied all the richness of the peach in its natural state, while on going from it to the Californian quite an insipidness and lack of flavor was noticeable compared with the home product. In cherries there was the same difference in size in favor of the California article, but in flavor there was not as marked a difference as in the peaches, although there, too, the preference must be given to the Canadian fruit. It was pointed out to me that although the Canadian and the American peaches were both 3's, the former was a half-pound heavier than the latter.

The Armour Canning Company will fight the oleomargarine laws of New York. It remains to be seen whether they are proof against the law.

The manufacturers of a certain commodity, sold in both Canada and the United States, made an agreement with the jobbers in Brooklyn, whereby a fine of $25 was to be imposed on any of the latter selling to department stores. The other day two houses were found guilty of breaking the agreement, and were compelled to pay the stipulated fine, which was subsequently handed over to the Brooklyn Retail Grocers' Association. The discovery was made through an ingenious system of numbering the packages of the article in question.

A Hamilton firm has instituted proceedings against the G.T.R. for the recovery of alleged overcharge in freight rates. They are to be commiserated. Those who have traveled the journey before have found the way rough and the results unsatisfactory.

English editors and lawyers, who, above all men, should know better, have a well-known penchant for putting Canada and things Canadian into almost every part of the world but the right one. In order to complete their cycle of foolishness, the aforesaid Hull lawyers should have finally located Kettleby somewhere in England.

Two Toronto grocers were respectively plaintiff and defendant, a few days ago, in a unique case. They are doing business near each other. The one was advertising 32 lbs. of granulated sugar for $1. The other thought he would like to get a little at that price, and accordingly purchased a dollar's worth. When he weighed his purchase he found it lacked 4 lbs. of its stipulated weight. He of the first part asserted that it was due to a mistake of one of his clerks, and offered to make the weight right.

But he of the second part would have nothing but the law. When, however, the case actually reached the court, the plaintiff relented. At all events, he withdrew the case, and agreed to take the 4 lbs. of sugar instead of revenge.

A GRIEVANCE OF BROKERS.

EDITOR GROCER,—If it's a fair question, "How much were you paid by the Brokers' Guild of Front street for that editorial last week?" If I didn't know that you were "unapproachable" and are not an alderman who can be "seen," I should say you must have been pretty well oiled to present the case of the unfortunate brokers in such a heartrending light. The poor brokers! We all know their time is valuable, there is such a rush in wholesale groceries at present, such an enormous amount of business doing that they want to make hay while the sun shines.

Time is money! True, and your arguments are very good and convincing from the brokers' standpoint; but permit me to state a few words in behalf of a class of people whose time is also valuable. I mean the unfortunate clerks in the various wholesale groceries who have to dance attendance upon this much abused fraternity. I have nothing to say about the shortcomings of some of our employers, for no doubt there are many very guilty of the crimes alleged by you, and besides, the employers are quite able to defend themselves.

Now as to the clerks and brokers: Has it ever struck these latter gentlemen that they come down to work at all hours, ranging from 9, 9:30 to 10 and 10:30, while the clerks have to be at their posts from 8 and 8:30, and then I won't say all of them are guilty of this, but I know one or two who are) when the clerks are getting ready to go home at 6 o'clock, in pops the broker with his teas and other samples, and some of the clerks must remain to draw the tea, wash the cups and clean up generally. There is one distinguished broker who is habitually guilty of this act, I don't know whether he stays late to steal a march on his fellow brokers or not, but for downright inconsiderateness he is entitled to "the cake."

There are a number of brokers, I am pleased to state, who show some consideration for their customers' clerk's time, and I do not believe that they do any the less business by giving the clerks a chance to get their work properly out, in fact, such considerate brokers are apt to receive the goodwill of the staffs and many gentle business hints.

I often wonder why they bother the merchants so much. If they have a good thing, and present it in the right light, the merchant won't be long in buying; but some of these gentlemen wander around in such a shiftless, happy-go-lucky way, that I am tempted to go and join the gang. There must be money in it, or there wouldn't be so many in it willing to dance attendance on the wholesale grocers.

However, take them all in all, they are a fine lot of gentlemen, and worthy of the prompt attention of the trade, and I hope that your very lucid article in their behalf will have its effect on the wholesale grocers. If it does, the poor sample-room clerks will be able to get their work out in good time and order.

A VICTIM.

Toronto, March 18, 1895.

REPLY TO "A RETAILER."

EDITOR GROCER,—In your issue of March 15 a letter from "Retailer" under the heading of "Horse Sense" reads to me like a letter from that long-eared animal, inasmuch as he misrepresents the case in question. He is made to say that the middleman receives 5c. lb. on the Java and Mocha mixture. Note: Each can of 25 and 50 lbs. reads "mixture." As a matter of fact 2c. per lb., or 10 per cent., profit to the wholesaler in these times of close competition is considered good. As to tin being worth or chargeable at 50 to 60c., he is mistaken, or possibly is a novice in the trade. Tins containing 25 lbs. are worth 25c., containing 50 lbs. 50c., making the original Java and Mocha coffee mixture cost 19c., tin free, or a gross profit of 10 per cent. I trust "Retailer" will do as I have done, buy a tin of 25 lbs., sample it, and repeat six times in as many weeks. Customers like it; it's a splendid mixture and good value.

ANOTHER RETAILER.

EMANATIONS FROM THE CRANK.

THAT Simpson fire kept me from writing last week. You see I was so busy filling the orders of my credit customers who couldn't go to Simpson's to spend their ready cash. Result: My book accounts are pegging along now under an extra load. How many of my city brethren were in the same box?

* * *

My, how short-lived was our fancied security from competition with this departmental store! Here is another branch started lower down town and doing an enormous trade in teas, coffees, baking powder, spices, cocoas and kindred articles, on which we make a good profit. Just "bide a wee," we'll see him in canned goods next, then small fruits, then pickles and sauces, and finally we'll be in the tureen once more. What's the use of kickin' anyway, we can't change matters in this line except putting our Retail Association in touch with the detective department and keep tab on all such of our credit customers as carry their cash to these big shops and book their general orders with us. Let's try it on once, and you'll be surprised at your friends who shop down town.

* * *

Do you know, Mr. Editor, we smaller retail grocers are largely to blame for the cutting these big stores are doing. How? you say. I'll tell you. I am called upon regularly by so-called brokers and manufacturers' agents to "buy direct," save middlemen's profits, and plausibly told that I am buying as cheaply as Simpson or Eaton, etc., and it's quite a favor for me to get the goods in this way. Now, I am not young and green any more and I can see through a brick wall about as far as the average grocer or broker, but I know for a fact that I do not buy as close as these big stores though I pay cash, because I am undersold every day in the very lines I buy in this way, showing clearly that the broker gives the big guns a cut under me. We can lay for these brokers and when we catch them in the trick simply fire them (if they are not too big)

* * *

Take coffees, spices and baking powders, for instance. I believe every grocer in this city knows that we are dropping out of these lines fast through the work of these big "butcher shops," and yet we buy from the very men who supply these big guns with their powder and shot to kill us off. It's a shame, sir; a downright shame. But how are we going to stop it? Spot these guerrillas and let them understand we won't buy from them at all.

* * *

Same with teas. Now, you know we are continually drummed up on this tea question, and if we don't know anything about "direct from the gardens to the pot, perfection of English breakfast teas," skilfully blended, etc., etc., it isn't the fault of our friends down street, and still these very men and houses pack the teas for the big stores, and people run from the Humber and Scarborough Heights to buy these package teas from them, while we—well, we probably lend them a car ticket to go up town. Pshaw, I'm disgusted with the way we retailers manage things. No wonder J. G. Gibson won't work with us any more. He's the only up-and-at-'em fighter we have in the whole outfit, barrin' Mills and barrin' Barron.

SALES OF NEW CROP MOLASSES.

CONTRARY to expectations, the Barbadoes molasses market in Montreal has developed an easier tendency since Saturday last.

At the beginning of February everyone expected to see a strong opening on new crop molasses this spring, but from indications matters are not shaping this way at present. There is a chance, therefore, of disappointment to some jobbers who went in and bought molasses pretty heavily during the latter part of January and throughout February.

The stock of molasses on spot this winter was not admittedly heavy, and on this ground there were buyers who believed that the goods were a purchase at 30c. and over.

Since then the demand was well maintained, and some good profits have been realized, round lots selling as high as 34c., and afterwards being turned over at that.

Then, to strengthen matters still further, came reports of crop damages in the islands, the crop being placed 50 per cent. short, and holders of molasses naturally took a rosy view of the situation.

Nothing occurred to disturb them in this belief until Friday of last week. Then a leading Montreal sales agent placed the first cargo lots of new crop Barbadoes to arrive there at 30c. laid down.

After two or three orders had been placed on this basis, another agent offered goods at a cut of 2c. laid down, viz., 28c., and of course this had its influence on the tone of the market. There was not, it is understood, however, any explicit specifications as to quality, while the 30c. lots are to arrive via Portland, and the 28c. not until after navigation opens.

WORK UP EASTER TRADE.

Is the Easter trade made as much of as it could be? In some places, and in some trades, it is; in others not. There is, perhaps, in Montreal a larger opportunity for expanding this special trade, because the festival is one widely celebrated by the people. But there is no reason why Easter trade should be confined to the supplies of food and to the dealers who show enterprise in getting Easter nicknacks.

The tendency everywhere is to keep the Easter holidays, both as a social and religious event, and it is a time when money is spent.

One would hardly think that the crockery trade would develop a special Easter business, but one house reports a satisfactory record during each successive season. The Easter trade is capable of indefinite expansion if work is done on the right lines.

It must, to a certain extent, take the form of meeting wants and wishes peculiarly associated with Easter; some inventive genius is required; thought will have to be given to the character of local demand. But no business can be enlarged without these qualities, and in other provinces as well as Quebec there is room for steady enlargement of the Easter trade.

A CUSTOMS BOARD WANTED.

The Montreal Board of Trade has pledged itself by adopting the report of its committee to unite with other boards in urging the Federal Government to establish a Customs Board of Experts. The committee recommended that Parliament be petitioned; that an effort be made to have the petition numerously signed amongst the business community of the city; that thereafter it be endorsed by the Montreal Council, and also that copies be sent to the various Boards of Trade in Canada with the request to obtain signatures, and that at a suitable time the several petitions be endorsed by the respective Boards of Trade and immediately presented to the Government.

This is a matter that THE CANADIAN GROCER has heartily endorsed before, and it sincerely trusts that the efforts of the united Boards of Trade of the Dominion will have the effect desired.

WHY SO BUSY?

CONSEQUENTLY, we are flooded with Orders, but we are equal to the occasion, and all orders are receiving prompt attention. Is your order placed? If not, get it in at once.

WILL BE NO TEA INSPECTORS.

THERE are a large number of applicants for the positions of Government tea inspectors, but they will all be disappointed. The Government has no intention of making any such appointments.

Hon. Clarke Wallace, Controller of Customs, has taken up the matter personally. He knows the tea trade thoroughly himself, and has decided that the analytical test that was first applied is not a satisfactory one.

The teas which were seized he will allow to be exported instead of confiscated, the law giving him discretionary power to do so.

If, however, importers persist in bringing these inferior grades in after this warning not to do so he will confiscate them.

For the future he will apply the ordinary trade methods of testing the purity and quality of importations by drawing the samples.

The work will be done under his personal supervision by his present staff without any increased expenditure being necessary.

UNIFORM CUSTOMS CHARGES.

From time to time the attention of the trade and of the Customs department has been drawn in these columns to the different rates at which goods were passed at the various ports in Canada. In Montreal an article would be entered for duty at 10 or 15 per cent., while on exactly the same kind of article two or three times as much would be charged in Toronto or some other port. In other instances Toronto or another port was cheaper than Montreal.

With such a difference in the duty, importers at the favored port have been able to undersell their competitors in every part of Canada.

Complaints were made but no attention was paid to them; and in some instances importers at the non-favored points had to give up the sale of the article or else they would pass them at the favored port and pay the difference in freight.

This was done extensively in one article, on which the duty was equal to $2 per cwt. in Montreal and Ottawa, and $4 everywhere else.

Recently Controller Wallace took the matter up in a business-like manner and put on a staff of six clerks, who occupy their time in checking entries. The chief checker has been made responsible that the same rate of duty is charged at every port. He devotes his attention almost entirely to Montreal and Toronto entries, every one of which must pass through his hands.

In the past numerous complaints have been made by the trade to this paper about these entries. Should any arise in future we would like to hear from those having the grievance.

THE EARLY CLOSING QUESTION.

It was a good move on the part of the Toronto Retail Grocers' Association to enlist the co-operation of the Trades and Labor Council in the movement for shorter hours of business.

The one represents the great army of sellers and the other the greater army of buyers. But both have sympathies in common in a movement for shorter hours. The one wants to keep his store open fewer hours and the other wants to labor fewer hours.

The joint circular which it was decided to draw up will, no doubt, bear some fruit. How much and how soon the fruit will appear depend on the zeal of the parties to the circular.

At any rate, it is to be hoped that the grocers will meet with better success in this particular effort than they have with any of their predecessors aiming at shorter business hours.

They have failed in legislative efforts, they have failed in co-operative efforts. And although the present scheme augurs better fortune, it will go the way of all others unless each storekeeper depends more upon himself and cares less for what his rival does.

Early closing will only develop in proportion as business men act independently of each other—close because they want to do so.

MAMMOTH DEPARTMENTAL STORE

In spite of the opposition to departmental stores, the development of these modern day octopuses is not yet stayed.

In Chicago there is just now nearing completion a store mammoth in its proportions and unique in some of its proposed departments.

It will occupy almost an entire block, being 360 feet in length, by 145 feet deep. It will be seven storeys, and have 252 windows in the front. While a portion of the building will be open for business in a few weeks, the whole store will not be finished for another year. A. M. Rothschild & Co. are the proprietors.

Food and raiment, in fact all human necessities, will be carried in stock. But even the sick this new department store will take care of; yes, and babies too. There is to be a hospital with attendant physician for persons who may be taken ill in the establishment, and a nursery where mothers can check their offspring.

The building will be provided with 14 elevators. The interior will be lighted with 480 arc and 2,040 incandescent lamps. An electric tower with 2,930 electric lights, at night constantly assuming various hues, will be one of the attractions of the building. At the start alone 2,200 hands will be employed.

People may well ask: Where will this department store development end?

ARBITRARY INSURANCE MEN.

PEOPLE will countenance associations of manufacturers, business men, insurance men, etc., as long as the actions of such organizations are confined within certain limits.

Let them go beyond these; let them become arbitrary, unjust, or attempt to interfere with the liberty of the subject, and trouble ensues.

There is then a danger of these organizations being deprived of the right to do the good they might do, besides being shorn of the power to do the wrong they essayed to do.

The Fire Underwriters' Association is an organization in which is reposed the possibility of doing much good.

But lately it has been too conscious of its strength, and from all over the country for some time past have come reports of arbitrary increases in fire insurance rates on business property.

If in times past they could make money—and they did—surely they should do so now. Unlike the price of everything else, however, the price of insurance is going up.

But it is in Toronto that the insurance men have been exercising the maximum of their arbitrary power. The losses entailed by conflagrations that visited the city no doubt gave them some pretext for increasing the rates, but it should not be forgotten that, in view of the light losses and goodly profits of the past few years, they could afford to stand a little extra bleeding.

Then all the onus for the inefficiency in Toronto's fire brigade does not lie with the aldermen. The insurance men refused some years ago to contribute to the support of the salvage corps which, in consequence, became defunct. And in the efforts that have been made since then to resuscitate the corps they have again and again assumed a negative position, although obviously they are the ones to gain the most by the existence of such an institution.

But it is not so much in the advancing of insurance rates that the insurance people have been playing the autocrat.

The greatest sin chargeable against them is the impunity with which they have cancelled and threatened to cancel policies.

A policy is a promise to pay; and in consequence as sacred as a bond. It is a bond. To break it without just cause is dishonorable, is unjust.

If the underwriters do not have a care they will be shorn of their strength, for people are in no mood these days to tolerate arbitrary and unjust combinations.

FRUIT DIRECT TO CANADA.

THE import fruit trade direct from the Mediterranean to the St. Lawrence this season promises to be as large as last.

The fact that this trade is a permanency is indicated by the reports already received in Montreal of the expected arrivals of two, perhaps more, steamers soon after the opening of navigation. The Fremona, now loading, is due about May 1st, and the Avlona may be in Montreal about ten days later.

There are also reports of other steamers, one by Bonano Bros., to load at once, and Fillain, Mitchell & Co., New York, another, for the St. Lawrence route.

It is early yet to state with certainty whether the Montreal market will really have as many consignments as these reports seem to foreshadow, though it is to be desired that while the trade should be encouraged, it should not be overdone.

The fruit steamers to the St. Lawrence are much larger than those to New York, and, consequently, a fewer number meet present requirements. The direct shipments to Montreal for continental sale have passed the experimental stage, thanks to the enterprise of the Canadian shippers, and are now on a good basis.

To attract buyers to Canada, and make the trade profitable to all concerned, is no slight task, and the efforts thus far put forth have met expectations.

The possibility of the arrival of several steamers with large consignments at the beginning of the season, and not at intervals throughout the year, is not looked upon in the trade with great favor, as shipments might, in such an event, be heavier than the immediate demand would warrant.

It is, however, believed that buyers were well satisfied with their visits to Montreal last year, and the outlook for the season about to open is excellent.

If frost reports from Florida are to be relied on, the Mediterranean shippers in oranges will exceed those in lemons. It would not be surprising to see 140,000 to 150,000 cases consigned via the St. Lawrence this season.

THE TERMS MUST BE CANADA'S.

Newfoundland is knocking for admission to the Dominion Confederation. She is poor and needy, and desires to come under Canada's wing because she can no longer exist alone.

Under such conditions one would naturally look for humility on the part of the suppliant. But not so with Newfoundland.

Bankrupt and all as she is, the consciousness of self-importance has not departed from her. For condescending to become a partner of the Dominion she demands a tunnel under the Straits of Belle Isle, or that the island railway be completed to Belle Isle with ferry connection with railway to Quebec; that $900,000 be granted for mail service, the administration of justice, interest on the public debt, $1,000,000 for use of local government and civil service department.

There is no hinging of this. Were a Rip Van Winkle to awake at the moment and read these terms he would at once conclude that Canada was seeking Newfoundland, instead of the case being vice versa.

In business it is not usual for a solvent to take an insolvent into partnership, and certainly not to pay him to come in.

Canada is unconcerned as to whether Newfoundland comes into the Confederation or not. If she does come in it must be on Canada's terms, not on her own.

TO PREVENT FRAUDULENT SALES.

The Ontario Government is considering the advisability of introducing legislation to prevent sales of merchants' stocks-in-trade with intent to defraud creditors.

This fact came out in the House Monday last, when the Government was queried regarding the matter, Sir Oliver Mowat replying that, as his attention had only been called to the subject within the last few days, he had so far only been able to consider it.

One thing is certain, the law as it now stands is not rigid enough to prevent the consummation of sales of the character named. Evidences of that crop up frequently. There should certainly be some law to prevent a man from selling out his stock to-night and absconding with the proceeds the next morning.

If creditors had the power to impeach a sale within, say, a week of its taking place, the desideratum would probably be secured, publicity of the sale in the meantime having been made.

THE WATTERS CASE.

THE trade generally were very much surprised at the willingness with which Mr. Watters, the ex-Assistant Commissioner of Customs, charged with mis-appropriating less than $200, agreed to compromise with a year's imprisonment for this paltry offence.

It was explained that it was simply an error in book-keeping, and that the sum had been made good as soon as the error was discovered.

The Government was condemned for the severity of the sentence they asked the magistrate to impose. The fact is, that neither Mr. Watters nor the Government had any desire to investigate further the affairs of this department.

According to the talk about the Parliament buildings, the misappropriations of moneys in the Customs Department will easily exceed $100,000, of which Mr. Watters only received a portion. There are others equally guilty. One gentleman alone on one deal made $20,000. There is much quiet fun poked at the auditor-general—a capable man, who seldom lets anything pass him—for not having discovered some of these irregularities.

Another feature which was not gone into is one to which we have several times drawn attention: that of Customs officials obtaining goods from importers. They nominally buy the goods on credit from wholesale importers or simply help themselves when goods are passing through, or they go to the warehouses and ask for them. It is alleged that Mr. Watters bought goods in this way from wholesale houses in different parts of Canada. In this respect he is no worse than many others. An honorable importer dare not object, while dishonorable firms encourage it because they can thus get favors worth thousands of dollars annually.

The arrest and conviction of Mr. Watters shows the wisdom of putting business men in the Government. An inexperienced man must depend largely upon his assistants, often themselves without the necessary training.

An experienced business man, such as Hon. Mr. Wallace, will not allow his deputies to run things. He will know the why and wherefore of everything. He will not take chances on anything. This is why he has made a success of his Controldership of Customs.

The developments in this case also show the necessity of a Dominion Board of Appraisers, such as they have in the States. With such an organization, importers are independent of the whims of local appraisers, and they need not fear that importers at other points can get goods in at lower rates.

CLOSE CRANBERRY SEASON.

It is said that J. L. Haycock, the Patron leader in the Ontario Legislature, proposes to introduce a bill allowing Township Councils to fix a close season for cranberries in wild lands.

The idea is a good one. Before the cranberries are half ripe people rush in and gather them; and in this condition they are shipped to the commercial centres where they are an eyesore to dealers and an offence to consumers.

The Dominion Government during the last session of Parliament raised the duty on cranberries to 25 per cent. It was 30c. per bushel before. And if the growers or gatherers of cranberries do nothing to help themselves they do not deserve the protection of a tariff, a high one particularly.

Some such law as Mr. Haycock is said to have in view should be enacted.

HOGS AND HOG PRODUCTS.

The spring run of hogs that was looked for by the dealers has failed to materialize this season, and it now looks as if there is no pork in the country. Indeed, most jobbers now acknowledge that the receipts of hogs will continue light until the factory hogs come forward in the summer.

Many dealers who expected the usual run of hogs put off laying in the usual supply. Now they realize that there are no hogs in the country, and are anxious buyers at very much advanced prices.

It is further understood that the stocks of hog products in the hands of dealers at present are smaller than they have been at the same season for some years back. When all these things are considered it is no wonder that the prices of hogs and hog products have gone up, and are still rising. Further advances are looked for by those who profess to understand the situation.

SALMON SITUATION.

Late advices from Liverpool indicate that there is nothing fresh as to prices and no changes in the prospects for the new season's shipments. It is not anticipated that values will go lower in the near future, but it is practically certain that unless some new element turns up to influence the market prices will not improve for some time to come. The usual preparations are going on at the canneries for this season's pack. It is expected that there will be four new canneries in operation this season—three on the Fraser river and one at Rivers Inlet.

An exchange recently stated that: "The canned salmon market in Montreal is quiet and unchanged, but an interesting feature is a decided scarcity of supplies. Not only are there short supplies here, but the catch last year was less than that of 1893, and there is hardly sufficient stock on hand to carry customers along until the next pack. No new stock can be laid down here under $5.20, and owing to this condition of affairs, an advance in price shortly would not surprise some Montreal holders."

One of the leading Victoria canning agents stated that if this was the case, however, buyers do not as yet respond, for his firm holds a few carloads of first quality Fraser river canned salmon in the leading trade centres of Eastern Canada, and that offers made to buyers meet with no response. Salmon has recently been sold for $4.25 per case, but is now generally held for $4.50 per case f.o.b. coast.—B. C. Commercial Journal.

THE EGG MARKET.

The egg market has been very erratic this season. Two weeks ago a small famine really existed, but it lasted only a few days. Eggs sold then as high as 25c. a dozen, but they soon took a downward course, and, within a few days declined to 12c. The arrival of fresh eggs this spring has been unprecedented, for this season of the year. The low prices have, of course, been attended by a tremendous increase in consumption, and the result is that the market has firmed up again, so that eggs are now bringing 13 to 14c. It is likely that they will remain in the neighborhood of that figure for some time to come.

MARKETS AND MARKET NOTES

TORONTO MARKETS.

TORONTO, March 21, 1895.

GROCERIES.

BUSINESS is getting more active, but it is by slow and easy stages. There is usually something to interfere with the movement of merchandise. Just now it is the condition of the country roads, and judging from reports, they are in a pretty bad condition. In spite of all the conservative buying and the low prices one hears so much about, the volume of trade so far this year is, speaking in dollars, larger than for the corresponding period of 1894. This is gratifying. The most unsatisfactory feature of trade is payments. There is a temporary lull in the demand for vegetables, although there is still a fair business doing, but the situation is still strong. Gallon apples are still attracting attention. Salmon is in fair demand. Fresh shipments of green Rio coffee are on the market. Rice is in good demand and firm at the mills. In spices the feature to be noted is a firmer feeling in black pepper. Sugar is without material change. There is a fair demand for medium, low grade Japan and black teas. In foreign dried fruits the most important thing to note is an advance of another 1s. in Bosnia prunes.

CANNED GOODS.

The position continues strong, although jobbers are not experiencing as active a demand as they did a week ago for tomatoes, peas and corn. Business in these lines is, however, fair, even if it is not quite so brisk as the trade anticipated. There are a good many gallon apples moving, but demand for fruits generally is only fair. Salmon is in fair demand, but a good deal of the turnover in this line is composed of cheap lines. We quote: Tomatoes, 87½ to 90c. for choice and 85c. for inferior and old stock; corn, 90 to 95c. for choice and 87½c. for common; peas, 82½ to 87½c. for ordinary and $1.40 for fancy; peaches, $2.75 to $3 for 3's, $1.75 to $1.90 for 2's; raspberries, $1.65 to $1.80; strawberries, $1 to $2.10; apples, 3's, $1 to $1.10, gallons $2.10 to $2.25, and preserved fancy quarters at $1.35 to $1.40; salmon, $1.45 to $1.50 for good red fish in tall tins, and $1.60 to $1.65 in flat tins; do., second quality, $1.15 to $1.25; canned mackerel, $1 to $1.10; lobsters, $1.70 to $2 for tall tins, and $2.25 to $2.75 for flat tins. Australian mutton, boiled, 2 lb. cans, $3.40; ditto, corned and roast, $3.75.

COFFEE.

There is a better supply of green Rio coffee on this market, fresh shipments having arrived during the past week. Demand is light. We quote green in bags: Rio, 20½ to 22½c.; East Indian, 27 to 30c.; South American, 21 to 23c.; Santos, 21½ to 22½c.; Java, 28 to 33c.; Mocha, 30 to 35c.; Maracaibo, 21 to 23c.; Jamaica, 21 to 25c.

RICE.

There is a great deal of rice going out, principally at 3½c. per lb. We quote as before: "B," 3½ to 3¾c.; extra Japan, 5¼ to 5¾c.; imported Japan, 5¾ to 6¼c.; tapioca, pearl, 4½ to 5c.

SPICES.

Black pepper is firmer in the outside markets. In New York there has been an advance of about 1c. per lb. The price of pepper has been very low for some time. The local spice trade is quiet. We quote: Pure black pepper, 10 to 12c.; pure white, 18 to 25c.; pure Jamaica ginger, 25 to 27c.; cloves, 15 to 45c.; pure mixed spice, 25 to 30c.; cream of tartar, 20 to 25c. per lb.

NUTS.

There is no change in the situation, prices being unchanged and business quiet. We quote: Brazil nuts, 11 to 11½c.; Sicily shelled almonds, 25 to 26c.; Tarragona almonds, 14 to 14½c.; peanuts, 10 to 12c. for roasted and 7 to 10c. for green; cocoanuts, $4.50 to $5 persack; Grenoble walnuts, 15 to 16c.; Marbot walnuts, 12½ to 14c.; Bordeaux walnuts, 12 to 13c.; Sicily filberts, 9 to 10c. for sacks and 10½ to 11c. for small lots; pecans, 10½ to 11c.

SUGAR.

There has been no material change in the situation. The volume of business is much about the same as a week ago, and there is no change in prices. Cutting is still the unsatisfactory feature of the sugar trade. The refiners, however, will not shade their figures. We quote: Granulated—domestic, $3.40 to $3.50; do., No. 2, 3¼c.; yellows, 2¾c. up. Raw—Demerara, dark, 2¾c.; golden, 3 to 3¼c.; bright, 3½c.

N.Y. Journal of Commerce, March 19: Business in raw sugars is carried on with much the former absence of friction between buyers and sellers. Importers express a considerable measure of confidence in the general outlook, yet hesitate about putting stock away on basis of current valuation and hence the offerings, while carefully made, are fair in comparison with the amounts coming into sight. Demand is not exactly of anxious character, yet appears available where no advance in cost is asked, and stock has been under treaty again to fair extent.

SYRUPS.

There are a few syrups moving, but demand does not appear to be as good as is usual at this season. We quote: Dark, 25c.; medium, 28 to 30c.; bright, 35 to 40c.; very bright, 45 to 50c.

MOLASSES.

Business in molasses is quiet. We quote as follows: New Orleans, barrels, 26 to 28c.; half-barrels, 30¼ to 32c.; Barbadoes, barrels, 28 to 32c.; half-barrels, 30 to 34c.

MARKETS.—Continued

TEAS.

A little better enquiry is reported for high grade Ceylon and Indian teas at from 25 to 35c. per lb. Better quality Japans are being asked for too. The chief demand is, of course, for medium grade Indian, Ceylon and Japan teas, while there are a good many of low grades going out. Moyune Young Hysons and gunpowders of good liquoring quality are scarce and in good demand. Holders of this class of teas are getting good prices. Low grade Japans and blacks, in first hands, are scarce on the spot. Low grade blacks are in fact scarce the world over. We quote ruling prices to retailers: Young Hysons, 12 to 18c. for low grades; 24 to 27c. for mediums, and 30 to 45c. for high grades; China Congous, 14 to 18c. for mediums, and 35 to 55c. for high grades; Japans, 16 to 20c. for mediums, 28 to 35c. for high grades; Indians and Ceylons, 18 to 22c. for mediums, and 30 to 45c. for high grades.

Mail advices under date of London, March 8, say: "During the last few days more attention has been paid to all good and useful liquoring kinds of Indian teas, which in occasional instances marked an advanced price. As is usual at this time of year, a quantity of red and brown teas with inferior liquors were catalogued, and such kinds established lower quotations than have been noticeable for sometime past. The large quantity of Ceylon tea brought forward was represented by nearly 1,000 different samples; it was of course impossible for buyers to give proper attention to the whole of the sale, and consequently much irregularity was noticeable in prices, and where changes occurred they were generally in the downward direction. The only kinds which showed firmness were a few fine liquoring invoices. In order to relieve the pressure occasioned by such large sales, it is proposed to resume holding auctions on Thursdays." The average of public sales prices for the month was 9d. per lb., against 8½d. for the same period last year.

DRIED FRUIT.

Advices from Denia regarding Valencia raisins say that stocks there are considerably under the average, and that with the re-opening of spring business a stronger market is looked for. Demand is still light on the local market. Selected fruit is unusually scarce. We quote: Off-stalk, 3¼ to 3¾c.; fine off-stalk, 4 to 4¾c.; selected, 5½ to 6c.; layers, 5½ to 6c.

Sultana raisins continue firm. There was a transaction during the week at ¾c. advance on a similar sale of a month ago. Prices range from 5¼ to 8½c.

Currants are in fair demand for choice varieties, which are scarce on this market. The ordinary and common kinds are not wanted. We quote: Filiatras, half-barrels, 4 to 4½c.; barrels, 4½c.; fine Filiatras, half-barrels, 4¾c.; barrels, 4¾c.; Patras, 5½c., in cases; Casalinas, 5½ to 6c.; Vostizas, 6½ to 7c. in cases and half cases; Panarettes, 8 to 8½c.

Another advance of 1s. per cwt. is announced by the cable in Bosnia prunes. This is an advance of 3s. 3d. to 3s. 6d. from the lowest point. The cable further said that the market is advancing, with demand good. On the Toronto market demand is still good, while stocks have not been so bare for a long time. We quote: "Sphinx" —"U," 110 to 115 to half kilo, 4¾ to 5c. per lb.; "C," 85 to 90 to half kilo, 6½c. per lb.; "B," 80 to 85 to half kilo, 7 to 7½c. per lb.; "Atlas," —"D," 110 to 115 to half kilo, 4¾ to 5c. per lb.; "Unicorn," 5 to 5½c. Bordeaux prunes, 4½ to 6½c.

Figs are in poor demand, and wholesale holders are making concessions in order to induce buying. We quote nominally: 14 oz., 8 to 9c.; 10 lb., 8 to 10c.; 18 lb., 12c.; 28 lb., 15c.; taps, 4¼ to 4½c.; naturals, 6 to 7c.

Demand continues good for California evaporated fruits. We quote: Peaches, 11 to 13c.; apricots, 11 to 12c.; pears, 10 to 12c. per lb.

BUTTER AND CHEESE.

The trade is now being supplied almost wholly by fresh large roll butter and winter-made creamery. Summer creamery and dairy are, practically, altogether neglected, and are difficult to move at any price. The receipts of large roll butter have been growing larger, and, consequently, prices are a little easier, although no material changes in quotations are yet noticed. We quote: Summer dairy and store packed—Choice, 12 to 15c.; low-grade baking butter, 8 to 10c.; fresh large rolls, 13 to 15c.; pound prints, 16 to 17c. Summer creamery, 12 to 15c. Winter creamery—Tubs, 20 to 21c.; pound prints, 21 to 22c. August and September makes of cheese are quoted at 10½ to 10¾c., and half sizes at 11 to 11½c. Small Silttons are quoted at 12 to 12½c. Market is quiet.

GREEN FRUIT.

Cranberries and grape fruit, like Florida oranges and lemons, are out of the market almost. Apples are firm, and prices generally remain unaltered. We quote: Lemons—Messinas, $2.75 to $3.50. Oranges—Valencias, small crate, $4.25 to $4.50, and Jumbo crates, $5.25 to $5.50; Messinas, $2.75 to $3; California seedlings, $3 to $3.75; California navels, $3.50 to $4. Bananas, $1.50 to $2 for firsts and seconds. Apples, winter fruit, $2.50 to $3.50 per bbl.; common fruit, $1.75 to $2. Grapes—Malagas, $5 to $6.50 per keg. California dried fruit—Apricots, 12½c.; peaches, 13 to 13½c.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

BEANS—Choice hand-picked bring $1.35 to $1.40, and medium grades, $1.15.

DRIED APPLES—Remain firm at 5½ to 6c.

EVAPORATED APPLES—In 50-lb. boxes: 7 to 7½c. per lb.

ONIONS—We quote: Domestic, 75 to 80c. per bag; Spanish, $1 per small crate; Valencia, $3.50 to $4.

HONEY—We quote: Strained, in bulk, 7 to 9c.; comb, 14c. for clover and 10c. for buckwheat.

POTATOES—There seems to be a fair quantity in the country, but the supply is not equal to the demand, and dealers are looking for sellers. Prices remain firm. We quote: 50 to 60c. on the track and 65c. out of store.

POULTRY—Dull. Turkeys bring 12c., geese 7 to 8c., chickens 30 to 75c., ducks 50 to 90c.

EGGS—Fresh eggs are coming in large quantities, but the supply does not yet approach the demand. There are no eggs in the market but new laid, which, just now, seem rather firm at 13 to 14c. a dozen.

FISH AND OYSTERS.

Dealers say that the trade has picked up a bit since last week, and that so far this year the Lenten trade has proven better than that of last year. The prices of fish are unchanged, while oysters remain low. We quote: Salmon trout (frozen), 6½ to 7c.; white fish (frozen), 6½ to 7c.; No. 2 white fish, 4c.; skinned and boned codfish, 6½c.; boneless fish, 3½ to 4c.; market cod, 3 to 5c.; steak cod, 6 to 6½c.; haddock, 4 to 4½c.; Labrador herring, $3.25 to $3.50 per half barrel and $5.50 to $5.75 per barrel; Newfoundland herring, $2.50 per half barrel, and $4.50 to $4.75 per barrel; fresh water salt herring, $3 per bbl.; blue-back herring, 4c.; sea herring (frozen), $1 to $1.25 per 100 fish; blue pickerel, 4 to 5c. lb.; yellow ditto, 6 to 7c. per lb.; mackerel, 14c. each; pike, 3 to 4c. lb.; cod, 6c. per lb.; flitch cod, 5c.; finnan haddies, 6½ to 7c.; Digby herring, in bundles of 5 boxes, 11c.; ditto, lengthwise, 10c.; large halibut, 10 to 13c. Oysters, $1.20 per gallon for standards and $1.50 for selects.

PROVISIONS AND DRESSED HOGS.

Prices are still rising as a result of the shortage in stocks consequent on the over-estimate of the year's hog crop. We quote:

DRESSED HOGS — $5.75 to $6 per 100 lbs.

BACON—Long clear, 7 to 7½c. for carload lots, 7¼ to 7½c. for ton lots and for small lots; breakfast bacon, 10½c.; rolls, 8c.

HAMS—Large, 22 lbs. and over, 9½c.; medium, 15 to 20 lbs., 10c.; small hams, 10½c.; pickled, 9 to 9½c.

LARD—Pure Canadian, tierces, 8c.; tubs, 8¼ to 8½c.; pails, 8½ to 8¾c.

BARREL PORK—Canadian heavy mess, $15; Canadian short-cut, $15.25 to $15.50; clear shoulder mess, $13.50 to $14; shoulder mess, $13 to $13.50.

SALT.

Salt is unchanged in price. A good deal of dairy and table salt is moving. We quote: Barrels, 85c.; coarse sacks, 58c.; fine sacks, 60c.; dairy, $1.25; rock, $9.

A new coffee is being put on the market by Todhunter, Mitchell & Co. It is branded "West India Coffee Siftings," is genuine coffee, and is to be sold at 20c. per lb., either whole or ground. It can be had either in bulk or in 25 or 50 lb. tins. "Pure coffee at 20c. per lb. is something that has been considered impossible heretofore," remarked a member of the firm.

D. Richards, of the Oxford Soap Works, Woodstock, is placing a new $10 box of assorted toilet soaps on the market. A circular to the trade announcing the fact says: "There is nothing in this assortment that will not sell in any grocery or general store, and they range in selling price from 3 cakes for 5c. to 15c. per cake, only one dozen of the latter being in the combination box; at list prices they would cost the grocer $12.10. Thus he gets by buying the assortments 20 per cent. off a $10 purchase."

Attention is drawn to the advertisement on another page of the Mazawattee Ceylon Tea Co., who claim that they now do the largest trade of the kind in the world. Their immense business necessitates the employment of several hundred hands in their warehouses, where they manufacture the tea lead for their packets, besides having a large establishment for printing labels, showcards, and other advertising matter; and the enormous quantity of tea they handle, enables them, it is said, to offer exceptional advantages to the grocer. With extensive and judicious advertising, combined with good quality, they will, no doubt, make these teas as successful in Canada as they have been and still are in the Old Country and other parts of the world.

MONTREAL MARKETS.

MONTREAL, March 21, 1895.

GROCERIES.

THE grocery market continues quiet, on the whole, but is not entirely wanting in interesting features. Demand has been fair, if of a moderate character, for all of the staples, while there have been some large purchases of tea by local jobbers and American buyers. The impression also prevails that sugar values have touched bottom, and an upward tendency is evidenced by the disposition of low-grade yellows. In syrups, no change is to note, but offers of new crop molasses have been made at rather less than the opening ones made on Saturday last, and one cargo lot at least was booked. Coffees and spices are steady, and the same can be said of canned goods, in regard to which some speculation is being indulged by jobbers as to what the opening prices will be. So far, no offers have been received on new pack.

SUGAR.

There has been no change in the sugar market, but there is an impression that prices have seen bottom, or nearly so. For instance, low grade yellows are not obtainable as cheaply as they were a week ago, the very inside price now being 29-16c. to 3½c. as to quality from the refineries in round lots. In granulated, also, there is a disposition to talk higher prices, but it is doubtful if any change will occur this week. The jobbing demand at present is not specially brisk, but the range of values is steady at the range quoted last week, viz., standard granulated, 3½c.; No. 2, 3½c.; yellow, 2½ to 3¼c., as to quality, and Berthier beetroot stock 3½ to 3¼c. as to grade.

SYRUPS.

There has been a good active business in syrups under a brisk jobbing demand for small lots, and prices have ruled steady from first hands at 1½ to 2¼c. according to grade, and in a jobbing way we quote 1¾ to 2¼c. No quotations on American are possible this week.

MOLASSES.

The molasses market rules much the same, but information regarding new crop stock is not quite as strong. The first cargo lot of new stock so far bought cost 30c. laid down in Montreal via Portland, but since then there have been offers which are said to be equivalent to less than 28c. Whether the quality is A1 or not is another matter. Demand here continues good, and sales aggregating several hundred puncheons have changed hands at a range of 28½ to 33c. for ordinary to prime, while Porto Rico is held at 28c. and Trinidad at 27c. The jobbing basis in Barbadoes stock is unchanged at 33c. in hogsheads and 36c. in bbls. and half-bbls.

RICE.

There is a good fair business doing in rice, and the market is steady, with no change in prices. From the mills we quote: Japan, standard, $4.25 to $4.40; crystal Japan, $4.75 to $5; standard B, $3.45; English style, $3.30; Patna, $4.25 to $5, and Carolina, $6.50 to $7.50.

SPICES.

There has been a good demand for spices, and a good average trade has been done both from first hands and in a jobbing way. We quote: Penang black pepper, 6 to 7½c.; white pepper, 10 to 12½c.; cloves, 7½ to 9c.; cassia, 8½ to 9½c.; nutmegs, 60 to 90c.; and Jamaica ginger, 15½ to 18½c.

COFFEES.

The coffee market is firm and well maintained. Advices from abroad tend to strengthen the disposition while the statistical position is decidedly in favor of steadiness, there being a decrease of 23,000 bags in the visible supply on this continent as compared with the same period last year. Prices therefore are firmly held, and we quote: Maracaibo, 23.; Rio, 18½ to 20c.; Java, 25 to 27c.; Jamaica, 18 to 19c.; and Mocha, 26 to 30c.

TEA.

There has been rather more activity in tea since our last report, demand being experienced both from local jobbers and American buyers, some 1,800 packages alone of Congous being put through on the latter account at 10½ to 13½c. Several small lots of Japan goods have also changed hands at 15c., and some gunpowders at 15c. To sum up, the week has presented a good deal more activity. We quote: Japans, low grades, 12½ to 14c.; medium, 15½ to 17c.; fine, 18½ to 24c.; and choice, 25 to 31c.

DRIED FRUIT.

The raisin market has not presented anything special since our last, and, aside from a steady jobbing enquiry, there is nothing to report in regard to Valencia goods, except that selected are practically cleaned off the market, and their place is being largely taken by layers. We quote, in a jobbing way: Off-stalk 3¾ to 4½c., selected 4¾ to 5½c., and layers 5 to 6c.

The stock of sultanias is practically cleaned off the market here, and, from the tenor of English advices, any fresh supplies cannot be laid down, except at advanced prices, the advance of 2s. that we noted last week being maintained. Jobbing prices here are held firm at 5c. for good, 5½c. for fine, and choice brands 7c.

A good jobbing enquiry is noted for California raisins at firm prices, but there is nothing new in the tenor of advices from primary markets. We quote as before: 3-crown loose muscatels 5½c., 4-crown do. 7c., second crop fruit ½c. less.

There is nothing but firmness to report in the currant market, and offers which are being made of lots by the direct steamers from the Mediterranean will cost ¾c. on the inside, laid down in Montreal. Accordingly prices are firmly held. Filiatras and Provincials, 3¾c. in barrels, 4 to 4½c. in cases, with little of the former remaining on the market; Patras, 5 to 5½c., and Vostizzas, 7 to 7½c.

Prunes continue firm, the strong advices on Turkish noted by us last week having been supplemented this week by requests for higher prices on Bordeaux, and as a result importing agents have advanced their prices 1s. per cwt. all round on both lines. Spot business continues of a steady jobbing character, and we quote: Bordeaux, 4 to 4½c.; Bosnia, 4½ to 5c., and California, 7 to 9c.

Figs are steady and unchanged under a fair jobbing demand at 10 to 16c. as to brand.

There is a steady enquiry for dates at 4 to 5c.

California evaporated fruit remains as before: Apricots, 12½ to 15c., and peaches 9½c.

The dried apple market is, if anything, firmer than it was, and now the very inside price is 6 to 6½c. In fact, most of the stock here is wanted by jobbers for their own customers.

Evaporated apples are firmly held by a few jobbers, who control practically all there is here, and want them for their own trade, at 7½ to 8c. as to quality.

NUTS.

There is no change in nuts, which we quote steady under a fair jobbing demand. We quote: Tarragona almonds, 12 to 13c.; filberts, 7 to 8c.; Brazil nuts, 8 to 9c.; pecans, small, 10c.; medium, 13c., and extra, 15c.; Grenoble walnuts, 13 to 14c.; Bordeaux ditto, 9 to 10c.; peanuts, 7 to 9c. for roasted and 6 to 8c. for raw; cocoanuts, $3.50 to $4 per 100.

CANNED GOODS.

Trade in all kinds of canned goods continues quiet, but some of the jobbers are commencing to enquire about canned fish, though as yet little or no business has been done in new pack. We quote: Lobsters, $1.50 to $1.75 per doz.; sardines, $8.50 to $9.50; salmon, $1.20 to $1.30 per doz.; tomatoes, 85 to 90c. per doz.; peaches, $2 to $2.25 per doz.; corn, 95c. to $1 per doz.; marrow-fat peas, 90c. to $1 per doz.; strawberries, $2 to $2.25; raspberries, $1.75 to $2; green gages, $2 to $2.25; blue plums or damsons, $1.50 to $1.75; pineapples, $2 to $2.25, and 3-lb. apples, $1 to $1.10.

FISH.

There has been a fair demand for all kinds of fish. In fact, with the exception of 500 or 600 bbls. of inferior quality pickled herring and three or four cars of old frozen haddock, the market is well cleared of fish. There are not any choice Labrador herrings here. Ordinary No. 1 stock has sold at $3.50 to $4.50 per bbl. B. C. salmon are still offering at $10 to $11 per bbl.; No. 2 mackerel have sold at $13, and No. 1 green cod at $5 to $5.25. Boneless are selling at 5½ to 6c. per lb. Finnan haddies are moving slowly at 5 to 6c. per lb.; bloaters at 75c. to $1 per box; smelts at 2c. per lb.; halibut at 6 to 7c.; fresh salmon at 13c.; new haddock at 3 to 3½c.; frozen stock at 2 to 2½c., and the latter have been offered in carlots at 1½c. per lb. without meeting with a buyer, and the impression is that some of it will have to be dumped as the receipts of new stock are quite ample to fill all requirements. Tommy cods are moving fairly well, as the supply is not excessive; prices rule steady at $1 to $1.10 per bbl.

GREEN FRUIT.

APPLES—The apple market is quiet and steady at $3 to $5 per bbl., as to quality.

ORANGES—The orange market is steady. We quote: Valencias, $3.75 to $4.50, and Messinas, $2 to $3; Californias, $3.25 to $4 per box, and Jamaicas, $8 to $9, and Havanas $6 to $8 per bbl.

LEMONS—Meet a good active enquiry at $2.50 to $3.50, as to grade.

GRAPES—There is no change in Almeria grapes, which we quote firm at $7 per bbl.

SWEET POTATOES—First arrivals of these have been selling at $5 per bbl.

BANANAS—Are in small receipt and steady at $2.50 to $3.

PINEAPPLES—Some receipts of pines are noticed, and sell at 12 to 30c., as to quality.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

EGGS—The egg market continues heavy and prices have taken another decline as compared with a week ago. Demand is fair at 15 to 16c. per dozen.

HONEY—Continues quiet and unchanged. We quote: Extracted, old, 4½ to 5½c., and new, 7 to 9c. per lb. in tins, as to quality. Comb honey, 10 to 13c.

MAPLE PRODUCTS—No receipts of genuine new unmixed maple sugar or syrups have as yet arrived. One lot of mixed syrups sold at 95c., and we quote old, 60 to 65c., with old sugar 6 to 6½c. in boxes.

BEANS—The market is firmer and strong. Choice hand-picked beans have sold at $1.50 and lower grades $1.25 in round lots.

HOPS—Dull and unchanged at 4 to 7c. as to quality.

POTATOES—A fair trade is doing in these at 55c. per bag in round lots and 60 to 65c. in a jobbing way. New Bermuda potatoes have been received this week and sell at 8 to 9c. per bbl.

ONIONS—There is a good demand for onions, round lots changing hands at $1.75 to $2 per bbl. A few lots of Bermuda onions are offering this week at $3.50 per bbl.

TOMATOES—New southern tomatoes are a new receipt this week, and are selling at $5.50 per bushel.

PROVISIONS.

A firmer feeling prevails in this market, and holders of pork in some cases are asking higher prices, but no actual advance has taken place yet. The volume of business transacted is small, and the market, on the whole, is quiet. We quote: Canadian short cut, heavy, $14 to $15; hams, city cured, per lb., 9 to 10½c.; lard, Canadian, in pails, 9 to 10c.; bacon, per lb., 9 to 10½c.; lard, common, refined, per lb., 7 to 7½c.

FLOUR AND MEAL.

There is some enquiry from abroad for Manitoba patent flour, and several sales of 1,000 sacks are reported on Copenhagen account for immediate shipment via Boston. Business on spot continues good, and the market on the whole is active and firm. We quote: Winter wheat, $3.60 to $3.75; spring wheat, patents, $3.75 to $3.90; straight roller, $2.85 to $3; extra, $2.65 to $2.70;

superfine, $2.50 to $2.60; Manitoba strong bakers', $3.75.

There is no change in feed, prices being firm under a good demand from all over Canada. We quote: Bran, $18 to $19; shorts, $19 to $20; mouillie, $23 to $24.

The demand for oatmeal is limited, but prices rule firm at the recent advance. We quote: Standard, bbls., $4 to $4.05; granulated, bbls., $4.10 to $4.15; rolled oats, bbls., $4.20 to $4.25.

BUTTER.

The butter market continues steady in a jobbing way. Winter creamery is selling at 21 to 21½c., and Townships dairy 16c., with Western rolls 14c. Held creamery has to be forced if a seller wants to make a sale, and we quote 13 to 15c. as to quality, while Western dairy has been offered as low as 7c., and we quote 8 to 12c.

CHEESE.

The cheese market is winding up steadily, but surely. Since Saturday morning it is understood that the great bulk of the stock remaining here has been taken. What remains consists largely of earlier makes, for practically only one holder has any fall goods to offer, and, naturally, they are held firmly. We understand that 10¼c. was made for finest colored and 10c. for finest white. An instance of the steady temper of the market was given Monday when some undergrade stock which could hardly find buyers, even at 8c., sold at 9c.

ASHES.

The ashes market is rather easier in tone here under freer receipts and we quote first pots $4.00 to $4.05, seconds $3.70 to $3.75 and pearls $6.00 to $6.10.

MONTREAL TRADE NOTES.

NEW BRUNSWICK MARKETS

OFFICE OF THE CANADIAN GROCER

ST. JOHN, N.B., March 21, 1895.

BUSINESS is reported fair by the wholesale grocery trade during the past week, and spring orders are beginning to come in. The packets from Nova Scotia are making their first trips for the season, and the market slip is putting on a more businesslike appearance. The steamers running to Bay of Fundy ports are also making their regular trips.

In the county market, except in butter, prices are steady. Ontario dressed beef continues to come in in fair quantities and is giving good satisfaction. Of poultry there is only a fair supply and prices are firm. Buckwheat is in limited supply and rather higher. Some hot house vegetables are to be seen. In tea the market shows no change here. Holders are anxious to sell but prices remain steady. The market abroad is not as firm, and futures, particularly for fall delivery, are lower, so there is very little chance of increased firmness in this market.

SALT—Market remains as reported last week. There is yet little demand. We quote: Coarse, 58 to 60c.; fine factory filled, $1 to $1.15; 5 lb. bags, $3 to $3.25 per bbl.; 10 lb. bags, $2.85 to $3 per bbl.; 20 lb. wood boxes, 20c.; 10 lb. boxes, 12c.; cartons, $2 per doz.

CANNED GOODS—Market remains firm. Last fall, it will be remembered, sales to jobbers here were reported much smaller than the fall before. Now jobbers are again buyers, and at higher prices than those paid last fall. Still they feel satisfied, and there is no doubt the buying of such heavy stocks as were bought a year ago last fall will not again be popular. Lobsters have held rather firmer than was expected. Canned haddies are showing a good demand, and factory agents report good sales. No small fish is so popular in this market, and very large quantities have been shipped west. We quote market prices: Corn, $1; peas, 95c.; tomatoes, $1.05; new gallon apples, $2.40; corned beef, 2 lb. tins, $2.75 to $2.85; 1-lb tins, $1.65 to $1.70; oysters, 2's, $2.20 to $2.25; 1's, $1.60 to $1.65; peaches, 3's, $2.65 to $2.75; lobsters, $1.75 to $2; haddies, $1.40; salmon, $1.35 to 1.40; clams, $5.50 for 4 doz.; chowder, $3.50 for 2 doz., $5.50 for 4 doz.; Digby chickens, $1.

DRIED FRUIT—There is nothing new. Movement is light. Currants continue very firm with light stocks. Raisins show no change. Evaporated apples though higher west, on account of fairly large stocks here show no change in demand. Few dried apples are to be had, for all selling at fair prices have been picked up for export. Had they been properly packed they would have brought better figures, but the barrels are too light and do not run even enough in quality. California evaporated fruits show fair demand. Quite a quantity of Sultana raisins were received in this market this week. They are of splendid quality, but the demand is light. We quote prices: Sultana raisins, 6 to 7c.; Valencia, 4¼ to 4½c.; layers, 5¼ to 5½c.; London layers, $2.25; California, loose muscatels, 6 to 6½c.; currants, bbls., 3¾ to 4c.; half cases, 4¼ to 4½c.; evaporated apples, 8 to 8½c.; dried, 5¼ to 5½c.; dates, 4¼ to 4½c.; prunes, 5 to 5½c.; figs, 11 to 18c.

GREEN FRUIT—Business shows better demand during the past week, and fruit men feel that the quiet season is over. Apples show a fair demand for good fruit. Oranges are firm. Some choice Californias are now in this market. A few Bermuda onions and tomatoes arrived by the West India steamer this week, but not as many as were expected. Our local importer of cocoanuts received 200 bags by the same steamer. We quote: Valencia oranges, $4.50 to $4.75 per case; Messina, $2.75 to $3.25; blood, half box, $2.50 to $2.75; California, $3.50 to $4.50; lemons, $3.50 to $4; pineapples, 16 to 20c. each; bananas, $2.25 to $2.50; Malaga grapes, 5 to 6c.; onions, $2.50 to $3 per bbl.; crates, $1.25; Bermuda onions, $2.50 per crate; Bermuda tomatoes, $1 per box.

DAIRY PRODUCTS—In butter, fresh made creamery prints are in fair demand at 23 to 23½c., but at this price there is but limited supply. New Brunswick creameries are not working, and the Prince Edward Island and Nova Scotia creameries find better market in Halifax. Tub butter is very quiet, and large rolls show no sale. Cheese is rather firmer, and a fair movement is reported. In eggs the supply and demand are both light. Prices are easier. We quote: Creamery tub butter, 18 to 20c.; dairv, 16 to 18c.; large rolls, 13 to 17c.; cheese, 10¼ to 10½c.; eggs, 18c.

MOLASSES—New is now here, some 150 casks of Barbadoes having arrived ex steamer. Some new Porto Rico is also being offered from Halifax, but at too high prices for much business. As it will be a month before any more new can arrive, and as prices at the Island are firm, particularly Porto Rico, molasses has during the past few weeks continued very firm. Syrup shows but fair demand at firm prices. We quote: New Barbadoes, 32 to 33c.; new Nevis, 29 to 30c.; Porto Rico, 30 to 31c.; Antigua, 28 to 30c.; syrup, 33 to 35c.

SUGAR—Market shows no change. The refineries are reported to be offering freely in Montreal at prices which enable them to make sales. Demand is fair; stocks large. We quote: Yellow sugar, 2¾ to 3¼c.; granulated, standard, 3¾ to 3¼c.; German, 3 4/5 to 3½c.; Canadian, No. 2, 3¾ to 3½c.; Paris lump, 5¼c.; powdered, 5¼c.

FISH—Demand for past week fair. Some few dry cod are to hand, but market remains very firm. Stocks of fish here, outside of smoked and hake, are small, which is well, as the demand for Lent is not what was expected. The re-imposition of duty on fish by the Spanish West Indies will be felt in these provinces unpleasantly. A few gasperaux are being caught. There are, practically, no lobster to be taken. The frozen fish trade is about over. A few herrings arrived during the past week. Markets are medium. We quote: Cod, $4.10; large, $4.25; small, $3.50; pollock, $1.75 to $1.85; bay herring, $1.50 to $1.60; Shelburne, No. 1, $4 per bbl., half-bbls., $2.40 to $2.50; Canso, $5; smoked herring, 7 to 8c.; Digby chickens, 10 to 12c.; lobsters, 3 to 4c.; frozen herrings, 70c. per 100.

PROVISIONS—Prices are rather firmer all round. Trade is light. Local curers find ready sale for full output. We quote: Clear pork, $17.50 to $18; mess, $15 to $15.50; prime, $12.50 to $13; plate beef, $12.75 to $13; pure lard, 9 to 10; compound, 8 to 9c.

If that grocerman of mine don't keep a fuller stock of BOULTERS' famous "LION BRAND" CANNED GOODS.

His excuse is to me, that they are such fast sellers, he finds it difficult to get them fast enough. And this is the universal opinion all along the line.

Thus, the wide-a-wake grocerman realizes this, and will have them at any price. Of those who have not used them, we only ask a trial to substantiate our claim.

ST. JOHN MARKETS—Continued.

FLOUR, FEED AND MEAL.

In flour the demand is not large, the buyers being slow after the long reign of low prices to pay prices now asked, but in the meantime prices go higher, and reports from millers are of the firmest tone. In oatmeal prices are much higher, but market here responds slowly. Middlings and bran are firm and hard to get at any price. Oats are again higher. It is too bad that P.E.I., and particularly N.B. oats are not better cleaned, as they would then be in a much better position to compete with Upper Province oats, particularly in foreign markets. Pot barley is firmer, and an advance is expected. We quote: Manitoba, $3.40 to $3.50; best Ontario, $3.65 to $3.70; medium, $3.25 to $3.50; oatmeal, $4.10 to $4.20; cornmeal, $2.75 to $2.80; middlings, $2.3 to $2.4; bran, $2.2 to $2.3; oats, local, on track, 42 to 43c.; Ontario, 46 to 48c.; beans, hand-picked, $1.70 to $1.75; prime, $1.60 to $1.65; split peas, $3.70 to $3.90; pot barley, $3.90 to $4; hay, on track, $9; American timothy seed, $3.25 to $3.50; red clover, 11½ to 12c.; alsike, 13½ to 15c.

THE CANADIAN GROCER had the pleasure of a call from N. S. Scott, representing E. D. Tillson. He reports an increasing demand from the best trade for his goods. The Havelock Mineral Spring Co. expect to reopen for the season's business in a few weeks.

THE CANADIAN GROCER congratulates N. W. Taussig & Co. on the way in which their goods have stood the severe test to which they have been subjected. This New York house began sending molasses into this port last October. Ever since then the Government have had samples of these goods before them, and though pressed for decisions, nothing definite was known till this week. Not satisfied with the failure of Ottawa authorities to find anything wrong with the goods, a sample was handed a local chemist, A. E. Macintyre, who also has reported no admixture. But now the season for selling the goods is past, as new direct importations are coming to hand. During the five months of delay the above-named firm have lost what would probably have been a splendid trade.

THE CANADIAN GROCER regrets to report the death of Robert Connors, of Upper St. Francis. He was a man among a thousand and will be more missed than any man along the Upper St. John river, where his lumber interests were very large. In his village which he built for his workmen, he erected a handsome church, hotel and school house. He was a great friend to the Temiscouta railway, giving them large terminal facilities at St. Francis.

Messrs. J. H. Scammell and J. T. Knight, of the late firm of Scammell Bros., have, under the firm name of J. H. Scammell & Co., opened a commission business, their attention being particularly given to lumber and shipping.

Bryant's root beer, a 10c. bottle doing the work of a 25c. one, is being put upon this market. In quality, it gives splendid satisfaction, and is finding a large sale. J. Hunter White is agent for New Brunswick.

NOVA SCOTIA MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE CANADIAN GROCER,

HALIFAX, March 21, 1895.

COMMERCIAL travelers who have returned from trips throughout the province report business very fair, particularly in the eastern portion. In the city trade is remarkably quiet, the only movement of note being in breadstuffs.

FLOUR—The markets are all up and excited. Flour, which was being sold at $3.10 and $3.15, delivered here, three weeks ago, is now held at $3.65, and some are asking $3.75. "There is just this, however," said a prominent flour dealer to THE CANADIAN GROCER to-day, "we have nearly as much wheat in the country as we had three weeks ago, and whilst the tendency is to higher prices than we have been having all along, in consequence of the scarcity of wheat in Canada, and what there is being held by farmers who are able to hold it, yet it seems folly for people to lose their heads. If flour goes to $4 for Ontario patents, as it now looks, there will be a break. It would be far better to see a steady advance." Quotations are: Hungarian patents, Manitobas, $4.50 to $4.65; Manitoba strong bakers', $4.35 to $4.50; Canadian pastry, $3.75 to $4; 75 per cent. rolled patent, $3.65 to $3.75; 80 per cent. $3.50 to $3.60; 90 per cent. $3.40 to $3.65; straights, $3.25 to $3.50; extra, $3 to $3.15.

OATS—Have advanced to 46c., and are steady at that quotation, with limited supply.

FEED AND MEAL—Bran has jumped $1, and is firm at the quotation, $23, with an upward tendency. Middlings are the same. Oatmeal is at $4.25 and $4.35, and booming at that.

FISH STUFFS—The Lenten trade has not materialized to the satisfaction of dealers, and quotations have changed somewhat in accordance during the week. Quotations, to quote, are: Dry cod, prime, $3.25 to $3.75; do. bank, $2.50 to $2.75; do. large bank, $4; Labrador, $2.25 to $2.50; herring, Bay of Islands, split, No. 1, $1.75; shore, No. 1, large, split, flat, $3.50 to $4.50; mac-kerel, No. 3, large, $12; salmon, No. 1, $12; No. 2, $10; No. 3, $8.

PROVISIONS—There is little or nothing doing in the provision market. Some nice Canadian beef has been received, which sold at 6½ to 7c. The market is entirely bare of poultry.

BUTTER AND CHEESE—The tendency in butter is for a stiffening of price. Canadian makers are asking an advance for a first-class article, but the local market is stocked with inferior makes, which must be worked off before an advance can be looked for. Cheese remains quiet and unchanged.

GREEN FRUIT—The market in green fruits remains about the same as last week, with no change in prices.

MOLASSES AND SUGAR—Both lines remain strong at last week's quotations.

All other lines are quiet.

They are preparing to erect a large mill, and to lay a pole railroad for the handling of this product. Part of the machinery for the mill is being made by the Truro Foundry and Machine Co.

The wholesale merchants have suffered a defeat in the Local Legislature. The bill to abolish the tax on merchandise and substitute therefore a business tax based on rental has been thrown out. The Legislature also threw out the bill for early closing.

THE E. B. EDDY CO.

Held its annual general meeting at its head offices, in Hull, Canada, on Monday last, when the same Board of Directors as had conducted its affairs from the beginning was re-elected, viz.: Mr. E. B. Eddy, president; Mr. S. S. Cushman, vice-president; Mr. G. H. Millen, general mechanical superintendent; Mr. J. J. Gormully, Q.C., solicitor; Mr. W. H. Rowley, secretary-treasurer.

The president's report showed a satisfactory increase of business for the year 1894.

Each of the ten branches and agencies of the company in Canada were visited personally by Mr. Eddy during the year 1894, in fact, Mr. Eddy has called upon and shaken hands with nearly everyone of the vast number of his companies' largest customers all the way from Charlottetown, P. E. I., to Victoria, B. C., and so has come in closer touch with and been better able to feel the pulse and know the condition of business in each and every province and city in the Dominion, than probably has any other manufacturer in Canada. Mr. Eddy also visited all his customers in Northern New York, in Maine, Vermont and Massachusetts.

The accounts submitted by the secretary-treasurer showed that the profits for the year had been satisfactory.

The usual handsome dividend was declared. Substantial sums were carried to the rest account and to the betterment and improvement account.

REPORT OF THE CANADIAN FISHERY COMMISSIONERS

(MR. W. G. GUNN, WALKERTON, ONT., AND M. G. MCLEOD, NEWHAVEN)

Through a letter of introduction procured for us by the High Commissioner in London, we were courteously shown thro' Messrs. MACONOCHIE BROTHERS' CANNERY, IN SCOTLAND, where some 400 hands are employed. This establishment uses up an immense quantity of Herrings, all of the very best quality. The greatest care is exercised in the selection of these fish; they are put up in 1-lb. tins; Herrings put up this way are very delicious, many people preferring them to canned salmon. The girls who clean these Herrings and put them up do their work very rapidly. The Herrings canned at this establishment are sold in Great Britain, exported to the East Indies, Australia, and the Cape. After we had gone over the establishment in question, we were treated to the contents of a can of Herrings, and can truly testify that we never before tasted anything in the Herring line so delicious and fine flavored.

INSPECTION OF FRUIT.

THE fruit growers of the country are up in arms against the bill now before the Ontario Legislature providing for the closer inspection of fruit on its entry into the markets. The other day a deputation representing the growers of Lincoln county waited upon the Minister of Agriculture and protested against the appointment of an inspector of the grading of fruit, claiming that the interest of the fruit-growers would cause them to take sufficient precaution; that the inspection would lead to delay at a critical time, and that the proposed measure would bear hardly upon the producers in many other ways. They were inclined to view the move as one made by the middlemen, but Mr. Dryden told them that no deputation from the middlemen had been received. The matter was fully discussed, Mr. Dryden telling them that the measure was designed more particularly for the protection of the export trade in apples. At last the deputation agreed that there would be no objection on their part to a clause being put in the bill aimed at the selling of fruit which is inferior to what it is represented to be, and the interview closed.

This legislation is, as a matter of fact, sought by the retail grocers and fruit dealers, the initiative having been taken by the Toronto Retail Grocers' Association.

On Monday G. F. Marter, leader of the Opposition, presented to the House a petition signed by 400 of the dealers praying that the proposed bill should be made law. The chief provisions of the bill are: That fruits should be graded when packed, and marked according to their class; that fruit baskets be of two sizes only, of five or ten quarts, except strawberry and raspberry baskets, which shall hold not less than one quart each; that vegetables not sold by count be sold by weight only, and that market or fruit inspectors shall have power to examine packages of fruit or vegetables and prosecute offenders.

What the growers object to is the provision allowing inspectors to examine packages of fruit. They argue that ripe fruit if turned out of the packages and handled will be rendered almost unsaleable.

A representative of THE CANADIAN GROCER waited upon leading members of both the retailers' and jobbers' trades in Toronto with a view to obtaining their opinions on the situation.

J. G. Gibson, the well-known Yonge street retail grocer and fruit dealer, stated that he did not advise any rash action as was proposed. He would advocate rather the appointment of a delegation by the growers to meet and talk over the matter in a friendly way with a similar committee representing the city retailers. Finally an understanding having been reached between the two bodies, the Government could be approached with benefit to both sides.

Continuing Mr. Gibson said: "I blame the wholesale dealers for the present state of affairs. I can remember the time when the grower sent in his fruit in good shape, and it's not so very long ago either. But the jobber brought over a lot of American stuff and 'faked' it up in their packing houses. In apples the effects of this repacking is most noticeable. One cannot now get more than three pecks of good apples off the top and bottom of a barrel—the rest of the fruit in the barrel being as a rule 25 per cent. lower in quality than that which meets his eye on removing the head. The result is that the retailer for the past few years has not been able to make a dollar out of fruit. The losses on culls eat up all the profits on the good fruit he gets in a package."

Mr. Gibson could, however, see no reason why the grower should object to the examination of his fruit by a qualified inspector. It was not as if every package was to be handled. Only one sample case in a lot would be picked out and inspected.

J. S. Roberts, president of the Toronto Retail Grocers' Association, stated that as he understood it, the bill before the legislature merely empowered a duly authorized inspector to examine a consignment of fruit if he deemed it necessary. In an ordinary shipment only one package of the lot would be turned out; but, of course, if one bad basket were found, the whole consignment would have to be gone over. Mr. Roberts was therefore of the opinion that the enforcement of the proposed law would not seriously affect the fruit growers' interests.

Clemes Bros., fruit jobbers, when seen expressed the opinion that Mr. Gibson's remarks were absurd. Nearly all the fruit from the Niagara district was sold on the wharves to the retailers within two or three hours after it was landed. As regarded apples, they never repacked any themselves, and really did not know that other jobbers resorted to any crooked means to worst the retailer.

McWilliam & Everist, wholesale fruit dealers, said that the assertion as regarded summer and fall fruit was simply nonsense. And as for apples, they were nearly all packed in the orchards. Of course apples were always "faced" more or less, but, as a rule, were well put up. When held over all winter those apples were re-packed in the spring of the year by the jobbers. They themselves made it a rule to separate the finer and poorer qualities into distinct barrels, and classify them as "firsts" and "seconds."

NEW PACK CANNED SALMON.

There has been considerable speculation in Montreal during the past week with regard to the prospects on new crop B.C. canned salmon.

Last year at this time quite a few car lots had been booked at $3.75 cost and freight on the cost, but this year not even a query has been received by the sales agents in Montreal.

This indifference on the part of the canners is attributed to the fact that stocks on the Coast have been remarkably well cleaned up. In fact, a well informed authority estimates that there are certainly not more than 2,000 cases of old pack remaining on the Canadian coast. The opening figure, therefore, is a matter of pure speculation; but there are shrewd traders on the market in Montreal who expect that the opening price will be higher than last year.

They say that the statistical position at present favors this. It will be interesting to see whether their opinion is borne out by future developments.

THE CANADIAN GROCER gives the opinion for what it is worth, and leaves its readers to draw their own conclusions.

PERSONAL MENTION.

R. M. Corrie has been appointed sole agent in Toronto for N. Schiedel, broom manufacturer, Bridgeport, Ont.

Arthur H. Scott, of J. Lockhart, Watt & Scott, Toronto and Montreal, sailed Wednesday from New York on a visit to the firm's various constituents in different parts of Europe.

J. H. Magor, of Frank Magor & Co., Montreal, returned to Toronto early in the week from Hamilton and Brantford. He reports improved business in both places. He has left for Kingston, Brockville, etc., and will be in Montreal by Saturday.

A black-bordered circular has been received, announcing the death of William Rogers, of William Rogers & Co., Denia. The circular is signed by Alfred Rogers, brother of the deceased, who states that the business will be carried on under the old firm name.

J. D. Brack, representing Todhunter, Mitchell & Co., Toronto, is back from a two months' trip to the Coast. Although people are buying with a good deal of caution, he did a fair trade. Prospects in the west, he says, are improving.

TEA MAN ON TEA PROSPECTS.

J. M. Harding, chief partner of Turnbull, Howie & Co., tea merchants, of Shanghai, China, was in Toronto this week, and under the pilotage of C. H. Anderson, the firm's representative in Western Ontario, called on the different wholesalers on the street. He said that the prospects for Foochow black tea were good. The market would open early, as stocks are low in England, in Australia, and other districts. Opening prices, he said, would not be lower than those of last year. In fact, they would probably be higher owing to short stocks in different parts of the world. As far as green teas are concerned, he thought the opening price would be about the same as last year, with the stray probability of a subsequent advance, as was the case in 1894, the supply of these teas also being short. This is Mr. Harding's second visit to Canada, and he is now on his way to China, being on his way back from England.

NOTES.

Hugh Walker & Son, Guelph, have just received car of fancy California navels and seedling oranges; also car finest Palermo oranges, and lemons, and shipments of Valencia and Seville oranges.

Aikenhead & Sloan, fish dealers and cold storage, Toronto, have, we regret to announce, assigned to E. R. C. Clarkson. The liabilities are said to be small.

At Suckling's auction rooms on Wednesday the general stock of R. J. Davidson, of Newmarket, amounting to $9,000, was sold to Smith & McFarlane, of Shakespeare, for 59 cents on the dollar.

A new fish company has been organized to operate on the Lake of the Woods. It will be known as the Lake of the Woods Fish Co. F. W. Colcleugh, M.P.P., is manager, and has ordered the erection of a mammoth ice house and fish house near Rat Portage. A site was purchased from the Western Lumber Co. on Monday.

DEATH OF JAMES MACONOCHIE.

THE CANADIAN GROCER regrets to have to chronicle the death of James Maconochie, the senior partner in the great British firm of Maconochie Bros., well known to most of our readers. Mr. Maconochie was born at Wakefield, Yorks, Eng., and early in life removed to Lowestoft, Suffolk where with his brother he started a fish business. Proving successful they turned their attention to new fields, and ere long the business whose ramifications extend throughout the world was established on a firm foundation. The trade of the Maconochie Bros. grew in leaps and bounds, and extended its dimensions with remarkable rapidity. They now have extensive works at Lowestoft and Fraserburgh, Aberdeenshire, and big offices and warehouses in London. The great development of the firm's trade has been largely the result of the foreign business trips made by the deceased. He repeatedly visited the chief British colonies for the purpose (which he successfully carried out) of building up a great colonial trade.

The dead man was always noted for his honesty, ability and kindness, and was probably the most highly esteemed man in Lowestoft. He was for many years a town councillor. At the time of his death he was a comparatively young man, having just passed his 43rd birthday.

The funeral ceremonies over the corpse were imposing. All Lowestoft turned out to do him, they esteemed, a last honor. The town councillors were present in a body, and the Freemasons also escorted the remains of their brother Mason to the grave. The floral tributes to the deceased were numerous and beautiful.

It may be added that the business with which deceased was identified will be carried on as heretofore.

HE IS A PRACTICAL CHEMIST TOO.

The drug and chemical appraiser at Montreal has a high opinion of Controller of Customs Clarke Wallace, according to the clerks in the Custom House. He said to Mr. Wallace, when he was visiting this port, that he was at a great disadvantage, as there was no one at the Departmental headquarters at Ottawa who knew anything about drugs.

"Indeed," said Mr. Wallace, with a twinkle in his eye.

"Yes," continued the appraiser, "questions frequently arise that require a capable man at Ottawa to deal with them and there is no one there."

"I think I can deal with anything that may be referred to headquarters," remarked Mr. Wallace.

"You?"

"Yes," said Mr. Wallace, "I am an older chemist than you. I have held a certificate permitting me to practise as a chemist and druggist, and I had no easy examination to pass to get it."

The appraiser is now worrying as to how he can "put himself right" with the Controller. Mr. Wallace, besides being a general storekeeper and miller, also carried on a drug business, and, if we mistake not, does so still at Woodbridge.

ENQUIRING AT HAMILTON'S DOOR.

President H. N. Kittson, of the Board of Trade, has received a letter from the Blaine Window Confection Manufacturing Co., of Alliance, Ohio, stating the company's goods are not manufactured in Canada and that it contemplates establishing a branch here. The firm wished to know what advantages Hamilton—which it understood to be the manufacturing centre of Canada—could offer. President Kittson has replied, asking the company for particulars of its capital and number of men to be employed, and stating that the Board of Trade would gladly help the firm in any way.—Herald, Hamilton.

A Boston manufacturing firm writes the New York Retail Grocers' Association that it has decided to limit the sale of its goods to such wholesale houses as will not sell, directly or indirectly, to department stores. The firm trusts it will have the backing and help of the association. It should not be disappointed.

From ROBERT WATSON, of the firm of R. & T. Watson, Toronto, manufacturers of the celebrated Cough Drops:

TORONTO, Nov. 14, '94.

THE F. F. DALLEY CO., HAMILTON:

DEAR SIRS,—For a shine your English Army Blacking is by far the best I have ever used. My family are delighted with it, and say it is simply elegant. I do not understand why it makes such a shine, being of such an oily nature, but this probably is a secret.

Wishing you every success in its sale,

Yours truly,
ROBERT WATSON.

PEDLARS' LICENSES.

At a meeting of the Montreal Chamber of Commerce on Saturday a report was presented by the committee concerning the law on pedlars' licenses. It called attention to the many complaints from rural districts against pedlars. The document recommended that the attention of the municipal authorities be called to the fact that every pedlar has to pay a license of $20 for the first district and $10 for each additional district in which he does business. The committee also recommended certain amendments to the law, so as to facilitate the prosecution of pedlars who infringe the law. The report was adopted.

Thieves entered the grocery store of Coltart & Hendry at Winnipeg last week and carried off a quantity of provisions. The burglars gained an entrance by removing the iron bars from a rear window of the building.
